Notice To All Cotton Farmers

December 9 has been set as the date for the cotton farmers to vote on cotton marketing quotas. The marketing quota law is the instrument by which the farmers may control the production of cotton in line with the demand. The Briscoe County Committee has planned a series of meetings to be held over the county, between now and December 9. The following is the schedule of meeting places and the time.

- Antelope Flat Dec. 4 7:30 p. m.
- Rock Creek Dec. 5 7:30 p. m.
- Gasoline Dec. 6 7:30 p. m.
- Quitaque Dec. 7 7:30 p. m.
- Silvertown Dec. 8 2:00 p. m.

Each cotton farmer is urged to attend these meetings in order that he may become acquainted with the cotton situation and acquaint himself with the meaning of the "marketing quota law." The Briscoe County Committee is very anxious that each and every cotton farmer be informed on this subject in order that he will be able to vote the way he thinks best for his interests.

Preliminary instructions have been received upon the 1940 Soil Conservation Program, and all farmers desiring to ask questions relative to the 1940 program will be permitted to do so at these meetings being held and we will endeavor to answer the same.

DAVIS - SMITHEE

A wedding which came as somewhat of a surprise to friends, occurred Saturday night, November 11, when Miss Wilma Joyce Smithee, and Mr. Edwin Davis, both of Silvertown, were united in marriage by Earl Cantwell, of the Rock Creek Community.

Mrs. Davis is the attractive daughter of Mr. Scott Smithee of Silvertown, and is a vivacious member of Silvertown's younger set. She graduated from Silvertown High in the Class of 1939.

Mr. Davis, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Davis of the Lakeview Community. He has operated a welding shop here for over a year and has a large group of customers and friends.

Congratulations are in order for this young couple . . . may they have a long, happy and prosperous life together.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis are at home to their many friends at their home in East Silvertown.

led 11 yards from the payoff stripe.

Third Quarter

Quitaque received the kickoff and on the third play, Hank Brown, who was in on nearly every play, intercepted a Quitaque pass and raced 30 yards for the Owls' second touchdown. Perry kicked the extra point and the Owls led 14-0. The Panthers received again and on the first play something went wrong in the Quitaque backfield, and no one received the pass from center. Grady Martin, who was on the ball like a hawk, recovered it for the Owls on the Quitaque 10 yard line. Two tries at the line lost a yard and an incomplete pass left it 4th down and goal to go. Hank took the pass back from center and whipped a short pass to Bruce, who crossed the goal line untouched for the score. Perry, the boy with the educated toe, booted the ball squarely between the uprights for the extra point. Score: Silvertown 21; Quitaque 0. A bare four minutes had passed and the Owls had scored 14 points. The rest of the quarter was uneventful with neither team having an apparent edge.

Fourth Quarter

Quitaque tried two passes. The first was knocked down by Hank, and the second was intercepted by Bruce. The Owls failed to gain and were forced to punt but regained possession of the ball when Gene Arnold recovered a Quitaque fumble. The Owls punted again and Quitaque lost the ball on downs. Silvertown made a first down but lost the ball on a fumble. The ball came back into the Owls possession on the next down when Hank intercepted a pass, his third interception of the game. Hank hit the line for 2 yards as the game ended. Score: Silvertown 21, Quitaque 0.

Mrs. Ada Cox visited Mrs. M. M. Edwards last Tuesday evening.

WILSON FAMILY MOVING TO FREDONIA, KANSAS

The Barney Wilson family, who have lived here for the past year and a half, are moving the last of the week to Fredonia, Kansas, where Mr. Wilson will have charge of a large poultry dressing business.

Mr. Wilson has been manager of the Swisher Creamery here and has operated a milk route to Tullia in connection with his poultry and egg business. The cream buying station will be operated here by P. B. Force and Eddie Cox, and the milk route has been turned over to a new man.

The Wilson family has been popular here with everyone, and it is with regret that we see them leave.

OUR FRIEND

Norman Lockyer has a story of an old abbe who he met while on a scientific mission in the Rocky Mountains. The abbe explained that some months ago he had been ill and had dreamed he had died and gone to Heaven. There the angels, crowding around, had asked him of the earth from which he had come. Had he seen this, and had he been there, and resident of this world as he had been, he had to confess that he had not seen the glories of his own world. Some day you and I will stand in the eternities, and the wonder and glory and mystery of Christ's redeeming love will be the everlasting theme. It will be the song in every heart. And we will be pressed to tell what we know of Him who in lowliness and love became the Heavenly visitant to our earthly home. Will we be able to say: "Yes, I knew him. He is my friend, my Savior, my Lord. To me He is the chiefest among ten thousand, the One altogether lovely." Will we be able to say that. We will continue this thought next Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church. A cordial invitation is extended to you.

CLINE BUYS BAKERY

The Silvertown Bakery went under new management last Friday, when Jim Cline purchased the business from Ned Painter, who has operated the bakery for several months.

Jim will be assisted in the bakery by Jack Martin, as baker, and in an ad this week they announce that the place is being put in A-1 shape. They will handle a full line of bakery products. Jim has lived here most of his life, and has been connected with the Cline Grain Company for several years. Jim says that the place is open for your inspection at any time, and he invites you in to see the sanitary conditions under which the baking is done.

Mr. and Mrs. Painter have returned to Happy, where he intends to open a bowling alley in the near future.

NEWS BITS

From Neighboring Newspapers

No New Jail

Lamb county voters turned down a proposal to build a new jail at Olton. The election, which was held last week, went "against" almost three to one, according to the Olton Enterprise.

Road Agreement

According to the State Line Tribune, agreements have been reached with most landowners in Parmer county, concerning the right-of-way for Highway 86, and that this week will undoubtedly wind up the legal end of things. They have until November 9 to obtain the right of way.

Building Legion Hut

The American Legion Post at Matador is planning to build a hut and have been raising money by various activities. The Matador Tribune reports that half of the money or $1,000 has already been raised.

Love In Bloom

R. L. Moss of near Goodnight, 73, and Mrs. H. A. Coleman, 69, were married last week at Hollis, Oklahoma. The marriage was the culmination of a "kid" romance in Wise county many years ago, says the Donley County Leader.

Earth Editor Dead

Aubrey Dobbs, 38 year old editor of the Earth Sun, was found dead in the back of his shop Monday of last week, apparently of heart trouble. He established the Earth Sun about six months ago, and was rapidly making it a first class publication.

TRENCH SILOS

As federal agencies begin putting into effect plans which were drafted at the request of the President to meet emergencies caused by the drouth that covers large sections of the United States, attention is again directed to the benefits which accrue from trench silos.

In years of low yields farmers who have a plentiful supply of feed on hand are in better position to care for their livestock and maintain their regular operations.

Trench silos offer one of the most economical and practical storage places for farmers who desire to keep one or more years' supply of feed on hand.

In studying the present drouth situation which is becoming severe in many parts of the Southern Great Plains, L. H. Hauter, regional director of the Farm Security Administration, said that farmers who have feed reserves carried over from last year, in most instances will be the last to need assistance in the present emergency.

When advancing loans to farmers, the Farm Security Administration encourages the construction of trench silos where possible, or some similar economical and adequate storage facility for feed reserve.

Mr. Hauter cited a survey conducted by the FSA which shows that 50 per cent of the borrowers in Region XII have adequate feed storage space. In one county alone, 52 per cent of the borrowers have trench silos. The number of trench silos on farms, as a whole, is increasing rapidly each year.

Claude C. Carpenter is Supervisor for Farm Security Administration in Briscoe County and has office in the County Court House.

BAPTIST WMU MEETS

The First Baptist WMU met Monday in Royal Service. The following program was given: "What Southern Baptists are Doing in Europe and Africa to Carry Out the Great Commission". The Power of the Gospel, Mrs. Herman Ely; The Great Commission and Two Continents, Mrs. Grady Wimberly; Southern Baptists in Europe, Mrs. Perry; Winning Through a School, Mrs. Ely; Come Over and Help Us, Mrs. Seymour Brannon.

Those present were Mesdames Clyde Hutsell, Herman Ely, Richard Hill, Hugh Stodghill, Hardin, Seymour Brannon, Jesse Brannon, F. M. Autry, H. C. Mercer, Shelby Haynes, Douglas Arnold, Lee D. Bomar, Grady Wimberly, V. R. Bomar, Lou Carr, Marvin Thompson, Mattie Perry and W. A. London.

HIGHWAY 86 MEMBERS MEET AT TULLIA

In an effort to get immediate action on Highway 86, over twenty interested men met at Tullia Tuesday for the regular monthly meeting of Highway 86 Association.

No new road work was reported by any of the counties, with the exception of Parmer County. Bids will be let on December 19, for the building of a much needed underpass at Bovina.

Resolutions were passed asking for a WPA project to be set up to complete the road west from Silvertown to the county line, and on to the pavement east of Tullia. The resolution also asked for the completion of the gap between the west Swisher county line and Dimmit in Castro county.

Representatives from Briscoe, Swisher, Castro, and Parmer, were present at the meeting, and all were obviously worried over the local employment situations, as well as the actual highway construction. Several hundred men could be put to work this winter, if it were possible to get action from the Highway Department.

The next meeting will be held at Silvertown. At this meeting an attempt will be made to change the meeting date to the first Monday of the month in order that men may be sent to interview the highway commissioners, who meet about the middle of the month.

LIBRARY NOTES

One Act Plays and Dramas
"Prologue To Glory"
1938
By E. P. Coukle

A play in eight scenes based on the New Salem years of Abraham Lincoln. This play makes no attempt to be true in all its historical details; it attempts, rather, to be true to the spirit of the times and the leading character.

"Dear Octopus"
By Dobbie Smith

A comedy in three acts. Four generations gather in the old home to celebrate a Golden Wedding Anniversary—a rare thing in these days of later marriage and earlier divorce. But "the family" does possess heroic qualities. How else has it survived—it is that dear octopus from whose tentacles we never quite escape, nor in our most hearts, ever wish to.

"Wuthering Heights"
By Randolph Carter

This drama in three acts is based on Emily Bronte's great nineteenth century novel. It has as its romantic setting two neighboring estates of the English moorlands, and as its story, a strange passion between a man and a woman, which tragically involves four other people.

Disaster struck at the Gid Mayfield home ten miles northwest of Silvertown, early Tuesday morning when fire completely destroyed the residence. The Mayfield home was one of the old landmarks of the county and was built in the early days.

The fire was discovered shortly after midnight, but it quickly spread, and with no fire fighting equipment the house was quickly destroyed. It is said that the fire started from a defective flue. It was not discovered until the house was ready to fall in and the family was lucky to escape with their lives. No clothing, furniture or household belongings of any kind were saved.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR COLD STORAGE LOCKERS

About thirty-five farmers and business men have agreed to rent lockers in a cold storage locker system here. The $8,000 cooling plant will be built here in the near future by A. R. Northcutt, provided that enough customers can be lined up to warrant such an outlay of expense.

The lockers will be built according to government specifications, and have proven a big success all over the country. Each locker will have a capacity of 900 pounds of dressed meat, which will be held at a temperature low enough to insure perfect safety to the contents. Reports from other places are enthusiastic. For instance, Finley White, former county agent, made the following statement: "You wouldn't believe it unless you see it, but there is no limit to the length of time that meat can be kept. I ate a fryer that had been kept in one of the lockers for one year and two months, and believe it or not, you would have never known but that it was killed that afternoon."

The Farm Security Administration, according to Claude Carpenter, says that as a money saver for farmers who wish to live from their farm products, it can't be beat.

If you are interested in one of these lockers, drop in at the News Office and learn the details. The thing in a nut shell is this . . . we will have a locker system ready to go by spring, provided enough folks agree to use it. So far we have just one third enough signed.

Rotten Apples

WERE you ever a youngster back East, where they bought apples by the barrel and stored them in the cellar over against the long winter evenings?

When winter came, did you spend most of your Saturdays sorting over the barrels of apples, picking out the rotten ones so they would not make the whole barrel that way?

And didn't you and the family eat nothing but rotten apples the next week?

Isn't life like that? And didn't you live in the kitchen, because the parlor should not be mused up? And isn't it the truth that you lived in the kitchen all your life?

And didn't you always wear your old clothes, because you had to keep the good ones to go to meeting on Sunday? And as a result, weren't you run down at the heel and patched on the seat most of the time?

And did you ever get over it? Haven't you gone through life with an inferiority complex, holding musty ideas and most of the time the same old worn-out notions until they were ready for the grab-bag? Do you still wait for somebody else to step ahead and do the pioneering?

You do—if you're still eating rotten apples.—W. L. Y. Davis, in Los Angeles Tribune.

Gems of Thought

NOR deem the irrevocable past as wholly wasted, wholly vain, if rising on its wrecks, at last to something nobler we attain.—Longfellow.

Happiness never lays its finger on its pulse. If we attempt to steal a glimpse of its features, it disappears.—Alexander Smith.

Better it were, that all the miseries which nature owns were ours at once, than guilt.—Shakespeare.

Be at war with your vices, at peace with your neighbors, and let every year find you a better man.—Franklin.

Courage does not consist in the absence of fear, but the subjugation of fear.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

More Neutrality Precautions Expected in January Session; Britain Calls U. S. Its 'Arsenal'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

AMERICAN BOMBERS LOADED FOR BRITAIN Millions of dollars overnight, but what next?

DOMESTIC: 'Arsenal'

"I am very glad that the bill has restored the historic position of neutrality of the United States."

Thus spoke Franklin Roosevelt before he signed, with two five-cent coins, the neutrality legislation congress had just passed before adjourning until January. One pen went to Administration Spokesman Key Pittman of the senate; the other went to New York's Rep. Sol Bloom, house neutrality whip, who lost money on the deal.

The neutrality law: (1) permits "cash-and-carry" sale of arms to all nations at war; (2) forbids arming of American merchantmen, which must also steer clear of the North sea combat area; (3) bars Americans from traveling in combat zones, on belligerent ships.

For a simple piece of legislation, it brought more repercussions than any U. S. action since the senate voted for war in 1917. Isolationists went home grumbling, satisfied it would get America involved. Flashed overseas, the news brought cheers in London and Paris.

Britain's Minister of Supply Leslie Burgin said: "The United States will be an arsenal of unlimited resources at the disposal of the allies." The British treasury and admiralty worked out legislation for a billion-dollar war loan to buy U. S. arms. Paris saw a chance to overcome the slump in French production.

Zoom!

Aircraft and heavy industrial set new peaks on the security market. Trucks rumbled onto New York's piers, where sheds bulged with exports awaiting British boats to carry them away.

Keeping their fingers crossed were veteran economists who saw nothing healthy in a war boom. The federal reserve board reported industry rolling at the fastest pace since 1929, while the bureau of agricultural economics predicted an increase in industrial and business activity.

Overseas

An orphan in the storm was the U. S. S. City of Flint, released by Norway to her American crew after a German prize crew had docked her at Haugesund. Neutrality left her stranded, with no business being abroad.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Dean of The Moody Bible Institute Chicago (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for November 19

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

WARNINGS AND PROMISES

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 7:1-14. GOLDEN TEXT—And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.—Luke 6:31.

"How to Win Friends and Influence People" may be worthwhile to study, unless it is done from a purely selfish desire to be popular so that one may make more money and get on in the world.

I. Avoid Judgment (vv. 1-5). By not judging others censoriously we escape such judgment of ourselves both by God and by our fellow man.

II. Be Reverent (v. 6). While we are not to judge others, we are not to go to the opposite extreme of being so lenient in our attitude that we permit ungodly men to profane and trample down sacred things.

III. Pray in Faith (vv. 7-11). Here is a straightforward promise from the lips of our Lord Himself, assuring us that prayer will be answered.

IV. Walk in the Narrow Way (vv. 13, 14). The road to heaven is a narrow way because it is built to carry us through the quicksands of this world to a glorious consummation.

Italy. In Rome there were rumors Russia would encourage Germany to force Rumania into a protectorate position, thus prolonging the war for Moscow's sake.

Plots in Prague, Slovaks in Bratislava rioted for no particular reason. The Vatican learned one answer to Pope Pius' encyclical the week before (in which dictatorships were denounced) was renewed persecution of Catholics by Hitler youths.

It was also rumored 17,000 Poles had been executed by German police, though there was no verification of the report.

The road to destruction is broad. The entrance is easy; there is much company, but one soon finds that the company is distasteful—just fellow sinners. Jesus is not going that way.

Full of Grace I will neither be content with what measure of grace I have, nor impatient of God's delay; but every day I will endeavor to have one drop added to the rest; so my last day shall fill up my vessel to the brim.—Joseph Hall

Floyd Gibbons' ADVENTURERS' CLUB

HEADLINES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

"Death Trap at El Chivo"

HELLO EVERYBODY: "You asked for a real life adventure," says Morris E. Lowder of Chicago, "so here goes."

That's the way I like to hear you boys and girls talk. I ask for it, and you dish it up. And just between you and me, the boys and girls in Chicago and its neighboring towns—and for that matter, all over northern Illinois—are dishing them up faster than any bunch of folks I've struck yet.

The Adventurers' club has installed chapters in a number of cities. I've been swamped with mail in every dog-gone one of them. But never have I been swamped the way Chicago has swamped me. I'm mighty grateful to you for your hearty response.

I've had a flock of good yarns from you, but it's going to take a little time. And speaking of being swamped—well—Morrie Lowder knows something about that, too. As if we didn't have enough floods right here in this country—what with floods of letters and flooding rivers—Morrie had to go to Cuba and get himself into a first-class flood down there.

Trains Filled With Inauguration Throngs. It was the day after the inauguration of Gerardo Machado as president and the trains were filled to overflowing with people who had come to view the proceedings.

It had been raining for three days before his inauguration, and it was still raining. The streets were full of water when Morrie left Havana—but he was to see a lot more water before his journey was over.

By the time they reached the town of Colon in Matanzas province, the water in the streets was a foot deep. Beds and chairs were floating about and people were making for the upper floors of the few tall buildings in town. Morrie thought the train would stop there and make no attempt to go on until the water had gone down, but to his surprise it moved toward Macagua.

The passengers were helpless on a bridge that might be washed away at any minute.

Morrie knew that the country up ahead was low and flat. What was more, they had to cross a river called El Chivo—a stream that became a howling torrent when it was swollen by the rains.

The train pulled along, part of the time through water that came to the hubs of its wheels. At last it came to the trestle spanning the El Chivo.

It was about seven o'clock, and pitch dark, when they started across that viaduct.

"Sharp flashes of lightning," says Morrie, "were the only things we could see by. The two engines up ahead were puffing and roaring, and we could feel the trestle shiver under the weight of the train and the pressure of some 12 feet of water that went tearing under it, carrying trees and animals to destruction. All of a sudden the train came to a stop with a terrible jolt."

Morrie Offers Help to Injured. As a medical man, Morrie stepped forward and offered to help if any one was injured. Several of them—Morrie among them—went forward to the express to see what had happened.

"We uncoupled the pin of the baggage car," says Morrie, "and with a rush such as I never want to hear again, it was swept away. We began sending up flares in the hope of bringing aid, but they were answered by only a few poor guajiros, themselves marooned on the thatched roofs of their homes. The conductor in charge mustered about 10 of us for any duty, and to be truthful about it, we all thought that this would be the last duty any of us would perform."

Passenger Cars Thought to Be Sinking. Morrie had a small medical kit, and the doctors aboard made good use of his supplies. Suddenly came the news that the first of the passenger cars was sinking into the river. The men uncoupled that car, berding its passengers into others that were already overcrowded.

"We had some thirty prostrated people on our hands," Morrie says, "and while we were working over them we could feel the cars jerk and sway as slowly they settled toward the water. Gee, but you feel helpless in a spot like that. No one could help these people. Most of them were praying, and till my dying day I'll never forget the looks on their faces."

But already help was on the way. One telegraph line was still up, and, when the train didn't come through, Macagua wired Colon to send an engine. A switching engine came down from Colon and found that, contrary to Morrie's belief, there were no breaks in the western end of the trestle. The crew loaded all the passengers into six cars, and Morrie says they put them in three deep in the aisles.

"We went back the next morning," says Morrie, "just to see what had happened to the engineer and the fireman we had left behind. The engines were sunk in the river until only the roofs showed, but there were the engineers and firemen waving to us from the tops of the cabs."

Lightweight Helium Has Little Commercial Value

Practical commercial utility of the "lightweight" helium discovered in the air by University of California scientists remains extremely doubtful, the scientists have reported.

Dr. Luis W. Alvarez, assistant professor of physics, who, with Robert Cornog, graduate student from Denver, detected submicroscopic quantities of the lightweight helium in ordinary air, reported the discovery is considered impractical to the science of physics, but its possible use in commercial form, such as in lighter than air craft, is very much in doubt.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

New Hot-Water Bottle.—Add teaspoonful of glycerine to the water when filling a new rubber hot-water bottle for the first time. This keeps the rubber soft and in good condition.

When Glass Breaks.—A handful of moistened absorbent cotton will pick up bits of broken glass without endangering the fingers.

Removing Odors.—Odors can be removed from bottles by rinsing with cold water to which a little dry mustard is added.

Care of Electric Cord.—Do not twist, bend or tie the so-called cord attached to your electric iron. It is not a cord, but two bundles of wires.

INDIGESTION

Sensational Relief from Indigestion and One Dose Proves It. If the first dose of this pleasant-tasting black tablet doesn't bring you relief, send back to us and get DOUBLE MONEY BACK. The Bell's tablet helps the stomach, does not burn, and does not irritate the bowels.

Lost Wanderer. If any man fancies that there is some easier way of gaining a dollar than by squarely earning it, he has lost the clue to his way through this mortal labyrinth, and must henceforth wander as chance may dictate.—Horace Greeley.

GIVE THAT COLD THE AIR

QUICK WITH THIS FIRST-THOUGHT FIRST-AID FOR HEAD COLDS, NASAL MISERIES, PENETRO NOSE DROPS—2 DROPS—THEY SOOTHE AS THEY TOUCH, THEY COOL AS THEY VAPORIZE, THEY SHRINK AS THEY ACT—AND FRESH-AIR BREATHING IS FREER AGAIN.

Creation of Idleness. It is idleness that creates its possibilities; and where men care not to do a thing, they shelter themselves under a persuasion that it cannot be done.—South.

Isn't This Why You Are Constipated?

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? White bread, meat, potatoes? It's little wonder you're constipated. You probably don't eat enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It's a kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a movement. If this is your trouble, may we suggest a crunchy toasted cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—for breakfast.

All-Bran is a natural food, not a medicine—but it's particularly rich in "bulk." Being so, it can help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. You won't have to endure constipation, you can avoid it. Eat All-Bran daily, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

A Loose Tongue

Never yet did any man repent of having spoken too little, whereas many have been sorry that they have spoken too much.—Arabian Nights.

FOR BOILS

A wonderful aid for boils where a drawing agent is indicated. Soothing and comforting. Fine for children and grown-ups. Practical, Economical.

REWARD FOR EFFORTS

It never will rain roses; when we want to have more roses we must plant more trees.—George Eliot.

CONSTIPATION? GARFIELD TEA

Go easy on yourself gently, mildly, non-painful "let-downs" out of the way with a cup of two of Garfield Tea. The fragrant taste in 10 herbs make a pleasant tea that loosens clinging wastes, helps relieve constipation the mild way. 25c-10c net of druggists.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

Read the advertisements. They are more than a selling aid for business. They form an educational system which is making Americans the best-educated buyers in the world. The advertisements are part of an economic system which is giving Americans more for their money every day.

PERSONALITY PARADE

The Freshman Class heads the personality parade for this week by presenting one of the outstanding girls of their class, Margaret Thomas.

She is fourteen year old, blond, and is about five feet, two inches in height. Margaret is loved by all her schoolmates, because of her sweet disposition, good nature and because she takes part in all school activities, being a member of the Jolly Ecker Club. She loves all outdoor sports, and is a member of the high school pep squad.

Playing the piano is one of her many talents. She also has a secret ambition to become a doctor and we feel that this ambition will be accomplished because she conquers all tasks set before her.

All in all we will call Margaret one of the Freshman's all around "A" pupils.

F. F. A. SWEETHEART

PAULINE STEELE

Pauline Steele (Poly to her friends, junior, was selected F. F. A. Sweetheart by a vote of the student body. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Steele of Rock Creek Community.

Polly is an attractive blond with a warm smile for every one.

SPORTS BY SPURTS

Two conference games were played last Friday. The dope bucket was upset again when the Silverton Owls tipped the Quitaque Panthers from their lofty position by a score of 21-0. The Esteline Bear Cubs could not be stopped by the Turkey Turks and the game ended 26-6 with the Bear Cubs on the leading end of the score.

The Conference standing is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	C. S.
Esteline	2 1/2	1/2	333
Silverton	2	1	667
Quitaque	1 1/2	1 1/2	500
Turkey	1	2	333
Flomot	0	2	000

The Senior class of the Silverton High School will present, with special permission of the Samuel French Company, "Sun Bonnet Jane of Sycamore Lane", a comedy drama in three acts.

This is a good fast moving comedy with plenty of laughs and fun for both young and old. The scene takes place in the "Ole State of Indianny." The toby one is unusually good, this part is played by Robert Brooks. The part of the young prank player, Sunbonnet Jane, is played by Marie Nance. Aunt Miranda, who is always mortified, is played by Doris June Brown. Grace, her sister, is played by Blanche Thompson.

The hero of the play, Douglas Smith, who walked all the way from Noo Yawk on an empty stomach, is played by Pascal Garrison. Other members of the cast have equally good roles. There will be entertainment between acts.

Everyone come and laugh with us Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the High School Auditorium. Admission charges will be 10c and 25c.

SPORTSMANSHIP AND FOOTBALL

The youths who play football learn to smile when they lose as well as when they win. He also learns to give and take with a smile. Cooperation with the fellowman is widely stressed on the gridiron.

The teams who lost and won Friday characterized the true American sport. They gave and took with smiles, and as they walked to the showers they congratulated each other with smiles although it hurt a great deal.

We want to congratulate the Quitaque ball club on their sportsmanship on the Silverton gridiron Friday. We feel assured that the incident which occurred out there will not be held against the Quitaque team or their coach.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

Are you in the Pep Squad? All right, if you are, why don't you come to every meeting and show us that you are?

A Pep Squad is one of the most essential things in a school, not something to be in until you march out on the field and get in the gate free.

The most active members in the Pep Squad are getting very tired listening to excuses made by the other members that it is too cold to stand out on the field and root for our boys. The thing for them to do is wear enough clothes so that they won't get cold. Another member says that she just can't miss her favorite radio program, and off she goes to a car to listen to a radio.

If you are this kind of a member, we absolutely do not want you in the Pep Squad.

F. F. A. NEWS

The Silverton FFA Chapter sponsored a booth in connection with the Homemaking Department at the football game—pie, coffee, and candy were sold. We wish to thank everyone who helped us by buying the refreshments. This helped the chapter clear up their indebtedness and put the chapter on the correct side of the ledger.

The local boys have captured an owl and are having it mounted. The boys require an owl for each meeting and this owl will be used in connection with the football boys' meetings as the owl is their emblem.

Mr. Harmon attended a director's meeting at Panhandle Monday evening, which was held for agricultural instructors of District 1. This chapter was the first in District 1 to hold their Mother and Son Banquet this year. Mr. O. L. Ryan, Area Supervisor, complimented us highly on this when he attended the banquet.

LAKEVIEW EAGLES TO BE NEXT OPPONENTS

On Thursday, November 23, "Roosevelt's Thanksgiving Day", the Owls will be host to the Lakeview Eagles. This will be a non-conference game.

If present plans materialize, an added attraction at this game will be the coronation of the Football Queen, who will be selected by the football boys. If you want to see your monys worth you had better see this game.

TENNIS

In review of our high school tennis we find unusual interest by the students. Many students who have never come out for any sport have finally found something that interests them. Most of the students are working during the physical education period. Tennis, like all other sports requires that sportsmanship that players get only through practice. Silverton has always had a good tennis team and is looking forward to another this year. Some of those working out for tennis are: Pascal Garrison, James Davis, Merl J. Montague, Bernard Havran, Willie Amel Smithee, Rex Douglas, Marinez Cowart, Lola Fern Foust, Clynell Hutsell, Gloria Zoe Vinsen, Nina Rhea Vinsen, Patricia Bomar, Faye Jean Davis, Wyona Lee, Joe Earl Deavenport, Raymond Lee Womack, Cutie Stodghill, Dorothy McMurtry, the West twins, Winona Francis, Jean Northcutt, Freda Wimberly, and Evelyn Coffee.

PEP SQUAD ACTIVITIES

The Pep Squad gave a Pep Rally, Pie Supper and a Band Concert Thursday night, November 2 We, the Pep Squad members, wish to express our sincere thanks to those few who came. The pies brought a total sum of $8.45, which will be used to help buy uniforms for the Pep Squad.

See Sunbonnet Jane, the charming little country girl, acted by Marie Nance, Friday night.

I breathed a song into the air,
 It fell to the earth I know not where.
 The song, from beginning to end,
 I found again in the heart of a friend.

EXTRA - half the papers are off the press and I pick up the Tulsa Herald and find that the '86' meeting was at Dimmitt. Well by the way, Judge Coffee asked me to go to Tulsa with him — and now I wonder where the judge was????

I STILL SAY THE town is going to the dogs. I made a bet with a fellow yesterday that I could walk to the courthouse and count nine stray dogs. Well I lost. I only saw one on the way over, and seven on the front yard. I believe that Milton Perry has something to do with keeping those strays over there . . .

ONE OF THE worst features about having this bunch of stray dogs, is the fact that no matter how valuable a dog is to a man, if he happens to come to town, he is automatically given the term "stray". If our city managers would license the dogs that have a home and are useful, then the strays could be taken care of, without endangering these with owners.

AND JUST AS an example of this . . . this week there have been two men told me if I would buy the poison, they would do the rest. That is the last of my intentions. There is nothing more cruel than poisoning a dog. Besides being inhumane, there is no way of culling out the bad and saving the good. That idea is a plumb bad one. The only thing that will work is a systematic licensing of the dogs we want. Why not ask the mayor about it . . . maybe give him the title of "canine captivator."

MORE NIGHT WORK this week. I want to thank the Silverton Clay Products Company for a nice order of job printing. And by the way, how is YOUR supply of stationery, etc.?

THERE IS NOT much to say about the football game Friday. Silverton just had the best team, and that was the story. Every boy on the Silverton squad though was really fighting. When Hank and Rampley just plugged straight down the field for 65 yards and a touchdown, it took the starch out of the boys from the Queen City. If I was naming the star of the game though, I believe it would be Grady Martin. What I mean, on defense, he was in every play. Every Quitaque punt barely grazed his finger tips . . . and he was on the receiving end of several nice passes. With two more years of play, and not quite 16 six feet, two inches and 180 pounds . . . he will be plenty good enough for anyone's team.

PERRY BOOTED every extra point. Bruce and Jack Burleson were both "right" . . . heck, they all played good.

AND YOU'VE GOT to hand it to the Quitaque boys . . . they are scrappers. And that Curtis Latham, weight 145, is one bunch of trouble for any boy who tries to tackle him. Time after time, he looked to be down . . . and with a spin or two he was loose again. He's a nice carrier.

THE BARNEY WILSON family is leaving this week end. They are going up to Kansas, the home of Yankees and sunflowers. Seriously, I know that when Barney gets there, he is not going to live under a shadow because he came from a southern state. No one is going to introduce him as a "rebel" from Texas . . . Yet, I have lived here almost four years, and when they introduce me, three times out of four, it's "He's a Kansas yankee." . . . well so be it. I am proud of being a former Kansan, and must admit that I don't mind being called a yankee.

WELL, I WALKED the streets Wednesday trying, on behalf of the Mayor, to find out what day should be proclaimed as Thanksgiving Day here. Tom has sold his flock of turkeys and so he says he doesn't care either way. Opinions were divided about fifty-fifty. And so, I think, there will be no official proclamation from the Mayor, as to whether Thanksgiving is the 23rd or the 30th. It's just according to personal opinion here in Silverton.

REALLY, THE RIGHT Thursday is the 23rd. It so happens that this November has FIVE Thursdays. Making Thanksgiving on the last Thursday then, throws it nearly a week later than last year . . . in fact the fifth Thursday was December 1st, in 1938. Observing the 30th is OK as far as tradition goes, but to be in line with the average year it should be the 23rd.

ANYWAY, ANYONE with an extra turkey, is invited to drop it off at the editor's house, on EITHER date. The way it looks now, it's liable to be just another busy Thursday at the News Office.

JUST UNWRAPPED a neat little book, "German White Book", addressed to the Briscoe County News, and describing the last days of Poland. It is published by the German Library of Information in New York. I haven't read much of it, but so far the author, "Herr Somebody", has made it very plain that Poland was actually a strong bullying nation, persecuting the Germans, etc. etc. . . . is the first bit of German propaganda I've seen. P. S. The hero of the story seems to be a fellow by the name of Adolphe Hitler, who, I believe, plays the part of the Dove of Peace.

LET US TELL YOU MORE ABOUT

FROM WHERE DID THE EXPRESSION "HOBSON'S CHOICE" COME?

TOBIAS HOBSON was an English livery stable keeper. From his famous stables he hired out horses by the day or hour. In hiring a horse you could look them all over and make your own selection but by hook or crook, Hobson would contrive to get you to take the one nearest the door. As that horse was sent out the rest were moved up and the next customer would be inveigled into taking Hobson's choice of horses while being blarneyed into thinking he had made his own. It became the joke of the town and the expression came down to us meaning a choice with but one course to choose.

Now for the Mirror And Old Piano Stool

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS THE illustration shows what became of the mirror and piano stool which the bride had left over last week. To the mirror and stool were added two wooden boxes from the grocery. These were placed on end about 18 inches apart and a shelf of 1/2-inch pine screwed to the top. A frame was then screwed to the back of the boxes as shown here. A curtain rod was placed across the top and the mirror hung lengthwise under it. An arm was then hinged to the front of each box. Paint was next. White, because white furniture is smart and because it matched the woodwork. The flowered chintz in tones of rose and blue-green with narrow frills of the plain blue-green tone matched the window curtains.

The dressing table skirt was made with a one-inch heading at the top and tacked along the ends of the table and the hinged arms with thumbtacks through a double strip of the plain material.

EAST AND WEST

BY TALBOT MUNDY

TALBOT MUNDY—WNU SERVICE

CHAPTER XXI—Continued.

At the foot of the stairs, Norwood pulled out his cardcase, produced a card and gave it to one of the palace servants:

"Send that up to Miss Lynn Harding. Say I will be waiting outside. I will meet her near the front steps."

He walked out. Under the glare of the portico light he pulled out his handkerchief, raised his right arm and waved it.

O'Leary's shrill whistle answered: long-short, long-short—"Order received and executed—okay!"

O'Leary had released the Bengali doctor.

CHAPTER XXII

Lynn looked like a ghost in white chiffon. She turned instinctively to the right and stepped into the darkness. She stood within a few paces of the spot where, one night ago, she had bridled at Norwood's blunt comments. It seemed as if a whole lifetime had passed in the interval. The guitar and the songs on the wall were a far-off memory.

Norwood strode out of the darkness. "Silence!" he said. "Not a word. Nothing so easy on the nerves as saying nothing."

They continued walking until they came to a moonlit lotus pond and stood together staring at the reflections of trees. A little animal jumped into the water and swam. They watched the ripples spread until they reached the marble banks. At last Norwood spoke:

"Feeling better?"

"I can't analyze it. I suppose I'm feeling guilty."

"Want some more silence?"

"No. I would rather you'd say what you think."

Norwood chuckled. "You remember the parrot. I draw extra pay for thinking and not talking. I have only one virtue."

"You say only one virtue? What is it?"

"I never use double meanings."

"Are you telling the truth?"

"Yes."

"God. Then please say what you think of me, straight, without any double meanings or reservations. Let's get that over with."

"Very well, Lynn. But are you quite sure you won't be belligerent about it? I didn't bring you out here to start a fight."

It wasn't the first time he had called her Lynn, but she noticed it. When Rundhia first called her Lynn she actually hadn't noticed it.

"I never am belligerent," she answered.

"No? What a pity. Of course, I don't expect to be shot but I don't even want to make you really angry. You're a bit angry now, aren't you?"

"Yes, but with myself. I'm not angry with you. Go ahead, punish me. I'll take it. Say what you think."

"Do you promise you won't hit back, or make a scene, or accuse me of hidden motives?"

"Captain Norwood, kindly go ahead and tell me. I've treated you very badly and you're entitled to revenge. I will listen. And I won't answer back."

"Don't promise."

"Say what you think," she insisted.

"I think the same now that I did when I first saw you."

"What is it?"

"Perhaps I'm not being quite accurate. It wasn't until that astonishing picnic at the palace that I made up my mind to marry you. I fell in love with you at first sight, without guessing who you were, when I saw you with the Maharanee in the carriage. When I saw you on horseback in the early morning, it was all over as far as I'm concerned—nothing further to argue about. I've committed myself to the hit. How about you?"

"I—I never dreamt of it!"

"I know you didn't. And you're not dreaming now. We're both of us stone-cold sober and wide awake."

"Do you always make love like this?"

"I don't even know the first rules of the game. I'm a chronic bachelor, suddenly converted."

"But Captain Norwood—"

"The only girl I ever fell in love with calls me Carl or else calls the police."

"But—"

"Lynn laughed. "Are there any police?"

"Try. Shout for them. An Indian night is as full of eyes as the sky is of stars."

"But I wouldn't know what to say to the police. I'd better call you Carl."

"And now to use one of your phrases, let's get this over with: I'm a pauper. I've four hundred pounds a year and an Engineer Captain's pay."

"Carl, I hope you don't think I'm wealthy. I haven't a cent in the world. I've been disinherited."

"You have? Is that an actual fact?"

"Yes. Auntie hasn't even left me a reputation."

That's marvelous! Oh, my God, what luxury! I was scared stiff."

"You? Scared?"

"Yes. Scared of you. Afraid you'd think I was after your money."

"Carl, I haven't a cent."

"All right. More preliminaries. Mostly I live in a tent. My servants are scandalous rogues, who know nearly as much as I do about crime and treachery and worse."

Lynn laughed. "I never lived in a tent, and I've been kept away from sinners. I'm a very ignorant person. You'd better think again, hadn't you?"

"No. I've finished thinking about that. But how about you? It's your last chance. Lynn, you're on the edge of the abyss of matrimony. Any questions?"

"Millions of questions! Billions! I don't even know you. I'll ask them afterwards."

"Good. That's the style. There'll be lots of time afterwards. Well, you've refused to call the police, and you've promised not to talk back or make a scene. So I'll be damned if I'll wait any longer. Lynn, I love you."

The Indian night and the Indian stars; the perfumed silence and the moonlit lotus pool all merged into

ty. Lynn, unchastened Jezebel, come to think of it, I left your past history seated on a trunk on the path outside the guesthouse. What with the mosquitoes and her temper she'll be cooking up a future unless we go to her rescue."

"Carl, I'm shameless. I really am. I'd forgotten her."

"Did you ever have toothache? One forgets that, too, afterwards."

"But this isn't afterwards. You don't know Auntie. Carl, I'll go to her. You mustn't come. Please, really, you mustn't. She will say things that I don't want you to hear. They're not true but she'll say them."

"Are you sure?"

"You mean, am I sure they're not true?"

"I mean, are you sure she'll say them?"

"Yes. She always does when she's angry."

"Let's find out."

"Carl, I'm—"

"You're embarrassed. So'm I. It's good for both of us, so let's do it together."

They took their time, strolling along shadowy moonlit paths toward the guesthouse, too interested in each other to notice voices until they were quite close up beneath the darkness of the overhanging trees.

The trunks no longer stood in a row on the garden path. There was a light in the servants' pantry at the rear, and a smell of cooking. Light poured through the living-room window.

"Hush," said Norwood. "Listen. Rule number one is don't talk in the dark. Rule number two is listen and learn, but never tell tales."

The Maharanee's voice came quite distinctly through the open window: "If I, who am broken-hearted, can forgive my nephew Rundhia—"

An unmistakable voice interrupted: "You're being silly. Don't be sentimental. You probably ruined Rundhia by being sentimental. At your age you ought to know better. You should have spanked him when he was young, and kept him short of pocket money when he was older. I neglected to spank Lynn. That's the trouble and I'm ashamed of myself. Are you sure you know where she is? Are you quite sure? Who told you she is near the lotus pond with Captain Norwood?"

"Six servants," said the Maharanee, "and one gardener. Also the Chief of Police very kindly took the trouble to phone me about it."

"Imagine the impudence of that girl!"

"But I haven't noticed that she is impudent."

"If she was in love with Captain Norwood she should have told me."

"Do you think she knew it?"

asked the Maharanee. "I knew it, late this evening. But do you think that Lynn knew it?"

Auntie Harding cackled a chair-woman's ladylike laugh on two notes, politely derisive:

"Knew it? Maharanee, what this younger generation knows is more than you and I ever will know. They're incorrigible. That girl has more whalebone in her will than there are cents in a dollar. It isn't brittle. You can't break it. It's resilient."

"Yes," said the Maharanee, "this generation has its own ideas. It goes its own way. Lynn will go far."

[THE END]

Lynn looked like a ghost in white chiffon.

a consciousness of love—one moment of eternity that swept away the past—one moment of unselfconscious mystery in which the lover and the loved were one and all life was their realm, all values were in true perspective. Love was real. Everything else was illusion and unreal. Until gradually, even in Carl Norwood's arms, Lynn's awareness of earth resumed its spell and she looked away at their reflections in the moonlit lotus pond.

"Look, Carl. See us! Look."

"Shadows." Then he spoke strangely: "Shadows of reflections that reflect what? You and I are shadows. We move in response to something else. What is it?"

"Carl are you real? Is that you talking?"

"I suspect it's the real me talking to the real you. Lynn, I'm steeped in eastern thought. Life's good. We're growing—getting wiser gradually. That's why I spared Rundhia. He'd have been hanged if I hadn't done what I did. Now he'll get some money from the Maharanee and live in Europe."

"But Carl—"

"Perhaps I shouldn't say it."

"All right, I'll say it for you. He'll go to Europe and do it again. And blots of women won't have sense enough to stand him off until he's ruined them and sneered and gone."

"Yes, I was thinking of that. It was a mean thought."

"No, it wasn't."

"The way I thought it, it was mean. Carl, I believe you because I can't disbelieve you, not for any other reason. It seems impossible. How can such a man as you are, with such thoughts as you think, possibly love me? I believe I deliberately tempted Rundhia. The Maharanee—"

Norwood chuckled. "All right, I'll say that for you, too. She said he really loved you. He'd be a fool if he didn't. The trouble is, he is a fool. So it won't last. Not that it makes any difference."

"But if I've made him wretched—"

"That's his business. Each of us pays for his own mistakes."

"But that was my mistake."

"Your end of it was yours. But you paid cash. Rundhia doesn't. He lets the bill run at compound interest. Everybody makes mistakes. Nobody's worth a damn who hasn't made 'em."

"Bad ones?"

"The worse the better. The rule is, learn and don't repeat. On that condition there's no aftermath. You pay once and that's all."

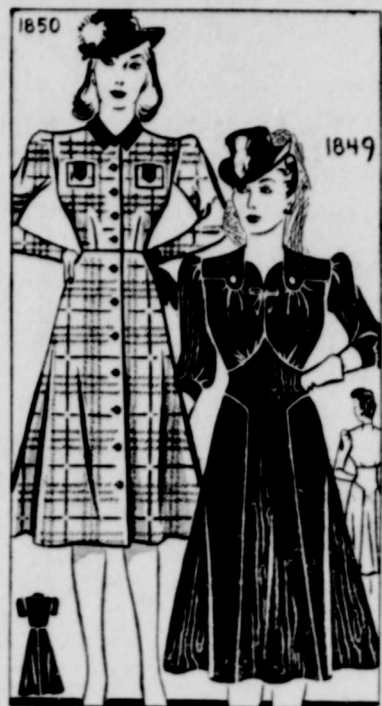

"Carl, do you mean that a person's past isn't—"

Norwood laughed: "Sigh of iniquity."

Lynn looked like a ghost in white chiffon.

IF YOU want a bright new every day dress that's tailored and practical, yet sufficiently youthful and gay so that you'll never tire of it even after constant wear, make it like No. 1850. It buttons down the front, coat style, is dart-fitted at the waistline, and trimmed with contrast. If this is your first attempt at home dress-making, it's a simple pattern that goes very quickly and easily. It's especially pretty in plaid wool, velveteen or challis.

Smart and Youthful.
For large women, No. 1849 has beautifully slenderizing lines, and is expertly designed to give the round-bosomed, slender-hipped effect that mature figures look best and most youthful in. A good

Norwood whispered: "How much did you bet? Are you still scared?"
Moses Lafayette O'Leary's whistle piped from the nearby shrubbery a few notes of a private signal: C, D, F—C, D, F—C, D, F—C. It startled Lynn.

"What was that? It sounded like someone in hiding. Are we being watched?"

"Yes, the night has eyes in India. They're a saying here that even diamonds see in the dark. That's a very rough diamond informing me that all's clear and he's off home. You go in. I'll follow you presently. I want to speak to him."

Norwood walked alone into the shrubbery. He almost walked into Moses O'Leary.

"I warned you," said O'Leary, "about women. By the hundred they're all right. One's a problem. But you wouldn't listen. I suppose you'll get yourself a new man now to say yes to you and tell you you're Solomon. But Solomon had him a thousand wives, and concubines on top of that. So put that in your pipe and smoke it. Am I out of a job?"

"Where's your horse?"

"Tain't a horse. I rode your baby mare. She's near the gate."

"When you get back to camp see that she's rubbed down carefully and give her a light blanket. Stand by and see it done. Do you hear me?"

"Yes, sir, Captain Norwood."

"Here's the key to the whiskey. Help yourself. You've leave of absence until noon tomorrow. Turn up sober or I'll—"

"Is the Government broke?"

"Here are ten rupees. But that's not Government money. It's personal. Don't get into trouble with it."

"Well, sir, I've seen miracles in my day. I've seen you pick winners. Maybe she's as reliable as she is good looking. Here's hoping. I'll say a prayer for you."

"Don't keep that mare standing. Good night."

"Good night, sir, and here's hoping."

Moses Lafayette O'Leary strode away into the night, until the sound of his footfall ceased on the dusty path and there was nothing more heard of him but the tune that he whistled:

Oh, officers' wives get puddings and pies
And soup and roasts and jellies,
But poor Tommie's wives get sweet—

Strange Facts
Jobs vs. Positions
New 'Antiques'
Taps for Evil Spirits

The captain of one New Yorker's private yacht draws a larger salary than the master of the Queen Mary, the colored manager of a Harlem dance hall is paid more than the governor of Pennsylvania, and a Midwesterner received more money as the president of a local musicians' union in 1938 than Mr. Roosevelt received as President of the United States.

For a number of years, at least three-quarters of all "antiques" imported into this country have been fakes.

Because it handles only large accounts, the First National bank of New York city has fewer depositors than stockholders.

The three volleys fired into the air at military funerals were originally intended to frighten away evil spirits and, therefore, prevent them from entering the mourners' hearts, which stood ajar at the burial of a comrade.—Collier's.
