Hygiene Is Against Polio

Attention to the general in- community sanitation is important in pre- venting polio, Dr. Geo. W. health officer, today warning to every in Texas to practice hygiene to protect health and that of those around them. Cleanliness and per- one are ordinarily taken for granted, Dr. Cox said, "but with the incidence of polio cases, I would like to see some personal sani- taries which may help in the spread of this cri- plet disease." The health officer stressed the importance of scrupulous cleanli- ness. Frequent bath- ing, clean clothing, and the use of a mild disinfectant are recommended. The hands should be kept clean and defects corrected immediately.

and thorough clean- ness in the home are instinctive to every housewife, but the importance of these measures should be re-emphasized. Sanitation includes those measures such as the dishes in hot soapy water, rinsing them in hot water, keeping sinks, bath- tubs, fixtures scoured clean with a mild antiseptic and airing bedding to keep the home of flies, roaches which, since they are believed to be a disease, are suspected responsible for trans- mission.

Personal hygiene is important with good community sanitation and hygiene, it is hard to get a foothold. "With such a dread disease as polio prevalent, no precaution should be taken and no bars should be put in its entrance."

West Texas is Host To Daniel This Week

Campaigning in towns from Sulphur Springs to Abilene during the week, Price Daniel, of Liberty, candidate for the Attorney General's office and former Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, charged that his opponent was attempting "to ride into office on a political name alone."

"The second fundamental issue has been created by my opponent's apparent attempt to establish a political dynasty in the Attorney General's department," Daniel declared. "Already he has served eight years as a political appointee in that office, during which time he had no experience as an administrative or executive head of any of the six divisions. It is time for some new blood."

Daniel, who enlisted in the Army as a private in 1943 and was only recently discharged, said no candidate has a "vested right" to any office. He pledged that if elected Attorney General he would not use the office to build up political fences. He offered his recommendations for his candi- dacy his practice of law in Liberty county since 1932, his service as a lawmaker, and his experience as Speaker of the Texas House.

Watt Says Atom Tests Will Not Cause Catastrophe

The possibility of the Bikini atom bomb tests resulting in a major catastrophe such as an earthquake or destructive tidal wave is extremely remote, in the opinion of Dr. George W. Watt, university of Texas chemist who worked on the Manhattan (atomic) project for two years during the war.

Dr. Watt was offered a "ring- side seat" at the tests but declined the invitation. His decision was based, not on fear of possible dan- ger to the witnesses but rather on the possibility that the tests would consume more time than anticipated and more time than he could spare.

Although he thinks the tests are desirable from the standpoint of accumulating more information on the effectiveness of the bomb, Dr. Watt was skeptical that "there will be any great yield of purely scientific information" because scientists haven't had time to pre- pare the proper instruments for the tests.

Dr. Watt pointed out, however, that the whole future of the navy will be determined by the tests and for that reason they will be extremely valuable from a practical, if not scientific standpoint.

Prune Shrubs Now Or Wait a Year

Prune shrubs now or wait un- til next year, says Sadie Hatfield, landscape gardening specialist of the Texas A. and M. College ex- tension service. Shrubs should not be pruned after mid-July.

Cutting back shrubs in summer tends to hold back growth of limbs, twigs and leaves and aids the plant to form a crop of fruit of flowers next spring. Prune out also all dead and diseased limbs and any branches which crowd other plants or get in the way of windows or paths.

Generally speaking, evergreen shrubs are pruned in the winter or dormant season, and deciduous shrubs—those which shed their leaves in the winter—should be pruned at the same time.

Plants may be fertilized after pruning. Fertilizing later in the summer develops new growth which may be frostbitten before it hardens. Late pruning may do the same thing.

Briscoe County Loses Fourteen Boys During Second World War

The first consolidated listing of Army dead and missing in World War II—a compilation of the names of nearly 310,000 men and women who gave their lives in the Nation's service—was released last week by the War department. Most of the persons who were determined to have died were carried for periods of at least one year in a missing status, and were declared dead under Public Law 490, 77th Congress, after a thorough investigation of each case. According to official listings only three counties in the United States failed to suffer a casualty in World War II. These counties were: King, in Texas; Esmeralda, in Nevada; and Yellowstone National Park, in Wyoming. The following is a list of four- teen Briscoe County boys who gave their lives in World War II: Babcock, Charles L., 2nd Lt., died (non battle); Chavez, Si- prano N. M., Pvt. killed in action; Chessir, Jewell G., S-Sgt., killed in action; Everhart Willie H., Pfc., killed in action; Haynes, Joseph E. Capt., killed in action; James, George P., Pfc. killed in action; Mayo, Watkins, S-Sgt., died (non battle); McCutchen, Jay D., 1st Lt., finding of death under Public Law 490; McWilliams, Charlie, Pfc., killed in action; Powell, Jack S-Sgt., died (non battle); Singletary, Edrow R., Pvt., died (non battle); Walker Alton B., S-Sgt., finding of death under Public Law 490; Williamson, Charlie H., Pvt. died (non battle); and Young, Cecil, Pfc., killed in action. In releasing the lists of war dead, the War department pointed out that the listing was a preliminary one, and might, because of its scope, contain errors which would be corrected when deter- mined. In addition to possibility of error in preparation, it was emphasized that misinformation of- ten is given unintentionally by an individual when he enters the service (such as mistaken identifica- tion of his home county) and other inaccuracies are from time to time apt to be introduced into the individual's records.

Our Salvation

Back of all the talk concerning inflation and price control, is the undeniable fact that heavily increased production is our main salvation. Everyone knows that black markets are created by an inadequate supply of desired goods in normal, legitimate outlets. This country's price control policies have contributed unnecessarily to that inadequacy. No one will produce an article if he can't sell it for enough to pay his costs. And no manufacturer, farmer, or retailer can "hold the price line," indefinitely in the face of increasing wages and operating expenses beyond his control. He must raise his prices or quit producing.

In the case of many agricultural products the government has attempted to meet the issue through the old device of subsidies. A child can see the economic fallacy in that. A subsidy means that part of the cost of what you buy, is paid for out of your tax dollars. In the long run, the bill is greater.

Those who try to bring about business-like administration of price control aren't the friends of inflation. They are the friends of production—inflation's enemy. This country has the greatest productive potential on earth. It has, in addition, a highly competitive distribution system which is a miracle of efficiency. Until these forces can operate freely, we shall continue to enrich the black market, and prevent legitimate producers and distributors, in all fields from performing the vast services of which they are capable, thereby assuring goods at the least inflated prices.

Bill Of Rights Works Both Ways

In April Congress passed the Lea Bill which provides fine and imprisonment for any union which compels broadcasters to hire more employees than are needed "to perform actual service." In calling a strike at a Chicago radio station because the station refused to employ three additional librarians, James C. Pettilio, President of the American Federation of Musicians, said the union appreciates that its action is contrary to the restrictions of the Lea Bill, but that he and his union would resist this law "until we are told by the Supreme Court of the United States that the Bill of Rights and the abolition of slavery do not apply to American musicians."

There is comedy in that statement. Just where does the Bill of Rights give any man authority to tell another man to hire three people he doesn't need, or to tell men working for another man to stop working, or where does it provide that before a man can work he must join some organization and pay monthly dues for the privilege of working? The Bill of Rights would permit a man to join any organization he desired, and by the same token it would respect his right not to join. It is supposed to work both ways.

The Bill of Rights came into being to help guarantee freedom. When a man is forced to join and pay any specified organization, regardless of his desire to do so, before he can earn a living, he is not a free man.

He Said A Mouthful

We all know government alone cannot feed the people, nor employ them, nor make the profits from which new enterprises and new jobs are born. Governments are set up by the people. The people are not the pawns of government. In other words, the government cannot create any wealth, and it therefore cannot feed you. It has to take something away from you first and then give some of it back to you in another form. But government can help its people to prosperity by lightening the burdens of debt and taxes, laying down the rules of fair play, and protecting those whose own strength and resources are not sufficient to protect themselves.—U. S. Representative Joseph W. Martin, Jr.

BOYCE HOUSE

"Gives You Texas"
From my old scrap book, here's a favorite poem, "The Old Man in the Model Church," by John H. Yates:

Well, wife, I've found the model church! I worshipped there today!
It made me think of good old times before my hair was gray;
The meetin' house was fixed up more than they were years ago,
But then I felt, when I went in, it wasn't built for show.

The sexton didn't seat me away back by the door;
He knew that I was old and deaf, as well as old and poor;
I wish you'd heard the singin'; it had the old-time ring;
The preacher said, with trumpet voice, "Let all the people sing!"

My deafness seemed to melt away; my spirit caught the fire;
I joined my feeble, trembling voice with that melodious choir,
And sang as in my youthful days, "Let angels prostrate fall;
Bring forth the royal diadem and crown Him Lord of all."

The preachin'? Well, I can't just tell all that the preacher said; I know it wasn't read;
He hadn't time to read it for the lightin' of his eye
Went flashin' long from pew to pew, nor passed a sinner by.

The sermon wasn't flowery; 'twas simple Gospel truth;
It fitted poor old men like me; it fitted hopeful youth;
'Twas full of consolation for weary hearts that bled;
'Twas full of invitations to Christ, and not to creed.

I hope to meet that minister—that congregation, too—
In that dear home beyond the

Legion Backing Bill To Restrict Medals

The American Legion has thrown its support behind a bill which would penalize by a fine of $1,000 or one year's imprisonment anyone who manufactures, sells or wears without authority a service man's discharge button or other service medals.

National Legislative Director John Thomas Taylor promised American Legion support of such a measure introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. Gordon L. McDonough, of California. Hearings on the bill are scheduled for the near future.

Support of this legislation by the nation's largest veterans' organization, Director Taylor said, was in compliance with recommendations contained in a resolution adopted by the national executive committee of The American Legion in November, 1944, after its attention was called to the sale of discharge buttons and war medals indiscriminately to all comers.

Director Taylor said that the Joseph Baker Post 319, of The American Legion, at Toledo, Ohio, delegated two of its younger members to visit several stores, and they were able to buy without producing any identifications, a Purple Heart medal, a Presidential citation, a Silver Star and five other medals and decorations.

Those you can get with an OIL-PLATED engine

Breathes there an American who isn't checking on cars? Chief question is, "What's different for '46?" An OIL-PLATED engine brings you this swell difference: it will escape lots of carbon and sludge by escaping lots of wear. That special type of wear-defense—internal OIL-PLATING—will likewise favor your oil and gasoline mileage.

You can have an OIL-PLATED engine in any car—in the newest or oldest—just simply by making sure to use Conoco Nth motor oil; that's all.

The difference in Conoco Nth oil—patented—is its added ingredient that OIL-PLATES. This is done in a magnet-like manner—by making metals attract and hold lubricant. And that's what puts inner engine surfaces under cover of OIL-PLATING. It stands in wear's way; acts to prolong that new car feeling. . . . And it will act to prolong any older car's usefulness. So if that's your particular problem, change now to Conoco Nth oil—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

Many Diseases Are Caused By Rodents

Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and commerce and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vectors of disease was understood. Today at least six diseases which are transmitted to man from rat are known to medical science, according to George W. Cox, State Health Officer. These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis, a form of jaundice, tapeworm and food poisoning. The whole history of the role rats play in the transmission of disease remains as yet unknown.

"It is necessary to public health," Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every urban and rural area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products." The doctor pointed out that rats like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places includes the employing of ratproof design in buildings, the use of ratproof materials in construction, employing and installation, and providing ratproof methods of construction for periodic inspection of buildings to insure permanent safety. This program will force the rat out into the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Of equal importance as a control measure is the elimination of all food supplies. This consists of storing all foods in ratproof buildings or in ratproof containers, the proper storage and disposal of garbage, and careful feeding of stock to prevent waste feed from being picked up by the rat. By observing these control measures, the community will benefit not only in the eradication of a nuisance and economic menace, but in improved health conditions and the prevention of rat-borne diseases.

Veterans' News

Q. Does the government pay the first year's interest on GI Loans?

A. No. When the loan is reported to Veterans Administration for a certificate of guaranty, the amount that VA pays is applied to reduce the amount of the loan. VA pays 4 per cent on the amount guaranteed which cannot exceed 50 per cent of the loan, or $4,000 on a real estate loan and $2,000 on a non-real estate loan.

Q. Is a veteran who holds a bad conduct discharge entitled to any benefits under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill)?

A. Since he holds neither an honorable nor a dishonorable discharge, it would be necessary for him to contact his nearest Veterans Administration office for a decision as to whether he was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable; or he may apply to the Army or Navy for revision of discharge.

Q. Can a veteran who is not a high school graduate take a course?

A. The veteran who has not completed high school but who wishes to undertake a college education may go to college under a number of methods. It is best that he go to the nearest Veterans Administration office and explore these possibilities.

Q. Can a veteran who draws retirement pay also receive subsistence allowance while attending school?

A. Yes.

Q. Are wives of veterans entitled to medical care under the GI Bill?

A. Veterans Administration is not authorized to furnish medical care for dependents of veterans under any existing laws.

Veterans to Get Credit Extension

Uncle Sam will extend a thirty day credit to Texas veterans who are owners of established businesses and to other businessmen who want to buy surplus property at forthcoming "on site" sales to be held in the Fort Worth region, according to an announcement made this week by Hamilton Morton, WAA regional director.

Credit arrangements must be completed before the sales begin and buyers will have to pay cash unless they bring a "letter of credit" issued by the Fort Worth regional office.

Applications for credit may be made now, by formal application either by letter or in person, to B. E. Winder, chief of the war assets administration's regional credit division, T. & P. Building, Ft. Worth.

A total of thirty-five million dollars worth of surplus property is expected to be offered at seven "on site" sales in the Fort Worth region during July, August, and September.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Strickland and Kay of Hereford spent Sunday night with his mother, Mrs. C. M. Strickland.

Mr. and Mrs. Keltz Garrison and sons of Crosbyton spent Sunday in the C. C. Garrison home.

EVERY TIME AN AMERICAN motorist goes without a tire this summer, twelve European families will have another loaf of bread. Forty seven million, five hundred thousand European families will get an extra loaf of bread because Americans are going without tires. It goes this way. Wheat makes alcohol. Alcohol makes butadiene. Butadiene makes synthetic rubber. Synthetic rubber makes tires. There is enough wheat in each tire to make 12 loaves of bread. Instead of going into alcohol, the wheat was shipped to Europe and American rubber plants were forced to cut production by 25,000 tons. Shown above, illustrating this point, are J. G. Blanchette, Dallas distributor, A. B. Nichols, Dallas branch manager, and L. A. McQueen, vice president, all of The General Tire and Rubber company.

SUPERVISORS FOR CAP ROCK DISTRICT—Earl I. Cantwell, Chairman, Louie Kitchens, Obra Watson, Pierce White and Bray Cook.

Louis Francis a cooperator in the Francis Conservation Group, requested assistance of local Soil Conservation engineers in laying out an elevated ditch across a lake area on his farm this week. This elevated ditch will enable Mr. Francis to irrigate approximately 120 acres of additional land from his present irrigation well.

The Crass Conservation Group has purchased an all steel land leveler. The land leveler is mounted on rubber tires, which are used mostly for transport purposes, and is equipped with an automatic steel blade which is capable of carrying two-thirds of a cubic yard of dirt from high to low places. This piece of equipment is especially valuable in leveling one-way ridges, center furrows and for general floating operations. The leveler is 12 feet in width and 20 feet long and can be operated by the average size farm tractor. This land leveler and float were purchased by Earl Cantwell, T. J. Crass, Alvin Redin, Carl Wimberly, Jack Jowell, and Edwin Crass.

Bray Cook, a cooperator in the northeast part of the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District, is constructing seven miles of terraces on land seeded to wheat on his farm this week. Terraces are being constructed by a disc type terracer which is attached to a regular farm tractor. Lines and terrace design layouts were made by Soil Conservation Engineers assisting the Board of Supervisors of the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District.

After interesting discussions the program was climaxed with a dialogue, "Shining for 60 Years", by Mrs. Jim Clemmer, the Sunbeam leader and Mrs. G. A. Elrod Young Peoples Secretary of the WMU commemorating the 60th anniversary of the Sunbeam band. Ladies present at the meeting were: Mesdames John Wheelock, G. A. Elrod, Jim Clemmer, G. R. Dowdy, Jim Bomar Douglas Arnold, Carol Garrison, R. E. Stephens, Hugh Stodghill, Roy S. Brown, Sam Brown and Luree Burson.

Mrs. R. E. Brookshier was a Tulia visitor Friday morning.

Many People Attend A&M Dairy Days

More than 15,000 people attended the 26 dairy days held during the latter part of April, May, and early June from south Texas to the Panhandle. Classification of cattle, dairy cattle judging contests, demonstrations on the use of milk and its products in the family diet, and discussions of the 1946 8-point dairy program were all included as parts of the program of the dairy day.

G. G. Gibson, dairyman for the A. and M. college extension service, reports that 1,615 cattle were classified—an average of 62 at each dairy day. Cattle scoring 90 points or above, rating excellent, were awarded purple ribbons; 85 to 90, or very good, blue ribbons; 80 to 85, or good plus, red ribbons; 75 to 80, or good, white ribbons; 70 to 75, or fair, yellow ribbons.

Of the cattle shown 3 per cent received purple ribbons, 22 per cent received blue ribbons, 40 per cent received red ribbons, 26 per cent received white ribbons, and 9 per cent received yellow ribbons.

A large percentage of the total attendance at the dairy day shows took part in the judging contests in which everyone was invited to participate. Demonstrations on the uses of dairy foods were conducted by the home demonstration agents with the assistance of 4-H club girls.

Discussions of the 1946 8-point dairy program called attention to the need for better feeding and management along with improvement of the quality of dairy cattle being kept for milk production.

III. Promise (Josh. 24:16, 22-24) Before the aged leader of Israel came to the close of his life he called leaders of the people, whom he had led in the taking of the Promised Land, and urged them to continue in the way of faith and loyalty to God.

They promised rather readily, but he made clear to them that God was not interested in lip service. They were to prove their promise by putting away all strange gods.

IV. Practice (Luke 14:25-27). It is not always necessary to choose between our natural affections for those near to us and our loyalty to Christ, but if the time comes for that decision, Christ must come first without question and without hesitation.

JESUS AND SUPREME LOYALTY TO GOD LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:3-6; Joshua 24:14, 22-24; Luke 14:25-27. MEMORY SELECTION—No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.—Matthew 6:24.

The first three commandments bring man into the presence of God, where he is taught how to worship God in spirit and in truth. "The first commandment (Exodus 20:3) bids us worship God exclusively; the second (vv. 4-6) bids us worship him spiritually.

The loyalty to God of which our lesson text teaches may be summarized in four words. It is loyalty of I. Purpose (Exod. 20:3). Jehovah means, "I will be what I will be," or "I am what I am," (Exod. 3:14). His very name declares God to be the self-existent, eternal one.

There are many things concerning which we do not speak dogmatically. There are even Christian doctrines about which spiritual and earnest men may honestly differ, but regarding God we say with absolute assurance and complete exclusiveness—there is but one true God. If he is what he claims to be, if God is not to be declared to be a liar, then it is beyond the realm of

"Sure, I'll be glad to meet you after the Young People's Meeting" No better place for a date! Years ago, young people met new friends at the homes of relatives, at school, in their own homes, at parties, or in Church. Today things are different. Frequently parents are disturbed when their daughters present a stranger—the result of a blind date. Parents who put the work of a Sunday School and Church FIRST seldom worry about dates that are made at Sunday School or at Young People's meetings. This coming Sunday, over 250,000 churches in the United States will be open for worship and meditation. Millions of Americans will attend one or more services. All will benefit from their visit to the House of God. Their children will see, hear and learn the great lessons of life from volunteer Sunday School teachers. This summer is a good time to do your part in making this a better community for YOUR CHILDREN.
