Charles Wilson Dies Friday Night at Local Hospital

Charles Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wilson, and a senior back on the Silverton High school football team died late Friday night in the local hospital. He was playing with the local team, when he passed out on the football field. He was taken to the Briscoe County Clinic Hospital but never regained consciousness. It is thought a blood clot on the brain was responsible for his death.

Charles Wilson was born in Independence, Texas, April 3, 1934. Funeral services were held Sunday at the First Baptist Church, officiated by Rev. G. A. Elrod, pastor. Billy was a member of the Baptist Church, and was in his senior year at Silverton High School, and was a member of the school football team and a member of the staff of The Silverton, the local school paper at the time of his death.

Survivors include his parents, and Mrs. C. L. Wilson, two daughters, Jimmie Don and Brandy Wayne Wilson, at home.

Parents, C. A. Wilson, Plainview; Mrs. W. T. Haley, of Plains, Texas, and Mrs. B. P. Sewell, of Plains, Texas, and a host of relatives and friends.

He was the entire football squad, and superintendent of the school. Deal School attended the funeral services Sunday afternoon.

This Battle Against Tuberculosis Is Not The Doctors Affair

"The battle against T. B. is not a doctors affair, it belongs to the entire public." This is from Sir William Osler, one of the world's greatest teachers of medicine.

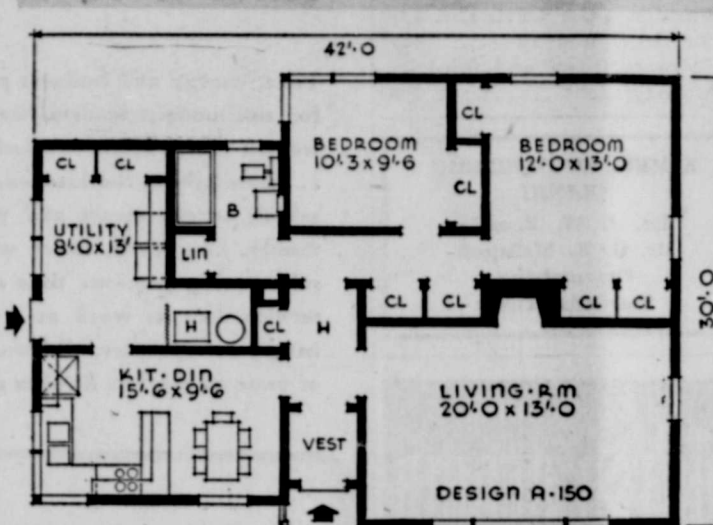

Early T. B. gives no warning. You can fool yourself about T. B. by pretending you are all right. You can fool your doctor by not telling him everything. But you must not fool yourself. You are just as liable to have an active T. B. lung as the thin fellow next door. You may be scattering tuberculosis germs among your children, grandchildren or friends today.

The way to be sure you are not, is to have a chest X-ray. You have that opportunity next Saturday, September 30, and Monday, October 2, at Silverton, Texas from 9:00 to 5:30.

Probably you are one of the 990 healthy ones out of 1000 who do not have T. B. However, you may be one of the 10 who have it. If this is the case, don't be frightened; just be glad you know, for T. B. can almost always be cured if caught in the early stages.

Just please remember these things. The best way to find out if you have T. B. is to have a chest X-ray. An X-ray is a picture of your chest. It takes only a few seconds, no undressing. It doesn't hurt. You take a deep breath—hold it—and that is all. In a few days you will be notified whether or not you have T. B. This is a wonderful opportunity to find out, free of charge, along with your friends and neighbors whether you have active tuberculosis or not.

Silverton School Faculty Invited Guests of Lions Club

On their regular ladies' night, Thursday, September 21, the Silverton Lions Club invited the grade and high school faculty to join them for a delightful evening. After the dinner had been served, the group was entertained by representatives from the Lubbock Lions Club. Mr. Ray Chapman master of ceremonies for them, introduced first. Mr. Lawrence Ivey, an accomplished pianist, who played several selections for the audience. Then Dr. Clyde C. Craig and Mr. Dallas Whaley gave a most entertaining skit as two negro men. These two performers are known widely for their ability in this impersonation. Next month they will appear in a large Minstrel show in Lubbock.

Last on the program, Mr. Minter introduced Mrs. J. E. Arnold a long time resident of this community. She read a beautiful poem which she had written several years ago.

Much Work Done to Advertise Chest X-Ray Service

Much work has been done by members of the County P. T. A., Lions club and others on the job of advertising the Chest X-ray unit for this county which will be set up Saturday, September 30, and stay up through Monday, October 2.

It is an opportunity few counties are having and these people are working hard trying to contact everyone and put before them the need for their cooperation. In a sense this service is free to the public, however, we are paying for it through state taxes. If we do not get this service into this county once a year we are paying for something we do not get. If we get a large percentage of our population out this year we can get this unit each year. If not, we will not be able to obtain it again and our tax dollars will be going to another county who was wise enough to recognize a wonderful opportunity.

These people and their helpers will see you this week. Ask them any question you wish and give them your full cooperation, for their time and expenses are donated for your benefit.

P. T. A. Sponsoring Stage Show Oct. 5 at High School

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs on the stage, in person, a professional troupe of adults will present this musical stage show at Silverton High School, Thursday morning, October 5, beginning at 9:30. Beautiful costumes, fairytale scenery, and real live dwarfs will offer entertainment for the whole family. Never before have the small towns been able to offer this type of stage show to their people. A good size audience will enable the P. T. A. to get more in the future. Parents be sure to give little Jane and little John an opportunity to see this show. The show is being sponsored by the Silverton P. T. A.

All parents are especially requested to be present in order to help us decide whether our public address system in the auditorium is going to work in an acceptable manner. This will be installed for a try out at this program.

Little Julia Camellia Comer Named "Miss Pigtales"

Final winners were named and presented with loving cups, Thursday night at the municipal auditorium in Amarillo, at the climax of the American Legion Auxiliary Better Baby Show and Cornation Pageant.

Among the children winning honors and a loving cup was Julia Camellia Comer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Comer. She was named "Miss Pigtales" of Amarillo for 1950-51. Camellia was also a member of the Royal Court. All girls participating in the pageant wore long formal dresses, and the boys wore robes with white suits.

Winners were selected from a group of over 350 children, earlier, on the basis of health, hair, eyes, features, posture and personality.

Briscoe County to Observe UN Flag Day

According to Miss Fern Hodge, District Agent with the Extension Service, Mrs. Conrad Alexander, and Mrs. R. M. Hill of Silverton and Mrs. J. P. White, Mrs. H. W. Cross, Mrs. H. P. Parker and Mrs. Bill Woods of Quitaque, will have charge of the county wide UN flag making. These ladies were selected by Leo L. White, County Agricultural Agent.

UN Flag Day will be observed in every community in every county throughout the nation on October 24. This is our way of showing the world that we believe in the UN as an instrument of freedom and that we intend to remain a free people.

Each community is to buy the material for making its own flag. Volunteer "Betsey Rosses" will do the sewing. The flag has a sky-blue background which reminds us of our Texas sky and state flower the Bluebonnet. It is centered by a white map of the world which is encircled by a white wreath.

Miss Hodge urges that every-one plan to be present at his community observance of UN Flag Day October 24. At the time the flag is raised, it is hoped that every community will have suitable short programs.

Interment was made in the Silverton Cemetery under direction of Douglas Funeral Home.

FAIR GROUNDS REMODELED

The concrete walks were designed to make a spectator's tour of the livestock exhibits a more enjoyable and more comfortable past time.

The service aisles, with walls not high enough to obstruct the full view of the building, have been built on each side of all three aisles.

Not all of the work was completed when this picture was taken. But everything will be ready when the 33rd annual fair opens Monday, October 2. The litter and dirt between the walk and service aisle will be cleaned up and this will be the stalls for cattle on exhibit.

Exhibitors will be interested to know that tie-rings have also been installed.

SOUND ONLY SOUND COTTON SEED

Farmers and seed breeders are cautioned to check their freshly-ginned cotton seed closely for damaged seed before storing. Only sound seed with a moisture content of less than 12 per cent are suitable for storing, unless sufficient facilities are available for drying and cooling the seed.

This warning comes as the result of an experiment conducted at the Texas Planting Seed Association plant in Bryan by H. F. Miller, assistant professor of agricultural engineering, Texas A and M College, and L. E. Ellwood, manager of the Texas Planting Seed Association.

The results of the experiment show that no heating or decrease in germination percentage occurred during five months of storage in one bin which was filled with cotton seed containing eight to ten percent moisture and two bins which contained seed with an average of 11 per cent moisture content.

Definite signs of heating occurred in another bin which was filled with cotton seed containing 10 to 12 per cent moisture, but the seed were kept from deteriorating and the germination percentage was preserved by drawing air through the seed at weekly intervals.

Three other bins were filled with somewhat unsound seed which contained 14 per cent moisture. The seed had an average germination test of 40 per cent when stored, but this dropped to zero after four and one-half months of storage.

Miller and Ellwood warn farmers and seed breeders against storing cotton seed which has received field damage, even when sufficient facilities for drying and cooling the seed are available.

Federal Court Awards Ute Tribe $31,700,000 Claim

WASHINGTON — The Federal Court of Claims has awarded the Ute Indian tribes of Colorado and Utah $31,700,000 in settlement of a land dispute dating back to 1891.

The settlement, one for $24,295,127, is said to be the largest ever made against the government by the court.

The judgments are in payment for more than 6,000,000 acres of land taken from the Utes by the government between 1881 and 1938.

The land involved consists largely of mountainous areas in western Colorado, ranging in elevation from 5,000 to 13,000 feet. It has a high mineral value.

Besides two producing oil fields, it includes extensive deposits of vanadium, major coal reserves, what is said to be the largest deposit of shale oil in the United States and more than 4,000,000 acres of grazing land.

Actually the land has been the subject of a tug of war between the Indians and the government since 1868. That year the government by treaty set aside 15,000,000 acres in western Colorado for the Utes.

The government later bought back 4,000,000 acres and eventually took over the rest. This action resulted in the long and involved litigation.

Lawyers for the Utes said that approximately 60 per cent of the award would go to Utes living in Utah, the remainder to Utes in Colorado. The award was said to represent more than $10,000 for each member of the confederated tribes.

Frenchmen Climb 26,496 Foot Peak in Himalayas

PARIS—Five Frenchmen have returned from the Himalayas with claims of mastering the Anapurna Peak, 26,496 feet high. But the cold almost got them.

Maurice Herzog, the 41-year-old leader of the expedition, was a stretcher patient on his arrival by plane in Paris. A frostbite victim, he lost all his toes and all his fingers up to the first joints. Louis Lachenal lost all his toes. The others were battered and physically exhausted from climbing Anapurna, in the Everest group. Men have climbed higher before, close to 28,000 feet on Everest and K-2. Mt. Godwin Austen, but had to turn back before achieving the crests. Everest ranges up 29,002 feet in the Nepal-Tibet frontier area. K-2 rises 28,250 feet in India.

The Frenchmen had hoped to get up Mount Dhaulagiri, a rugged 26,810-foot peak in Nepal, 200 miles west of Everest, but had to abandon the plan because of what they called "insuperable difficulties."

The French government financed a third of the expedition's cost. The rest was paid by private backers and the Alpine Club of France.

Age Has Limitations Judge Tells 76-Year-Old Romeo

BOSTON—Judge Elijah Adlow told 76-year-old Joseph Mellea to stay home and stay away from the girls—after all, age has limitations.

Mellea, barely five feet tall and with a small white mustache, was in court charged with threatening, with a pistol, the boy friend of pretty Carmella Lisi, 18, a neighbor of Mellea.

Police said Mellea apparently was jealous, which led Judge Adlow to inform the old man: "Don't talk to girls. I never yet knew of a man who talked to girls who didn't get in trouble. Leave it to the young fellows—there is a limit to what a 76-year-old man can do."

The judge then filed the case with an admonition to Mellea to have his daughter keep him away from the young ladies.

Forest So Dry in West Fire Starts in River

PORTLAND, Ore.—The forests of the west are so dry a fire started in a river.

It's a fact, a Mount Hood National Forest crew reported. They said a fisherman, apparently assuming he was in a fireproof spot, dropped a cigarette into a log jam in Salmon river.

Despite the water running underneath and on either side, fire jumped up, leaped ashore, and began running up a canyon wall before the crew arrived to put it out with hand pumps.

Mer's Campaign led to Stamp Love for Jazz

ESSELDORF, Germany — During the reign of Hitler, American jazz was "verboten" to German ears. But his theory didn't stop Duke Ellington, touring Germany the first time since the war, from playing his band. He said he found the audiences he ever played to in Germany.

While American swing was banned in Nazi Germany, I found most of the young people I met listening secretly," he said. "They know my oldest record. Two told me that they had concentration sentences for playing my jazz records."

Others said they used to take a saxophone out in a canoe in the forest for "sneaking sessions." They talked as much about it as any American youngster.

Some 6,000 youths who filled the theaters in western Germany's only movie variety theater, were dressed and the four marks (at one dollar) they paid for admission was almost a fortune to them.

Inside the theater some 2,000 people, but the price of admission, was as much as the streets as the theaters of "St. Louis Blues" filled through the open doors.

A newspaperman noticed a Communist youth who had helped set up a political rally the night before. He obviously was frightened and embarrassed at being caught listening to jazz, now verboten to Communists as it was to the Germans.

"I was overcurious," he said humbly and melted into the crowd.

Japs on Pacific Island at War With U. S.

HONOLULU, H. I. — Twenty Japanese are still at war with the United States.

The navy has announced that the island of Antaban in the northern Marianas is so small and unimportant it won't risk sending a landing party to take out 21 Japs still holding out against American forces.

The navy has tried everything short of war to get them out. Leaflets and food have been dropped from planes. Boats circling the island broadcasting over loud-speakers that World War II is over.

The Japs are not convinced. The navy said it hopes the Japanese will "tire of their present existence and surrender." One Japanese woman surrendered to a small navy field party June 30.

Body of 18-Year-Old Boy Found in Stomach of Shark

GALVESTON, Tex. — Galveston officials were horrified and puzzled when they found the torso of a boy, perhaps 17 or 18 years old, between five feet and five feet six inches tall, inside a shark.

The skipper of a shrimp boat told police officers his crew netted the foot man eater in the bay and threw the shark overboard in the harbor after it died.

L. Naughtman, chief marine biologist for the Texas game, fish and oyster commission and an expert on sharks, said the shark could have found its human meal a long way from Galveston. A shark can swim 250 miles in a day, he said. He estimated it would take a shark about three days to digest a human body.

Naughtman also said that it is possible the shark did not attack the youth, but devoured the body after the youth had drowned or died in some other manner.

Father of Youth Who Set Fire to Shrine Kills Self

KYOTO, Japan—Mrs. Shinako Hayashi, 49, mother of the youth who is accused of setting fire to Kyoto's ancient shrine, the Golden Pavilion, threw herself to death from a speeding train "to atone for her son's crime."

Mrs. Hayashi journeyed from her home in Kyoto to see her son. He refused to talk with her. On her return journey she jumped to her death.

Before leaving to return to her home, she told reporters she would wait for her son to atone for the crime. Her son, who also attempted suicide, told police he set fire to the pavilion because he was jealous of its beauty."

Shaw Requested No Gifts, Cards on 94th Birthday

LONDON, England—George Bernard Shaw, who was 94 on July 26, asked not to be reminded of the anniversary. He sent messages to persons who, on the basis of past performances, might be expected to pester him again:

"Mr. Bernard Shaw implores his friends and readers not to celebrate his birthdays, nor even to mention them to him. It is easy to write one letter or send one birthday cake, but the arrival of hundreds of them together is a calamity that is not the less dreaded because it occurs only once a year.

FARM NEWS

Here's some good advice to farmers cooperating with the Agricultural Conservation Program. This advice is given by B. F. Vance, chairman of the state committee of the Production and Marketing Administration which has the responsibility of the administration of the A. C. P.

Vance says some farmers have had their A. C. P. payments cancelled because they failed to understand or failed to comply with certain provisions of the program. These are six things every farmer should remember:

- 1. When you receive a purchase order from P. M. A., accept no substitute for the material described on the order.
2. Do not sign the order until all the material has been physically delivered to you or in your possession.
3. The material is to be used only as specified on the prior approval which you were given at the time you received the purchase order.
4. Do not report the materials as having been used to carry out a practice until you are sure the practice has been completed.
5. Be sure to get prior approval before starting any practice for which assistance is expected.
6. Do not get any conservation materials that you cannot use during the program year—It cannot be transferred to the following year, and you will be required to refund the A. C. P. payment.

Vance says farmers that do not follow these six rules may find their A. C. P. payments cancelled.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Watson spent the week end in Perryton with their daughter, Mrs. Mary Watson Joones.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd Donnell and children and Mrs. Cora Donnell have moved to the home of Mrs. Cora Donnell in the country south east of Silverton.

GETTING THE FALL PULLETS INTO PRODUCTION

Poultrymen should be doing the jobs now that will mean more fall and winter egg production and getting the laying houses ready should be high on the list, says J. C. Williams, assistant extension poultry husbandman of Texas A and M College.

Williams recommends that the houses be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected to remove all possibilities of diseases or parasites. He says that the buildings may need repairing and some of the hinges on the doors, windows, or shutters may need to be replaced or adjusted. He points out that clean windows let in more sunlight, which is a source of vitamin D for the layers.

For each five birds, he advises providing one nest and at least three inches of feeder space per hen. Watering facilities should provide each 100 hens with from five to eight gallons of a water a day, and each hen needs at least eight inches of roosting space.

Litter also is important, and Williams recommends that it be from four to six inches deep in order to keep the moisture in the house down. Wood shavings, sand, ground corn cobs, shucks, cane pulp, straw or other kinds of litter can be used. The kind of litter is not so important as long as it will absorb moisture.

He says that the time to place birds in their winter laying quarters is when they have come into about 20 per cent production. Since they will remain in the range shelters until they reach 20 per cent production, some nests must be provided there.

Three square feet of housing space per hen is enough for the lighter breeds such as Leghorns, but Williams says that four square feet will be needed per bird for the heavier breeds.

AGRICULTURAL FILLERS

Litter is important in the poultry house. A layer from four to six inches deep should be used on the floor to aid in controlling the moisture in the house. The kind of litter used is not so important as long as it will absorb moisture.

The use of good soil management practices will increase the volume of farm production and the profits from farming.

Shiny spots from ironing which are frequently seen on cotton dresses, especially dark colored materials, can be prevented by ironing on the right side.

More than 650 different kinds of grasses, obtained from all arts of the world, have been planted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Texas since 1907.

Health is not only an individual and family responsibility, but also is the concern of every community.

Freshly ginned cotton seed should be checked closely for damaged seed before it is stored. Only sound seed with moisture content of less than 12 per cent are suitable for storing, unless sufficient facilities are available for drying and cooling the seed.

A clean kitchen range not only looks better, but it also cooks better than one that is allowed to gather grease, spilled food, dust or rust.

BADGETT'S PHARMACY REXALL

Let's Vote Panhandle-- ReElect BEN GUILL

TO CONGRESS TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1950

IN FIVE SHORT MONTHS BEN GUILL HAS:

Voted his convictions. He has never followed the dictates of any boss. He has voted American.

Introduced legislation which would give the farmer a chance to write his own farm program.

Set up a small-business clinic in Amarillo for leading Federal experts to tell Panhandle businessmen how they can get war contracts. NO OTHER SUCH CLINIC WILL BE HELD IN TEXAS.

Gone to the people of his District at his own expense—to find out what they are thinking and what they want in the way of government. This was never done before in the Texas Panhandle.

Spoken out fearlessly on the floor of the House when the occasion demanded. He was one of three Texas Congressmen to speak against the theft of the Texas Tidelands. He was the only Member of the House of Representatives to defend General MacArthur against the State Department attacks.

Introduced a Resolution demanding that the Administration define its foreign policy in specific instances where trouble is likely to occur, instead of working on a day-to-day, patchwork basis. This Resolution (H. J. Res. 535) is one of the clearest-thinking and most statesmanlike pieces of proposed legislation to come out of Congress since the Communists attacked in Korea.

Supported legislation to outlaw Communism in this country.

BEN GUILL IS DOING A GOOD JOB FOR THE PANHANDLE. LET'S KEEP HIM WORKING FOR US IN WASHINGTON BY RE-ELECTING

BEN GUILL To Congress Tuesday, Nov. 7

The Supervisors of The Cap Rock Soil Conservation District are: Chairman, Earl I. Cantwell; Vice Chairman, Bray Cook; Secretary, Chester Burnett; L. A. McJimsey and Glynn B. Morrison.

The farmers in the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District have spent considerable thought, time, work, and money on mechanical structures such as terraces for the protection of their land.

Although many people have a mistaken idea that the land was best at the time it was broken out, this is not entirely true. Part of the land produces more now than when first cultivated due to the use of legumes, fertilizers, and other soil building practices.

Agronomy has been defined as scientific crop production. A good agronomic program means the production and management of those crops that are best suited for protecting and building up the land.

Strip cropping has been used very little in the district, but it is certainly a desirable agronomic practice where wind erosion is a problem.

Other agronomic practices such as tree planting, keeping pastures in good shape, caring for wildlife areas, etc. are also important.

NOSEY

There seems to be a boy shortage this year because the Junior girls won't let the boys invite other girls to their party. Not afraid of competition are you girls? However Joe said he didn't mind because his girl was a Junior anyway.

We discovered what a wonderful group of square dancers we have in school. Aren't they real, real cute?

All the girls were decked out in their finery today to get their picture taken. Noticed the boys had their hair all slicked, too.

Seems like Junis' motto is "out of sight, out of mind." Wonder what Flute would do if he saw what we did the other night? That was Dean wasn't it?

If you are searching for Clemmer anytime just follow the clatter of dishes. Seems as if he started helping a certain Freshman girl do the supper dishes last Wednesday night.

Just what is Mary's new nickname? We heard "Coach" Porter call her both Blondy and Red.

Is that fan mail we see Francis Stout drooling over or is it letters from her Flomot heart-throb?

Don't Wanda and Gain look snazzy together?

Flash! Newest couple: Dottie and Joe Lee.

They say the "Love Bug" is bound to get you, but around SHS we see that simple little earrings are holding the spotlight for the present. Anyway all the students are spending their mad-money are the biggest and gaudiest earrings they can find. Glenn will never be broke, will he?

Hey, boys, no use looking—Gloria and Millie's boy friends aren't going to be in town Saturday night?

That Soph boy and girl who went to Floydada last week to the show are now revealed as Gay and Jim.

Well! Well! Beth, how was the fair Thursday night? Too bad it was your parents you were with.

Seems as if those Friday tests kept everyone in home last Thursday night.

Hey, Beth, when is that tall dark and handsome coming back to see you? We mean the one from Plainview.

What girl in high school has a crush on Arnold? Or maybe it is girls. Nosey couldn't find out for sure.

Boy! Aren't these Freshman boys going some. I hear eight of them jumped on Bobby.

What is so interesting in Quitaque that Norman has to make a trip down there once or twice a day. Is it a beautiful girl, if so how does she like to ride in your car? "Hub."

Every one tell Glen that Gloria wants her ear ring if he doesn't mind.

What's the matter with Joe, can't he make up his mind which girl he wants to go with, or is he just trying them all?

What are all the Freshman girls falling down the stairs and running into door facings for? Could it be that there is a new "lady killer," in the room who has got them all in dither. Better watch out boys, especially you Freshman boys.

Wasn't Beths and Gloria's boy friends handsome Friday night? Too bad they had to go home early.

What's this? Gay going with Keith Woods! Don't you think she is robbing the cradle.

Joe and Glenn are still trying to convince the Junior girls that they should invite other girls.

To Billy Charles Wilson, April 3, 1934-September 22, 1950. The Owlet Staff, of which he was a member, lovingly dedicate this issue of the paper. Proving his value as a reporter. Billy Charles had turned in a story for this week. We are printing it as we are sure that it would have been his wish.

SILVERTON HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY

By Billy Charles Wilson

The Library opens every week-day morning at 8:30 A. M. and closes at 3:45 P. M. Some of the rules are: Report to roll call; get a permit before you leave study hall; try to keep it as clean as possible by not throwing things on the floor; and get permission before talking to a classmate therefore keeping it quite so everyone will have the opportunity to study.

The library has a large variety of books from which the students can choose. There are approximately 1621 books in circulation; so it should prove very helpful.

RUBY LOUISE UNDERWOOD MADE PRESIDENT OF FRESHMAN CLASS

By Darrell McWilliams

Ruby Louise Underwood who was elected president of the Freshman Class, was born in San Angelo, Texas. She started and attended school there through her second year. She then moved to Los Angeles, California where she went to school for a little while. From there she moved to Phoenix, Arizona where she attended school from the fourth grade through the seventh. Ruby and her parents then moved to Plainview, Texas where she finished her eighth grade year. During her eighth grade year Ruby was a very popular girl, she was editor of the Junior High School paper, the "Bull Pup Chatter".

Ruby and her mother moved to Silverton in June of this year. She has already made herself very popular and is much liked among the student body of S. H. S. Ruby says that she likes Silverton better than she did Plainview; also that the people are a lot nicer, and friendlier.

Tree Around Home Great Humidifier

Maple, oak or any other tree around your home is an amazing handiwork of nature. A mature tree pulls up 30 gallons of water from deep in the soil on a mid-summer day and puts out 98 per cent of it through its leaves, as if they were a giant fan. This humidifies the air, lowers the temperature around the house as much as 10 degrees.

Each leaf is a giant factory. Each leaf is a factory of cellulose, spreading its tissue of cellulose to catch the maximum amount of sunlight.

Along the factories manufacture starches. They use mineral water from the soil, gases from the air. Sunlight provides the energy for the chlorophyll—the key to function. The starches are used in strengthening limbs, fattening fruit and building toward the season's maturity, down through stem and into branches and trunk most of all.

A big factory, too. A maple 35 feet in height has about 100,000 leaves whose total upper surface is approximately 2,000 square feet.

A cradle or arrangement has to be made for each leaf. There is no crowding, no turning. Each leaf has its allotted space in the sun. The leaves of a tree are fixed in a design peculiar to the tree; the oak has its own arrangement; the hickory its own. They are arranged so that when they come they filter through the leaves and leave a cooling breeze. Elm leaves droop and sway in the wind. Those on a tree sweep like the pendulum of a clock. Oak leaves wave like a woman's hair.

Rise in Fire Loss National Welfare

A United States bill for fire insurance rose for the sixth year this year over last year. Fire losses for the month of August were estimated at $52,980,000. This is an increase of 6.8 per cent over the same month of 1949.

The steady rise in fire losses is the destruction of property and national resources vital to the defense and welfare of the nation. It emphasizes the responsibility of every citizen and every organization to prevent fires that destroy and waste the nation's resources.

July total represents a sea-saw decrease of 7.2 per cent from the 1950 figures. June's fire losses were $57,116,000.

For the first seven months of 1950, fire losses reached $420,097,000, an increase of $21,698,000 or 5.4 per cent over the same period of 1949.

In the 12-month period ending July 31, 1950, losses were an estimated $738,826,000. This represents an increase of 9.7 per cent over the $672,078,000 reported for the 12 months ending July 31, 1949.

The reported losses under fire insurance policies include an allowance for uninsured and unreported losses.

The Shall Have Finishes centuries past, queens, princesses and their attendants owed their luxury to finishes that were made by secret formulas often with raw materials brought from far places by seamen at the peril of their lives. Toilet articles, snuff boxes, jewel cases were beautifully and painstakingly decorated. To highly specialized industrial workers are used for even more artistic for Miss and Mrs. America. Millinery, leather goods and the industries make constant use of them. Milady is likely to wear very specialized finishes on her dress and accessories wherever she goes.

Hog Cholera, No. 1 Killer of cholera is still the top-rank menace to United States hogs, but other diseases are rapidly moving up. Erysipelas, infectious gastroenteritis, and rhinopneumonitis ("bull nose") are causing increasing trouble in swine-growing areas and in a few specific instances have caused heavier losses than cholera. According to veterinarians, swine are subject to at least 10 different diseases and sometimes several of them strike a herd at once. Vaccination prevents cholera and erysipelas, but farmers must on good sanitation and smart management to keep out most of the others.

Wives as Beneficiaries A new statistic showing family parity in America comes from an insurance association. According to a survey of buyers just reported by the association, 93 out of 100 men, purchasing ordinary insurance policies name the wife as beneficiary. The remaining 7 percent name parents, children, other relatives, estate, business associate or others as beneficiaries. Almost half of all men name a secondary beneficiary when buying a new policy—a specific beneficiary to whom payment will be made if the primary beneficiary dies before the insured.

Smoke Control Ordinances Being Adopted by Cities

Cities are broadening and tightening up smoke control programs in an all-out effort to lift low-hanging smog clouds, the American municipal association reports.

More than 200 municipalities in the U.S. have adopted smoke control ordinances. In general, these ordinances prohibit emission of dense smoke of more than a few minutes duration. Notable exceptions are St. Louis and Pittsburgh, where anti-air pollution laws prohibit the use of smoke-producing fuels or require the use of a type of burner that will consume high volatile coals without producing smoke.

A new set of rules drafted to enforce New York city's smoke abatement ordinance extends controls to cover smoke emission, kind of fuels sold and installation of new heating equipment. This is the third attempt by the city's board of smoke control to draw up effective regulations.

Under the revised regulations, greater control will be exercised over fuel to regulate the sulphur content of smoke, reducing its damaging power. The New York board proposes to determine the volatile content of all fuel used in the city and see that it does not contain more than two per cent of sulphur by weight.

Possible damage from air pollution is forcibly pointed up by the experience of Donora, Pa. In addition to the 20 deaths that resulted from the smog of 1948, the real market value of Donora property dropped more than nine per cent in 1948. At the end of 1948—the smog occurred in October 1948—the total actual value of real estate in the city was $34 million. A year later the market values of total property had dropped to $30.8 million although property throughout the state, generally, showed an increased market value.

Grain Belt States Reduce U. S. Farm Mortgage Debt

A handful of states, mostly in the grain belt, are primarily responsible for the fact that total U.S. farm mortgage debt currently is over a billion dollars lower than it was a decade ago, according to figures compiled by the U.S. department of agriculture.

As a matter of fact, according to these figures, 25 of the 48 states had a greater farm mortgage debt outstanding at the beginning of this year than a decade before. Some of the increases were substantial, with Florida's mortgage debt up 66 per cent in the period and New Mexico's up more than 100 per cent.

In the aggregate, the farm mortgage debt outstanding in these 25 states on January 1 this year added up to $2.1 billion, or 39 per cent of the total U.S. farm mortgage debt at that time, as against $1.8 billion, or only 28 per cent of the national total, at the start of 1940. The gain for these states combined for the 10-year period was thus close to $300 million, or 15 per cent.

For Flock Replacements

Purchase of "started" chicks or adult males for breeding flocks is discouraged by veterinarians on the grounds that older birds are more likely to introduce disease than carefully purchased day-old chicks. The recommended procedure is to buy day-old chicks from a reliable hatchery that is known to be free of pullorum disease and other infections. The farmer can then raise his own males for the breeding flock instead of gambling on a questionable source. Use of day-old chicks also is recommended for replacing the laying flock.

Develop Immunity to DDT

War-developed DDT, hailed in the press a few years ago as the answer to all problems stemming from noxious insects, is losing its effectiveness against some important pests, the wildlife management institute reports. Strains of houseflies and mosquitoes which are resistant to the insecticide have been reported from many parts of the world. After control operations cease, swamps or marshes sprayed appear devoid of mosquitoes. Freed of competition from less fortunate members of their tribe, however, the few immune survivors present breed and multiply until, in many places, they predominate. Ten times the amount of DDT needed to curl the toes of an ordinary Aedes falls even to stagger these hardy super-skeeters.

Home Medicine Cabinets

When ghosts of the family's bygone aches and pains haunt the medicine cabinet, "it's time for action." Check of most home medicine cabinets will reveal a stock of old pills, prescriptions and remedies that often the family had forgotten what they were supposed to cure, she explains. Medicine should never be saved for future use except on specific advice from a physician, she adds, and then should be clearly labeled as to what it is, how much to take and when. Getting these old medicines out of the house, is only one of many things that the homemaker can do to make a home a safer and more pleasant place in which to live and work.

Nice (?) chilling thought for a hot day:

Life expectancy now about 70 years of age

1 out of every 3 over 65 have no cash income

Were you born today? If so, you've got a life expectancy of 66 years. If you're an old man of 25, you'll probably live till you're 69½. If you're 35, till over 70. If you're 45, till 71½. (We mean men. Women live 4-5 years longer.) Isn't that nice? But whoa, there—nearly one-third of the 11,000,000 persons over 65—not counting inmates of institutions—have no cash income at all.

What's to prevent your being one of those 1-out-of-3's? For millions the answer is: United States Savings Bonds—bought through Automatic Savings! It's a safe and sure way to save. Barbers Invent Pole To Foil Town Jokers
SUPERIOR, Wis.—Two Superior barbers had trouble keeping a barber pole in front of their place of business. Several times poles have been carted off, even though they weighed about 200 pounds.

When city workers recently prepared to cut down a tree in the front of the shop of John F. Grant and Felix F. Cross, the two barbers asked that it be sawed off six feet from the ground.

The barbers peeled the bark off the stump and painted red and white and blue stripes on it. They don't expect to have further trouble.

Clifton Webb, Movie Baby Sitter, Catches Mumps
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Clifton Webb, the movie and stage star, who gained his greatest fame in the movies as a baby sitter, caught the mumps recently.

Seems he caught them from juvenile actress Gigi Perreau, with whom he was making a picture. Webb, 59, acted as a baby sitter in the movie "Sitting Pretty."

Sicilian Bandit Shot Down After Seven-Year Hunt

CASTELVETRANO, Sicily—The most celebrated bandit of modern times, following a record manhunt, has been killed. Salvatore Giuliano, elusive king of Sicilian bandits, was shot down by police after a hunt of seven years.

A special Italian national police detachment made the kill after trailing the swarthy, dark-eyed gunman for days with a radio car camouflaged as a newspaper truck. The detachment formed part of a 2,000-man force which had hunted Giuliano for 10 months.

The skirmish marked the end of a man accused of killing nearly 100 policemen and scores of other crimes, a man who defied Italian authorities in barbed declarations and proclaimed his own "free state of Sicily" after he took to the hills in 1943.

Challenged Officials
Italy's interior minister, Mario Scelba, said it marked the end of banditry in Sicily. The bandit king, whom friends regarded as a Robin Hood because of the way he shared the loot of his robberies and kidnappings, had been a fugitive since he slew a policeman who tried to seize a load of black market wheat from him September 3, 1943.

Officers had been close on Giuliano's heels for two weeks. Then just before dawn on July 5, Giuliano crept from a house in which he was hiding and stole to another building, whose door was shrouded by a cloth curtain. Police were there, waiting for him.

Guns barked as he pushed his way through the curtain. Giuliano turned to get away, but fell dead by a tree.

The bandit once "declared" war on Italy as the commander in chief of a bandit force of about 20 men. Several years ago he challenged 10 government leaders to fight him, one at a time.

"If I lose, it will be my life," he wrote. "If I win, I will take over the government."

An interior minister once put a price of 500,000 lire (about $850) on Giuliano's head. Giuliano came back with an offer of 600,000 lire (about $1,000) for the minister's head.

Giuliano had been termed a fiery anti-Communist. He was charged with turning machine guns on a May Day parade near Palermo in 1947, killing eight persons and wounding 33.

Athletic Woman Swings Man to Safety on Porch
CHICAGO, Ill.—Women are called the weaker sex, but it isn't always so.

Mrs. Gloria Schmidt, 25, who weighs 200 pounds, heard cries of help from her back porch. She found Joseph Vogt, 63, clinging to a third floor window sill, 35 feet above the ground, by his fingertips.

Vogt had returned home and found himself locked out of his apartment. He leaned over, trying to reach a window from his back porch, but slipped over the railing.

Mrs. Schmidt leaned out and grabbed Vogt by the ankles. She shouted to him to let go and swung him in an arc through the air until he hung suspended by his ankles.

"I'll try to hold you until the fire department comes," she gasped.

But the 180 pound Vogt was too heavy and Mrs. Schmidt was afraid the porch railing would give way. She lowered him as far as she could and swung him, head down, to the second floor porch below.

Physicians said Vogt suffered a brain concussion when he struck his head on the porch floor. But police said he had Mrs. Schmidt to thank for being alive.

Throws Ducks Off Beam
Scientists may be a step closer to solving the age-old mystery of bird migration as the result of experiments conducted with radar at the Delta Waterfowl Research station maintained by the Wildlife Management Institute and Mr. James F. Bell of Minneapolis on the Manitoba breeding grounds. Although H. Albert Hochbaum, director of the station, feels that experiments still are in such an early stage that no particular significance can be placed on results, interesting reactions of migrating ducks to radar beams have been noted.

Portable radar equipment borrowed from the R.C.A.F. was used last spring to help trace the migration of birds. When high-flying flocks of ducks struck the radar beam, they reacted in a peculiar manner. "We obtained at least a dozen positive reactions when the birds flared and broke, much as if they had been shot, when they hit the radar beam," Hochbaum reports.

Similar to Ceramics
With the aid of special organic finishes, inexpensive plaster and plastic castings are now made that duplicate the attractive appearance of ceramics without the relatively high production costs. Casts made from plaster and papier mache are not as durable, naturally. They're soft, porous and lack resistance to impacts. They can, however, acquire excellent surface hardness and approximately as much impact resistance as can be expected in ordinary ceramics if they are properly sealed and glazed with organic thermoses.

Car Coatings and Celluloid
Cellulose nitrate, used in so many industrial finishes today, was discovered in 1846, in Basle, Switzerland. It did not, however, find a commercial use until Wesley Hyatt, an American, produced celluloid in 1868 from cellulose nitrate and camphor. The next step forward in the use of cellulose nitrate came only about 30 years ago when it was introduced as an ingredient of automobile finishes.

Archaeologists Excavate Early American Campsites

Camp sites of some of the earliest inhabitants of North America were excavated this summer at a site in the upper reaches of the Angostura reservoir near Hot Springs, S. Dak.

The stone javelin heads found there, buried more than 20 feet deep by wind and flood since they were scattered on the surface as much as 5,000 years ago, are quite similar to, although not identical with, Yuma points. These Yuma points, in turn, immediately succeeded the Folsom point, the curiously flaked javelin head from New Mexico which is one of the earliest known implements made by human beings in the New World.

The Angostura site promises to be the most significant yet found in the survey of areas soon to be flooded by reservoirs. This is a cooperative project of the Bureau of American ethnology of the Smithsonian institution, the national park service, and the bureau of reclamation.

The makers of these curious javelin heads apparently were nomadic hunters. These sites in South Dakota could hardly have been more than bivouacs, and no semipermanent habitation site has yet been found. The remains were buried so deeply that it was necessary to use bulldozers in excavating them.

Animal bones were found in association with the artifacts, but most of them were in such bad condition that it was impossible to make precise identification. Thus it is not known whether they are the remains of extinct animals or of species still living in the area.

Molds Disregard Chemical Rules in Survival Battle
If it weren't for the mold's disregard for the rules of chemistry, we might not have the miraculous antibiotics with us today, according to Dr. Donald J. Cram, assistant professor of chemistry at the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

Almost all organisms in nature synthesize compounds—derived from sugars and proteins—which conform to certain patterns. But molds, from which we get penicillin, streptomycin, and other antibiotics, have a habit of turning out peculiar molecules, which do not conform to the patterns established by nature.

This manufacture of misfit molecules seems to be tied in with a unique method of self-preservation. Molds compete with bacteria for food, and the competition is stiff.

The peculiar molecules produced by molds are sugar-and-amino-acid-derived substances similar to those used in the metabolic chains of bacteria pick them up, as if they were normal sugar and amino acid molecules. However, there is just enough change in the configuration of the compounds to cause them not to fit into the metabolic chain.

Thus the metabolism of the bacteria is broken down, they die, and there is that much less competition for the molds' food supply.

Were it not for this unique method of self-preservation, these molds might have fallen by the wayside long ago in the evolutionary battle of survival, Dr. Cram points out.
