Much Interest in Wheat Fertilizing At This Time

Many farmers are fertilizing wheat this time of year. There is probably more interest in wheat fertilizing now than anytime.

Fertilizer put on irrigated wheat before the 15th of March will pay very good dividends, says County Agent Ledbetter. This practice looks especially good this year considering the recent showers and good conditions of irrigated wheat.

Sixty to eighty pounds of actual nitrogen should be applied either in the dry or liquid form. Fertilizer applied to dry land wheat will not pay in most instances.

Top dressing at this time of year as recommended because they disturb the roots less than furrow applications.

FRESH TOMATOES BY JULY 4th!

The electric hotbed has awed the wishes of those who desire an early garden, it hesitates to challenge the predictable Spring weather.

An electric hotbed can give your seedlings the necessary early start and healthy growth produce nutritious, vine ripened tomatoes by early July. For that matter, you can have a full garden of any number of vegetables that can usually be transplanted, such as lettuce, eggplant, peppers, etc.

Your hotbed installation requires only a small investment and it can be used year after year to give you early garden produce. One 60 foot electric soil heating cable will dissipate 400 watts on 110 volts, and will heat 36 square feet of soil.

For July 4th tomatoes you need to start your seedlings in the latter part of February. These seeds germinate readily at soil temperatures between 68 and 75 degrees F, but when the seedlings appear above ground the temperature should be lowered slightly to prevent weak and spindly growth. Generally a soil temperature of 65 degrees, with plenty of light and moderate watering, will produce good stocky seedlings, but the air temperature should not go above 70 degrees at any time. Germination is in five to eight days. Transplanting to the open garden in late May can be done without loss of growth.

In locating your hotbed it is advised to select a sunny exposure on well-drained soil, protected from cold winds by shrubbery or by partial burying in the ground. Follow the hotbed instructions for each of the annual seedlings planted.

Your farm equipment dealer can give you any information you might need on hotbed installation and operation, or check with your power supplier.

An electric hotbed can produce a Fourth of July salad of nutritious, garden ripened vegetables from any home plot.

Hurricane Winds Now Are Measured By Radar Device

WASHINGTON — Hurricane winds this year will be measured by the electronic yardstick of a new radar system which will also serve as a navigational aid for flying weathermen of the USAF Weather Service.

Weather-modified WB-50 Superforts now replacing the WB-29 as weather reconnaissance aircraft are equipped with a new radar system for determining wind direction and speed.

With other weather reconnaissance information, radar wind data collected in this way will be used in the intensive hurricane research program to be carried out by AWS and the US Weather Bureau during the 1956 and 1957 hurricane seasons.

AWS officials expect the automatic radar navigator to be the greatest advance to date in weather reconnaissance by air. A continuous computation of winds at flight level is provided by the new radar set.

By comparing information from the radar unit with other data available in the plane, the navigator knows the aircraft's latitude and longitude at all times without further computation.

It was formerly necessary for navigators to spend several minutes in the calculation of the plane's position, using a complicated system. With the new set, a glance at an instrument dial gives the aircraft's true position.

Forest Industries Plant for Tomorrow

WASHINGTON — The nation's forest industries, sponsors of the American Tree Farm System, planted trees for tomorrow's timber crops on 239,028 acres of their own lands during the past year.

Total planting in the country reached an all-time high of 812,588 acres, 84 per cent of which was privately-owned lands.

Not only did wood-using industries plant generously on their own lands, but they furnished seedlings and technical assistance for thousands of small woodlot owners around the country, says James C. McClellan, chief forester for American Forest Products Industries.

Georgia, which leads the country in certified Tree Farm acreage, also led in tree planting with 96,384 acres, about half of which was on industry-owned lands. Florida planted 91,112 acres, 56,453 of which were industry-owned.

While the bulk of seedlings came from state-owned nurseries, 15 nurseries owned by paper and lumber companies produced 46,618,000 seedlings.

Old Steam Kettle Is Still Best Humidifier

CHICAGO — The good old steam kettle works better than a mechanical humidifier for treating a childhood respiratory disorder, a Haifa, Israel physician says.

Dr. Abraham Friedman said that the steam kettle is better because it can produce more moisture than a cold-air-mechanical humidifier, the now generally accepted apparatus. Moist air helps prevent the blocking of breathing passages which may occur in an acute inflammatory sense of the larynx, trachea, and bronchi.

He explained that in breathing the air enters the respiratory tract at room temperature and humidity. On its way down the tract it absorbs moisture from the membrane lining the passages

Says Frances Lou, "I like the way the dryer dries my nylon sweaters and shortsuits."

"It's a longer and happier homecoming for me and my daughter since we've had our ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER"

All set to go back to school with freshly laundered and dried clothes, thanks to modern electric service.

Says MRS. ELMER HALL, 904 West Ninth, Littlefield, Texas

When Mrs. Hall's daughter, Frances Lou, makes a quick trip home from the college campus, every minute becomes valuable for family sharing of experience and happening. "It's easy to do the family laundry in a hurry," says Mrs. Hall. "With less time spent on the laundry problem," Mrs. Hall continues, "Frances Lou and I can spend more precious moments together. With our automatic washer and electric clothes dryer, we can have her clothing, towels, and throw rugs all laundered and ready to go back to school in one day, no matter what the weather conditions."
