Tips on Summer Swine Management Worth Remembering

Neglecting the pig crop now can cause trouble this fall. Growing pigs need attention during the hot summer months if they are to be ready for the early fall market, says E. M. Regenbrecht, swine husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Plenty of shade, water and a balanced diet are musts for growing pigs in the summer time. But because of the rush of farm work and shortage of labor, the pigs are often not provided with even the essentials for proper growth. If shade is not available in the hog pasture in the form of trees, then it should be provided. A brush arbor type structure, provided it is large enough, is entirely satisfactory, says Regenbrecht or an upright frame covered with a thick layer of hay makes a good shade.

Regenbrecht recommends running the pigs on a legume pasture if possible. If legumes are not available, he likes sudan. Pigs on good pasture are not likely to become infested with worms and will be healthy. Protein requirements, too, can be cut in half by using pasture. The easiest and surest way to have water in the hog lot at all times is with an automatic watering system. Pigs need much more water during the summer months and unless plenty of good, clean and preferably cool water is available at all times, they will not do good. The use of self-feeders will save time, feed and labor and will insure that the pigs get their feed when they need it. The feeders can be filled during slack times or between other farm jobs. Growing pigs also need a supplement along with the grain. This can be fed free-choice or mixed with the grain as can minerals if needed.

OUR GOOD SAMARITANS
To you, our good Samaritans,
We have so much to say—
For you have truly helped us
In your sweet, humble, way
We love the way you greet us
The way you always smile
We know you're praying for us
When we are under trial
We know you're understanding
You're wise advice we'll take
And try not after council—
The same mistakes to make.
We know you love the Master
For we see Him in you
Though others disappoint us
We know that you'll be true.
When we have lived as long as you
And try to take your place
We pray our Lord will give us
A little of your grace—
For truly you've inspired us
For this we give you praise
And ask our Lord to bless you
With many happy days.
Glenna Wilson.

The gift they never gift-wrap

The simple little box you see above contains a very special gift. It holds a doctor's prescription . . . an important aid to better health.

Each time your physician prescribes a medicine for you, you benefit from the practical application of that physician's knowledge, and the training and skill of your pharmacist. Often, too, you benefit from some recent and hard-won discovery by men of research.

Because of the continuing advances in the field of medicine, there are happy endings today to many illnesses that would have been real tragedies only a few years ago. But although these gifts of modern science are now available, too many of us neglect to take advantage of them in time.

New drugs, new skills in diagnosis, better methods of treatment—all are most effective during the early stages of illness.

If you are not feeling as well as you should, visit your physician and take advantage of his professional advice. Don't wait until it is too late to reap the full benefits of the gifts that medical science has brought within your reach. A PROUD NAME IN THE TELEPHONE INDUSTRY...

The name of Southwestern Associated Telephone Company was changed on August 1, 1952, to General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

This change is in line with that taken by other subsidiary operating companies of the General Telephone Corporation. It is designed to make the public aware that the General Telephone System is one organization, strong and growing.

As you know, the General Telephone System is the largest independent (non-Bell) telephone organization in the industry. The new name clearly distinguishes us from all other telephone companies and unites the General Telephone System more closely.

Here in the Southwest our Company serves more than 120,000 customers in the states of Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

Very truly yours,

Let Me Thank You

I deeply appreciate the expression of your confidence in me as shown by your most generous vote, which was sufficient for me to lead in 3 of the 4 counties of the district. The handicap against me, in being a stranger to thousands who live outside Floyd County, obviously altered the results.

It was my aim and desire to meet and talk with every voter in the limited time I had away from my duties as County Attorney of Floyd County.

It encourages me beyond measure to know that such a great number of my friends in this district expressed their confidence in me through their votes.

This occasion does not find me discouraged in the least, but on the contrary, more determined than ever to continue onward and upward in the practice of law which is my chosen profession, with the fullest confidence that I will be able at some future date to serve the good people of this district in an official capacity.

Throughout my entire campaign I endeavored to make the race for district attorney strictly and solely on my own merits, and again I want to say: Thank you from the bottom of my heart for every courtesy and every favor which you extended me.

Most sincerely,

Enos T. Jones
