RAIN SUNDAY NIGHT BENEFICIAL TO LARGE AREA

Rain Sunday seemed to cover a larger territory than any moisture the county has received lately. Last Thursday night Silverton had 69 inches in town, but the rain was spotted, some reported as much as an inch, but most places only got about one-quarter. Sunday night's rain amounted to 1.18 inches, and was fairly general.

Behind The Eight Ball . . .

A basic tenet of law is that a man is innocent until proven guilty. Unfortunately, public opinion often condemns without justification and the accused party must prove himself innocent. Such has been the position of the steel industry. Steel prices lag far behind most commodities, but steel has had an uphill job explaining its problem to the public. Newsweek, describing the situation, says:

"Today's big earnings of U. S. Steel are possible only because its old plants have been written off to a nominal value of $20 a ton of annual capacity. To replace that capacity today would cost close to $300 a ton.

"The cost of the industry is in similar straits. On Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation books the investment in steel-producing facilities is valued at $6,934 an employee. But Admiral Ben Moreell, J and L president, believes that to replace them at today's prices would cost between $30,000 and $40,000 a worker.

"The steel companies are behind a bigger eight ball than even many steel executives have fully appreciated. As long as present steel mills, ore, coal, and limestone properties hold out, they will continue to report comfortable profits. But when these have to be replaced, steel prices must jump considerably or the industry will find itself deep in the red."

A Tip From Australia . . .

The restoration of peacetime price and rationing control apparently will be a major campaign issue in the forthcoming presidential election. If it is, the people of this country, whether they realize it or not, will be witnessing a debate over the future pattern of government under which they are to live. Permanent price and rationing control mean inexorable extension of centralized authority and the final adoption of the socialized state, whether it is called that or not.

Aside from the danger to personal liberty and other philosophical considerations, price and rationing control, from a practical standpoint, is a demonstrated failure. In every country where it has been tried it has led to shortages and hardship. When prices are arbitrarily held below the supply-demand levels of the free market, people will not produce. Legitimate distribution channels are disrupted by black markets and the police powers of the state become increasingly brutal if order is maintained. The expanding bureaucracy of OPA and its kangaroo court methods which were nipped in the bud at the end of the war should serve as fair warning of what can be expected if the system is re-established.

American consumers are getting better service at lower relative prices in the light of existing conditions without OPA than they ever did with it. Congressional investigations have shown that retailers' profit margins are less now in the free market than they were in the controlled market of OPA. Moreover there are no shortages of necessities.

America is not the only country that has been faced with the price control issue. Australia recently defeated by a heavy majority vote an attempt by the Central Labor Government to write price control as a permanent power into the Federal Constitution. An observer pointed out that "The Australians do not want permanent centralized Federal Government control of their economic affairs."

Supply And Demand Best Regulator . . .

Those who wonder why meat prices have reached present levels will find food for thought in an editorial by Nelson R. Crow, publisher of the Western Livestock Journal.

"Stockmen generally are taking a sober view of the price situation," he wrote. "There are few who are particularly elated about the relatively high prices being paid on the markets for fat cattle, and it must be admitted that the cost of replacement cattle is rather frightening . . .

"Actually, stockmen have little or no voice in establishing the prices they receive for their livestock, nor do they have anything to say about the retail prices of meat. These prices are established by the old laws of supply and demand. As a matter of fact, retail meat prices are established by the consumer, and are based upon the ability and the willingness of the consumer to buy the supply of meat that is available. Buying power, reflected through high consumer income as a result of the successful demands for higher and higher wages, is at an all-time high."

What is true of stockmen is true all along the meat processing and distribution line. The packers, for instance, do not control prices. They, too, are governed by the laws of supply and demand, and the profit they earn amounts to but a fraction of a cent per pound of the price paid for meat by consumers. And the retailer, finally, performs the last step in bringing meat to the home at a profit per pound so small as to hardly affect the selling price.

In a competitive economy prices and supply find their natural level, and profits per dollar sale, after taxes, are always moderate. Meat is a typical example.

Count Our Blessings . . .

No place in the world is more healthy to live in than the United States. And if you get sick no place offers better, and few as good, doctor and medical service for all.

Commenting on this great advantage, Dr. R. L. Sensenrich says: "Men live in the United States in good health to a greater average than ever before in the history of any nation." This he attributed to the "spirit of progress of American medicine" exemplified by "the opportunity of the individual physician to progress to greater scientific attainments and better medical service, free from the deteriorating influence of government political control."

Social and political groups now advocating foreign medical plans for the United States can better devote their energies toward expanding our present voluntary prepaid medical and hospital programs which have proved superior to any compulsory government medical system.

You Still Have Time To Put Out Cuttings

If you have been slow about putting out cuttings of your favorite shrubs, take heart. You still have time to grow some of the plants. Cuttings of most of the plants can be grown at this time, but you will need to give them plenty of water and some shade, says Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. and M. College.

Shrubs and trees are not the only things that can be grown from cuttings. Some of the ordinary plants such as pinks, carnations, tomatoes, and many others can be grown from cuttings, too.

During the early part of the growing season plants may root within a few hours after being placed in the warm, moist soil.

Wood the size of a new pencil is about right, although larger or smaller pieces may be used. Select young cut stems of shrubs and trees, but they should be old enough to be hard. Take off all the leaves except the top two of each cutting. If many of the leaves are left on, the cutting may die, and if no leaves are left on, rooting may be slow. Plant three-fourths or more of the cutting underground. Keep the cuttings moist, well-drained and in half shade. Some people plant their cuttings on the north side of the house.

For plants that are liable to wilt, some people turn fruit jars over their cuttings and put a light shade over the jar. The jar becomes a small greenhouse for each cutting.

Now is a very good time to think of rooting some of your favorite shrubs and trees for your friends, says Miss Hatfield. They will make nice gifts for next Christmas. The plants may be grown in pots, tin cans or in the open ground.

Defective Electric Refrigerators Cause Big Fire Loss

AUSTIN, July 22—Fires caused from defective electric refrigerators marked the only big increase in Texas insured fire losses for the month of May as dollar damage fell below one million for the second time this year.

In the actual number of fires, May contained the lowest amount for 1948. Fires numbered 440 and caused over an $800,000 loss.

Matches and cigarettes were the worst offenders. They started 77 fires and caused 80 thousand dollars damage. Smokers in bed traded 11 cigarettes for $650. Nine children played with matches and burned up $700.

Overheated motors in electric refrigerators, that are already under dog-day strain in Texas, were the main cause of fires originating in the boxes. Over $77 thousand damage was done in 54 refrigerator fires.

"These figures prove that summer weather is really here because until this month the highest number of refrigerator fires was 11 and the greatest dollar damage was 61 thousand," stated Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner. "Refrigerator blazes multiplied five times and were the second most frequent cause of fire in May."

The third greatest cause of fire was electricity which started 51 flames, followed by trash and rubbish originating 20 fires. Fifth was 17 fires from lightning, which also showed an increase for the year.

Homes again suffered the greatest number of occupancy fires—199 houses caught fire causing $200 thousand damage. Also, 39 of those hard-to-get apartments burned at a cost of $44,000.

Private garages and mercantile stores both had 28 fires in May, and fourth, 20 cafes burned, followed by 12 outbuilding fires.

Local School Districts Pay 47 Per Cent Cost of Education

AUSTIN, Texas—Local financial support of Texas' public schools has kept pace with the greatly increased state aid during the last decade.

A comprehensive state-wide study has just been released by the Texas State Teachers Association in cooperation with the State Department of Education. It discloses that through increased property valuation or hikes in taxes most local school districts are doing their share in paying the cost of their schools.

During the 1946-47 school year, the latest for which complete figures are available, the study disclosed that the state paid 53 per cent of the cost of education and the local districts 47 per cent. These approximate figures hold true for each of the last ten years despite the fact the constitution of Texas provides that the state shall pay for two-thirds of the costs of the schools.

Most schools have nine-month terms. The constitution sets out that "the state shall maintain and support schools for not less than six months."

Expenditures for public schools have increased from a total of $76,706,149 in 1935-36 to $137,609,088 during 1946-47. The local support in 1935-36 was 51 per cent to 49 for the state. The average salary of teachers in the mid thirties was approximately $1100.

Shortly after the depression years Texans became conscious of the deficiencies in their school system and set about to give it more financial aid, the report noted.

As the legislature hiked appropriations for the schools, the local districts also increased their levies and property valuations.

During the 1941-42 school year local districts bore 51 per cent of the cost of education. They collected taxes amounting to $47-375,861. The state supplied $44,610,190.

Both state and local support jumped in 1946-47. The legislature in 1945 increased the maximum tax rate that may be voted by common and independent school districts to $1.50.

The result was that the districts took advantage of it. Local tax support in 1946-47 totaled $84,116,512. The state supplied $73,392,576.

The larger districts, especially, increased their levies. During the last school year more than 50 per cent of all children of scolar age in independent school districts resided in districts which now levy a tax rate above $1.00.

More Fertilizer Available Soon

Three developments have taken place recently following Congressional action of the International Emergency Food Committee. These changes will boost the nitrogen fertilizer supply of the next 12 months up ten percent over last year's total, says M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist of Texas A. and M. College.

The expected increase will make available over 900 thousand tons of nitrogen fertilizer or around 85 thousand tons more than was had last year. Even though there has been an improvement in the supplies of world fertilizer nitrogen as compared with last year, the expected supply from now until next July will still fall short of world demand.

The first of these three developments that will bring more nitrogen fertilizer is the increase of smaller country imports and the private production. The amount the United States will get from private production added to the imports from the small countries such as Chile, Canada and Norway will amount to something like 26-500 thousand tons of the ten percent increase.

The other two developments deal with army production at the US government plants. One provides that ten percent of the anhydrous ammonia that is produced at these plants will be turned over to commercial plants to be changed into fertilizer for farm use. In numbers, this will amount to around 28 thousand tons.

The other development is that half of the coming year's exports of nitrogen fertilizer shall be made up of army production. Since the coming year's expected exports will be close to 61 thousand tons, 31,500 tons will be on hand for domestic uses.

With all this talk about thousands of tons of fertilizer, it sounds as if there will be enough for everybody, says Thornton. But even with this expected increase, the world will still be a little short on nitrogen fertilizer.

which have lapsed for more than three months without taking a physical examination.

Q. Where do I get an application blank to reinstate NSLI policies?

A. VA form 9-353A should be filled out and mailed to VA on or before July 31, 1948. Blanks can be obtained from the nearest VA office, the service officer of any veterans' organization, the American Red Cross or most insurance agents.

Q. How much will it cost to reinstate my GI insurance?

A. Your application for reinstatement should be accompanied by at least two monthly premiums in the amount of insurance that you had at that time. If you wish a smaller amount, reduce your premium payment accordingly. For example, if you paid $6.50 a month for $10,000 while in service and you want only $1,000 now, you should send VA two premiums of 65 cents each and continue to pay 65 cents every 30 days to prevent further lapse.

Q. If I cannot afford the full $10,000 can a lesser amount be reinstated?

A. Yes. Application may be made for amount from $1,000 to $10,000 in multiples of $500.

Eight Steers Show Gain During Summer Grazing Period

Eight steers showed an average gain of 2.12 pounds during a 70-day summer grazing period on irrigated pasture mixtures and a long-range feeding project at Texas Technological College.

The project which is the third year and the second part of a three-year grazing experiment was started May 1 with the eight choice yearling steers divided into two lots of four each.

Lot one with an average weight of 648 pounds was placed on an alfalfa pasture May 1 to May 29. Lot two with an average weight of 630.25 was placed on a pasture sown with alfalfa, brome and perennial rye grass for the same period. The two groups gained respectively .76 pound and .19 pound.

The second pasture grazing was from May 29 to June 19. Lot one was moved to alfalfa and perennial rye pasture and lot two to alfalfa and brome pasture. The first group gained 3.6 pounds and the second 2.19 pounds.

Both were switched to the first pastures for the next period of 21 days, from June 19 to July 10, and showed average gains of 2.43 and 2.88.

Overall gains for the two groups during the 70-day period were 2.34 and 1.91 per day.

The third and final portion of the project is to be finished in 1950.

Wayland College Approved As A Senior College

The hard work and efforts of the administration and faculty of Wayland College have been rewarded with recognition by the State Department of Education of this institution as a Senior College. Recently Miss Nell Parmely, Assistant State Superintendent in Music, Teacher Training, and College Examiner, made an inspection visit to the campus. In a letter dated July 13, from Miss Parmely to President J. W. Marshall and addressed to the Board of Examiners, the following statement was made:

"The Condition of Wayland Baptist College has improved to such an extent that it is hardly recognizable as the earlier institution. Definite and exacting work was done in the long session to bring this institution up to senior standing. . . . Basing my recent visit on the recent developments this institution has made, I am placing it on the list of senior institutions. This approval must be followed up as is the policy of this Department by Wayland College continuing to meet the standards as required and the beginning of next session should show that every standard has been reached and is being carried through. If the good work, the cooperation, and interest is continued, it follows that Wayland College will continue its present approval by this Department."

The friends of the school will rejoice at this good news. Students who plan to attend Wayland will feel much more secure of their credits earned there. The college feels confident that this recognition by the State Department of Education is the first main step in securing full accreditation and membership in the Texas Association of Colleges as a four-year institution.

To date, as many students have made reservations to come to Wayland as enrolled last year. The dormitories are practically filled and the school is already looking for additional housing facilities for students. Also thirty-five scholarships have been secured for the fifty or more applicants of foreign students to come to Wayland in September. Altogether the prospects are that Wayland will have a capacity enrollment for the fall term.

And all through the house make sure there is Adequate Wiring, and plenty of electric outlets for radios, lighting, fans, vacuum cleaners... all the appliances you will want to live better... electrically.

You'll find it the economical way of living, too... because electric service from Southwestern Public Service Company is cheaper today than ever before.

Your engine, too, needs extra protection from summer heat... And the best protection "under the sun" is to make a date to OIL-PLATE with Conoco N4 Motor Oil, today! A special, added ingredient in N4 Motor Oil (Patented) fastens an extra film of lubricant so closely to metal that your engine's working parts are actually OIL-PLATED!... This extra OIL-PLATING stays up on cylinder walls... won't all drain down, even overnight! That means extra-protection... from high running-heat... from metal-eating combustion acids... from power-choking sludge and carbon due to wear.

Wise motorists save wear, save money, save worry when they make a date for...

Y. W. A. CEREMONY AND ANNOUNCEMENT TEA HONORING MISS ESTELLE GUICE WEDNESDAY EVENING

One of the most beautiful announcement settings was that arranged in the home of Mrs. Clifford Allard Wednesday evening, July 21, 1948, when the Y. W. A. honored Miss Estelle Guice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Perkins with a Y. W. A. ceremony and announcement tea.

Upon arrival of the guests they were received by Misses Gladys Hyatt and Jean Bradley and each guest was presented with a corsage of Ivy bearing the names of "Estelle and Bill," which revealed the approaching marriage of Miss Guice to Mr. Bill Rucker of Quitaque, August 18, 1948.

The bride-to-be stood before a big heart bearing the names of "Estelle and Bill—August 18, 1948" in gold letters. The white bible was presented by the president of the Y. W. A. Shirley Haynes and Mrs. Clifford Allard. The ceremony for the presentation of a gift bible was read by Rev. G. A. Elrod, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Soft music was played during the evening.

After the ceremony the guests were invited into the dining room. The dining table was laid with a Brazilian lace cloth and the center piece was a crystal stand with bride and groom standing on it, and lighted tapers with ivy carried out the Y. W. A. colors, with a bouquet of garden flowers. The guests were served line punch and angle food squares.

The guest list included: Rev.

and Mrs. G. A. Elrod, Mesdames Katie Jackson, Ray C. Bomar, Lee Perkins, mother of Miss Guice, Misses Mary Tom Bomar, Vonna Wood, Beth Joiner, Mona Brock, Treasa Crass, Jean Dudley, Betty Bradley, Norma Joe Teeple, Gladys Hyatt, Betty Dickerson, Shirley Haynes, Golia Bomar, Evelyn Jones, Frances Stewart, of Denton; Roberta Duck, Collene Ingram, all of Quitaque, Bill Rucker, groom-to-be, of Quitaque, and Mrs. Clifford Allard, hostess.

To The Voters of Briscoe County:

I am truly grateful for the splendid vote of confidence you gave me last Saturday.

It is my belief that an officer represents all of the people and should be fair and unprejudiced in all of his actions.

I intend to do my part to properly handle all matters coming within my official duties; and while I may have to prosecute some, I will never be guilty of persecuting anyone.

If any one of you, at any time, know of any violations of the law, that should be prosecuted, I will appreciate your letting me know about it, for your officers are helpless to protect your interest without your active support

Again thanking you for your support I am,

Yours very truly,

Bigger Popcorn Explosion Makes Bang-Up Product

AMES, IOWA.—Science is putting a bigger pop in popcorn to make it better and less crunchy.

Not long ago popcorn that exploded into 24 times its original size was considered good. Now good popcorn expands 28 to 30 times in volume.

Some varieties developed by Dr. E. C. Eldredge and associates at the agricultural experiment station of Iowa State College have expanded 28 times in tests. This big expansion doesn't always occur, and size 24 popcorn isn't available for popcorn growers. But it may come along in time.

The bigger the explosion, the bigger, fluffier and tenderer the pieces of popped corn, Dr. Eldredge said. People like it better, even though they get less popcorn to a bag.

Popcorn vendors like it better, too, because it takes less corn to throw as much money in sales.

Emphasize Explosions
For years the emphasis in plant breeding has been to get the bigger explosions. The job is difficult, because the corn also must give high yields, stand up well and be suitable for machine harvesting.

Only certain kinds of corn pop well. Moisture in the kernel turns to steam, and the kernel explodes. The steam pressure has to be generated quickly enough to produce a sudden expansion.

It has been thought that the hull acted like a bomb cover, holding in the steam for a time. But this doesn't seem to be the answer. The hulls can be damaged and the corn will still pop. The popping may be due to the structure of the millions of starch grains in the kernel, Dr. Eldredge said.

Research since 1928 here in the biggest popcorn-growing state shows some of the essentials for good popping. The temperature of the popcorn should be between 450 and 500 degrees. One part of oil should be used for every five parts of corn. Most important, the moisture content of the corn should be about 22 to 24 per cent.

Popcorn Production
The United States produces about 1,200 million pounds of popcorn a year on the average and Iowa grows about one-third of it.

About half of the crop is sold to motion-picture theater chains and finds its way into vending machines. Wholesale grocery firms take 25 per cent, selling to grocery stores and popcorn stands. Many of the stands buy directly from local growers. The other 25 per cent is used by makers of popcorn confections, coated with molasses, syrup or chocolate.

This year the Iowa station is testing nearly 1,200 different crosses or hybrid combinations of different lines of popcorn. Each year samples are pumped and measured for volume, taste and tenderness. The tests support snowy mountains of popcorn which are sold on the Iowa State campus for the benefit of the Ag Economy club, the student section of the American Society of Agronomy.

Escaped Bull Stages Classy Rodeo for Busy Detroiters
DETROIT.—A bull staged a 40-minute rodeo all its own in Detroit's backhous district, hooking one man in the seat of the pants and terrorizing a woman.

A shot from a deer rifle finally ended it.

The bull broke out of a pen and made a dash for busy Michigan Avenue. A few feet behind came George Alexander, chasing the animal to a trailer-truck.

On a corner the bull cornered a woman and tore her dress before Alexander and his truck chased him away. The woman wasn't hurt except for the fright.

Charging into the yard of a porcelain company, the bull hooked the seat of a workman's pants and tossed him over a light truck. The workman was shaken but otherwise unhurt.

When Edward Frass, an employee, drew a bead and put a bullet through the bull's head.

S. J. R. No. 2 A JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an amendment to Section 28 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide for a Board for apportioning the state into senatorial districts and representative districts in the event the Legislature fails to make such apportionment; providing for the issuance of the necessary proclamation by the Governor; and making an appropriation.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 28 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

"Section 28. The Legislature shall, at its first regular session after the publication of each United States decennial census, apportion the state into senatorial and representative districts, agreeable to the provisions of Section 25, 26, and 26-a of this Article. In the event the Legislature shall at any such first regular session following the publication of a United States decennial census, fail to make such apportionment, same shall be done by the Legislative Redistricting Board of Texas, which is hereby created, and shall be composed of five (5) members, as follows: The Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Attorney General, the Comptroller of Public Accounts and the Commissioner of the General Land Office, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum. Said Board shall assemble in the City of Austin within ninety (90) days after the final adjournment of such regular session. The Board shall, within sixty (60) days after assembling, apportion the state into senatorial and representative districts, or into senatorial or representative districts, as the failure of action of such Legislature may make necessary. Such apportionment shall be in writing and signed by three (3) or more of the members of the Board duly acknowledged as the act and deed of such Board, and, when so executed and filed with the Secretary of State, shall have force and effect of law. Such apportionment shall become effective at the next succeeding statewide general election. The Supreme Court of Texas shall have jurisdiction to compel such Commission to perform its duties in accordance with the provisions of this section by writ of mandamus or other extra-ordinary writs conformable to the usages of law. The Legislature shall provide necessary funds for clerical and technical aid and for other expenses incidental to the work of the Board, and the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall be entitled to receive per diem and travel expense during the Board's session in the same manner and amount as they would receive while attending a special session of the Legislature. This amendment shall become effective January 1, 1951."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas at an election to be held throughout the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1948, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"For the amendment to Section 28, Article III of the Constitution of Texas providing for a Board for apportioning the state into senatorial districts and representative districts in the event the Legislature fails to make such apportionment.

"Against the amendment to Section 28, Article III of the Constitution of Texas providing for a Board for apportionments of the state into senatorial districts and representative districts in the event the Legislature fails to make such apportionment."

Each voter at such election shall mark out one of such clauses on the ballot, leaving the clause expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

Section 4. The sum of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury of this state not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

amending Section 15 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto a provision that the husband and wife from time to time may in writing partition between themselves in severalty or into undivided interests all or any part of their community property, whereupon without prejudice to the right of existing creditors the portion or interest set aside to each spouse shall be and constitute a part of the separate property of such spouse; further providing that such Constitutional Amendment if adopted shall be self-operative and self-executing; providing for the submission of this Amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 15 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 15. All property, both real and personal, of the wife, owned or claimed by her before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent, shall be the separate property of the wife; and laws shall be passed more clearly defining the rights of the wife, in relation as well to her separate property as that held in common with her husband; provided that husband and wife, without prejudice to pre-existing creditors, may from time to time by written instrument as if the wife were a feme sole partition between themselves in severalty or into equal undivided interests all or any part of their existing community property, or exchange between themselves the community interest of one spouse in any property for the community interest of the other spouse in other community property, whereupon the portion or interest set aside to each spouse shall be and constitute a part of the separate property of each spouse.

This Amendment is self-operative, but laws may be passed prescribing requirements as to the form and manner of execution of such instruments, and providing for their recordation, and for such other reasonable requirements not inconsistent herewith as the Legislature may from time to time consider proper with relation to the subject of this Amendment. Should the Legislature pass an Act dealing with the subject of this Amendment and prescribing requirements as to the form and manner of the execution of such instruments and providing for their recordation and other reasonable requirements not inconsistent herewith and anticipatory hereof, such Act shall not be invalid by reason of its anticipatory character and shall take effect just as though this Constitutional Amendment was in effect when the Act was passed."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas at an election to be held throughout the State on the second day of November, 1948, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and Laws of this State.

Many cooperators have expressed an interest in planting hairy vetch and Austrian Winter peas this fall as a soil building crop and winter cover crop. Get in touch with local seed dealers soon so you can obtain the necessary seed at the proper time. When planting the proper nitrogen inoculant is almost a must to get maximum results. Dealers can supply the inoculant to use at a very small cost.

Seeding of Austrian Winter peas or hairy vetch in feed or cotton stubble is very practical and easily done. The crop will grow during the winter and can either be plowed under as a green manure crop in the spring or allowed to seed next spring. Some winter grazing may be obtained.

Irrigation ditch lines were run for the following cooperators of the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District recently: Rex Dickerson, Lee D. Bomar, Troy Burson, M. L. Self, H. Roy Brown, Oscar Weeks, Earl Cantwell, Seymour Brannon and Joe McWaters.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service staked off an elevated ditch for Clyde Hutsell this past week. Mr. Hutsell's farm is situated seven miles southeast of Silverton. This ditch will aid in proper distribution of irrigation water over his land.

A high point was located for Cleat Miller whose ranch is located nine miles southeast of Silverton this week. High points were also located for D. N. McGavock and O. M. Dudley about eight miles south of Silverton.

Countess Says Liquor Dulls U. S. Romance

ROME.—Romance in the United States is dulled instead of stimulated by too many martinis, manhattans and gin fizzes, claims Countess Angelica Guerritore Caracciolo, Italian authority on such matters.

The 35-year-old countess, a resident of the Isle of Capri, says she was shocked when American girls told her:

"I had a wonderful time last night. I got so drunk. I didn't know anything."

A ceramics artist, the countess has also written several tracts on the technique of romance and has lectured on the subject.

"In Italy, it is different," she says. "When two people are in love they never touch intoxicants. It destroys their sensitiveness. They want to retain their full senses to feel the vibrations of their passion. They walk together. They sit together. They are alive to one another like a taut wire."

The countess says she has seen Americans get so drunk they go to sleep at tables with their heads buried in their arms. That, she says, is bad.

Sometimes, one will lean over and put his arm around the girl next to him—who is also inebriated, she adds.

"What feeling is there in this? None at all. Their senses are blacked out. Often they don't know what they are doing."

"Americans should not drink so much," the countess maintains, "Europeans drink much less."

The countess is not adverse to a spot now and again, herself, but she believes it mixes badly with spring love—that's all.

She thinks that is why there are so many marriage failures in the United States. Couples, she says, get married on booze instead of vibrations.

"Love is a much more enjoyable thing, on a nonalcoholic basis."

Dog Rides in Stroller To Get Inoculation

MEMPHIS, TENN.—All sorts of dogs came to be inoculated against rabies in a Shelby county drive. But only one came in a baby stroller.

Mrs. Robert E. Harpst, who was registering dogs in one of the dozen emergency veterinarian clinics, was surprised to see the dog sitting comfortably in the stroller with a woman along side.

"He wouldn't walk," the woman told Mrs. Harpst, "so I rolled him over for his vaccination."

Rescue Experts Slog Through Everglades for Training

IMMOKALEE, FLA. — Twelve grizzled air force rescue experts slogged through the Everglades swamps on a 26 mile trek in some of nature's meanest terrain.

The hike is to train doctors, medical corpsmen and rescue teams how to traverse swamps and jungle on rescue missions.

The "jungle phase," however, is just the first part of a rigorous training planned for the soldiers. Later they will practice salt water survival on the Florida gulf coast, then go to Alaska for arctic survival and still later to a desert area to learn how to live there.

When the teams have completed their training, they will be used to reach crashed planes in any part of the country.

For three days the men, specially selected soldiers from the 5th rescue squadron, lived off nature. They first parachuted into a dense wooded area, snagging their chutes in trees and lowering themselves to the ground with 150 foot ropes.

Then they hacked a clearing out of the underbrush and caught snakes, raccoons, opossums and fish. They ate roots and the hearts of cabbage palms. At night they fashioned hammocks for sleeping and ate and cooked with utensils made from bamboo joints.

Chief Petty Officer Has Troubles to Talk About

OAKLAND, CALIF. — Troubles? Listen to Chief Petty Officer John Lambert's.

He was transferred from Alameda naval station to the navy's torpedo testing ground near Pasadena, but—the airplane he boarded took him to the guided missile center at Pt. Mugu instead.

While he was stranded there, his wife, whom he hadn't seen in a year, arrived here by air.

The navy sent a friend of Lambert's to meet her but he got a ticket for speeding on the way.

The Lamberts finally were reunited in an Oakland apartment—the landlord called police. He complained he hadn't been informed the apartment had been sublet to the couple.

They were ordered to get out. The strain of it all caused Mrs. Lambert to collapse from nervous exhaustion. She was taken to Oak Knoll naval hospital.

The chief went to the police station to pay his friend's speeding fine of $5—and returned to find his own car ticketed for illegal parking.

Colorado Wants Zeb Pike's Bones For Peak, or Bust

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—The war between the city of Colorado Springs and Sackets Harbor, N. Y., over the remains of Zebulon Pike is still going strong.

The latest development was a scornful rejection by Colorado Springs of a Sackets Harbor peace offer. The Upper New York state town has suggested that Colorado Springs accept a small box of earth from Pike's grave and forget about its plan to install the general's remains under a monument on Pike's peak.

Mayor J. N. McCullough of Colorado Springs made the rejection official when he said:

"Pike's peak is a God given monument for the general—and it's the place where he ought to be buried."

Doug Crouch, president of the chamber of commerce, was a little more emphatic.

It's Pike—or Bust

"We want to bring the general home and we don't want any dirt," he said. "The boys set out to get Pike and that's what we're going to do."

The Colorado campaign to remove Pike's remains from the military cemetery at Sackets Harbor where he is buried and give the famed general a final resting place atop the peak he discovered, gathered new momentum with the offer of Sackets Harbor earth was made in a letter to the Denver Post from E. W. Dennison, assistant postmaster of the upper New York state town. Dennison sent — under separate cover—a three-inch square box containing a sample of earth he was talking about.

A reporter who looked inside said it appeared that General Pike now was buried under somewhat rocky soil. The sample was full of pebbles.

Secretary Expresses Thanks
Howard N. Yates, secretary of the Colorado Springs chamber of commerce, was the only man in town who even suggested the box of earth might be welcome.

"Tell the man thanks," he asked. "We can plant that as seed and orient the ground so the general will feel right at home when he gets here."

Yates said he was sure the Pike monument plan would proceed and predicted the army soon would okay the move.

Crouch regarded the Sackets Harbor letter as an insult however. "That guy is trying to be funny," he said. "It's silly to think we'd take dirt instead of bones."

But it wasn't funny to Asst. Postmaster Dennison of Sackets Harbor, who wrote the letter and sent the box.

"Anything we can do to help Colorado we are willing to do—except to surrender the remains of Gen. Pike," he said. "We are a little historical and we want the general here, because he sailed from here to his death at the battle of York."

Dennison added a P. S. to his letter. "I was in Denver 40 years ago," it said. "The only activity I saw was Market street."

Contractor Agitates Paint With Wife's Washing Machine

TRENTON, N. J.—Thanks to his wife's washing machine, a Trenton contractor is putting a new coat of paint on the 720-foot Delaware river bridge between Milford, N. J., and upper Black Eddy, Pa.

The Delaware river joint toll bridge commission hired Dewey D'Agostino to paint the super-structure, specifying that the paint must be mixed daily by an agitator. But agitators, D'Agostino found, are not to be had.

D'Agostino, who once had to find a non-union midget to paint the understructure of another bridge, applied his ingenuity and appropriated his wife's washing machine. The job is proceeding on schedule.

What of Mrs. D'Agostino? "It cost me $400 for a new machine for her," D'Agostino said.

Picture Shows Woodrow Wilson Liked Nicknames

MIDDLETOWN, CONN. — Woodrow Wilson, like President Roosevelt, apparently liked to tag his associates with nicknames.

Such sobriquets as "Redhead," "Winch," "Van Benny," "Our Bobs," and "Little Billee," were conferred by the scholarly Wilson on men with high sounding titles and degrees who served with him on the Wesleyan university faculty. That was back in the '80s.

The nicknames appear in Wilson's handwriting above each faculty member on a composite picture just discovered by the university. Wilson designated himself "Woodrow."

At the bottom he wrote: "The faculty with less deadwood than any faculty of my acquaintance. Woodrow Wilson."

The composite picture was among a group of Wesleyan photographs donated to the university by George W. Davison, New York banker, a Wesleyan alumnus and trustee.

Heart Disease Continues Number One Killer

Heart disease continued in the top spot as the number one killer of Texans, according to figures released by the Texas State Department of Health.

Mortality rate figures show an increase of 255 deaths from the April, 1946 figure of 1,099, as compared to the April, 1948 total of 1,354. This represents an increase of more than 18.5% for the comparative period.

"So-called functional heart diseases is usually traceable to nervousness, infections from other parts of the body such as teeth and tonsils, a disturbed function of the thyroid gland, and to influenza," Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, said. "And the excessive use of Tobacco, coffee, tea or other heavy stimulant is often a contributing cause."

Malfunction of the heart is a correctable condition, the health officer said, insofar as the sources of infection may be located and eliminated, as in the case of bad teeth or tonsils. Incurable organic heart ailments exist only too frequent.

Strict adherence to competent medical advice will eliminate much worry about either functional or organic heart conditions, Dr. Cox said. He added that such adherence would unquestionably reduce deaths from heart disease materially.

MY THANKS TO ALL

I want to take this opportunity to THANK the voters for the support I received in my campaign for commissioner of Precinct 4. I assure you that it is my desire and intention to be of real service to you and I shall do all in my power to merit the confidence you have shown me.

I earnestly solicit the cooperation of all when I assume the duties of the office and I pledge my best efforts to serve in such a manner as to justify your support and confidence.

I also want to thank my opponent for his fine sportsmanship and running a clean race.

Again, may I say, "Thanks, Folks!"
