Congress Battle Rages Face of Atom Bomb Test

HONOLULU, OPERATIONS ROAD.—While army officials in charge of Joint Force 1 at the Bikini atomic tests are interested in the battle now going on in the combat between civilian and military control of atomic energy, single interest here is to complete successfully the important experiments on the possible use of an atom bomb can be made at sea.

the meantime, Adm. W. H. P. Byrd, commander of Operations Force 1, has intimated that under conditions may force a delay in the underwater test in Bikini lagoon scheduled July 25, which would make "ker-day" Aug. 1 or thereafter. As has been pointed out, weather for this second test is not as perfect as for the first test when the bomb was dropped from a B-29, but it must be clear enough for aerial observation and photography.

Vets Buying Lots of War Surplus Material

Veterans of World War II are now buying more than half as much surplus property in one month as they formerly bought in six months, War Assets administration reported today.

Sales to veterans in June accounted for 35 per cent of all consumer goods sold during the month. The total of such sales was $221,915,000 in terms of reported cost. The veterans share was $77,789,000 an increase of 63 per cent over the previous month. Their previous peak was $47,795,000, or 25.2 per cent for May. In six months preceding June their total purchase amounted to $155,068,000.

Recovery value of consumer goods sold to veterans in June was $33,936,731 or 43.6 per cent. Eight classifications covered nearly 75 per cent of all such sales. They were motor vehicles, 35.1 per cent, fabricated textile products, 8.7 per cent, apparel, except footwear, 6.9 per cent, tractors, 6.8 per cent, construction machinery, 5.7 per cent, basic textiles, 5.7 per cent, general purpose industrial machinery, 2.7 per cent and footwear, 1.4 per cent.

The June report covers only sales of consumer goods to veterans of the WAA in the continental United States. It does not include sales to veterans of aircraft, capital and producer goods and real estate, nor sales to them by other agencies in this country or abroad.

In June department of Interior sales to veterans in U. S. territories and possessions totaled $1,880,000. Department of agriculture sales of agricultural products totaled $1,873,000 and the Maritime Commission reported $119,000. Purchases by veterans buying as small business through the Reconstruction Finance corporation are estimated at $3,000,000.

No figures are available on veterans purchases of aircraft in June, but it is believed that they bought a large share of the $75,000,000 worth sold.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Allard were: Mrs. J. E. Jackson and Clyde Jackson of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Clayton, Jr., and children, Sumner III and Marie Jane, of Tahoka.

Diabetes Takes Many Lives In Texas During Year

Despite the fact that modern medicine can do much to help the diabetic live out a normal life span, nevertheless diabetes took a toll of several hundred lives in Texas during the past year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

While the communicable diseases such as typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria and smallpox are annually causing a decreasing number of deaths in this country, diabetes is still taking a tragic number of human lives each year, especially in the middle aged group," Dr. Cox said.

"Until recent years diabetes was not noted as a major health problem, but it became accepted as such in direct ratio to the development of medical laboratory procedures, which made the disease more easily diagnosed."

Dr. Cox said that diabetes is disease. It seems to attack the generally recognized as a class white collar class of indoor men and women much more frequently than it does the outdoor person whose work is more vigorous and calls for more exercise. Whatever the actual cause of the disease may be, vocational and economic conditions are factors, since it seems a fact that those who do not indulge in luxurious living and whose occupations call for manual labor are not frequently affected.

Dr. Cox stated that simple, wholesome diets, sufficient exercise and sleep are factors in the prevention of diabetes, and an annual physical examination, especially in middle aged persons, is important so that if the disease is present, competent treatment can be instituted while the disease is in its early stages.

EDWIN DICKERSON

KENNETH AUTRY

The following is a letter received by Mr. Tennyson from Sgt. Kenneth Autry: Guam July 26, 1946

"Hello Bill:

How is everyone in the old home town today? You can't tell much change over here in this part of the country. Life goes just the same and about all that's on one's mind is going home.

Seems that the fleet is in as Mom told me about lots of the boys in the Navy being home. Well, I'll be there 2 months from today. All fathers and men with 22 months service left 2 days ago. I only have 19 months now and 12 of it overseas. Not very much I guess but I sure would like to get out anyway.

Say! I went up to the 3rd Photo and saw your old friend. He has a good job and runs a club up here. He is about 5 blocks from me and is on the same field that I am on. He's in the 20th Air Force and I am in the 6th Air Service Command. He looks to be about 40 years old but a swell fellow. I was surely glad to meet him.

I saw Edwin Dickerson about a week ago and I was proud because he is the only fellow I have seen since I left Silverton, who is from that little city. I have a lot of good buddies here but nothing like seeing a fellow from home. He plans to leave for the states the 3rd of August. (That was the day I left the states—a year ago!) I hope we are on the same boat but I can't see much future.

I'm still in the orderly room and doing fine. I'm duty Sgt. here. I take care of the details etc. of the Squadron.

Tell all the boys hello for me and I'll be back one of these days. Kenneth

P.S.—We have boxing every Wednesday night here. A boy from Sweetwater won the last fight with a knockout. These Texans are still plenty tough on the Yankees."

Silverton has Rains This Week

Moisture totaling .78 of an inch was recorded this week by Tom Bomar who operates the Federal Weather Bureau Station here.

The first rain fell last Saturday night with .33 of an inch being recorded.

Monday afternoon's shower, which fell in the form of a flash flood and was accompanied by hail stones, amounted to .45 of an inch.

Monday's shower fell in a matter of minutes when a thunderhead gathered, more or less, over the city limits. North of town could be seen a huge whirlwind with dirt foaming high into the air, while around the courthouse it was raining "cats and dogs". Reports indicate that Tulla received a little moisture, but a few miles west of this city only a trace was received. Near the caprock, east of the city, only a trace was reported.

Whether or not Monday's hail damaged any of the crops is unknown, but it is very doubtful, as the stones were very small—the largest being no larger than an average-sized bean.

John Gilkeyson, who received his discharge October 1, was admitted to the Veteran's hospital in Amarillo August 2 for treatment.

Junior Fanning, who has recently returned from Germany, was in Silverton Saturday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Cross and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Bean and family. Fanning spent 17 months in the service.

Silverton Softball Association Sponsors Tournament next Week

The people of Silverton and vicinity are in for some very good entertainment here next week when the local softball association is sponsoring a tournament. The tournament is to begin Monday night, August 12th and promises to be one of the fastest series of games ever to be witnessed on the local field.

Those already signed up to play are: Phillips 66, South Plains, Mac's Shop, Tulla; O. K. Welders, Tulla; Phillips 66, Silverton; and Magnolia Haylakers, Silverton. Other teams that are expected to enter are Quitaque, Lockney and Lone Star.

Bob London, manager of the Magnolia Haylakers, and Fred Mercer, of Phillips 66, predict a lot of good softball and are confident their teams will be hustling after some of the prize money.

Too Much Sense

Those who forecast that the demise of the OPA at the end of June would result in immediate and uncontrolled inflation, showed insufficient faith in the wisdom of the American people—and in the efficiency of the production and distribution machines which serve them.

Prices, of course, rose in many instances. This was due, in a number of cases, to the elimination of government subsidies—the consumer simply started to pay all the costs out of his pocket at the time of purchase, instead of the government paying part of his living through taxes. In other cases, past OPA prices had been too low, and increases were justified and inevitable. But in no instance did the upward price spiral go on without end.

One reason for that is consumer resistance. The average American isn't a sucker. If prices for certain commodities go too high, he simply goes without them or buys substitutes.

Another reason is a slow but definite increase in supply in many basic lines. As there are more goods entering the free market, the opportunities for the black marketeer and chisler diminish. They prosper only in an economy of scarcity.

A third reason is the very fine work done by distributors, led by the chain systems, in voluntarily controlling prices, in opposing hoarding, and in keeping the largest possible stocks available at all times. Retail merchandising is amazingly free of profiteering greed.

Whatever the future of price control, we should not depend upon it to prevent dangerous inflation—it alone cannot instill the desire to produce, save and reduce debt, which is essential to a sound economy and the only permanent cure for inflation.

All moneys received and which have been received and which have not been used for repurchase of land as provided herein by the Veteran's Land Board from the sale of lands and for interest on deferred payments shall be credited to the Veteran's Land Fund for use in purchasing additional lands to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II, in like manner as shall be provided for the sale of lands purchased with the proceeds from the sales of the bonds, provided for herein, for a period of eight (8) years from the effective date of this Amendment; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary to pay interest on the bonds herein provided for shall be set aside for that purpose. After eight (8) years from the effective date of this Amendment, all moneys received by the Veteran's Land Board from the sale of the lands and interest on deferred payments, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be set aside for the retirement of said bonds and to pay interest thereon, and any of such moneys not so needed shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the first Thursday in November, 1946, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast were in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution and be effective from the date of the determination of such result and the Governor's proclamation thereof.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

WHEN FATHER PRAYED

By H. C. Geddie, Canton When father prayed Beside the hearthstone of our humble cot, 'twas there My infant ears first heard the awesome voice of prayer As father asked the Lord to keep us safe from harm Throughout night's darkness, 'neath His sheltering arm. With child-like faith I knew I would be kept Safe and secure while through the night I slept; And though the darkness came, the wolf pack howled, The panther screamed, the shattering thunder rolled, The storm winds shrieked their challenge o'er my head, I laid me down and slept, upon my trundle bed; For I was not afraid.

When father prayed, With humble mein, in simple phrase and neat He laid his pleading at the Savior's feet, And begged that we might have our daily bread, Our sins forgiven and be spirit led, Our burdens lifted and our strength renewed To meet the many trials that ensued. And as he prayed oft did I watch his tear-wet face, Lifted, all glory lighted, to the throne of grace, And read his answer there.

When father prayed, He craved that God would bring our family home To meet, a band unbroken 'round the Father's throne. Long years have passed since I last heard that plea But it is not forgotten, and it will not be; For in the court of Heaven his cause will pend Until the lives on earth of all of us shall end And Heaven's high Chancellor makes His final call. The others, subjects of this plea are gone,—all. I stand alone this side the lethal tide Waiting my summons to the other side, And doubt not that the judgment of His sovereign will With mercy will be tempered; and I still Am unafraid.

ATOM BOMB—

away as a result of the bomb and her own internal explosions. The Pensacola is undamaged below decks, but her superstructure is pretty well battered up as a result of the first tests, with both stacks blown away.

Farther out in the circle are the battleships Pennsylvania and Nevada, the Jap ship Nagato and the German pocket battleship Prinz Eugen. Just forward of the Arkansas and the Saratoga are several submarines which are submerged at various depths with the double-hulled Pilotfish almost as close to the center of the burst as the Arkansas. Lighter ships make up the balance of the target array.

Opinions Vary

The effect of the bomb on these submarines is awaited with interest and in the meantime the discussion goes on as between those who predict this underwater blast will sink several capital ships including the submarines, and those who declare the damage will be negligible.

Oceanographers, who have made such elaborate plans to measure effects of the bomb, will come into their own on this second test. There was little for them to measure as result of the first test since the bomb made no appreciable waves and did no damage to the ocean bed, beaches or the island.

However, this second test is expected to create high waves in the lagoon, anywhere from 10 feet up. There are 81 officers and men in this section of the task force, most of whom have been in the vicinity of Bikini since last March recording data on the physical oceanography, biology, geology and fisheries of the atoll and surrounding waters.

Measurements of wave motion in terms of time, height and distance, their effect on the sea bottom and on the beaches, fall into three classes—supersonic echo sounding devices, and aerial and surface photography, plus maximum water height recorders on Bikini island and water level meters on several other islands of the atoll.

There are supersonic echo sounders or fathometers on 16 ships in the target array which will record large waves through the rise and fall of the ships, while 11 supersonic echo sounders on buoys will record passage of shorter waves. Mechanical pressure recorders laid 500 yards apart on the bottom of the lagoon are capable of recording wave height in range from 4 to 200 feet.

Animals Still Dying

The after-effects of this radio activity is impressive as seen from the effects on the live animals placed aboard the ships, some of which still are dying despite treatment, three weeks after they were exposed to the first bomb.

As the first task force awaits on the eve of this second test one cannot help but conjecture upon the possible effects of this unpredictable and still unknown terrific nuclear force which can decimate entire cities and depopulate nations as has been amply demonstrated at Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

The first test proved beyond any doubt that the bomb was not as effective in the open space at sea as it is when detonated over heavily-populated areas on land... that used against naval bases on land it could render a fleet at sea impotent, but that it would put out of commission a good many ships if they were in close formation and that loss of life aboard these ships would be terrific.

What effect this atomic energy will have on the future of the American navy as to ship construction and operations now, however, lies in the laps of the military evaluation board and the President's atomic energy commission, both of which are making a study for future guidance.

We can only hope that medical scientists and other scientists here for observation will glean from peace-time application which can bring benefits, and not destruction from this new war-born source of energy.

Top O' Texas Rodeo And Horse Show To Be Started Soon

Plans are about complete for the annual Top O' Texas Rodeo and quarter horse show to be held in Pampa, August 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th.

The four day show will get underway Thursday night, August 15th, at 7:30 p.m. with the kid pony show to be followed by the Palomino show, which is sponsored by the Texas Palomino Breeders' association. J. T. Boothman of Ft. Worth and secretary to the association is the judge of the show. Animals entering the Palomino show need not be registered to be eligible.

Friday morning at 9:00 a.m. the judging of quarter horses will take place in the main rodeo arena. A record number of horses is expected this year. Quentin Williams is superintendent of the quarter horse division. Special loving cups will be presented to the grand champion stallion and mare in addition to the cash prizes offered.

The grand parade will take place at 3:00 p.m. Friday, August 16th, with bands, floats, and all kinds of organization and individual entries taking part. The Khiva Shrine Drum and Bugle corps of Amarillo, the Shamrock Irish band, the Harvester band from the Pampa high school and one or more army bands will add to the color of the big parade. Over five hundred horses are expected in the parade this year, surpassing the four hundred of last year. The army will make up a section of the parade presenting all types of modern army equipment.

Rodeo performances will be held on Friday night, Saturday afternoon, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon with the awarding of special prizes at the final performance.

Special Rodeo dances will be held in the Junior high school gym on Friday and Saturday nights at 10:00 p.m. after the rodeo performance with Rip Ramsey and his Texas Wanderers furnishing the music.

Special attractions at this year's show will include Dandy Fly-Way, educated stallion, presented by Bud Thies of Dallas, the Childress mounted quadrillo, "Pancho" the cowboy monkey and Louis Blair and his clown mule, "Gunpowder".

Advance entries in the various contests indicates the biggest show in the history of the "Top O' Texas".

Farms and Ranches In Need of Laborers

General farm and ranch workers are still needed in most sections of Texas despite the return to farms in large numbers of veterans and war plant workers, according to a labor survey conducted by C. Hohn, State farm labor supervisor with the Texas A. and M. college Extension Service.

In the panhandle labor needs are not large, but general farm workers are wanted in Lipscomb county and tractor drivers in Swisher and Roberts counties. Hoe hands are in demand in Crosby and Lynn counties.

Cotton and grain sorghum growers in the rolling plains country from San Angelo to Oklahoma need year-around farm hands and cotton choppers in Childress, Donley, Foard, Kent, Stonewall and Haskell counties. General farm and ranch workers are needed in the eastern counties of the Edwards Plateau.

North of Brownwood to Oklahoma in the West Cross Timbers and North Central Grazing areas, a few general farm and ranch workers as well as year-around and skilled laborers are in demand. There is opportunity for dairy hands in this area also, says Mr. Hohn.

Year-around farm and dairy hands will find work in the Northern part of the Black and Grand Prairie areas above Austin. General farm hands are needed in the South Texas blackland from Beeville to Brenham, where cotton picking has begun in Bee and DeWitt counties.

The survey showed that in nearly all sections, living quarters will be furnished for year-around workers, with wage rates running from $60 to $140 per month. Day hand rates range from $3 to $8 in some sections.

JESUS AND HOME RELATIONSHIPS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:12; Mark 7:9-13; Luke 2:51, 52; Ephesians 6:1-4.

MEMORY SELECTION—Honorable father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Exodus 20:12.

Home—that place so dear to the heart of each one of us—is even more precious in the sight of God. He is concerned about our homes and those who live in them.

Right relationship between children and parents have much to do with the peace and prosperity of a community and a nation. Experience has demonstrated that to be true, but even more basic is the fact that it is in accord with the promise of God.

One of the sad breakdowns in modern life is that of proper honor and obedience to parents by children. In all too many homes God's order has been reversed and instead of honoring and obeying their parents, children (both young and old) have taken the place of "boss," and mother and father must obey if they want peace and rest.

The problem of juvenile delinquency, or perhaps we should say more correctly, parental delinquency, is right on our doorstep now. That means that the need for our lesson is both great and acute. The future happiness of hundreds of thousands of children and the present welfare of thousands of neglected and boss-ridden parents will depend on the intelligence and faithfulness with which this lesson is taught in our churches, and the honesty of heart with which we all receive its truth.

I. The Responsibility Stated (Exod. 20:12).

"Honor thy father and thy mother"—how good, and substantial, and right those words sound.

We are told by Paul that this is the "first commandment with promise" (Eph. 6:1-3). The Lord was not making a bargain with man, or seeking to draw out obedience by a prize, but there is obviously a great reward in the observing of this commandment.

Then too as the children of God (if we are such) through Jesus Christ, the first and most important consideration to come before us is, What is the mind and will of the Maker of us all regarding this matter of the relationship between parents and children? His words are plain: we are to "honor" our fathers and mothers.

The word "honor" carries with it a great many things, but perhaps the three outstanding elements are respect, obedience and affection.

But men do not wish to follow God's direction, so we see next

II. The Responsibility Evaded (Mark 7:9-13)

Such an important commandment naturally held a high place in the thinking of the community. To violate it involved a measure of shame which men sought to avoid. So the Jews of Christ's day devised a scheme which made it possible for a man to appear to be very religious even as he deprived his parents of the honor and help to which they were entitled by the law of God.

The man who did not wish to support his aged and needy parents could entirely evade that God-given responsibility by declaring that his property was "Corban"; that is, dedicated by a vow to God. Thereafter no matter how great was the need of his parents they could receive nothing, and yet he could keep it and use it for himself.

Thus do men make "the word of God of none effect" (v. 13) through their traditions. The method differs but the spirit persists even in our day.

Jesus made short work of such trickery and evasion. He declared their man-made creeds and traditions to be simply a means of making the command of God of none effect. Once more he condemns that formal religious observance which serves as a cloak for sin and selfishness.

III. The Responsibility Fulfilled (Luke 2:51-52; Eph. 6:1-4).

The manner in which children should be obedient to their parents and honor them in the home is beautifully exemplified in the life of our Lord, living as a boy in Nazareth.

In the home the growing youth finds the best place for normal, well-rounded development (v. 52). There is no substitute for the home.

The words of the Holy Spirit through Paul in Ephesians 6:1-4 stress the same truth and enlarge upon it.

This matter of honoring and obeying parents "is right," says Paul. It is the Lord's way, but it is also that which commends itself to every right-thinking person.

There is tremendously important truth on the other side of the picture. Parents are not to provoke their children to anger, to disrespect or disobedience.

May God help us who are parents that we may take to heart this part of our lesson. Our children are our most valuable possession.

Best rates on government insurance policy loans have been reduced from five to four percent annually effective August 1.

New rate is in keeping with present trend of interest rates on loans made by commercial insurance companies.

Approximately 127,000 veterans both wars have loans of over $115,000,000 outstanding. U. S. Government Life or National Service Life insurance on an annual basis.

The new rate will mean a savings of over $1,000,000 to these veterans. The new four per cent rate represents the second reduction in government life insurance loan rates within the past seven years.

Loans may be secured on permanent plans of U. S. Government Life and National Service Life insurance after the policy has been in effect one year.

The Veteran's administration is serving veterans in small towns and rural areas through itinerant contact representatives to a greater degree than at any time in its history. About 40 per cent of the itinerant contacts are with sick and disabled veterans.

Nearly 12,000 loans totaling approximately $50,000,000 were made to veterans in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi under the GI bill up to June 28. The government guaranteed portion of the loans amounted to $24,306,543. Almost 90 per cent of the veterans applied for financial aid to buy homes. Increased farm loans are expected as soon as more farm machinery appears on the market.

'TASK BAKER'—Radio impulses sent out from the USS Cumberland Sound, indicated in top drawing (1) were to detonate the underwater "A" bomb for the "Task Baker", second of the Bikini experiments. The bomb was suspended from a special barge (2). As indicated by the arrows (3) a number of "drone" ships were directed into the lagoon to test the effects of radio-activated water.

was being drenched with rain. After landing, we learned the atomic bomb was already there and about 75 yards from where we landed, which was the reason for the precaution. The authorities were taking no chances that a skidding plane might skid the wrong way and naturally we were all in accord with such precaution. None of us had any idea of interfering with the regular scheduled operation because we understand those bombs are rather limited at the present time.

The question on everyone's lips was "What kind of weather will we have tomorrow?" While it was cloudy and rainy that night, the weather experts predicted the target would be clear for July 1. The bomb was scheduled to be dropped at 8:30 the next morning and we were roused at 3:30, although takeoff time wasn't scheduled until about 7:30.

After a hasty breakfast and steaming black coffee, we were at the landing strip and watched the B-29 ships engaged in the operation takeoff. "Dave's Dream", the ship carrying the atomic bomb, was the last to take off and we followed it by about 10 minutes in another airplane. I might add that as a further precautionary measure the officials had evacuated all military and naval personnel to adjacent islands just in case of an accident. A special ramp had been built for installation of the bomb and most of the activity across the landing strip was hidden by an army tent and no personnel except those actually engaged in the operation were permitted to go near, which gives an idea just how closely the atomic bomb secrets are being kept.

By EUGENE WORLEY

Shortly after midnight of the following day, we left for Johnston Island, 743 miles distant, and just a pinpoint in the ocean. The actual area of the Pacific ocean is tremendous. As Admiral Chester Nimitz remarked recently—"If there's a place in the world really bigger than Texas, it must be the Pacific,"—and it's more than amazing how a navigator can lead you to such a tiny pinpoint of coral and soil in such vast expanse of water. Each man aboard of course was equipped with a life preserver and a parachute. In addition, in case of a forced landing in the water, we had a rubber life raft and had been briefed as to just what to do in case. Needless to say, none of us had any burning desire to be compelled to use these devices as Captain Eddie Rickenbacker and a number of others had used them.

After an hour or so at Johnston, we left about 5 a.m. for Kwajalein, but in the meantime had picked up a full day because we had crossed the International Date Line. From Johnston to Kwajalein was something over 1600 miles or about an eight hour trip. As you will recall, Kwajalein Island was being used as the main base for the Bikini atomic bomb operations. The Bikini lagoon is approximately 230 miles from Kwajalein and in approaching Kwajalein we radioed ahead for permission to fly over the target ships.

You have read enough descriptions of Bikini to justify my not describing it here, but the ships themselves impressed us as ghost ships. They were dispersed generally throughout the lagoon and deserted of all people except a few that were doing some last minute checking. This was on June 30 and the next day was July 1 or, "Able Day", which was the scheduled date for the test to determine the effect of an atomic bomb in naval warfare as distinguished from land warfare. We circled the lagoon several times and then flew in at about 200 feet to get a closer view and then on into Kwajalein. There are lots of rain squalls in that area during the monsoon-typhoon season and we hit one when we came in. We were ordered to circle for about three-quarters of an hour because the landing field

Q. How many nests do I need for my laying hens?
A. You should have one nest for every seven hens. If traps are used, you should have one nest for every four hens.

Q. Is goat meat palatable?
A. Goat meat, called chevon, is recognized as a delicacy by many people. It can be prepared in any of the many ways other kinds of meat are cooked. Goat kids from 50 to 75 lbs. in weight are especially delicious when barbecued.

Q. How many market hogs may be produced from each sow in a high-producing brood sow herd in one year?
A. Records at the Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company show that each sow in the Purina herd produced an average of 19.3 market hogs during the 12-month breeding period just ended. These hogs were marketed at 6 months of age after being farrowed, grown, and fattened on the two-litter-a-year system of the Purina Hog Program of good breeding, sound management, careful sanitation, and good feeding.

Q. In using the 2-4D hormone weed killer, is one spraying sufficient?
A. Most weeds will be killed by one spraying of 2-4D, but it may be necessary to spot spray about four weeks later in order to kill any weeds that are especially persistent or any that have grown since the first spraying. 2-4D does not kill seeds.

Q. At what age do range cows produce the heaviest calves?
A. According to the New Mexico Experiment Station, in tests over a period of 7 years, cows produce heavier calves and, therefore, more beef at weaning time, when they are 6, 7, and 8 years of age. This is the period when cows show the greatest weight and vigor.

Nature's Forces Release the Energy of the Atom... and OIL-PLATE Your Engine!

THE Atomic bomb's awesome demonstration promises the release of new and useful energy for the benefit of all mankind.

Studying the molecular structure of matter and the mighty forces of attraction existing between liquids and solids, Conoco scientists are able to bring motorists new and better oils. In fact, the force of molecular attraction (basic force that holds things together), will bond a special ingredient of Conoco motor oil to your engine's working surfaces. Thus they'll be OIL-PLATED!

And because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it belongs... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight... you'll get these benefits:

- added protection from corrosive action
- added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon
- added smooth, silent miles

Geology Dept. At A. and M. Re-vamped

A comprehensive reorganization of the department of geology of Texas A. and M. college was announced this week by Dr. T. D. Brooks, dean of the school of arts and sciences. Call of staff members to military service and small wartime enrollment during the past three years necessitated employment of four new staff members, to be ready for the expected record-breaking enrollment at the college next September.

Heading the geology department will be S. A. Lynch, who has headed the department at North Texas agricultural college at Arlington and who has done extensive consulting work in association with DeGolyer and Mac-

Naughton of Dallas. As professor and head of the department Mr. Lynch will continue his consulting and maintain his close contacts with the petroleum and other industries which depend on geologists in their operations, Dean Brooks announced.

Mr. Lynch graduated with a bachelor of science degree from the Missouri school of mines in 1929, received his master of science there in 1931 and his professional engineering degree in 1935. He also did graduate work in geology at the University of Texas. He has been on the staff of North Texas agricultural college since 1929, having previously served on the staff of the Missouri school of mines while completing his education.

Joseph J. Graham, since 1945 a lecturer on paleontology at the University of California, joins the Texas A. and M. college geology staff as associate professor. He is a graduate of the University of Alabama, attended Ohio State university and received his master of science degree at North-

From 1942 to 1944 Mr. Graham was a micro-paleontologist for the Standard Oil company of California. He will have charge of the department's courses in paleontology.

Another associate professor added to the geology staff is William C. Rasmussen who received his training at the University of Chicago. His master of science degree was awarded in 1939 with research and thesis work in heavy mineral sedimentation. Prior to the war he served in the U. S. Geological Survey and since his discharge has been an assistant geologist with that service in the groundwater division. His teaching assignments will be largely in petrology.

The fourth new staff member in geology is assistant professor Stewart Bevan, graduate of the Texas college of mines and met-
