One King Dead, Next? One Lynched; One Jumped Hitler Picks Successor Three Kinds of Gold

King Fuad, King of Egypt, dead means nothing to 130,000,000 Americans or to 15,000,000,000 other human beings on earth.

Arthur Brisbane

A mob seized Lint Shaw, fifty-year-old negro, and lynched him on "the usual charge," not waiting for a trial.

Joe Bowers, sentenced to 25 years for mail robbery, locked in the island fortress of Alcatraz, tried to escape by climbing ten feet of plain wire, two feet of barbed wire, and jumping down a 60-foot cliff into the water.

Hitler apparently has chosen his successor "in case," in the person of Air Minister Goering, now made "assistant dictator," with control of two great German problems of raw materials and foreign exchange.

In New York, 175 naval cadets from the German cruiser Emden, name well remembered from the war, explore the city, guarded by detectives in case of hostile demonstrations.

California possesses "three kinds of gold": yellow gold, of which there is plenty left in the ground; "black gold," which is the oil in lakes thousands of feet down, and the "white gold" water from the mountains, first used to develop power, then to irrigate crops.

Driving through this country, if you see a particularly fine building, tall columns, wide grounds, fields for healthy play, that is a public school. Once it would have been the prison or feudal castle.

You see another building, almost as impressive as the high school. That is a public library. The accumulated knowledge of the world is free.

Mrs. Grace Warren Dubois, sixty-two years old, was allowed to keep her seat while the judge sentenced her to life imprisonment for killing her son.

It is said she thought her family "too aristocratic" to live in such times as these, and wished to kill them all.

Newsboys cry "What do you read?" The Niagara of books pouring from the presses, a vast majority forgotten as they are born, make many ask "What shall I read?"

Paris perceives that following recent elections extreme radicals will be powerful in the new chamber, and those that have money left begin panicly selling.

The last war knocked the franc from 19 cents to 4 cents. What would another war do?

When stock gambling starts, it moves rapidly. Since March last year, stock prices have gone up 60 per cent, business has increased 18 per cent, employment only 5 per cent.

Jersey citizens dropped from the Nevada legislative halls, camp sleep on the floor, promise to return until New Jersey supplies money food.

Tokyo worries about Russia "plotting a war against Japan," but no plotting is necessary.

For obvious reasons, labor should avoid division even in the pursuit of its political policies.

Plans Completed for the Democratic Convention

SENATOR ALLEN W. BARKLEY of Kentucky, who was temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention in 1932 and as such delivered the keynote speech, will serve in the same capacity at the Philadelphia convention in June, outlining the issues of this year's campaign as his party views them.

Sen. Barkley

These selections were made by the committee on arrangements. Other officers of the convention chosen, are: Lee Barnes of Alabama, chief doorkeeper; Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, national committeewoman of the District of Columbia, hostess of the convention;

Navy in Six-Week Drill on the Pacific

Some time ago George L. Berry asked all unions to join "Labor's Nonpartisan league," the object of which, he said, was "to put American Federation of Labor unions on the record for President Roosevelt."

Advance of the Italians in Ethiopia Continues

Italy's victorious troops in northern Ethiopia continued their advance on Addis Ababa, though it was somewhat retarded by the efforts of the natives to blow up the roadways and otherwise harass the invaders.

Contreras Is Elected President of Venezuela

General Grazianna's southern army, meanwhile, was driving toward Harar, second city of the empire, in three columns. The Ethiopians were putting up stiff resistance at various points but everywhere were driven back, according to Italian dispatches.

New Tax Bill Started in House

THE administration's bill to levy about $90 million dollars in new taxes yearly was introduced in the house by the ways and means committee, and a fierce battle started immediately.

Supreme Court Decision in Stock Yards Case

UPHOLDING a reduction of rates and charges at the St. Joseph, Mo., stockyards, the Supreme court held that the findings made by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace justified the rates he set and that the stockyards operators had failed to show confiscation.

Green Urges Unions to Remain Nonpartisan

WILLIAM GREEN, president of the American Federation of Labor, has sent a letter to all affiliated unions urging that they adhere to the federation's "traditional nonpartisan political policy."

Hopkins Doing Splendid Work

No Taint of Graft in Federal Relief; Cheap Electric Power for Farms

WASHINGTON. — Somehow or other I look on Harry Hopkins—the man who administers the federal relief cash—as a man whom fate has picked out for a terrific lashing; as if he were a penitent having to run a gauntlet.

He is doing a swell job. I can't imagine money by the hundreds of millions; more money than any other man ever handled since the dawn of history—as I say, I can't imagine so much money handled without crookedness somewhere.

When you think of the graft in things political since the days of the Credit Mobilier scandal down through the whisky ring, the post office frauds, the war profits, the Harding administration scandals, and the various layers of graft represented by almost every brick in many a state capitol, you could expect some graft to creep into this relief administration. But there isn't any graft there.

Prince Von Starhemberg of Austria Voices His Defiance

CIVIL war in Austria became a possibility as the quarrel between the Fascists led by Prince Ernst von Starhemberg and the clerical and monarchist elements became acute.

Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, speaking at Baden, retorted that "Austria is not Italy and Austrians are not Fascists."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for May 10

EFFECTUAL PRAYER

LESSON TEXT—Luke 18:1-14. GOLDEN TEXT—God be merciful to me a sinner.—Luke 18:13.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How Two Men Prayed.

JUNIOR TOPIC—When Prayer Changes Things.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Should I Pray?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How Shall We Pray Effectively?

From first to last the books of the Bible teem with the language and spirit of prayer.

Prayer is necessary to spiritual life. What breathing is to the physical body, prayer is to the spiritual existence.

The picture here is of a helpless widow who was being cheated out of her property rights, coming to a godless judge for redress.

He took a striking attitude (v. 11). The Jewish custom was to stand while praying, but the word "stood" implies the assumption of ostentation.

He prayed with himself (v. 12). He was merely soliloquizing, pretending to thank God, while really congratulating himself upon his morality (v. 11).

He prayed with the humble publican (v. 13). How great the contrast in the prayer and spirit of the publican! He did not stand with ostentation, but for very shame could not so much as lift up his face to heaven.

Christ's Testimony (v. 14). Christ makes it unmistakably evident that the attitude and petition of the publican meets with his favor.

To be silent, to suffer, to pray where we cannot act, is acceptable to God.

Our daily life should be sanctified by doing common things in a religious way. There is no action so slight or so humble but it might be done to a good purpose or ennobled thereby.

Familiarity

FAMILIARITY makes us careless and unobservant. But there comes a day when we observe and think. Then we suffer. As a boy I loved life and country things. I used to get up to see the sun, as an old divine I once read remarks, "coming forth from his chambers in the East..."

Shower Thursday Evening We're Hoping for More

As we go to press Thursday evening, a nice shower is falling which was preceded by a splatter of hail.

Sunday night the tennis courts at the high school were entered and tapes destroyed and considerable other damage done. No object apparently, just plain petty meanness. It was a very neat piece of work—so neat in fact, that Mr. Kelsay is willing to give a five dollar reward to find out who the workman or workmen were.

They're coming in the window and they're coming in the door; And everywhere that you can see By George you see some more.

It's lawyers and judges that we mean.

These are serious minded gentlemen when they are off duty. A couple of them were working the other night on the hard times problem. "This county could bring itself out of it financially this very week", said one, "if it would charge admission to that court room."—And I reckon he's right. It looks like a week of seven Saturdays.

A Good Library Book

"Doomed Demons" a novel by E. L. Adams, is a story of a fighting outfit. Every page is crowded with swift thrilling action and every other page is filled with the racy humor that kept the boys' spirits up in the face of constant danger.

This book is on the shelf at the Library in the court house. Patronize the Library—it's yours so why not make use of it?

Prices for Texas Centennial half-dollars, which commemorate 100 years of progress in this state and which are being sold to augment state and federal funds in the building of the Texas Memorial Museum, range from the regular $1.00 price to more than three times that amount. The increase in the price of the coins shows a growing demand for them throughout the Nation.

If you have something to sell advertise it.

At this time we are paying more for butterfat in proportion to the market than ever before, and our intentions are to pay even more in proportion than at the present.

This is in line with our new policy to pay the producer as much as possible rather than see him ship or use some other market to realize more money. Any man would rather sell at home and needs a home outlet.

This will benefit every man who sells cream and the buyer's commission is less but we are glad to pay this extra to the producer and invite your deliveries to our station.

Eat up distance, but not your bearings

Get alloyed oil... and you'll get the difference

Ask your wife. The least little heat makes smoke out of some of the oily substances she puts in her frying pan. They vanish double quick, while others stay put.

That's the sort of difference your hilliest hot-weather drive will show you in Germ Processed, the alloyed oil. Patented.

It not only stays up around "Full," but stays right up in every working surface of your engine. Yes, the pistons, cylinders, valve gear, and any types of bearings ever used, can really take in this alloyed oil. You might say they become lastingly, smoothly "oil-glazed."

And you can see that this added sleek oil-surfacing, together with the high-durability Germ Processed oil-film, easily doubles your guard against summer grief. Now when you want to go farthest fastest, get Conoco Germ Processed oil—the alloyed oil. Continental Oil Company.

There was a dense summer fog and the officer on the bridge was becoming more and more exasperated. As he leaned over the side of the bridge trying to pierce the gloom he saw a hazy figure leaning on a rail a few yards from his ship. He almost choked. "What do you think you're doing with your blinking ship?" he roared. "Don't you know the rules of the sea?" "This ain't no blinking ship, gov'nor," said a quiet voice; "this 'ere's a lighthouse."—Answers.

Gets Most Blame

Little Sarah and her little brother quarreled one day. An older sister trying to find which child was at fault finally said: "Oh, I think it was just six of one and half-dozen of the other." Little Sarah began to cry. "I know you mean I'm the half-dozen," she sobbed. "I always get the most blame," —Indianapolis News.

Two Lives

GRIEF is a delicate and fragile flower, fading even more easily than joy, but never wholly dead. Though seemingly dried and withered past recognition, yet, if but one warm breath pass over it for a moment, it will bloom again with renewed freshness. Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful, and those who seem to forget have often the saddest hearts. Two beings dwell within us; one active, busy, absorbed in the duties and pleasures of this world; while the other is sadly and dreamily living in the past, treading with tears the former paths, stopping to remember a look, to pursue a shadow.

Twins, 91, Claim Age Title; Brother, 97, Backs 'Em Up

Mrs. Jane Giles and Miss Rachel Rader of Pulaski, Iowa, challenged all claimants to the "nation's oldest living twins" title, and particularly Joe and Dave Maddux of Philo, Ill. "We celebrated our ninety-first birthdays January 15," Mrs. Giles and Miss Rader declared. "That makes up 19 days older than the Maddux boys, who said they were ninety-one February 3. We have a big brother to prove it." The big brother is ninety-seven-year-old Anthony Rader still quite alert mentally.

No Need to Suffer "Morning Sickness"

"Morning sickness"—is caused by an acid condition. To avoid it, acid must be offset by alkalis—such as magnesia. Why Physicians Recommend Milnesia Wafers

These mint-flavored, candy-like wafers are pure milk of magnesia in solid form—the most pleasant way to take it. Each wafer is approximately equal to a full adult dose of liquid milk of magnesia. Chewed thoroughly, then swallowed, they correct acidity in the mouth and throughout the digestive system and insure quick, complete elimination of the waste materials that cause gas, headaches, bloated feelings and a dozen other discomforts.

Milnesia Wafers come in bottles of 20 and 48, at 35c and 60c respectively, and in convenient tins for your handbag containing 12 at 20c. Each wafer is approximately one adult dose of milk of magnesia. All good drug stores sell and recommend them.

Floyd Gibbons ADVENTURERS' CLUB Hello, Everybody!

"The Turn of a Wheel" By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter.

WHATEVER you might say about gambling, it takes nerve to do it. The best of the professional card sharks are men who can keep a poker face and never bat an eye when they're betting their last nickel.

I've got a yarn here from Adventurer William Joseph Brinkley, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and unless I'm no good at all at reading between the lines of a story, Bill Brinkley is one of those lads who can keep a cool head and figure out the odds even at moments when his life is in the greatest of peril.

If Bill hadn't had that faculty he wouldn't be here collecting his ten and joining the Adventurers' club today. For back in 1915 fate tested out those iron nerves of his—and it was one of the most rigorous tests fate ever dished out to a guy, at that.

Iron nerve or no iron nerve, Bill admits he was pretty scared when it happened. Maybe "pretty scared" isn't quite the expression for it either. When it was all over Bill's nerves felt more like putty than iron.

Bill Had a Prosaic Job Checking Freight Cars. It was down in the town of Atlanta, Ga., where he was working as an interchange clerk for the Central of Georgia railroad. Bill was just a young lad then, and his job consisted of checking up on cars that were to be switched from one line to another.

The first job in Bill's routine was to get the seal numbers on the cars as soon as a train entered the yard. Bill would get them on one side while his partner, Willie, got them on the other. They were supposed to wait for those trains at the break-up track, but sometimes they would walk out to meet them and ride in on the first car.

They had walked out to meet the "Special" and the Special was late that night, so, without realizing it, they walked a little farther than they had intended. They met it quite a ways out of the yard when it was going at a pretty fast clip.

He Threw His Body Over the Rail Just in Time.

clip. Willie caught the first car, but Bill let three or four go by before he could make up his mind to jump for it. He caught the fifth car, and since he was supposed to check the other side of the train, he started to climb over the top.

But Falling Under a Train Isn't So Prosaic! But Old Lady Adventure didn't ever intend that Bill should get to the other side of that train. As he reached for the top grab-iron with his right hand the one he was holding with his left broke away from the side of the car. His body swung out from the side of the car and started to fall.

As Bill fell he clutched at the top grab iron. He caught it, but his weight broke the hold. His body twisted—swung around between the cars. Then, as he dropped, his left leg hit the draw head. He swung head downward and fell—under the train.

"I lay flat on my back," says Bill, "and watched the bottoms of the cars whiz by only a few inches from my face. The wheels ground past only a few inches from my body on either side. I lay for a moment utterly unable to move. Then my mind began to race.

Underslung Hopper-Bottom Cars Meant Certain Death. "In a flash I had figured everything out. I had been lucky enough to land between the tracks—not on them. As long as I did not move I was perfectly safe unless—and there was the horrible possibility—unless there was a hopper-bottomed coal car in that train. The hoppers of those cars are only a few inches from the ties. If one of them hit me I would be mangled—mashed to a pulp—spread along a half mile of track."

And there was a darned good possibility that not one but several of these hopper-bottomed cars were in the train. In long trains like the one Bill was under it was the custom to put short, empty coal cars between the refrigerator cars to cut down the side sway. Bill knew that. His mind was clicking on all four in his moment of peril—taking in every consideration.

There was just one way out—a perilous way—but something told Bill it was a better risk than waiting for one of those murderous hopper bottoms. He began watching the wheels as they clicked by—gauging their speed and their distance.

Where two cars were coupled together the wheels were only about four feet apart, but between two wheels on the same car there was a space of forty feet. If he could throw his body over the rail as the front wheel passed, and get across before the rear wheel hit him—he'd be safe.

There was no time to lose, but Bill gauged those moving wheels carefully. He nerved himself and tensed every muscle. Then, as a front wheel flashed by, he started to go over. Would he get across in time? Bill didn't know because his eyes were shut. He didn't dare look at the thing he was doing. Then, all at once, he felt himself go over the top of the rail. He opened his eyes and saw clear sky overhead. He had made it.

"Then," says Bill, "came the reaction. I began trembling all over and got sick as a dog. And to this day the mere sight of a hopper-bottom coal car can give me a bad case of chills."

Primary Cause of Decay of Teeth Still Unknown Teeth may decay in spite of a completely adequate diet. It is shown by experiments at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia university.

"The practical significance of this finding is that, while we know it is possible to reduce the amount of caries or dental decay by improving the diet, we now know that we cannot prevent decay completely by this last method."

Payments to Veterans

World War veterans will receive a settlement of their adjusted service compensation very soon after June 15, according to the Treasury Department.

Under the law passed at the present session of Congress, the bonds by which payment will be made cannot be delivered before June 15, which is the date they become effective. The bonds have been printed and have been sent to the Federal Reserve Banks for distribution.

Because of the mailing problem which would be created by the release of 2,000,000 letters all at one time, the payments will be mailed in large batches. Within a short time after June 15, every veteran who has had his application approved is expected to receive a registered letter containing his settlement.

Applications are being received daily, and it is estimated that there will still be 700,000 applications on hand when payments are started. These are ones which have recently been received or about which correspondence has been necessary. They will be taken care of as quickly as possible.

The letter which the veteran receives will contain the bonds in denominations of $50, and if there is a sum less than $50 due, this will be in the form of a Treasury check. No other person except the veteran can sign a receipt for the letter containing the bonds.

Bonds may be converted into cash by application at any of a large number of post offices throughout the country. The list of these has not yet been announced but there will be 250 or 300 of them.

Payment through Local Post Office

The Treasury Department explains that it is not necessary for the veteran to call at one of these post offices in order to have his bonds converted. If he does not live near one of them, he can make application to his local postmaster, who will certify to his identification. The bonds desired to be cashed will be forwarded by the local postmaster to the nearest post office making disbursements. A check will be sent back immediately to the veteran.

It will probably be more satisfactory for the veteran to cash his bonds through his local postmaster so as to avoid any problem of identification.

All bonds will be dated June 15, 1936, and will run to June 15, 1945. They may be exchanged for cash at any time during the first year at their face value, and if held one year from the date of issuance they may be exchanged with an additional three percent interest.

The law provides that the bonds shall not be transferable, and cannot be assigned toward purchases. They are payable to the veteran only, and can be cashed only by him.

The Department says that every effort is being made to deliver these bonds in order that veterans who desire the cash now may receive it with the least possible delay.

The Farm Credit Administration reports that they are receiving many inquiries from veterans who wish to use their payments toward purchasing farm homes.

MEET PRIZES AWARDED

LIBRARY NOTES

"Something real happens when a great book and a human being get together. In the nexus of the great soul at work in a book and a great personality at work in the world is the focus of our civilization. History proves to us that great libraries are both the fruits and the roots of civilizations. Close to the source of many events and movements is the fact that a boy and a book got together."

Marie Antoinette by Stephen Lweig is an interesting book to be found in the Silverton Library. To tell the story of Marie Antoinette is to relive the great revolution. The life of Marie is perhaps the most singular example of how destiny will sometimes pluck a mediocre woman from obscurity and thrust her into greatness. Marie was an average woman, shrinking from adversity, loving peace, quiet and contentment.

With diabolical cunning, history began by making her a spoiled darling, wearing a crown while she was still in her teens, endowed with charm, grace and wealth as a young wife, and dowered with a light heart that never troubled to ask the cost of her gifts. Then destiny, having raised her to the pinnacle, dragged her down again. She was torn from her 100 room palace and thrust into a common jail, from admiration to hatred and plunged into the abyss of despair, and in these fires of a hell on earth was unknowingly wrought all the greatness of a long line of ancestors.

Among the twenty-five Germans who recently moved to other countries because they have been deprived of their citizenship by the Hitler dictatorship is the author Zweig; the preposterous accusation against him being that he had belittled the spiritual and ethical values of German culture.

Advertising is a proven success!
