All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

The American lady has gained political foothold in 1960 which would surpass even the wildest dreams of Margaret Sanger and her flock of fighters for women's suffrage back in 1920.

Women are more than just a part of politics today. They represent a reservoir of votes which must be reckoned with and appealed to in every local, state or national election.

Both political parties are making an intense drive for the votes of the weaker sex. The 1960 census figures show that there are 3,500,000 more women than men over the eligible voting age. Thus, the parties have to aim particular energy at the young women who promise to turn up at the polls this November.

The GOP, with agreement by splitters, figure women played a major part in President Eisenhower's two victories. They intend to hold that majority for Nixon.

Recognizing the reluctance of many Southern conservative Democrats and independents to work through the Republican organization, the committee has a women's unit for Nixon-Lodge. The Republicans are counting on this group to help Nixon duplicate Eisenhower's feat of denting the Democratic Southland.

Finally there is the new gimmick of "Pat for First Lady". The Republicans credit Nixon himself for getting this one off the ground and pushing Pat Nixon toward the White House beside him.

The Democratic ladies feel they can do more service through the voters registration committee. Since Democrats far outnumber Republicans on the registration sheets, their mission is to make the party-line does not stay home with her ironing on November 8.

The Democratic committee feels women voters was at least partly responsible for the magic with the Democratic congressional sweep in 1958. They are confident that Nixon does not have Ike's vote appeal.

While the Democrats are not using a "Jackie for First Lady" organization, they are nevertheless rallying behind Senator John Kennedy's wife in the inevitable test against Pat Nixon.

Mrs. Nixon has accompanied her husband in most of his campaigning so far, which Mrs. Kennedy has been unable to do because she is expecting a child. While most would agree that the wives of the candidates have nothing to do with the qualifications of their husbands, the parties and the voters are making an issue out of them.

The Democratic ladies sent personal invitations to some 5,000 ladies of the Golden Spread recently to join them for tea in Amarillo, which many did attend. Both parties are taking every opportunity to extol the virtues of their ladies.

Pat Nixon, say the Republicans, is the first lady type with her rather humble background and her reserved personality. The GOP tells the ladies Mrs. Nixon has accompanied her husband on good will missions to 54 nations and is already an established figure.

Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, wife of the GOP vice-presidential nominee, is praised as a "superb helpmate for Mr. Lodge's long career of public service."

The Democrats do the same type of bragging on their ladies. Jackie Kennedy will bring a fresh charm to the White House, they contend, and will bring youth back to the presidential home.

Lady Bird Johnson, wife of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic vice-presidential contender, has distinguished herself as a businesswoman and mother, the Democrats tell the ladies. She also is credited with being a bona fide advisor to her husband.

So the battle, important or not,

OWLS SPLASH BY COWBOYS, 8-0

Fulfilling their last year's promise, the Silverton Owls last Friday night invaded the home of the Happy Cowboys and defeated them 8-0 before about 700, many of whom were Silvertonites who had braved the weather to cheer them to victory. The Owls, with the brilliant offensive playing of Johnny Jowell, Larry May, Van Breedlove and Larry West, dominated play throughout the entire ballgame, with the only score of the evening coming on a thirty-three yard run by Larry May. Larry West added two more points to the score by plunging over from three yards out to successfully complete the conversion.

Happy had been drenched Friday afternoon by a downpour which left water in sheets and hail in drifts in many places. The football field was extremely soggy, and was actually under water in many places. The plays were executed amidst the splashes of water from the field. However, the weather did oblige, and no rain fell during the game.

There were a good many fumbles and incomplete passes as might be expected, but under the circumstances, it was thought that both teams held onto the ball very well. Silverton fumbled seven times, recovered four of them, and had three recovered by Happy. The Cowboys fumbled twice, recovered one of them and Silverton recovered one of them.

Happy attempted six passes and all fell short except one which was intercepted by Jim Reid of the Owls.

In the first downs department, Silverton made thirteen as compared to three made by the Cowboys. Silverton was penalized a total of sixty yards, while Happy had five yards measured against them.

Recapping play, the first quarter began slow, dominated by a see-sawing pigskin. Each team made one first down.

In the second quarter, Jowell drove for a good gain and a first down, following several good gains by teammate West. Larry May gained a first down plus, before Silverton fumbled and recovered for a short loss. The next play would be tackled nipping at his

BILLY GRAHAM EVANGELISTIC FILM TO BE SHOWN AT TULIA CHURCH

Billy Graham's historic 17,000 mile "Safari for Souls" across Africa, is the theme of a new feature length motion picture, "Africa On the Bridge," which has its Tulia premiere at First Methodist Church at 2nd and N. Briscoe on Saturday night, October 1, 1960, 7:30 p.m. The first showing of the film in the Panhandle area will be sponsored by the First Methodist Church and Trinity Methodist Church of Tulia. Everyone is welcome and the admission is free.

Photographed in authentic sound and natural color in seventeen principal cities across Africa from Monrovia, Liberia, to Cairo, Egypt, the document captures the spirit of Africa during these current crucial years. Frequently called "The Awakening Giant," Africa is depicted to be in a transition period — on a bridge — between ancient tribalism and the shining goal of independence from colonial rule. During this significant period, America's Evangelist Billy Graham was accorded unprecedented welcome by Africans ranging from Chiefs of State down to the general population of bush, desert and jungle. A total of 500,000 persons attended the outdoor mass meetings with nearly 35,000 inquirers remaining for further help and instruction.

Climaxing the story of the spiritual thrust of the Billy Graham team is a tribute to the missionaries, whose years of faithful labors were in a large measure responsible for the spiritual harvest experienced by the Evangelist. Missionary leaders and ministers joined with State and Civic officials to extend the invitation for Mr. Graham to visit the Continent.

high state of combat efficiency. Specialist Jasper, a fire direction chart operator in the artillery's Headquarters Battery in Hanau, entered the Army in May, 1958, and arrived overseas the following October.

Jasper attended Silverton High School.

heels, to score standing up. West dove into the end zone from three yards out to add two points to the score on a successful conversion.

Another bright spot in the second quarter was the interception by Jim Reid of a long Happy pass. Van Breedlove made a good gain and a first down before Silvertown received a fifteen yard penalty, nullifying a good gain by Larry West. Unable to make up the necessary yardage, Silvertown kicked to Happy's twenty-five yard line.

Happy possessed the ball only seconds before they handed it back to the Owls on a fumble.

At the top of the third quarter, Happy received the kickoff and managed their second first down of the evening. The Owls stepped up their defensive tactics and the ball went over on downs at about the Happy thirty-five yard line.

The Owls went to work and made a first down, driving to Happy's ten yard line. There the Owls fumbled and the Cowboys took possession of the ball. They tried passing again, unsuccessfully, and Silvertown recovered a Happy fumble on the twelve yard line. Silvertown gained to the Happy seven, where the ball went over on downs.

Happy quick-kicked to the Owl thirty-five, where a Silvertown player raced a little too close to the ball. A Cowboy fell on it, and the ball was declared Happy's. Here the Cowboys scored another first down, but they were unable to turn a lucky break into points.

Silvertown took over again, with Larry May driving for a first down and Larry West gaining five more yards. Silvertown fumbled, Happy recovered, only to be forced to kick back to Silvertown four plays later. Larry West made a good gain which was erased by a penalty. On the next two plays, another first down was made.

In the fourth quarter of play, West, Jowell and Breedlove made three consecutive first downs, invading Cowboy territory again. On the next series of plays, the first down was missed by inches, and the ball went over on downs.

Happy attempted another pass, and was forced to kick. It was taken on the Owl forty-eight. Silvertown fumbled and recovered, made another first down and was on Happy's twenty yard line, knocking at the door again, when time ran out.

It was amazing to see the change in the Owl squad that had taken place during the last two weeks. They didn't look like the same team which had been seen twice before this season. Also noted was the change in the attitude of the student body after the Silvertown touchdown. They came to life and began cheering as never before. It is believed that those who braved the weather to attend this game were well rewarded for their efforts by the team's hard playing.

Friday night, the Owls travel to Kress to meet the Kangaroos, who are expected to put up more of a

Installs Pump For Recirculation Of Irrigation 'Tailwater'

Lubbock — J. R. Belt, Jr., Floyd County farmer and vice-president of the Board of Directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, has recently installed a pump on one tract of his land for the purpose of recirculating irrigation "tailwater."

Until the pump was installed, it was difficult to irrigate the land adequately without some waste because the surface of the land slopes sharply near the end of the rows. However, since installing the recirculating pump, it is now possible to run irrigation down the slope long enough to facilitate proper penetration into the soil.

A permanent border is constructed at the low end of the field. It is used to retain "tailwater" on the farm. When water runs through the field to the border it then gravity feeds along the surface to the intake of the recirculating pump system.

The pump itself is located about 200 yards from the intake which is situated at the lowest point on the farm. The intake was made by placing a section of concrete pipe in the ground in a vertical position. The pipe section is 3 feet in diameter and 4 feet long. A standard 12-inch concrete pipeline was then laid beneath the surface to connect the intake with the recirculating pump. The pipeline is gradually sloped toward the pump so water entering the intake will flow by gravity to the pump. It was necessary to locate the pump away from the intake to keep the pump on high ground and out of water.

The sump, in which the pump is installed, is constructed in the same manner as the intake except that, instead of using only one length of 3 foot by 4 foot concrete pipe, three pieces were used. When joined together vertically they made a sump twelve feet deep.

The pump consists of a one-stage 10-inch bowl assembly and 10 feet of 6-inch column pipe. It is powered by a 5-horsepower electric motor that starts and stops automatically through the use of a switch controlled by a float in the sump. When the sump fills, the float cuts the motor on — when the pump empties the sump, the float cuts the motor off.

The discharge of the pump is connected to a steel riser that in turn is connected to 8-inch pipe buried beneath the land surface. The plastic pipeline extends approximately 600 yards to one of two irrigation wells on the farm. There it joins a previously-installed concrete pipeline system.

Irrigation water from the two wells is distributed to the crop through the older underground pipelines and surface gated-pipe. The recirculating pump coming on and going off does not interfere in any way with the normal irrigation process, and no labor is required to operate it because of the automatic controls.

Mr. Belt states that the overall cost of installing the recirculating pump system was approximately $2500. However, he says that under ordinary circumstances this cost could be reduced by decreasing the size of the plastic pipe. He installed pipe of this size because he has no future plans for utilizing it that have nothing to do with the recirculating pump.

Mr. Belt has used only the recirculating system on one occasion so he is not fully aware of its benefits; however, he states that he can now run irrigation water through his field until he has the desired moisture penetration without fear of wasting water. Also, he states that now he does not need to tie up a man's time in maintaining the border at the bottom of the field because water does not build up on it.

The High Plains Water District has installed a flow-meter on the discharge of the recirculating pump to calculate the amount of "tailwater" being pumped.

Mrs. R. M. Hill was in Tulia on Monday for medical attention. The doctor advised that she had probably suffered a light stroke but hospitalization was not advised. She was thought to have had other light strokes during the night.

Free Booklet Available to Parents

Thousands of Texas school children are starting to school for the first time this year with some assistance from the Texas State Teachers Association.

More than 125,000 copies of a new brochure designed to help parents of new school children have been ordered from TSTA by local school systems. An estimated 262,000 new students will be enrolled in the state's public schools this year.

The publication, "To Help the Child—and Parents Too!" advises parents about legal requirements concerning school enrollment and attendance, the type of information the school needs, tips for preparing the child for school and helping him to make the most out of it.

Parents are advised, also, about such things as: how teachers can assist the child and parent, giving the school a change of address, sending written excuses for absence or inability to take physical exercise, and many other items.

The brochure was made available to all schools this year for the first time.

Reality of Eternal Life

Historians tell us no people ever lived that did not believe in a future life; that man is the only animal to entomb his dead and that stones were used to make sepulchres before they were used for houses. However vain or vague these savage hopes might have been, it is an evidence that somewhere was a golden truth of which these were the counterfeit.

The language of our text and many other scriptures leave no doubt that eternal life is as real as life on earth, with a personality and consciousness unbroken. The golden thread of eternal life begins with man's regeneration and reaches its final fruition when by death he is delivered into the hands of his Maker. A foretaste of heaven is extended to him on earth as he, whom grace has made free, begins his heavenward journey, with a new heart and life and surrounded by the finest fellowship this world has ever known.

Through trials and adversities he is sustained by God's promises which form the basis of his hope of eternal life. He is ever confronted by these words, "And the dead in Christ shall rise first: Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord." 1 Thess. 4:17.

Finally the battle will be over; the pilgrimage ended; the armor of light unslung; the sword and shield laid down at the Master's feet; and the soft garment of eternal peace put on. Then he shall come face to face with all the glories now dimly seen, and, with loved ones and all the redeemed of earth, he really knows even as he is known.

Gentle reader, the Bible teaches the reality of heaven. Let no philosophy of man rob you of this most precious providence of God. Let earth if it will be a mist or a shadow; all above is an enduring substance.

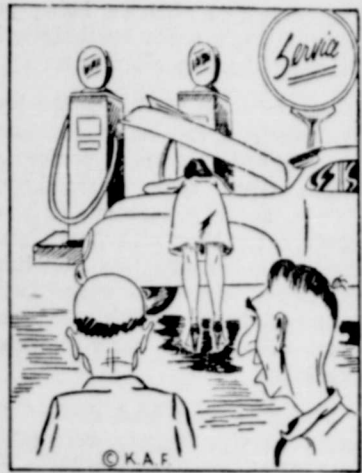

A friendly welcome awaits you at the Silverton Church of Christ.

Source of Stock Fish Is Important

Would a farmer sow a field of oats and then deliberately sow crabgrass in the same field? Of course not — this would be very poor management. Many farmers do, however, have their farm pond properly stocked, and then add fish from another pond, from a river or from the minnow bucket. This is also poor management, but Ed Coper, extension wildlife specialist, says this practice is one of the main reasons why many farm ponds are worthless for fishing.

Cooper says that fish obtained from other sources than hatcheries usually contain undesirable species such as shad, carp, suckers, gar, mud-cat, etc. These undesirable species will compete with the game fish for food, they will eat young game species, some will muddy the pond water, and all will be a general nuisance to the fisherman.

Another erroneous practice is to add grown fish to a freshly stocked pond, Cooper continues. This is usually done so that the owner can "catch some big fish while the small ones are growing up." The owner must remember that the grown fish have to eat, and in all probability they will eat the hatchery fingerlings. With this situation, it wouldn't be very long before the farmer had no fish, large or small, in his pond.

Pond owners are usually worried by the fact that the hatchery fish are very small when they arrive, and there doesn't seem to be enough of them. Cooper points out, if the pond is managed properly, these fingerlings will be reproducing the following year, and then the problem will be too many fish rather than not enough.

Hatcheries provide the right kinds and numbers of fish to the pond owner, and any other fish which are added will usually have a detrimental effect. Once a pond is properly stocked, there is no good reason to add more fish, Cooper concludes.

Mr. and Mrs. Norvell Breedlove and children of Lubbock spent the weekend here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Breedlove and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fitzgerald.

Mrs. S. M. Stevenson of Midland, came Saturday for an extended visit with her niece and family. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brooks, Mrs. Brooks is caring for her grandchildren, Diana and Danny Brooks, in Quitaque while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Brooks are staying in Amarillo with their daughter, Lynda Lee, who is a patient in Northwest Texas Hospital. Danny attends school in Quitaque, so it is necessary that he be there every day.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brooks took their grandchildren, Diana, Danny, Mark and Kelly, to Amarillo Saturday. They were met in Canyon by Mrs. Joe Wayne Brooks of Hereford, mother of Mark and Kelly. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Brooks at the hospital, but the children were not allowed to see Lynda Lee, a patient in the hospital.

James Carroll, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mercer, was brought home from the Tullia hospital on Friday of last week. The young man had to remain there several days until he attained five pounds in weight. He is reported to be doing fine now that he is home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jaye Turner attended an Imel family reunion at Parnell recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Garrison had as their guests last week Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fisher and her sister Mrs. F. S. Bourland of Flomot.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ellis and Mrs. J. W. Anderson of Hereford were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Brown. Mrs. Anderson remained here for a week's visit with her daughter and family, the Browns.

Another year of school has begun. For some of us it will be the last, for others it will be the first. I think everyone is glad to be here and we want to welcome our new teachers and our new superintendent, Mr. Hinds. We want to be a successful year for everyone and everything, including our paper. A successful paper has lots of news. The news comes from reporters of the classes and different organizations that make up our school. So if you are a reporter, please bring your news. However, you do not have to be a reporter to put something in the paper. Just submit your article to Darla Peugh or Dale Francis.

If anyone has

It's news and you will do

by reporting it.
The above poem is an original arrangement with the NEWS force it very aptly expresses the meanings of gathering news, and the many news items you can help to get for each week's paper.
THE OWL'S HOOT will appreciate any news you can submit.

PEEPIN' TOM

Even though it is only the fourth week of school Peeping Tom has really been getting around. It seems that Emmett Tomlin has the Freshman girls all in a dither. There seems to be a romance going on between Sue Neeley and Bonnie Hester also.
Billy Durham, do you have the girls chasing after you, or just one?
Phyllis, please walk Johnny at the football field. We're quite sure his Mother likes you. We know she won't chase you off the field.
Who is it that changes gear for Bobby K. while he is driving.
Jane, I heard that you had come Sunday. Who had a flat and didn't have a spare?
Joy Ann is it true that you're to get married in October?
Mary M. what is so interesting about Emmitt?
Jay Towe, how much of the game did you and Sandy House see Friday night? Or was there something more important going on where you were sitting?
Jane and Joy still have the same old boys. Wonder how they managed to keep them so long.
Lou has been heard talking about her new lover, seems that she works in Amarillo but lives here. Wonder who it might be?
Mary, is it true that you get ring in five more months?
Bobby, who is your new love? Does she live in Amarillo or do you go up there to see Gordon?

LITTLE OWLS TIE KRESS, 20-20

Thursday, September 22, the Silverton Junior High Football eleven went to Kress to open this season's play against the Little Kangaroos.

In the first quarter, the "Owls" received and started driving for their goal line. The "Owls" fumbled on their own 45 yard line. Kress could not go on the ground, but connected with a 25-yard pass to set up their first six points. The try for extra points failed.

In the second quarter, Kress took command of the ball and pushed across another six points to take a 12-0 lead.

The second half started with the "Owls" blocking and running for their first TD of the night. Freddie Stafford carried the pigskin over from the three-yard line. The try for extra points was no good, and the score stood favoring Kress, 12-6.

The fourth quarter found the "Owls" determined to get the ball and score again. The "Owls" forward line blocked another punt on Kress' 40 yard line. Max Garrison plunged four yards for the TD. The try for extra point was no good.

With 2:45 minutes left in the game, the Kress eleven moved the ball across the goal line to take an points was good, making the score 18-12 lead. The try for extra 20-12, in favor of Kress. Not to be out-fought the "Owls" came fighting back. Freddie Stafford reeled off a 40 yard run to set up the "Owl" touchdown. Max Garrison drove three yards to pay dirt, making the score board read, Kress 20 — Silverton 18. Silverton's first attempt for the extra point was no good, but Kress was offside. On the second attempt, Freddie Stafford drove into the end zone to tie the game 20-20 with 41 seconds remaining in the ballgame. As the game ended the Kress eleven had possession of the ball.

Silverton's Little Owl line opened holes for the backs, with Monte Smith, Glen McWaters, John Baird and Roger Kimbell doing very good jobs in the line. The backfield consisted of Freddie Stafford, Larry McWilliams, Max Garrison and Gregg Towe.

MY FIRST DAY IN HIGH SCHOOL

by Phyllis Fields

At last, after eight long, hard years of hoping, praying, and wishing, I finally made it to that wonderful place called High School. When you think about it though, those eight years in grade school were really marvelous compared to the days spent in this mad house.

The day I entered High School, I thought I was going to have a lot of nice, easy, fun-filled days with just enough homework to make Mom and Dad think I was really having a rough time. I thought those long five minutes between bells would be just like a summer vacation, but during that first day I thought I would die if I had to go up those stairs just one more time.

In grade school we always had an hour for lunch and we did not have to stand in line half of that time either. In High School noon is really a wonderful, fun-filled time. You have 30 minutes in which to eat lunch, and you spend at least 28 of those minutes standing in line waiting for your plate.

Homework is not a problem at all. You just have an assignment in every class every day of every week. In addition to your homework you generally have at least two tests a week in every subject, and hand in a theme once a week in English, put in thirty hours of cooking during one semester, and last, but not least, learn to drive a car perfectly.

I have decided that in High School boys are the least of your worries. When all your classes except science, in which there is one lonely boy, are divided you soon forget how much fun boys can be. Then on Saturday night, you are either grounded because you failed a test or the boy you

by Jerry Williamson

If you should have ventured into the halls of old S. H. S. on Monday of this week, you would have found the poor Freshmen being put through their paces by their taskmasters, the upper classmen.

The jobs the "Fish", as the lovely Freshmen are called for some unexplained reason, performed weren't bad ones. Promptly at 8:30 a. m. they were marched, chained together with heavy slavery irons, between two long lines of upper classmen armed with switches, belts, swords, etc., and were given their early morning beating.

The ones that bled during the early morning beating were taken out and shot for cowardice in the face of a beating.

The remaining Freshmen were then made to walk over hot coals down in the boiler room. The ones that came out alive were taken into the "Red-Hot Order of Blackfeet" as full-fledged members.

The remaining Fish were then taken out and made to run around the football field bare-footed. And if you aren't familiar with the circumference of the football field, I can assure you that it's covered with goat-heads.

After this brisk exercise, the Freshmen were given their mid-day beating. The ones that bled, were, as before, taken out and shot.

Immediately after the Freshmen had their lunch of stale orange peelings and egg shells, they were made to lie down in a line with fingers extended on the floor. The upper classmen then, with spiked shoes, trod on the Freshman's fingers.

Then to the stocks the Freshmen marched happily. They were made to stand with their head and hands in the stocks for two fun-filled hours.

Then to end a perfect day, the remaining two Freshmen were given their afternoon beating and sent on their way home.

The next day the two Freshmen that survived didn't appear at school.

On investigation it was found that they had died of indigestion during the night.

Therefore, it was announced, "Freshman Week" was changed to "Freshman Day" because they ran out of Freshmen after Monday.

NOTE to weak-hearted readers: This article is completely untrue. The Freshmen are treated quite decently except for occasional knifings and the like.

SUGAR! SUGAR! WHO'S GOT A SUGAR!

As I walk down the halls of S. H. S., I notice all the new and old flames.

Certain couples just persist on sticking together; so I will classify them as old flames. An example of these are Dave Schott and LaJuan Curby, Sue McJimsey and John Burson, and Marcalyn Lee and Freddie Dunham.

Still others believe in finding a new date for the next year. These are Sue Lanham and Jim Edd Steele, Reba Maples and David Tipton, and Lou Ann Caballero and Bobby Durham.

Some old flames are burning more brightly since both parties are now in High School. They are Jay Towe and Sandi House, Ronnie Hester and Sue Neeley, John Jowell and Phyllis Fields, Joe Kellum and Sheryl May.

We are deeply worried for that lovelorn group whose mates have gone on ahead of them. The grievous are Nell, Becky, Ann Wingo, and Gloria Wallace.

It inspires us to see all these young people following Cupid's advice.

P. T. A.'s Seek New Members In The U. S. — And Overseas

When in Rome—or Oslo or Athens, Fontainebleau or Karlsruhe, Addis Ababa or Reykjavik—American parents and teachers do just about as they do at home: they form a P.T.A.

More than 42,000 P.T.A. members in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers this fall will join in the annual October Membership Month of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Like their nearly 12 million counterparts on U.S. soil, these P.T.A. members who live overseas—from Iceland to the Middle East, most of them on American military bases—will encourage others to "serve where you are: join the P.T.A."

Serving the welfare of American children, wherever they are growing up, is the primary object of the National Congress. It has brought the P.T.A. into many areas of activity during its 63-year history. Since formation of the European branch in 1938, these activities have taken on new flavor:

A European program of scholarships, similar to those provided by many state congresses in the United States, this year awarded $500 against tuition to American colleges for seven students; they were graduates of American overseas schools in Nounasseur, Morocco; Stuttgart, Berlin, Bitburg, and Heidelberg, Germany; and Vicenza, Italy.

Concerned, like other P.T.A.'s, with the interests of mentally and physically handicapped children, the European Congress has initiated a program of special class instruction for these youngsters, providing the funds for additional teacher assistants, helpers, and materials to be used in some 20 schools.

Foreign language education, a natural interest for children whose parents are assigned overseas, has been a major interest of P.T.A.'s in the European Congress. In Air Force schools, extending from Oslo to Libya and from the British Isles to Saudi Arabia, children in grades 3 through 8 are taking classes in foreign language this year.

Adult education programs of the P.T.A., which in the U.S.

The midst of Europe's Bavarian Alps—It's a P.T.A. meeting. Mrs. James C. Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, confers with Fred L. Miller, coordinator for P.T.A.'s in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers, during conference in Berchtesgaden, Germany. Some 140 parent-teacher associations in Europe, Northern Africa, and the Middle East will join this fall in programs to enroll more than 12,000,000 parents, teachers, and friends of children as P.T.A. members.

usually take the form of study-discussion groups, may become adult self-education in overseas areas, where American military, government or civilian members of P.T.A.'s take advantage of opportunities for learning the language of the country and for studying its cultural assets.

As these P.T.A. members, both teachers and parents, return from overseas assignments, they bring broader understanding of other countries to their state-side colleagues.

"This is one great contribution our European members can make," says Mrs. James C. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress, who acted as a consultant to the European Congress when she attended their convention last April.

"Overseas P.T.A.'s," she points out, "bring to American boys and girls living in other parts of the world some of the home and school experiences they would be enjoying if they lived in the United States."

"The richest result is the relationship between parents and teachers; there is a closer relationship in a foreign environment, because they have so many unusual experiences in common."

The National Congress has always recognized, she says, "that great differences exist among the states and communities" and still greater ones in overseas communities. But the National Congress program "always allows abundant room for choice" of projects for local P.T.A.'s, serving "as a bank or library of ideas from which the local unit draws to suit its needs."

In its membership programs this October, the P.T.A. card will become "a passport to the best society on earth," says Mrs. Parker, "an organization working in hundreds of ways to create a better world, working for the welfare of all children—the migrant, the delinquent, the average, for all children whether they live in cities, suburbs, rural areas, or on military bases abroad—an organization that cares about the homes children live in, the schools they are taught in, and the neighborhoods they grow up in."

AN ORCHID FOR "MISS GERTRUDE"

A Tribute by Mrs. Carl Crow

John E. Arnold was 76 years of age on Tuesday, September 27, 1960. He was stricken with an illness on September 25, 1958, from which he has never rallied. He has never been able to speak and is completely helpless and bedfast. He spent several months in a Plainview Hospital and has had every care and consideration available but does not improve. The doctors have never been able to diagnose his case and are still in doubt as to the malady from which he suffers.

His wife, Gertrude Braidfoot Arnold, a frail, tiny, talented woman, whom he had shielded from all cares of life in so far as he was able, has risen nobly to the demands of his life as an invalid and cares for him competently and lovingly with only the help of a Latin American woman who comes daily to care for the house and to do the laundry.

Mrs. Arnold deserves the most beautiful orchid that grows for her enduring faithfulness in caring for her loved one without the help of children — their home never having been blessed with sons or daughters. Her courage and cheerfulness in this time of sorrow and trouble are an inspiration to all who know her.

FITZGERALD - DURHAM VOWS REPEATED IN HOME CEREMONY

Miss Shirley Ann Fitzgerald became the bride of Bill Durham, son of Mrs. Florene Durham, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Fitzgerald, at 7:30 p.m. Friday, September 23, 1960. Earl I. Cantwell, Minister of the Rock Creek Church of Christ, uncle of the bride, read the single ring service before an arrangement of yellow and bronze mums and spiral candelabra bearing yellow lighted tapers.

Mrs. Guinn Fitzgerald, pianist, played traditional wedding marches, and "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Miss Thelma Eddleman, the bride's attendant, was attired in a brown and black satin dress with a feathered hat and used brown accessories; she carried a nosegay of feathered yellow mums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a semi-formal dress in champagne color, featuring fitted bodice with a boat shape neckline and long fitted sleeves, made of Italian imported wool lace and enhanced by a bouffant skirt of the same color in pure silk pean d soi. Her matching bandeau hat was of the same color with a wisp of green. Her accessories were brown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with a detachable corsage atop a white Bible.

Mothers of the bride and groom wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held in the home immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Norville Breedlove and Mrs. Guinn Fitzgerald, sister and sister-in-law to the bride, assisted in hospitalities at the reception. Miss Jackie Durham, sister of the groom, secured names for the registry.

The refreshment table was laid with a hand embroidered white cut work cloth centered with a tiered wedding cake, featuring a miniature bride and groom, hearts and wedding bells, for decoration. The wedding cake and fruit punch were served with silver and crystal appointments.

Wedding and reception guests were close relatives of the families of the bride and groom.

For the wedding trip to Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, the bride chose a green suit with brown accessories and wore a corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Durham is a graduate of the Silverton High School; has attended West Texas College in Canyon and was employed in Amarillo until recently. Mr. Durham is a senior student in the local High School and plans to continue his studies. The couple are now at home in Silverton community.

Announcing the 1961 Ford . . .
Beautifully proportioned to the CLASSIC FORD LOOK

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria—beautifully built to take care of people

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The 1961 Ford introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you . . . and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. Good-bye grease rucks! What's more, it cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

This is the 1961 Ford . . . beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look . . . beautifully built to take care of itself.

'61 FORD
STEPHENS FORD
Silverton, Texas

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF
LUBRICATES ITSELF. You'll normally go 30,000 miles without a chassis lubrication.
CLEANS ITS OWN OIL. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.
ADJUSTS ITS OWN BRAKES. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.
GUARDS ITS OWN MUFFLER. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminumized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
PROTECTS ITS OWN BODY. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.
TAKES CARE OF ITS OWN FINISH. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.
