Wholly disapprove of what you say, but I will defend unto death your right to say it.—Voltaire.

You Interested, Mr. Merchant?

During the war which has just passed most little towns and villages in the nation took a "beating". People of their trade territories were forced to rely on larger towns in order to secure certain materials and commodities with which to meet their individual needs. With hostilities ceased by over a year, many hard-to-get items beginning to be found on the shelves and display counters of the stores in our own little town of Silverton, but are all the people who have been forced to do their trading in other towns changing their minds of out-of-town buying? No, they are not!

Should it be that certain activities should be promoted in order to bring back the old customers to Silverton? Should there be some new thing added that will get "the old ball rolling" again, and bring "blood" into our midst? Twenty years ago the population of this city was near the twelve hundred mark. Today, it is something less than eight hundred. With proper incentive on the part of Silverton's merchants and professional men, could this old figure ever be reached again? Should we make Silverton a better town in which to live and do business than we just assume an "I don't care" atmosphere and let the other towns such as Tulla, Floydada, Quitaque, Plainview and others harvest made inevitably through our negligence and stupidity?

It takes the combined efforts of all merchants and the people of this town to really "put over" any worthwhile project. No man can do such an undertaking alone. It took teamwork to win the war. We are still at war—on a competitive basis. Not a war of competition among ourselves but in a war of competition against other towns. What should be done? On Monday night at 8:00 p.m. there will be held in the District room of the Courthouse a meeting of local business and professional men of the city of Silverton, the object of which is to organize a Chamber of Commerce or some other club that will "get the ball rolling" and lay the platform for a better Silverton.

Business and professional men of this city owe it to themselves, their families and all the people of Silverton and its trade territory to attend this meeting.

County Receives 4.52 Inches of Moisture

Evidence of the fact that the ducks won't be disappointed is being noted all over Briscoe county this week. Muddy feet, muddy cars and smiling farmers are reminiscent of the good rains which have fallen since last Thursday's press time.

According to Raymond Bomar, operator of the local weather bureau station, since last Thursday noon, 4.52 inches of moisture have fallen.

The first of the last series of rains fell last Thursday night and during the day Friday, when a recording of 2.70 inches was noted. The last rain, which started falling last night and is still falling as we go to press, up to 2 o'clock measured 1.82 inches.

There are no words capable of describing how much these rains have been worth to the people of Briscoe county. They have certainly been "million-dollar" rains. In describing his feeling about the rains, one well-known farmer of this vicinity said, "Well, I'll tell you . . . It's been dry 85% of my life and I would like to spend the remaining 15% waiting for it to dry up."

Mr. Andrew Essary and son, Gerry Don, of Morton, and Mrs. Adams were visitors during the noon hour, on Tuesday of this week in the home of Judge and Mrs. Clyde Wright Mrs. Essary was Miss Geneva Meadows, the home demonstration agent for Briscoe county some time ago.

McNitt, E. D. McMurry Merel McMurry attended the funeral of their son's brother-in-law at Tulla Monday morning.

Lela Castleberry returned from a visit in San Antonio with her daughter, Mrs. Burrows.

W. A. Colston spent the weekend in Lubbock.

Many New Signs Will Be Noted Over City This Week

Walking down the streets of Silverton, as of late, it will be readily noticed that the city has had the good fortune of playing host to a sign painter.

Plaque Presented to High School by Seniors of 1946

In an assembly program, held Wednesday morning of this week, in the auditorium of the local high school, a plaque was dedicated to former students of Silverton High who gave their lives for their country during World War II.

Made of bronze and bearing the names of Silverton High boys, the plaque has been hung in the hall entrance of the high school building where it will stand as a living tribute to those who died that others may live better.

Claude beats Locals in First Game of Season

Last Friday afternoon the local football team, of which L. R. Bailey is coach, made their first debut of the 1946 football season at White Deer when the locals played Claude in a twilight game.

Claude carried away the victory of the non-conference game to the tune of 6-0 but it was through a series of power plays in the second half that Claude was able to push over for a touchdown. Both teams played a defensive game.

The kick-off was to Silverton and they marched down the field to about the 5-yard-line before their offensive bogged down. Claude kicked and Silverton again made a penetration but could not muster the power to score. Claude took possession of the ball and was not stopped until they made a touchdown but failed to make their extra point. The rest of the game was played in the center of the field with neither team being able to get their offense to working.

According to Coach Bailey, the local boys showed great form in their first game of the season and many victories are hoped to be chalked up by the locals in the future.

The junior poultry and turkey show for 4-H club and Future Farmer of America members will open the show on October 7, Mr. Burton said.

Much Cottonseed Placed in Texas Mills in July

Cottonseed received at mills in Texas during July 1946 was more than 40 times as much as the June 1946 figure, the Bureau of business research at the University of Texas reports. This figure was 25 per cent more than the corresponding figure for July 1945.

Stocks at the end of July 1946 were 392.9 per cent above the June 1946 figure; however they were 31.9 per cent less than in July 1945.

Soil Conservation District News

Elbert Dickerson, a Cooperator with the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District, who lives in the San Gregg Conservation Group sixteen miles southwest of Silverton, is floating wheat land this week with an all-steel land leveler. Mr. Dickerson, who has the aid of Soil Service technicians in his conservation work, says land made smooth by floating will permit a more uniform distribution of irrigation water.

Mr. W. B. May, a Cooperator with the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District, who lives in the San Jacinto Conservation Group, is becoming much concerned about the sheet erosion that has occurred on his farm as a result of recent rains. Mr. May, who has the assistance of Soil Conservation Service Engineers in planning the terrace system on his farm, made an inspection trip to the Schied and Gasoline Conservation Groups to inspect terraces and type of equipment used in that area last week.

The following Cap Rock Soil Conservation District Supervisors met in the regular session on Friday, September 13, 1946: Obra Watson, Pierce White and Bray Cook. Visitors attending this meeting were Mr. W. Scott Amend, District Conservationist, Plainview, Texas, and Mr. Leo White, County Extension Agent, Silverton, Texas.

Texas Tech Has Record Enrollment For Fall Semester

Almost three thousand veterans joining with other students from over the state and nation, sent enrollment figures soaring over the five thousand mark during registration last weekend at Texas Technological college, an increase of some 1800 over last spring.

Although school officials, student groups and civic leaders are making every effort to make residences available, hundreds of other prospective students did not enroll because they could not find rooms or apartments.

More than 150 veterans are living temporarily in barracks at Lubbock Army Air field, several miles west of town. Incomplete registration figures show men students outnumbering women by a ratio of almost three to one.

Funeral services for Ray Hutcheson, 37-year-old crash victim who was killed Tuesday morning when his light truck hit a caboose on the Fort Worth & Denver crossing at Quitaque, were held this morning in the Methodist church of Quitaque, with Rev. Thompson, pastor of that church, officiating.

The accident, in which Mr. Hutcheson was killed, occurred Tuesday morning about 5 o'clock during a heavy fog and while a train was at a standstill. Hutcheson, who was driving into town from the west, hit with such force that his pickup was jammed under the caboose.

Trainmen went to the OK Rubber Welding Shop, a block from the crossing, for assistance in extricating the pickup and injured man from underneath the train. McCoy had just opened his shop and with the trainmen, came to town in search of someone with a car or truck and tow chain.

Seburn Neatherlin had just arrived at the cafe for his early morning cup of coffee and he took his car and tow chain and with assistance of the train crew and others, succeeded in pulling the wrecked car free of the train. The injured man could not be removed from the wreckage of the car until crowbars had pried loose the smashed and twisted iron of the cab.

Hutcheson lived only about ten minutes after being removed from the wreckage, it was reported, but never regained consciousness.

Immediate cause of the accident has not been determined, but the train crew and others stated that the area was enveloped in fog at the time of the crash, it was reported.

Dorman Purdy, employee of the welding shop, operated by Hutcheson, said they had closed the shop about 9 o'clock Monday night and that Hutcheson had borrowed Purdy's pickup to make a trip to Silverton. Apparently he was on his way home from that trip when the fatal accident occurred.

Ray was born August 10, 1909, at Springtown, in Parker county, where he joined the Methodist church at the age of 14. The family later moved to Quitaque and he placed his membership with that church. He was married July 26, 1927, to Ala Dezer and to this union one child was born, a daughter Billie Rae. Mrs. Hutcheson passed away May 3, 1937.

Mr. Hutcheson was the owner and operator of a welding shop in Quitaque.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Hutcheson, of Quitaque; a daughter, Billie Rae; and four brothers, LeRoy of Parnell, Fate and Billy Brown, of Amarillo, and Jack, of Quitaque. Interment was made in the Quitaque cemetery with the Stewart Funeral Home of Turkey in charge.

Jack Elliott of San Benito and two geologists of the Shell Oil company spent Sunday in the G. B. Mayfield home. The men were interested in the Fullers Earth on the ranch.

Prewar Service

The National Retail Dry Goods Association recently observed that retail trade has a job to do in the field of reconversion. That job consists of bringing back, as rapidly as possible, prewar standards of service—standards which could not be maintained with the labor and material shortages caused by war.

First of all, the Association suggests, stores should get rid of arrogant, bad-mannered personnel who had to be kept on the payroll in wartime because replacements were not available. In other words, stress common courtesy.

Next, departments should be adequately staffed in order to eliminate that old war custom of standing in line. This will take time in localities where labor is still short but the customer will expect it.

Stores should also, in the opinion of the Association, eye merchandise carefully with a view to eliminating the shoddy. During the war years, merchants were helpless and were forced to sell whatever they could buy. Conditions are gradually improving, and efficient buyers can obtain more reliable goods.

It's a safe bet that most retailers, chain and independent, have been working on such problems as these for some time. The typical American merchant has always been a stickler for good service. He takes pride in operating the kind of a store people like to shop in, whether it specializes in low cost merchandise or eye-catching luxuries. The customer can feel certain that those fine prewar service standards are on the way back—and that in the years to come they'll be better than ever.

Plenty of Red Tape

In report number 10, seventy-eighth Congress, of a committee headed by then Senator Truman, this observation was made: "It is the job of government to devise rules of the road, but not to tell the driver where he must travel."

That principle is as sound now as on the day some years ago when it was written. The whole system of democratic government depends upon government being an umpire, not a player in the game. The government devises laws and regulations to prevent dishonesty, misrepresentation, combinations in restraint of trade, and similar practices. Then, within those laws and regulations, the players play the game of business as best they can.

The incredible economic and social progress made by our people since the Revolution is the result of that philosophy. It is the mainstay of open competition. It is the stimulus which drives men to take chances, to develop new products, to go ahead. And, most important, it is the basic guarantee of individual freedom.

It is apparent to anyone that government has moved far away from that principle. Government has made itself player as well as umpire. And enterprise, American enterprise, finds itself chained and frustrated.

The agonizing delays in reconversion to peacetime production are largely the consequence of too much government. Any man who tries to start a business, build a home, or buy a piece of war surplus equipment knows what happens. The red tape is in abundance—and everything else is scarce. When will the American people, for the sake of the future, force a change?

Convicts Prepare For Big Prison Rodeo Soon

By C. C. SPRINGFIELD

For almost a year, some four thousand Texas Prison System inmates have been preparing for their 15th annual Prison Rodeo.

Now, they have only to wait for October 6, the first of the four Sunday shows that begin at 2 p.m. in the stadium next to the Huntsville penitentiary.

It's the World's wildest and fastest show. It's also plenty rough on plenty of tough inmates. In fact there just isn't a sport that's rougher than the bull riding contests when Brahma bulls lock horns with Texas lock-busters.

Right now, the riders are ready to go. For that matter, all the convicts are ready, although their "going" is somewhat hampered by legal red tape and numerous shotgun guards. Just the same, they're ready.

Practice, and plenty for anyone, is the main activity under way now.

Riggin's being readied; stock are being groomed; riders are being fitted with zoot-suit raiment. Yes, stripes will be the fashion at this year's style show!

All the contestants—even the clowns—will enter the arena in stripes.

Solely photogenic effects, however, since stripes in prison are reserved for escapees and mutineers.

Albert Moore, director of this 15th annual rodeo, says this will be the fastest show yet. He has added 16 Montana Bucking horses to his string.

Bert Stonehocker, the head clown, was troubled until recently.

Same trouble as that besetting free-world merchants and entrepreneurs.

No help! Then came the miracle! Bill Garrett, participant in a dozen shows, returned.

His conditional pardon had been revoked. Garrett says he had it done himself so that he could see the show from behind the scenes, so to speak.

W. Albert Lee of Houston, Prison Board member and chairman of the rodeo committee says he has signed up Guadalupe Partido, Charro (Roping) Champion of the Republic of Mexico. Partido will bring Valentino, his horse.

This lad is a top roper, able to lasso ten horses at once.

The convict band, aided by inmates transferred from other units, is about ready and promises plenty of hot licks during the show.

"Piddlers," as inmate craft-workers are known behind the walls, are working every spare minute to manufacture novelties for sale at the show.

One inmate said he was "trying to make enough to put his boy through high school."

Others use their earnings for cigarettes, writing paper and other incidentals.

Comes in handy when there are no home folks to furnish spending money.

Performers are recruited from the ranks. Practically all are rank amateurs. A limited few have had previous cowboy experience.

When they sign up to ride, they absolve the System of blame in case of accident.

Albert Moore warns them that they contest on a voluntary basis for the prize—and day-money.

Even*so, some of the amateurs, after a ride or so, make up in guts what they lack in balance and training.

One convict, urged to quit after half a dozen training tumbles, shook his head resolutely.

"What! . . . And have them fellas think I'm yellow. . . . Oh, no! Lemme on that bull."

As rough as it is, the convicts flock to the bull riding event, perhaps because it is so colorful.

It's truly a "gambo!" with death. However, most convicts are gamblers. They gambled on the outside with the Law and lost. Inside, they take to the bulls.

Peiping like many other Chinese cities, is surrounded by a high wall of tremendous thickness and all entrances to the city are guarded. The Communist Army was very active in that area and the Nationalist forces were taking no chances of a surprise attack. The type of Chinese in the north seemed to be different from those in the south. The northern Chinese are larger in size and seem to be more versatile. Weather in the northern part is often severe in winter while it is generally temperate farther south.

Again came conferences with our American representatives and about daylight a day later, we were leaving for Tokyo, 1400 miles to the east. We had been "advised" at Peiping not to fly closer than twelve miles over Port Arthur, which is a heavily fortified Russian base in lower Manchuria. You will probably recall that a number of our navy planes had been shot at or shot down by the Russians when they came any closer than the twelve mile limit. Having no desire to

This is addressed to young people who sometimes find their evenings dull, who would like to meet others, who are just a little perplexed.

Right here in this community are many churches, whose members have worked year after year to make this a better place for everyone.

If you would like to get out of the "rut" you seem to be in, visit all of the churches.

You are sure to find one that seems to fit you. Then join any Bible Class, offer to act as an usher, or secretary, or clerk, or teach a Sunday School class.

It's a matter of record that the happiest people are those who do things for others. You just can't keep good friends from coming your way if you associate yourself with some Church. It's the ideal place to meet, to marry. Millions have found this to be true.

either be shot at or shot down, we skirted Port Arthur from 12 to 15 miles but our binoculars helped us to see the port and facilities reasonably well. It seems more than strange that our former allies, the Russians, would adopt such an attitude, particularly when we allow them full permission to fly in or over our own installations either in Europe or the Far East or the U. S. We have nothing to hide but apparently they have.

We made an unscheduled landing at Seoul in Korea and spent a short time there with our own occupation forces. As usual, I inquired if there were any Texans about and of course found Texas well represented. One member of the Committee was from a small Middle-Western state but, much to his own dismay, he seldom found a home state boy.

In Korea our forces occupied the southern half with the Russian forces in the northern half. The Russians put our forces on notice they were not to come north of 38 degrees, a boundary which is the dividing line of the occupation forces. While the Commanding Officer informed us there had been no recent conflicts between the forces, we were given to understand that the entrance of any of our people into the Russian Zone would be most vigorously opposed. It is important to point out that the USSR has an occupation force of better than two hundred thousand soldiers, plus a strong air force, in their zone compared to the handful we have in the American Zone.

Leaving Korea, our next scheduled point was Nagasaki on the southwestern tip of the Japanese chain of islands. We had hoped to see where one of the two atomic bombs was dropped. However, the weather was very bad over Nagasaki so we turned north to Hiroshima and saw where one single atom bomb had killed at least sixty thousand people. Save for a few concrete and steel buildings, absolutely nothing was left of Hiroshima in the area where the bomb hit. I have seen the shambles left in several of the big German cities but the destruction there was not as complete as the destruction of Hiroshima. In addition, the German cities were destroyed by thousands upon thousands of block-busting bombs and incendiaries whereas Hiroshima fell force of only one bomb. It is of course to be borne in mind that the construction in Japan is entirely different from the German towns but one important thing to remember is that concussion from the bomb and the radio-active properties destroyed sixty thousand people. Just compare this with the population of Amarillo, for example, and then wonder what our defense we could use against enemy attacking with

The Force that Holds Up the Rainbow Natural Bridge..

OIL PLATES Your Engine!

ONE of America's wonders is the tremendous Rainbow Natural Bridge in Utah. Weighing millions of tons, it's held up by the mighty forces of attraction that exist between molecules of stone.

By ceaseless study of the molecular attraction between liquids and solids, Conoco engineers are able to bring motorists new and better oils. For example, under laws of molecular attraction, a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil is attracted to working surfaces of your engine. So strong is this attraction that cylinder walls and other parts are OIL-PLATED.

Because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL PLATING up where it belongs

... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight . . . you get these benefits:

- added protection when your engine starts up
- added protection from corrosive action
- added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

Remember what Will Rogers said that it takes to make a dramatic critic? "Two seats on the aisle."

And he declared that "college is wonderful because it takes the children away from home just as they reach the arguing stage."

Will remarked of the Dionne quintuplets that "motherhood has been put on a mass production basis."

At Cameron's 100th anniversary celebration, your columnist had the honor of speaking and the pavilion stood on the spot where the immortal James Stephen Hogg and his rival, George Clarke, once spoke. The original stand yielded to the years but the new one is a duplicate.

Interesting signs: In Childress, "We trim the car—not the customer."

In Bowie, a faded sign—perhaps 40 years old—on the wall of a building, "Buggies and Wagons."

The history of Texas is not just the Alamo and San Jacinto. The story includes circuit riders, pioneer physicians, teachers of one-room-schools and early-day editors, with their hand presses. Texas was built by heroes in homespun and heroines in sunbonnet and calico.

It is a story of hard work, and sweat, and calloused hands, of danger and hardship and prayer. It is a story of people, the kind of people that Lincoln loved—the plain people, like those who "heard the Master gladly"—the great rank and file who are the hope and the strength of our nation.

While perhaps people (if they think of me at all) think of me as a writer of humor, as a matter-of-fact, my first two books were of a serious nature—and not particularly successful, from a sales standpoint.

The first was "Were You in Ranger?", an account of the great oil rush of 1918-20, which began with the McCleskey gusher and transformed Ranger, Eastland, Cisco and Breckenridge from villages into cities almost overnight. Ten years spent in Eastland county in editing newspapers gave opportunity for gathering the material that went into this book which sold about 3,600 copies, which is not bad for a "first book", but not particularly good, either. Incidentally, "Were You in Ranger?" is out-of-print and dealers ask $6 a copy (the original price was $1.50).

Next book was "Oil Boom" an account of six Southwestern oil rushes—Spindletop, Ranger, Demon, Burkburnett, Smackover (Arkansas) and Mexia. Two of the chapters appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, before the book came out. "Oil Boom" received a fair amount of attention from some of the national critics and received an award or two—but sold fewer copies than "Were You in Ranger?"

For a long time, just as a hobby I had been gathering Texas

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS AND THE LAW OF THE STRANGER

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 22: 21-23; Deuteronomy 24:14, 15; Matthew 25:34-41.

MEMORY SELECTION—The King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.—Matthew 25:40.

There is as much need today for the words of counsel and admonition regarding strangers which we find in our lesson, as there was in the days of Moses, for there seems to be an almost complete breakdown of neighborliness both between nations and individuals.

I. The Law Required Neighborliness (Exodus 22:21-23; Deut. 24: 14, 15).

Our heavenly Father as revealed to us in his Word is a Father indeed, one greatly concerned about his many children; but especially does he care for those who are weak and needy.

The laws of ancient Israel made provision for the feeding of those who had no fields. The corners of the field were left uncut at harvest-time, some of the grapes were to be left on the vine, etc., picked for themselves what God sense of self-respect as they so that the poor could enjoy the had provided (see Lev. 19:9, 10; 23:22; Deut. 24:19-21, and other passages).

The poor man who found work was to receive his pay when needed. For the one who hired him to do otherwise was to bring upon him the judgment of God. He listens to the cry of the hungry worker and his family (Deut. 24: 15).

Strangers were in a peculiar way subject to the possibility of extortion. They are even today the easy mark of the one who lives by his wits, the "confidence" man and sneak thief.

If any such person reads these notes let me warn him solemnly to keep his tricky hands off the stranger, for God is watching and will hear their cry (Exod. 22:23).

The same is true of widows and orphans. God is their keeper and their defender.

Someone may say that all this is Old Testament in its background and principle. What about the follower of Christ in our day? The answer is that

II. Christ Expects Neighborliness (Matt. 25:34-41).

This is a prophetic picture of a great judgment scene. It is not, as many suppose, the same as the judgment of the Great White Throne of Revelation 20.

The scene here is not in heaven, but upon the earth. It is not individuals who are being judged, but the nations of the earth. They are not being judged regarding personal salvation, but for their treatment of Christ's brethren.

Who are his brethren? First we think of his brethren, after the flesh, the people of the Jewish race. Scripture reveals again and again that God is watching over his chosen people, even though they are now scattered in judgment for their unbelief. He will not hold any guiltless who harm his people (Gen. 12:1-3).

The word "brethren" is also used in such a passage as Matthew 12:46-50 to include all who do the will of God. That suggests a broader application of these words.

Our attitude toward God expresses itself in our attitude toward our fellow man. That which we do toward those about us is not a matter of indifference, but is the basis for God's judgment of our lives. Each of us must answer for the deeds done in the flesh whether they be good or evil. That is true even of the believer (II Cor. 5:10), whose salvation has already been determined by his faith in Christ.

Here is our lesson, however, the failure to do that which shows forth God's law of love is made the ground of eternal judgment. This is not because an act of kindness itself can be regarded as the ground of division, but because the failure to give it or do it reflects an attitude of heart toward our God and his Christ which is in reality a rejection of his way of salvation.

Judgment is thus a revelation of the attitude of the heart, which marks a man or woman as being either saved or lost. It may be possible to so becloud the thinking of our friends and neighbors that we may go through life looking something like a Christian, but when Christ judges, it will all be revealed.

Notice the importance of a proper attitude toward those who need our kindness and help. All too often the only concern of men and women is to look out for "number one" and let the rest of the world shift for itself.

Observe also that the Lord identifies himself with his brethren—what is done to and for them is counted as done to and for him. Compare the experience of Samuel (I Sam. 8:7) and of Paul (Acts 9:5). Touch God's people and you touch him. Fail them and you fail him. Serve them and you serve him.

BREAKING TRAIL.....

WE'VE BEEN AT IT FOR 22 YEARS

Twenty-two years ago your Public Service Company started breaking trail—trails of progress.

A pioneer in building ahead for the future, the Southwestern Public Service Company has anticipated future demands for electric service by spreading its network of lines and building new power plants.

Today, in a 12 million dollar expansion program, new power lines are going up throughout our area; there'll be more reliable, low cost electricity for homes, farms and factories.

Now you too, can plan on building ahead for the future—a future of better living, better farming, better working conditions—electrically.

Your Home

Now that fall is here once more and school has started, I've been taking advantage of the cooler weather to have a real session of baking! My family is especially fond of homemade cookies, and I try to keep my cookie jar well filled for the children's after-school snacks. Applesauce cookies are particular favorites at our house, and my recipe is so simple that even amateur bakers have surprisingly good results with it. Perhaps you might like to try it.

APPLESAUCE COOKIES
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
1 cup thick applesauce
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup chopped nuts
Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg. Beat well. Add flour mixture alternately with applesauce to creamed mixture. Add raisins and nuts. Drop from spoon on greased cookie sheets about two inches apart. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) ten to fifteen minutes. Yield: Five dozen cookies.

I've found this recipe especially good! And I feel right at home baking with white flour again. There's nothing like fine-textured white flour to make fluffy smooth cakes, cookies or any kind of bakery goods. And I know if your family is like mine, they will shower praises on Mom for her baking prowess after the first nibble on a homemade applesauce cookie!

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

ing reduces crowding, promotes better feathers, and results in more-rapid growth. Early roosting is not associated with crooked breast bones.

Q. Someone told me that a calf should hold its head up when drinking milk. What is the reason for this?

A. The Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company has found that making a calf stretch its neck while drinking milk helps prevent scours. The milk bucket should be placed 1 ft. above the floor and tipped toward the calf so that the calf must keep its head up and neck stretched in drinking. This is nearer the natural position for the calf in nursing and tends to force milk past the first three stomachs to the fourth or true stomach where milk should be digested. When milk goes into the first three stomachs, it may sour, causing scours.

Q. We have been getting watery eggs from our hens. What causes this?

A. Watery eggs may be caused by the storage place being too warm, or this may be an inherited condition which can be corrected only by culling the diseased birds.

Q. In our rabbit litters we occasionally have a long-haired or woolly individual. Is this the same as an Angora?

A. No. The Angora rabbit has been purposely developed through careful selection and breeding for fancy points. The occurrence of woolly or long-haired rabbits is a throwback, and this characteristic is an undesirable trait. To eliminate the woolly from the rabbitry, avoid breeding from carriers of the gene.

Q. How hot should water be for picking broilers?

A. The temperature should be about 125 to 128 degrees Fahrenheit, and the broilers should be immersed for about thirty seconds. If the water is warmer, the skin may be scald-blotched.

Officials in the Dallas branch office of the Veterans administration are making strenuous efforts to help every disabled veteran seeking education to get into the crowded schools of the Southwest this fall.

All schools in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi have been contacted within recent days and urged by VA to give preference to disabled ex-soldiers when classes are enrolled late in September.

General Bradley, Veterans administrator, has taken a personal interest in helping disabled veterans to finish their schooling and has directed that every source to this end be used.

A list of schools in the Southwest which have indicated they are able to give preference to disabled veterans is now being compiled by VA.

Nearly 10,000 disabled veterans of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi were in training or enrolled in schools at the beginning of August. This is more than seven times the total number—1,252—enrolled a year ago.

VA's loan guarantee officers had some words of advice this week for veterans who want to start small businesses on a GI loan. One experienced loan officer summed it up this way—

"If you are thinking about going into business for yourself, Mr. Veteran, walk—don't run—to your bank or lending agency for that GI loan. And before that—think things out carefully.

"There are many indications that this is an especially good time to start a small business, and it is understandable that many veterans should want to start right now.

"The G. I. Bill made it relatively easy for them to get capital. But it takes more than capital to make a success of a small business. It takes experience, good judgment, and a lot of hard work.

"There is always an element of risk. A large percentage of small businesses fail within a year. In most cases, that is due to lack of preparation on the part of the new owners.

"Veterans should get the advice of trusted and experienced business men before such a venture. They may give you valuable advice.

"Bear in mind that this loan benefit is available to veterans for ten years from the official end of the war. And that date hasn't been set as yet."

Miss Pearl Simpson and Mrs. Ruth Watley, who are teaching at Vigo Park, were in Silverton over the weekend.

Mrs. Johnnie McClendon, the former May McGavoth, submitted to major surgery in a Texas City hospital last week. She is reported to be doing fine at this time.

Mrs. J. W. Brannon, Jr., the former Miss Evelyn Coffee, was complimented, on Saturday afternoon, with a miscellaneous shower and tea given by four hostesses: Mrs. Avis Cowart, Mrs. Fred Lemons, Mrs. Virgil Ballard and Mrs. O. T. Bundy.

The affair was given the setting of Mrs. Bundy's home where soft lights and a profusion of choice autumn flowers helped to make a charmingly inviting atmosphere.

The guests were received by Mrs. Bundy and the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Woodson Coffee, and the groom's mother, Mrs. J. W. Brannon. Mrs. Cowart ushered the visitors into the gift-room to view the display of assembled rare silver, crystal, china, linens lamps, rugs, blankets, kitchen ware, pottery, and other articles all attesting to the community's love and esteem for the popular young bride and her chosen companion.

Mrs. Mary Oliver Darnell, of Vigo Park, and Mrs. Seymour Brannon presided at the bride's-book, where seventy-five callers registered during the afternoon.—Quality Printing at the News—
