Severe Weather Causes Crop Damage In County

PICTURED ARE THE new grain storage tanks which have been recently completed at the Silverton branch of United Elevators. At Claytonville one of these units is now under construction. Each of these conical steel buildings will house half a million bushels of grain. Farris Martin, manager of the Silverton Elevators, reports that most of the barley in Briscoe County has been harvested. He states

For more than a week citizens of the High Plains have been alerted daily to the possibility of severe weather conditions which produce thunderstorms, high winds, hail, and isolated tornadoes. On Monday afternoon of this week Briscoe County was in the path of a storm which scattered large hailstones over a wide area, inflicting from 50 to 100% damage on crops. Severe weather is predicted for the area daily, and it is thought by those who make a study of the weather that until a generally heavy rain is received, it will continue. A number of farmers have been busy cutting barley and wheat—some have almost finished. Some of the very earlybirds have already plowed the stubble and in one field it was observed that another crop is already being planted. Ray C. Bomar, local weather expert, reported .16 of an inch and small hail in Silverton Monday afternoon.

At approximately 4:30 p.m. as the storm moved into our immediate area, the official weather instruments recorded a 15-point drop in barometric pressure from 29.98. Mr. Bomar says that most of the weather alarm instruments go off at a barometric pressure of 29.50; however, he reminds residents that the Silverton tornado in 1957 occurred at a barometric pressure of 29.56.

Among those who reported hail damage to crops were James Davis, who estimated his loss at 50% with half an inch of moisture, and L. W. Francis, who reported that his land seemed to lay along the edge of the storm. Mr. Francis estimated that the wheat received 75% damage and the cotton, which had just been replanted for the second time, received from 30 to 50% damage on one end.

Charles Whitfill's crops were damaged, as were those of Ben Whitfill.

Bill Bryant reported that three hail storms passed over his place and crops and gardens were damaged by hail stones ranging in size from golf ball to hen-egg size. John Garner measured .80 of an inch of rain and large hail stones damaged crops nearby.

Ray C. Bomar said the hail broke the rain gauge at his farm, but he estimated about an inch was received there. His wheat had been damaged about a month earlier, and received additional damage in this storm.

Carroll Welch, W. E. Autry and E. C. Newman reported hail. Lynn Welch reported 1.25 inches of rain and hail.

It was thought that Roy Mack Walker, J. K. Bean, Berle Fisch, Joe Mercer and Carver Monroe received the worst damage in the storm. Young cotton is expected to recover and come out in most cases and most of the irrigated wheat is too green to have been shattered. The ripe dryland wheat was most seriously damaged, as shattering did occur, according to reports.

Adding to the nervousness of local residents during the hail-storm was the automatic fire alarm which sounded after the circuit was broken by lightning. Several residents reported that their storm cellars quickly filled with friends and neighbors who had thought it was a tornado "take-over" signal.

Former Pastor Honored

The Methodist pastor, formerly of Silverton, and the chairman of his board of stewards don't usually disagree, but recently that wasn't exactly the case. It certainly wasn't a violent disagreement—in fact they both wound up in accord about where credit should go for the highest award of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. James Patterson, Cotton Center, felt the board and his congregation did all the work. J. R. Nixon, Cotton Center school man and the chairman of the church board, felt the pastor should get a lion's share of the credit.

The Rev. Mr. Patterson was named "Outstanding Rural Pastor of the Year," and the Cotton Center church was named "Outstanding Rural Church." The awards were presented by the Rev. Hugh Hunt, Lubbock, who is director of the Methodist Town and Country Improvement Awards program for this district. Behind the award is a rather unique story.

The score for the current year was 252.

Questions come under the headings of equipment and maintenance; administration and program; education; stewardship and finance; membership and evangelism; community relations; the the pastor; and repair and improvement.

Outcome "Good"

These were the things on which the Cotton Center church was graded.

The outcome, obviously, was good.

The outcome of the "disagreement" was good, too. Both the pastor and the board chairman decided no one person or group could take credit or should be given credit.

"It's just a fine community," they both agreed.

WHY I BELIEVE IN GOD

One thing that must impress us is the immensity of the universe. This earth upon which we live is a tremendously big something. But it is a mere speck when compared with the sun which is a million times bigger; if the sun were cut into a million pieces each would surpass the size of the earth. And this earth receives only two billionths of the light and heat of the sun.

The distance around the earth, in round numbers, is twenty-five thousand miles. But the distance to the sun is four thousand times as great as the distance around the earth, being something over ninety-two million miles. The distance to many of the heavenly bodies is so great that it is measured in terms of "light years". Some of them are said to be thousands of light years from the earth. These figures mean little to us, they are so great that we cannot begin to comprehend them, but they suggest something of the immensity of the cosmos. When we contemplate all that man has discovered, we are indeed impressed, but we have only explored the borders of the works of God. Someone, emphasizing the greatness of the universe, has said: "The glories of an extended forest would suffer no more from the fall of a single leaf than the glories of this extended universe would suffer if the globe we tread upon were dissolved into gases." Yes the immense universe shouts aloud that God is. God's existence, power, wisdom, and goodness are being constantly sounded by the heavenly heralds. Their testimony is not a mere hint. It is a declaration. If you would see divine sublimity, gaze upward into the starry vault. If you would see infinity, wisdom, and divine fidelity. Consider the balancing of the stars and mark the regularity of the planetary motions. They not only declare glory, but the glory of God! They deliver to us unanswerable arguments for an intelligent, conscious, controlling, and presiding Creator. Their testimony is proclaimed in all languages and they are witnesses that cannot be slain or silenced.

Something is. Something cannot come from nothing. Therefore something has always been. I call it God.

LOOKING BACK

A new series of articles from back files of the Briscoe County News By Jerry Williamson

March 27, 1925: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fogerson and small son, Ware, motored through to Slaton last week, where they visited Mr. Fogerson's brother, Zeph.

Tony Burson is carrying his arm in a sling as a result of being kicked by a car one day last week. The member was fractured in the accident.

Quite a little excitement was caused Tuesday morning by the slight blaze in M. K. Summers' apartment at J. B. Porter's. A fire in the flue burnt a hole in the ceiling, but the women folks had the fire under control by the time the crowd which rushed there arrived. April 3, 1925: It is estimated that fully 100 people visited Tule Canyon last Sunday (Easter).

Headlines in the April 10, 1925, edition of the Briscoe County News: "Silverton Soon To Have Modern Moving Picture Theater." The Grand Opening of Silverton's Folly Theater presented "The Thundering Herd," a Paramount production starring Jack Holt and Lois Wilson.

Second Graders Coleman Garrison and Mildred Bean were Honor Roll students in April, 1925. On the Honor Roll in the Third Grade were Ware Fogerson, Bailey Hill, and Einell Smith. The Fourth Grade—Warner Grabbe, Judd Donnell, Joe Autry and Norman Brown.

The Editor of the Briscoe County News was that year campaigning for "A railroad—any Railroad. More brick business buildings. A modern hotel for Silverton. A passable road across the Tule Canyon."

SEE TEXAS FIRST

Worth a Month of Sundays

Czech citizens of Texas have provided our State with one of the most interesting and reverently beautiful spots to be found in the entire country.

At their Village of Hostyn they have constructed a rock and stone duplicate of the Grotto of Lourdes, just as it is found in France. Hostyn is located in Fayette County, just six miles south of LaGrange, in Central South Texas.

Nestled atop a hill, the Grotto and numerous chapels, monuments and statues of marble, rock and granite encircle a church.

Some tourists have been heard to respectfully comment that the visit to Hostyn was "worth a month of Sundays." It is truly a beautiful and moving area to behold. We should be glad it's in Texas.

Raven Hill in Oakhurst

General Sam Houston was called "The Raven" by the Cherokee Indians.

When he built his well-known plantation home in 1844 it was appropriately called "Raven Hill."

The site of "Raven Hill" is near Oakhurst, Texas, north of Houston and east of Huntsville, in San Jacinto County.

Scout Leader Finds Skeleton

A girl scout counselor discovered the "Skeleton of Yellowhouse Canyon" just 12 miles east of Lubbock in Northern West Texas.

The skeleton was that of an Indian who died between 1858 and 1875. He was buried with a Remington-Beals, .44 calibre cap and ball revolver (such as used by the U. S. Army), an Army officers' meal belt buckle, a scalping knife, a leather saddle bag, remnants of a bridle, an iron bit, an antler flaking tool, and a two-quart Army issue kettle of copper or brass.

This young adult male Indian was buried Comanche style, with his valuables and ornaments. These included a copper ring, ornamental bone breastplate, and a pouch of cinnabar (mercury ore) for painting the face and body.

There is much debate whether the Indian was an Army Scout or was with a hostile tribe.

Luling's Palmettos Popular

Not oil wells, but sulphur wells, palmetto swamps, and tropical plants are the tourist attraction near Luling, in South Central Texas.

They are to be seen at Palmetto Park, southeast of Luling, in Caldwell County.

This 198-acre park also has a dance terrace, concession stand, picnic tables, camping and playground areas and fishing sites.

You'll be fascinated by Palmetto Park.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Under the law what you as a client tell your lawyer in confidence he may tell no one else without your consent.

Nor can a judge order him or his professional employees (like secretaries) to reveal such communications in court.

Why have such a privilege?

Chiefly, to do justice; it encourages clients to tell their lawyers what they have to know to help and to advise them fully: things about their family, business, and private affairs, their hopes, fears, and ambitions.

No lawyer may speak of certain things, even after a client dies. For a client may well have to give his lawyer details which, if revealed, might harm those he most wanted to protect.

Yet, in some very rare cases, to help carry out the client's desires after death, a lawyer may have to reveal a confidence, under certain safeguards, to uphold his client's purposes.

What are confidential communications?

Anything a client tells his lawyer when he seeks advice about his personal, business, or legal affairs—talks and letters, photographs, charts and other documents and records.

Confidential communications protect you as the client, not your lawyer. If you break the confidence, a lawyer may also have to talk, for the communication is no longer confidential. You may break a confidence by testifying about it, or by having unauthorized persons hear or see what was communicated.

No lawyer may keep quiet about a crime or fraud a client has told him he plans to commit. But afterwards, an accused person may talk freely to his lawyer. Even if guilty, he has a right to have his side of the story presented to the court as it may affect his punishment. A person in trouble needs to talk to someone without fear that what he says will become public.

In some states certain other professional people, such as physicians and clergymen, may receive privileged communications. However, Texas law makes no provision for privileged communications with physicians and clergymen.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

... in a Medallion Home, your children will want to do the dishes!!!

Mr. & Mrs. Weldon Hammonds
ROUTE 1, FLOYDADA, TEXAS

The wonders of electric appliances are many—but you can't beat one that makes children enjoy what used to be a difficult and joy-killing task. The automatic dishwasher in the Hammonds' home has done just that for Kay, Ann and Gaye Lynn. They enjoy doing dishes—electrically.

Mrs. Hammonds loves all her electric appliances. Speaking of her range, she says, "The electric range is easier to clean, also, electric cooking is faster."

Mr. Hammonds, in addition to seeing his family so happy, says, "We wouldn't take for our electric yard light. Besides convenience and safety, it gives our home a warm welcome to friends."

One of the extra comfort, cleanliness and convenience features of a Medallion Home is electric bathroom heat. Mrs. Hammonds likes electric bathroom heaters because "curtains, flower planters and other accessories can be used above electric heaters, and the children can turn them on with a flick of the switch."

BRUSH CONTROL

The control of moderate to heavy stands of brush, followed with good management, will increase the carrying capacity of rangeland as well as improve the ease of handling livestock. This has become an established fact throughout the brush infested areas of the southwest. Mesquite can be controlled by aerial spraying or by dozing with ground equipment. The percent of root kill on sprayed mesquite will vary by years and will range up to 50 percent. Dozed mesquite may be 95 percent killed. The cost of spraying mesquite is approximately $3.10 per acre. The cost of dozing mesquite is approximately $11.00 per acre.

Cost sharing programs are available to most operators which pays one-half of the average cost. The net cost to the rancher would then be approximately $1.55 per acre and $5.50 per acre for the two methods. Range improvement following brush control may be slow or may be relatively rapid, depending upon the range condition at the start. Range grasses will increase in vigor and size as well as a change in grass species. Ranges that are deferred from grazing will improve the quickest as compared to those not deferred.

The Texas State Experiment at Spur has shown an increase of 4.5 pounds beef per acre per year for brush cleared pastures. This is an increase of more than $1.00 per acre per year, thus aerial spraying of mesquite will be repaid in two years and dozing will be repaid in five years.

Redberry juniper (local red cedar) can be controlled by dozing or chaining. Chaining should be done from two directions to be effective. The average cost of cedar chaining is $5.00 per acre with a cost share rate of 50 percent payment where the producer complies. Chaining is effective if done when the ground is fairly wet so the trees will be pulled out of the ground. Range improvement is usually rapid following cedar chaining. The percent kill of cedar from chaining is usually about 30 to 35 percent; however, those not killed are delayed in growth for several years.

The Great Plains Conservation Program, administered by the Soil Conservation Service, include payments for brush control, among other practices.

Cooperators who are interested in controlling brush should contact the local work unit office that assists the Caprock Soil Conservation District.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Tension and children of Idalou have been recent visitors with his mother, Mrs. W. H. Tension.

More Survivors Eligible for Benefits

Social security benefits may now be paid to survivors of workers who died between March 31, 1938 and January 1, 1940, if the worker had at least a year and a half of social security work before he died, says Hal Geldon, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Administration District Office.

Before the Social Security Amendments of 1960, no monthly benefits were payable to the survivors of a worker who died before 1940. Under the new law, if such worker had worked under social security for at least a year and a half, benefits are payable to his widow and dependent mother at age 62, to his dependent father at age 65, and to his disabled children who were disabled before they became 18. This is true even if the family had collected the "lump sum" at the time he died.

For more information regarding this new provision, write your social security office, 1006 Adams St., in Amarillo.
