A portion of the grain was salvaged following the fire. Insurance was carried on the building and grain. Total damage from the fire is not definitely known.

Rose Care Is Very Important If You Are Successful

College Station—April is a busy month for the rose gardener. It is a little too late to plant roses unless you are using plants that have been held in cold storage, but according to Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. and M. College, there are a lot of things that can be done to make those you already have growing more productive and beautiful.

Roses do best in a fertile soil. If fertilization is needed, now is the time to make the application she says. Two or three pounds of 4-12-4 or 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer for each hundred square feet of space in the rose garden is about right but if you want to be more accurate, she suggests that you ask your local county agent about local fertilizer recommendations.

The fertilizer should be worked into the soil by shallow cultivation. Deep cultivation at this time of the year destroys the young feeder roots that are near the ground surface and this may retard plant growth and cut down on the production of flowers. The rose garden can be mulched at this time and she says a good mulch of decayed leaves, straw, grass clippings, pine needles or well decayed barnyard manure will help hold moisture, keep down weed and grass growth in the garden and will improve the tilth of the soil.

She says roses should be checked now for new spout growth. They come from the root stock; usually grow very rapidly and are easy to recognize because the leaves are small and light green in color. They should be removed for they can crowd-off the more desirable rose graft.

Roses require good drainage, yet they need plenty of moisture for heavy production. She says they should not be sprinkled, because moisture applied to the leaves encourages black spot and mildew. Both diseases are likely to develop during periods of rainy or cloudy weather and she says roses should be dusted with copper-sulphur dust within 24 hours after each rain for control.

Black spot is "public enemy No. 1" so far as roses are concerned. It causes the black spots on the leaves; turns them yellow later and they drop. Die back of the stems usually follows and if the disease is not brought under control, the entire plant may die.

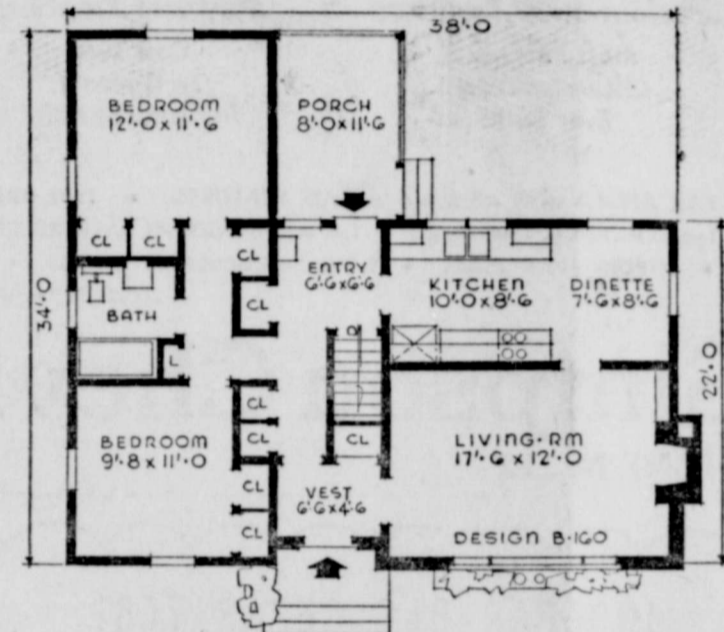

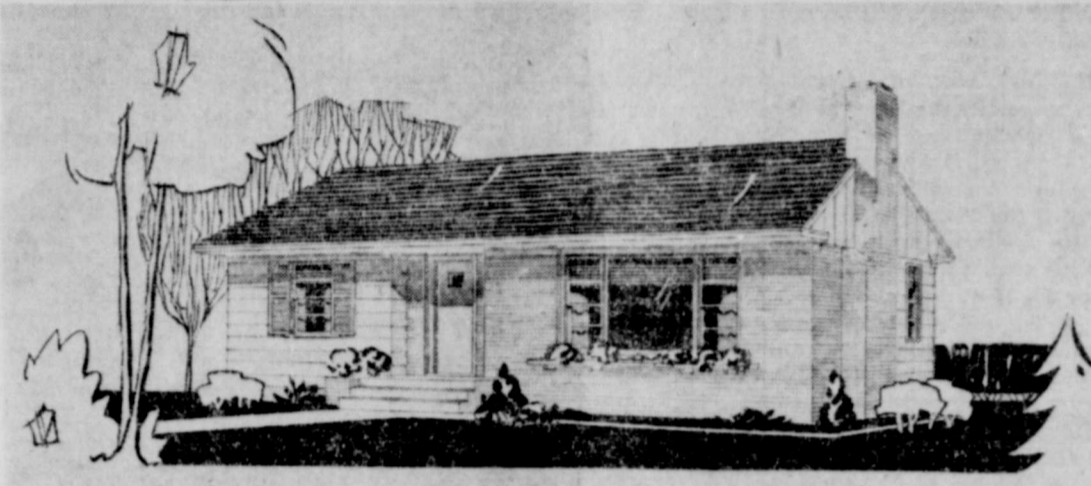

Miss Hatfield says that out-of-shape plants may be pruned from now until summer but no more growth should be removed than is necessary. Prune only to keep the plants a convenient size and attractive in form, she adds.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Yates visited their daughter, Mrs. Daize Stephen and new granddaughter in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital Sunday.

Donald Thomas is visiting in the home of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gilkeyson. Donald is from Camp Carson, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Hints On Home Freezing Released By Nutritionists

College Station—Quick freezing, both at home and commercially, is fast becoming the most popular method of food preservation. Homemakers like it because it is a time saver and the hot tiresome jobs that went with home canning are eliminated. Because of the newness of the method, research must be relied upon for the answers to many of the problems that arise. The Texas State Nutrition Council, according to Louise Mason, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. and M. College, has just released its 1950 recommendations on home freezing of fruits, vegetables, fresh poultry, meats and fish and cooked foods and flour mixtures.

She says the committee on food preservation of the State Council hopes the distribution of uniformly dependable information on freezing—based on the latest research findings—will help to improve the quality of frozen food. Its members believe a coordinated program between educational groups, locker plant managers, agencies and distributors of home freezing equipment will materially assist in this quality program.

The committee recommends that only high quality raw fruits and vegetables of suitable varieties be used for freezing and they add that fast and proper processing gives assurance of good quality if the product is used within a reasonable length of time. Only fresh poultry, meats and fish of high quality should be frozen.

The committee, in discussing the preparation of raw vegetables for freezing, answers the question of "why scald vegetables before freezing?" It was pointed out that research has shown enzyme activity is not stopped by low temperatures and ice formation and that vegetables frozen without scalding developed undesirable odors, flavors and colors. The enzyme action must be stopped if a frozen vegetable is to be palatable at the end of a reasonable storage period. Corn-on-the-cob was better when frozen without scalding if it were frozen for no more than one month. Over-scalded corn developed off-flavors. Steam scalding is not recommended for spinach because the thin leaves stick and clump.

Miss Mason says tests show that a high percentage of the ascorbic acid and vitamin A content of frozen vegetables was retained when they were properly scalded before freezing.

Air-tight, moisture and vapor-proof containers should be used for packing. Many containers and wrapping materials are available that meet these requirements. The committee recommends temperatures for quick freezing of 20 degrees F. in still air and 5 degrees F. in moving air. It is important that the rate of freezing be rapid. Storage temperature should be 0 degrees F. and long storage periods should be avoided.

Miss Mason suggests that you discuss with your local county home demonstration agent problems dealing with the freezing method for preserving food.

Easter Week-End Is Observed by Colleges

The colleges and universities observed a long Easter week-end. Among students home were: La Rue Gilkeyson, Don Burson, Stanley Price, L. B. Garvin and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Price, Jean Dudley, Texas Tech at Lubbock; Beth Joiner, Joyce Davenport, Johnny Ted Bingham and Micky Cornett all from Abilene Christian College at Abilene; Theodore Strange from Draughtons Business College at Lubbock; and Jett Mason, Jim Mercer and Joyce Brown all from West Texas State at Canyon. Classes were resumed Tuesday.

Rhea Tosses a One Hitter at Lockney Friday Afternoon

Silvertown defeated Lockney Friday afternoon at Lockney 14-2 and in the process Donald Rhea yielded but one hit, that being a screaming home run in the 6th inning. Rhea almost achieved what all pitchers are striving for, a no-hit, no-run game. He struck out 15 out of 24 batters that faced him and walked only one man. That is quite a pitching feat in anybody's lingo.

Leading stickmen for Silvertown were Rhea with a triple, double, and single; Billie Satterfield with 2 singles; Robert McPherson with a home run that sailed about 400 feet; Donald Bean with a triple; Dean McWilliams with a double; and Donald Paige with a single.

It was a sad day in the Owl camp Monday afternoon when Floydada whirlwinds came to town and romped off with a 6-7 win over the Owls to deal them their first loss of the season.

In this tilt, Billie Ray Satterfield pitched a masterful game when he went 9 innings and allowed only 7 hits. That is quite a task to fulfill when a pitcher has to face such murderous sluggers as Floydada was equipped with. The lead changed hands a couple of times during the game when in the 10th inning, Ring from Floydada came to bat. He took a mighty cut for strike one. On the next pitch, Rhea hit his bat perfectly and the ball caromed clear out of the park in right field and into the lady's front yard south of the field. So, if you know that ball park down there, you know that was a mighty blow.

After the Floydada game, some one said that the standard equipment for the ball club should be cap, uniform, glove, and a bushel basket. If you do not know what the basket is for ask some of the Owl fielders that had so much trouble with those ground balls Monday.

Our next game is with Turkey Thursday at Turkey. Our next home game is a conference game with Plomot Monday, April 17 at Silvertown. Game time is two o'clock.

"Young Man With a Horn" Showing at Palace April 16, 17

Starring Kirk Douglas with Lauren Bacall, Doris Day, Hoagy Carmichael, Juano Hernandez, Jerome Cowan and Mary Beth Hughes. Jazz becomes his life when Kirk Douglas meets Juano Hernandez, ace colored trumpeter who teaches Kirk everything he knows about music—which is plenty. Kirk goes on from there; on the way up the ladder he meets Doris Day, a vocalist, and Lauren Bacall, a strange, magnetic girl whom he marries. After a few months Lauren becomes restless and Kirk increasingly unhappy, neglects his music and begins drinking heavily. Their marriage breaks up; he goes down the alcohol trail until Doris finds and takes him to a recording session.

It's compelling and unforgettable. The saga of a man who found jazz was the biggest thing in his life, who sacrificed love and happiness to pour his soul into his trumpet.

E. T. Burke, Amarillo Businessman, Candidate for Congress

Amarillo—E. T. Burk, Amarillo businessman who is a candidate for Congress in the 18th district, says he is glad the special election was set for May 6.

"I think a month of campaigning is about all the voters can stand," he said. "With the census enumerators out counting noses and candidates seeking votes, the people of this district will have a lot of callers and hear a lot of please. This shows who is really important—the people."

Burke said he would press his campaign to the limit, visiting every community possible.

"The response to my campaign has been tremendous," he said. "I have never seen so many letters. I believe people like the idea of common, practical horse sense, and scores and scores of them have told me they like the idea of a man paying his own expense and not permitting himself to be shackled."

New Provisions in Cotton Law Are Announced

New cotton legislation recently passed by Congress provides for minimum 1950 acreage allotments based on one of three provisions,

John E. Wheelock chairman of the county PMA committee, said today. The revised allotments are based on the larger of (1) 65 percent of the average acreage planted to cotton (or devoted to war crops in place of cotton) in 1946, 1947, and 1948; (2) 45 percent of the highest acreage planted to cotton on the farm during any one of the three years; but (3) not more than 40 percent of the 1949 acreage which was tilled on the farm or in regular rotation. Any owner or operator of a cotton farm in Briscoe county who believes he is entitled to an accreage increase and wants to be considered by the county committee for possible adjustment under the legislation must file an application not later than April 28, 1950.

"We urge owners or operators who want their farms considered for revised allotments to file applications by this date," Wheelock said. "Farmers who are satisfied with their present allotments need not file applications. However, those desiring increases will be considered by the county committee after applications for such increases are filed in the county office. Each operator of a farm for which an application is filed will receive a notice from the county committee of the revised 1950 cotton acreage allotment. When the new allotment notice is mailed it will replace any previous 1950 allotment notice already received by the farm operator. Application forms may be obtained from the county PMA office.

United Kingdom Industry 'Goes to Town' in 1949

Industrial vitality can be fairly measured by research and technological developments, by the physical creation of new enterprises, and, most important, perhaps, by exports. The great progress made in all these fields by United Kingdom industry is typified by these examples:

During 1949 two great new factories came into production. One was a £22,000,000 chemical works (built as part of the big chemical industry development scheme) on a 2,000 acre site; the other factory—the first of its kind in Britain—came into full operation, with an annual output of 24,000 tons, for the manufacture of synthetic solvents from petroleum-derived chemicals.

During 1949, Britain became the world's largest exporter of motor cars. In September, the output of motor cars reached a weekly average of 8,700, the highest since World War II. Britain is also the world's greatest producer and exporter of bicycles and motor cycles.

Electrical machinery exports have been averaging nearly 3½ million pounds a month, as compared with only 500,000 pounds in 1938; electrical goods and appliances, nearly 7 million pounds as compared with one million pounds in the prewar year. Exports of other machinery for the third quarter of 1949 totalled over 68 million pounds. By volume, machinery exports have been running at consistently more than double the 1938 rate.

It is also heartening to record that the machine tools industry is producing at the rate of 40 million pounds a year, and that, in the middle of 1949, no less than 46 percent of the world's new merchant shipping was under construction in the United Kingdom yards.

Trees Planted By Washington Still Standing

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Sixteen trees still standing at George Washington's Mount Vernon estate are undoubtedly among those planted by Washington himself. This has been announced following the application by Mount Vernon families of "detective methods" to history to determine the announced fact.

Robert B. Fisher, horticulturist at Mount Vernon since 1946, says it is virtually certain that 16 trees in an exhibition area near the mansion date back to about 1783.

In 1830 Benson J. Lossing wrote in a book: "I have before me the original plan of these grounds (Mount Vernon) made by Washington's own hands. It is very carefully drawn, the exact position and name of every tree to be planted are laid down."

Plan Disappeared This plan has disappeared, but the book contains reproductions of portions of it. With this the Mount Vernon authorities have been able to locate the exact spots where Washington planted trees of various types. Today some trees of this type still are growing at these exact spots and are of the size they would be if Washington, or his slaves, planted them.

Washington was a tree-lover. His diaries contain scores of notes about trips he made to nearby Virginia forests to mark especially beautiful trees for transplanting to the mansion yards; of specimens or seeds obtained for him by such people as Thomas Jefferson, or of orders he had given his plantation staff concerning tree planting.

"It is always in one's power to cut a tree down, but time only can place them where one would have them, after the ground (ground) is stripped of them," he wrote in 1795 from Philadelphia to his manager, William Pearce.

He also told Pearce that as a general rule whenever a field was to be cleared, some single trees or clumps were to be left.

May Have Planted 42 Some students believed as late as 1932 that around 42 trees dated back to Washington's time, but only the 16 now are included in the "undoubtedly planted by Washington" class.

"It's entirely possible that General Washington himself took a hand in the actual planting of some of them, at least he probably stood by and directed the work personally," Fisher says. "That is certain because of the interest he showed in the estate, the evidence of which is in his diaries and other writings."

The 16 trees consist of two white ash (Fraxinus Americana), one American elm (Ulmus Americana), one hemlock (Tsuga Canadensis), four American hollies (Ilex Opaca), two honey locusts (Gleditsia Triacanthos), two Kentucky coffee bean trees (Gymnocladus Dioica), one Linden or Lime (Tilia Glabra), one white mulberry (Morus Alba), two poplars (Liriodendron Tulipifera).

The discovery of some old photographs eliminated many trees from the list that up to that time had been designated "Washington planted."

These are wet plate photographs taken at about the same time of the Civil War, showing trees near the mansion.

Navajos Remain Relaxed As World End Predicted AZTEC, N. M.—Sixty thousand Navajos didn't bat an eye at a medicine man's prediction that the world was going to explode before next winter.

But 300 white neighbors rushed down to buy extra copies of the weekly Aztec Review, which carried the prediction, and discuss it excitedly with their neighbors.

The prediction came from an elderly, unidentified medicine man who noted that the ants and squirrels had not bothered to store food for this so-far mild winter. As a result, he concluded that next winter would never arrive.

His exact prediction was that Shiprock, a huge volcanic slab which can be seen for miles across the desert, would "blow big ship blow, go high in air, fall down on white man and John Collier." Collier was commissioner of Indian affairs under the late President Roosevelt.

The medicine man said the white man was to be punished because of his treatment of the Navajos (which once drew a congressional investigation) and because "the white man lives crazy-like."

The tribal leader indicated a few Navajos would survive the desert holocaust he predicted, and that he would be among them. But he held out no hope for any of his white brethren.

Townfolk who plant crops half by Indian lore and half by seed catalogs indicated they were impressed by snapping up 300 extra copies of George Bowra's Aztec Review.

"However," the editor Bowra said, "nobody's been impressed enough to offer me his bank book, house or farm yet."

"Modern" Afghanists

Afghanistan today is only beginning to learn the vast usefulness of the wheel, and has yet to build its first railroad. Its cities, with few exceptions, are linked by crude dirt roads—trade caravan trails for centuries and the historic route to conquest for the fierce, hard-riding tribesmen who converged on Khyber Pass to thunder down into northwest India. About half of the country's estimated 10,000,000 people are nomads, who tend their herds, principally sheep, and live in tents of black goat's hair. Most of the rest are farmers, occupying primitive villages in the fertile land stretches of the northeast and western regions.

Other Eclipses

People often wonder whether eclipses occur on other planets, besides the earth. Yes, other planets do have eclipses, as the shadows of their satellites pass across them, or as the satellites themselves enter the shadow of the planet. These can easily be observed on the planet Jupiter with a small telescope. Watching from the earth we often see the shadow of one of its four larger moons on the face of that planet. If there were an observer on the surface of Jupiter, he would experience an eclipse of the sun as the shadow passed over him.

Planning the Garden

In planning the garden, grow the plants which require very little water and have short roots—such as carrots, beets, parsnip, celery, and lettuce—in one part of your garden, and the larger vegetables—such as squash, cabbage, corn, and beans—far enough away so that they will not rob the smaller ones. Then, have your rows so far apart that you can always cultivate with a push cultivator, a horse, or a tractor-drawn machine. It is so easy to do your weeding with a cultivator, or a spray gun, that people who plan their gardens wrong don't deserve any pity for having a weedy garden.

Ben Guill, of Pampa, Announces For Congress

Ben Guill, 40 year old Navy Purple Heart veteran and Pampa businessman, has announced his candidacy for Congress in the special election on May 6. Guill is the only Republican in a field containing ten Democrats. The high man at the polls will be elected Congressman without a run-off.

BEN GUILL and the ideas of the Panhandle farmers themselves.

Guill, who has lived in the Texas Panhandle for 31 years, is married to the former Marjorie Buckler, of Pampa. They have a nineteen-month old son.

Why a Republican

Guill, a graduate of West Texas State College and a former teacher in the public school system in the Panhandle, said he was running as a Republican because "I am opposed to the Socialist policies of the present administration and the only honest way I know of fighting the Socialist invasion of the South China Sea is to vote the other team."

"I have no intention of telling the people of the Panhandle that the Republican Party is perfect or all virtuous. It is nothing of the sort. I merely think there is more Americanism to the cause now in the Republican party today than among the Socialist leaders who have cold-bloodedly stolen the party of Jackson, Jefferson, Calhoun, and Wilson away from the people."

Guill, who was an independent Democrat until now, is strongly in favor of reducing income taxes. He is bitterly opposed to socialism and medicine. He wants the government to stop dictating to the farmer about what, and how much, he can raise, and he believes the Panhandle cotton farmer was given a "raw and heartless deal" in the recent setting of quotas.

"I am the son of a farmer," Guill said. "I believe the farmer is the backbone of the national economy. I'm sick and tired of hearing pink little bureaucrats tell the farmer what he should do. It's high time the farmer tells Washington what ought to be done. The farm problem should be settled by the farmer himself and if I am sent to Washington as Congressman from the Panhandle I shall bring with me a farm program which embodies the wishes

Guill, who has thousands of friends and former students in the Panhandle, is given an excellent chance of winning the special election. With the votes split among ten Democrats, it is estimated that he will be elected if he receives as many votes as Frank T. O'Brien, the Republican candidate for Congress in 1946 received in his race against Gene Worley. If he gets half as many votes as Jack Porter, the Republican candidate for the Senate in 1948, received in the Panhandle he will be an easy winner.

Guill won the Purple Heart in combat in the Pacific. He went through seven amphibious landings and earned four battle stars. He is a member of St. Matthew's Protestant Episcopal Church in Pampa, a director of the Pampa Rotary Club, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is waging one of the most vigorous campaigns in the history of Panhandle elections.

COLLINS HOWARD ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR DISTRICT VACATED BY EUGENE WORLEY

Collins Howard, former Childress County attorney and judge, has announced his candidacy for United States Representative from the 18th Congressional District in the May 8th special election.

Howard is a native of Texas, former machinist at the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad shops in Childress and a veteran of World War Two. He has been a resident of the Panhandle district since childhood.

"In these critical times," Howard said, "I feel the nation needs men of mature judgement and with experience in public affairs in places of leadership."

"I believe my experience as a laborer, as an attorney and public official, and as an overseas veteran in the recent war, qualifies me to represent the people of this district in the United States Congress."

"I have no promises to make," Howard said, "but I will use my training, experience and ability to the best advantage possible in representing all of the people of the Panhandle district. I think preservation of the peace is the most vital question facing the world today, and, of course, I will do anything within my power to prevent another war. Equally important, I think, is maintenance of our democratic way of life. I shall always favor sane legislative action to protect that way of life from enemies, whether they are in this country or in foreign countries."

"I am opposed to all 'isms' except Americanism, and I do not favor nor am I supported by any group, clique or organization."

"I sincerely ask the support of the voters of the district in this brief campaign."

Howard was born around the turn of the century in Goliah, Texas. His father, W. B. Howard, was superintendent of public schools in Amarillo in 1898. His uncle, Elbert Howard, homesteaded in Childress County in 1888, being one of the first settlers. Howard was educated in the Childress public schools, the Fort Worth and Denver Railway shops, in the law offices of the lawyers of the 100th judicial district and in the Childress County Court-house.

Served four years as a machinist apprentice in the railway shops. In 1926 he was promoted to shop foreman. Continued as such until the depression hit in 1932. Then began in earnest studying law in spare time in his father's and other law offices in the 100th judicial district.

Was admitted to the bar in 1935. In 1936 went to Pampa and went to work for Cabot Shops, Inc., as machine shop foreman. Stayed there for six months and announced for the office of county attorney of Childress County. Was elected for a two-year term and re-elected for two more.

He then ran for county judge and was elected for a two-year term and later re-elected for a second two-year term. During the second term in 1942 volunteered for services with the Burlington Railway Operating Battalion as a roundhouse foreman. In April, 1943, he was called to active duty. After basic training in Fort Slocum, New York, six weeks in the Adjutant General's School in Fort Washington, Maryland, and a few months' training in New Orleans was sent to England with the headquarters of the Second Military Railway Service.

Helped plan the details of the invasion and was admitted to the War Room before "D-Day" for briefing on the map where the landing would be made. Landed on Omaha Beach on D plus 30 and from there proceeded to and took part in five campaigns, the best known of which is the Battle of the Bulge.

Was injured in a plane crash while reconnoitering over Germany. After getting out of the hospital, transferred to the Judge Advocate General's Corps and after a short tour of duty in Weisbaden, Germany in War Crimes work, went to Rheims, France and served as defense counsel in the trial of American soldiers.

Came back to the United States at the first opportunity, passed through Washington and made application for the position of counsel in the trial of Japanese war criminals. About a month after arriving home got word to rush to Washington and get ready to fly to Tokyo.

He was assigned the defense of Heitaro Kimura, who was being tried in a common trial with Tojo and 26 others.

Howard's wife was one of the first American wives to go to Japan after the cessation of hostilities. Later, one of the American attorneys had to leave the trial so his client, Naoki Hoshino, asked Howard to represent him, which he did. Kimura, a Japanese general and vice minister of war while Tojo was concurrently prime minister and war minister, was hanged. Hoshino was sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment.

Howard arrived home in January, 1948, since which time he has practiced law in Childress and worked for the Air Force as legal examiner.

Howard is married and has two children and two grand-children. (Political Advertisement)

Liberty Bell Chosen as Savings Bonds Drive Symbol

Washington, D. C.—Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder, right, looks very pleased as Sales Director Leon J. Markham of the United States Savings Division shows him the symbol for the Independence Drive, which will open May 15, and run through July 4, to stimulate the sale of savings bonds.

"The Liberty Bell symbolizes not only our political independence but also all those characteristics of Americanism which serve to sustain our independence," Secretary Snyder said. "Of these characteristics, thrift, of course, is one of the most outstanding. Thus in the Independence Drive, the Liberty Bell will be an especially suitable reminder of the importance of savings and Savings Bonds to our economic life and to the financial independence of the individual," he asserted.

The third annual meeting of the National Test-Demonstration Supervisors will be held at Tyler on April 18-22. Representatives from at least 20 states are expected.

The minimum sized septic tank should hold no less than 500 gallons. Tanks that are too small soon become over loaded with sludge and raw sewage and this will pass into the disposal field and clog up the system.

Locate the septic tank where it can be reached easily for cleaning, but not too close to a building.

Use shallow cultivation for the rose garden. The young feeder roots that are near the surface of the ground may be destroyed if deep cultivation is practiced.

It is dangerous economy to build steep stairways to save space, especially if they are used frequently. Every stairway should have the protection of a guard rail low enough for children.

April 30-May 6 is National Home Demonstration Week.

Harold M. LaFont Will Ask to Be Re-Elected to Office

This week Judge Harold M. LaFont announced his candidacy for re-election to the office of Representative of the 120th Representative District of Texas, making his announcement for election, Judge LaFont submitted the following statement: Many people will recall that on November 1 I made the race representative to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Judge I. B. Holt of Olton, Texas. I want to take this opportunity of thanking the people for the large vote that they gave me on November 1. Representing the people of this district at the special session of the Legislature in February of this year, the most important thing to me about it was the importance of the work of the Legislature to our people.

In asking the people to reelect me to this office it is with a realization that whoever the people elect has the responsibility of making the laws that govern the 6,000,000 people of the State of Texas. These laws directly affect the daily lives of practically all of us and serious thought and consideration should be given to every law that is passed by the Legislature. It is my humble opinion that men who fill these positions of responsibility and in whom we place our trust and confidence, should be experienced, honest, sincere and capable.

All of us are interested in the progress and welfare of our Representative District and of the State as a whole and we have a right to expect our fair share of the things for which our tax money is spent. These include educational assistance, police protection for our families, and property assistance for our aged and infirm people, a good system of highways and more paved roads to market roads. All of these items of state governmental make our district a better place in which to live and rear families.

Among the subjects which no doubt will be considered by our Legislature is a program to build more rural roads. We, in this district, are particularly interested in any such program. Other matter which we are very interested in and which have to be closely watched is because of its importance to the question of our underground water. The meeting held in Amarillo a few days ago is illustrative of the thinking of some of our state.

Having served as county judge of Dale County from 1932 to 1939, district attorney for six counties of the eight counties in this district from 1942 to 1949, having practiced law in this district for forty years, I believe that this experience should qualify me to represent the people of this district.

It is my plan to make this election on whatever merit I may have and not on the demerits of one who may run, and I assure you that if you support me in this office in the election to be held on July 22nd of this year I will try harder than I will in representing all the people of this district."

Marriage Training Is Popular Course For Boys, Young Men

NEW YORK. — Education for marriage and family living, long the primary concern for girls, is being expanded rapidly among boys and young men—largely at their own request. That's the report of Dr. Ernest G. Osborne, professor of education at teachers' college, Columbia university.

Extra-curricular courses on courtship, marriage and family life are being organized or are already underway at Princeton, Amherst, Rutgers and Cornell, Dr. Osborne said. In line with this trend, the national committee on work with boys of the Young Men's Christian association have appointed a commission to study ways of "family centerings" its programs, providing more education for family life and more opportunities for family activities. Results of the investigation and the commission's recommendations will go to all Y.M.C.A. boys' work secretaries.

Dr. Osborne, who is also president of the National Council on Family Relations, discussed the use of films in family education courses.

He explored briefly some of the difficulties resulting from the self-deception involved in romantic love. He discussed a study of different personality types and how they react in moments of stress. It is essential that the showing of such films be preceded by preparatory work and followed by well-aided discussions, Dr. Osborne said. Pictures that are intended only to raise a problem for discussion can create anxiety and tension in the audience if the difficulties presented are not talked about afterward with a skilled leader in charge.

Developing a feeling of guilt and a sense of sin may be all right in religion, Dr. Osborne said, but his experience has convinced him that such negative feelings create a poor basis for building better personal relationships. It is easy to get across to people the idea that they have fallen down, but it is not very helpful.

Police Find, And Deliver Stolen Car; Owner Sleeps

MILWAUKEE, WIS. — A former New Yorker who had lived here only two months got a sample of the efficiency of Milwaukee police recently.

So impressed was the new Milwaukeean, Adolph Mandl, that he telephoned the newspaper to tell about it.

"Imagine," said Mandl. "They woke me up and said my car had been stolen and they had recovered it. I didn't even know it was stolen. Not only that, but they were extremely courteous. Extremely courteous."

Mandl's car had been parked in front of his apartment. The thief lacking an ignition key, tried to start it by crossing the wires. Unsuccessful, he stopped a taxicab driver and asked for a push.

The cabbie pushed the car for blocks, but it wouldn't start.

Disgusted, the cabbie halted. He lifted the car hood and looked at the engine. He saw the crossed wires and concluded that he had been aiding a thief. He stalled, hoping a policeman might come along.

When Patrolman Joseph Miszewski chanced to come by a few minutes later, the cabbie halted him.

The thief ran. The policeman and the cabbie couldn't overtake him. Patrolman Miszewski notified the detective bureau. The license number was checked. A few minutes later, Patrolmen Raymond Bednarek and Henry Kubiak were on their way to Mandl's apartment.

Supersonic Dentist Drill To Eliminate Much Pain

ST. LOUIS. — Researchers are perfecting a supersonic dental drill that is supposed to be painless, it was reported today.

The new gadget is airtight, a device that eliminates the pain of a conventional drill by shooting a stream of gas and abrasive at the tooth.

Air dent first was brought to public attention in 1945 by its originator, Dr. Robert Black, Corpus Christi, Tex. Now hand-tooled models of the device are being tested at college dental schools, including Washington University here.

Washington researchers said that so far results with the new drill had been encouraging. They said some of the voluntary patients did not agree airtent is entirely painless, but most say it is an amazing improvement over regular drills.

The colleges are working to take any bugs out of the instrument before it is put on the market, and to develop possible improvements in the present working models.

The main apparatus of airtent resembles a conventional drill, but it never comes in contact with the tooth.

Another part of the apparatus is a thick rubber hose with a metal mouthpiece at the end. This acts like a vacuum cleaner to suck the abrasive from the patient's mouth.
