Who is Entitled to Draw Social Security in Your Family

Do you know which member of your family would be eligible for social security benefits if anything should happen to you?

John R. Sanderson, district manager of the Amarillo social security office said that many questions received in the district office indicate that workers and their families do not understand the survivors benefits provided in the social security law. Consequently, families may lose benefits in the event of the death of the worker.

The law now permits widows to draw monthly benefits at age 62. Widows who are younger may draw monthly benefits if they have in their care a child of the deceased worker who is entitled to benefits. Sanderson said most people know that a child of a deceased worker is entitled to benefits until age 18. Many people, however, are not aware that a disabled son or daughter over 18 may now qualify for a child's benefit if the disability began before age 18.

Under certain circumstances a widower who was dependent on his wife may qualify for monthly benefits. Dependent parents may qualify if the worker was not survived by a spouse or a child entitled to monthly benefits.

Mr. Sanderson pointed out that in almost every case a lump-sum death benefit can be paid to survivors. This payment is in addition to any monthly benefits the family may get. He emphasized that benefits are not paid automatically; families must make application for them.

The social security office recommends that every worker find out what payments may be due his family in the event of his death. Workers need this information to plan effectively for the financial security of their families. Your social security office has a booklet entitled "Your Social Security" which provides this information. You may write or telephone your social security office for a copy.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Gather in Amarillo November 15-17

Amarillo, Texas will be host city to a convention of Jehovah's Witnesses, which will be held in the Amarillo Community Center Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 15-17. The announcement, made by V. D. Tiffin, supervising minister of the Quitaque witness congregation, states that "preparations have been made to accommodate some 700 delegates from a 44 county area in the Texas Panhandle and Western Oklahoma.

"The earth-wide Christian ministry of Jehovah's Witnesses is predicated on the prophetic command of Christ Jesus at Matthew 24:14 that 'this gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come.'

"The witness movement, though vast in its scope, gives special emphasis to community, family and individual needs," Tiffin continued. "Even where no congregations have been formed, communities and areas are generally assigned to the nearest congregation for attention.

"Highlighting the Amarillo assembly will be the public discourse on the subject 'What Are the Prospects for Lasting Peace?' to be given Sunday at 3 p. m. by Kenneth R. Savoy of Brooklyn, N. Y.

"All convention sessions are open to the public without charge, and it is hoped that many friends of the witnesses from throughout the area will attend with them," Tiffin concluded.

Is it brunette Janet Scott, of New York City, blonde Martha Tiller, of Orlando, Florida? Or, is it the one in the middle, "Ella," of Waukesha, Wisconsin? Believe it or not, all three are secretaries, with "Ella, the Electronic Secretary," taking her place with our two beauties. Developed by the General Telephone System, the country's largest independent telephone company, "Ella," when connected to your home or office telephone, takes all calls, asks the callers to leave their names and messages, and repeats them to her "Boss" when he returns to the office, or gives them to him over the telephone, if he desires—all automatically. "Ella is a wonderful secretary," according to Donald C. Power, president of General Telephone. "She'll never replace our two beauties, but is a vital accessory to any office or business."
