Progress of ALUMINUM

History of the American Patent System, serving as the incentive for research and invention, is typified in the story of aluminum. On February 23, 1886, Charles Martin Hall, after many experiments, applied electrolysis to separate aluminum from its oxide. Encouraged by the promises of protection by our Patent System, he worked at a homemade crucible in a woodshed of the family home in Oberlin, O. His sister, Julia, assisted him. Out of the ash from the crucible he obtained aluminum. He promptly patented his process, the same that is used today by many factories to produce aluminum for planes, trains, motorcars, utensils, construction—a billion-dollar industry. Hall's patented process for producing aluminum has made jobs for millions of workers.

A GENERAL MOTORS MASTERPIECE

A Very Proud Car-At A Very Modest Price!

According to Webster, one of the impor-tant meanings of the word proud is this: "Worthy of admiration; deserving praise."

That definition fits the 1953 Pontiac like a glove. Pontiac's distinctive Silver-Streak beauty is certainly worthy of admiration—and gets plenty of it everywhere. And when you sit behind the wheel and feel the effortless surge from Pontiac's famous power plant you'll know that you're driving a mighty proud performer.

As a matter of fact, the only modest thing about a Pontiac is its price—for this wonderful car which gives you the engineering quality and the best features of the costliest cars is priced just above the very lowest!

And when you're figuring price, be sure to remember Pontiac's remarkable resale value-the sure test of long-lasting quality. Why not come in and see how easily you, too, can become the proud owner of a new Pontiac?
