"Pursued" To Show at Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday

A penetrating and exciting suspense into the majestic, gunning west of 1900 awaits those who visit the Palace Theatre here Niven Busch's "Pursued" Warner Bros. release produced by United States Pictures, opens tomorrow night. Starring Teresa Wright and Robert Mitchum, the high and ready, suspenseful melodrama, alive with adventure and romance, also boasts a superb supporting cast that includes Judith Anderson, Dean Jagger, Alan Ladd and a talented young newcomer, John Rodney.

"Pursued" is the two-fisted, turbulent tale of the southwest when it was young, and of Jeb (Robert Mitchum) who was persecuted and stalked by an outlaw, the two Callum children, Thorley (Teresa Wright) and Adam (John Rodney).

When Jeb matures, he and her confess their love for each other, as he enlists to fight in the Spanish-American War Returning a hero, Jeb quarrels bitterly with his foster-brother, who later is killed by Jeb.

The News could continue to tell the story of this much-better-than average movie, but it would only add to take away a part of the enjoyment in seeing it.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wilkens and daughter, Connie of Vigo Ark visited with Mrs. Pearl Simpson Saturday.

AAA Office Again Issuing Approvals For Farm Practices

According to an announcement made here this week by George Martin, local secretary to the AAA Administration, his office, in May of this year, was directed to stop the issuance of approvals for all farm practices.

For several weeks no practice approvals were made but at present approvals are being resumed. Farmers who requested approvals during the time none were taken may find that their request has been approved now due to the fact that the State Committee has authorized the local office to issue late approvals on all practices that were carried out between May 26th, 1947 and August 6th, 1947.

"However, if these late practices were approved, before payment can be made for this year, they must be reported by August 31, 1947.

All farmers who have any doubt as to the aforementioned are urged to contact the local AAA office," Mr. Martin concluded.

Though inadequate to meet the demands of growing feed and row crops, moisture measuring .19 of an inch was recorded at the local Federal Weather Bureau Station by Ray C. Bomar, operator.

SWING OF THE SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Lower prices for cotton and some livestock and vegetables marred otherwise steady to strong prices for southwest farm products last week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Most grains advanced steadily last week, influenced by continued dry weather in much of the corn belt, and by anticipated large export requirements of wheat. No. 1 hard ordinary wheat reached $2.50 per bushel Friday at Fort Worth and Galveston and white corn rose to $3.05 to $3.09. No. 2 milo sold at $3.42 to $3.47 per 100 pounds. Oats gained some, but yellow corn and barley changed little.

New crop rough rice advanced about $1 per barrel last week under active demand. In irregular feed markets, cottonseed meal sold $5 to $8 higher while bran and shorts lost $3 to $5. Alfalfa and Johnson grass hays rose to higher levels in the southwest. Showers slowed South Texas peanut harvest, but other areas need

For Value Received . . .

Among criticisms commonly heard in regard to the American medical system, are unavailability of doctors in sparsely settled areas, high costs, and inadequate facilities. Those who are unable to see anything good in established American institutions such as medicine, have magnified these criticisms to the point where many people have lost perspective.

A short time ago, to illustrate a few of the good points in our medical system, a party of vacationists was cruising on a small boat in the northwestern corner of the State of Washington, among the San Juan Islands. It is a remote area. One evening a small child in the party developed a high fever. By the time the nearest island village was reached, it was very late. The parents located a doctor who came to the boat immediately and spent nearly two hours with the child. He had just completed a "residency" with a well known hospital. When questioned about local hospital facilities, he said there were none but that he cooperated closely with the Coast Guard. Emergency cases were taken to the mainland an hour or so away by high-speed cutter. His personal interest in the child was apparent. He returned home at 1 A. M., but was back at the boat at 7 A. M. for a final check.

The next night the party and the little patient were once again moored in an out-of-the-way spot. Again it was necessary to call a doctor and again an efficient, courteous individual appeared late at night. This time arrangements were made for admission to a Seattle hospital at 2 A. M., where still another doctor took immediate charge. Complete examinations covering a thirty-six-hour period followed. Through it all appeared the same personal concern for a patient's welfare.

Finally, the patient was released. Hospital expenses were disposed of without red tape, under the Blue Cross plan. Total doctor bills, night calls and all, involving three different doctors who had spent in the aggregate some thirty years preparing to follow their profession, amounted to slightly over thirty dollars.

The next time you hear a "reformer" condemn the American medical system, you should ask yourself in all sincerity how many other callings—lay or professional—give a greater measure of service, dollar for dollar, than your doctor.

Behind The Scenes in AMERICAN BUSINESS

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT
NOTE TO READERS—The information contained in this weekly summary of happenings in the world of business and industry has been obtained from sources we consider reliable but is not guaranteed. Opinions and forecasts are based upon careful analysis but are subject to change without notice.

—The Editor.
NEW YORK, August 25—Bankers and others are beginning to show a little concern over the effects of easing the curbs on installment buying and consumer credit. They reason that it never a good thing to make it too easy for a man to go into debt. During the war, you remember, a clamp was put on consumer credit. But these controls will be lifted in November. Already the American people, eager to buy automobiles, refrigerators and radios, and eager to spend for other purposes are in debt to the tune of $10.7 billion. They have borrowed this amount to buy things on a "dollar down, rest of your life to pay" basis. This sum compares with the 1935-39 consumer credit average of $6.4 billions. Of course, part of the increase is due to higher prices. You need more dollars to buy a car in 1947 than you did in 1941. So far, less than eight percent of the vast quantity of goods being bought by people today are being bought on the installment plan. But the trend is up and may spurt in November.

PRICE LINE—Belief that it can hold the price line on window and plate glass as a curb to rising building construction costs has been expressed by a glass manufacturer as the outgrowth of a unique management-labor pledge calling for increased production. Its belief, said the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, that "we will be able to maintain present basic price levels through increased productivity" is warranted by the union's recognition "that full, interrupted production at low cost is necessary to take the pressure off prices, curb inflation and bring down the cost of living." In a recent joint letter to employees, signed by glass company executives and representatives of the Federation of Glass, Ceramic and Silica Sand Workers of America, CIO, the company and union exchanged pledges of cooperation and the union stated it "will do everything possible publicly and privately to urge its members to individual cooperation in full production." Current average prices of flat glass are at a level only 18 per cent above 1938, a "depression" year, although since that date wages have increased 84 per cent and material costs are still rising in the industry. Nevertheless, the glass company was prompted, it was said, "to give the maximum possible assurance of price stability."

THINGS TO COME—Cleaning your house's "face" with a chemical bath before painting is made possible with a new spray washing device announced by an Indianapolis manufacturer. Laminated paper boxes with the strength and durability of wood are now available in lengths up to 20 feet for heavy duty packing and shipping. Featherweight magnesium dockboards are ready to ease manual labor at loading docks and platforms. They are light enough in most standard sizes to be handled by one man. Coin-operated voice recorders will soon give juke boxes competition. Production is now underway in Buffalo, New York, of a 13-foot automobile designed to sell for

IN THIS CORNER—New Hampshires and White Rocks are waging a merry battle for top honors as second-year results in the 1947 Chicken-of-Tomorrow state and regional contests across the nation near completion. The box score on the first 34 state and four regional contests shows New Hampshires winning eleven state titles and a regional crown, while White Rocks were high in another ten states.

Contestants are aiming at $10,000 in prizes offered by A & P. Food Stores for the greatest progress which can be made by the end of 1948 for producing a meatier type of poultry without sacrificing egg production. New Hampshires reigned supreme among entries in Delaware, Georgia, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, New Hampshire, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Utah, and West Virginia, topped the southeastern regional show, and figured in the crosses which won the northeastern and western regionals and the Florida, Massachusetts, New York and Washington state contests.

White Rocks annexed titles in Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Wyoming, Illinois, Nebraska, Ohio and South Dakota. They also figured in the crosses which captured the southwestern regional and the Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Jersey state competitions.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Durable goods manufacturers have given the green light to some of the biggest nation-wide promotion programs and selling drives since before the war as the transition to a buyer's market becomes more apparent. Higher changeover and material costs may bring another upward spiral in automobile prices when the 1948 models are introduced. A major hope for increased production and more goods at lower costs is the increasing introduction of newly designed machine tools featuring ease, compactness and speed in manufacturing operations. Most of the nation's big mail order houses will continue to require minimum payments of $5 monthly on consumers' installment accounts, despite easing of federal credit buying regulations. There is no dollar shortage in South Africa, which is buying about $400,000,000 worth of U. S. goods this year.

Refrigerators Need Checked Over Time Run

Mechanical refrigerator set too, and should not run more than eight hours out of ten. Bernice Claytor, home specialist for the Extension Service, warns that if the refrigerator runs more than one hour at a time, the temperature will be too low, or the refrigerator may not close tightly and warm air may be leaking into the cabinet. Claytor says 40 degrees F.

Test for leaks by closing the door on a piece of ordinary wrapping paper about the size and thickness of a dollar bill. If the paper pulls out easily, the gasket is not tight enough to keep warm air from passing into the refrigerator. This may be because

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Work Is Good

LESSON TEXT FOR AUGUST 31—Proverbs 6:6-11; 18:9; 24:30-32; Ecclesiastes 3:12.

MEMORY SELECTION—Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might—Ecclesiastes 9:10.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

By WILLIAM CULBERTSON, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

WISE indeed is that legislator who understands that there are two extremes to be avoided in dealing with the problems of the working man. The one extreme is that heartless, cruel exploitation of labor which grinds men to powder, which deals with individuals as chattel. The other extreme is to provide such an amount of free time for the individual that both his personal life and economic prosperity are in danger.

Work is good. It is well to keep in mind that before the fall man was commanded to tend the garden. Perhaps to some of us that command is not a command to work, because the evidences of sin in a cursed creation were not present!

Life without purpose, life without activity for good, would be vain and actually intolerable.

I. An Illustration of Prudence and a Warning Against Indolence (Prov. 6:6-11; 18:9).

THE illustration from the creature world is apt. Ants, as this scripture states, have no overseer, and yet they are diligent in providing for the time of need.

It would seem as though they are constantly active in caring for present and future needs. In Palestine, where they may be active throughout the year, there is still the need of stored provisions for the rainy season, and so it is true that the ant gathers food in the harvest for future need.

Anyone who is tempted to be indolent would be wise to consider the ways of the ant, and to manifest as much concern for present and future needs.

The sluggard is described as one who sleeps, as one who is never satisfied, but constantly wants more slumber. Such folding of the hands such indolence, brings poverty.

the rubber in the gasket has become brittle and hard. Or it may be the fault of the door. Try tightening hinges or latch to make the door fit more snugly. Test again with paper. If the door still is not tight, get a new gasket.

If the temperature is normal and the door leaks, but the refrigerator still runs too much, call in a serviceman.

The blow-fly requires less than a day to develop within the egg.

and that poverty comes as a robber. Indolence is not mere passivity. The man who fails to work is not guilty of omitting to do what he should do, but he is actually a robber of society. There is an active element involved in indolence; not only has the man failed to contribute, but, in addition, the good that he might have done has remained undone. The sluggard is therefore a brother to the destroyer (Prov. 18:9).

II. An Illustration of Indolence and a Lesson in Prudence (Prov. 24:30-32).

IT IS striking that the Word of God presents the ant as the illustration of prudence, but when it comes to an illustration of indolence it directs our attention to man.

The illustration is that of the man who is lazy, who is void of understanding. The Preacher visits him. Going to his field and vineyard, he finds it grown over with thorns, covered with vetches, and the stone wall broken down.

Instead of citing the particular lessons learned, the Preacher simply observes that he looked on, thought deeply, and received instruction. Perhaps the best antidote to laziness is to see it in its inaction. The squalid conditions, the inability to cope with emergencies that we normally see in the life of the man who wants only ease are sufficient to warn most of us against it.

Entirely apart from the dignity of labor, the homely recompense of being able to meet our own needs is the compensation of self-respect that initiative and resourcefulness bring. May we have a higher goal as we labor than merely providing for our own needs, though this is certainly important. Beyond it, of course, is the ability to help others also (cf. Eph. 4:28).

III. A God-Given Reward for Labor (Eccles. 5:12).

ONE of the great compensations of faithful labor is sleep. This passage speaks of the sleep of the laboring man as sweet. When as Christians we have fulfilled our duty, when we have given an honest day's work, the recompense of the Lord is surcease from labor.

The great stress of the Word of God is similarly on the man in authority doing that which is right for those who labor under him, and on the laborer, to be worthy of his hire. Thus does the Bible guarantee a cordial and happy relationship between employer and employee. When either party departs from biblical standards, chaos results.

Here is a plan as up-to-date as the present hour, as workable as the most precise mechanical device ever made. All that is necessary is that the Word of God be followed.

Jean Northcutt Honored With Party and Shower

One of the loveliest events to grace Silvertown's social calendar was the party and shower given Saturday afternoon at the A. L. McMurtry home for Miss Jean Northcutt, bride-elect of David Kellam.

Mrs. McMurtry and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Roy McMurtry, were hostesses, and over a hundred guests were welcomed into the home where candle light and floral decorations enhanced the charm of the hour. Blue tapers arranged in a bank of white roses and blue and white tulle were on the mantel over the fireplace. Candles and flowers in the bride's chosen colors decorated the receiving rooms throughout the house. The guests were greeted by Miss Dorothy Roy McMurtry, Mrs. D. T. Northcutt, mother of the bride, Miss Jean Northcutt, and Mrs. McMurtry.

The beautifully appointed serving table which was draped with a lace cloth featured an elaborate centerpiece of double hearts rising from a bed of white gladioli and white roses which rested in a cloud of blue tulle. White satin ribbon and tulle outlined the two hearts, and in the centers were the words, "Jean and Dave", in gold letters.

The buffet was centered with a "Ship of Matrimony" made of blue tulle and pink and blue ribbons. It sailed on a silver sea surrounded with blue tulle, where floated small white blossoms. Assisting at the serving table were Mrs. Dorcelle Young, Lubbock, Mrs. L. D. Griffin, and Mrs. Gatewood Lusk. The bride's cake was in the form of a white book with a white basket of blue confectionery buds decorating one "page", and the words, "I love you truly," written in blue icing on the opposite "page". Punch was served from a crystal service.

Mrs. Shafe Weaver gave several vocal numbers accompanied by Miss Betty Nan Burson.

Miss Burson and Mrs. Jackie Wingo showed the bride's display of useful and beautiful gifts. Mrs. Weaver presided at the guest book.—Reported

Mrs. Son Washington Is Bridal Shower Honoree in Quitaque

The Jack Holcomb home in Quitaque was the scene Friday afternoon of a bridal shower complimenting Mrs. Son Washington, nee Miss Lela Fae Morrison. Seasonal flowers were used to decorate the reception room.

Guests were greeted by the hostesses, Misses Rinkey Holcomb, Billy Rae Hutcheson, Mrs. A. C. Barrett and Mrs. Walter Taylor served refreshments of angel food cake and punch. All who called registered in the pretty brides' book.

The popular honoree received a large number of lovely and useful gifts, including several electrical appliances, four lovely blankets, a quilt, and many other pretty and useful household articles.

FARM MARKET—

rain. Mohair contracting got under way, but wool buying awaited Australian fall auctions.

Light supplies of top quality eggs sold firm to slightly higher last week, and lower grades held up fairly well. Best eggs brought from 47 to 54 cents per dozen at principal southwest markets. Poultry prices stayed about the same. Heavy hens drew about 22 to 25 cents per pound at Fort Worth and Dallas, and fryers 35 to 37.

Most cattle classes sold strong to higher last week, but grass steers and yearlings lost 50 cents to a dollar at some places, and beef cows weakened at Fort Worth and Houston. Good beef cows brought $13 to $15.50 at Houston and San Antonio, $15.50 to $17 at Fort Worth and Wichita, and up to $19 at Oklahoma City and Denver.

Hogs gained generally 25 cents to $1 or more for the week, but butcher hogs and sows dropped 25 to 50 cents at San Antonio, while stocker pigs fell sharply lower at Oklahoma City and Wichita. Late top was $26.75 at San Antonio, $27.75 at Fort Worth, $28 at Oklahoma City, $28.25 at Wichita, and $29.50 at Denver.

Spot cotton prices declined $3.75 to $5.50 last week as liberal new crop offerings in South Texas eased the most urgent demand. Farmers sold less readily in Central and North Texas, where picking of some drough-opened cotton got started.

Yates Family Holds Reunion August 17 to 20

A family reunion of the Yates family was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Yates of this city August 17 to the 20.

Yates, Dougie and Jeanie of Riverside, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Yates, Misses Gwendolyn and Gwendell Perry, all of Bell Gardens, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ivie and children of Albuquerque, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Comfort and children and Mrs. R. L. Allen and Mrs. F. L. Allen, all of Jackson Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. ### Battleship Texas To Be Brought Home To Lone Star State

An appeal to all Texans to assist the statewide drive raising $8225,000 to bring the Battleship Texas home to the Lone Star State was sent by Lloyd Gregory, Houston Post Vice-President and General Manager, chairman of the Battleship Texas Commission, in announcing the appointment of Allan H. King, Vice-President of the First National Bank of Houston, as treasurer for the financial drive.

"The commission hopes that people in all walks of life will contribute—from school children in the first grade to our wealthiest patriots," Chairman Gregory said.

Chairman Gregory said that $175,000 of the goal was needed to provide a berth for the battleship on the Houston Ship Channel near the San Jacinto Monument and the battlefield where Santa Anna surrendered to Sam Houston April 21, 1836. The remaining $50,000 will be used for the first year's maintenance. After that, it is felt, that revenue from admissions and concessions will take care of the ship's upkeep.

The financial campaign will officially begin Monday, September 15, and an appeal will go throughout the state. However, many individuals and organizations already have made contributions.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thompson accompanied their daughter Blanche to Lamesa after she had spent a week in their home. They all spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Durward Schmidt and little son Gene.

Mrs. Henry Price, Jimmie and Stanley, who have been vacationing for the past week returned to their home in this city Saturday night.

County Agent Reports on Wheat Improvement

Briscoe County produced about two million bushels of wheat on seventy five thousand acres in 1947 for an average yield of almost twenty seven bushels per acre according to Leo White, County Agent.

Another high yield such as this is not to be expected for several years, continued Mr. White, and certainly not in 1948. With the excessive amount of straw and seed on the land it will be difficult to make the 1948 crop yield as high as the ten year average.

With planting time so near, Mr. White suggests that every farmer should follow the practices that have proven worthwhile. One of these practices is smut control. Every farmer knows how to control this disease, but each year there is some smutty wheat brought in to the local elevators. No farmer can be justified for neglecting this chore.

First and foremost among the accepted practices is the selection of the proper variety of seed. The farmer should know the good and bad characteristics of each variety and select the ones that will best fill his needs and make him the most money. The selection of the proper variety to plant in Briscoe County is not an easy task. Standard Blackhull and Tenmarq have done a good job for years. Early Blackhull has made some excellent yields but now the millers tell us to change to a variety that makes better flour, or the entire county will be docked. The new varieties have been tried and they have proven successful during the past few years. Pawnee and Early Triumph have not produced as well as some of the old varieties in this section but Westar, Camanche and Wichita have done exceedingly well. Westar ranks first and Comanche runs a close second in yield tests over the Panhandle. The farmer who needs an early maturing variety should not overlook Wichita. These three varieties are not only the highest producers but they are also the type of wheat that the mills desire.

It is evident that, in the future, the farmer will have to grow a variety of wheat that makes a desirable mill product. From the standpoint of the miller, the most undesirable wheats are Chiefcan, Red Chief and Early Blackhull. Chiefcan and Red Chief are the beardless varieties and Early Blackhull is sometimes called Superhard Blackhull. A recent survey shows that thirty percent of the 1947 crop in Briscoe County was composed of these undesirable varieties. Of the thirty two Texas Panhandle counties in this survey, Briscoe County rated only twenty eighth place. The entire Panhandle ranked far below Nebraska and Kansas.

Not many years ago the Texas Panhandle and Oklahoma produced the best wheat in the United States. That reputation is gone. It is the job of the wheat farmer to get it back. He may not get a premium for his good wheat but the entire area will have to take a discount if too much poor wheat is produced. White concluded.

Care While Lifting Heavy Objects Averts Disaster

It's a fine thing to carry your share of the load, but don't pick up more than you can handle. It's dangerous.

Over-strain from lifting heavy objects can cause hernia and severe back injuries, warns the National Conservation Bureau in its continuous drive against accidents. Hernia is most frequently caused by continued exertion which aggravates the mechanical structure of the body rather than by one great over-exerting effort. When lifting heavy objects, the Bureau advises, follow these simple rules:

Get a good footing, bend at the knees to grasp the weight, keep the back straight, keep the back as upright as possible, get a firm grip, then lift gradually by straightening the legs. When the weight is too heavy or bulky—get help!

BOYCE HOUSE Gives You Texas

People are always writing, phoning or dropping by to ask advice about a book they are planning to write. Almost without exception, they are seeking a short cut, a magic formula whereby one can get ahead in writing. Their faces fall when they are told that the only recipe is hard work, which is the recipe in just about any other field.

example, "Cub Reporter" is based on experiences and observations of this chronicler while breaking into the newspaper game back in 1916, and the two years which followed.

The idea of writing the book came about 1927. My mother had written a letter from Memphis, Tenn., and enclosed clippings telling of the death of C. P. J. Mooney, editor of the Commercial Appeal.

After the work of getting out the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News was done, I sat at my desk, slowly read the clippings and then mused as twilight descended. The determination came to write a book about Mr. Mooney, my first editor, and the glorious crew of reporters of "the old C.A."

Years went by. Slowly, subconsciously, the project took form.

Frequently I thought of the undertaking but it had not matured. This, like the aging of certain beverages in the wood is a process that can not be hastened. There is no substitute for time, its sifting, its mellowing, its hallowing.

One day, a pen was dipped into ink and the writing began. The slower method of pen-and-ink gave a thought, a scene, an individual the full chance to unfold; it is the details which make a man or a n event come to life on paper.

Nearly 50,000 words in ink-then revision, then typing it off on the machine, with changes of words, adding of touches as the task went along—and task it was, slow and hard.

And so "Cub Reporter" was written—30 years after the happenings had taken place, 20 years after the idea of writing the book was born.

The whole project was done without a thought of whether the book would sell a single copy. It was something I had to do—something I wanted to do, a tribute to the memory of a great man, a salute to the forever perished days of glorious youth.

Overseas Dependents Schools
Approximately 15,000 dependents of school age will attend Army sponsored "Overseas Dependents Schools" in occupied areas during the next school term, the War Department has announced. These schools are operated on a basis to meet requirements of those states in the United States having the highest standards. The high school academic curriculum includes English, Science, Mathematics, Social Subjects and Languages. All schools are financed by monthly tuition charges levied against the service personnel benefiting from the schooling.

FIREPROOF

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Fireproof drapery fabrics of asbestos and glass form the background for this picture of a charming, sophisticated lady. The glass asbestos fabrics were developed recently for use in theaters, nightclubs, restaurants, auditoriums, airplanes, trains and similar places of public assembly. The new fabrics are said to be exceptionally light in weight and to have excellent draping qualities. They will be produced in the form of gray goods suitable for dyeing and printing in a variety of colors and patterns, according to the National Patent Council.

Q. Is there any treatment that is effective against Newcastle disease?
A. At the present time there is no specific medicinal treatment which can be recommended. Affected birds should be isolated or quarantined, and birds that are paralyzed or dead should be disposed of either by burning or burying. As a control measure, dispose of those birds which may survive an outbreak of the disease.

Q. May ducks be raised on dry ground?
A. Yes. At the Research Farm of the Relston Purina Company it was found that ducks may be successfully raised on dry ground. When it is convenient, however, a small concrete pool should be provided for swimming so the ducks may wash themselves and keep clean and comfortable.

Q. What percentage of pigs that are farrowed reach market age?
A. The death rate of pigs is much higher than with other kinds of livestock. Normally not more than 60% of the pigs farrowed are raised to marketable weights. Figures based on five-year records on typical farms by the United States Department of Agriculture show that each dead pig represents a loss of:
140 lbs. of feed at farrowing time.
260 lbs. of feed at 10 weeks.
900 lbs. of feed at 6 months.

Q. What causes some of my eggs, when candled, to show spots all over the inside of the shell although the outside is smooth?
A. This condition is caused by a drying out of the moisture in the shell of the egg, and while it does not hurt the quality of the egg, it does injure the marketability of the egg. This condition can be prevented by holding eggs in a room where there is at least 75% relative humidity.

Veterans' News

Agricultural training for nearly 40,000 World War II veterans on farms in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi probably will not be materially affected by new legislation passed by the 80th Congress a Veterans' Administration official said this week.

William T. Murphy, VA director of vocational rehabilitation and education for the three states, said the new law (Public 377) assures continuance of full subsistence allowances for veterans engaged in approved institutional on-the-farm training.

New regulations under the act will be discussed by VA officials in St. Louis this week, Murphy said. He pointed out that the law actually stabilizes and gives con-

SUPERVISORS FOR CAP ROCK DISTRICT—Earl I. Cantwell, Chairman, Louie Kitchens, Obra Watson, Pierce White and Bray Cook.

Irrigation lines were run for J. K. Bean to begin watering wheat stubble land. Mr. Bean, a cooper-ator with the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District believes that a light application of water to start decomposition of wheat straw, and to bring up volunteer wheat, will be a good investment this year.

Application for Soil Conservation District assistance on half a section of land in the Rock Creek Conservation Group was filed by Claude Allison, who is at present a cooper-ator with the District on other land in that group.

W. C. Strickland, a cooper-ator with the District in the Francis Group, is contour chiseling his alfalfa with the hope of increasing yields by better application of water.

Earl Cantwell, a Supervisor for the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District has run ditch lines to tie another well into his irrigation system. The hole for this well was dug several years ago, but has not been used for irrigation.

Application for continued District assistance on the Carl Wimberly land, at present operated by Jack Jowell, was filed by Mr. H. C. Farmer of Paducah, Texas who has bought the land.
