

Consumers warned of unlicensed pesticides

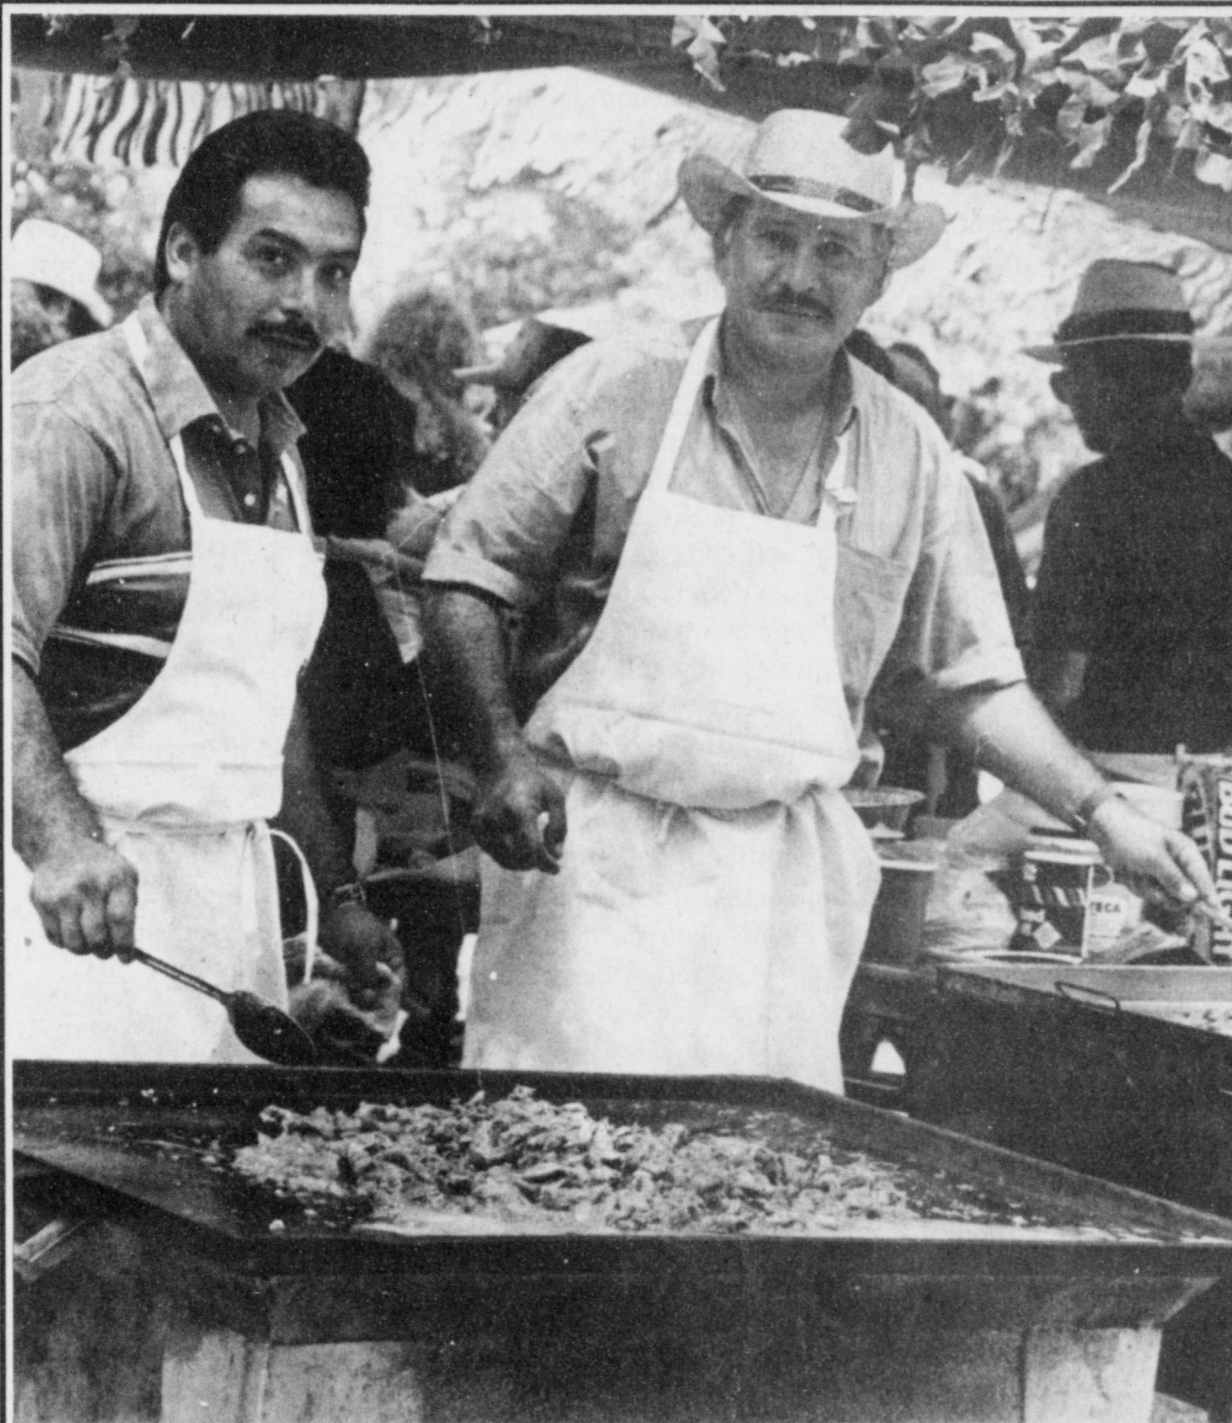

AUSTIN- The Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) warns Texas consumers that out-of-state pesticide distributors are selling products that are not properly licensed for purchase and use in Texas.

These companies are telemarketing their products and seem to be focusing on farmers, local governments and school districts. Allegedly, the companies are recommending uses of their products that are inconsistent with label direction.

TDA has classified several pesticide products containing certain active ingredients as "state-limited-use pesticides" because they could affect other plant and animal life if not properly used. To use state-limited use pesticides, an applicator must be licensed by TDA.

TDA reminds consumers to always read and follow the instructions on pesticide labels to ensure safe use of the product.

To report suspected misuse of pesticides or unauthorized sales, call a regional TDA office or toll free 1-800-835-5832 (TELL-TDA).

Muleshoe community leaders to be jailed

Muscular Dystrophy fundraiser to benefit Association, patients

By Helena Rodriguez

A number of community leaders in Muleshoe are expected to be served with warrants and jailed on Thursday, July 28.

It is all part of the South Plains Muscular Dystrophy's lock-in, an event which will be staged in Muleshoe to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA). The South Plains MDA serves 22 counties, including Bailey County.

According to Beverly Finley of the MDA, many local people have agreed to help out with the fundraiser by going to a mock jail, which will be set up at Muleshoe State Bank. Cellular One is also a sponsor. The participants will then be required to come up with a $500 bail in order to be released from jail.

The money raised will go to the MDA. It will be the first year for the MDA to hold a lock-in in Muleshoe.

During the mock process, the jailed people will also go before a mock judge, to whom they will present their bail to. Finley said that some people have already begun to raise their bail money in order to shorten the span of time they are in jail.

Others, she said, will appeal to friends, family and colleague to help them raise money to get out of the mock jail. The lock-in will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on July 28.

Finley said that so far at least 11 people have signed up, agreeing to be arrested.

Finley said that there are at least three people in Muleshoe who have Muscular Dystrophy. Money raised by the MDA will go to help them cover medical expenses.

"No patients who have Muscular Dystrophy pay for treatment themselves," said Finley. "We pay for it all by having fundraisers such as this."

Muscular Dystrophy is a neuromuscular disease that affects hundreds of thousands of Americans.

MDA works to combat 40 neuromuscular disease through: 1) basic and applied scientific investigation 2)

New program expected to help provide new jobs in rural areas

TEMPLE—More than 19,000 jobs will be created or saved in rural areas this fiscal year through the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Rural Development Administration (RDA) Business and Industry Program, according to RDA Acting Administrator Wilbur T. Peer.

"The RDA Business and Industry program is helping to provide new jobs in rural areas by working with banks to make financing available to new or expanding businesses," Peer said. "Thousands of jobs are also being saved by helping companies that would have to go out of business without additional financing."

"The Administration is emphasizing the Business and Industry Program as part of its commitment to participate with the private sector to help create jobs and improve the rural economy," Peer said.

Nationally, RDA has invested $114,942,250 for 81 loans this fiscal year, which began last October first. Nearly $135 million remains available for the rest of the fiscal year which ends September 30, 1994.

In Texas, RDA has invested $2,500,000 this year in rural areas to create and/or save 230 jobs.

Under RDA's Business and Industry Program, guaranteed loans are available for such purposes as the start-up or purchase of a business, working capital, conversion from one type of business to another, expansion, and modernization.

"The RDA guarantee helps small businesses find credit that otherwise may not be available. Baking regulations have been tightened over the past few years and some banks, especially small rural banks, may be hesitant to lend to emerging businesses," Peer said.

"Even smaller banks, however, can make loans with the RDA guarantee because the guarantee reduces their risk. And the guaranteed portion of the loan does not count against their reserves," he said.

"In addition, banks can sell the guaranteed portion of the loan on the secondary market. Also, these loans help lenders fulfill their obligation to the community in accordance with the Community Reinvestment Act."

Companies of any size can apply for guarantees on loans of up to $10 million. The amount of the Federal guarantee depends on the size of the loan. A maximum 90 percent guarantee is available for loans under $2 million, an 80 percent guarantee on loans of $2 million to $5 million, and a 70

MPD kicks off annual Child Safety Program

Julian Dominguez, Jr., Chief of the Muleshoe Police Department, has announced the police department is organizing its 10th annual Child Safety, Drug and Crime Prevention Program for the children of Muleshoe. The program officially began this week.

More than 868 youngsters ages 4-12 will receive preventive educational training by the use of pamphlets, booklets, safety posters, films, live shows, study charts and recordings.

Bob Cook will be assisting local police officers in planning and delivering programs to the school children. Cook is the area's senior safety coordinator for National Child Safety Council (NCSC), the oldest and largest non-profit organization dedicated to child safety.

In an effort to make the program a community effort, the area safety coordinator has been in the area over the past few days, presenting and explaining the entire program to business and industrial leaders.

He has been asking them to help support the program financially to cover the costs of the many materials which will be used by the police's complete safety education effort to local children.

Dominguez stresses to prospective program sponsors that the National Child Safety Council's project is the only program endorsed to operate in the Muleshoe area and is the only one that will be conducted by the police department.

percent guarantee is available on loans over $5 million up to $10 million.

"The Business and Industry Loan Programone of the least costly to the American taxpayer," Peer said. "Since the Federal Government only guarantees the loan, there is no direct outlay of Federal dollars unless there is a loss on the loan."

The RDA Business and Industry Loan Program is administered at the local level by the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) and is available through FmHA State Offices around the country.

Legal Matters

AVOID THE DISASTER AFTER THE DISASTER

A natural disaster leaves more than torn shingles and uprooted lives in its wake. Hurricanes and hailstorms alike can blow in a carpet-bag army of fly-by-night contractors and door-to-door scam artists, eager to capitalize on the misfortunes of decent people.

The first priority after a storm - after seeing to everyone's safety - is to clean up and repair your property. Most of us need contractors to do that.

After a severe storm, people may go from door to door in a neighborhood, offering their services. While most home repair people are honest and reputable, some are not. There are several things you can do to protect yourself and your wallet from the unscrupulous operators.

Preventive steps

Some things you can do today, before anything bad happens. Check with your insurance agent and see what procedures he or she may have in cases of natural disaster. Many cities and municipalities have ordinances that require contractors to register with the city.

Find out what questions you can ask potential contractors in order to see if they are legitimate. Remember, forewarned is forearmed!

If a disaster strikes

If your property is damaged, be sure to follow these procedures. If you are insured, call your insurance adjuster and have him or her make an estimate of the damage and probable repair cost. That way you'll have a benchmark estimate, done by a professional, when you deal with contractors.

The checklist

If someone does come to your door and offer to do your repairs, we suggest that you at least do the following:

- Get more than one estimate. Don't be pushed into signing a contract right away.
- Check the contractor out with the Better Business Bureau. Ask if there are any complaints about the company.
- Get references from past customers. Check them out.
- If the salesperson is unknown to you, write down the information from his or her driver's license and any other identification, and make a note of the salesperson's license plate number.

•Avoid out-of-town outfits. If their repair job is substandard or if problems crop up in the future, how will you have things fixed or get your money back?

•Get everything in writing and keep the documents in a safe place. The cost, work to be done, time schedule, payment terms, and other expectations should be noted in specific detail. A notice of cancellation, giving you the right to change your mind within three business days, must be included.

•Do not sign a contract that has blanks. Shady salespeople often will change the numbers (and prices) later.

•Never pay 100 percent up front. Arrange for an independent agent (insurance adjuster or real estate inspector) to inspect the completed work before you make full payment.

For more information, please contact your nearest Attorney General Consumer Protection Office and ask for our brochures on "Door-to-Door Sales" and "Home Improvement." Or you may call our toll free Consumer Protection Hot Line at 1-800-621-0508.

The All-Stars, comprised of players from Muleshoe, Sudan and Lazbuddie, opened the double-elimination tournament with a 27-8 thumping of Slaton on July 6.

But MLK rallied in the seventh inning for a 16-15 win.

Handling the pitching duties for the Area II All-Stars were Rocky McAdams, Chris Reyna and Joshua Pyle. Cheering the All-Stars to victory was their mascot, Janae Pyle, three-year-old sister of one of the players.

Missions to the Moon

Missions to the Moon tells the riveting story of the many United States space flights that culminated in the historic 1969 Apollo 11 (launch shown) moon landing and the 1975 United States/Soviet handshake in space.

Narrated by Martin Sheen, Missions to the Moon begins the story of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Apollo program with the tragic 1967 launch pad fire that killed Apollo 11 astronauts Roger B. Chaffee, Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom, and Edward H. White II. The subsequent Apollo flights successfully reached closer and closer to the mysterious lunar surface while the Soviet Union alternatively achieved great success and suffered great setbacks with their space program.

Missions to the Moon relives the historic moment of July 20th, 1969, when Apollo 11 astronauts Edwin E. (Buzz) Aldrin Jr., Neil A. Armstrong, and Michael Collins successfully maneuvered the lunar landing vehicle, Eagle, to the moon's surface and Armstrong majestically planted the American flag. In closing, the program focuses on the 1973 launch of the U.S. Skylab mission.

Missions to the Moon will be broadcast Wednesday, July 20th at 7:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.

Apollo 13: To the Edge and Back

Apollo 13: To the Edge and Back takes a new look at the dramatic Apollo 13 mission. On April 11th, 1970, the astronauts of Apollo 13 left Earth on their way to the moon. They almost didn't return. Jim Lovell, Fred Haise, and Jack Swigert were more than 200,000 miles away from home when an oxygen unit exploded. Instantly, their most basic resources — water, power, oxygen — became dangerously limited.

Apollo 13: To the Edge and Back, a 90-minute special, uses the harrowing, heroic story of Apollo 13 as a centerpiece to document a period of technological achievement during which the entire world became focused on the space race.

For three-and-a-half days after the Apollo 13 explosion, the world watched, waited, and prayed as the injured craft made its way home. The crew faced endless threats to their survival: loss of power, asphyxiation, dehydration, burn-up upon re-entry, even bypassing Earth altogether.

Using archival footage, state-of-the-art computer animations, and interviews with the people who made history, Apollo 13: To the Edge and Back shows how the exploration of space, for all its drama and discovery, served chiefly to prove that there's no place like home.

Apollo 13: To the Edge and Back airs Wednesday, July 20th at 8:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.

Cotton council president urges support for farm programs

WASHINGTON—National Cotton Council President Bruce Brumfield told a House Agriculture subcommittee recently that U.S. agriculture needs the continuation of strong, market-oriented farm programs in 1995 farm law.

Brumfield noted that under the more market-oriented farm laws of 1985 and 1990, "net cash income and net farm income have generally trended upward. Real value in farm assets has stabilized after a sharp and persistent decline during the 1980s, profitability has improved and farm foreclosures are far less common."

He asked that every effort be made to retain well-funded market development and export credit programs and to extend Conservation Reserve Program contracts.

Brumfield said the Council's foremost priority is opposition to any further limits on benefits which might be imposed by means-testing or any other measures to restrict benefits based on size, management or income.

Trade (GATT), budget pressures, environmental concerns and simple political expediency.

The GATT, for example, will not reduce the need for U.S. agricultural programs, he said.

"We think it would be devastating to American agriculture for our government to make substantial, unilateral reductions in agricultural spending just when global competition reaches a new apex under GATT," Brumfield said.

The panel was praised by Brumfield for its opposition to calls for cuts in agricultural spending as a way to offset lost tariff revenues from GATT's implementation.

Defining civilized

When you hear the world uncivilized, what mental picture do you form? A grizzled trapper? Atilla the Hun burning and pillaging eastern Europe? American Indians before the Puritans and the Spaniards?

And when you hear the world civilized, what comes to mind? English barristers wearing wigs? Nobility dueling and drinking tea? Miss Manners?

By definition civilized is variably described as one who is courtly, urbane, educated and refined. Qualities indicative of good breeding. A King vs a peasant. A business tycoon vs an immigrant laborer. A professional politician vs a cowboy. A Wall Street banker vs an Amarillo cattle buyer.

Underneath this broad definition is the implication that a civilized person has accomplished the departure from manual labor. Has removed himself from the basic requirements to feed, clothe and shelter himself with his own hands.

To become civilized means one can survive without the knowledge of how to grow a crop, build a log cabin, dress a deer, tan a hide, sharpen a knife, find water, read a sign or smoke a ham.

Civilizations are not new. They are as old as Noah's banker. I'm certain there were civilized people in ancient Rome who could not milk a goat or catch a fish.

Is America becoming more civilized? Certainly, according to the definition, there has been a mass exodus from the country to the city. The percentage of people who make a living off the land continues to decline. And the stigma of being less civilized still applies to farmers, lumber jacks, fishermen, hunters, miners, ranchers and cowboys. Those whose jobs require exposure to the elements, manual labor and physical risk.

This stigma is a benign prejudice that allows opportunists to manipulate urban opinion to our disadvantage. "Stop the mining, curtail the drilling, up their grazing fee, steal their water, condemn their land, cripple their dirty little towns. After all, they're only peasants. Not really civilized, you know."

We fight back with righteous indignation, bluster and the moral conviction that we have rights. That our cause is noble, that our labors are worthwhile for the good of mankind. We feed, clothe and shelter ourselves and our urban neighbors.

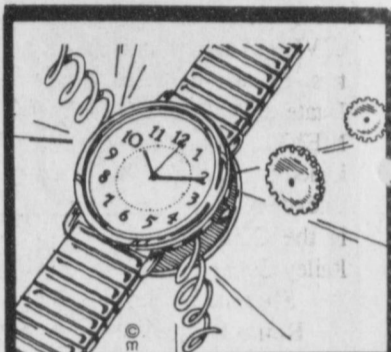

So the fight goes on. From the Ottoman Empire, through our century and into the next. And we of the land manage of cling to the outskirts of civilization as unwelcome but as necessary as an IV tube in the vein of a feverish man. Consoling ourselves with the knowledge that we can live without them but they cannot live without us.

Being civilized has as little meaning as being polka dot. It says nothing about the heart and soul of a man.

Have a nice day

Combest supports A to Z proposal

WASHINGTON — U.S. Representative Larry Combest (R-Texas) recently exposed efforts by congressional leaders who will attempt to attract votes away from the A to Z spending cuts proposal with a repeat vote of weak legislation from last year that Combest termed "warmed-over leftovers."

Combest pointed out that congressional leaders are offering a so-called "expedited rescission" bill for a vote as a weak alternative to tougher budget-cutting techniques Congress could use to cut spending.

Currently, a struggle exists on the part of those in control in Congress who are trying to intimidate the needed majority of representatives from signing the discharge petition. The discharge petition for A to Z is just 14 signatures short of moving the proposal to floor debate.

"The big-spenders are back to their expensive smoke and mirrors sideshow again by warming-over something called expedited rescission legislation from last year that the Senate will not even touch because it expires at the end of the current congressional session in October," said Combest.

"If they were serious about cutting spending first, they would not offer this old, warmed-over, leftover rescission legislation that allows Congress to ignore a president's spending vetoes if they do not approve of his cuts.

These pointless legislative games are the reason those of us who want meaningful budget-cuts are demanding the extraordinary step of an A to Z proposal that would put any federal spending under scrutiny during ten days of debate."

"When the big-spenders in control of Congress offer warmed-over leftovers as a weak substitute for meaningful legislation, I will vote for strong measures so a president can have the power to veto congressional overspending. They served this up in a weak attempt to try to distract the public's hunger for another spending plan that would re-view spending cuts from A to Z."

Better Business Bureau

LUBBOCK—With credit card fraud on the increase and costing consumers and creditors billions of dollars a year, here are some tips to save you some money. When traveling, be sure to destroy carbons of rental agreements that have your credit card number on them if you are renting a car and don't leave your rental agreement in the car where thieves can get to it.

If you are shopping in a store or eating in a restaurant, refuse to write your address and telephone number on credit slips or your credit card account number on checks.

At home, take care to destroy all pre-approved credit card applications and shred old statements, pay stubs and checks. When using a calling card, don't use a personal identification number that's your birthdate or consecutive number and cover the telephone with your body to prevent anyone from seeing what you did.

If you are looking to save money, possibly you have considered joining a consumer buying club that promises substantial savings on various products and services. But depending on the type of club you are interested in, you may or may not save money by joining.

Some clubs promise discounts through catalogs or coupons. These clubs charge large membership and renewal fees for the promise of savings on a range of goods and services.

The Better Business Bureau urges consumers to be sensible concerning any buyer's club. Consumers may find with stores that offer "coupons" that the coupons are utilized under very specific circumstances or may be offered at stores that are no longer in business.

If the club offers products through a catalog, find out what brands are available in items that interest you, and then compare the costs to those at stores you would normally shop. Read and understand your contract carefully before you sign.

United Blood Services in need of donations

Baseball, picnics, vacations... these great summer activities keep people busy-too busy- to donate blood.

United Blood Service's pledge to supply area hospitals with blood is a year round commitment. It is during the summer that this promise becomes a challenge. When otherwise regular blood donors are busy vacationing or taking part in outdoor activities, the blood center suffers from a blood shortage.

"High schools and colleges are important sources of blood donors during the school year," said Community Relations Director, Dwayne Bergeron. "But we can't hold school drives during the summer."

Blood drives held at local businesses are another source of blood for the blood center, Bergeron added, "but during the summer months businesses are naturally reluctant to sponsor blood drives because they are short staffed due to employee vacations."

contribute to a severe drop in blood donations during the summer, but while the donations decrease, the need for blood is in constant demand. For this reason United Blood Services invites you to help "Save Our Summer"
