FOLKS WHO DIDN'T see the Bi-District Championship game last Thursday missed a real thriller. Of course, it could have been closer in score, but who is going to complain of a bunch of Silverton boys walking the dog pretty heavily over the boys who must have outweighed them at least 20 pounds to the man. When I saw that bunch of big birds come on the field I almost went back to town without waiting for the game. Looks didn't mean a thing though, for Silverton had scored within two minutes of the opening whistle. This is the first time for many years that Silverton has won a bi-district championship and the town is proud of the boys.

SPENCE AND MILTON down at the City Grocery showed their appreciation by taking all the boys and Coach Brannon to the picture show. They must have got a glimpse of the Oklahoma boys in advance to get so far out on a limb as to make the offer before the game. Spence and Milton are pretty strong fans though, and maybe they had it in their heads to treat the Owls whether they won or lost.

BARB BROKE THE Sabbath by decorating the shop. I broke it just from force of habit and because last week didn't have enough days in it. Someone ought to do something about our time system. Not enough hours in any one day, nor enough days in the week. . . . At any rate she decorated the front window with SNOW, and Sunday night it RAINED till it leaked in the front window and melted the artificial snow. What a country.

WE ARE GOING to print letters to Santa Claus next week. Some papers are not going to let the kids have any space this year, and laying it on to lack of help and so forth (but mainly I suspect because the letters usually aren't the best copy in the world, but Christmas is Christmas and kids are kids—and they aren't kids but once. And so, NEXT WEEK we will have Santa Claus letters. If you like 'em, fine! If you don't, you better sit down and write the Old Gent a letter and ask him to bring you a better memory.

THE BOND DRIVE looks better than it did last week—but then it ought to—it's a week later. The bank has issued most of the bonds and Gene Bedwell, the bank teller (teller to move while I sweep) says that Quitaque folks have done 70 percent of the buying thus far. I have never accused Mr. Bedwell of anything in my life and I do not intend to start now. However, it seems to me that he might be just a tiny bit mistaken. It may have even been a slip of the tongue, or I may have misunderstood him, or he may have had an extra sip of that Quitaque gyp water under his belt when he was checking the figures. On the third and last hand, he MAY have been right. If he is, it is time for the Plains country to get on the ball.

THAT FIRST NATIONAL Bank though deserves a lot of credit in these War Loan Drives. They just don't get too busy to get your bond ready for you when you want it. All that work is strictly gratis you know. If each of us would put in as much extra work during a drive as do the banks and postoffices, the drives would go over the top in just a few days.

I LOOKED BACK at that paragraph and suddenly wondered why Stark calls his bank the FIRST National Bank. Why not, the second, or the third? Why not even the LAST National Bank? After all, it is the last one in the county. Let's rename the joint Maybe Briscoe County Lonely and Only Bank.

W. T. C. C. SEES LOWER COTTON PRODUCTION COSTS

The future of cotton in the post-war world will be closely studied in the U. S. Congress this month, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be on hand. The regional chamber's Abilene headquarters has announced that Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe will represent it in hearings starting Dec. 4 before the House Committee of Agriculture. Moffett, who is chairman of the Texas Senate's agricultural committee, left Saturday night for Washington.

Purpose of the hearings called by Cong. Steve Pace of Georgia, chairman of the House committee, is to coordinate the interests of all concerned in the cotton industry: from grower to spinner. Special study will be made of the export situation and competition American growers will face after the war from countries with lower production costs than ours. The problem of synthetics in competition with cotton fiber also will be scrutinized.

"Rapid and far reaching developments are taking place in the cotton industry," Sen. Moffett, pointed out. "It is to be devoutly hoped that foreign consumption of American cotton can be permanently stepped up. This is especially important to West Texas, for we export more than 90% of our crop." "The inauguration of the federal government's 4 cents a pound subsidy program to stimulate cotton exports may help, but the West Texas Chamber of Commerce believes, and so do I, that permanent solution of the problem lies elsewhere. We believe that the advent of a perfected cotton picker has many ramifications some of which may almost be revolutionary in the cotton world, and especially our West Texas world; under our mechanized production methods, we are a long jump ahead of the cotton belt as a whole.

"Those qualified to judge believe that as soon as raw material is made available there will be cotton picker that will gather the placed at the farmer's disposal a staple for not more than $8 a bale, or a reduction of about 4 cents a pound from present harvesting costs. This plus an export subsidy will enable our growers to meet foreign competition.

West Texas growers must again be made acutely cotton conscious, Moffett said. This year, with no government limitation on planted acreage, area production—as of the government's report on ginnings to Nov. 14—stood at only 731,352 bales per acre, this indicates that 1944 West Texas total planting was 30% under the 3½ million acres sown in 1943, when production reached 1,200,000 bales. The year's total probably has not exceeded 2½ million planted acres. West Texas growers, fearful for cotton's future, besides being short on labor, this year did not cash in on the lifting of planting restrictions by the War Food Administration.

Every roadway, every bridge, every building around us stands as a monument to the knowledge, skill and vision of the engineer, and his ability to plan and design on paper. The clothes we wear, the food we eat, owe their creation, development to the scientist, his ability to build on the record of the past, handed down to him on PAPER.

A story that hasn't been told

AN AMERICAN WAR PRODUCTION RECORD THAT DESERVES TELLING . . .

On December 14, at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, the men and women of Humble Oil & Refining Company will pause in their work to commemorate, in appropriate ceremony, a feat unparalleled in the petroleum industry: The production of ONE BILLION GALLONS of finished 100-octane aviation gasoline at the Baytown refinery.

This accomplishment merits special commendation, because it climaxes 25 years of development, planning, and teamwork of a great organization. The cooperative effort of Humble employees has brought about a uniform progress in all phases of the Company's operations which has enabled them to establish remarkable records in finding, producing, transporting and refining petroleum during a critical period in the history of our nation.

Humble research and development, in progress for many years before Pearl Harbor, made possible these accomplishments and contributed greatly to the total production of toluene, and the tremendous quantities of finished 100-octane aviation gasoline required by our Armed Forces.	Baytown Ordnance Works, first synthetic toluene plant in the world, has supplied toluene for at least one out of every two bombs used by the United Nations since Pearl Harbor. For this production feat, Baytown Ordnance Works has five times been awarded the Army-Navy "E".	Baytown Refinery has made one billion gallons of finished 100-octane aviation gasoline—more than has been produced by any other plant in the world. The world's first commercial alkylation plant was built at Baytown in 1928. The alkylation process is the very backbone of 100-octane aviation gasoline production by the entire petroleum industry.
Humble Oil & Refining Company is the nation's largest producer of crude oil, and is currently supplying about one-fourth of the increased production required for war, as measured by the gain since 1941.	Through the facilities of Humble Pipe Line Company, there is being transported more oil than is being carried by any other system in the country. Nearly 700,000 barrels move daily through Humble pipe lines—one-seventh of all the oil production in the United States.	United in a great singleness of purpose, 14,000 Humble men and women are devoting themselves to the task of providing vital petroleum products for war, looking to the day when their 3,000 fellow employees and all their comrades in arms will return.

West went through center for 5 yards and a first down. Dickenson passed to Hill for one yard gain. This was a long pass, but since it was diagonally across the field the gain was small. Third quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter
The pass back from center went to West who lateraled to Dickenson who went through center to the Oklaunion 10 yard line. Dickenson passed to McWilliams completed for 3 yards. Dickenson went around left end for a touchdown, bringing the score to 31 to 6 as West's attempted kick struck the goal post and fell back inside the field.

Glazner kicked out of bounds on the Silverton 30 yard line. Hill went around left end for 3 yards. West carried the ball around left end to the Oklaunion 15 yard line. Silverton drew a 15 yard penalty for holding setting the ball back to the 30 yard line. Dickenson fumbled on the 37 yard line and it was recovered by Oklaunion. Burket carried the ball around left end but John Arthur Arnold brought him down with a beautiful tackle. PREMATURE

If you want to be an old man
Long before your time,
Never fool with poetry,
Never make a rhyme.
Never play with children,
Never skip the rope,
Never have a good time
Blowing bubble soap.
Never go a fishing,
Never pass the ball,
Never ramble in the woods
In summer or in fall.
Never lift your eyes to God,
Keep'em looking down,
Never wear a pleasant smile,
Always wear a frown.

Never take your time to eat,
Always over stuff,
Never have the sense to know
When you've had enough.

Never have a mind at ease
By keeping out of debt,
Never fail to smoke a pipe,
Cigar or cigarette.

If you do these faithfully,
I'll bet my bottom dime,
That you'll be an old man
Long before your time.
