Owls To Meet Estelline Friday

The Silvertown Owls are in for some pretty strong opposition this week when they meet Estelline in that city Friday.

Estelline's line is not believed to be too strong but with their fast backfield, end runs are apt to deal the Owls a considerable amount of misery.

Starting time for the game was given as 1:30 p.m.

Cattle Grubs Cause Much Damage to Stock

Although heel flies, the parents of the cattle grub, do most of their damage in the spring, the first treatment against grubs should be given in the early fall.

Loss of weight is the greatest damage that heel flies do to beef cattle. They lose weight by running from the pests or by refusing to feed and standing in water to protect themselves from the flies.

Most farmers and ranchmen produce their own heel flies, because the flies do not fly over a half mile, the entomologists say.

In the early fall, when the cattle grubs are mature and ready to fall to the ground, the first treatment should be given. Rotenone is the most effective insecticide against the cattle grub, and it can be applied either as a dust for small herds, or as a spray for large herds.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Davis of Seminole and Kenneth Davis of Jal, New Mexico, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Beardin.

Navy is Asking For Volunteer Recruiters this Week

Volunteer recruiters to enlist men in the Naval Reserve program were being sought this week by Captain Arthur A. Ageton, Eighth Naval District reserve director.

In an effort to enlist as many eligible men as possible for the Navy's "V-6" reserve force, Capt. Ageton called for veteran Naval officers and enlisted men with some typing ability to establish spare-time recruiting centers in localities where regular recruiting establishments are lacking.

Veterans of all services are eligible for the Naval Reserve, the director said. He invited prospective volunteer recruiters to write him at his offices in the Federal building at New Orleans, Louisiana.

Mrs. A. P. Dickerson returned home Saturday night after spending several days with relatives at Dallas.

Neil Burnside of Phoenix, Ariz., is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wimberly.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Dowdy were Amarillo visitors Tuesday.

NOTICE

To The Citizens of Silvertown: We have been confronted with a bad sanitary situation. The cost of removing refuse from the City was beyond our financial ability, so at a recent Council Meeting the City Council enacted an ordinance charging each property occupant a monthly sanitary charge that will be on our October Water and Sewer Bills.

J. E. Minary Mayor, City of Silvertown.

Those who attended the Worker's Conference at the Falls First Baptist church Tuesday were Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Elrod, and Mesdames Ray C. Bomar, Gabe Garrison, C. M. Chappell, R. E. Stephens, A. D. Arnold, C. C. Garrison and Jim Bomar.

Big Carnival to be Held Here Friday Night

The Carnival is Coming. It is almost here. The date has been set for November 1 when all the Spooks will be out for a big celebration. Don't miss it.

Join in the fun and lend your aid to help the lunch*room.

This is one time in the year when the entire school community joins hands to celebrate and put over some worthwhile project. That's why they are so successful. It's co-operation.

There'll be bingo, a doll rack, a fortune teller, a fishing pond, besides basket ball and some surprise affairs to say nothing of the soft drinks and well managed Food Booth where you can get that inner man warmed and fed.

Bring a big appetite, a well filled purse, and join in all the fun. It will be worth it. Put a red ring around November 1 on your calendar and make it a long remembered holiday.

All persons will be charged a dime at the door. They will each receive a ticket with a number on it. This ticket will entitle the holder to a chance at winning a 100% wool blanket. Keep your ticket, you may be the lucky one!

The school wishes to thank the merchants of Silvertown for the help they have given. Each merchant has given a prize that some one will be lucky enough to win.

Community Singing To Be Held At Local Church Sunday

This singing was first announced for Sunday afternoon, October 6, but due to the rain on that date, it had to be postponed.

Everyone who likes good singing is urged to attend.

Wheat Planting Almost Completed In Briscoe County

Grain drills, which have been busy the past two or three weeks are beginning to take a rest this week as the trend has turned toward the harvesting of the abundant feed crop.

Most of the county's wheat was planted several weeks ago, but due to the heavy amounts of moisture which have fallen recently, planting was completely halted, and due to the packing of the ground from the rain some replanting had to be done.

Indications are that wheat acreage will be about the same as it was last year and the season in the ground is ideal.

Congratulations to:

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Smith of Texas City on birth of a daughter, Carol Ann, October 17. Mrs. Smith is the former Ruby Jewell McClendon of South Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Yocum of New Mexico on birth of a 7 pound daughter, Margreite Lee, October 19. Mrs. Yocum is the former Miss Neoma Norris.

Mrs. Doyle Durham is on the sick list this week.

Life After Forty Gets Complicated Doctor Says

From a health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual, than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. George W. Cox, State health officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than were those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical checkup, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and continued good health and prolonged invalidism.

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice arising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and freer from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.

"Inefficient, Disinterested Doctors" . . .

The Christian Science Monitor recently published a letter from Dr. Adrian H. Scolten, a distinguished physician of Portland, Maine, in opposition to the proposed Wagner-Murray-Dingell compulsory health bill. In it, he made this telling observation: "Under the proposed government-financed medicine plan, many thousands of bureaucrats are to be added to the needless mass we already have. Most of them will be non-medical men, but in control of medical affairs. These men will not make medical care a bit more satisfactory, but will give to America dissatisfied patients and inefficient, disinterested doctors."

That is a severe indictment, but the lessons of history fully justify it. Compulsory, government-dominated medicine is nothing new. It was established long ago in England, Germany and elsewhere. It exists, of course, in the Soviet Union where the state controls everything. And the verdict of experts who have examined its operation in minute detail is that it harms, rather than aids, the cause of better public health. The doctor becomes a bureaucrat, a tool of the government. The right of the patient to choose the doctor he desires is either abrogated or stringently limited. The dead hand of politics is felt everywhere. So, inevitably, the quality of medical practice declines, progress and individual research are discouraged, and the result is the "dissatisfied patients and the inefficient, disinterested doctors" of which Dr. Scolten writes.

The "Bitter Pill Bill" would go whole hog in subjecting doctors, along with hospitals and clinics, to the whims of the $4,000,000,000-a-year bureaucracy it would establish. Good as the motives behind it may be, it is the worst possible way to attack whatever public health problem we have.

Soil Conservation District News

Mr. Walter A. Graham, cooperater with the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District, who operates the W. A. Graham Estate at Quitaque, is constructing a disc type terracer for one of his row crop tractors. Mr. Graham plans to rebuild approximately sixty miles of terraces on the farm with this equipment as soon as the present crop is harvested from the land. Additional height, body and width will be added to the old terraces so that they may be more effective in controlling erosion and more easily worked. Adequate fill will be made in low areas before terraces are rebuilt according to Mr. Graham.

Blue Grama Grass has made an exceptionally good seed yield this year. Weather and moisture conditions have been ideal for maturing and harvesting a high quality seed. Several thousand acres of this grass are being harvested for seed in the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District this season. Most of the harvesting is being done by Commercial Seed Companies. Combine, header and stripper are being used to harvest the seed. Roy McMurtry, a cooperater with the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District, has had four hundred acres of grass seed harvested in one block of his ranch. Farmers or ranchers interested in securing seed for future grass seed planting are urged to harvest Blue Grama seed now as they are ripe and dry. Local technicians of the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District will assist cooperating farmers and ranchers in making the needed adjustment on combines to harvest this seed.

John King, a cooperater in the County Line Conservation Group, has seeded four acres to Austrian Winter Peas on his farm. These peas were seeded after the last rains with a six-hole corn plate. This crop will be used for grazing and for soil improvement according to Mr. King.

Veterans' News

The Veterans Administration this week urged veterans who have National Service Life Insurance to designate beneficiaries for their insurance if they have not already done so.

Don Pray, VA's director of insurance in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, explained that the Insurance Act of 1946 completely changed the situation with respect to beneficiaries. The old provision for an automatic order of succession, in the event no beneficiary was named, is no longer in effect for insurance maturing after July 31, 1946.

Under the new law, Pray said, if the insured is not survived by a designated beneficiary, the insurance proceeds will be paid in a single sum to his estate at his death.

A veteran who does not designate beneficiaries exposes his dependents to the risk of unnecessary expense and delay, Pray pointed out.

A 200-bed general medical and surgical hospital at Marlin, Texas, was among 13 new Veterans Administration hospitals approved last week by President Truman.

This brings the total of new VA hospitals planned for the Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi area to ten. Additions to existing installations also are planned.

New hospitals previously announced will be erected at New Orleans and Shreveport, Louisiana; Big Spring, Bonham, Dallas, El Paso and Houston, Texas; and Tupelo, Mississippi. Another hospital will be built in Mississippi at a site to be selected later.

Fewer veterans were paid readjustment allowances for unemployment during the week ending October 12 than in any week since last January, Ray R. Adams, Readjustment Allowance Director of VA, reported. During that week about 1,122,000 veterans claimed unemployment allowances, a nationwide survey revealed.

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Q. Do yearling steers need as much vitamin A in the fattening ration as steer calves do?

A. No. Indications are that yearling steers do not lose their vitamin A reserves as quickly as calves do. Because steer calves become depleted of vitamin A reserves more quickly than older cattle, they may need larger amounts of carotene and vitamin A in fattening periods.

Q. Considering all factors, what is the best type of fuel to use in a chick brooder?

A. The Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company made simultaneous tests for 7 hatches on brooders heated with wood, coal, gas, oil, and electricity. At the end of the tests, the average weight per chick at six weeks and the pounds of feed per pound of gain were relatively constant for the five different types of brooding equipment. There was considerable variation in fuel costs, but wood and coal, though cheaper, required more attention and skill on the part of the attendant. The most important factors in selection of a brooding fuel are the dependability of a constant source and the relative cost of the fuel. In some areas wood and coal may be more expensive as well as requiring more labor.

Q. How much difference can be made in pastures by following a pasture improvement program for the dairy herd?

A. An intelligent program of fertilization along with rotational grazing pays big dividends. Many reports show that yields increased two to three times when necessary liming and fertilizing were done.

Q. Would you give me the names of some popular squab-producing breeds of pigeons?

A. Some popular breeds are King, Carneau, Swiss Mondain, French Mondain, and Giant Homer.

Send your questions about any phase of farm management to FARM FACTS, 535 South Eighth Street, St. Louis 2, Missouri. Questions will be answered without charge, either by mail or in this column, as a service of this newspaper.

I certainly hope some veteran gets this house.

3,000,000 homes needed in next two years

To house our returning veterans, and those who have been living with relatives, in trailer camps, or abandoned army camp barracks, America needs over 3,000,000 new homes that should not cost over $6,000 each.

Like the carpenter above, we also hope that veterans get the first new homes built. They deserve them. They should have priority over all other groups.

If you happen to be one of those who are to have first choice of the new homes built and if you would like to make your new home a place of good-will and cheer, we offer this suggestion.

As soon as you are settled, visit the Churches in your neighborhood and select one that you and your family like. Then, give it your active support. You know the utter uselessness of war, its horrors, its waste, and sorrows. Fight for peace, so that your children will never know the meaning of "a call from the draft board."

PAUL CHAMPIONS FREEDOM AND BROTHERHOOD

LESSON TEXT—Acts 15:23b-29; Galatians 5:13-18.
MEMORY SELECTION—But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.—Acts 15:11.

Fundamental doctrine must be sound and true or the church will go astray. A question had arisen at Antioch which had to be answered authoritatively, and once for all.

The early converts of the church were naturally from among the Jews, and they carried with them into their new-found faith the traditions of their religion. Some of them did not recognize that the salvation they had in Christ was entirely by grace, apart from any works of the law. They not only felt that they must observe the law, but insisted that the Gentile believers must also fulfill the Jewish rite of circumcision. This promptly raised the question whether Christ alone could save, or if men were saved by grace plus works.

To settle this matter, Paul and Barnabas went up to the church at Jerusalem, and there a great council discussed it freely, and came to a decision which was then transmitted by letter and a committee.

That decision established an eternal

I. Principle—Believers Are Free from the Law (Acts 15:23b-29).

The believers at Antioch were to abstain from those things which would hinder their spiritual progress and harm their testimony. That was important and right, but it must not be allowed to confuse them regarding the basis of their salvation. They were not saved by works, not even though they were most commendable.

Salvation is by grace, through faith, "not of works, lest any man should boast" (Eph. 2:8, 9). That principle, which is absolutely foundational in all Christian thinking, was established then, and is valid and blessedly true for all time.

Is it not strange, then, that all through the church's history there has been a determined effort on the part of some in the church to add something to God's redeeming grace as a ground for salvation?

Observe the plain rebuke given to teachers of error in verse 24. It is no light matter to trouble and mislead the souls of men by injecting our worldly wisdom or our opinions, when we should be teaching the truth of God's Word.

Salvation by grace and freedom from the law does not bring the believer into a place of license, but of liberty—and a liberty controlled by a new factor in his life. We note that in

II. Practice—Believers Are Bound by Love (Gal. 5:13-15).

The one who turns to Christ by faith is indwelt by the Holy Spirit and finds that, far from failing to keep the high moral principles of God's law, he is given grace to keep them more perfectly. This he does, not in order to be saved, but because he is saved.

He comes out of a bondage to legalism, which he could not bear, into a new bondage to the law of love, which his new nature in Christ delights to bear and in which it finds the fulfillment of its highest and holiest desires.

Note that this shows itself in the church and in the world in loving service to others in the absence of strife; in a word, in the practice of the admonition: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" (v. 14; Lev. 19:18).

No one faces that life responsibility without realizing that he is evidently not able for it. God has provided for that need, for we note next that there is

III. Power—Believers Are Led by the Spirit (Gal. 5:16-18).

Being saved does not set us free from the conflict with sin, for the old nature declares itself at enmity with the Spirit. We find it often to be in our hearts to do right, and in the decisive moment we find the flesh taking control and we cannot do the things we would (v. 17).

What is the solution of that problem? An all-out attack on sin and sinful desires? That is commendable, but it somehow doesn't work. We need a superior power to work in and through us.

That's it! There is power in us and ready to work through us—the matchless, victorious power of the Holy Spirit. He dwells in the heart of every believer (1 Cor. 6:19) and only awaits our yielding to him that he may take control of our lives.

Walking in the Spirit (v. 16) is simply giving him the liberty to direct our lives after the will of God, day by day and moment by moment. This puts us in the way of victory, for as we walk in the Lord's way we may call on him for not only his grace but also his strength.

Saved by grace to a life of liberty and power—such is the inestimable privilege of the Christian. Are we, are you, living up to it?

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Paige and daughter and Mrs. Emma Paige visited in the R. E. Paige home at Lubbock Sunday. Mrs. Emma Paige remained for a few days visit with her son before returning to her home in Hollywood, California.

BOYCE HOUSE
"Gives You Texas"

What this country needs is not a good 5-cent cigar; it's the return of good, old 5-cent hamburgers. Can you remember when you got a hamburger, slice of pickle, slice of onion, mustard and a bun—all for a nickel? Now you get a slice of wilted lettuce, a sliver of apologetic tomato, a smear of mayonnaise, a dab of meat, two parched pieces of bread and three soggy potato chips—and pay 30 cents!

Senator Taft of Ohio declares the trials of the German war criminals are a disgrace. He says they were tried under an ex post facto law—that we declared the law after the act and not before. Murder has always been against the law. That law does not need to be passed by legislatures nor engrossed on parchment; the Almighty has written it in the conscience of man. No one had told Cain he should not kill his brother but Cain knew it was wrong and his Maker branded him and sent him forth to wander, accursed, through the world. Nobody has ever objected to that as a wrongful punishment—that is, nobody until Senator Taft came along.

Shall we hang a man for the murder of one—and not hang those who were responsible, through concentration camps, slave labor and executions, for the murder of millions?

A hunter popped a pheasant on a hill; It made a great to do and then was still. It seems, when later on his game he spied It was his guide.

And one dispatched a rabbit for his haul That later proved to be six feet tall. And, lest you think I'm handing you a myth, Its name was Smith.

A cautious man espied a gleam of brown; Was it a deer, or Jones, a friend from town? And while he pondered at the river's brim Jones potted him. —Anonymous.

Forces of Attraction Keep a Comet in its Course...

and OIL-PLATE Your Engine!

BASIC forces of attraction and repulsion keep a comet in its course around the sun. By ceaseless study of the molecular attraction between liquids and solids, Conoco engineers are able to bring America's motorists new and better oils.

For example, under the laws of molecular attraction, a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil is attracted to working surfaces of your engine. So strong is this attraction that cylinder walls and other parts are OIL-PLATED.

And because molecular attraction holds OIL-PLATING up where it belongs . . . prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight . . . you get these benefits:

added protection when your engine starts up added protection from corrosive action added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon added smooth, silent miles

That's why to OIL-PLATE now . . . at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. Look for the red triangle. Continental Oil Co.
