Yours Truly! Goody.

ITALY HAS FALLEN—surrendered unconditionally. It really looks like they're trying to get on our side. Experts, however, claim that she has always been a detriment to Germany—so it's not get too optimistic. However, that news Tuesday was undoubtedly the most important of the war so far—for us.

I'M ALWAYS getting my big mouth to going till somebody has turned the switch off for me. Anyway, Milton Perry slid my wheels on me on the courthouse lawn business. He thinks I was taking a shot at him last week, when the time I was. Anyway, he says that he'd like to ask a question. That is: "How can a man buy bonds and live on $60 a month? Is it better to do a little extra work and live and buy some bonds, or is it better to have a place beauty at the courthouse?" In other words he says that he is at kinda holding down several jobs—everything from fence fixing to carpenter work. The trees, he says, are the wrong kind in this country, and the lawn was kept over by a blitz move by the vandals and the kids and dogs. So there is Milton's side of it, expect he is right. Anyway, it will soon be fall weather and we won't tell the difference anyway. I'll retract my criticism and fall into the regular local way of passing it off with "Who cares and what the hell difference does it make?"

TALLEST TALE OF THE year—any year, or all the years. . . Little Joe O'Neal was telling of hunting rabbits a couple years or so ago when they were pretty thick. He was shooting with hollow point shells and on the run. A big, fat old rabbit jumped up and loped across the field and he let her have it. He went to pick her up and instead of one rabbit there were five rabbits. The rifle bullet just zipped along her under side and lo, the first Caesarian operation had been performed. Two of the baby rabbits were still alive and unhurt in any way—except a trifling surprise.—Can anyone that one?

WELL, THE YOUNG Hahn started to school Monday. I surely feel sorry for Mrs. Steel with that bunch of concentrated dynamite that she is getting this year—Tom Neal, Valetta Ann, Joni, Collin and about thirty more little sticks of explosives just like them. Joni summed up things at school in the opening exercises when she stage whispered to her mother, "Mother, it's just too noisy in here."

DO ANY OF you remember of your first day at school? I don't remember much of that but I well remember my first day at town school. I was in the fourth grade. The first notice that I got that I well remember was the teacher bringing a roll of tape around and telling me that she was going to use it to paste my mouth shut. It must have been two or three days before the principal had to get me off the outside of the tall belfry where some town kids had sent me for a bird nest. The next biggest impression of grade school was the opening of the next year when those same smart town kids convinced me that every year the boys and girls changed out-houses. I took them at their word and walked in on a full house—

And another thing, son, please quit worrying about the business. Your mother and sister are pitching in and helping me no end. Remember, motor oil, greasing, and all my other services are not rationed. Honest, our business is pretty good—thanks to Conoco Nth motor oil. Remember how you quinned when they first called me a "Mileage Merchant?" Well, that's come to mean something very real these days. Sure, I'm keeping the engine in your car oil-plated and a lot of others around here, too. Just hurry up and get that job of yours wrapped up and when the band meets you at the train, the parade can head in this direction and you'll find this business here for you to carry on.

Galveston has the charm that New Orleans is supposed to possess. The island city has aging Southern homes and buildings of quaint architecture, notably the Galveston News edifice with its Moorish facade.

A sign reads, "Compasses adjusted", a reminder that you are in a seafaring city. A curio shop has

There are cafes over the water. And you take a voyage if you come from Beaumont or Port Arthur, as there is a ferry. (Coming from Houston, you cross the causeway.) Oleanders in pink and white are in the parks, in the parkways and in the yards. There are numerous statues, including the seated figure, heroic-sized, of the donor in front of the famous library.

In the water and strolling along the broad beach-walk are throngs of happy people. And on the sandy stretches away from the city, are isolated shacks, perhaps containing a plank from a Spanish galleon of Jean LaFitte's day.

The island with its golden sand and blue sky flecked with white clouds, and its swishing, silver waves and the endless sea with its music and its mystery — is truly a spot of never-ceasing fascination.

When your columnist saw a small item on an inside page of one of the dailies conveying the startling news that we were on the verge of having a special session of the legislature "to deal with the deficit in the State's general fund," I wrote an open letter asking if the deficit hasn't been in existence for eight or ten years? If high State Officials had not said the deficit would automatically wipe itself out in the course of time? Why, then, had it suddenly become necessary to do something about the deficit and, if there was such a necessity, why wasn't it taken at the regular session, which lasted the full 120 days and cost hundreds of thousands of dollars?

Next day the special session "to deal with the deficit in the general fund" was called off with the result that your state taxes were reduced by $9,000,000 for the year at hand. When you go to the collector's office to pay your taxes, would it be asking too much to spare a passing thought to old Boyce House who helped to create a sentiment that made this saving possible?

BLOCKBUSTERS

Some idea of the increasing importance of the Panhandle part in the war program is revealed by the fact that more Army Ordnance bombs are now being dropped on Hitler's European Fortress in one raid than were dropped during the entire month of June, according to Lt. Col. R. M. Bacher, commanding Pantex, the Government-owned bomb loading plant near Amarillo, which is operated by Certain-teed Products Corporation.

"The ammunition record of the Eighth Air Force in Great Britain he said, "tells an amazing story. It is typical of Ordnance-Air Corps cooperation. We pass the blockbusters. Our airmen unload them on Axis industrial plants and naval installations."

The record shows that one year ago, in August, 1942, the Eighth Air Force dropped 340,000 pounds of bombs on Nazi installations. In December 1942, this total was more than doubled — 762,000 pounds. In April, 1943, the figure was 1,994,000 pounds. For the period June-July 4, the Eighth Air Force called on Army Ordnance for 5,024,000 pounds of bombs.

However, in one 45-minute raid on Hamburg, Flying Fortresses unloaded 5,152,000 pounds of assorted blockbusters.

"Few people," Lt. Col. Bacher said, "have any conception of the magnitude of 5 million pounds of high explosives. Yet this total would make available a month's supply of coal in the United States. It represents approximately a year's supply of explosives used in the blasting of the route to the Panama Canal.

Get Behind The Boys

We want to use our advertisement this week to join with thousands of other advertisers this week over the country, to urge you to back the boys with bonds. Those boys are getting the job done—Italy has already surrendered—the Axis is on the run everywhere. And the faster our lads chase them to cover, the more money it takes to run the show. The more equipment we give them—the quicker the dirty job will be done and the more boys will return safely.

We here in Briscoe County have a big job this month to meet the Bond Quota given us. Nearly everyone who reads this has some bonds—but everyone of us must have MORE BONDS. Right now, while you are thinking of it, do your bond buying—and remember—buy an extra bond to BACK THE INVASION.

THE 3rd WAR LOAN DRIVE STARTS TO BACK THE INVASION!

3RD WAR LOAN
15 BILLION DOLLARS (NON-BANKING QUOTA)

What you will be asked to do—

MARK WELL the date—Thursday, September 9th. For on that day, you must answer to your country's call.

On that day, the 3rd War Loan Drive opens. To you—and to every other true American—a clarion call goes forth to rally to the support of our flag.

You will be asked to back our fighting forces to the very limit of your resources. You will be asked to go ALL-OUT FOR INVASION by investing in EXTRA War Bonds—more War Bonds than you perhaps think you can possibly afford.

To meet the national quota, every individual in the country who earns a wage or draws an income or has accumulated funds must invest, if he possibly can, in at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond. Those who can, must invest more—thousands of dollars' worth more. Each and every one must do his full part.

Scrape up the money from every source you can... turn in all the loose cash you carry with you... dig out what you had tucked away "just in case." Go without pleasures, luxuries, even necessities this September. And give our fighting men the things they need to fight with—and win.

These men are throwing everything they have into this fierce invasion push. They are giving their blood, their lives. No one can put a price on such courage, self-sacrifice, devotion. But you can show you're with them to the limit! You can say it with Bonds... EXTRA Bonds this month.

World's Safest Investments

For this 3rd War Loan, you will be offered your choice of various government securities. Choose the one that fits your requirements.

News from Boys in Service

AND HERE'S ONE from "Red" Harris, writing to his grandparents from somewhere in the European Theatre:

Dear Pop and Mom: Sorry not to have written in such a long time but it seems that I only get to write about a couple of letters a week I've been so busy. Have not much that I can say anyway.

Heard that little Jonnie has gotten married. Gosh I thought that she was just an infant but these kids sure get away from a person if he has been gone awhile.

Guess that you and Pop are still in good health. I would like to have a bottle of his Pabst Blue Ribbon beer right now. He still slips a few in the ice box doesn't he? Careful he doesn't slip in more than two.

I hope to see you soon. Hope it isn't too long a time—but this is still war—one never knows when he is going to get a furlough.—Yours, Marvin.

AND FROM ANDY Edwards, who has been seeing plenty of action there comes a letter of unusual interest:

Dear Roy and Friends and Pals: Will write you a letter from Sicily. Well it is plenty hot here. It seems like it is a tropical climate here now but the people that live here say that it is really hot in September. There sure is lots of grapes, lemons and figs here and they are ripe. Do I get my share, and how.

The people here were glad to see the Yanks come in. They really treat the soldiers swell.

I sure am not sorry that I volunteered for the Army. I would do it again rather than see our good old States torn up, bombed and shelled like this country. So just think of the good the boys are doing whenever you go to buy War Bonds. I am getting the Silverton paper regularly now and I really enjoy it.—Andy Edwards.

ENSIGN ODIS GREGG writes to the editor:

Dear Roy: How is everything in the good part of the U. S. and especially in the Panhandle of Texas?

Today...YOUR COUNTRY looks to YOU to back the INVASION

For, one thing is certain—this is total war and everyone must do his full share. And that means you!

as? Just thought I would drop you a line to let you know that I am not at Chicago any more and so you would know where to send The News. I surely do enjoy the paper very much. I always look forward to getting it and reading about what the people back there are doing.

You know I haven't been around Silverton in several years but I still have interest in what is happening there.

I graduated from Northwestern University and received my commission August 2th and have been sent here for further training.

Thanks Roy, and I will be expecting to get The News here in a few days. Yours, Odis Gregg.

PVT BERNARD HAVRAN was one of sixty-two enlisted men in camps of the Eighth Service Command in the Southwest that will be given an opportunity and special training to take examination to enter West Point.

The sixty-two were sent to Amherst College in Mass. September 1, and will study there until March 7th of next year, the date the examinations for West Point will be given. The young men will be given academic instruction under the supervision of the Army specialized training program to prepare them for the West Point Examinations.

WALTER ALLARD JR., writes Dear Roy: Quite a surprise was awaiting me this morning when I got back to the barracks, two copies of the "Headache" were awaiting me. Some thing very unusual after five years without one. I left Silverton five years ago today and from the way the paper ran its still the same old place with a few new faces to dull or brighten it. I noticed Lem Weaver finally talked himself into the money. You fellows had better watch him and I wouldn't trust him too far, he may raise something else besides the quota with it.

Subs is wonderful duty and they really throw the chow at you best there is and if you go down and don't come back its kinda bad on your health. At the present they have me in school trying to make an electrician out of me. We are treated darn good. It is just about the same as at home. If we don't like the way things are being done we just say "Yes Sir."

No kidding though this isn't a bad country. We get to see a woman once in a while and the imitation whiskey we get makes your head feel as if Tom Bomar had run a herd of his pigs across the top of your head. There is plenty of activity during the day time. Our friend the fly keeps us going. Fineally night comes, Ah! at last the flies have gone to their humble home. So you sit down for a nice quiet evening. Ha! guess what has happened. That is right. It's chow time for for the mosquitoes. So there is some more swatting and cussing. Not much left to do but hit the sack. At least the flies or mosquitoes can't get thru the netting. So off to sleep you go. You sleep an hour or so, When all of a sudden the old sack begins to shake and bounce around. Usually you wake up and lay there wondering what has happened. Also pretty darn scared. Because you never can tell what is going to happen over here. There is a lot of loud growling and stamping of feet. Come to find it is only a couple of flies arguing over who is going to eat me to-night. Seeing there isn't enough for both of them I silently get out of bed and get my knife and chop their heads off. But it is too late, they have already been nibbling on me. So I lay there and scratch the rest of the night. So you see we have plenty of activity.

I guess they have nearly all the boys around there in the service doing what they can. It is a wonderful adventure if we all get back in one piece, which I think most of us will. I have seen two boys here from Silverton and I hardly knew Leldon Gilkeyson, he has really grown since the last time I saw him. I was in town the other day wandering around waiting for the busses to get back to the base before the dead hour. (That's about the only exciting thing around here is trying to get a seat) when I ran into Haynes McClendon. It makes a person feel better to talk to some one he knows than John Doe from some where you never heard of and listen to him gripe and beat his gums about the good times he had. As Ever Buster."

VADE McGAVOCK and BINGHAM were here on the past week.

LALLA BROWN has been accepted for service in the and is expecting her call time this month.

Their Eyes Need Good Lighting

NOW, MORE THAN EVER, their eyes need good lighting. Tests show that 35 per cent of all children develop defective eyesight during school and college years... due largely to insufficient light. Don't let this happen to your child because you failed to provide good light for him to study by.

Although there will be no more I.E.S. lamps manufactured for the duration, we give you these five points for protecting precious eyesight.

- 1. Keep lamp bulbs and fixtures clean. 2. Avoid direct glare from electric light globes. Use indirect reflectors whenever possible. 3. Don't work in your own shadow, especially on close work. 4. Use the right size globe to supply enough light and the proper kind of light. 5. Don't waste electricity.

A War Message on WAR BONDS from the President of the United States

"... The American people know that if we would raise the billions which we now need to pay for the war and at the same time prevent a disastrous rise in the cost of living, we shall have to double and more than double the scale of our savings.

"Every dime and dollar not vitally needed for absolute necessities should go into WAR BONDS and STAMPS to add to the striking power of our armed forces.

"If these purchases are to have a material effect in restraining price increases they must be made out of current income.

"In almost every individual case they should be big enough to mean rigid self-denial, a substantial reduction for most of us in the scale of expenditure that is comfortable and easy for us.

"We cannot fight this war, we cannot exert our maximum effort, on a spend-as-usual basis.

"We cannot have all we want if our soldiers and sailors are to have all they need."

Franklin D. Roosevelt
