County Still Lacking In E-Bond Purchases

According to figures compiled Saturday Briscoe County still lacked nearly $18,000 in Series E Bonds to meet their quota of $115,000.00. On that date Series E sales were $97,100.00. The county is already well over the top on their overall quota with sales of $241,006.50 against a quota of $165,000.00, a percentage of 146%.

At that time the county ranked 91st among Texas counties in percentage bought of their quota. There were already 45 counties over the top including the nearby counties of Randall and Roberts who were over with a good margin.

While the overall bond buying looks good, the Series E bonds are the ones the Treasury Department urges be bought. They are sound investment against future depressions, and a token of faith in the future of our country. If you haven't purchased your Series E Bonds, do it now and place Briscoe County on the honorable side of the ledger.

PFC. VERLIN L. WHITEHEAD, who visited here last Thursday, has returned after 31 months and 6 days in the South Pacific. Buck as he is known by his many friends is a former Briscoe County boy. He has returned to Palm Springs, Calif. Hospital for treatment. He was wounded three times in action and has 97 points to his credit. He is the brother of C. L. Whitehead.

I noticed in the paper that they still insist that I am in the Air Corps. I wish you would get that straight for me when you go to town for I am not in the Air Corps by a lot.

Well, I will close for this time, so write often and may the Lord watch over you until I get home.

Travis McMinn Wed To Maggie L. Brian

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Maggie Lee Brian, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Walter L. Brian, to the Rev. Travis McMinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud McMinn of Silverton, on June 6, at 8:45, in a candlelight ceremony at the First Baptist Church, Sudan.

Mr. Stillwell Russell sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Eula Dean Vincent at the piano. Flowers and ferns were arranged on the altar. Tapers in candleabra arranged on each side of the altar and on the piano were lighted by the ushers, Jean and Arlene Brian, sisters of the bride, and Fayree McMinn, sister of the bridegroom, who were dressed in pink and white.

Miss Vincent played "Lohengrin" as the bride came in to meet the groom on the arm of her grandfather, Mr. W. P. Smith, who gave her in marriage, followed by the ring bearers, Barbara Sue Smith, Plainview, and Ronald Ledbetter, Silverton, carrying the rings in lilies on top of white leather Bibles which were given them by the bride as tokens of love.

Rev. Mr. Brian, father of the bride, read the double ring ceremony, the couple kneeling on small white satin pillows to receive her father's blessings.

HARLEY EDDLEMAN TELLS OF OKINAWA

After a month in the thunderous, smoking Hell of Okinawa, Private First Class Harley C. Eddleman of Quitaque Texas, speaks with a veteran foot soldier's pride of the battlefield truisms that there is nothing in front of the Infantry but the enemy.

The husky, 29-year-old rifleman, overseas 11 months with the 7th (Hourglass) Infantry Division, is back in the United States for treatment at Torney General Hospital in Palm Springs, California, of wounds received in the violent Ryukyus fighting. His wife, Mrs. Lucille Eddleman, lives in Quitaque.

"Before anybody else moves on Okinawa," he declared in an interview at Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco, California, where he arrived from overseas, "the Infantry has to go out ahead to clear the way."

"We were told that two months before we landed there the Japs had held maneuvers all over the island, and I can believe it. There were tank traps galore every road was mined, and they used every weapon in their book -- from small arms on up to big guns that duelled with the warships supporting us."

What it meant was that under the heaviest fire imaginable, we had to clear the roads for tanks and trucks. They weren't safe even 50 yards in front of our lines. Our Infantry on Okinawa has the best support it could want from everybody, the Army and Navy both, but in the end it is the Infantry that is fighting that battle.

Well, make that Infantry and Artillery. We couldn't do much without the Artillery, and they catch almost as much counter-battery fire from the Japs as we riflemen catch in the front lines. All we get that they don't is the small-arms and mortar fire up front."

Private Eddleman, who wears the Combat Infantryman Badge for exemplary conduct in action against the enemy, received his basic training in the Infantry Replacement Center at Camp Roberts, California. Assigned overseas, he joined the famous Hourglass Division which first fought the Japanese in the Aleutians, then won Kwajalein in the Marshalls and saw action on Leyte in the Philippines before making the beachhead landing on Okinawa.

He was wounded in the right foot by mortar shell fragments in a battle typical of the fierce combat that Infantrymen have encountered in winning from the enemy a strategic foothold less than 400 miles from the Japanese home islands.

"We were attacking a hill," Private Eddleman recalled. "In fact, we had six days taking that hill. We would get it in the daytime, then lose it late in the evening when the Japs counterattacked."

I was wounded as we kicked off on the assault that finally took it for good. When machineguns opened up on us, we all hit the dirt.

Then about 100 yards off to one side, I heard a Jap mortar gunner drop a shell in his mortar. A second or so later, it exploded behind me, and fragments struck my foot.

Fire or no fire, I didn't wait for anything. I just got up and ran as fast as I could . . . oh, about 100 yards . . . back to where our aid station was. Every man gets pretty scared in battle, and when you are scared you could make a 100-yard dash with no feet at all."

The former Quitaque construction worker, who fought on Leyte as well as Okinawa, received the Purple Heart for his wound, and wears the Philippine Liberation (Next Column Please)

Harvest is sweeping rapidly to a close here this week, with hot dry weather making combining conditions ideal. Most of the farmers have already finished with cutting and the few patches remaining will be ground out by the first of next week if the weather continues hot and dry.

The 1945 harvest has been much more satisfactory than it looked a few weeks ago—the average yield has been a little higher than was expected and the quality has been good. The price this year has been about $1.43 per bushel, which has put considerable wheat money in the county. Many times in past years the wheat has yielded no better, with the price at half the present market.

No accurate figures have been given on how much wheat has been hauled to Silverton elevators but both have been rushed to take care of the trucks.

County average will be slightly under 10 bushels, it is thought.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Freeman and son of Dallas came Monday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown.

She had been ill for quite some time before her death, which occurred at 6:00 Thursday afternoon. A complete obituary will be given next week.

MRS. HAHN IS a rather sophisticated gal in lots of ways--- in others she is as easy to read as a book. Comes a letter today that ends, "Seemed kinda funny Thursday when press time came. If you need me before we planned, just whistle." Isn't she a smoothie? Translated into free-hand English her message read. "I am getting my visit out and am a little home sick. Do you reckon you could come after me sooner, than we planned?"

AND I AM going to get her back next week end. Please turn in your copy a day earlier next week, will you folks? The paper will be printed Wednesday and Yours Truly will shake the dust of Silverton from his feet for four whole days.

DON'T FORGET that June 30 is the last day for purchasing your "USE" Car Stamp. They cost five dollars as you know and may be obtained at the post office.

MEN TURNED TO look at her as she passed, for there was about her a youthful charm that compelled admiration. The tender beauty of an unfolding bud, just awakened to the loveliness of life, was hers. The clear texture of her skin, the vivacious sparkle which lent her eyes a look of irrepressible gaiety, the sheen of her glossy hair, all harmonized in accentuation of vivid freshness. She brought thoughts of springtime, those days when the year is yet young and the harshness of advancing time is absent. She was vibrant, lovely, vitally alive, the personification of youth itself. She had just left the beauty parlor.

A BILL WAS introduced in Congress recently to appropriate $100,000,000 for the Rural Telephone Administration (RTA) on the theory that there are not enough rural telephones. That many bucks, of course, will support a goodly number of drones who care not whether a farmer has a phone. An exchange paper suggests that such a project is small fry when there are better projects to be thought of. For instance there is a greater need of indoor bath tubs and running water toilets on the farm than telephones. What we need is a new federal agency the Rural Indoor Bath Tubs and Running Water Toilets Administration. An agency of such nature could undoubtedly spend more federal money than the RTA. If they could do no better they could flush it down the new model running water toilet and thus could show that with each succeeding year they were running behind with their appropriation and ask for more. Eventually, an organization of federal employees making up the RIBTARWTA could practically rule the agricultural section. There would be blanks to fill out each day as to the use you were making of your new Bath Tub and Running Water Toilet because federal bureaus do not believe in releasing control over their clients. (Ask anyone who ever borrowed money from the FSA). And of course, there would have to be inspectors, who would call and have a few questions to ask such as: Is your Bath Tub and Running Water Toilet used for pleasure, for business, or for both business and pleasure? "Is your bath room equipped with a reading library? (If not fill out Blank No. 25 and mail to your Congressman and books will be sent at no expense)" "What percentage of the time each day is your Bath Tub and Running Water Toilet used?" "Have your trips to the city decreased noticeably since the installation of your federal Bath Tub and Running Water Toilet? If not, why not?" "Do you subscribe for the home paper? (If not do so at once or your RIBTARWTA contract will be cancelled.)"

NO ONE FEDERAL agency could be set up that would get at the bottom of things any quicker than the RIBTARWTA. It would take no time at all until the AAA, the FSA, the OPA, and all the other agencies would be abolished, or at least their enforcement divisions could be. For under threat of having an "out of order" federal sign hung on their Indoor Bath Tub and Running Water Toilet, the American farmer could be forced to do anything---even farm. I am in favor of the RIBTARWTA. I am going to write to Gene Worley and give it my stamp of approval. Gene is the one guy who could introduce such a measure and get it across because he is photogenic. That means that if he had his picture taken using the IBTARWT every man, woman and child would have to have one. From here on it is in his hands. Rural America calls, and I am sure that their cry will be answered by establishing the RIBTARWTA.

EVERY ONCE IN a while I get hooked into something accidentally that I wouldn't do on purpose for anything. For instance I went with Conrad Alexander to make a gasoline delivery Tuesday evening. We were supposed to go out to Nuke May's place and whattuknow, we finally did. But first we toured the country for nearly an hour picking up barrels. There is a law that barrels must be left in listed fields, turn rows, or roadside ditches---places inaccessible to ordinary pickups---and as far as I can tell no one is violating the law. But don't be misled about that term "ordinary pickup" for that Farmers 66 job is not ordinary. I never rode in a General Grant tank, of course, but I am fully convinced that one of those tanks in the midst of battle would be a safer place to ride than in the job we delivered the gas in. On the way to town, Cooney took a short cut. Four gates by actual count. After we passed the first gate we toured a large prairie dog town and two sections of mesquite brush, looking for the next. Some of that brush is pretty big too---a little too big to drive around and jars quite a bit when you drive over it. By the time he had gathered all the barrels (and never fasten a barrel on solidly. They need about a foot of room to roll back and forth in) and bi-passed all the roads and trails, I was suffering from as bad a case of combat fatigue as any soldier that chased Rommel across Africa. From now on far be it from me to complain or suggest that the Farmers 66 is running a gravy train.

IMPORTANT TO ALL men in the Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard --A new postal regulation which is now in effect requires that all members of the Navy, Marines or Coast Guard who change their addresses to Fleet Post Office, either New York or San Francisco, must send in a written request if they are to continue receiving the Briscoe County News. And to you of naval personnel who are already receiving mail at the Fleet Post Offices---you must send in a written request if you wish to renew your subscription. There's nothing we can do about this. It's a postal regulation. If you wish to get the B. C. N. while out of the states, SEND IN YOUR REQUEST.

J. W. FOUST, who is studying radar out in New Mexico was here Tuesday. He said that they had improved radar a lot in the past year. Before that its main function was to tell of the approach of the enemy. Now they have had to add a little gadget that tells of the retreat of the enemy.

AND NOW THAT I have read Travis McMinn's marriage write-up from the Sudap News, I have seen and heard everything. Some day I am going to write up a wedding and I am going to devote the first 20 inches to the bridegroom and what he wore and in the last three lines I will tell who the bride was.

OPA NEWS RELEASE

"B-6" and "C-6" gasoline coupons, which local War Price and Rationing Boards stopped issuing in March, will not be good for consumer use after June 30, 1945, Wm. G. Williams, District Rationing Executive announced today. Most of these coupons have already been used, Williams said. The few remaining will be taken out of circulation, in line with OPA's customary policy of periodic invalidation of gasoline coupons. Consumers who have any of these coupons that represent an unexpired ration may exchange them for valid coupons at their local boards.

Service station operators will have 10 days, or through July 10, 1945 to surrender these coupons to their suppliers for gasoline, or to their local boards for ration checks. Distributors have until July 20, 1945 to deposit these coupons in their ration bank accounts.

AH! WHAT FUN it will be to live in a house where even the faucets are touched with magic! Where a faithful automatic Gas water-heating (A-S-H) keeps all the hot water you need constantly on tap!

Ample Hot Water Is Essential Need In Modern Homes

Modern living standards in America demand a supply of hot water at uniformly correct temperatures between 130 and 140 degrees Fahrenheit available at any time of the day or night. At these temperatures, hot water provides the greatest usefulness for the upkeep of the home and the health and physical well-being as well as comfort of the family.

An automatic gas water heater provides the practical means for this standard of hot water service, and is the most popular equipment for the purpose because of its reliability and economy.

The economy of a gas water heater results from an easily controlled and dependable automatic device which turns on the gas as required by the household needs for hot water, thus using precisely the amount of fuel necessary, no more, no less.

STRETCHING SUGAR IN CONSERVING FOOD

Corn syrup may be substituted for part or all of the sugar used in home canning or freezing of fruits, according to Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Corn sugar may be used for the same purposes, but brown sugar or syrups, such as sorghum, which have a strong flavor are not desirable. Honey may be used as a substitute for a small part of the sugar, but it affects the flavor of the fruit more than corn syrup. However, it is satisfactory for canning figs and for making fruit pickles, the specialist says. It is not recommended for use with frozen foods. "Never use saccharin in canning," Mrs. Leverenz warns, "for heat makes it bitter". Saccharin can only be used when the fruit is served cold, but a doctor should be consulted regarding its use for too much saccharin may be harmful. In substituting corn syrup or part of the sugar in canning, use one cup of sugar and two cups of corn syrup to six cups of water. This makes a thin syrup which is desirable from a nutritional standpoint. If the syrup is used to replace all the sugar, the proportion should be one-half to three-fourth cups of syrup to one cup of water. One syrup which is said to be excellent for use in canning is "invert sugar" which can be made at home and is sweeter than natural sugar or syrup. To make it, mix two cups of sugar and one cup of water. Add one-fourth teaspoon of tartaric acid, obtainable at any drug store. Cover this sugar, water, and tartaric acid mixture and simmer gently for 30 minutes. Allow it to cool. The invert sugar made this way is nearly twice as sweet as plain syrup of the same weight. For a thin syrup, use one-fourth cup if invert sugar to one cup of water. This is also good for sweetening fruits, cereals, ice cream, and beverages.

A year after the Civil War, a company was organized in the 30-year-old city of Houston to manufacture gas for street lighting. Only a few of the town's 9,000 residents could afford to use the new fuel to light their residences, because it sold for $12 a thousand cubic feet.

A total of 1,835 skilled workers were turned out under the engineering, science and management war training program conducted by the Division of Engineering at Texas Technological College since the fall of 1940.
