Schedule Given; District 4B Divided

At Turkey on Tuesday night of this week District 4-B was divided into two separate parts by the District Executive Committee, it was reported yesterday by L. R. Bailey, Coach of the local ball squads.

The two divisions of the District are now to be known as the Western Division and the Eastern Division. The Western Division will consist of Roaring Springs, Flomot, Turkey, Quitaque and Silverton. The Eastern Division will consist of Carey, Lakeview, Estelline, Kirkland and Community Center.

Each division will play a double round robin on a home-to-home basis, according to Coach Bailey.

Two leading teams of each division will meet in a single-round robin tournament to decide district champs—the place and time for which will be set at a later date.

Joseph Bailey was named chairman of the District Basketball Committee. He is the coach at Quitaque.

During the course of the meeting basketball schedules were drawn up for the various teams in District 4-B. The following is Silvertown's conference games schedule.

Some Employers Are Paying S.S. Tax On Their Own Wages

It has come to the attention of the Social Security Administration that some employers are reporting wages for themselves as well as their employees, according to J. R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Administration. "Employers in unincorporated business who have reported wages for themselves should file for a refund of the tax which they have paid on their own wages. The application for refund should be filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue before the expiration of four years after payment to the Collector of the tax," he continued.

Palace Theatre Opens Tonight; Good Movies

That day the majority of Silvertown people have been looking for the past week has arrived today—the day of the formal opening of the Palace Theatre which has been closed for two weeks for a complete remodeling throughout.

Probably one of the first things the people will notice when they approach the theatre tonight will be the new box office and doors which stand at the front of the theatre and house the lobby and new popcorn machine. The second thing to be noticed will be the second set of doors which house the interior lobby and new drinking fountain. After reaching the auditorium it will be noticed that the interior has been completely refinished in blue and that now two clean rest rooms are at the disposal of the show's patrons.

After being comfortably seated in the auditorium probably one of the most outstanding things to be noticed by Silvertown's Cinema-loving public will be the new sound system. At a cost of better than $2,000.00 the new system will give the Palace Theatre one of the best sound systems in West Texas.

Good Shows Are Booked

Many good shows have been booked for the Palace and the first drama to hit the silver screen of the Palace Theatre under the new management of Charles Jefferson

SWING OF THE SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Southwest farm markets maintained generally firm to higher trends last week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Grain markets reached new high levels and remained strong throughout the week. Principal strengthening factors included unfavorable condition of the winter wheat crop, short European supplies, and rapidly diminishing domestic feed grains needed for the heavy winter feeding season. Texas wheat closed Friday at $3.27 1/2.

Activity in southwest cotton markets continued brisk during the week. Farmers offered freely in most sections, as prices advanced around $7.50 per bale.

Eggs and poultry sold steady to firm the past week in good holiday demand. Current receipt eggs brought 47 to 50 cents per dozen at Dallas and Fort Worth and a little more at Denver and New Orleans. Most markets bought turkeys close to support levels. Heavy hens brought mostly 24 to 26 cents but New Orleans paid 30.

Cattle sold generally steady to 50 cents higher compared to a week earlier, the only notable exception being a net loss of 25 to 30 cents at Denver on steers and yearlings, which continued scarce at all markets. Common and medium cows brought from $12 to $15 at Texas markets, and $14 to $17 at Oklahoma City. Denver paid $15 to $19.50 for common to good kinds. Canners and cutters moved at $9.50 to $12.50 at Texas markets and up to $13.50 at other southwest terminals.

Sheep prices rose 50 cents at most markets, and lambs gained around $1.50 at Oklahoma City and Wichita. Good and choice lambs sold at $22.50 to $23 at Oklahoma City and $23.25 to $23.75 at Denver. Medium and good lambs brought $18 to $21 at San Antonio and $19 to $22.50 at Fort Worth.

Wool and mohair remained quiet, but some mohair sold at Junction, Texas at 73 cents for kid and 53 for adult hair, while San Angelo paid three cents less.

Hogs lost 25 to 50 cents per hundred for the week at most southwest markets, but Oklahoma City netted a little gain. Closing top on butchers stood at $25.25 at San Antonio and Wichita, $25.75 at Fort Worth and Oklahoma City, and $26.25 at Denver. Sows brought $22 to $23 at San Antonio and $23.50 to $24.75 elsewhere.

Wet fields slowed harvesting in the Lower Rio Grande Valley most of the week. Light vegetable loadings found better request but citrus.

With a total of 42 of an inch of moisture falling here yesterday and last night, Briscoe county's moisture total during the past 30 days has been boosted to better than two inches, it was reported here today by Ray C. Bomar, operator of the local weather Bureau station.

Rain began falling yesterday about 9:00 a. m. and continued to fall until the latter part of the afternoon when temperatures dropped and the clouds cleared away during the night leaving a clear cool morning Thursday.

Yesterday's moisture measured .41 of an inch with last night's precipitation amounting to .01 of an inch as a result of a heavy frost this morning. Mr. Bomar concluded.

Newsprint shortages still exist and many of the dailies will not accept any new subscribers this year due to such shortages. Bargain rates are now in effect on all leading newspapers but they will be withdrawn on December 31st, so if your paper is out during December or even January or February it would be wise to come in to the News office during December and renew your subscription now while bargain rates are in effect. The saving would be well worth the advance payment.

Largest Mailings In History to Come Soon

The Post Office department recently stated that this year would see the largest Christmas and December mailings in history, and they never fail in their estimations, W. H. Tennyson, Silvertown's Route One carrier, reported here early this week.

Mr. Tennyson continued, "Unless mailings are made early in the month, postal service will be greatly handicapped in making deliveries before Christmas. Post office personnel is limited, lack of trucks, rolling equipment and the large mailings to foreign peoples are believed to probably be the main reason for congested mails.

It is suggested that patrons of the Post Office as well as mail carriers that the people estimate their needs for one-cent and one-half-cent stamps early and purchase them in advance. This will save time for all concerned. Too, there is a Postal order that all third and first class mail should be stamped by the sender. Should any person buy too many stamps, after Christmas they may be used for mail letters or exchange them for other supplies. An outgoing mail could be easily missed when a rural carrier has a lot of stamps to lick.

Christmas greeting cards can be sent anywhere in the U. S. for 1 1/2 cents, if there is no written message enclosed; however, there is a great advantage in using a 3-cent stamp because a written message to an old friend can be enclosed as well as making your cards first class matter. A first class letter can be forwarded to a new address or given directory service (that means hunting up the addresses in a larger office). Everyone is urged to address their mail correctly, and at the same time put their return address in the upper left hand corner on all their letters or packages especially first class mail, which can be immediately returned to the sender if undeliverable.

All valuable parcels to be mailed should be wrapped with strong paper and string and insured.

Strong boxes, capable of withstanding handling should be used," in concluding Mr. Tennyson stated that should anyone on his route intend to be away for Christmas and desire him to hold their mail in his routing case until they return, by all means please advise him because a lot of packages are not waterproof or weatherproof. Too, if they are expecting packages to watch for the postman's car or turn their radios down a little so they may hear his horn because some of the packages might be insured and must be signed for.

"Bill" as most everyone knows Mr. Tennyson, urges everyone to buy their stamps early and get their packages fixed up early and do most of their Christmas mailing during the first two weeks in December and for once to please wish him—first, good health, dry weather and a car that will percolate. He is wishing everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

"The Disease of Government" . . .

The worst problem confronting the world today is what might be called, "the disease of government."

The whole history of civilization since the dawn of time has been the story of man's struggle against oppression. Every school child is required to study the great milestone in the struggle—the signing of the Magna Carta, the writing of the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution. All the revolutions ever fought have marked the attempts of peoples to free themselves from the chains of emperors, dictators, and corrupt and cruel governments.

Now almost all of Europe and much of the rest of the world have turned back the clock. They have, willingly or otherwise, succumbed to the lure of more to super-government. They have apparently placed the goal of a dubious physical security ahead of that of freedom. They have accepted the disciplinary weapons of dictatorship—the whipping post, the execution block, the concentration camp, slave labor. Even England, though she still clings to the basic civil liberties, has gone a long way down the road that can end only in spiritual darkness and the submergence of the individual spirit.

In the United States, we have gone farther along the same road than most of us realize. We have created an enormous, ever-growing bureaucracy which saps our energies and our wealth. Worst of all, we have largely lost the definite distinctions established by the Constitution between the three branches of government—executive, judicial, and legislative. The result of this is more and more "administrative government"—which is simply supplanting a government of law by a government of men.

Nations, like individuals can learn by example. Europe is showing us what happens when we turn to government to give us "security"—and, of necessity, make government the dominant factor in our lives. This is the way that tyrants come to power, and the process has not changed in two thousand years of recorded history. If we permit it, it can happen here as well.

Behind The Scenes in AMERICAN BUSINESS

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT
NOTE TO READERS—The information contained in this weekly summary of happenings in the world of business and industry has been obtained from sources we consider reliable but is not guaranteed. Opinions and forecasts are based upon careful analysis but are subject to change without notice.

—The Editor

* The farm market is becoming more and more important to American business. This is not solely because this year, and last, farm income reached into new highs. Even more important is the fact that U. S. industry is developing more and more products for the farmer, recognizing that the farm has become the greatest market for mechanical and chemical aids of all types. This week American industry is truly putting on a show in Chicago. It is the National Farm Show, and was timed to coincide with the famed International Live Stock Show, which brings some 350,000 people into the Windy City. Once upon a time, only a few farm equipment makers would have been represented. But now just look at the list. Dow Chemical is there and Union Carbide & Carbon, showing what the giant chemical industry thinks of the farm market. Oil companies, recognizing the farmer as a consumer of lubricants and gasoline, set up attractive displays to win this all-important market. Even the Encyclopedia Britannica is represented among the exhibitors, evidencing the farmer as a cultural consumer, as well as a user of fertilizers, trucks, etc.

CREATURE COMFORTS—Here is a concrete example of a highly complex product developed individually for the farm market. The Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, which makes some 7,000 types of controls as well as automatic airplane pilots, has just finished a series of tests on an instrument the farm market has long needed. The tests show that, by controlling the temperature of drinking water for steers during the winter months it is possible to increase beef weight substantially. Experiments were held on two lots of two-year old steers for an 80-day mid-winter period. During this period outside temperature varied from five degrees above zero to 25 degrees below. One lot of steers drank water warmed with an electric heater controlled by a thermostat designed by Honeywell for the purpose. The other lot used unheated water. At the end of the test each steer getting the warmed water had gained about 10 per cent in weight over those that had cold water. In dollars, it increased the value of each animal $6.93.

THINGS TO COME—It had to come—now they have mechanized the wheelbarrow by adding a motor. Its makers claim it is light enough for scaffold and second-story work . . . Also a hand-truck capable of carrying one-ton loads at speeds up to five m. p. h. . . Now you can give meat the needle so as to flavor meat roasts . . . For the hundreds of thousands of home workshops, here is a light-weight, portable electric drill which has a pistol grip handle and a trigger . . . Paper labels can be fixed permanently to any surface with a new cement just being placed on the market . . . Thrifty golfers can now go without special shoes by using a new detachable metal sole with golf spikes. The one-piece plate locks on any shoe in a few seconds . . . We don't believe it, but they claim a new synthetic whiskbroom will really remove those troublesome little pieces of lint that cling to your suit . . . A new plastic tube is reaching for the steel pipe markets. Its makers claim it has a number of advantages over steel pipe, including light weight and ease in handling. . . For those long automobile trips, a "left-hand" accelerator pedal will give your right foot a rest. You will not find it on any automobile yet—it has just been patented.

MUSCLES JOIN BUSTLES—With the nation's farmers able to do twice as much work mechanically as they did before the war, muscle power, both human and animal, is losing out to the machine for sound economic reasons. A recent study by Graham-Paige Motors, for instance, found that while farm machinery prices have risen only 38 per cent over the 1935-39 average the cost of farm labor (when it can be had) has gone up six times as much. Similarly, the cost of feed for animals has skyrocketed during the current period, while running expenses for machines and equipment have risen very little, in comparison. The result, of course, as the study points out, is a marked advantage in the use of labor-saving mechanical aids. Machinery is also the farmer's current "best buy," the study pointed out, because it takes only about half as much farm output to buy most farm machines now as it did before the war, since farm prices are now about two and one-half times the prewar average, while machinery has increased only the previously mentioned 38 per cent.

BITS O' BUSINESS—No doubt about it, television is going over. Appliance dealers and other merchants should watch the trend. Next year a number of companies will repeat the radio pattern by offering lower priced sets. As more and more sets get into public hands, programs will become more frequent and available to more areas. In New York, the Hotel Roosevelt has just installed 40 rooms with television sets, expects to get a premium charge for those particular rooms . . . Industry's appetite for new machine tools is uncurbed. Shipments of new machines were up 24 percent in October over the month previous . . . The battle over easy credit terms on consumer goods continues. Best guess is that Regulation W will be restored as one measure by Washington to combat the inflationary spiral. Big retailing units are divided on the question, though reports continue to grow that competition between stores to offer easier terms to customers is growing more pronounced.

Sulfa Drugs Cut Pneumonia Toll In Cattle

Thanks to sulfa drugs and penicillin, coupled with improved methods of treatment developed by veterinary research, fewer cattle are dying of pneumonia today than ever before, declared Drs. S. J. Roberts and G. K. Kiesel before the recent annual convention of the American Veterinary Medical Association. They said that drugs such as these "have revolutionized the treatment of cattle pneumonia."

Caution Urged When Farmers Are Worming Sheep
Births may result if phenol is given to ewes in advanced stages of gestation, the American Veterinary Medical Association reports. This drug probably can be used without harmful effects for worming ewes up to about three weeks before birth of the young, but a recent trial suggested that if it is given later than that, it may cause abnormal parturition. Until further experiments confirm or disprove this danger, sheep owners are advised to withhold phenothiazine during the terminal period.

SCRIPTURE: III John
DEVOTIONAL READING: I Corinthians 1:10-17

Christian Fellowship
Lesson for December 7, 1947

SUNDAY'S lesson is based on the short third Epistle of John. You can read it in two minutes, but you will not exhaust its meaning in a lifetime. Link with III John the devotional reading found in First Corinthians 1:10-17, and you have a great and glorious picture of Christian fellowship. Note these words:
"Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that we all speak the same things, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment." I Corinthians 1:10.
And these words from III John, second verse:
"Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth."
Here we have the basis for Christian fellowship.

Let Us Love One Another

WHAT is the first test of Christian fellowship? Read I John 4:7.
Love one for another is the first and last test of Christian fellowship. Of course, love one for another is dependent upon love toward God. We do not really love one another until we first love God. And we do not love God until we realize that he first loves us.

Why do we keep certain letters? Because they are from those who love us, and whom we love. Boys and girls can help to make this a better world if they will express their love one for another in letters.

Gracious Words

IN ECCLESIASTES 10:12, we read: "The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious."
Christmas will soon be here. There will be many Christmas cards and Christmas letters. Let us think carefully of some lonely boy or girl in our community who may not receive such a message unless you send it.

More than that, think of the lonely boy or girl in the hospital, in the orphan home, in the underprivileged tenement. Think what a letter from you to such a lonely neighbor would mean!

Doing Good

CHRISTIAN fellowship, in the last analysis, is doing good. "He that doeth good is of God," says John, and we know that it is true. Intermediate boys and girls can seize upon numerous methods of proving their Christian attitude as we come on toward the Christmas season. Discuss with your teacher next Sunday the idea of providing Christmas gifts for underprivileged boys and girls of your age. If not in your community, somewhere.

While in Europe last summer, I was impressed with the fact that there will be very little Christmas for the young people in many of those lands this year. War has left its frightening desolation. The people are without money and without homes and without clothing and without food.

May I suggest that you discuss plans by which you may send packages through CARE to some lonely, needy neighbor in Europe this Christmas, thus proving your sense of Christian fellowship.

Furthering the Gospel

AS WE grasp more fully the meaning of this lesson next Sunday, our hearts will gladly respond to the opportunities for furthering the Gospel of Jesus Christ, even as Gaius and Demetrius impressed John.

In every community are crying needs for Christian ministry. Your newspapers will be telling of special opportunities for Christmas help. Your Community Fund chairman can give you names of worthy neighbors who need help.

"I thank God for your fellowship in furtherance of the Gospel from the first day until now," wrote Paul to the Philippian Christians.

How did they show this fellowship? In many, many practical ways, some of which Paul names. They sent food, books, clothing. More than that, they gave themselves in personal visitation to lonely friends. They cheered the faint. How happy we shall be if after the study of this lesson we go out to do with all our might what our hands find to do.

Romance Is Big Problem For The Younger Generation

Romance can pose a big problem for a four-year old.

A fellow just that age attending the Texas Technological College nurse school was smitten with a pretty blonde just a year younger. Not of the bashful sort, he walked right up and kissed her in front of the whole school. But she didn't like it.

"Don't do that," she lisped, tossing her golden curls. "I've just washed."

Feeding Methods Responsible For Milk Production

Low resistance to genital diseases, breeding failures, and under-average milk production can be traced in many cases to feeding methods. A mistake often made by farmers is to turn dry cows out on forage without providing sufficient amounts of other feeds. The stalk field, straw stack, woodlot, and average pasture should be thought of as a supplement rather than as the ration for a milk cow.

rus demand waned. Fort Worth wholesale trade maintained mostly steady tones. Colorado onions and potatoes held about steady at principal shipping points. Colorado celery and Texas bunched carrots sold well at Denver. Few sweet potatoes moved in dull trade from Louisiana, where prolonged rainy weather hampered field work and damaged beans and other crops.

Wade Steele of the Francis Conservation Group started pumping a new irrigation well on his home place this week. Considerable sand and a good strain of water is being pumped indicating possibilities of a good well.

Milton Frizzell of the Rock Creek Soil Conservation Group has started drilling on an irrigation well on his place near the Rock Creek Store. Personnel of the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District located Mr. Frizzell's high point sometime ago, but being in unproven territory, he was reluctant to drill until recently.

F. L. McCoy has started construction of new terraces on his place near the Hall County line. Soil Conservation Service technicians ran the lines for these terraces early this week.

The Canada Wild Rye planted in a trial planting on Mrs. W. E. Schott's ranch (operated by J. L. Webb) is sprouting since the recent rain. The seed for this planting was furnished by the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District and planted with the assistance of Soil Conservation personnel. The seed were sown by hand and covered by running a wheat drill over the land.

Canada Wild Rye is an excellent winter grazing plant and is sparsely scattered over some ranges below the caprock. It is hoped that seed may be produced on the above pure planting in order to plant more range land. Overseeding with this native grass and proper range management are two factors that would greatly increase the winter grazing capacity of ranges in that area.

At present, old-age and survivors insurance benefits under the Social Security Act are limited to wage earners. Excluded, therefore, are many persons who work for their living. They are the self-employed - owners of small stores, farmers, insurance agents, and others. The Social Security Administration has recommended that the old-age and survivors insurance system be extended to all self-employed persons," Mr. Sanderson said.

Rumors that surplus war material will be moved to a central location are unfounded and remaining stocks will be disposed of at present sites by location sales, it was announced by C. B. Rucker, zone administrator for Zone 5. War Assets Administration, which includes Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas. It was added that as stocks are disposed of reduction in the number of employees will also be made but not to an extent that sales will suffer nor that any community will be unable to purchase surplus property. Mr. Rucker added that these plans will be completed within the next five months and are in line with War Assets Administration national policy of selling itself out of business.

Approximately $150,000 worth of general merchandise will go on war surplus sale at the Red River Arsenal near Texarkana December 10, 11 and 12. Location clearance officials of the Grand Prairie War Assets Administration office announced that materials at the arsenal will be lotted out to include a half carload of auto tires, a small quantity of shop tools, clothing items such as guard uniforms, overcoats, skirts, lap robes, raincoats and pillows, and miscellany such as X-ray development liquid, hardwood snatch blocks, a blitz can, time card and paper boxes and cartons. Informal bidding on a non-priority basis will be conducted at WAA's sales warehouse at the arsenal from 8:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m., December 10 and 11, with the awards to be announced at 9 a. m., December 12.

Assorted quantities of safety and recreational equipment, hardware and textiles, located at Killeen, Texarkana and San Antonio, Texas, are for sale on a seal bid basis until December 9 to priority groups and commercial channels through the Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie War Assets Administration office. Included are box lockers, tackle blocks, sprockets, barracks and duffle bags, saddles harness, compasses, fire extinguishers, dies, winter fying gloves shelter half tents, cotton pillows, sun glasses and many other items.

Selling surplus government buildings at the rate of 600 per hour on the last day of a three-day sale at Camp Bowie is a factor toward heading 3,000 acres of land back toward agricultural users. More than 4,000 buildings were sold by War Assets Administration in a successful, whirlwind sales effort at this well known war time army camp. Many of the buildings went in blocks of a hundred or more to Texas contractors. On the first days of the sale individuals had their opportunity to purchase one or more of the houses. Registrations reflected 1,200 active bidders.

Approximately 900 tons of structural steel and glass for industrial lighting purposes will be offered to commercial channels and the priority group at fixed prices until December 19 through

The Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie office of War Assets Administration. All of this surplus property is located at Camden, Arkansas and may be inspected at the property location.

"My curtains stay clean
so much longer
since we have vented heat"

It's true. If you are now using unvented heating equipment, you probably cannot even imagine how much joy you would experience from using vented equipment such as floor furnaces, panel wall heaters or a forced-air central gas furnace. Curtains stay soft, fluffy and clean for long periods. Draperies and furnishings stay clean longer. There's no condensation on windows or walls, no huddling near heaters, no blistering on one side and shivering on the other, no odors. And vented heat is more healthful.

See your gas equipment dealer today for information about VENTED gas heating equipment.

Veterans' News

Nearly half of the veterans financing the purchase of homes with the aid of GI loans are buying newly built houses at an average selling price of $8,200 each, the Veterans Administration reports.

Analysis of GI home loan figures for the nation over a four-month period (May through August of this year) shows that over 45 percent of the loans made were on new construction and that the remainder were on homes previously occupied, for which the sales price averaged $6,675.

With a current average of $8,000 veterans monthly using their loan guarantee rights for home purchases, this means that about 22,000 new homes per month are being sold to veterans under the program.

Since the first GI loan was made late in 1944, over 971,000 veterans had received VA-guaranteed home loans as of the end of October. The total value of their home purchases exceeds $5,610,000,000.

Only a month remains in which most National Service Life Insurance policies that have lapsed may be reinstated without necessity of taking a physical examination, the Veterans Administration said.

After the deadline date of December 31, 1947, policies that have lapsed more than three months cannot be reinstated without the veteran proving his insurability by a complete physical examination.

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Q. How much grain can be saved by marketing hogs at lighter weights?

A. Marketing hogs at lighter weights of from 200 to 225 lbs. can mean a big saving in grain. Every reduction of one pound in the average weight of all hogs marketed in the U. S. saves 7 million bushels of grain.

Q. Can the poultryman get high egg production and still save grain?

A. Feeding the best ration available to high-producers will save grain through getting the most eggs per pound of feed. Extension Service figures from many states show an average of about 9 lbs. of feed to produce a dozen eggs. On the Purina program with Purina Layena or Lay Chow it takes only about 6 lbs. of feed per dozen eggs.

Q. If the milking ration contains salt is it necessary to have block salt available for cows?

A. Yes, as the amount of salt dairy cows need is almost entirely an individual proposition, varying with the size of the cows, the type of ration, and the amount of milk produced. In addition, some cows seem to have a special appetite for extra salt. Milking rations should contain 1% salt, but block salt should also be available for the cows to eat according to their individual desires.

Q. What is the difference between pen matings and flock matings in turkey breeding?

A. Most commercial turkey breeders use the flock mating method which consists of mating a large number of hens to several toms. The birds mate at random. Pen matings consist of mating one tom with a few hens in order to keep pedigree records. This method is used as a means of flock improvement.

Q. How many years of human life are equivalent to one year of dog life?

A. About seven years of human life correspond to one year of dog life, and the average length of life for a dog is about ten years.

At the present time, and until the end of the year, a veteran may reinstate term insurance in most cases by simply signing a statement to the effect that his health is as good as it was at the time of lapse. Then, by payment of two monthly premiums, his insurance can be reinstated.

Giant Parade In Plainview On December 8th

Giant-sized balloon animals, some of them riding in a special balloon train costing $47,000.00.

Monday, December 8, in a gala will stalk the streets of Plainview, Christmas program which begins with a parade at 2:30 in the afternoon and sounds finish with a musical program and fireworks display, beginning at 7:30 p. m. at the Plainview athletic stadium.

The entire day's program is free. Jean Gros, Inc., of Pittsburg, Pa., will produce the parade, and a special pyrotechnics engineer from the Thearle-Duffield Fireworks Company, Chicago, will come to Plainview to set-up and engineer the fireworks program. Plainview schools, civic organizations, and local merchants will add color to the afternoon parade with their floats. High school bands from a wide territory have been invited to participate in the parade, with $175.00 in cash awards being offered them. Baton twirlers and bicycle decorators will also compete for prizes. Local merchants' store windows will be specially decorated in a display window contest. A free meal will be served band members at 6 p. m.

Santa Claus himself will arrive on a down-town Plainview street by airplane, then mount the cow-catcher of the giant balloon train, where he will ride in the parade eight feet above the street and greet his thousands of little friends. Following the parade, Santa will seek a down-town vantage point and distribute hundreds of pounds of candy and nuts free to the kiddies.

Plainview's streets will be decorated with thousands of multi-colored Christmas lights.

The event, begun last year and unanimously endorsed by residents of the Plainview area to become an annual event, is sponsored by the Plainview Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, Inc.

Diphtheria Vaccine Should Be Given All Children, Doctor Says

All children should be immunized against diphtheria at a very early age, according to a statement on the subject released this week by the Texas State Department of Health, explaining that toxoid, which can be administered easily and without danger, can safeguard youngsters against this serious and killing disease of childhood.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges all Texas parents to have their children, who are not already protected, immunized at once.

"The administration of toxoid can save a child from serious illness or even death and those who have not been safeguarded against this danger should be inoculated immediately," Dr. Cox said.

"Babies should be immunized by the age of eight or nine months," Dr. Cox advised. Authorities on the care of infants recommend a first dose by the age of eight or nine months, and sometimes as early as six months. A second dose is usually given later.

To maintain complete immunity, Dr. Cox said that a reinforcing dose of toxoid is advised when a child is old enough to enter school if a Schick test reveals the need of one. Children who enter school or kindergarten this year without this additional safeguard or without ever having been immunized certainly should be protected without any further delay. The State Health Officer declared.

Meaty Soups Serve Double Lunch Purpose Fall Days

It's a wise homemaker who plans fall lunches that can be served at home and included in the school lunch box as well, says Reba Staggs, food authority.

An important food in this type of menu planning is the flavorful, filling meat soup. Miss Staggs recommends that these soups be prepared at the same time the evening meal is fixed on the day before, and stored in the refrigerator. Then, in the morning, part of the soup may be heated to fill the thermos bottles of the school lunchers. The remainder is heated at lunch time for members of the family who eat at home. Served with sandwiches, a salad, dessert and beverage, either is complete.

Both canned meat soups and soup made at home with a soup bone or bones from a cut of meat offer infinite possibilities. To home-made stock may be added vegetables for that favorite of favorites, vegetable soup. The addition of dumplings made with ground liver also gives an appetizing air.

Soups that do not boast of being made with meat take on the same flavor and filling qualities when sliced frankfurters or cubed salami are added during the heating time. Examples are split pea or potato soup. This is also true of corn and potato chowder which depend on bits of crispy bacon for their flavor.

Canned meat soups are of special help to the homemaker who
