Government support prices for the 1949 crop of wheat will be at 90 percent of parity, as required by law, B. F. Vance, chairman of the state production and marketing administration committee, said today.

In general, the 1949 wheat support program will be similar to those of the past two years, Mr. Vance explained, except that the support will be available a month longer—from time of harvest through January 31, 1950. Methods of support will include (1) farm and warehouse storage loans, (2) purchase agreements, and (3) direct purchases of wheat in Georgia and South Carolina, where wheat cannot be stored safely for extended periods.

Eligible wheat will be wheat produced in the continental U. S. in 1949, grading U. S. No. 3 or better, or grading U. S. No. 4 or No. 5 solely on the factor of test weight.

Vance pointed out that the price support program looks out for the interests of consumers as well as of producers, since it is designed to provide adequate supplies of wheat and to establish a farm floor price. Loans will make funds immediately available to producers who place wheat in storage for marketing later; purchase agreements assured producers who are not in need of immediate cash that they may sell their wheat at the price support level at a later date.

Wheat price support programs have been operated by the Department of Agriculture for the past 11 years and have covered, through loans and purchase agreements, a total of more than 2 billion bushels of wheat. The highest amount of wheat ever placed under loan was around 408 million bushels in 1942. In 1948 approximately 251 million bushels of wheat were placed under loan and 113 million bushels under purchase agreements, a total of 364 million bushels.

Try a Spanish Sandwich

For a bright change of pace in your meal planning, try a main dish sandwich with a Spanish air. This one is piqued with chili sauce, green pepper and onion rings, mellowed with lots of melted cheese. This Spanish sandwich is a meal in itself with perhaps a tossed salad on the side, a dessert and beverage. What's more, it's full of the elements that make for good health. The cheese is a bargain, nutritionally, for cheese is an excellent protein food. A half pound of cheddar cheese supplies as much protein as a whole pound of average beef, and cheese is listed as a best food buy by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Make Spanish sandwiches for dinner tonight. Keep the recipe at hand for guest-night fare, for teen-age parties, and for the Lenten dinners you'll be planning.

Spanish Sandwich
6 slices bread (crusts trimmed) 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
Mayonnaise 2 tablespoons butter or
Onion rings 2 tablespoons margarine
1/2 cup chili sauce 1/2 lb. American Pasteurized
Process Cheese

Toast the bread on one side and spread the untoasted side of each slice with mayonnaise. Top with onion rings.
Mix the chili sauce with the green pepper which has been sautéed in the butter or margarine. Spread two tablespoons of this mixture over each sandwich.
Cover with a slice of the cheese cut lengthwise of the loaf. Place in a moderate oven, 350°, or under low broiler heat until the cheese melts.

Menageries Take to Air

CHICAGO—Airline people speak of 1948 as the year of flying menageries.

The lowly worm had his day in the air, along with lobsters, snakes, ducks, tigers, chimpanzees, bears and assorted house pets according to Joseph D. Boylan, director of cargo sales for American Airlines.

Boylan said the scheduled aviation industry's 16-million-dollar air-freight business last year included a lot of oddities in and out of the animal kingdom.

A parrot flying by Flagship from Mexico City to San Antonio was reportedly refused admission to this country because it used profane language.

Too Much Sunshine

Somebody in Dallas grew tired of all that sunshine and had 25 pounds of bona fide New York snow shipped by air after the pre-Christmas storm in the east.

The Oregon chamber of commerce sent 60 pounds of soil to be sprinkled in the Dallas Cotton Bowl New Year's day, so the Oregon football team wouldn't have to play on "foreign" soil. The Webfoot lost to Southern Methodist anyhow, 12-13.

In Los Angeles a shipper sent his dog to the airport in a crate marked "Rush! This dog expecting." The dog gave birth to three pups before plane time. Upon her arrival at destination it was found some wag had scribbled across the crate, "Too late!"

Out of Mexico a new item in food-stuffs became a regular note on airfreight manifests: fried pumpkin seeds. It seems they are favored as appetizers in some parts of the U. S.

One December night an air-freighter took off from Newark, N. J., with a crate of baby chicks and two monkeys. When it arrived at Buffalo cargo handlers nonchalantly loaded it with three crates of prize turkeys weighing 45 pounds each; five crates of chinchillas, two canaries, a stone deaf kitten, three dogs, and two crates of fancy pigeons.

Catalogues Fly

Even the ubiquitous Sears Roebuck catalogues took to the air when 20,000 pounds were flown from Boston to Frankfurt, Germany.

A Syracuse political leader paid off an election bet by parading in front of the city hall with a lion he had shipped on American Airlines from an animal farm in Boston.

A woman in the Middle West who attributed her recovery from tuberculosis to the goats' milk she received from Los Angeles had two of the special alpine goats shipped to her by Flagship to keep as pets.

A chimpanzee anxious to arrive in Hollywood fresh for a screen test went from Cincinnati by air and won a part in the movie "You Gotta Stay Happy."

Boston dispatched a flying Noah's ark last August when it loaded onto one airplane: a lion, a wolf-hound, a Weimaraner cat, 11,000 baby chicks and six tons of fresh fish.

During the year American carried human eyes and whole blood; precious serums and iron lungs; radio-active isotopes, hurley sticks and gold bricks. "It's getting so you can't surprise a cargo handler any more," Boylan said.

Liberty-Loving Osceola Can't Find Resting Place

CHARLESTON, S. C.—Osceola, who fought for Indian living space in Florida during his lifetime, still hasn't found a final resting place in his homeland 111 years after his death.

But efforts are under way to return his bones to Collier county, Florida, where 500 survivors of the once-mighty Seminole nation revere Osceola as the George Washington of his people.

Under a weathered slab in a weedy plot the famous Indian warrior lies on a spit of sand reaching into the Atlantic near Charles.

Around his grave rise the crumbling earthworks of Fort Moultrie. Osceola died in the fortress in 1838, a year after his capture by Gen. Thomas Jessup, who violated a truce to take his prize.

Osceola's protagonists—historians are divided on whether he was a great warrior or an unprincipled savage—say he died of a broken heart.

Home-Like Atmosphere Too Much for Burglar

BROOKLYN.—A burglar made himself so much at home in a Brooklyn house he was ransacking—sitting down to a bottle of whisky and a television show—that he could not bear to leave even to escape capture by the police.

The prisoner said he was Joseph Motyka, 46 years old, and gave his address at 115 Mott street. He told the police he had passed most of Tuesday night in his favorite Bowery taverns watching wrestling matches and other sports programs on the television screens in the bars. How he got to Brooklyn, Motyka did not rightly recall.

Make Study of Home Freezers and Its Economies

In recognition of the increasing use of home freezers, specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have been studying the operating characteristics of units in the household equipment laboratories of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics.

"Their reports show that the home freezer will do a better job for the family if it is given a place in the home that suits it," Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home manager specialist of Texas A. and M. College, said recently. "The freezer should be located in a cool, dry, well-ventilated spot. When there isn't room in the kitchen, an attached garage has proved to be a good location."

Some of the conditions to be avoided in locating the freezer as listed by Dr. Earl McCracken, USDA physicist, are:

A hot spot—the higher the room temperature, the more the motor must run.

Dampness—moisture is likely to condense on the freezer's outer walls and may even drip to form pools on the floor. It may damage exposed metal surfaces as well as the motor, motor supports and springs.

A tight spot—a small niche, with walls on three sides of the unit, prevents circulation of air needed to carry off the heat.

"Remember that a home freezer, even empty, is heavy," Mrs. Claytor pointed out. "Strong flooring is essential. An upright freezer puts more weight per square foot on a floor than a horizontal one of the same capacity."

It is always a wise precaution to ground the freezer, to prevent electrical shocks to the user, according to the specialist. "And if the freezer is to be carried through a doorway or up or down stairs, you'll be wise to take measurements before the freezer comes home," Mrs. Claytor concluded.

HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE

By ARTHUR E. COOK
National and Olympic Rifle Champion

Where To Shoot

Finding a safe place to shoot is most important. A safe shooter is a skillful shooter—he knows where every bullet is going and he has a stop behind his target to stop the bullet. This applies both to target and target shooting. And no matter what kind of shooting you intend to do, get your practice on the target range. It is the only way to learn the basics.

For beginners I recommend firing at 50 feet, the standard indoor distance. Later you can increase to 50 and 100 yards, the standard outdoor distances. The illustration left above shows a safe bullet stop for a 50-foot range in your basement or shed. Fill a large packing box or crib with sand and place it in front of a solid brick or masonry wall. Board-up all windows with steel or one-inch hardwood. Reinforce the front of the box and arrange lights as shown. Sand about eighteen inches from front to back will stop .22 caliber bullets, but remember to repack it regularly.

Outdoors select a steep hill or bank which is free from rocks and hang your target in front of it. Build a simple frame to hold your target; don't tack it to a tree or the bullets will ricochet dangerously.

Best of all join or form a rifle club in your community or school and build a safe range. You will quickly become safe and skillful.

(This instruction based on the booklet "HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE," published by The National Rifle Association, Washington, D. C.)

Louis Philippi Gets Paid for Scrambling Movie Stars' Faces

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.—This is about the man who wreaks mayhem on the movie stars.

The man is Louis Philippi. He has bloodied the noses and messed up the maps of a half dozen high salaried stars. He gets paid for it.

If you have been in a night club brawl, Hollywood is full of people who'll disguise your black eye and repair your hangover.

If you haven't, Philippi will make you look as if you had.

It's not easy. It takes Philippi two and a half hours every morning to make up Marshall Thompson for "Roseanna McCoy." A McCoy who happened to meet a Hatfield, Thompson suffers a bullet wound in the right shoulder, bruised cheekbone, black eye, cut under left eyebrow, scalp wound, scraped chin, torn earlobe and bloody nose.

They all are inflicted, painlessly, by Philippi.

"I keep a file of pictures from the newspaper of people who get drunk or battered up," Philippi said. "They are indexed according to the type of work required. I can produce about a hundred different types of lacerations."

He designs and executes each scratch with the care of a portrait artist, fixing it on with a palette knife and dark lipstick. He uses a small brush and an assortment of grease paints for bruises and a rubber sponge with rouge for abrasions.

"The day has passed when you could smear on some lipstick and lamplblack and call it a day," he said. "Even flesh wounds have to be documentary these days. A black eye, for instance, isn't really black but red or blue or yellow-green, depending on how long since it got hit."

So before he wets his sponge Philippi demands to know when the fight happened, how and where and by whom the blows were delivered and what if any weapons were employed.

Artificial blood, something new on the market, makes Philippi's job easier. It comes in two colors—bright for fresh wounds and dark for old ones—and coagulates like the real thing. He squirts it on with a syringe.

The only film fight in which Philippi directly participated was in "The Red Pony." Bob Mitchum was knocked under a table and came up with a bloody nose.

"I was hiding under the table," Philippi whispered, "with a sponge soaked in blood. When Bob came down, I patted him on the nose."

Man Begins Third Year Of "Life Like Death"

FRAMINGHAM, MASS.—For 32-year-old Ralph C. Abbott the third year of life like death. He has been unconscious in a hospital bed since February 17, 1947.

On that morning his car hit a tree and he was flung headlong against a stone wall.

The darkness has never lifted once. It has touched, too, his wife and mother and father, Isaac Abbott, 62.

Every day for two full years now the elderly father has come to sit beside his son's bed.

Surgeons have said that Ralph will never awake. Past repair, they said, is that part of the brain which could stir his mind or open his eyes.

Every hour the sleeping man is fed concentrated liquid food through a nose tube. Every two hours attendants at Cushing Veterans Administration hospital turn him in his bed.

Every day his father sits beside him. A nurse said "That's all he can do. Sit beside him and hope."

Three-Year Old Tot Safe After Night in Forest

READING, PA.—Weary searchers who hunted through the night found Reading's babe in the woods unharmed but "terribly scared."

Three-year-old Billy Abbott vanished at 4:30 p. m. the day before. A thousand men, women and children pitched into the search. They found him lying in a clump of grass at 1:40 p. m.

Billy was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital and dismissed 10 minutes later after an examination disclosed no injury but that his temperature was low.

"It doesn't seem possible," one attendant said, "that he stayed outdoors throughout the night."

He was taken home in the official car of the assistant fire chief in his home town of Laureldale, a Reading suburb. All the fire sirens in Laureldale were turned loose to hail discovery of the boy.

His father, Arthur, who said earlier that Billy was "a very timid boy" and that "he never wandered off before," accompanied his son home in the fire car.

For a while, Billy said nothing. Then he reached into his father's coat and took out a cigarette light er.

"I played with one of these last night," Billy said.

"Where?" his father asked him.

"At the house where I slept," Billy replied.

Further questioning failed to uncover any more details of how the little boy spent the night.

Price of House Regulators is up 55%

A West Texas Gas Company service man completes a new meter and house regulator installation.

Yet Natural Gas Service Remains At the Same Low Pre-War Prices

Regulators are but one item. Everything behind your natural gas service has increased in price

Like everything else, gas is more expensive to produce, more expensive to deliver to your home and business, but not one cent of this increased cost has been passed on to you

The price of the meter, to which the house regulator is attached, is 105% higher than the meters purchased by West Texas Gas Company in 1940.

In face of the increased costs of regulators, meters, steel pipe, wages and other items... natural gas service for your home and business is still furnished you at 1940 prices!

Miss Lorene Gunter Chosen Campus Favorite at Wayland

Plainview, April 14—Being confined to a wheel chair did not keep Miss Lorene Gunter of Groom, Texas, from being elected as one of the campus favorites at Wayland College.

Jack (Neil Winston) Jeter of Sagerton, Texas, was the other campus favorite chosen. Jack, a sophomore ministerial student, was among the four students elected to be a yell leader for the Wayland pep squad early in the school year.

S. degree in that field and enter into some kind of special religious work. Lorene is an active member of Y. W. A. at Wayland where many of the girls living in the dormitory with her find in her an encouraging and cheering friend.

Lorene is fond of sports and faithfully backs the team at all the games she can attend. She is especially interested in girls' basketball as her roommate, Wyla Whately, also of Groom, is on the Wayland team.

The sophomore class elected their popular classmate, Jack Jeter, as class favorite in addition to his other distinctions. He is a graduate of the Rule High School, Rule, Texas, and attended Baylor University for one year. As a ministerial student, Jack is working toward a B. A. degree. His extra curricular activities include membership in the Ministerial Alliance and in the Volunteer Mission Band.

HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE

By ARTHUR E. COOK National and Olympic Rifle Champion

Advanced Training

A bullet never travels in a straight line. As soon as it leaves the gun muzzle, gravity begins to pull it toward the ground. Therefore, at longer distances, the bullet is likely to fall short of the target unless (1) you deliberately aim high, or (2) you adjust your sights to compensate for the drop of the bullet.

The same thing applies to horizontal (or sideways) movement of the bullet due to wind while shooting outdoors. Particularly with small caliber bullets, wind is capable of blowing the bullet inches off course. Again it is necessary to compensate for this action.

If your rifle is equipped with an adjustable rear sight you need only to determine the amount of adjustment needed and the direction, and then turn the adjustment knobs the necessary amount. There is one basic rule to follow: MOVE THE REAR SIGHT IN THE SAME DIRECTION YOU WANT TO MOVE YOUR SHOTS.

Don't try sight adjustment until you have learned to put all your shots in a tight little group on the target. Then, if the group is not in the center you can correct the rifle's point of impact by adjusting the sights. Remember that a rifle is only as good as its sights—put the best ones you can afford on your gun.

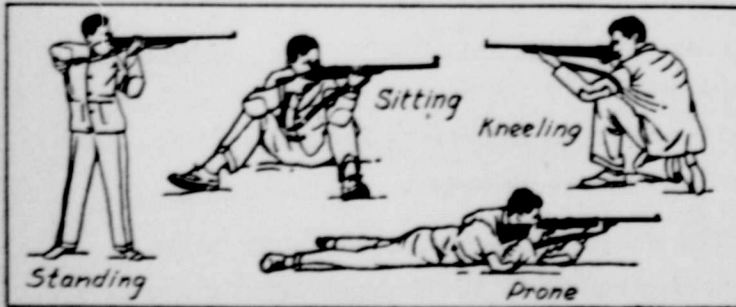

(This instruction based on the booklet, "HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE," published by The National Rifle Association, Washington, D. C.)

Know your gun and ammunition!

HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE

By ARTHUR E. COOK National and Olympic Rifle Champion

Positions

There are four standard shooting positions in the target game that also can be adopted to field use. They are: prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. Prone is most accurate and, in the order named above, they become increasingly more difficult. Learn your aiming and trigger control habits in the prone position.

In target shooting always use the gunslings to help hold the rifle in the prone, sitting, and kneeling positions. After loosening the sling you will find a loop in the top end which you can fit snugly around the bicep of your left arm. While you are in position the sling, running from the upper left arm to the upper sling swivel of the rifle, will brace the V formed by the bent left arm. Properly done, this eliminates most of the muscular effort of holding the rifle.

Illustrated above are the four positions. In prone, sitting, and kneeling the shooter should half-face to the right of the target. In standing he should be at nearly right angles and shoot over his left shoulder.

Always keep the action open until ready to shoot!

American CROP Aid Strengthens Workers

CROP hilft den HEIMKEHRERN

GUMBINNEN, East Prussia—Wilhelm Labens, one of thousands who recently returned from Russian prison camps in poor health, is shown eating food provided through the Christian Rural Overseas program (CROP) in America. Within a month Labens was able to work and is now able to support himself and to help in the community rehabilitation program. The food shown above is "Spatzle," made from CROP flour. Because of the great need in Europe and Asia, CROP activities in America will be extended to all 48 states in 1949. CROP is sponsored by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief.

Do Not Use DDT on Dairy Cows—Odor May be in Milk

According to information received this week from Leo White, Briscoe County Agent, DDT is no longer recommended for spraying on dairy cows. Studies by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine have shown that DDT when used on dairy cows or when present on the cows feed may appear in the milk. They also say that DDT in small quantities can be detected sometimes in the milk, following the use of DDT for fly control in the dairy barn.

Because of the vital importance of milk in the diet of infants, children and people of all ages, it is essential that the proper precautions be taken to protect the milk supply. There is no evidence (that the use of DDT has ever caused any human sickness. Statements that DDT is responsible for causing the "virus X disease" of man and the "X disease" of cattle are totally without foundation. DDT is a very valuable insecticide and its use will be recommended for the control of many insect pests, but just to be on the safe side, White says that when methoxychlor and insecticides with a pyrethrum base are used on the cows, there won't be any DDT in the milk. It is not known what effects will come from continually drinking milk which contains traces of DDT.

A bulletin in being published on the methoxychlor and will be ready for distribution before fly control becomes a major problem.

Wanted:

A MAN TO STEAL SOME MONEY!

We're looking for a man (don't care how old or young he is) who loves money.

A man who likes the feeling of having a little extra money on hand, just in case something unexpected pops up.

A man who swears he's going to save some money, and yet never seems to get started, because—well, because he just never seems to get started.

We want this man to steal some money—from himself.

That's right, we want him to go down to his bank or into his boss (either one) and sign up for the Automatic Savings Plan.

Then he can sit back and watch his Savings Bonds pile up, like pennies in a kid's bank. Only there's none of the temptation of a piggy bank. No pain, when you save this automatic way.

It's just like getting extra money from yourself, except that you never know it's happening—you hardly miss it when it comes around to paying the bills or balancing the budget, because it's worked out so well. And you get every cent of it back, with a handsome interest—$4 on every $3 you put in.

The automatic Payroll Savings or Bond-A-Month Plans make saving money almost as easy as spending it. See about whichever of these two plans is best for you today.

AUTOMATIC SAVING IS SURE SAVING — U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

It's Strawberry Time Again In Texas and Many Will be Used

Whether you eat them in preserves, on ice cream, on a strawberry shortcake, or fresh, it's strawberry time in Texas.

Lucille Shultz, associate extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. and M. College, suggests putting away several gallons in the home freezer, if you select only the red-ripe berries. This type hold their color better than the almost ripe berries.

Strawberries can be put into a container whole, or cut into halves and allowed to stand in dry sugar until it is all dissolved. The sugar—or sugar-syrup—helps keep the berries in their fresh texture, color and aroma.

They develop an off-color and off-flavor very quickly after they are defrosted if the sugar is not used. So, when you are using the dry sugar method, mix the berries until each one is well coated with sugar, Miss Shultz says.

Crushed berries used for toppings for shortcake and ice cream, will hold their natural flavor better and longer than the whole or sliced berries. Here are Miss Shultz's suggestions for preparing the berries for freezing. Wash, drain and cap them; weigh them in an airtight, using one part sugar to three or four parts of berries. If you are using the sugar-syrup, mix three cups of sugar and four cups of water. Fill the containers with berries and cover them with cold syrup, put the cover on and place them in the quick freezing compartment at 20 degrees to freeze at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hodgen and children, of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Henderson, of Lockney, visited relatives and attended church here Sunday.

Supercarrier Named "United States"

WASHINGTON—President Truman has approved the name U.S.S. United States for the Navy's giant aircraft "supercarrier," which is to be 1,090 feet long.

The name is considered an especially honored one, having been used for only one other combat ship in the history of the Navy. The first was a frigate launched on May 10, 1797, and named the United States by President George Washington.

The keel of the new United States will be laid at Newport News, Va., according to the latest Navy estimate. It is expected that it will cost about 125 million dollars.

In revealing the choice of names, the White House said the "super-carrier" would be equipped with "the most advanced armament of her time," and the "latest type carrier planes available" would fly from her deck.

Friendship With Dog Proves Trap

NEWARK, N. J.—Friendship with a dog led to a youth's arrest on charges of having robbed on three occasions a shoe shine parlor at 32 South Orange avenue. The owner, Julius Simon, told Newark detectives that he was puzzled by the thefts because his German shepherd dog, which guarded the store, always resisted strangers.

Investigation disclosed that Harold Lesnock, 18 years old, of 34 South Ninth street, was on unusually good terms with the animal. Admitting he was away without leave from Camp Kilmier, Lesnock confessed the theft of cigarettes and cigars valued at $2, the police say.

Commenting on his relationship with the dog, which had even given detectives trouble, Lesnock said: "He never bothered me. I comed him without even giving him meat."

First To Play All Records Automatic

Jackie Van, recording songstress with Al Trace's orchestra, is hard to believe that this new Admiral table model radio-phonograph will automatically play with one tone arm all six of the types of sizes of phonograph records she is holding. Called the "Triple-Play" the new changer is the first in the industry capable of automatically playing every disc, both the new long-playing and the old standard at all the turntable speeds—78, 45 and 33 1/3 rpm—allowing up to 10 hours of uninterrupted recorded music from Newchewer to Beethoven, and even the old Caruso and John McCormack recordings yesterday. The new record changer is expected to bring standardization to the phonograph industry and eliminate the confusion of today.

Steady Decline Seen In Number of Persons Reported as Missing

NEW YORK—The past two years have seen a steady decline in the number of persons reported missing to the police, acting Capt. John J. Cronin, in charge of the missing persons bureau, said in his 1947 report to Chief of Detectives George P. Mitchell.

The bureau handled 2,538 cases of all types last year. Of these, 15,196 were hospital cases involving victims of aphasia, amnesia, fainting spells and other temporary ailments, all of which were cleaned up, Captain Cronin said. The overall total in 1947 was 27,156.

The number of adults and children reported missing from home was 6,317 as compared with 7,076 in 1947, a drop of 759. Of this total, 423 were boys and 316 girls, with the average age of the juveniles 15 years.

The youngsters eventually picked up by the police and interviewed by the juvenile aid bureau of the police department offered a variety of reasons for leaving home. Some said they slipped because they just "didn't like school," others that they had an unhappy home life. More adventurous spirits had "a desire to see the world."

Where investigation by juvenile aid bureau discloses questionable home environment and mistreatment of the children, the cases are docketed for the children's court and whenever possible better homes are found for them. The bureau's report shows that a number of internationally-publicized cases involving well-known figures of a decade or more ago are still being kept "open." These cases are carried because it is a rule of the bureau that until positive identification is established there is always the possibility that a person reported missing may still be alive.

New-Type Mattress Massages Pressure Areas of Bedridden

AKRON, OHIO—A mattress that gently massages the pressure areas of the body of a bedridden patient, and thus reduces the danger of bedsores, has been announced as the joint development of the Firestone plastic company and the F. J. Rank Foundation, Cleveland.

The mattress, constructed of Velon, a Firestone plastic film, consists of a series of air cells one and one-quarter inches in diameter running in width transversely. Alternate cells are connected to a manifold which forms the edge of the mattress. The two systems of interperated cells are alternately deflated and inflated at short intervals by a small electrically driven pump. This action produces a massaging effect on the patient's body.

Bedsores, which result from the death of tissues due to inadequate nutrition from impaired circulation, have long been a worry to physicians. In the past the only possible relief came from the manual turning of the patients, so as to relieve body pressure points on the mattress. With the shortage of nurses in many cases preventing proper attention to this detail, a mechanical solution to the problem which is plaguing hospitals all over the nation was sought.

Clinical tests have been made with the mattress since July, 1947, with very satisfactory results. Numerous patients, whose condition predisposed them to bedsores, have been placed on the mattress. Some were suffering from paraplegia, others had traumatic spinal lesions, others were recovering from fractures. Some could not be turned manually because of the traction employed in the treatment of their fractures.

In the group placed on the alternating pressure mattress no additional precautions were taken to prevent bedsores and none developed. Many patients with already developed bedsores have been placed on the mattress and their sores have healed well.

In addition to serving as an aid in the prevention and treatment of bedsores, the mattress reduces considerably the amount of nursing care required in these cases.

Reflex Action at Movie Touches Off Did Pisto

NEW YORK—Reflex action touched off by the exciting climax of a movie thriller resulted here in the accidental shooting of Edward Ryan, 19 years old, by his playmate, Martin DeAngelis, 6.

The shot, from an antique revolver, echoed through the Superior Theatre, Third Avenue, just south of 11th Street, at 2:40 p.m. It halted the show. About 200 persons, mostly youngsters, were in the audience. The manager, John Halditz, hurried to the children's section, and assured the wildly babbling youngsters that there was no danger. From the fourth row he took the wounded boy and his frightened companion and drove them in his automobile to Bellevue hospital. The show resumed.

Edward was rushed to an operating room. There was a gash on his left cheek and the lobe of his ear was sliced. Seven stitches were taken in the cheek and then radio-phosphorus took the injured boy to his home at 211 East 33rd street.

Four-Year Old Swallows Dewey-Warren Button

ALBANY, N. Y.—Four-year-old Jean Picard had a narrow escape before an operation for removal of a Dewey-Warren campaign button. Dr. Daniel F. O'Keefe extracted the button from her stomach at St. Peter's hospital.

Jean, who lives at Cambridge, N. Y., told her mother that she had swallowed the pin button with the images of the defeated Republican 1948 standard bearers—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

"First I thought we should send down a Truman button to try to work out a peaceful agreement," Dr. O'Keefe said with a smile.

New Yorkers Are 'Gawks' in Visitors

NEW YORK—You can tell the New Yorker here by the way they look at you. They look at you a bit self-consciously, at the buildings. You can tell the New Yorker by the way they look into store windows.

New Yorkers haven't been in New York for a long time, the latter statement may be a bit of explanation. Two characteristics mark the typical New Yorker: His affinity for crowds and his peculiar nervous curiosity about everything.

Combined, these traits make the New Yorker the world's most enthusiastic window gazer into store windows. It is a little what is in the window that attracts a little New Yorker. And if, as is sometimes the case, there is something going on behind the plate glass that is as good as a Katherine Hepburn opening night.

The New Yorker's helper standing in the window of Toffenetti's restaurant at 14th and Broadway peeling potatoes or oysters often attracts a crowd of a hundred or more. A television receiver tuned into a program giving advice will draw half a dozen males who look incapable of much as boiling an egg.

Watch Store Windows

New Yorker does not pause to watch the blinkings of the commercial signs around Times Square. Nor does he stop to look at the city's biggest show—the window display of the polyglot store hurrying by. But let a store window step into a display window and the New Yorker stops, gazing at the phenomenon in dumb wonder.

The reporter decided to experiment with this strange Manhattan phenomenon. Walking along W. 43rd st. he stopped and looked casually at a usually dull collection of pipes and a tobacconist's window. Immediately, half a dozen passers-by stopped, standing there mutely gazing at the $1.98 specials.

Leaving this little knot behind, the reporter strolled along until he came to another window which was watching at the moment. He stopped and looked in. As though drawn from the sidewalk a crowd gathered around him on the instant. Together they looked solemnly at the dead fish which the restaurateur had placed in the window to attract patrons.

Always The Same

The reporter tried it again and again. Each time he had no sooner stopped than from three to a dozen passers-by joined him. It mattered not whether the window displayed a sad, red-skinned lobster, a collection of $5.98 lingerie, a string of salami or a window of bottled hair oil. The reaction was the same.

One of the most loyal followings in the city is that of the little show put on by a notions shop in a corner of Times Square subway station. One of the shop's employees apparently spends all of their time standing just inside the open doorway, holding up children's mechanical toys. At 3 p.m. or 3 a.m., there is a crowd ranging from a dozen to 50 dwellers standing silently watching the tin cats and toy men and their simple tricks.

Fred Policeman Makes Things Tough for Crooks

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y.—Melvin H. Rauch still is making things tough for the crook even though he is retired from the Mount Vernon police department.

Rauch, 48, is not toting a gun or a night stick any longer. His new weapon in the battle against crime is that of an inventor.

His invention is a simple, inexpensive metal device that looks something like a slide rule. With it, almost any door can be locked from inside and no key in the world can open the door from the outside.

The invention is aimed at those who use skeleton keys, or keys, to open doors in hotels, apartments and private homes. The device also guards against a door being picked.

It operates simply. One hooked end of the device is placed in the door plate, or jam. The door is closed and most of the device, which is a thin strip of metal, extends on the inside of the door.

The latch then is slid into tight contact against the door. Pronto, the door is locked so that no key can open it. The latch is slid back when a person desires to re-enter the device and open the door.

Rauch said the idea of the invention came to him during one of his many investigations of robberies by thieves who had used skeleton keys to enter a home.

His invention is protected by a patent and a large manufacturer is putting the device into production.

The device weighs only a few ounces and is no larger than a toothbrush. It can be carried in a man's pocket or in a woman's handbag. Rauch says his invention should be especially helpful to those who travel.

The official name will be the "Rauch Thief."

Quotas Restricted on Enlistments in U. S. Army Reduced

"Quota restrictions on enlistments in the U. S. Army have been reduced and the army and air force recruiting station in Plainview has a limited number of openings," Sgt. W. A. Walling, said here Tuesday. Since the first of the year restrictions on enlistments have been very strict and only a few men have been able to volunteer for the army and air force. Qualified men who want to enter the army may now volunteer for a 21 month enlistment or for a three year period in either the army or air force.

Sgt. Walling also said that many veterans have let their enlistments in the enlisted reserve corps expire or are due for re-enlistment in the near future. The recruiting service is now processing men for enlistment and re-enlistment in the ERC. The advantages of the enlisted reserve corps are the accumulation of time for longevity pay and if desired, periods of active duty from 15 to 90 days and up. You are eligible for promotion and accumulate credits for retirement while on these tours. Men with or without prior service are eligible for enlistment in the ERC.

The air force needs many aviation cadets for classes that will begin soon. The air force offers a training course that can't be matched as to range and completeness. Applications are being taken at the Plainview office and qualified men are urged to apply. For any information pertaining to army and air force enlistments, the enlisted reserve corps, and aviation cadets, write to the Recruiting office in Plainview at 111 W. 8th St., or see the recruiter in Silvertown on Tuesday mornings.

Common Housefly Direct Cause of Many Diseases

Countless thousands of lives are lost annually throughout the nation, from diseases that are transmitted by the common housefly. Dysentery, diarrhea, typhoid fever, tuberculosis and many other disabling and even fatal diseases are spread by flies, and the control of houseflies becomes of great importance when considered in the light of public health.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, says that in order to protect our families we should make sure our homes are fly-proof through proper screening, and then concentrate on eliminating filth, garbage, and other breeding places for flies.

"See that your windows, doors, and porches are screened so that the stray fly from some careless neighbor cannot molest your family," Dr. Cox said, "and make sure that your grocer observes proper sanitation standards and keeps your meat, food and vegetable supplies screened from flies.

"Then direct your efforts to eliminating all fly breeding places such as open garbage pails, open privies and other filth that offers the fly proper warmth, moisture and food. Flies thrive on filth, and inasmuch as one female house fly will lay from 600 to 1000 eggs per season, it can easily be seen that one breeding place left available in a community, can be responsible for a tremendous horde of flies."

Dr. Cox recommended organized community efforts as being effective in ridding a community of flies, and emphasized that no matter how clean one family's home and premises are, they are still not safe if another home down the street leaves exposed filth where flies can breed.

Enlisted Reservists Needed by Army Need Qualified Men

There is an urgent need for qualified enlisted reservists to accept a 90 day tour of duty at various stations throughout the state of Texas, Colonel Oscar B. Abbott, executive for the Texas Military District, announced this week.

ERC's accepting this 90 day tour of duty will have their choice of station as almost all of the Organized Reserve Corps Instructor's officers throughout the state are in need of administrative enlisted men and chauffeurs. Also, the OR summer camp staff at Camp Hood will need men from May 9th through September 23rd and Fort Bliss from May 23rd through September 7th.

Colonel Abbott pointed out that enlisted reservists volunteering for a 90 day tour of duty will be paid on a regular army status in the grade that they hold at present in the reserve corps. Those accepted for duty in the OR Instructor's offices will receive an additional $105 per month for subsistence and rental allowances.

All enlisted reservists interested in volunteering for a 90 day tour of duty during this coming spring and summer should contact their organized reserve corps instructor's office at Room 14 Federal Building, Amarillo, Texas.
