The new routes, which were scheduled to leave Childress post office at 5 a. m. today, were announced Saturday by Postmaster
J. A. Hillburn.

The Mistletoe Trucking Company of Lubbock was awarded a contract to carry the mail over the

CONSUMER DEMANDS FOR TURKEY SHOULD BE CONSIDERED FIRST

Consumers prefer turkeys that are well fleshed, well finished, free of pinfeathers, free of blemishes, and that have a high degree of meat in relation to the amount of bone, says D. R. Barrett, assistant poultry marketing specialist for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. He adds that size is also an important consumer consideration.

When the consumer has a choice, there is likely to be a greater demand for turkeys of highest quality. Well fleshed turkeys with good body conformation will have broad breasts that are well covered with meat. The thighs will be large and the drumsticks will be bulging and the back will be fairly well fleshed.

Barrett says that some fat over the entire carcass is desirable. A layer of fat over the ribs indicates that the carcass is well finished, since this area is the last to lay on fat. Mature turkeys normally have more finish than younger, less mature turkeys.

He states that well fleshed and well finished turkeys should be free of pinfeathers. Pins may be protruding or non-protruding. He says the protruding pins are far more serious than the non-protruding and are not allowed in any of the ready-to-cook quality grades.

Many turkeys are reduced in quality because of blemishes received during handling and processing, Barrett points out. Such things as skin and flesh bruises are considered blemishes and will lower the value of the carcass. A flesh bruise is more serious than a skin bruise.

PRACTICE LIFTING CORRECTLY AND SAVE THE ANNOYANCE OF STRAINS, INJURIES

Each year thousands of people are victims of sprains, strains, hernias, and other injuries simply because they do not know how to properly handle heavy objects, says E. C. Martin, state leader of agricultural programs for the Texas A. and M. Extension Service and chairman of the State Farm Safety Committee.

He says that records kept by the National Safety Council show five common causes for lifting injuries. They are lifting and lowering objects with the back muscles instead of the leg muscles; insecure grip or footing and unsafe placing of hands or feet; using quick, jerking, twisting or awkward movements of the body; obstructed vision, unstable loads, or inadequate control and insufficient help or failure to use mechanical aids.

Martin points out that the common practice of bending at the waist when lifting something places a severe strain on the sensitive back and abdominal muscles. By bending your knees and keeping your back straight when lifting something heavy, you can place the strain on your leg muscles which are less likely to be injured.

Before doing any lifting around the farm, Martin suggests that you examine the job carefully. See if you can't reduce the amount of necessary lifting, and find some way to use mechanical equipment if possible. If very heavy lifting must be done by hand, get someone to help you do the job.

The Prince of Peace is coming.

Sicilian Bandit Shot Down After Seven-Year Hunt

CASTELVETRANO, Sicily — The most celebrated bandit of modern times, following a record manhunt, has been killed. Salvatore Giuliano, elusive king of Sicilian bandits, was shot down by police after a hunt of seven years.

A special Italian national police detachment made the kill after trailing the swarthy, darkeyed gunman for days with a radio car camouflaged as a newspaper truck. The detachment formed part of a 2,000-man force which had hunted Giuliano for 10 months.

The skirmish marked the end of a man accused of killing nearly 100 policemen and scores of other crimes, a man who defied Italian authorities in barbed declarations and proclaimed his own "free state of Sicily" after he took to the hills in 1943.

Challenged Officials
Italy's interior minister, Mario Scelba, said it marked the end of banditry in Sicily. The bandit king, whom friends regarded as a Robin Hood because of the way he shared the loot of his robberies and kidnappings, had been a fugitive since he slew a policeman who tried to seize a load of black market wheat from him September 3, 1943.

Officers had been close on Giuliano's heels for two weeks. Then just before dawn on July 5, Giuliano crept from a house in which he was hiding and stole to another building, whose door was shrouded by a cloth curtain. Police were there, waiting for him.

Guns barked as he pushed his way through the curtain. Giuliano turned to get away, but fell dead by a tree.

The bandit once "declared" war on Italy as the commander in chief of a bandit force of about 20 men. Several years ago he challenged 10 government leaders to fight him, one at a time.

"If I lose, it will be my life," he wrote. "If I win, I will take over the government."

Price on Head
An interior minister once put a price of 500,000 lire (about $850) on Giuliano's head. Giuliano came back with an offer of 600,000 lire (about $1,000) for the minister's head.

Giuliano had been termed a fiery anti-Communist. He was charged with turning machine guns on a May Day parade near Palermo in 1947, killing eight persons and wounding 33.

Athletic Woman Swings Man to Safety on Porch

CHICAGO, Ill. — Women are called the weaker sex, but it isn't always so.

Mrs. Gloria Schmidt, 25, who weighs 200 pounds, heard cries of help from her back porch. She found Joseph Vogt, 63, clinging to a third floor window sill, 35 feet above the ground, by his fingertips.

Vogt had returned home and found himself locked out of his apartment. He leaned over, trying to reach a window from his back porch, but slipped over the railing.

Mrs. Schmidt leaned out and grabbed Vogt by the ankles. She shouted to him to let go and swung him in an arc through the air until he hung suspended by his ankles.

"I'll try to hold you until the fire department comes," she gasped.

But the 180 pound Vogt was too heavy and Mrs. Schmidt was afraid the porch railing would give way. She lowered him as far as she could and swung him, head down, to the second floor porch below.

Physicians said Vogt suffered a brain concussion when he struck his head on the porch floor. But police said he had Mrs. Schmidt to thank for being alive.

Barbers Invent Pole To Foll Town Jokers

SUPERIOR, Wis. — Two Superior barbers had trouble keeping a barber pole in front of their place of business. Several times poles have been carted off, even though they weighed about 200 pounds.

When city workers recently prepared to cut down a tree in the front of the shop of John F. Grant and Felix F. Cross, the two barbers asked that it be sawed off six feet from the ground.

The barbers peeled the bark off the stump and painted red and white and blue stripes on it. They don't expect to have further trouble.

Clifton Webb, Movie Baby Sitter, Catches Mumps

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Clifton Webb, the movie and stage star, who gained his greatest fame in the movies as a baby sitter, caught the mumps recently.

Seems he caught them from juvenile actress Gigi Perreau, with whom he was making a picture. Webb, 59, acted as a baby sitter in the movie "Sitting Pretty."

Democratic Votes For Ben Guill Will Be Counted

Who participated in the primary have every vote for Republican Congressman Ben Guill in the general election Tuesday, November 7. Ben Guill's name will not be on the ballot, Mickey Ledrick, Panhandle Democrat and chairman of the district wide organization of voters for Ben Guill, declared today.

"This is a general election, not a primary," Ledrick pointed out. "Every citizen of the 18th Congressional District who paid his poll tax can vote for Ben Guill, with the assurance that his vote will be counted."

Ledrick explained that the State Supreme Court has held repeatedly that a voter is legally or morally bound by the "so-called party pledge."

"I am a Democrat," Ledrick said, "and so are thousands of other men and women who are supporting Congressman Guill in the re-election campaign. We are Democrats—we're just Democrats who don't like Ben Guill being gone on in Washington."

Ledrick said Democrats for Ben Guill will go to Washington five days ago and start right to work in the Panhandle. As a member of the House Agriculture Committee as a World War II veteran and fearless fighter against bureaucracy, we feel Ben Guill can do the best job for the Panhandle.

Ledrick said Democrats for Ben Guill Committees have been organized in each of the 28 counties in the district.

PLANNING A SMALL FARM-HOUSE SHOULD BE DONE VERY CAREFULLY

Designing a nice small farmhouse is not simply the process of taking the plans for a large house and reducing the measurements of the different rooms. Such reduction has resulted in many houses with small rooms that are neither convenient nor comfortable.

In the designing of any small home, the first aim should be to plan the different rooms so they may be used for as many purposes as is necessary, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer-buildings of Texas A. and M. College. Careful planning of space equipment will allow the rooms to be used for more than one activity, yet provide the space and privacy that every home needs.

Although low-cost houses cannot afford the luxury of single-use areas such as dining and guest rooms, Allen says that the small house may be so designed that additional units can be "built on" as the family grows and the farm income allows construction.

He points out that new houses built with trussed roofs and concrete slab floors may have partitions that can be moved at low cost when interior changes are needed.

Hall space is kept at a minimum in a properly planned small home, and traffic is routed around, rather than through, the living and sleeping quarters. Allen recommends planning space, equipment and storage needs according to the number of people sleeping in the house.

Miss Joyce Dell Hardin, off Lubbock, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hardin.

Mrs. Oner Cornett and Mrs. Freeland Bingham visited last Monday in Wellington with relatives.

Let's Re-elect Ben Guill

The Congressman Who Can Get BOTH Parties to Work For THE PANHANDLE OF TEXAS

THE PICTURE OF INTER-PARTY CO-OPERATION

Ben Guill, Congressman from the 18th District of Texas, is pictured above in a candid camera shot talking with Democrat Sam Rayburn, of Texas, Speaker of the House, and Republican Joe Martin, of Massachusetts, Minority Leader, the two most powerful figures in Congress. Because of inter-party co-operation like this, Ben Guill is a member of the powerful House Agriculture Committee. Because of inter-party co-operation, Ben Guill got top Department leaders to travel to Amarillo from Washington for the only small business clinic ever to be held in Texas. Because of inter-party co-operation, Ben Guill has been able to get more attention for the Panhandle than any other Congressman could have got in a full term.

BEN GUILL—through his honesty and ability—is doing an outstanding job as our Congressman . . . He deserves a full term of his own. Let's re-elect the man who has proved he can do something for the Panhandle.

HOW TO PLAN A HOME LAUNDRY ADVANCE STUDY AVOIDS GUESSWORK

When you start to plan an all-electric home laundry for your new home or to remodel your present one, laundry specialists name three points you should consider: (1) the location in the house—basement, first floor or second floor; (2) function of the room—will it be a laundry solely, a general utility room or a combination kitchen-laundry?; (3) the arrangement of appliances, counters and cabinets for efficient "assembly line" washday operations.

Advance planning before you build will make the most effective use of available space and avoid guesswork and makeshift installations which later cost you needless stair climbing, heavy bundle lifting, pleasant surroundings and even peace of mind.

In the interests of better home planning, Hotpoint, Inc., the industry's newest leader in the production of automatic washers and dryers, has studied installations in hundreds of homes and talked with architects, builders, home economists and engineers. Here is what the experts say on the important points you will want to take up as you plan for future workless washdays.

Architectural style of your house, room size, and plumbing have an important bearing on location, of course, and in many small one and two story homes, the basement continues to be the only space available for the laundry. First floor laundries, however, have been voted for by 70 per cent of women planning changes, according to recent Hotpoint surveys, and they believe this location will eventually supercede the basement entirely. The post-war emphasis on the basementless "ranch" house has a direct bearing on this view.

The elimination of stair climbing has been a strong factor in influencing women in favor of the first floor, particularly those with large families who must do laundry several times a week. The pleasant surroundings on the first floor and the accessibility of the laundry room to other household activities, such as keeping an assured eye on the children, proceeding with meal preparations, sewing, mending, and the uncounted tasks a woman faces, makes a difference.

In the two story house with upstairs bedrooms, as much as 96 per cent of the family wash comes from the second floor. Since all soiled clothes and linens, excepting table linens, are changed on the second floor and clean clothes are stored in bedroom bureaus or upstairs closets, the saving in stair climbing and clothes bundle carrying is considerable.

While the second floor laundry is thought "revolutionary" by many families, it may well become the standard home laundry of the future in two story structures. The laundry equipment weighs approximately 600 pounds which means no unusual structural problems for the builder or remodeler. Modern washers do not require bolting to the floor. A fluid drive mechanism on one new washer, for example, eliminates vibration.

Best location for the second floor laundry usually is near the bathroom so that both rooms can be served by one set of plumbing connections.

A utility room arrangement in the basement or on the first floor makes possible a combined laundry and heating unit layout.

In farm homes, a first floor utility room is no innovation. The utility room has served many a farm family as a men's shower, a place to hang outdoor clothes, a room for canning, a storage center for extra kitchen supplies. In suburban homes it might double for a sewing and mending room, as a planning center, with desk and household account files, or as a playroom for children when they can't be outdoors.

In new homes and many old ones being remodeled, an extra large kitchen has offered an ideal possibility for a combination kitchen-laundry. This permits easy alternation between cooking and washing without leaving the room.

Good lighting is particularly important to sorting, spot re-mending, mending, and ironing.

Appliances should be located so that doors do not swing into positions blocking use of the devices or cabinets. If no dryer will be incorporated in the laundry center, and clothes must be hung in the yard, an outside entry to the room is advisable.

The automatic washer and the electric water heater should be put as close together as possible to eliminate long pipe runs between the two for the hot water.

The size of water heater needed depends upon a number of factors: hot water requirements, size of family, automatic equipment in use (such as a dishwasher in addition to the clothes washer), geographical location. Hotpoint, the industry's largest maker of electric water heaters, reports models available in capacities from 30 to 82 gallons to meet family needs and pocketbooks. Whether a portable or cabinet rotary ironer is best depends upon space limitations.

Laundry engineers recommend an assembly line order of laundry equipment with appliances arranged from right to left. This puts the water trays at the right followed by the automatic washer and dryer and then the ironer.

Modern laundry equipment can fit into as little as five feet of wall space. However, home laundry engineers say that the ideal arrangement is to have a base cabinet between the washer and dryer and another between the dryer and ironer. Counter space on the opposite side of the sink from the washer is also advisable.

A utility room arrangement allows space for use of accessory equipment such as a clothes hamper on wheels, portable rack for hanging ironed clothes, sewing machine, small desk and telephone, order supplies. In all laundries, of course, linoleum or rubber tile is advisable.

A combination kitchen-laundry may alter appliance arrangement to some extent depending upon location of the kitchen equipment. Laundry appliances can be integrated with the kitchen devices or can be separated by a lunch bar or a low partition.

Before you build, or modernize, you should consult an appliance dealer as well as construction officials. Dealers who install complete home laundries and kitchens of leading matched brands can contribute greatly to the success of your project for better electrical living.

Well kids! The lunchroom has finally opened. We know it has taken a long time to get it fixed but it is really nice looking with everything new. The grade school kids will eat first and then the high school will go at 12:00. Take it easy and don't run over anyone or get hurt. It might hurt if you fell down the stairs or got kicked, dont you think? So take it easy, won't you?

FIRST SIX WEEKS OF SCHOOL YEAR GOES BY; GRADES ARE RECEIVED FOR PERIOD

The first six weeks of this school year for 1950-51 has been completed and four days have passed on the new six weeks. Some students were terribly disappointed when they received their grades yesterday, some were pleasantly surprised and others knew what they would get before the "fatal" day.

For those who were disappointed in what your teachers "gave" you, you should realize that in school your grades are not given but rather are made by you and you alone. It is your job and no one else can do it for you. Be thankful that you have five more six week's in which to redeem yourself. Take advantage of this opportunity and exert your very best effort toward a higher goal.

4400 FARMERS KILLED
300,000 INJURED

DON'T "CULTIVATE" ACCIDENTS ON YOUR FARM

A field half plowed—a furrow left unturned—work stopped by accident!

To the farmer, working against time and weather, delay can mean the difference between a crop and no crop, a good year or a lean one. So accidents have no place in his schedule; they cost money, delay production—and the growing season keeps rolling along.

Yet, farming ranks third most hazardous in eight major industries. Think of it, while the death rate for all industry is 29 per 100,000 workers, in agriculture it is 55 per 100,000! One farmer in every 15 is injured on the job! Total—4400 killed, 300,000 disabled by injury every year.

The wise farmer knows where his hazards are—and avoids them. Falls, machinery and animals account for most accidents down on the farm. Their annual cost—$75,000,000. Yet, they're so easy to prevent. Just a little caution is all it takes.

Don't "cultivate" accidents and losses! Instead, "cultivate" safety and success!

Man Carriers Polio Virus, Science Believes

NEW YORK—Human beings are spreaders of polio, scientists are beginning to believe. The shrewdest has failed to prove anything but that other sources of polio infected from people.

Scientists observed that in polio breaks the disease is spread along railroad routes, bus routes, and valleys. There sometimes did not seem to be much in the air.

Mosquitoes were suspected. Other things, too. Something had to be going along these routes. But nothing at all was proved against insects, not even the flies, though polio virus, sometimes was found inside flies.

The human chain explains easily. The disease runs along these routes because that is where people live in largest numbers.

Another mystery is why polio epidemics occur only in hot weather. The disease runs the year round. The hot weather alone were the explanation for epidemics, these outbreaks would be expected to last longer in the South than in the North. But they don't.

In the South the epidemics start earlier. They reach their peaks earlier. But after about two months, even though hot weather may be going from over, the southern epidemics begin to decline.

The short duration of the epidemics can be explained on the theory that human beings are the spreaders.

In two months the infection may reach to most of those who are susceptible, keeping in mind that its spread, to the silent cases, is 10 times more than among the openly sick. The chain reaction begins then to break down from lack of enough susceptible victims.

Vegetables have been suspected because epidemics begin soon after the start of the fresh-vegetable season. Early cases are often found on farms. But no sign of polio virus has been found in vegetables.

Occasionally a polio outbreak has been traced along a milk route, but the virus has yet to be discovered in milk. All trails, except the human pathway, so far end in blind alleys.

Neighbor's 'Play by Play' Account Breaks Up Robbery

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—A "play by play" description of a burglary attempt on a tavern ended with arrival of police and capture of the burglars.

A neighborhood woman phoned police. "One of them just pulled out a ventilator fan and he's climbing in through the hole," she said. "Another man is just standing on the corner."

The lookout stared in disbelief when four police cars disgorged 10 patrolmen who took him into custody along with his partner in the tavern, who hadn't touched a thing yet.

Late Marriage Is Reason For Fewer Children, Report

NEW YORK—College graduates, averaging around 49 years old and out of school a quarter of a century, have a deficiency of 26 per cent in the number of children born to assure replacement, according to findings of Dr. W. A. Anderson, Cornell university rural sociologist.

Dr. Anderson studied 1496 graduates (1,129 men and 370 women) of the Cornell classes of 1919, 1920 and 1921, and found the deficit of men graduates was 21 per cent, and for women, 41 per cent.

He based this on the fact it takes 2.22 live-born children for each college graduate for the son or daughter to reach college graduation age of mother or father. The Cornellians averaged 1.64 children.

Of the entire group studied, 85 per cent were married, 11 per cent single, 1 per cent divorced, and 2 per cent widowed.

Men established their families at about 29 years of age, and the women at about 28. This late age of marriage is given as a chief reason why college graduates do not on the average have enough children to replace themselves. The students received their diplomas at the average age of 23 years.

The reproduction rates of Cornell graduates are practically the same as those of other colleges, says Dr. Anderson.

British Health Service Refuses to Buy Bath Salts

LONDON, England—The British health service, which supplies free medicines, spectacles, wooden legs, hearing aids, glass eyes, false teeth and wigs, has finally called a halt. The service refuses to buy bath salts.

Neither, said the health ministry, would it honor prescriptions for smelly lotions to make mosquitoes go away.

This also applies to vanishing cream, shaving soap, tooth paste, talcum, and hair tonic.

In other words, brother, no soap.

"Prescriptions for such preparation have not actually been submitted," said a ministry spokesman, "but the point was raised because there are borderline cases. A man with an itch, it might be argued with reason, needs a cake of soap."

Federal Court Awards Ute Tribe $31,700,000 Claim

WASHINGTON—The Federal Court of Claims has awarded the Ute Indian tribes of Colorado and Utah $31,700,000 in settlement of a land dispute dating back to 1891.

Consisting of four judgements, one for $24,295,127, the settlement is said to be the largest ever made against the government by the court.

The judgements are in payment for more than 6,000,000 acres of land taken from the Utes by the government between 1891 and 1938.

The land involved consists largely of mountainous areas in western Colorado, ranging in elevation from 5,000 to 13,000 feet. It has a high mineral value. Besides two producing oil fields, it includes extensive deposits of vanadium, major coal reserves, what is said to be the largest deposit of shale oil in the United States and more than 4,000,000 acres of grazing land.

Actually the land has been the subject of a tug of war between the Indians and the government since 1868. That year the government by treaty set aside 15,000,000 acres in western Colorado for the Utes.

The government later bought back 4,000,000 acres and eventually took over the rest. This action resulted in the long and involved litigation.

Lawyers for the Utes said that approximately 60 per cent of the award would go to Utes living in Utah, the remainder to Utes in Colorado. The award was said to represent more than $10,000 for each member of the confederated tribes.

WASHINGTON—The Veterans Administration reports 19,014,000 American war veterans are still alive, 14,000,000 of them from World War II.

The administration's figures reveal the surviving veterans:

- Grand army of the republic—15.

- Spanish-American war—19,000.
- Total battle casualties for all American wars were estimated at 935,300 of the 25,030,000 who took part in them, including the revolution. There are 2,308,700 disabled men.
- The V.A. carries 384,000 veterans' widows on its books, plus 278,300 minor children.

Frenchmen Climb 26,496 Foot Peak in Himalayas

PARIS—Five Frenchmen have returned from the Himalayas with claims of mastering the Anapurna Peak, 26,496 feet high. But the cold almost got them.

Maurice Herzog, the 41-year-old leader of the expedition, was a stretcher patient on his arrival by plane in Paris. A frostbite victim, he lost all his toes and all his fingers up to the first joints. Louis Lachenal lost all his toes. The others were battered and physically exhausted from climbing Anapurna, in the Everest group. Men have climbed higher before, close to 28,000 feet on Everest and K-2. Mt. Godwin Austen, but had to turn back before achieving the crests. Everest ranges up 29,002 feet in the Nepal-Tibet frontier area. K-2 rises 28,250 feet in India.

The Frenchmen had hoped to get up Mount Dhaulagiri, a rugged 26,810-foot peak in Nepal, 200 miles west of Everest, but had to abandon the plan because of what they called "insuperable difficulties."

The French government financed a third of the expedition's cost. The rest was paid by private backers and the Alpine Club of France.

Age Has Limitations Judge Tells 76-Year-Old Romeo

BOSTON—Judge Elijah Adlow told 76-year-old Joseph Mellea to stay home and stay away from the girls—after all, age has limitations.

Mellea, barely five feet tall and with a small white mustache, was in court charged with threatening, with a pistol, the boy friend of pretty Carmella List, 18, a neighbor of Mellea.

Police said Mellea apparently was jealous, which led Judge Adlow to inform the old man: "Don't talk to girls. I never yet knew of a man who talked to girls who didn't get in trouble. Leave it to the young fellows—there is a limit to what a 76-year-old man can do."

The judge then filed the case with an admonition to Mellea to have his daughter keep him away from the young ladies.

Forest So Dry in West Fire Starts in River

PORTLAND, Ore.—The forests of the west are so dry a fire started in a river.

It's a fact, a Mount Hood National Forest crew reported. They said a fisherman, apparently assuming he was in a fireproof spot, dropped a cigarette into a log jam in Salmon river.

Despite the water running underneath and on either side, fire jumped up, leaped ashore, and began running up a canyon wall before the crew arrived to put it out with hand pumps.

American Rats Decline On South India's Diet

Not even rats can get along on the rice diet of South India's hungry poor; at least American rats can't. An evidence is the poor hunched creatures who starved and suffered for mankind at the Ohio state university in nutrition studies conducted there by Mrs. Rajammal P. Devadas of India.

Working with 281 albino rats, Mrs. Devadas sought to analyze the diet deficiencies of the poor population of her country and to develop suggestions for practical improvements. The rats were divided into 41 groups. A basal diet similar to the rice diet commonly consumed by the poor people in South India was fed to some of the rats, and rice diets with various supplements were fed to the others. Comparisons of the rats in different groups were made on the basis of growth, food consumption, liver vitamin A, and observations on activity, appearance and dermal conditions. Those on the basal diet showed poor growth, consumed small amounts of food, and developed hunched postures, roughened coats, and photophobia.

The study shows that the poor rice diet is primarily deficient in vitamin A, riboflavin, and some other unidentified factors present in egg yolk. Increased production of protective foods, enrichment and fortification of foods are the general areas of improvement which Mrs. Devadas expects to work on in India.

Heaviest Freight Shipments

The Santa Fe Railroad, in October, 1944, used three flatcars to move a 500,000-pound fractionating tower from Tulsa, Oklahoma, to a Berger, Texas, plant manufacturing butadiene for synthetic rubber. The load was nearly 150 feet long and was the heaviest ever shipped in a single piece on any railroad. The next record shipment was a 488,200-pound steel oil refinery fractionating column, or "bubble" tower, shipped on two flatcars over the Frisco and Kansas City Southern railroads from St. Louis, Missouri, to Smiths Bluff, Texas, in June, 1938. In December, 1946, the Pennsylvania, Erie and Nickel Plate railroads transported on a single car a 487,000-pound steel machinery casting from New Castle, Pennsylvania, to Cleveland.

Walter Rogers Speaks Over Station KGNC Each Friday at 7 p. m.

Walter Rogers of Pampa, Democratic nominee for congress, has scheduled radio broadcasts over station KGNC in Amarillo each Friday at 7 p. m. until the November 7th general election.

The candidate plans to stress the belief that the best interests of Texas can be obtained through the Democratic party rather than through a "protest" switch to another party.

Judge Ralph Porter of Clarendon, district campaign manager for Rogers, has set a goal of 30,000 Democratic votes for Rogers.

"This will not only send our man to Washington with a substantial majority, but the Panhandle will be well represented at the next state convention of the party," Porter said.

The number of delegates the 18th Congressional District has at the state convention is based on the number of votes cast in the general election, Porter explained.

THE CHEAPEST BUTANE SUPPLY IN THE MIDDLE WEST

Nice (?) chilling thought for a hot day:

Were you born today? If so, you've got a life expectancy of 66 years. If you're an old man of 25, you'll probably live till you're 69½. If you're 35, till over 70. If you're 45, till 71½. (We mean men. Women live 4-5 years longer.) Isn't that nice? But whoa, there—nearly one-third of the 11,000,000 persons over 65—not counting inmates of institutions—have no cash income at all.

What's to prevent your being one of those 1-out-of-3's? For millions the answer is: United States Savings Bonds—bought through Automatic Savings! It's a safe and sure way to save. Those on payrolls can buy them through the Payroll Savings Plan. Others, through the Bond-A-Month Plan. For your own peace of mind, sign up for Automatic Savings today!
