Silverton Owls Lose To Spur

AGGIE BRIEFS

By Finley R. White

The cotton harvest nearing its completion, we farmers have to look back and make a few observations on what happened this year.

The most outstanding observation from a "dollars and cents" standpoint is the fact that these who planted long staple cotton have netted from $5.00 to $7.50 per bale more for their crop than we fellows who sown half and half cotton. We note that the boys who planted staple got as good a yield as or better, than the ones who planted half and half cotton and their cotton opened as early as ours.

There might be many other observations that could be made regarding the difference in long and short staple cotton—all of which would be in favor of the staple cotton.

The moral to this little story is, should all plant a better staple next year. There's one place half and half seed—the oil.

The sooner we run out of and half, the better off the industry will be.

Extension Improvement Meeting

An effort to improve the standard of cotton produced in the Extension Service is being made by specialists in the field in an effort to educate the cotton growers along that line.

November 22 at 2 P. M., in District Court Room, we will have two of these Extension men from Briscoe County. These men are E. A. Miller, Cotton Specialist, and Mr. F. E. Lichte, gin specialist.

This meeting will be open to all cotton producers, businessmen, and every one else who is interested in cotton. Mr. Miller and Mrs. Lichte have a wealth of valuable information for us and we hope that a large crowd will be in attendance. Remember the date and place. Mark your calendar NOW so that you won't miss the meeting. Tell your neighbors.

Lubbeck Conference

Two days this week were spent at Lubbeck in a conference where county committees, administrative assistants, County Agents, and Home Demonstration Agents of District Two met with the State and National AAA representatives.

The two-day discussion was on the 1938 and 1939 farm programs. It was decided at this conference that many of the comments on the present farm program were due to lack of information or misinformation.

To correct these two evils, it was decided that a series of community meetings be held through every county in the State. At these meetings the 1938 and 1939 program in all of its details will be brought to the farmers in the best, most understandable manner possible.

The success of any enterprise depends to a large degree upon how well that enterprise is understood by those who deal with it. It is hoped that when the educational meetings are held in your community you'll be there and give your neighbor with you.

Date On Wheat Premiums

November 19th has been set by the Federal Crop Insurance Office as the final date for acceptance of premiums on the 1939 wheat insurance.

About 150 wheat insurance applications were taken in Briscoe County. To date there are about 100 who have not paid their premiums. If your premium is not paid by November 19th, there will be no insurance on your wheat crop. Let's attend to this little business before it's too late.

SILVERTON BAKERY IS INSTALLING NEW OVEN

A new rotary oven is being installed this week in the Silverton Bakery, which will replace the old type now being used. The new type oven is in use in all of the latest bakeries; according to Richardson, owner and manager of the Silverton Bakery.

In the new oven the oven revolves around a central flame and the bread is baked uniformly over the top. The baking process does not take so long, and will give a better flavored loaf of bread. Many of the bakeries are advertising bread baked in "air-flow ovens" and this is one of them.

Democrat

Eugene Germany, the new Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee. One of his most important phases in his program is "Garner for President in 1940". He succeeds Myron G. Black as the new Chairman.

G. C. Patton Claimed By Death Monday

Funeral services for Grover C. Patton, who died at the family home here Monday, were conducted at the First Baptist Church here November 2nd. Rev. W. H. Jackson, pastor of the church officiated.

Mr. Patton has been in poor health for some time, yet his death came as a distinct shock to everyone. He was born May 3rd, 1888, and was the son of Mrs. H. J. Patton, one of the pioneer settlers of this county.

He was converted at the age of twenty, and joined the Baptist Church of which he is still a member. He has served here for a number of years as a deacon in the church.

He was also a member of the Odd Fellow Lodge, having been initiated in 1927. He was installed in the chair of Noble Grand in 1929, and was Past Grand in 1930. The local Odd Fellow lodge had charge of a part of the funeral services and he was given a regular Odd Fellow burial ceremony at the cemetery.

Surviving him are his wife, and two children by a former marriage. They are James Patton of Silverton; and Mrs. Geraldine Dendy of Los Angeles; his mother, Mrs. H. J. Patton, Silverton; and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. H. E. Fowler, Mrs. Noah Amason, Silverton; Mrs. Lucian Evans of Phoenix, Arizona; Mrs. Luther Eby of Denver, Colorado; Raymond Patton of Port Neches, Otis Patton of Perryton; and one half brother, Mike Valino of Ervin, Texas.

One brother, Ben Valino and his father preceded him in death. Pall bearers were all Odd Fellows, J. R. Foust, N. R. Honea, Shelby Haynes, C. E. Anderson of Quitaque, Walter Damron, Lubbock and R. M. Hill.

SENIOR NOTES

The Seniors had a Halloween entertainment in the gym Monday night. After various Halloween games, the class, with their sponsors, Miss Fern Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Aulton Durham, ate apples and cookies, and told ghost stories.

This was the class' first entertainment of the year and every one spent an enjoyable evening.

The Senior class met November 1, and selected some members of the class on the staff for the school paper and yearbook.

The Seniors are all enthused over this idea and will call the paper, "The Owllet."

The other classes will choose their Editors on Thursday.

During the time of selection of the staff for the paper, the class also nominated a candidate for Football Queen. Miss Lucile West was selected as the Senior nominee.—Vote for the Senior candidate.

ENDER OF WAR

From a papyrus wound about a Egyptian mummy, two or three centuries before Christ, we learn that an Alexandrian named Dorian, made a fighting machine so deadly that it was called the ender of war. And from that time till now, new inventions have been heralded as destined to put an end to war; but the truth remains that the only sure ender of war is the spread of the knowledge of the ways of the Lord, and of the universal acceptance of his rule in the hearts of men. When the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God are everywhere accepted, then war will cease.

The "Dictatorship of Love" will be our thought in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning—will you join with us in this interesting discussion. Evening service will be held at 7:30 o'clock.

F. F. A. NEWS

By Bob Brooks

The F. F. A. boys met October 18, and enjoyed a talk by Finley White. He talked on the 1938-39 Cotton program.

The boys are having a party Thursday, November 3.

Friday night at the high school carnival the boys will have a booth to sell popcorn and other good things. Everybody be there.

General Election Tuesday

Tuesday, November 8th, Texas and the whole United States goes to the polls to vote. While in most states, this is the most important election of the year, in the "Solid South", it is merely a form—99 times out of 100 the candidate has already been elected in the Democratic primaries earlier in the year. A light vote is expected here.

The ballots this year, besides the names of candidates for Democratic, Republican, Socialist, and Communist candidates, contains one proposed state Constitutional amendment, to be voted "for" or "against" by the voters of Texas. The amendment pertains to the oath of office for legislators and other office holders, and proposes to omit the part of the oath which makes the office holder to swear that he has never participated in a duel. The oath of office, if the amendment passes, will read as follows:

"I, _____ do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the duties of the office of _____ of the State of Texas, and will to the best of my ability preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution and the laws of the United States, and of this state; and I furthermore solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not directly nor indirectly paid, offered, or promised to pay, contributed, nor promised to contribute any money, or valuable thing, or promised any public office or employment, as a reward for the giving or withholding of a vote at the election, at which I voted. So help me God."

This proposed amendment has already cost the state thousands of dollars. If passed, it will cost the State and Counties, many more. New record books will have to be purchased and many other expenses will be involved.

Vote "against" the proposed amendment.

SUNDAY NIGHT SHOWS TO START AT PALACE THEATER

Beginning Sunday night, November 6, the Palace Theatre will start its usual Sunday attractions to run through the fall and winter months.

The show booked for this coming Sunday, Monday and Tuesday is Keep Smiling with Jane Withers and Gloria Stuart.

Beginning Friday night of this week the ticket office will open at 6:45 P. M. The Saturday matinee will start at one o'clock and the Sunday matinee will open at two.

The show for Friday and Saturday of this week is "Cowboy from Brooklyn" with Dick Powell and Pat O'Brien, neither of whom have ever played in a "western" before. The show promises plenty of laughs.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

Census report shows that 2322 bales of cotton were ginned in Briscoe County from the crop of 1938 prior to October 18, as compared with 1985 bales for the crop of 1937.

Republican

Alexander Boynton, Republican candidate for Governor of Texas, is a 100 to 1 shot to defeat W. Lee O'Daniel Tuesday. He claims to have been voting the Democratic ticket in Texas while O'Daniel was voting the Republican ticket in Kansas.

Behind The Scenes In Business

BUSINESS—While the current recovery movement has featured prosperity headlines for big industries such as steel, factory machinery, public utilities, and engineering construction, some of the less spectacular industries have also been chalking up rosy records of their own. Retail furniture sales are booming again, and manufacturers shipped $40,000,000 worth of merchandise in September, the highest this year. September was also the first 1938 month in which shipments to local dealers by sash, door and frame manufacturers exceeded the similar month last year. Rug sales, which started the year off poorly, will probably come within 10 percent of the 1937 volume, as mills speed up production to meet rapidly rising demand.

WASHINGTON—The 20th anniversary of Armistice Day is a reminder that the world was not "made safe for democracy" by the world war. Officials here, though, aren't wasting time crying over spilled milk. Believing they read correctly the country's sentiment, they are pushing a broad program of national defense preparedness.

Behind all preparedness mechanisms, military experts say, lies the problem of raw materials. America lacks, in whole or in part, 21 strategic raw materials, according to the War Department. Many we now import have to cross thousands of miles of ocean. Rubber comes from Malaya and Dutch East Indies. Bauxite, to make aluminum, from South America. Manganese from Russia, Africa, India and Brazil. Tungsten from (Continued on back page)

School Paper To Start Next Week

NEWS BITS

From Neighboring Towns

Judge Fined for Drinking

Judge J. C. Doherty of Hedley is now qualified to really expound on the evils of drink. Last week he was picked up in Clarendon for drunkenness and fined $14.25, according to the Donley County Leader.

Turkey Enterprise Sold

Bob Wade, who has been editor of the Turkey Enterprise for some time, announced in last week's paper that it was his last issue. The Turkey paper has been sold to Roy Matthews and Carl Rowe who have already taken charge of the publication.

Struck By Train

Jim Morris of Canyon, was seriously injured when the truck he was driving was struck by a freight train at the crossing south of Canyon. The train stopped to give aid, and, according to the Canyon News, the victim is resting nicely in the hospital. The truck was demolished.

Tax Judgments

Twenty three judgments were rendered by the Court at Floydada last week in collecting delinquent taxes for the City, School, County, and State. Tax Collecting bodies are in the mood to collect back taxes, says the Floyd County Hesperian.

Hospital at Floydada

Dr. Donald Pitts and Dr. A. E. Guthrie of Floydada opened the Floydada Hospital last week. The building and equipment have been completely remodeled and renewed, according to the Floyd County Plainsman.

LIBRARY NOTES

A special effort is being made to have some of the best children's books on hand before book week, which is from November 12 to 19. There will be some especially interesting new titles in that department. Friends of the library are asked to clear out their bookshelves and present to the library all books and magazines that can be spared. The library is open from two until five o'clock Saturday afternoons. The books presented to the library will be available to subscribers and to many other readers also. The public may be assured that every gift is returned to the county ten fold in the permanent assets of greater happiness, comfort and progress.

RACE FOR FOOTBALL QUEEN UNDR WAY

The climax of the Football season is being centered in the interest of the student body in the Football Queen Contest.

Nominations for candidates will cease Friday at 4 o'clock. Four candidates have been nominated, one from each class. The Seniors have nominated Lucile West as their candidate. Her business manager is Thomas Olive. The Junior candidate is Novaline Byrd, whose manager is Hank Brown. The Freshmen selected Evelyn Coffee as their candidate and Jimmy Neatherlin as her manager. The Sophomore candidate is Paulene Steele, and her business manager is Rex Douglas.

The contest and the crowning of the Queen will be a lasting memory for those who go to school in dear old S. H. S.

The Queen will be honored by a parade, accompanied by her attendants. Included in the parade will be several floats.

The mayor will escort her to the football field, November 24, when the Silverton Owls play the Turkey Turks. He will present her to the Silverton Captains immediately after she is crowned by the city herald. The Owl captains will then present her to the Turk Captain.

The Queen will also be honored with a picture in the paper. Other honors will be bestowed upon her, but the details haven't been worked out. Watch for later announcements.

The votes will determine which nominee will become Queen. Votes are one cent each, and anyone is eligible to place votes on the candidates.

The proceeds from this campaign will be used to entertain the Football boys and Pep Squad girls with a banquet, December 3, at which time the Queen will be highly honored and given much recognition.

Students Of Silverton High School To Publish "The Owllet"

Next week the Briscoe County News will inaugurate a new feature and with the help of the high school will give you a complete school page, with interesting news of the school, sports, features, and everything of interest to the school and its patrons.

The plan has been discussed for some time and at last a workable plan has been worked out which will include the publication of a nice school annual in the spring at the school. The Briscoe County News will do all work connected with the printing of the paper and the annual. In return the staff of the "Owllet" agrees to furnish copy each week for the paper, and also to promote the sale of at least one hundred of the school annual.

This "school paper-annual" plan has been found workable in many high schools and there is little doubt but that it will work here. The Briscoe County News is glad to cooperate in bringing you a new feature that we are sure that you will enjoy.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS ORGANIZE CHAPTER HERE

Homemaking students of Silverton high school have organized a chapter of the Future Homemakers of Texas. The local chapter call themselves the "Jolly Eckers". Their motto is: "Success comes in cans, I can, you can and we all can!"

The membership consists of active members of students enrolled in homemaking classes, associate members or students who have previously been enrolled and honorary member adults chosen by the club to assist in club study.

Honorary members are: Mrs. A. L. Kelsay, Mrs. W. E. Sherman and Mrs. Grady Wimberly.

Meetings are held in the Home making cottage each Tuesday, from 3:15 to 4:00 o'clock. The purpose of the club is to furnish real life experiences for students in their "Learning to Live" program.

Club officers are, President, Anita Hill; Vice president, Marie Nance; Secretary, Evelyn Coffee; Treasurer, Frances Simmons; Parliamentarian, Eunice McCain, Reporter, Nettie Faye Byrd; Sponsor, Mrs. Doherty. Yearbook committee, Durene Strickland, Pauline Steele and Anita Hill.

The club theme for the year is "Traveling Life's Highway". Starting the Journey was taken up in October. November discussions will center around interesting happenings on the way.

Coleen Bomar, Donaleta Seaney and Fay Jean Davis were selected to represent the Silverton chapter at the regional meeting of F. H. T. November 19 at Canyon. The club president and sponsor will attend.

The club voted to affiliate with both state and national Future Homemakers organizations and to adopt club plans as set up by the state division.

Colors chosen by the club were Purple and Gold—the flower is Tulip.

ANOTHER SALE MONDAY

Another sale is booked for next Monday. The last four sales have been a little draggy due to people working in the fields, but as cotton picking is about over, the sale will undoubtedly arouse more interest.

This next Monday many more buyers are being notified and the stock should bring as high a price here as anywhere. Bring your livestock and let's make this a big sale. At the old school building west of the gin.

SYNOPSIS

Young Rex Hale calls on Casper Kneeland, friend of his father, in New York, and finds him proudly successful but strangely preoccupied. He tells Hale of his wife's death while in prison, invites him for the summer to Halcyon Camp, his home on Long Island, and promises him he will be "useful" as his secretary there. Hale is joined at lunch by Fred Ainsworth, an unpopular college mate, also at Halcyon, who leaves him with a feeling of unpleasant mystery. He is met at the train by Mrs. Wilbur Nash, whom he questions about the manage-tain doctor is doing so and so, what would be the penalty in your profession if he were caught at it?"

"You'll have to be a lot more definite than that, my friend," Doctor Dewar said curtly.

headed chap has been asking questions about him, will you?"
The operator grinned, fingering the additional half dollar he had received, and said he wouldn't. Rex went back to the bureau he had visited that morning. He left for fingerprinting a slip of paper Ainsworth had given him in the library when he had asked Ainsworth for the address of a classmate.

of Miss Joan on this wall. It's a good one."
They had entered a front bedroom on the second floor. Miss Kneeland's portrait, painted by Wayman Adams faced them from a commanding position above the mantel.

"Who doesn't know the poor old girl?"

Hale continued, "I'd like to ask you about another guest there—Mrs. Spencer Forbes. Do you know her?"
"Ruth Spencer Forbes? Of course I know her. Who doesn't know her," replied Stuyvesant. "She's a pal of my mother's. She often comes to the house. I rather like her myself. She's good fun, if you get her in the right mood. Four or five cocktails usually do it. The things I've heard that woman say! What do you want to know about Ruth Spencer Forbes?" he ended more seriously.

doing it all the time." His caution returned. "You understand that I can't be quoted in any way or even mentioned in connection with a case of that sort."

just off the Avenue, in the Sixties, and much like a dozen other brownstone houses in its neighborhood. His ring at the bell was answered with deliberation by a middle-aged colored man neatly dressed and prematurely bald.

"Yes, someone spoke of that. She's spending the summer with Miss Hosanna Kneeland."
Stuyvesant nodded.

"Given the conditions I've suggested, what would be the procedure for the innocent bystander who is watching them?"
"H-m-m-m." It was the doctor's turn to talk, and he did it. Hale listened, put questions, made a few notes. At the end of twenty minutes he got up and held out his hand.

"I'm stopping here tonight," Rex said. "Mr. Kneeland telephoned you about it, I suppose."
"Yes, suh."

"I've heard of her. Ruth picks 'em up wherever she finds 'em. She's like Ainsworth in that respect, very democratic. I suppose Miss Kneeland has always bowed down before Ruth, and Ruth has taken it like Buddha on a shrine. She would. That reminds me of something else. Isn't there a heires of sorts in the Kneeland family—a girl called June or Joan or something?"

The doctor returned the grip. He was still walking in dark places, but light was breaking through and at least he had one destination in sight. It was fifteen minutes past four. He called up the second psychiatrist and had another break.

"Here's my luggage," said Hale as he entered.
He took from his pocket, and held out, a comb, a box of safety razors, a tooth brush, and a small cake of soap, each article chastely wrapped in cellophane. He had just purchased the collection in a corner drug-store. "My plan," he added sedately, "is to escape in a sheet if the house catches fire tonight."

"And is she easy on the eyes!"
Stuyvesant spoke enthusiastically. "I met her twice last winter. I wanted to meet her oftener but she dropped out of sight in the spring. Is it her house you're visiting?"

"If you-all will jest come this way—" The man led him up the staircase.
"Your name?" Rex asked as they went.

"What's your name?" Rex asked as they went.
"George Davis, suh."

"You're in luck," Stuyvesant said simply. "Say, old man, couldn't you get me down there for a week-end?"

"All that being granted," Hale asked Doctor Hitchcock, "why isn't Craig more popular? Why hasn't he any friends?"
Hitchcock was ready to answer that.

"What about his character as you see it?"
"Absolutely—rather abnormally so. Ruthless, I'd say, in going after what he wants. That's all I know about him. Part of that is theory."

Doctor Gordon Dewar had made the appointment with more than resignation. "I'll see you right after my office hours," he promised. "Not that there will be many in the office. Most of my patients are going off their heads these days without my help."

"What about his character as you see it?"
"Absolutely—rather abnormally so. Ruthless, I'd say, in going after what he wants. That's all I know about him. Part of that is theory."

James L. Allred Sports Editor

Entered as second-class mail matter at the post office at Silvertown, Texas in accordance with an act of Congress on March 3, 1879.

"The man who continually blows his own horn, usually stays at the little end."

I HEREBY RESOLVE—that this line shall remain in the Briscoe County News until our city managers start a little constructive work toward surfacing our streets, or at least until the death of Yours True?ly. Dated this 9th day of June, 1938. (I've been wanting to know for a long time, how long a snout slug will last.)

THE FIRST OF November is here and past, which means in this office, that the paper can be bought for a DOLLAR. The offer will last until the 31st day of December. I hate to do it folks. Giving you a five dollar paper and twice a year selling it to you for a buck. But even if I do lose four dollars on the deal I will be very glad to take your subscription—yours, and your dad's, and all the other relatives.

SOMEONE IS ALWAYS horsing me about that dollar offer. That it ought to be a dollar the year around. Well, the secret of it is that the dollar bargain offer is the last chance—when we put it to a dollar—the ones who don't renew are cancelled off. — And just in case Lee Bomar reads this "your paper is about to start—all it needs is that dollar bill to grease the skids."

MY WIFE PULLED a fast one on me this week. Bawled me out for not sending a birthday present while she was home. I couldn't think when her birthday was and so was stuck for the present. And it came to me later that her birthday is in January instead of September. She has been gouging me for a birthday present at least twice a year. Lord, there's no telling how old that woman is.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, people are already buying Christmas gifts. The Variety Store has been having quite a bit of pre-Christmas shopping. Christmas isn't too far off either. Just about four more issues until our big Christmas edition.

ELECTION DAY IS Tuesday. Of course it isn't really election, but it's a nice game to play. There is one constitutional amendment to be voted upon this year. A very momentous question too. Whether or not a man has ever fought a duel is to be stricken from his oath when he takes office. Now, of course that is important. Expenses mean nothing to us, and I don't reckon it will cost more than a hundred thousand or so to replace record books and so forth in the state, if it does pass. Let's vote against it, even if it is important. A vote "against" will save this county alone, several dollars.

JOE O'NEAL LEFT a stalk of his irrigated cotton at the gin this week. Of course Joe isn't a fellow to brag, so I'll have to do it for him. The stalk had 44 bolls, all of which were 5-lock (whatever that means). That's some cotton, for they tell me that it takes about 100 bolls to make a pound.

SOME UNHAPPY COUPLE has mistaken the County Agent's force as dealing in "advice to the lovelorn" instead of farm problems. At any rate the boys over there handed me a letter they claim to have received:

"Dear Sirs: After two years of married life, my husband I find that we have made a mistake. Should we separate?"

Answer: "Yes by all means—but what are you going to do with the mistake?"

TA, TA, I guess that will hold you till next week—if there is a next week...

Arnold Cooper and Thomas Sherman spent Sunday in Ralls visiting friends.

BRISCOE COUNTY IS WELL REPRESENTED AT T. S. C. W.

Four Briscoe County girls, Misses Geraldine Schott and Freda Lee Elliston of Silvertown and Koren Keever and Johnye Louise Womack of Quitaque, are among the 2700 students now enrolled at Texas State College for Women. Final tabulations show that the school is again the largest residential woman's college in the United States, with students from 220 Texas counties, 26 states and 7 foreign countries.

With opening activities completed, the students are now in the midst of a full schedule of work and entertainment, including classes all day, college and club picnics, dances, teas and other social affairs, and an unusually crowded calendar of dramatic, musical and other attractions on the Drama Series and Artists, Course.

T. S. C. W. students will have their first holiday November 5 for the A. and M-S. M. U. game in Dallas, other holidays being scheduled for Thanksgiving, November 23-28; Christmas, December 17-January 2; and Spring, April 6-12.

The Junior Class met Monday afternoon and selected Novaleene Byrd as their candidate for football queen. Voting will start Monday, November 7. Votes will be one cent each. The proceeds will be used to give the football boys and the pep squad girls a banquet. The Junior Class will have a country store and a bingo table at the school carnival, Friday night. Come to the carnival and spend your with money with us.

Mrs. W. Allard visited Saturday with her daughter, Faye in Lubbock.

IRRIGATION MEETING

Last minute telegram from the Plainview Chamber of Commerce: "The Ground Water Bill, proposed for introduction at the next session of the Texas Legislature, will be discussed at a meeting in Plainview at eight o'clock at the City Auditorium, Monday, Nov. 7th. Not only those who have irrigation wells, but those who may some day want them, should attend." Pete Smith, Secretary

SPANISH CLUB MEETS

The Spanish Club met October 28, 1938. The roll was called by the Secretary and the members answered with Spanish Proverbs. The minutes were read by the Secretary in Spanish. "The Eyes of Texas" was sang in Spanish by the class, also "Mexicala Rosa". We then played a game named "Vuelen and No Vuelen." Hasta la vista

JUNIORS HAVE CLASS PARTY

The Junior Class enjoyed a Hal-lowe'en party Saturday night in the W. E. Sherman home. Those present enjoyed Chinese Checkers, forty-two and various other games. After games had been played for some time, the guests were served hot chocolate and sandwiches. —Reporter

Mill Has Motor Trouble

A large electric motor burned out last week end at the Plain Mill and Elevator and really put them in trouble. All week they have been getting by with a little motor that will turn only one piece of machinery at a time. Dr. and Mrs. S. T. Cooper visited Sunday in the Dr. N. C. Papp cell home in Floydada.

THE toothache is beneficial in that it warns the system of a condition that will wreak havoc if not corrected. A tooth aching is a tooth going bad and bad teeth are the cause of severe ailments such as stomach trouble and blood poisoning. They serve also as a breeding place for germs which, when once given the opportunity, can cause grave illness and even death.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

The Singing Kettle.—When coal stove is used it is foolish to allow the teakettle to be empty any time. One always can find use for boiling or very hot water.

Keeping Mustard Moist.—Mustard mixed with milk instead of water will not dry out but will keep moist until it has all been used.

Table Linen.—To keep white table linen from turning yellow wrap it in a fast-color blue paper.

Try Vinegar.—Wipe the pasteboard shelves with a cloth dipped in vinegar. It gives a fresh and pleasant atmosphere to the larger and repels flies.

Cleaning Oven Dishes.—Mark on fireproof oven dishes can be removed by rubbing with common salt while the dish is still hot.

This is the time of year when town and rural folk are getting ready for winter. Your car is important then as now. Give it thought. Be forehanded. Stop your favorite dealer and let him drain the Summer-worn oil and put in Acid-Free Quaker Winter Oil. You'll be thankful on the first cold morning.—Adv.

NERVOUS?

Do you feel so nervous you want to scream? Are you cross and irritable? Do you worry those dearest to you?
If your nerves are on edge and you need a good general system tonic, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially for women.

For over 50 years one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with real Pinkham's Compound. It helps nature build up more physical resistance and thus helps calm quivering nerves and lessen discomfort from annoying symptoms which often accompany female functional disorders. Why not give it a chance to help you?

Over one million women have written reporting wonderful benefits from Pinkham's Compound.

Avocation Into Vocation

Picture Parade

Whether Hollywood producers need doubles for dangerous roles, or insects or animals for atmosphere, their wants can be supplied at almost a moment's notice. This constant striving for reality has made vocations out of many an avocation. Imitators find a ready market when needed—for their specializations. Collectors can rent out their menageries, early vintage or imported cars and other objects needed for "props" or "gags" in colossal or just spectacular productions. Jack Lipson (above) is the man with the thumb that is the envy of all hitch-hikers. It brings him $50 a day when used as a comedy gag.

Above, S. W. Allman, who gathers bats, spiders, bugs and snakes, examines part of his collection of tarantulas. At one time he had a call for a dozen big bats from a producer who didn't want to make a $400 trip to Arizona for them. Allman visited a mine near Los Angeles and returned with eight bats, renting them for $5 apiece. Right, Slicker, the trained seal, gets instructions from H. W. Winston.

No spine where the spine should be... Lionel Comport, whose specialty is supplying swaybacked horses for "gag" purposes, measures the spine dip of one of his equine freaks. From top to bottom, it's an 11 1/2-inch drop. Nature, it seems, has provided this nag with his own saddle, bringing Mr. Comport $15 a day for his rental.

Two more different ways of earning a livelihood a la Hollywood. Mary Wiggins (left) examines the scrapbook filled with pictures of some of the stunts in which she has taken part. She thinks nothing of running a motorcycle through a fence, and her specialty is high and fire diving. Right, Cliff Jones shows some of the grasshoppers he rounded up for a "plague" scene. He gathered 35 barrels of the bugs.

Eugene Lejuine rents old cars for movie productions.

Star Dust

- ★ Western West Point
- ★ Gary Cuts Speed
- ★ Sub Holds the Fort

By Virginia Vale

IN HOLLYWOOD there is a man named Jack Schulze who is one of the wizards of modern times, and it's dollars to doughnuts that you haven't the faintest notion who Jack Schulze is. He's art director for Edward Small Productions, which United Artists releases and here is a brief account of his latest exploit.

Small, producer of "The Duke of West Point," assigned him to a simple little task—just to transport the United States Military Academy from West Point to Hollywood. And Schulze did it. That is, he built in Hollywood so perfect a replica of the academy that the West Point graduates who have come in hordes to visit the set felt that they were right back in college.

Perhaps you'll be interested in knowing how it was done. A camera crew was sent to West Point to make films of practically every inch of the academy. That ran into almost 50,000 feet of film, which showed the buildings, the grounds, and was a record of the sort of life that is led there. That's a lot of film, when you consider that the average feature picture, that runs for about an hour and a quarter, is 9,000 feet.

Each morning, before shooting a particular scene, Director Alfred E. Greene goes to his projection room and looks over pictures made under similar circumstances at West Point—pictures showing a day in the life of a cadet. Then he goes to the same spot on the set—there it is, waiting for him, whether it be in the mess hall or on Flirtation walk.

West Point's Michie stadium had to be reproduced for the picture's football game. Army experts approved the story of the picture. Its author, George Bruce, spent many weeks at West Point as the commandant's guest, and made volumes of notes for his story.

Gary Cooper, star of "The Cowboy and the Lady," likes to putter. So, not long ago, he settled down with his car—one of those rakish foreign models, eight years old—to do a bit of tinkering. He was getting only 5 1/2 miles to the gallon of gas; something had to be done about it.

He did it. He gets four miles to the gallon now!

Twelve years ago Hal Roach threw Wheeling, W. Va., into a ditch, when he arrived there looking for a double for Baby Peggy. He finally chose Mrs. Wyn's little girl, Nan.

Nan is now one of CBS's prize singers. She opened at a New York night club. She received a carload of floral tributes—among them a huge bouquet with which was enclosed an old photograph of her made up as Baby Peggy.

Bob Burns, substituting for Bing Crosby as master of ceremonies on their radio program during the summer, did so well—with a lot of help from a lot of other swell people—that the program stayed in third place in the popularity ratings.

Now that Bing has returned he's giving more attention to his farm. He has six acres in the San Fernando valley, and it's a real farm. Instead of a swimming pool (fancy a movie star without one!) he's building an extra-special barn. He's going in for the best farm equipment that money can buy, and he's going to market potatoes.

Those popularity polls are interesting. Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy hold their program in first place among the hour-long broadcasts; "The Radio Theater," Monday nights from Hollywood, is second. The Vallee Varieties is fourth of the big shows, Major Bowes' amateurs are fifth.

Malibu used to be the place where a motion picture star simply had to have a beach house. Then the directors discovered it, and the stars sold out and went elsewhere. Along came the writers, and the directors sold. Now the writers are moving—and Malibu is perfectly lovely and quiet.

ODDS AND ENDS—Don Wilson is a busy man these days; he's on two transcontinental programs and is making travelogues at Universal... Benny Goodman's to make his classical debut in January at Carnegie Hall in New York, where he gave his sensational concert last winter... Alan Moubray ("There Goes My Heart") announced that he wanted to be adopted by America, so that he could have a native town of his own; eight cities promptly took him up on it... Anne Shirley and her husband, John Payne (who is one of the Paynes of Virginia and likes to have people remember it), are off to Roanoke on a deferred honeymoon.

WHAT to EAT and WHY

C. Houston Goudiss Describes Food Value and Versatility of Gelatin; Outlines Its Many Uses in the Diet

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

WHEN we try to appraise the nutritional values of any one food in comparison with others, as a rule we have a difficult task. Most foodstuffs are composed of so many different substances that what is lacking in one will be supplied by another, and making comparisons may therefore be misleading as well as futile. But there is one food which is outstanding, not only because it is far less complex than most others, but because it is no exaggeration to say that without it, some of us might not be alive, and those of us who are alive would obtain far less enjoyment from our daily existence.

That food is gelatin!

What is Gelatin?

Gelatin is a protein food which has no equal as a carrier, binder and "extender" of a wide variety of other nutritive materials. Chemically, it is classed as a colloid, which means that in solution, it can be removed from its solvent by filtration. It is because of this that it is so useful in producing smooth, delicious ice creams and other dainties, free from ice crystals.

Gelatin is an almost pure protein—a kind of protein known as an albuminoid. It is not a complete protein, because it is deficient in three of the amino acids that are necessary both to support growth and repair body tissues. In this it differs from meat, cheese, fish, eggs and milk, which are known as complete proteins.

It cannot be used as the sole source of protein in the diet, because those three missing amino acids are necessary for the formation of new body tissue. But it is especially rich in lysine, one of the protein building stones that is particularly important in the diet of children. Experiments indicate that no other amino acid can take the place of lysine and that it must be furnished by the food if adequate nutrition is to be maintained.

That coupled with the fact that it is non-irritating and easily digestible accounts for the large part it plays in the diet of infants and young children.

How It Is Made

Contrary to old wives' tales, gelatin is not made from hoofs and horns. In fact, there is no gelatin in hoofs or horns. It is extracted from connective tissue in the skins and from the bones of food animals.

Every homemaker who has made soup by simmering a knuckle bone for hours, and has found the soup "jellied" after standing overnight in the refrigerator, has prepared gelatin on a small scale. The same principles are followed by the gelatin manufacturer, only he operates in a much larger food kitchen, and each step of the preparation is scientifically controlled so as to insure a uniform finished product. Gelatin is sold in two forms: the unflavored, granulated product which requires the addition of flavoring, and when used for dessert purposes, sweetening; and the gelatin dessert powders which contain added sugar, color, flavor and fruit acid. So popular are these convenient gelatin desserts, that about 10,000,000 pounds of gelatin are used annually for this purpose.

From Infancy to Old Age

Nutritionists recognize gelatin as a food possessing many unique advantages in the daily diet, and it is prescribed by physicians for a variety of special diets. Newborn babies, for example, are sometimes given a gelatin-sugar-salt solution which provides readily available protein to raise the protein level of the blood. When an infant cannot readily digest milk, owing to the formation of hard curds, the doctor may recommend the addition of 1 per cent of gelatin dissolved in the milk. This usually causes it to be assimilated easily and satisfactorily.

When it comes time to change a baby's food from liquids to solids, gelatin also proves useful, for its soft, semi-solid texture makes an excellent transitional food. With toddlers and school children, gelatin—the carrier and "extender"—provides a splendid method for offering foods that are disliked. Vegetables that draw forth protests when presented in the usual fashion are eaten with relish when molded into a sparkling lime- or lemon-flavored salad. The coarse texture of certain raw vegetables, such as carrots and cabbage, or the tart flavor of some fruits, may likewise be modified by serving them in a gelatin base.

And it doesn't require statistics from nursery schools to tell mothers how readily children eat gelatin desserts when they are brilliant with color and flavored with

Building, Maintaining Healthy Teeth

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

It is an alarming fact that almost every adult in this great land of ours is affected by some form of oral disease, and that more than 90 per cent of our school children have decayed teeth. A prominent medical authority made the statement that if dental decay became rare, instead of almost universal, more than half of all sickness would be eliminated.

Remarkable and widely heralded advances have been made in our knowledge of how to control and prevent many dangerous and debilitating diseases. A decayed tooth is a poison factory, distributing its noxious product to every part of the body. In the body, that poison attacks and centers in the weakest spot. It may lead to neuritis, rheumatic ailments, dyspepsia, or duodenal ulcers. It may even be a contributing cause of heart disease.

Only a small percentage of our population is yet aware of the far-reaching effects of teeth upon health. There is a close relationship between healthy teeth and healthy bodies, and between decayed teeth and sickly bodies.

By learning something of the importance of caring properly for the teeth, some men and women of middle age look and feel younger than their parents did at the same age.

I have endeavored in many of the WHAT TO EAT AND WHY articles, which have appeared in this newspaper over my signature, to point out the close relationship between diet and dental disease; between frequent and thorough brushing of the teeth with an efficient dentifrice so as to remove all food particles, and strong, beautiful teeth.

I have received many letters from readers of these articles, showing that homemakers are eager for sound, authoritative advice on the proper care of the teeth. To help these and other readers to know how to properly care for their teeth, I have prepared a booklet on BUILDING AND MAINTAINING HEALTHY TEETH which I am offering FREE, because I feel so strongly that this information should be in every home, knowing as I do, that the salvation of the human race may lie in saving their teeth. Address, C. Houston Goudiss, 210 S. Desplaines St., Chicago, Ill.

orange, raspberry, cherry, strawberry or other well liked flavors. Every mother knows this from her own experience—and I rather suspect that many mothers describe these attractive molded desserts as the prize to be won in return for cleaning the plate of the main course!

In the Reducing Diet

Both men and women who are counting their calories, in an effort to avoid overweight, or to reduce, can profit by taking gelatin salads and desserts, which satisfy hunger without providing unwanted fuel value.

In cases of digestive disturbance, gelatin is frequently recommended because of its bland taste, and because it leaves no residue in the lower intestinal tract.

This same splendid food is also advised by doctors when a high protein diet is desired to speed growth, or during convalescence from an illness. Gelatin may be added to broths, milk, fruit and vegetables, and these, in turn, may be incorporated in solidified gelatin.

Indeed, this many-sided foodstuff has come to play such a wide and varied role in nutrition, not only by itself but by enhancing the value of other foods, that it must be numbered among the products that help to increase national health and vigor.

That Everyone Who Takes Aspirin Should Study

Drop a Bayer Tablet in water—it starts to disintegrate in 2 seconds—hence is ready to "go to work" rapidly

This Quick Dissolving Property of Genuine Bayer Aspirin Explains Fast Relief

If you suffer with headaches or the pains of rheumatism or neuritis keep the above picture about genuine Bayer Aspirin in your mind. Especially if quick relief is what you want.

For the way a Bayer Tablet works in the glass is the way it works when you take it. It starts to dissolve almost at once—hence is ready to "take hold" of the rheumatic pain or headache with astonishing speed. Relief often comes in a few minutes.

Always ask for "BAYER Aspirin"—never ask for "aspirin" alone.

China. Plenty of manganese, indispensable in steel making, exists in the U. S., with deposits in at least 20 states. But it requires costly equipment to concentrate the ores. Holding back development of a going domestic manganese industry which would serve as wartime "insurance," strategists point out, is the fact the tariff was cut in half in 1935, hereby giving the market almost exclusively to far-off nations where the ore is mined by cheap labor. Recent developments have crystallized sentiment here in favor of legislation such as was introduced in the last congress designed to solve the raw materials problem by building emergency reserves exclusively from domestic sources. This would include Cuba, in the case of manganese, it is felt, since the Army is recommending continued development of Cuban mines to keep available this accessible source in case of emergencies.

MINE HOST—Eager to prepare for the heavy traveling expected next year as a result of the two World's Fairs, hotel keepers last week flocked to the National Hotel Exposition here to see what new ideas in hotel supplies had been thought up since last year. Simmons Company crashed thru with a tricky double-deck bunk bed to be used when accommodations become scarce and which can be used as ordinary twin beds under less strained circumstances. A stunning bar with a nautical appearance, made of blue and sun tan vitrolite structural glass, was displayed by the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company. The General Lamp Company showed a new bed lamp which is adjustable and throws a beam of light directly upon the reading matter, leaving the rest of the room in semi-darkness. Exhibitors noted that hotel men were buying more freely nowadays, having experienced a good upturn in business since mid-summer.

MISS CHARLSIE ALLARD HONORED ON BIRTHDAY
Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Allard honored their daughter, Charlsie, Sunday, October 30 at 12 o'clock with a Birthday Luncheon. At the noon hour the guests arrived and were welcomed by the hostess and found waiting them a lovely table with white linens, centered with a white cake with candles to speak for the honoree. Those who enjoyed this happy occasion were the honoree, Miss Charlsie Allard, Misses Jeanne Jackson, Lubbock; Imogene Burson, Plainview; and Hazel Elliston of Silverton; Mr. Sommer Clayton, O'Donnell, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Garvin and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Allard.

Miss Fern Murphy burned her hand Wednesday afternoon when she attempted to light a heater. It is neither hard nor expensive. While an ensilage cutter, a row binder or even an ensilage harvester which takes the place of both, is a great advantage, ensilage can be made without either. Cut it with a butcher knife on a broom handle, a machete, a sled cutter, if a better implement is not available. Cut it while succulent and the foliage is green if possible; add water according to the degree of dryness; you can even make ensilage from cured fodder by using enough water, but that isn't the way it ought to be done. It is much easier to feed out if the ensilage is cut into short shreds and it also packs better in the silo. But good ensilage is made by laying the stalks shingle-fashion, closely packing them, and wetting them down to facilitate fermentation. The only real indispensables are to exclude the air and provide moisture enough to insure the fermentation which preserves the material. Keep these two points in mind and anyone can make good ensilage of corn, sweet rograin sorghums, or other highly carbonaceous forage. Ensilage made of whole stalks, singly or in bundles, must be cut as fed, and a simple implement to do this will cost a dollar or less. A heavy bar for a handle with a transverse blade of tempered steel (which can be kept sharp) will do the job of cutting.

FRESHMAN PARTY

The Freshman Class gathered Friday, October 28, for their class party at the High School Auditorium. The sponsors, Miss Opal Cross and Mrs. R. D. Wheelock were present. The party began promptly at 7:30. Everyone attending was on time and the party got underway without delay. The following enjoyed Hallowe'en games: Marvin Allen, Patricia Bomar, Carl Dean Bomar, Vance Burson, Junior Brannon, Harley Chappell, Valtion Chappell, Evelyn Coffee, Fay Gene Davis, Raynell Ezzell, Allena Francis, Irvin Francis, Edgar Mills, Jimmy Neatherlin, J. BEATING THE FROST KING

By T. C. Richardson, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association

Late feed crops which need more time to mature their seed are in danger of frost at almost any time now. It is not necessary to lose a large part of their feed value either by premature cutting or from frost, if the crop is made into ensilage. If frost strikes unexpectedly and singes the foliage, cut the crop as quickly as possible and ensile it later. Often the daily weather report will forewarn of killing frost, and give time to cut the crop before it strikes. In either case the bundles can lie as they fall until cutting is completed, with slight damage to its feeding value. Two years ago the writer saw many fields or grain sorghums hit by premature frost in the lower Panhandle. Growers started the row binders immediately and the frost damage did not extend beyond the foliage. Those who had not already prepared for it, began digging trench silos, leaving the crop in the field until the silo was ready. Since it only takes a day or two to construct a trench of considerable capacity, the crop dried out very little in the meantime.

It is preferable to permit the seed to mature, since the feeding value of the ensilage is greater than if it is cut in the "dough" stage, which was formerly recommended. On the other hand, the silo will preserve its full value in whatever stage it has to be ensiled, and immature silage is far better than no silage at all. The past summer saw many fields burned up by drouth and useless for feed which would have been well worth saving had the crop been cut and ensiled before it was entirely ruined.

It is strange but true that some people question the practicability of the trench silo. The point is well illustrated by the reply recently given the writer about sheep on the farms in East Texas. "Well" answered the man asked, "those who have no farm flocks are still saying sheep do no good in East Texas and those who have them want more." So with the silo—I've never found a man who gave it a fair trial who didn't like it.

Miss Fern Murphy burned her hand Wednesday afternoon when she attempted to light a heater. It is neither hard nor expensive. While an ensilage cutter, a row binder or even an ensilage harvester which takes the place of both, is a great advantage, ensilage can be made without either. Cut it with a butcher knife on a broom handle, a machete, a sled cutter, if a better implement is not available. Cut it while succulent and the foliage is green if possible; add water according to the degree of dryness; you can even make ensilage from cured fodder by using enough water, but that isn't the way it ought to be done. It is much easier to feed out if the ensilage is cut into short shreds and it also packs better in the silo. But good ensilage is made by laying the stalks shingle-fashion, closely packing them, and wetting them down to facilitate fermentation.
