

SHE LOVED A SPY

by SYLVIA TAYLOR W.H.U. Release

THE STORY SO FAR: In love with Karl Miller, her handsome night club employer, Joan Leland, secretary, refuses to listen to her older sister, Sybil, with whom she shares an apartment, who tells her they cannot be married for months and sends her on mysterious trips with letters. He shoots his business partner, Eric Strom, in Joan's presence, then tricks her into putting her fingerprints on the gun. He then threatens her with a murder charge, unless she remains silent and continues to work for him. He also admits he is a German citizen, part of a spy ring and that he has a wife in Germany. Paul Sherman reveals to Joan he is an FBI agent, working under-cover to trap the higher-ups in a spy ring and asks her help. She agrees and when Sybil is found missing they suspect she is being held as a hostage. Later police find her clothes and a suicide note near a bridge. Karl hires a new beautiful girl singer, and Joan is disgusted with herself when she sees the new girl falling for the same game. She visits Mrs. Murdock, proprietor of the beauty shop where Sybil got a job through Karl's influence.

Now continue with the story.

CHAPTER XII

When she saw Paul, she gave a little cry, "Paul!" and the color drained from her face.

Joan looked from Paul to Joan. "By the way, what are you doing here? I thought you were in Washington."

Paul's face was serious. "I am not working for the government any longer," he said, with a warning glance at Joan. "I am Karl Miller's manager."

"Why, Paul O'Malley!"

As Joan and Paul exchanged glances, she realized that Pat must be told something about this strange situation.

Paul was speaking nervously. "Listen carefully, Pat! You know when I worked for the government, there were a lot of people who had reason to dislike me."

Pat's brown eyes, so like her brother's, widened, as she asked, "Well?"

"So I'm using another name. I am known here as Paul Sherman."

Pat shrugged. "You're a fine one to scold me," she said crossly.

"Go to bed," Paul ordered. "I want to talk to Joan."

Reluctantly Patricia obeyed, closing the bedroom door behind her. Obviously she had no idea of the havoc her appearance had caused.

Paul spoke in a low, distressed voice. "This is a fine mess."

"Can't you make her go home?"

"She wouldn't do it. We O'Malleys are like that. Besides, she'd tell Karl and the whole game would be up. My job has to come first. This business is more important—even than my own sister."

Joan put a gentle hand upon his arm. "I know how you feel," she comforted. "But since Pat is living with me, I may be able to protect her."

"We must get this business finished up quickly—before Karl has a chance to pull anything."

"Then we won't tell Pat anything?"

"No! And tomorrow I want you to make it plain that she is not to reveal my identity. She must understand that it is very necessary for me to use another name."

Joan was more convinced than ever of Karl's power by the many complications which seemed to be closing in about them.

"I'm afraid, Paul! This can't end except with more trouble."

"You're right, Joan. We've got to be very careful, but I think the whole thing's going to blow up soon. So be on your guard."

"Do you know anything?" Joan pleaded.

"Can't say yet," Paul said abruptly.

Two weeks passed. Fearful weeks of watching and waiting for Joan and Paul. Happy weeks for Pat who bloomed under the influence of her romance with Karl Miller. A romance which it seemed impossible to stop. Pat would not listen to anything against Karl. She sang his praises day and night, yet so far as Joan could discover Karl had not used her services in connection with the spy ring. And Pat had accepted their explanation about her brother's identity and promised not to reveal it, even to Karl.

Then one day in mid-January an unexpected clue came. Paul had arrived at the apartment to drive Joan to work. Pat had just risen and was eating her breakfast in the kitchen. Her brown eyes were clouded. She had scarcely spoken to Joan.

"Something is wrong with Pat," Joan confided to Paul. "Maybe you can find out what it is."

Paul went into the kitchen. "Hello, youngster, how's everything?"

"Fine," Pat said briefly.

"Look here, honey, if something is troubling you, why not tell me?"

"Because you can't help me—no one can."

Joan stood in the doorway regarding her with pity. "Maybe I could, if you would trust me."

Pat was silent for a moment, then she burst out, "It's Karl!"

"Karl? What about him?" Paul demanded.

"I'm in love with him," Pat confessed.

There were tears in Joan's eyes. She could not bear the pain in this girl's face. She knew only too well what her young heart was suffering.

"Last night," Pat continued, "I saw him with another woman."

Joan smiled with relief, but Paul inquired, "What did she look like? Where were they?"

When she saw Paul, she gave a little cry, "Paul!" and the color drained from her face.

Joan looked from Paul to Joan. "By the way, what are you doing here? I thought you were in Washington."

Paul's face was serious. "I am not working for the government any longer," he said, with a warning glance at Joan. "I am Karl Miller's manager."

Short Cruise on a U. S. Sub

Let's go for a bit of a cruise on one of Uncle Sam's submarines and see what it's like in these compact little vessels that pack such a big wallop. Watching the crew makes even the landlubber forget to be scared on his first trip to Dovey Jones' locker.

This is how the bow of a submarine looks as the craft begins to submerge. There is no sensation of plunging, merely a tilting of the deck and an effort by the landlubber to adjust his balance.

View of the depth gauge. Indicator here points to 33 feet. The man at the wheel controls the depth.

Living accommodations are not luxurious. Here is how the sleeping quarters are arranged, in three-tier bunks.

The eye of the submarine is its periscope, a gadget something like the view-finder on an ordinary camera. Here you see a gentleman of the press taking a peek through the periscope. The whole horizon may be surveyed.

Standing inside a sub with the main conning tower shaft open, this is what you see.

On the submarine every man is an expert. This is a view of the engine compartment.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To remove a fresh grease spot on a rug, cover the spot with blotting paper, then press with a hot flatiron. Cover the spot with magnesia, let it remain for 24 hours, then brush off.

Leftover mincemeat may be used up by stuffing it into apples, shells from which the pulp has been removed. Sprinkle with brown sugar, and bake until done.

Enameled bathtubs may be cleaned with a tablespoon of dry salt, moistened with spirits of turpentine—not too wet. Then wipe it over with a clean cloth.

Are you sure your chimney is properly insulated where it passes near wooden walls? Rock wool, asbestos or other insulation may prevent a fire.

That new waffle iron should be brushed off with a stiff brush, wiped with a damp cloth, dried with a soft cloth, and slipped into an oilskin bag after using.

HIGH PRICES Do Not Go WITH ADVERTISING
Advertising and high prices do not go together at all. They are extremely incompatible to each other. It is only the product which is unadvertised, which has no established market, that costs more than you can afford to pay.
Whenever you go into a store and buy an item of advertised merchandise, it doesn't make any difference what you are getting more for your money—more in quality and service—than you would get if you spent the same amount for something which was not advertised.

YOUR TRUE?
 LAST WEEK, we were on the press at this time of day. This week it seems, the blood of the deep south is coursing through my veins so sluggishly that it seems well nigh impossible that I ever lived in Kansas.

OR PERHAPS it's Spring. And I haven't written my Spring poem yet either. Here 'tis:
 Spring's
 The thing
 That makes me
 Spring
 And Sing!
 (or is it?)

IN THE MAYOR'S race this year, we find two powerful political figures, facing each other—working for the highest office that the City of Silverton can offer. Two totally different figures are Alvin Redin, challenger and Tom Bomar, present incumbent. Their backgrounds are different, their trades are different, their faces are different, and they do not even weigh the same. Redin comes into the race with a record of 14 years as mayor of Francis. In the 14 years he headed the Francis municipality, he accomplished two main things—he hired a man to run his station and he moved to town. From the casual observer it would seem that he moved for business reasons. Now, however, he claims that it was the people of Silverton, calling for a Moses to lead them out of a wilderness of corrupt politics. "I'm Moses", Redin explained in an interview today. He gives three main planks for his platform, as follows:

 1. Beer, on Saturday, if I can sell it.
 2. Phillips 66, every day, cause I do sell it.
 3. Free coffee, on the other fellow.

Bomar, having forgotten that Redin has also served as Mayor, is expected to point to his experience as Mayor here, as his main qualification. He became Mayor at the age of 23, shortly after he had graduated from the third grade, with honors. He is a thrifty soul, having managed to live within his Mayor's salary, and have enough left over, that in the 41 years he has held the office, he has managed for a farm or two, a drug store, a sheep ranch and several rent houses, as well as a well equipped undertaking business. His family consists of a charming wife and daughter. And then too, there's Hoss, who also spends a few hours each night with his father and mother. Tom points with pride at the well-paved street in front of his residence. He also points with pride to the fact that through his influence the county seat still remains at Silverton, and that the court house, built in 1922 has never been demolished, showing that he has developed law and order in the city to a high level.

The Briscoe County News, of course is taking no sides in the political issue. A glance at their records will show the voters that both are GOOD men and able. With our hands tied and our heads bowed, we, the press, will humbly accept the will of the voters.

CLEMENT McDONALD, former editor of the Quitaque Post was a News Office visitor Tuesday. He gave me a little inside dope on family affairs—that Mrs. Mc was in the hospital—and that the stork was in a power dive. Mack said, "Whether it's a boy or girl, we're going to call it Pearl Harbor—cause it was so unexpected."

OLD F. B. I. Hahn's report to the 'naughty three'—You're safe for the time being. However, I am expecting a small percentage on all hauls made from this date.

KIRK'S CAFE HAS been featuring a new drink, the "Defense Cocktail". It sells for 25c and consists of a well-stirred glass of water and a 25c defense stamp. She sold nearly $10 worth Saturday afternoon and Monday.

AND NOW, I shall close this little affair. Remember, you have a few more days that you can send the paper to a boy in service FREE. Just renew your own subscription and you can send it to any boy in service too.

Mrs. V. L. Miller of Quitaque is ill at her home this week. Mrs. H. G. Finley visited her Wednesday night.

Word was received here late last week of the death of Guy Quillen at Pittsburg, Texas. He formerly lived at Silverton. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Foster of Tulia; and a son Johnny Quillen of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Clyde Wright and Miss Margaret Thomas spent Friday in Dallas. They visited with Miss Elva Wright while in Dallas.

Gonda Ann Smith of Plemons spent the week end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Smith.

IT'S FREE FROM NOISE AND COSTLY WEAR!

REASON? NO MOVING PARTS IN THERE!

Servel Stays Silent... Lasts Longer

You'll always enjoy noise-free, money-saving refrigeration when you own a Servel Electrolux. Why? Because there isn't a single moving part in its entire freezing system. No wonder more and more families every year are changing to the Gas Refrigerator. "No Moving Parts" refrigeration is giving them permanent silence, continued low operating costs, and long, dependable service.

Crude Manners Win Only Critical Little Smiles

WHAT boorish manners! Dicker- ing for his share of the movie tickets right before the girls: "Forty-four, no, eighty-eight cents, that's for my ticket and hers. Then, let's see—"

And he's the man who wanted so much to meet a "really swell girl!" No "swell girl" will like a boy who doesn't even know that double-date accounts are settled when girls aren't present.

She knows—and you could too—the simple rules of etiquette that please. Our 32-page booklet gives behavior for men and girls at dances, movies, games, when dining, entertaining, visiting. Discusses petting problem. Send your order to:

The Men Behind Our Men Behind The Guns!

The great drama of war has rolled back its curtain extending around the world. "Our Men Behind the Guns" have successfully met the enemy at some points and are preparing to meet them anywhere. "The Men Behind Our Men Behind the Guns" are the scene shifters on this huge stage of the "Theatre of War."

Because the grim show must go on, hotel men have a patriotic duty to perform... that of keeping these myriads of men of industry comfortable while away from their homes.

Pull the Trigger on Constipation, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on discomfort after meals, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, and bad breath, your stomach is probably "craving the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given pepsin preparations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a fussy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin, as directed on the label or as your doctor advises, is the world's better. Get genuine Dr. Caldwell's.

If You Bake at Home... We have prepared, and will send absolutely free to you a yeast recipe book full of such grand recipes as Oven Scones, Cheese Puffs, Honey Pecan Buns, Coffee Cakes and Rolls. Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Dr. Doan's Pills, Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!
