A way to save money that's as easy as pushing a button

You become an automatic saver when you sign up at work for Savings Bonds.

If you could push a button that would automatically save $5 for you each payday, you'd do it, wouldn't you?

There is such a "button," you know: The Payroll Savings Plan for U.S. Savings Bonds. More than 8 million Americans save this automatic way for new homes, college degrees, vacations, retirement income, and a host of other things worth saving for.

You can't spend it if you don't get it. Your payroll clerk sets aside whatever amount you wish, buys your Bonds, and arranges to get them to you.

After a month or two, you actually forget you're saving—except when you add a Bond to your growing bundle.

Guaranteed to grow. A U.S. Savings Bond that costs $75 grows to $100 in 7½ years—faster than ever before. Your Bonds are replaced free if you lose them. And every Bond you buy is a share in a stronger America.

Push the button now, and start saving for the things you want.

Buy them on the installment plan! The average payroll saver puts about $20 monthly into Savings Bonds. You can get aside as little as $2.50 a week.

You save more than money with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Buy them where you work or bank

For 20 years America's newspapers have published Savings Bonds ads at no cost to the Government. The Treasury Dept. is grateful to the Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.

SOME MAY FIND IT WISE TO CHECK ON SOCIAL SECURITY

If you have reached retirement age (65 for men and 62 for women) and have never inquired about social security benefits because you are still working, you should talk to a social security representative right away, Hal Geldon, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, advises.

Because of a 1960 change in the law, a great number of older people whose earnings were high enough to keep them from collecting social security benefits, will now be able to receive some benefits during the year.

Up until this year, social security beneficiaries who earned more than $1200 in a year lost one month's social security benefits for each $80 of earnings in excess of $1200. Under the new law, only $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings in excess of $1200 and up to $1500. Thus, the beneficiary who earns exactly $1500 would lose $150 in benefit payments, Geldon stated.

For earnings above $1500 benefits are reduced $1 for each $1 in earnings.

HIGH PLAINS WHEAT - QUALITY OR QUANTITY?

by James M. Hill, Jr.
Texas A & M College

Do wheat farmers recognize the importance of growing quality grain—or do they simply strive for higher yields?

It may not sound important at a time when we are overshadowed by low prices and a mounting surplus, but there are many considerations that might make you realize the truth.

Most people will agree that farmers in the area are willing to sacrifice quality in order to attain high yields. This is understandable with the present market prices. High production overcomes low prices. No farmer wants to combine less grain than he is capable of producing on his allotment.

Have you ever wondered if our High Plains wheat actually goes to the flour miller—or to huge storage bins where it might lay in waste for years?

Common sense says that the best wheat makes the best flour for bread and pastries. Millers and bakers must produce high quality products. Otherwise they cannot stay in business and meet competition. They must use good quality wheat.

Because many mechanical devices are involved in baking, any error in the ingredients or weakness in the flour may result in a large loss to the bakery.

Examples of the devices are found in the new continuous fermentation and mixing process of bread-making.

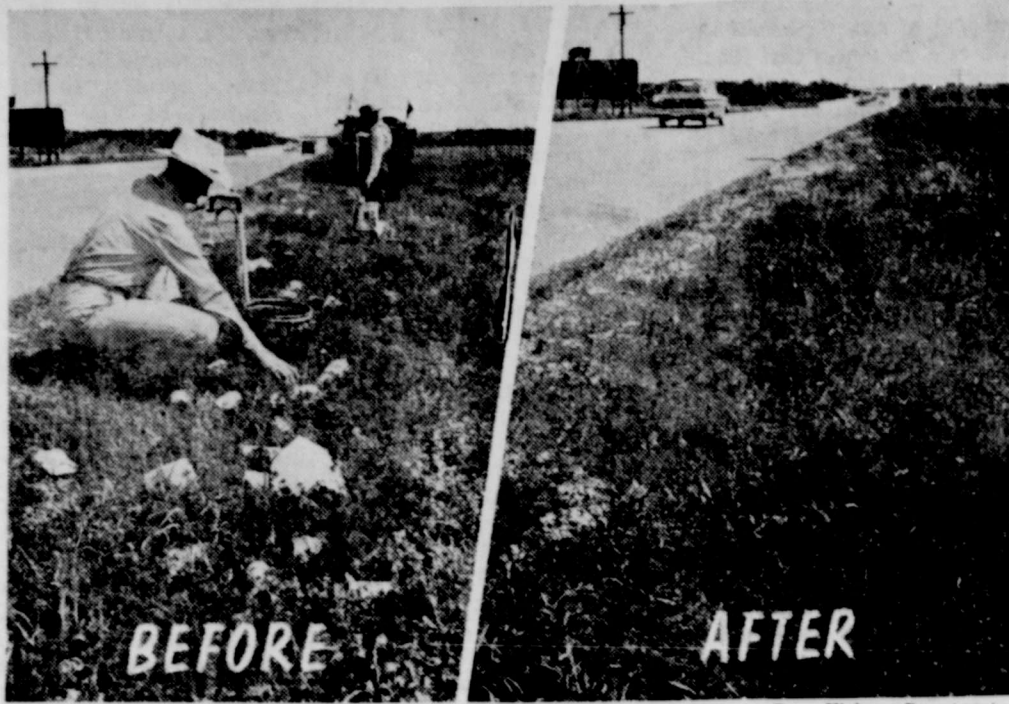

Bread made by this process is sometimes referred to as "batter-whipped." This new process in bread-making is rapidly spreading throughout the bakery industry. This should emphasize that, more than ever, high quality wheat is becoming essential to the baking industry.

Large-scale elevator and milling operations make it impossible to isolate the wheat from a given farm or even from a small community. Therefore, it is desirable for all producers in one area to grow good varieties of uniform quality. Farmers must develop a market for large supplies of good quality wheat.

Milling concerns and terminal elevators that deal in wheat for domestic and foreign use keep well informed on varieties grown. They discriminate against areas that continue to grow undesirable varieties. Several years ago, millers purposely avoided Texas High Plains wheat because it lacked sufficient quality.

Researchers at Texas A&M College are concerned with the quality wheat problem.

Dr. I. M. Atkins, agronomist in charge of small grain research for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, says fertilizers keep quality up. High yields without ade-

Litter tossed on Texas highways and roadsides has to be hand-picked. No machine can do this chore. Last year the clean-up and mowing bill for 57,500 maintained miles of Texas highways totaled more than $7,000,000.

HIGHWAY DEPT. WARNS AGAINST LITTERBUGS

The Texas Highway Department today launched a new slogan in its anti-litter campaign: "Be a neatnik, not a litterbug."

This plea comes from Texas Highway Department maintenance crews all over the state as they haul mountains of cans, bottles, paper, decaying food, and other litter from Texas highway right of way.

"Spring houseclean our Texas highways all year long by fighting throwing were completed in Texas courts. Of this number, 269 were found guilty and were fined or punished by other means.

Highway maintenance men point out that litter is local for the main part, coming from resident litterbugs and not from-of-staters or from phantom travelers from "up the road." Surveys reveal that the litterbug is a local person, possibly a civic-minded citizen in all other phases of his life, but he fails to see the multiplication factor when he tosses out an empty cigarette package, wad of paper, or soft-drink bottle. He would not toss these objects down in his own yard, or in a friend's; but he will thoughtlessly take over the highway as his own private trash-basket.

Other evidence of the "resident litterbug" is sometimes a can-and-bottle trail. Maintenance foremen report that the biggest dead-soldier tossouts are about a drink away (by car) from the nearest local emporium. Cost of removal has been estimated at one-half cent per can. Maintenance crews join poet Richard Armour in his hurry-up order for an edible beer can.

Maintenance men point out: No machine can pick up litter. It has to be hand-picked. That makes it an expensive operation. Last year the clean-up and mowing bill for 57,500 maintained miles of Texas highways totaled more than $7,000,000. This included picking up, hauling, and unloading rubbish. Another chore for maintenance men is removal of dead animals, removal of rocks and rock piles. Wrecked cars must be hauled off. Advertising signs in the right of way must be taken down. Maintenance crews are also responsible for mowing the grass, removing brush, and keeping vegetation from the highway markers and guard posts.

A maintenance foreman explains "we could do our mowing job so much quicker and save money if we didn't have to pick up all the cans, bottles and litter before we start. A heap of litter hidden in the grass can wreck an expensive machine or an automobile. Cutting grass is more than just trying ing reduces fire hazard and prevents spreading of weed seed to nearby farms. Tall grass and brush can also distort sight distances and result in expensive and tragic automobile smashups.

the School of Pharmacy in Weatherford, and attended church in the morning. In the afternoon they visited Mr. and Mrs. George Payne who have been friends of Mrs. Davis for many years.

Fred Kellum returned home from Tech College in Lubbock on Saturday. He will spend the summer vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kellum, and David.

THE BIBLE AND SCIENCE

A great deal has been said in recent years on this. Some have been ready to cast the Bible aside because they heard that it disagrees with scientific truths. But there has been no disagreement found between the teachings of the Bible and real science.

Two points stand out in a discussion of the Bible and science. The Bible contains no scientific errors. Of first thought this may not appear to be strong evidence for the inspiration of the Bible, but when we remember the errors that prevailed in the days when the Bible was being written we must acknowledge that the omission of all of those errors from that book is nothing short of miraculous. I believe the Bible because of what it does not contain! If the writers were not inspired, how did it happen that the glaring and foolish ideas that were so prevalent in their day did not find their way into their writings in even a single instance. The idea that has been advanced by some critics that the Bible writers recorded the wisdom of their day is refuted by this point.

The Bible writers also recorded scientific truths which had not then been discovered by the human mind. The round earth, the law of gravity, and the empty space in the north, are instances of such (Isa. 40:22; Job 26:7).

We are again forced to the conclusion stated in II Peter 1:21. These men could not have known these things unaided by divine inspiration! They were moved by the Holy Spirit! Some may have feared a study of the Bible in the light of science. But the Bible has nothing to fear. It emerges from such a crucible more precious to us than before.

These and other reasons have combined to make the Bible the world's best-loved book and the best seller. Men have died for it. But it has also been violently hated and its enemies have predicted its annihilation. But it is indestructible. It has survived the attack of fire, sword and all other forces that have pitted their powers against it. And it does not become obsolete. It never needs a supplement. It is a full-grown book, designed for all men of all times. This is another strong proof of its supernatural origin. It is always new and modern. Though heaven and earth pass, God's word will stand!

The Silverton Church of Christ extends you a hearty welcome at all the services of the church.
