Large Crowd See Junior Livestock Show Friday

One of the big features was the auction sale of a pig that was up for sale, and more than once went back to the boys club for sale again. The final report indicates that the pig netted the club considerable money, and wound up by the owner giving the pig back to the club and telling them to "go roast him."

R. E. Hutsell Drills Second Good Water Well on His Farm

R. E. Hutsell, whose farm is four miles east and three and one-half miles south of Silvertown, finished work on pumping a new irrigation well on his farm Saturday and dropped in at the News Wednesday to say he was well pleased with the flow of his new well.

Well No. 2 is one half mile west from the good producer brought in in 1948 and definitely puts the Hutsell farm out of the "so called wildcat" district.

Mr. Hutsell pioneered his part of the county in drilling for irrigation water, and said Wednesday he believes much depends on how you go about bringing in a good well.

Well No. 1 on the Hutsell farm will be attached to a 1200 foot 11 inch canvas hose or conduit, built especially for use on this well, to elevate the water from the well to the high point on the farm. The conduit will eliminate ditches and moveable siphons, as it is constructed to fit the job.

The concrete spillway formerly used on well No. 1 is being moved to No. 2, where the lay of the land is suitable for open ditch irrigation, Mr. Hutsell said.

1,850,000 4-H Club Members Show the Way to Better Living

More than 1,850,000 4-H club members in the United States will observe National 4-H Club Week, March 4-12. They will be joined in their activities by the 225,000 volunteer local adult leaders, the 14 million former members, their parents and friends. According to the state 4-H leaders of Texas A. and M. College, the 113,514 4-H members in Texas will strive to increase their membership during the week and at the same time will show what they have accomplished during the past year.

A summary of the reports from the county extension agents in the state show how important the 4-H program is to Texas. 4-H members grew crops on nearly 51,600 acres of land; everything from cotton and corn to soil improving crops; they planted and cared for more than 10,000 acres of home orchards, home gardens and truck crops; they carried out soil and water conservation practices on 29,300 acres and conducted pasture improvement demonstrations on 27,300 acres.

They owned 58,893 head of livestock and they sold more than 23,000 head for approximately 2 1-2 million dollars. They exhibited nearly 22,000 head of livestock shows and fairs and sold $272,000 worth of poultry and eggs from their demonstration flocks.

They were just as active in home economics work. In home improvement, they modernized almost 9,000 rooms and made about 36,000 articles that could be used in the home: 31,703 girls planned a lot of meals for their families and friends, 452,492 to be exact and they served a lot more—519,190; they preserved food too, 15,742 girls canned 504,408 quarts of food, froze 91,322 quarts and froze another 80,936 pounds of other foods; 37,397 chose clothing for their demonstration and during the year they made more than 106,000 garments and remade another 27,566.

You might think that 4-H members do nothing except work but that is not true. They believe in doing the job first, but they also have their fun and recreation programs. They camp, attend meetings, state 4-H Round Up at Texas A. and M. College, the State Fair, visit the major stock shows, send their representatives to all meetings and for the past two years they have been represented in the International Farm Youth Exchange Program. Any good 4-H member will tell you there is a time and place for everything, and they know how to mix things up.

4-H boys and girls are trained in leadership. They are a co-operative group for they know there is strength in numbers and unity of purpose and they are good citizens because they practice democratic procedures in their meetings and participate in community affairs.

4-H members in every section of the state invite you to join with them in the observance of their national week. Visit a member, a local meeting or one of the special affairs they have planned. You'll be glad you did for here is a group that is leading the way to better living for a better world.

Hollywood Actress Abandons Career For Religious Work

HOLLYWOOD. — One of movie-land's most promising actresses was quitting the movies and a career to become a missionary or a religious teacher, Colleen Townsend, the actress, making that statement, said her decisions had been made "because Christ is first in my life and I want to be where I can serve Him most."

The pretty brunette notified the studio where her career was hitting the top that she would not renew her contract. She said she would enter a theological school to study religion for two years. Then, she said, she would go into "Christian education, either teaching in churches or missionary work."

(Miss Townsend was "Sweetheart of The Orange Bowl Festival" and appeared at the half when Santa Clara defeated Kentucky at Miami in the postseason football game in January.)

"It's not that I can't serve Christ in motion pictures, but I feel God has led me into some sort of full-time service," the actress said. "I first accepted Christ two and a half years ago and it was then theology became interesting to me. I had never let it become important before."

"Many young people I'd gone with to Hollywood high school asked me to join the First Presbyterian church. What those young people had challenged me. They had something I wanted."

"I realized I had gone to church all my life, but didn't know what it was to be a Christian. So I looked into Christ's teachings."

Miss Townsend had gone to "various" churches, including the Presbyterian and the Mormon, when she was in high school. At Brigham Young university in Utah she was a member of the Mormon Sunday school on the campus, she said.

Milkman's Faithful Donkey Helps Solve Master's Murder

ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT.—A milkman's faithful donkey has helped solve his master's murder in a unique case here.

Gunmen killed milkman Mas-sanein Atta, 45, for reasons unknown. Atta's donkey, covered with his master's blood, continued on his usual rounds, stopping before each place where Atta had customarily delivered milk.

A shopkeeper noticed the blood and called police. Officers back-tracked and arrested two men who had not even bothered to flee, believing it would be hours before their crime was discovered.

Ferret Honored by Airmen For Solving Tough Problem

RAPID CITY, S. D. — An 18-ounce ferret named Pete has been honored by the nation's air force as the hero responsible for final conversion of the Rapid City air base into a key northern B-36 bomber outpost.

It was Pete who solved the tough problem of running an important telephone wire through a conduit six feet below a reinforced concrete runway. Engineers feared they would have to tear up the runway to lay the wire.

But the ferret's owner sort of felt that Pete could solve the problem. So, he fitted the ferret with a harness, attached a string and dropped him into the 2,210-foot long conduit with the order: "Take it through, Pete."

Twenty minutes later, Pete ran out the other end dragging the string which was used to pull the heavy telephone cable through the conduit.

Pete took the line through twice more in record time. But he was panting when he took off on the fourth and final trip. He stopped halfway through the tube.

After waiting a half hour for the tired ferret to gather wind and complete the trip, the workmen began twitching the string in an effort to dislodge Pete.

The long distance rescue efforts continued for three hours with no luck.

Finally Pete emerged from the end of the tube to be greeted by assembled and anxious high brass, three and one-half hours after he dived into the conduit.

Pete only blinked at the cheers. Apparently he had gone to sleep in the middle of the biggest day of his life.

Would-Be Do-Gooder Gets Suspended Term for Pains

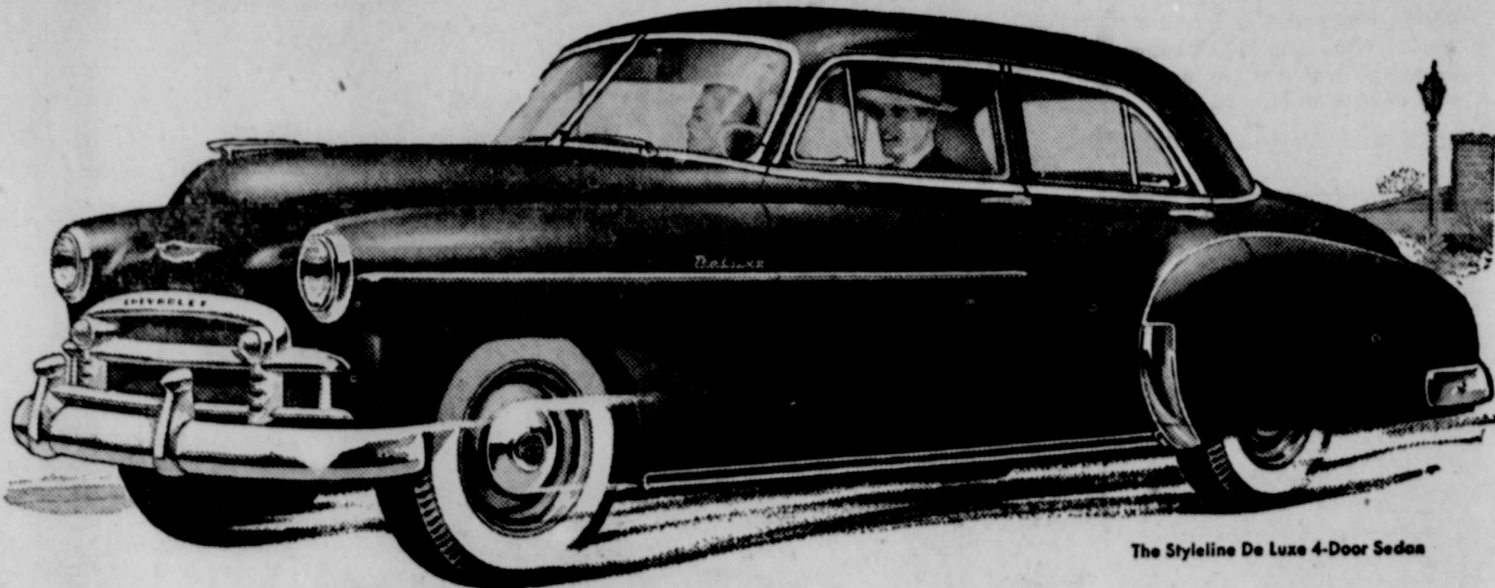

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—James Brown was trying only to do a good turn, but the best he got for his trouble was a suspended sentence on a drunkenness charge.

Brown, a 41-year-old service station attendant, thought he was doing the right thing when he drove a citrus truck to police headquarters for safekeeping after the station's parking lot closed.

But he did the wrong thing when he staggered up to the police officer on duty with the keys to the truck dangling from his fingers.

Magistrate C. W. Pensinger suspended sentence on the drunkenness charge because of Brown's "good intentions."

SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTIONS MARCH 6

Monday, March 6, at 10 o'clock the School of Instructions was taught by Mrs. R. T. Barton of Cone. "Things we Should Know." The Womans Missionary Union of Texas in 1950.

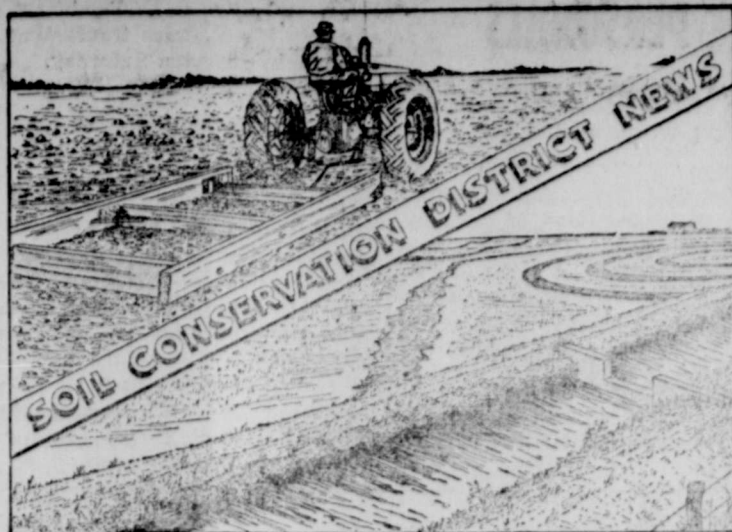

The meeting was opened with a song, "Christ for the World we Sing."

Devotional—Mrs. C. O. Allard, followed with solo by Mrs. A. A. Howard.

At the noon hour lunch was enjoyed, with visitors from the Quitaque church.

Those who attended this school were: Mrs. Barton, of Cone; Mesdames Reg Custerberry, Ray Riley, E. K. Dunivagon, Calver Hamilton, Scott Bolton, J. W. Lyon, Sr., all of Quitaque.

Mesdames S. P. Brown, R. C. Bomar, Eunice Cox, C. O. Allard, W. E. Stephens, L. K. Gilkeyson, Bill Tension, A. A. Howard, A. H. Chappell, C. L. Wilson, J. W. Lyon, Jr., Grady Wimberly, G. R. Dowdy, J. E. Wheelock, Don Garrison, R. H. Stodghill, W. E. Stodghill and C. R. Badgett.

Supervisors for Cap Rock District—Earl I. Cantwell, Chairman; Chester Burnett, Bray H. Cook, L. A. McJimsey and R. L. Brunson.

Soil Conservation Service technicians have laid out terrace systems on E. E. Berry's and Allen Brummett's farms during the past week. Mr. Berry's farm is located 2 miles south of Quitaque and Mr. Brummett's farm is located 2 miles east of Galosine. The terraces will be constructed for water conservation and erosion control.

A spreader system of terraces were constructed on Jake Merrill's farm which joins Quitaque on the east. The system was laid out and construction supervised by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service. This type of terrace system is still in the trial stage in this area as this system is the second one that has been constructed in the district. The purpose of the terraces is to pick up excess or outside water and spread it across the farm slow enough so that erosion does not occur. Since there have been only two spreader systems constructed here and there has been no good rains since the terraces were built, we can not say for sure how they are going to work.

An old terrace system was checked for Mr. Tom Barbee to determine if the terraces were of sufficient size and correct spacing to adequately control rainfall on the farm located approximately 2 miles north and 2 miles east of Quitaque.

About 1500 feet of drainage ditches have been constructed on Shorty West's farm 8 miles west and 2 miles south of Silvertown. Soil Conservation Service technicians laid out and supervised the construction of the ditches. Two lakes on the farm will be drained and the water carried to a farm pond which has been constructed. Mr. West plans to stock the pond with fish and maintain the water supply with an irrigation well if the rainfall is not sufficient.

Terrace lines were recently run for John and Will Currie, whose farms are located east of Quitaque. Lines were run by SCS technicians. Construction is now under way on both farms. These terraces are part of the program to help control water and wind erosion.

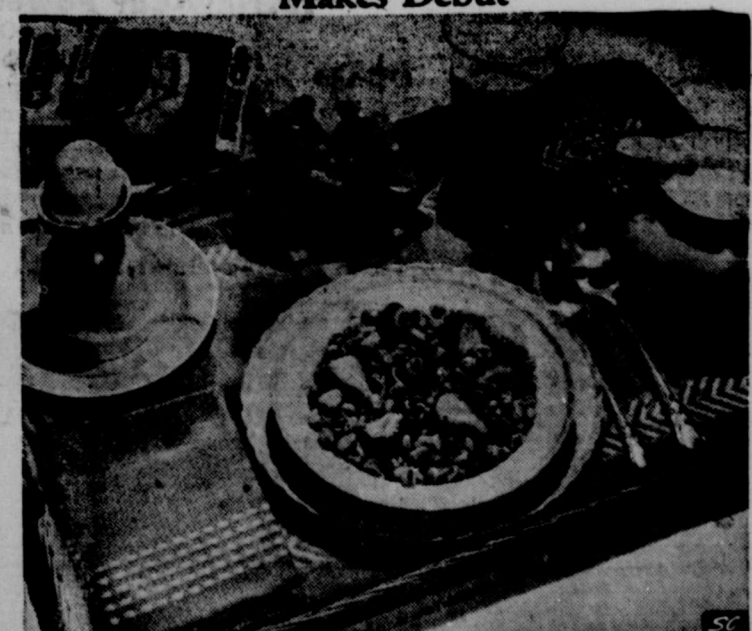

Irrigation ditch lines were run this week for Sid Thomas, whose farm is located nine miles south of Rock Creek. These lines were run by SCS technicians to assist Mr. Thomas in irrigation water efficiency.

A New Honey-Flavored Cereal Makes Debut

At long last a cereal has been developed that will not only appear at the breakfast table, but will also find favor as a snack for an evening's entertainment and as a confection for the enjoyment of the whole family—especially the youngsters!

This cereal is made of wholesome, sun-ripened grains of wheat that are puffed and then coated with sugar and honey. This means you just add milk or cream to eat it as a cereal. Furthermore—it's so sugary-crisp and tempting, you'll want to eat it right out of the bag. This cereal novelty comes in six-ounce cellophane bags on which you'll see jolly little bears as cute as those pictured here.

Court Holds Fate Of 'Bubble-Gum' Fund Left to Kids

WINCHESTER, VA.—On Virginia's highest court rests the faith of 400 children at John Kerr public school. For the children are hoping the court will return to them the $85,000 "bubble-gum trust" left them by "Old Man Henry."

They were disinherited under ruling of a corporation court judge who ruled that the strange bequest of the late Charles B. Henry was invalid. The judge awarded the estate to Henry's relatives.

When Henry, an 80-year-old curbside merchant, died he specified in his will that the income from his estate should be divided each Christmas and Easter among the John Kerr pupils.

He wanted them to spend it as they chose—on "bubble gum or toys," or otherwise. He just wanted them to "remember old man Henry." Each child would have received under the bequest between $5 and $10 a year.

The lower court judge ruled that the trust fund was not a charitable trust, that it did not provide for educating the children, and that the net effect would be to tie up Henry's estate for all time. Thus, he said, it violated the rule against the creation of perpetuities.

Attorneys for the Shenandoah Valley National bank, trustee said, however, that they probably would appeal the decision to the Virginia supreme court.

Suit in the case was brought by Mrs. Harriett H. Taylor, Winchester, first cousin of Henry, and other kinmen.

Bachelor Comes to Work, Turns Out as Baby Sitter

OMAHA, NEB. — Charles Padgett, 33, a bachelor, came to plaster a ceiling and stayed three days to sit with seven children.

That was the story he told authorities after three days of diaper changing, cooking and "playing with the kids."

Padgett said he went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Durbin to do some repair work. Mrs. Durbin left the house to "go down town." She asked Padgett to watch her seven children ranging in age from 11 years to 10 months. She said she'd be "right back."

But, Padgett said, she didn't come back.

"I finally put the kids to bed after I'd fixed dinner," he said. "I kept watching for the mother. The kids were swell. I even got used to diapers."

When juvenile authorities heard of the plasterer's plight, they came to the rescue.

New Auto Speedometer Idea May Add to Highway Safety

SILVER CREEK, N. Y.—Development of a new auto speedometer device may help cut down the country's traffic fatality toll.

A gadget which constantly projects in brilliant illumination the changing reading from the dashboard speedometer to a tiny metal screen on the windshield has been put into production. The dime-sized screen is fastened about two inches below the driver's normal line of sight.

The relatively inexpensive accessory is hailed by the concern's president, Lawrence Schmitt, as "the first basic improvement in speed since the advent of the magnetic speedometer decades ago."

"The automobile driver now can keep his eyes on the road where they belong at all times and still know his exact speed," Schmitt said.

Kentuckians Asked to Give Babies' Weight at Birth

LOUISVILLE, KY.—Kentuckians have been asked to include the weight of their babies when giving information for birth certificates.

J. F. Blackerby, registrar of births and deaths at the state department of health, said the request was in line with a nationwide campaign to find causes of pre-maturity, leading cause of infant deaths. The information will be valuable in setting up a program to reduce the infant death rate, he said.

Blackerby reported new forms for certificates in use since January 1 have a section for such information at the bottom of the certificate, labeled "For Medical and Health Use Only."

Information in this section is confidential, he said, and is not included when copies of certificates are issued.

14-Year-Old Boy Steals $28,000 Fishing Trawler

DUNDEE, SCOTLAND.—The 14-year-old sea-lover whose three-day solo voyage made him seasick pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing the $28,000 fishing boat in which he sailed half-way to Denmark.

Johmie Guthrie said he stole the trawler Girl Jean. The trawler Reptonian found him stranded three days later 200 miles out in the North Sea and towed him back.

Johny was taken to a remand home—British equivalent of a reform school.

Use of Iodized Salt is Recommended For Better Health

Many people think of iodine as a brown liquid and a mighty good disinfectant rather than an essential food. Small but steady quantities of iodine are needed by the body for normal growth and development, healthy skin and hair, mental alertness, physical vigor as well as preventative for goiter. The simplest, most practical and least expensive way to make sure that all people, especially growing children, have the iodine they need is the use of iodized salt, says Louise Mason, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. and M. College.

She points out that fruits and vegetables grown on iodine-rich soil, seafoods and some drinking water contain iodine but many people lack these sources. There are many large areas in the nation that are deficient in iodine and it must therefore be supplied by other means.

Miss Mason says the USDA, the U. S. Public Health Service, physicians, nutritionists and other groups concerned with national health are cooperating in a campaign to increase the use of iodized salt. She urges homemakers to look for the word "iodized" on the container the next time they buy salt for this is their assurance that they are getting health protection for their families. Only one part of iodine in 10,000 parts of salt is needed for protection and this small addition does not increase the cost.

Iodine is essential for a healthy thyroid gland which in turn affects the growth and general well-being of the body. Iodine hunger is the cause of much fatigue among adolescents, physicians say. The use of iodized salt in areas where goiter was prevalent has proved a most effective means of preventing the disease.

Iodine is naturally present in salt from the ocean and in many local salt deposits in the earth but is lost in refining. Returning iodine to salt, concludes Miss Mason, is similar to enriching flour. Here vitamins and minerals removed from the grain during the milling process are restored.

How has Don been feeling lately? He seemed to be pretty sick Saturday night. How about that Don?

Why was Gay so sick Monday? Was it because she smoked so many pipes and cigars Sunday? What will she do next?

Larry is at it again. He was with Mary Tom Thursday night. Dottie and Wayne still have up quite a case regardless of the Marine. They were together again Friday and Saturday night.

The Silvertown girls are going to have to start going out of town for dates if they have one. How about that girls?

Was Joy blushing Monday or was she blistered from a horseback ride Sunday.

Bonnie is doing pretty well. She was with Darrell Friday night and Doggie Saturday night.

What was the contraption that Flute, Fred and Larry were on Sunday? Was it Flute's hotrod?

Wonder what happened between Flute and Dean Saturday night? Wonder if Junis had anything to do with it?

Wonder how Quitaque was Friday night? Might ask Joan and Donald.

What was Wade so mad about Saturday night? Wonder if Bonnie knows?

Why does the Flomot coach seem so interested in Bonnie lately? Any one know, Doggie?

Mary Tom and Florence took in the big city of Fort Worth over the week end. I guess they had a big time.

Wonder why Joe Lee and Pee Wee were blushing so Sunday night? How is Clara Belle, boys?

Some people get a kick out of turning other folks milk cows out and putting rocks under people's car tires. Well, boys, act your age.

How was the show in Quitaque Sunday evening? Marian and Ham seemed to enjoy it.

Wonder who ever gave Dean the idea of wearing a rope around his head? It seems he thinks it signifies his being an angel.

Does Bonnie have the habit of singing a high note in church ever Sunday? Let's hope not.

Use Home Freezer or Freezer Locker—Freeze Eggs

Right now eggs are plentiful and compared with other high protein foods, they are a good buy. The homemaker who is hunting in food and has the freezing and storage facilities will be wise to take advantage of the present situation, says Lucille Shultz, associate extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. and M. College.

She says eggs can be stored in the home freezer or freezer locker for six months or more and still be as good as fresh eggs. Only clean eggs should be used, she warns, for dirt from dirty shells may drop into the eggs during the breaking process and spoil the keeping quality. She says the fresh clean eggs should be broken into a clean bowl then mixed thoroughly but do not whip in air. Fill moisture, vapor-proof containers with the egg mixture and they are ready to freeze and store.

If the yolks are separated from the whites and frozen separately, she says you'll want to use corn syrup, or salt to prevent a gummy condition. For each cup of yolks, add one tablespoon of syrup or sugar or one teaspoon of salt. Mix thoroughly and use the same type of containers as recommended for the whole egg mixture. Whites frozen separately need nothing added and no mixing.

Eggs can be frozen and stored successfully in the home freezer or the freezer locker.

The week of March 4-12 is National 4-H Club Week. The theme that 4-H members will follow is "Better Living for a Wetter World"

113,514 rural boys and girls were members of 4-H clubs in Texas in 1949. In the United States, more than 1,850,000 boys and girls are 4-H members.

Texas 4-H members last year exhibited about 22,000 head of livestock and poultry at 212 livestock shows and fairs.
