SWING OF THE SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Most southwest farm products gained strength late last week and closed steady to some higher, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

All cattle classes advanced 50 cents to $1.00 per hundred pounds at most southwest markets last week. Choice steers at Denver reached $32.50, a new all-time high, and the bulk of good fed kinds brought $27 to $30. Wichita paid $26 to $30 for good and choice club yearlings. Good fed steers and yearlings sold at $26.50 to $27 at Oklahoma City, and $23 to $24.50 at Fort Worth. Common and medium grades turned at $17.50 to $22.50 at San Antonio, and $15 to $21 at Houston.

Late-week gains largely made up for early losses at southwest hog markets. Closing top was $26.75 at San Antonio; $27.75 at Fort Worth; $28.25 at Oklahoma City; $28 at Wichita; and $29.50 at Denver. Sows and pigs sold up to $24 and $25.

Most sheep sold firm to 50 cents higher, but aged classes weakened slightly at some terminals. San Antonio paid $18 to $20 for medium to just good spring lambs, while Fort Worth gave $19.50 to $22.50 for medium to good kinds. Good and choice grades sold at $22.25 to $22.75 at Wichita, and $24 at Denver.

Eggs and poultry sold generally at firm prices last week, and top quality eggs strengthened at some markets. Best white eggs brought 50 to 55 cents per dozen at most places, best mixed 45 to 50, and medium grades 40 to 45. New Orleans bought heavy hens at 29 to 32 cents per pound, and spring chickens at 39. Most other markets took heavy hens at 27 to 26, and fryers and broilers 35 to 37.

Rains in the corn belt checked deterioration of the crop and weakened corn prices; but other grains sold strong. Wheat, oats, barley, and grain sorghums each advanced 5 to 8 cents on southwest cash markets. Wheat futures reached new high levels, and oats rose to record high prices at Chicago and Kansas City.

Rains delayed rice harvest last week, but prices held firm at highest levels in many years. Most feed prices continued steady to firm, and hay remained about unchanged as markets showed a uneasy tone. Demand for Farmers' Stock peanuts slackened, and mills paid largely government support prices. Wool markets became more active. Buyers concluded domestic wools are cheaper than Australian wools.

Spot cotton prices declined $3.00 to $7.50 at southwest markets last week. Demand continued good for the better grades but offerings were light. Widespread rains damaged. See FARM MARKET—Page 4

During the course of the meeting it was moved that the Fire Department call a meeting to see if the Firemen's Hall, which is located across the street from the City Hall, could be made available for a doctor, thereby affording a small clinic.

Friday night, members of the Fire Department assembled at the City Hall for a called meeting to discuss the subject. The outcome was to the effect that every member of the Department was for letting a doctor have the building but at the same time have a committee propose to the City Council the idea for erecting a small building to accommodate the pool tables now housed in building which could be made available for a doctor.

Ware Fogerson, a member of the Department, stated that he could erect a building suitable for the Fire Department's recreation hall at a total cost of $450.00.

Following the building estimate of Mr. Fogerson the Fire Boys agreed to let the city have their present recreation hall to be used by a doctor and to let the city have all the lease money secured from the building for a year, the lease to be made to a doctor at $50.00 per month, providing the city would finance the $450.00 building as proposed by Mr. Fogerson. This means that a cash outlay on the part of the City of $450.00 in financing the building would give the City $600.00 at the end of a year for the $450.00 investment.

Believing the proposed idea to be sound and liberal the Fire Department appointed a committee to contact the City Council and propose the plan.

No further information is available in regard to the matter but it is believed members of the Council will find the aforementioned terms satisfactory when they assemble to discuss the proposal.

School Meeting Called Off

At opening exercises of the school, Supt. Wm. F. Talley called a meeting of the people to discuss the securing of a building for a doctor, for next week. Due to the fact merchants had already met and plans were already shaping up nicely, Mr. Talley has called the meeting off.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Earning and Spending

LESSON TEXT FOR SEPTEMBER 7
—Proverbs 11:24-27; 16:8; Ecclesiastes 5:10, 11; James 5:1-6

MEMORY SELECTION—Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues without right.—Proverbs 16:8.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

BY WILLIAM GULBERSON, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

AS BELIEVERS in Christ we are responsible not only for the way we earn our living, but for the way we spend what we earn.

Of course we must earn our living honestly, but if we spend foolishly that which we have earned, we shall have dissipated much of the effect of our example in earning.

Possessions are a trust from God, and we shall have to render an account of our stewardship.

Just because we have given a certain percentage of our income to Christian causes is no reason to think we shall meet with divine approbation with regard to our stewardship. If we give a tithe, well and good, but what about the other nine-tenths? Is God pleased with our stewardship there?

I. The Vanity of Wealth (Eccles. 5:10, 11).

IN ANY study of wealth, it seems necessary to begin with an understanding of its limitations. We live in a world in which men frequently lay great importance on possessions, and indeed, there are many things which wealth can purchase. On the other hand, there are some things that money cannot buy. And further, we should recognize that our possessions are not eternal, that they may suddenly fade away.

The passage here reminds us of the fact that wealth for wealth's sake is bound to be a disappointment. The man who loves silver shall not be satisfied with silver, any more than the man who loves pleasure shall be satisfied with pleasure. Augustine was right when he said that man could be satisfied with no less than God himself.

Notice how accurately the picture is drawn. If we have increased number of other treats for the family become a reality in record time if a jar of homemade biscuit mix is handy in the refrigerator. Use of the mix is suggested by Reba Staggs, well-known home economist, as one way to lighten summer-time cooking for the busy home-maker.

Stored in a covered jar, the mixture keeps at least a month in the refrigerator. During the fresh peach season, it will be in demand for cobblers and shortcakes, though it also provides the basis for excellent biscuits, dumplings, waffles, muffins, and quick coffee cake the year 'round. Lard is used to give tenderness and flavor to all these products.

The following ingredients are needed to make the mix: 8 cups flour, 4 tablespoons baking powder, 4 teaspoons salt, and 1 1/2 cups lard. Sift the flour and measure.

wealth, we have increased responsibility (v. 11). That fact is as unalterable as the most rigid law we know. The only advantage is, as the Preacher expresses it, the beholding of goods with the eye—not a very great advantage after all.

II. The Proper Accumulation of Wealth (Prov. 16:8).

IT IS just as true as when Solomon wrote it, that "Better is a little, with righteousness, than great revenues with injustice."

This statement needs no argument, needs no proof. If we would have the honor of men, self-respect, and the blessing of God, there is no alternative.

III. The Improper Accumulation of Wealth (James 5:1-6).

THE apostle James speaks of a condition that will obtain in the last days (v. 3). There are many evidences that the condition he describes has had altogether too many fulfillments in recent history. James exhortates the rich who have defrauded their employees in order that they might fare sumptuously and live riotously. These unscrupulous rich have taken advantage because they were not resisted (v. 6). Such wealth is corrupted.

Notice once again that the result of their sin will rise to break them. It is a serious thing to trifle with sin, to eat the bread of iniquity. God has no patience with injustice in social relationships. Sooner or later judgment will come.

IV. The Proper Use of Wealth (Prov. 11:24-27).

LIBERALITY should characterize the child of God. It is true that the Bible condemns the attitude of imprudence, yet it also condemns the attitude of the miser. To withhold more than is meet, also tends to want.

How blessedly true it is that there is a recompense to giving. Here we read that the one who waters shall himself be watered. Our Lord affirmed the same truth in Luke 6:38.

To have it within our power to help, and fail to do so, is to bring upon ourselves censure and condemnation. Therefore, we should seek to perform the good (v. 27).

This passage concludes with the statement that one who searches after evil shall find that evil will come to him. The man who sets his heart to do wrong will not have to wait long to find the occasion to do that which is in his heart.

Many are the injunctions in the New Testament regarding the proper use of wealth. For example, the Christian has a duty toward his own family (I Tim. 5:8). He is enjoined to be sympathetic and generous in his giving to help others (II Cor. 8:8-15). Certainly he is to dispense his goods with the glory of God in view (cf. Col. 3:17).

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Sift again with the baking powder and salt. Cut in the lard until the mixture has a fine even crumb. Store in covered container in the refrigerator. This amount of biscuit mix may be used in 5 recipes calling for approximately 2 cups each.

Fresh Peach Cobbler

1 tablespoon lemon juice

Place sliced peaches in 8x8x2-inch pan greased with butter or margarine. Add sugar, dot with butter or margarine and lemon juice. Add enough milk to biscuit mix to make a soft dough. Roll about 1/4 inch thick and place over peaches. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Serve hot with custard or whipped cream. Yield: 6 servings.

Businessmen are shipping the Scriptures by the ton

Starting with less than a dozen gifts in 1816, the American Bible Society last year received hundreds of thousands of individual contributions for copies of the Scriptures, the Bible, and the New Testament.

Today, from every part of the globe, requests for copies of the Scriptures are being received from millions of men, women, and children in devastated areas.

Knowing the great good that has followed the work of our Missionaries, American businessmen are urging their friends to double their gifts to the American Bible Society—for 130 years a nonprofit organization.

Jean Northcutt Is Bride of David C. Kellam

Outstanding among the summer weddings was the marriage of Jean Northcutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Northcutt of Silverton to David C. Kellam, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Kellam of Torrington Wyoming.

Reverend C. N. Wylie, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Dalhart, Texas read the impressive single ring service at 10:00 o'clock Sunday morning, August 31st, in the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Dorcel Young of Lubbock played "Indian Love Call" and "Always" while Pat Northcutt, brother of the bride, and Wayne McMurtry lighted the candles. Mrs. Jackie Wingo of Dallas sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. Young. The traditional processional and recessional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Young. A heart-shaped arch of blue tulle interspersed with arrangements of white carnations, flanked by candleabra and floor baskets of peach gladiola formed the setting for the ceremony.

Miss Dorothy Roy McMurtry attended the bride as maid of honor and James Miliken of Austin was best man. Miss Northcutt was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding the bride chose an ice-blue satin dress. She carried her grandmother's Bible which was topped with an orchid and showered with short satin streamers. For something borrowed she wore Miss McMurtry's rhinestone bracelet, and for something blue she wore a blue garter.

Miss McMurtry was attired in blonde satin and carried a bouquet of pink and white frilled carnations.

The bride's mother wore a wine colored dress, and the bridegroom's mother a black dress. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony the bridal party was honored at a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Betty Nan Burson, cousin of the bride, served the three-tiered wedding cake, and Mrs. Kemp Thompson aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Jackie Wingo secured names for the bride's book.

The couple left after the reception for Galveston, Texas. For her wedding trip, the bride chose a wine suit with gray and black accessories, and an orchid corsage.

After September 15, the couple will be at home in Austin where they are both majoring in pharmacy at the University of Texas. After their graduation in June they will be at home in Torrington Wyoming.

Mrs. Kellam was graduated from Silverton High School and attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock for two years. She was a member of Student Body and a member of Tau Beta Sigma, Honorary Band Fraternity. She has attended the University of Texas for two years and is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority and Kappa Epsilon, honorary Pharmacy Fraternity.

Mr. Kellam attended the University of Wyoming where he was a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity. He served in the Air Corps during the war and is at present attending the University of Texas.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were the bride's great grandmother, Mrs. Emma Jackson of Amarillo; and grandmother, Mrs. Lena Northcutt, also of Amarillo; Mrs. Dorcel Young of Lubbock; Mrs. Jackie Wingo of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Kellam of Torrington, Wyoming; and Jim Miliken of Austin.

Peggy McMinn Weds Travis Ellis In Amarillo Recently

East 10th Street Methodist Church in Amarillo was the scene for the recent marriage of Peggy Jean McMinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McMinn of Amarillo, to Travis Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Ellis of Amarillo and former residents of Silverton.

Rev. Robert L. Smith, pastor of Fairview Baptist Church, read the double ring ceremony before an altar of pink and white gladiola, palms, and white tapers in branched candleabra.

Carl Johnson played nuptial music as guests were being seated and accompanied Rex Mauldin as he sang "Together" and "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding marches were played for the professional and recessional.

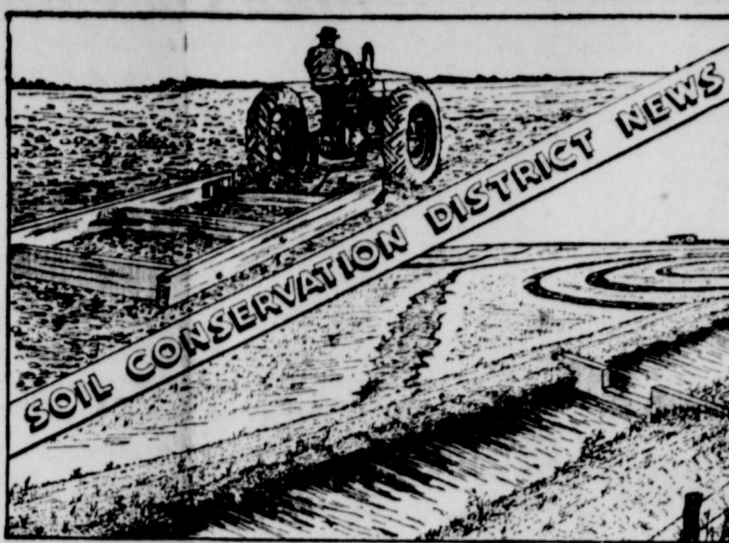

Mrs. Dick Davis, sister of the groom, attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a gown of pink satin and chiffon and shoulder length veil of pink net. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white asters centered with pink rosebuds.

Geraldine Sisson, Jeannene Allen, Sue Short and Leta Faye Palmer, bridesmaids wore gowns of white and pink with matching shoulder length veils and carried colonial bouquets of white and pink.

Little Misses Patty Jo McMinn and Gladys Faye Ellis were ring bearers and wore dresses of pink and white.

Roy Dean Seaney of Silverton was best man and Duane Byars, Billy Ellis and Freddie Garrison of Plainview and Dick Davis of Big Spring were ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin fashioned with fitted bodice, high neckline, long fitted sleeves and full skirt sweeping into a train. Her veil was of illusion and she carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and showered with pink rosebuds and white satin streamers.

SUPERVISORS FOR CAP ROCK DISTRICT—Earl I. Cantwell, Chairman, Louie Kitchens, Obra Watson, Pierce, White and Bray Cook.

The couple is now at home in Amarillo, after a wedding trip to Austin and other points.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Amarillo High School and the groom is a sophomore student of Amarillo Junior College.

J. B. Whiteley, a cooperater farming in the Rucker Conservation Group four miles southeast of Quitaque, reports that he has already obtained his Hairy Vetch and Austrian Winter Peas for sowing this fall. Mr. Whiteley will make a trial with both of these winter legumes for a cover crop. The Hairy Vetch will be sown with rye and both the vetch and winter peas will be inoculated to stimulate growth.

BOYCE HOUSE
"Gives You Texas"

Ah, for the good old days. The good old days when you got up at 5 a. m. in January with the tail of your night-shirt flapping around your chilled ankles and had built a fire. But first you had to shake down the stove.

For the benefit of the younger members of our audience, it should be explained that, when ashes accumulated, the stove wouldn't draw, so the stove had to be shaken down and it took so much energy that the house was almost shaken down, too.

Then came the task of setting fire to paper and shavings and kindling and coaxing a chunk of wood to burn. Of course there was a quicker way: a teacupful of kerosene could be used but this had a way of blowing the user through the roof.

Ah, the good old days! Did you ever take a bath in a wash-tub? And the fireplace with the log fire—you roasted on one side and froze on the other.

But there is nothing finer than a fireplace with a log fire, provided the fireplace is also equipped with gas.

Guess you noticed where Fred Allen, Red Skelton and Bob Hope were faded off the air when they said something that a network vice president didn't like. Well, I'm on the air—in fact, have two programs a week, the newest one being at 12:15 noon each Tuesday over Fort Worth. I wish some vice president would fade me off the air; I need the publicity. Fred, Red and Bob don't.

I noticed a sign the other day, "Dirt for sale." I suppose it is "dirt cheap." Or has inflation raised the price there, too?

FARM FACTS
WORTH KNOWING

Q. What causes baggy crops in turkeys?

A. Baggy crops are thought to be caused by consumption of large amounts of dry grass or of large amounts of water during very hot weather. Birds showing tendencies toward baggy crops should not be kept as breeders.

Q. When hogs are self-fed, should the feed concentrate and the grain be supplied in separate compartments of the feeder or as a mixture?

A. It is usually recommended that they be fed separately, keeping the concentrate in the small compartment and the grain in the large one. Many experiments at the Research Farm of the Ruston Purina Company have shown that this method of self-feeding has the advantages of producing:

1. More uniformity of hogs fattened.
2. More rapid early growth and development.
3. A higher degree of finish.
4. Greater returns and more profit.

Q. How can Foot Rot be prevented?

A. To prevent Foot Rot as a herd problem, practice approved dairy barn sanitation, remove the manure pile from the loafing yard, and eliminate access to the barnyard pond or mud puddle. Where Foot Rot has appeared, build a walk at the entrance to the barn with 4-inch lumber and fill with lime. This approach does not have to be over 4 feet long and the width of the entrance. The cows will be forced to walk through the lime on entering and leaving the barn.

Q. What causes egg yolks to break?

A. This is probably caused by exposure to heat. Eggs should be gathered frequently in hot weather and stored in a cool, damp place.

Q. What will kill wild trumpet vines in a potato patch?

A. The hormone weed killer, 2,4-D is effective against wild trumpet vines. However, injury to potato tubers may result from applications of 2,4-D.

Veterans News

The Veterans Administration has announced it will extend compensation payments to veterans who have been discharged from VA hospitals with arrested pulmonary tuberculosis but who need more time at home in which to recover sufficiently to take a job without endangering their health.

The new plan permits payments to these veterans on a totally disabled basis up to two years from date of discharge from any VA hospital while they remain under close medical supervision. Previously, the payments were reduced by 50 percent within six months of the veteran's discharge.

ates they are unable to resume employment safely, doctors will certify their findings so that VA may determine whether to continue full compensation payments for an additional six months.

VA expects this plan to result in better control of arrested pulmonary tuberculosis among veterans and thus reduce the necessity of hospitalizing them again.

The Veterans Administration will establish diabetic clinics in all its Regional Offices in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi as the result of an experiment at Dallas which indicated large savings to taxpayers and improved treatment for veterans afflicted with the disability.

The "pilot" project was initiated at Dallas three months ago to provide periodic out-patient treatment for service connected diabetics instead of putting them in already over-crowded VA hospitals.

VA said one of the biggest advantages of the clinics is that they enable diabetic veterans to continue working to support themselves and their families. Without regular treatments at the clinics, hospitalization of from nine days to one month each year would have been necessary in most cases.

Clinics will be established at Waco, Houston, San Antonio, Lubbock, New Orleans, Shreveport and Jackson. The Dallas clinic will continue to function.

7 New Veterinary Schools Will Aid Disease Control

Expanded service to the livestock industry and an accelerated program for ridding the nation of costly diseases are forecast in a report of the establishment of seven new veterinary colleges.

The American Veterinary Medical Association's council on education announced that in addition to twelve recognized veterinary colleges in North America, new veterinary schools have been established in the states of Alabama, California, Georgia, Illinois, Oklahoma, Missouri, and Minnesota and that some of these are already training students.

Association officials said there are now about 14,000 veterinarians in the United States, but that this number is insufficient to meet all demands of the expanded livestock industry. The care of food-producing animals alone requires the services of nearly 10,000 veterinarians, it was stated, and large numbers also are needed in other branches of the profession, such as in the care of pet animals and in food-inspection work.

It is expected that the new schools will help materially in filling these increased personnel needs.

How One Stalk Of Sorghum . . . Grew into a $23,000,000 Business. One day about 10 years ago, a marvelous thing happened! A man we know found ONE STALK of growing sorghum in his drouth ridden field.

Seed carefully nurtured from that same stalk today is found in hundreds of profitable sorghum fields in the area we serve. And today sorghums—never very profitable in the old days—are a $23,000,000 crop in the Panhandle-Plains-Pecos Valley area! We have so much confidence in the sorghum industry—and all other industries we serve, that we are investing 35 million dollars in a building program. This expansion program in our territory will bring more dependable electric service to industry and better living—electrically—to everyone!
