Questions Answered For Grain Sorghum Producers

The following information has been given by John Montague, ASC County Supervisor. This information came out of a special question-answer interview held in Denver by a representative of the Amarillo Daily News with Dr. James T. Ralph, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture from Washington, D. C., and Charles M. Cox, assistant to the deputy administrator of the production adjustment, USDA. During the interview, direct questions were asked pertaining to the High Plains grain sorghum growers.

Q. Who will determine the base acreage of each individual grain producer?

A. The current ASC committee of each county will deal directly with the farmer in acreage planted during 1959-1960. However later this year new county ADC committees will be selected in special elections by the county farmers.

Q. What if a farmer has been complying with good conservation practices, following previous acreage allotment and has reduced his acreage during the past two years?

A. The committees are instructed to grade up the acreage if at all possible where the farmer has been using conservation practices. A lot of authority will be placed in the county committees. They will also have authority to downgrade acreage with non-complaint farmers in the event of future allotments.

Q. Will the yield of a given grain acreage allotment be considered in this program?

A. Yes. For instance, a farmer has a 1959-1960 average acreage 100 acres which has produced an average of 30 bushels per acre. Under the 20 per cent diverted acreage program he may plant 80 acres to grain this spring and qualify for price support. The farmer, however, will not be able to market an abnormally high yield at this price. To clarify this: should a farmer have a bumper crop and raise say 60 bushels per acre, or start irrigation and fertilizing for this reason only, then he would be paid the support price only on the 30 bushels per acre rate. The balance would have to be fed or sold on the open market. There could be some exceptions to the irrigation penalty, this decision would be determined by county committees.

Q. If a cotton farmer in the South Plains should be hailed out in late spring or early summer, could he plant this acreage to grain sorghums, even though they had already planted their allotment?

A. Yes. They would have to sell this grain on the open market and see QUESTIONS ANSWERED—Continued on Page Three

FOGERTON CALF WINS THIRD PLACE IN LUBBOCK SHOW

Stanley Fogerson's Angus calf was judged the third best animal in the light weight division of the Lubbock Fat Stock Show held last week. Twenty-two calves were entered in the light weight division.

Breeder of the calf was George Bordon of Grady, New Mexico, who recently sold Stanley a calf for his next year's project.

Stanley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ware Fogerson, represented the Silvertown FFA Chapter. He ran into a bit of hard luck in the sales ring, however, and collected only 35c per pound for his animal. The second place animal sold for 50c and the fourth place calf went for 45c. The calf won one of the highest places that any of the Briscoe animals have won in some time.

Bulletin Contains Water Resource Information

The Board of Water Engineers this week issued a bulletin which adds to the available knowledge of the Southern High Plains water resources.

Bulletin 6101, Water Levels in the Southern High Plains, Texas, 1960 and 1961, reports ground-water-level measurements in observation wells in 25 Southern High Plains counties which include the most extensively irrigated farming development in the State. The bulletin may be obtained without cost at the Board of Water Engineers office, P. O. Box 2311, Capitol Station, Austin.

Systematic measurements of water levels in observation wells is useful as an index in maintaining a current inventory of available water supplies and in making quantitative predictions of the future availability of those supplies. Collection of data for the report began September 1, 1960.

The bulletin contains tables of water-level measurements made in observation wells and maps showing their location in the 25 counties during 1960 and 1961. Changes in water levels from 1960 to 1961 are also shown.

Board of Water Engineers personnel were assisted by the U. S. Geological Survey and the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 in making field measurements of observation wells.

Counties covered in the survey are Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Donley, Floyd, Gaines, Gray, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Oldham, Parmer, Randall Roberts, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Harris, of Lockney, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harris spent Sunday in Amarillo where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Odis Harris and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tunnell and daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Laines.

Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mr. and Mrs. S. L. McCaskle, of Lone Grove Oklahoma, and the daughter of the McCaskles, Mrs. Nadine Ray and daughters, of Santa Barbara, California, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Yates from Thursday until Monday. All were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Yates and all enjoyed movies in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Stephens.

Mrs. May Gilkeyson and Opal Brummett of Quitaque spent Thursday of last week with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Yates.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Redin, Kenneth, Van and Randy Culver of Plainview, were Sunday visitors with Harley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Redin.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED —

ould receive the support price only on the allotment acreage.

Q. What if drouth conditions should prevail in the Panhandle; could the farmer graze this cover crop planted on diverted acreage?

A. Yes. Both of these last two questions would come under a "disaster clause" listed in the bill. The exact limitations of course would be up to the discretion of Secretary Freeman.

Q. Then it is true that under normal conditions a farmer cannot pasture or harvest the diverted acreage this year?

A. Yes.

Q. May a farmer summer fallow this diverted acreage?

A. Yes, providing the land is suited for summer fallowing.

Q. Would a farmer be allowed to plant wheat on his fallowed land this fall?

A. Yes. He may plant wheat on the diverted acreage and should it become necessary to graze the wheat, such as for rapid growth, he may do so.

Q. Is it true that a farmer may plant sunflower, sesame and/or castor beans on the diverted acreage and still qualify for the support prices?

A. Secretary Freeman did mention those crops as possibilities, but he has not definitely approved a proposal as yet.

Q. What if a farmer should have more than one farm? Could he comply with the program on one farm and sell on the open market with the other farms?

A. Yes. He will be restricted though to plant his 1959-60 average grain acreage on the farms which are not under the program. He cannot make up the diverted acreage loss on the non-complaint farms.

Q. How will farmers be paid for diverted acreage?

A. He will be eligible for payment equal to 50 percent of the 1959-60 average yield on the 20 per cent diverted acreage basis. Should he desire to divert an additional 20 per cent of the 1959-60 per cent of the average yield.

Q. When will he get paid?

A. This program should be in effect within two or three weeks. At the time he signs up for the allotment program at his local ASC county office, he will be given certificates for one-half of the total payment. He may immediately redeem these certificates for cash

(a draft) or get the payment in kind (grain).

Q. How will a base acreage be determined since planting season is nearly here?

A. The ASC men will take the farmer's word for his acreage at this time and the land will be measured sometime in July or August.

Q. What will Mr. Freeman do with this grain that the farmers sell back to the Commodity Credit Corporation for cash?

A. He has not said yet.

Q. At what price per 100 pounds on grain sorghums would the farmer be paid on the diverted acreage?

A. At the $1.93 national average. Of course, this price would vary in different parts of the country.

Q. Will feeders be able to buy this grain at current market prices?

A. Yes. The feeders may buy the certificates from the farmers or buy the grain when the CCC sells it on the open market.

Q. Will this grain sold back to the government be exported?

A. We haven't decided—probably not.

Q. In reference to a former question, how will a normal yield for a given farm be established?

A. As we are short on time, a normal yield index will be set for each county.

Q. Do you think this program will hurt cattle feeders?

A. No. It should help him. This program is designed to set a normal price for grain, not this up and down business. If the feeder knows ahead of time how much his grain will cost, then he can buy cattle and feed accordingly. It will also cut out the part time feeder who goes into the cattle business only when grain is cheap.

Q. Do you think grain on the open market will go higher?

A. Yes, after this surplus is gone. This is what we are striving for.

HARVEST QUEEN GRAIN COMPANY

PERSPECTIVE

by Robert Hughes

Some of them are already too far gone to save. Some of them have already formed the habits and personality traits that they will carry with them forever.

Who or what am I speaking of? The juvenile delinquents in our area. Wipe the false looks of shock off your faces and admit the truth to yourselves.

I do not follow the theory that children become juvenile delinquents through no fault of their own; that their parents are solely responsible for their behavior.

Many factors result in a child's becoming a delinquent. I think there are two main ones to be considered. First, that whatever a child reads influences his mind.

Second, I think that not being taught respect—respect of elders, respect of other's property and rights, respect of the law, and self-respect—has more to do with a child's becoming a delinquent than any other one thing.

This is where we so often fail. Too many times a criminal act, malicious prank, or other misdemeanor is passed off as nothing because "kids have to have their fun."

As I said to begin with, it is too late for some of them; but there are many others that are not too far gone yet. This is where our responsibility lies.

Here's a tale that's supposed to be true. It was at a party in Houston and a man was telling actress Che Moody about authentic odd names of people, such as Gizella Werberzerk-Piffel and Rinetta Davydink.

When Miss Moody appeared to be reluctant to believe this one, a blonde young woman spoke up. "I know a Naughtybird Curtsey in Waxahachie," the blonde said.

About the only exercise people get is jumping at conclusions.

During a seance, a medium was bringing people back from the other world. A nine-year-old kid was among those present. "I want to talk to Grandpa," he insisted.

THE OWL'S HOOT

Official Publication of the students of Silverton High School. Compiled and edited by members of the Future Business Leaders of America.

"TO ADVERTISE, OR NOT TO ADVERTISE" THAT IS THE QUESTION!

After reading the editorial column in last week's Briscoe County News concerning the advisability of printing liquor advertising, we decided to find out what some of the students of Silverton High School thought about the subject.

Without any previous discussion or comment, small groups of Senior students were asked to read the article carefully and to formulate their own opinions as to whether or not such advertising should be carried in their local paper.

My opinion on your article in the paper is that you shouldn't put advertisements in the paper concerning liquor.

About the steel building advertisement, it wasn't your fault that the building was no good. You just printed the advertisement that the constructor told you to.

I don't know what per cent of the people in Briscoe County would be influenced by your ads enough to drink. I'm sure that if someone is going to drink, ads aren't going to have much influence.

I agree with the Editor. I believe actually that advertising for liquor stores would be no worse than advertising any other way.

It seems that the question of whether to advertise alcohol in a newspaper is not really the problem. Actually it seems that the problem should be far more clearly stated.

I don't think advertising liquor would hurt your paper's business. I don't think it would influence anyone to drink because they see liquor advertisements everyday in other newspapers and magazines.

usually influence anyone to buy liquor if he did not want it, but it might (and here is the reason the company wants to advertise) change someone's opinion on what brand to buy.

Do you believe that television shows which are sponsored by beer companies are meant to sell beer for a small town like Nazareth?

Then why shouldn't the people of Briscoe County make money from the sale of alcohol in another county?

DEAR EDITOR:

If liquors were legally sold here in Briscoe County, I would say that the advertisements of such products would be all right.

DEAR EDITOR:

I think as more and more of our Texas counties are going wet that we should do all we can to keep our county dry.

DEAR EDITOR:

I think as more and more of our Texas counties are going wet that we should do all we can to keep our county dry.

DEAR EDITOR:

I agree with the Editor. I believe actually that advertising for liquor stores would be no worse than advertising any other way.

DEAR EDITOR:

My opinion toward the liquor subject is that you should not print the advertisement. If you print it, it will encourage more kids to be drinkers.

DEAR EDITOR:

I don't think advertising liquor would hurt your paper's business. I don't think it would influence anyone to drink because they see liquor advertisements everyday in other newspapers and magazines.

DEAR EDITOR:

I don't think advertising liquor would hurt your paper's business. I don't think it would influence anyone to drink because they see liquor advertisements everyday in other newspapers and magazines.

As you said, carrying an advertisement for liquor would be no different than carrying advertisements for a car or food that we did not care for.

Besides, people should be open-minded enough to see this and know that it is for business purposes only.

God gave everyone a mind and He puts evils before us everyday and if we cannot meet them the right way, then we are too easily influenced and not much of a Christian.

DEAR EDITOR:

Although Brenda Coornett is small in size, there is nothing lacking in her character or personality.

Just because it is kept out of Silverton doesn't mean your kids couldn't get hold of it. It should be brought out in the open so the parents could tell their children the harm in it.

I don't particularly want you to print ads, but I don't think it would make too much difference.

DEAR EDITOR:

I don't think we should have liquor advertising in our newspaper because we are a dry county and this might encourage the people to try to make our county wet.

DEAR EDITOR:

I think as more and more of our Texas counties are going wet that we should do all we can to keep our county dry.

DEAR EDITOR:

I think as more and more of our Texas counties are going wet that we should do all we can to keep our county dry.

DEAR EDITOR:

I thoroughly believe that the editors of the Briscoe County News should not print liquor ads.

DEAR EDITOR:

I don't think liquor advertising should be carried by this paper. There are two aspects to consider. One is the fact that we do have freedom of the press and all Americans enjoy equal rights.

DEAR EDITOR:

I don't think liquor advertising should be carried by this paper. There are two aspects to consider. One is the fact that we do have freedom of the press and all Americans enjoy equal rights.

DEAR EDITOR:

We of the Briscoe County News are very impressed that the young people of our local high school are interested enough in their local newspaper to set down their beliefs concerning liquor advertising for all to read.

DEAR EDITOR:

We were disappointed, though, that only four of your elders have brought up the subject and voiced their opinions.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

MORE WILDLIFE THROUGH SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION

Wildlife is a crop of the land. Hunting and fishing opportunities are affected by the way farmers and ranchers manage their land. When farmers and ranchers apply soil and water conservation practices, more wildlife results. Some of the more important farm conservation practices that benefit the wildlife are stock-water ponds, windbreaks, range improvement and wildlife area development.

Wildlife area development is a very effective way in increasing your wildlife. "Odd areas" on farms and ranches such as fence corners, rocky spots, good land isolated by ditches, barrow pits, abandoned roads, streams and gullies, all can be managed for wildlife.

They can be fenced for protection from fire and grazing. Wildlife food plantings such as grain sorghums, small grains, vetch, sand-love grass or woody plants such as wild plum, skunkbush, quailbush, and multi-flora rose planted in these areas will provide excellent food and cover for your game.

Some of the district cooperators who have made progress in developing some of these practices include the H. T. Luther Ranch E. A. Birdwell Ranch and Johnnie Burson ranch. They have made wildlife food plantings and developed livestock and fishing ponds.

Wildlife habitat is permanent and inexpensive when it is part of a basic plan for soil and water conservation and sound use. The Soil Conservation Service will assist farmers and ranchers in making wildlife habitat improvements on their land.

Easter Commemorates The Resurrection

The victory of life over death—that is the meaning of Easter, the most important and the most joyous holiday celebrated by Christians.

For Easter commemorates the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who redeemed mankind through His death and then rose from the tomb on the third day. In His own victory over death is the promise of life everlasting for all men.

The Easter season also carries overtones of ancient spring festivals, celebrating the awakening of the earth after the dead of winter. The name may have come from Eostre, a Teutonic goddess of spring.

In many languages the name of the holiday is derived from the Jewish Pesah, or Passover, the festival that celebrates the exodus of the Jews from Egypt. The crucifixion and the resurrection occurred during the Passover Week and three of the Gospels say that the Last Supper was a Passover meal. Thus the Italians call the Christian holiday Pasqua; the Spaniards, Pascua and the French, Paques.

In the first two centuries, after the crucifixion, a controversy arose over when the festival was to be celebrated. The custom in Asia Minor was to observe Easter with the Lord's Supper on the evening of the 14th of the Jewish month of Nisan, which was Passover, regardless of the day of the week. The Romans, however, preferred to hold the Easter feast always on Sunday.

The Nicene Council of 325 resolved the dispute. It set the date for Easter as the first Sunday after the first full moon after March 21, which is about the time of the vernal equinox. It cannot come before March 22 or after April 25.

Members of Eastern Orthodox churches sometimes celebrate the holiday later than the other churches. But no matter what the date, "festival of festivals" and "the most royal day of days" is marked by great rejoicing.

THE SYMBOLS OF EASTER

It wouldn't be Easter without baskets of brightly colored eggs, but how did they come to be associated with the great holiday of the resurrection?

World Book Encyclopedia's religion editor, Mrs. Francine Klagsbrun, reports that eggs represent the new life that begins in the spring about Easter time. The ancient Persians and Egyptians used to exchange colored eggs with their friends. Early Christians adapted the custom of coloring eggs to Easter.

Some legends credit the Easter bunny with bringing the eggs. The rabbit, too, is an old symbol of birth and new life. Moreover, the rabbit, or the hare, has long been associated with the moon. It may have become an Easter symbol because the moon determines the date of the holiday.

Lighting candles at Easter was a custom back in the 200's. One Church father declared that "on the night of the resurrection no one should sleep and everyone should have a light, for on that night the Redeemer made everyone free from the darkness of sin and the grave." The large paschal candle used in Roman Catholic services represents Christ risen from the dead as the light of the world. It is blessed and studded with five grains of incense, symbolizing Christ's wounds.

One of the traditional Easter foods and a figure in many decorations for the holiday is the lamb. This symbol comes from the Jewish Pesah, or Passover, celebration. The Jews used to sacrifice a paschal lamb in the Temple at Jerusalem during Passover. Early Christians saw in this sacrifice a forecast of the sacrifice of Christ. They referred to Him as "the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29).

The most universal symbol of Easter, and of Christianity itself, is, of course, the cross. Many ancient peoples, such as the Phoenicians, Assyrians and Persians, considered the cross a religious object. To some American Indians it is said to have been a mystic symbol of the four cardinal points of the compass. At the time of Christ, however, it was representative of the most shameful and cruel form of execution. The death of Christ transformed it from an object of humiliation into a symbol of glory.

Mrs. P. D. Jasper and Dawn were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Nance at Lone Star. In the afternoon the group visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Poole in Lockney. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. John McCain and family of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pole and family of Denver, Colorado. All formerly lived in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Fitzgerald returned home Thursday of last week after having visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fitzgerald in Anadarko, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald and family and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scheller and family in Oklahoma City. The O. S. Fitzgeralds are parents of Mrs. Scheller and Messrs. Jim and Robert Fitzgerald. Mrs. O. S. Fitzgerald has been undergoing examination and treatment at McBride Bone and Joint Clinic in Oklahoma City and seems to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Anderson and family of Kim, Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ellis of Hereford, and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Brown, were visitors over the weekend with their mother, Mrs. J. W. Anderson, in Hereford.

Mike Mercer, Dave Schott, Joe Anderson, Dewey Estes, Dale Francis and Eldon Oneal visited the campus of Texas Technological College in Lubbock one day last week. The boys are considering enrolling in classes there next year.

A STORY OF EASTER

The last week in the life of Jesus Christ is remembered by Christians with special services and great solemnity, for it was a time of betrayal and sufferings that led up to the resurrection of the Son of God.

Jesus arrived in Jerusalem on Sunday, cheered by hopeful throngs who showered His path with branches of palm trees. It was dangerous for Him to enter the city because of the high priests who feared and resented Him; but He believed it was His duty to preach there.

According to the Bible, Jesus spent the first few days teaching and visiting the Temple. Once again He threw out the moneychangers and those who sold doves for sacrifice. Some of the time He prayed and meditated in Bethany, just outside the city.

On Thursday night He joined the 12 disciples for what was probably the first meal of the Jewish Passover. During the Last Supper, He told His disciples that one of them would betray Him. Then He gave them bread and wine, saying, "This is My Body" and "This is My Blood." From this meal originated the sacrament of Communion, or Lord's Supper.

Jesus knew that His hour of suffering was near. He led the disciples to the Garden of Gethsemane, on the slope of the Mount of Olives. Late that night a band of armed men, with Judas Iscariot among them came to the garden. Judas kissed Jesus, identifying Him to the armed men, who took Him away to the high priest.

Charged with blasphemy for calling Himself the Son of God and King of the Jews, Jesus was taken early Friday to Pontius Pilate, the Roman governor, and then to Herod Antipas, ruler of Galilee. Herod mocked Jesus, dressed Him in a kingly robe, and sent Him back to Pilate.

Without the approval of Pilate, Jesus could not be executed. But Pilate hesitated to condemn Him. He brought Jesus and a condemned murderer named Barabbas before the people and told them to choose one to go free, as it was the custom to pardon one prisoner during Passover. The mob screamed for the release of Barabbas. Jesus was sentenced to death by crucifixion, a common Roman form of execution.

The crucifixion took place on a hill outside the city called Golgotha, or Calvary. After several hours Jesus died and His body was taken to a new tomb.

On Sunday morning Mary Magdalene went to the tomb. The stone had been rolled away and the tomb was empty. But an angel told her that Jesus had risen.

Later Jesus appeared to Mary Magdalene and to Simon Peter. For the next 40 days He taught His eleven faithful disciples. Then He rose to heaven.

FIRST CHOICE of TEXAS VOTERS

Senator William A.

BLAKLEY

★ SENATOR BLAKLEY is the winner of the Texas Poll directed by Joe Belden and subscribed to by 21 leading Texas newspapers. He also is the first choice in many other surveys and polls conducted throughout Texas.

SENATOR BLAKLEY'S ACTION PROGRAM FOR TEXAS

$100 MILLION MORE ANNUALLY FOR SCHOOLS: A home-rule aid-to-education plan that would return to each state 5 per cent of federal income taxes for support of locally administered public schools. In Texas this would mean over $100 million more annually for our schools—without federal interference!

INCOME TAX RELIEF FOR PRESSED PARENTS: Also, for families putting their children through school, additional income tax exemptions of $1,200 for college or university student, $400 for son or daughter in high school. Parents deserve a tax break!

A HELPING HAND FOR OUR SENIOR CITIZENS: A bill to raise ceiling on what Social Security recipients may earn without being penalized. Senator Blakley would raise ceiling from $1,200 to $1,800 a year to help many retired persons.

SHARP REDUCTION IN FOREIGN OIL IMPORTS: Reduce by one half the amount of foreign oil being brought into U. S. Texas' economy, schools, state government, all suffer when foreign oil floods market, causes Texas production to shut down.

INDEPENDENCE! WE MUST KEEP IT ALWAYS: Retain Connally Amendment to World Court. United States should maintain its sovereignty without question. Senator Blakley is fighting against repeal of this vital guarantee.

LET'S KEEP SENATOR BLAKLEY IN THE U.S. SENATE

ARENA DRIVE IN The Wizard Of Baghdad

Thursday and Friday
March 30 and 31

The world of magic carpets, fire-breathing genii, Sultans and flying horses comes alive with the splendor of an Arabian Nights fantasy, in the new tongue-in-cheek extravaganza, "The Wizard of Baghdad," 20th Century Fox CinemaScope DeLuxe Color comedy starring Dick Shawn, Diane Baker and Barry Corbin, opening Thursday night at the Arena Drive In.

A hilarious take-off on the wonders of the legendary sinister East, this rollicking, frolicking spectacle tells the tale of the old Caliph of Baghdad and his desperate problem of finding a successor to the throne. No natural offspring has been born to him. In the great Book of Books it is written that his two aides, one of them a cheat, the other an honest man, shall rule jointly until the son of the first and the daughter of the second unite to found a dynasty.

Apache Woman

Saturday April 1

Starring Lloyd Bridges and Joan Taylor, "Apache Woman" is filmed in color by Pathecolor. This film will be shown Saturday afternoon at the Palace Theatre, and Saturday evening at the Arena Drive In.

Flaming Star

Sunday and Monday
April 2 and 3

The blood-and-thunder of the early Texas plains under the onslaught of Indian attack forms the high-pitched background for the new production, "Flaming Star," 20th Century Fox CinemaScope DeLuxe Color drama starring Elvis Presley, Barbara Eden, Steve Forrest, Dolores Del Rio, opening at the Palace Theatre Sunday afternoon, and at the Arena Drive In Sunday night.

When the Indians launch a series of massacres on pioneer ranches the wrath of the entire town turns upon the Burton family, chiefly because of the boy Paer (Elvis Presley) and his Indian mother Neddy (Dolores Del Rio). Whose side these two will want to take during the struggle that is sure to come, is the tense and dangerous question that confronts both the Indian leaders and the brave group of local pioneers. Both Paer and Neddy want peace, but they find themselves squarely in the middle of everybody's suspicion, and their own emotional conflicts become the focus for the powerful events that follow.

McDaniel Producing Irrigation Fittings

Bobby McDaniel has established a manufacturing plant in Silvertown. He and his employees have been busy for the past several months producing irrigation supplies. They have been supplying Carman Rhode, among others, with these supplies.

Among the fittings being mass produced in the welding shop are risers and vents for plastic underground irrigation pipe, pump distributors and cooling systems.

A unique assembly line for making clamps for coupling plastic pipe has been originated. They make from six to eight inch clamps. Two men working at this job can turn out 400 clamps a day.

These irrigation supplies have been supplied to buyers living as far away as Kansas.
