A LESSON IN SOCIALISM

As a teacher in the public schools, I find that the socialist-communist idea of taking "from each according to his ability, and giving to each according to his need" is now generally accepted without question by most of our pupils. In an effort to explain the fallacy in this theory, I sometimes try this approach with my pupils:

When one of the brighter or harder-working pupils makes a grade of 95 on a test, I suggest that I take 20 points away and give them to a student who had made only 55 points on his test. Thus each would contribute according to his ability and—since both would have a passing mark—each would receive according to his need. After I have juggled the grades of all the other pupils in this fashion, the result is usually a "common ownership" grade of between 75 and 80—the minimum needed for passing, or for survival. Then I recalculate with the pupils as to the probable results if I actually used the socialistic theory for grading papers.

First, the highly productive pupils—and they are always in the majority in school as well as in life—would soon lose all incentive for producing. Why strive to make high grade if part of it is taken away from you by "authority" and given to someone else?

Second, the less productive pupils—a majority in school as elsewhere—would, for a time, be relieved of the necessity to study or produce. His socialist-communist system would continue until the high producers had sunk—or been driven down—to the level of the low producers. At that point, in order for anyone to survive, the "authority" would have an alternative but to begin a system of compulsory labor and punishments against even the low producers. They, of course, would complain, but without understanding.

Finally I return the discussion to the ideas of freedom and enterprise—the market economy—where each person has freedom of choice and is responsible for his own decisions and welfare.

Gratifyingly enough, most of my pupils then understand what I mean when I explain that socialism—even in a democracy—will eventually result in a living-death of all except the "authorities" and a few of their favorite lackeys. A letter from Thomas J. Shelly, teacher of economics and history at Donkers High School, New York

VARAH'S COIFFURES MOVING TO NEW SHOP

Varah's Coiffures will be moving to a new location this weekend. The new shop will be open through Friday as usual, and will open as its permanent home on Tuesday morning of next week, with no inconvenience to patrons of the shop.

The new shop will be located in the north of Mr. and Mrs. Varah's beautiful new home in the west part of town.

Varah has announced that the inconvenience expected will be the period during which no telephone connection is made. The phone number will remain the same, and she expects to have a move at the new shop in the next few days.

The formal open house is planned to stop in soon to see Varah at the new location.

Bronchos Play Hard To Defeat Owls

The Silverton Owls shook the Clarendon Bronchos in last Friday night's football contest, and while suffering a 36-0 beating, made the visitors fight every minute to hold the score at zero.

Silverton roared onto the field and began making first down drives in the first home game of the season. In the second play of the game, John Jowell passed to Robert Rhode for enough yardage for a first down. The Bronchos drew their defenses tight and stopped the attack. The first play that Clarendon made saw Jerry Elmore go 60 yards for a touchdown. Jim Robinson ran the conversion to put Clarendon in the scoring column.

Silverton took the ball and began making first downs again, only to fumble the ball to the Bronchos at the Clarendon 37 yard line. Three plays later, Clarendon's Dwight McAnear passed to Gary Campbell, who ran 50 yards to score.

Repeating, Silverton made a first down on a beautiful left-handed pass completion from Fred Edwards to Ken Thornton. The play carried down to the Clarendon 27 yard line. On the next play the Owls lost five yards, and on the next they fumbled the ball away.

After a pair of fumbles, Robinson received a long McAnear pass and went all the way for another Clarendon tally. Elmore carried the conversion to spot the half-time score at 22-0.

Clarendon came back after the half and began gaining yards on the ground. Up to this time, Silverton had made five first downs and the Bronchos had only two. The Bronchos fumbled, Bill Schott recovered at the Silverton 27 yard line, and the Owls were back in business again. Three first downs were made, one on a faked kick in which Quarterback Jowell kept and ran for the necessary yardage. Then the Owls were stopped and the ball was kicked to the Clarendon 15 yard line, where Robinson grabbed the ball and ran all the way for a touchdown.

The final tally of the evening came when John Cearley took a long McAnear pass and ran 61 yards for the Bronchos. McAnear ran around end for the two extra points, making the final score 36-0.

It was a fumble-ridden and penalty-filled ballgame. The Owls and the Bronchos fumbled five times each; each recovered one of their own fumbles; and each let four go to the opponent. Silverton was penalized half the distance to the goal (about 7 yards) in the first quarter for illegal use of the hands on offense, and received a five yard assessment for being offside at a critical time in the fourth quarter.

Clarendon was penalized 85 yards, 45 of the yards stepped off in the fourth quarter, for offenses including offside, holding, illegal procedure, delay of game, roughness and illegal motion.

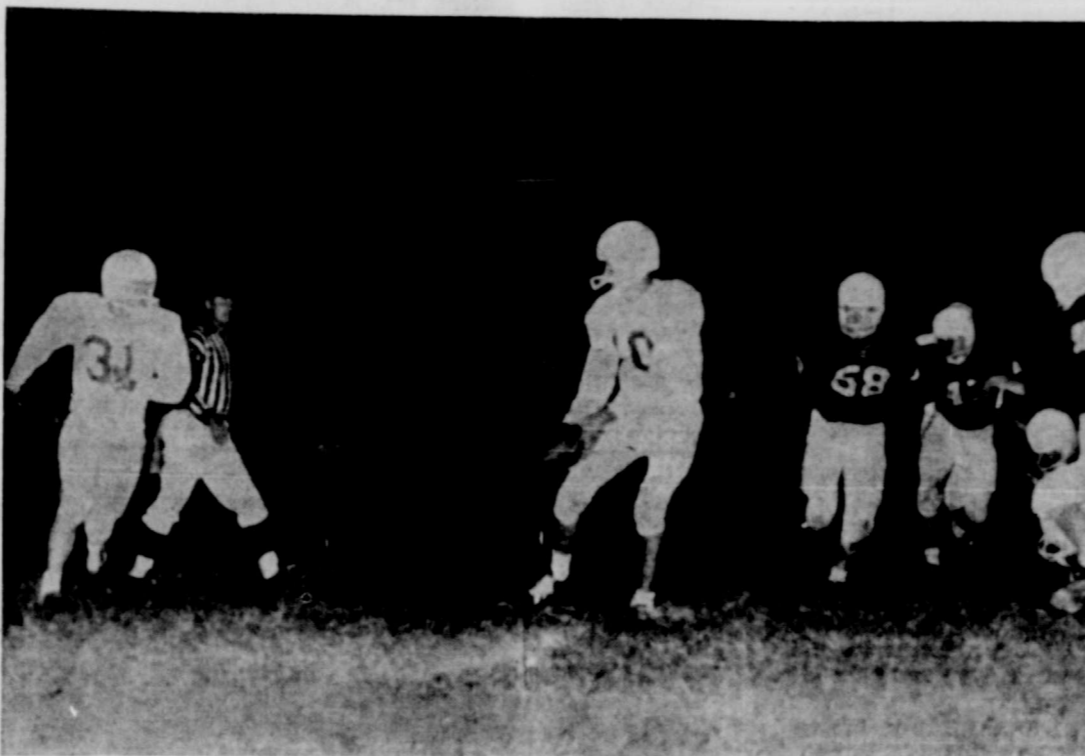

Silverton attempted 11 passes; completed 3; had 3 intercepted. Clarendon passed 10 times; completed 7; had none intercepted.

The Owls made ten first downs while the Bronchos made eight.

Silverton now looks forward to the game next Friday night at Turkey. The Turks have received beatings by Kress and Happy this season, so each team will go into the game with a 0-2 record. The Turks, as the Owls, are weak this year. The Owls could easily spoil Turkey's hope for victory if they continue to improve as they have during the past week.

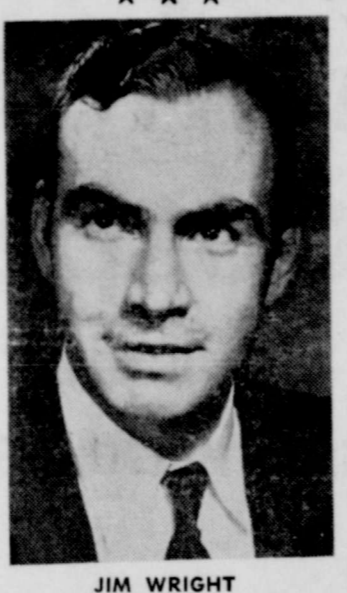

Fred Stafford is out of the lineup with a leg injury which he received in practice last week. Joe Kitchens, likewise, has been out of the lineup.

Boys who looked good Friday night included Ken Thornton, Robert Rhode, Fred Edwards, Jay Towe, Max Garrison, Bill Schott, John Baird, Larry McWilliams and Jim Reid. John Jowell, Van Breedlove and Larry May played a good

QUARTERBACK JOHN JOWELL hands off to Rusty Whitfill who picked up enough yardage for the fourth first down in the first quarter for the Owls in Friday night's grid clash with Clarendon. The play before this one had seen Larry May drive for a five yard gain. —Briscoe County News Photo

COUNTY FARM LABOR COMMITTEE NAMED

Four Briscoe County citizens, Judge J. W. Lyon, G. W. Lee, Bill Long, and Rev. Fidel Guzman, will serve as a County Farm Labor Committee and met with Mr. W. E. Day, Manager of the Texas Employment Commission office in Plainview recently to review the total seasonal employment needs developed by the TEC.

The Committee was presented with the figures of the TEC that Briscoe County will be short 150 cotton pullers during the peak period of the cotton harvest. This shortage will be met by the importation of Mexican National Bracero workers.

The Committee will function under Public Law 78, obtaining facts relevant to the supply of domestic farm workers existing in Briscoe County and the shortage of workers, if any, which must be met by importing Mexican Nationals to harvest the cotton crop. Under Public Law 78, the TEC must supply this information to the Secretary of Labor who must limit the number of Mexican Nationals to be used in this county by granting a 'ceiling'. The Committee consults with the Local Office Manager to assist him in estimating the number of workers who will be needed, based on current local conditions affecting the cotton crop.

"Ceilings" granted by the Secretary of Labor limiting the importation of Mexican Nationals into this area will be posted in the U. S. Post Office in Silverton, in the County Agent's office, and in the hall of the County Courthouse.

flowers early in the morning or in late afternoon, the coolest part of the day. Be sure to take a bucket with a little water in it to the gathering spot to plunge cut stems ends in as the flowers are cut. Use sharp knife or scissors, cut on slant of stem, cutting stems as long as plant will allow. As you gather, remove bottom third of foliage and all damaged leaves next to flower head. Leave all foliage possible on top two-thirds of stem. Wash flowers under faucet or dip in a basin of water to cleanse them. Let stand in water up to flowers for several hours or overnight in a cool, dark place out of drafts to harden.

If you find flower specimen (opened to right stage) several days before show time, place flowers in a container with water in bottom and keep in refrigerator until show time. Large Dahlias do not keep very good this way. Roses are about the only flower not to be shown in full bloom because they shatter. The half open rose or a bud just before opening makes the best specimen or bouquet. You may bring several specimens in one container as they will be removed to coke battles and classed as schedule permits.

The schedule and rules for the show can be found on another page of this newspaper.

Everyone is welcome to our Flower Show.

Amarillo Girl Has Poems Published

Patricia Gidden, writing under the name of Tish Gidden, has had two of her original poems published in the Anthology of High School Poetry. One of them was printed again in "Sermons in Poetry".

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gidden of Amarillo, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Agnes Bingham of Silvertown. Following are her two poems:

PROBLEMS

The world is full of pleasure,
The world is full of fun,
The world is full of problems
For each and everyone.

If you know how to handle them,
And can name them one by one
You can turn all those problems
Into loads and loads of fun.
(Published in the Anthology of High School Poetry and "Sermons in Poetry.")

THOUGHTS

I often pause and wonder,
And count them one by one
The many dreams I've had today,
The many things I've done.

I wonder if I've helped someone
Along life's road today,
Or been a stumbling block,
For someone along the way.

I hope I set a good example
For those who are watching me,
And I hope God will be proud
Of the way my life turns out to be.

Indebtedness On Cotton Firm is Cleared

The board of directors of the Rolling Plains Cotton Producers, Inc. announced this week that all indebtedness in connection with the construction of the cotton classing office in Memphis, has been paid in full.

"The collections received from cotton producers during the past two seasons have been sufficient to pay for the classing office, and we have enough surplus money remaining to maintain and operate the office for several years," the directors stated.

Cotton producers in the 12-county area served by this office are to be notified that no further collections will be made by the gins in this area until further official notice from the Rolling Plains Cotton Producers, Inc. is given.

Each individual gin in the 12-county area will be requested to post notices of no further collections in their gin offices, it was announced.

"The directors would like to take this opportunity to thank the gins for acting as their collecting agencies during the past two seasons," V. C. Durrett, president, stated.

"Two years ago the Department of Agriculture conducted a survey in the following counties: Hall, Donley, Childress, Cottle, King, Motley, Wheeler, Briscoe, Carson, Collingsworth, Gray, and Armstrong, and found the producers in each county to be overwhelmingly in favor of establishing a classing office in Memphis by voluntary contributions from individual producers," President Durrett said.

All gins in the area were asked by the organization to act as collecting agents, he explained.

"According to our records," Durrett said, "the following is a list of the gins that participated fully, partially participated, or did not participate in the collection program."

The following gins cooperated fully in the collection program both years. Hall County: all Paymaster Gins, West Texas Gin Turkey, Chickasha-Beaty Gin at Memphis, Farmers Union No. 1 at Memphis, Farmers Union No. 2 at Plaska, Lakeview Coop No. 1. Memphis Farmers Co-op.

Also, Briscoe County: Quitaque Farmers Coop, Davis Gin, Tomlin & Fleming, Paymaster at Quitaque.

Gins partially cooperating both years: Spears Gin at Flomot.

The following gins did not cooperate. Hall County: Tindall at Memphis, Farmers Co-Op at Wolf Flat, Briscoe County: Dempsey Gin.

"When the present surplus of funds has been used for maintenance and repair of the classing office, due notice will be given by the organization of a new col-

There will be an annual membership meeting of the Rolling Plains Cotton Producers, Inc. at Memphis, at 2:30 p. m. on Saturday, Sept. 2, at the classing office, it was announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Brown and Sam and Mrs. Luther Gillette spent most of last week on a vacation trip through Arkansas. They enjoyed scenery in the Ozarks, Springs and Eureka Springs and other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Durward Brown, Plainview, visited his parents and Mrs. H. Roy Brown, Saturday.

JOHNNY ROY WEAVER PROVES HIS FISH STORY

RONAN, Montana—The Rainbow and the Cutthroat are not the only fish in the northwest land, as the catch of Johnny Roy Weaver, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Shafe Weaver of Silverton, shows.

Johnny Roy is the nephew of County Superintendent and Mrs. Roy Boyd of Lubbock. He is shown with his catch of 2 bigmouth bass and 12 bullheads taken from the reservoir on the Ninepipe U. S. Wildlife Refuge, six miles south of Ronan, on U. S. 93. Total weight was approximately 25 pounds, and the dressed fish were carefully packed in ice by the boy who brought them home as a gift to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allard, of Brice.

The Weavers were visiting Mr. Weaver's sisters, Mrs. Gerald F. Perry and Mrs. Louie Luhman (formerly of Dallas) who operate the Allentown Motel and Restaurant opposite the refuge. Surrounding the motel and refuge are 2700 acres of land owned by the Montana Fish and Game Commission, which is operated as a game man-

FROM THE COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

Recently, I have visited a few fields of cotton that have been infected with Verticillium Wilt. Symptoms of wilt usually are observed early, toward the end of the growing season or during periods of below average temperatures. The disease is more apt to be in heavier soils that are in good physical condition and high in fertility. Studies have shown that the disease will thrive on soils that have the following conditions:

1. Excessive amounts of nitrogen
2. Potassium deficiencies
3. Excessive use of irrigation water
4. High in organic matter

At the present time there are a few varieties of cotton that show a resistance to the wilt. They are long staple pima varieties. Some research tests have shown that the open type cottons, Rex and Austin, may carry a little tolerance, but no definite conclusions have been reached. Presently, most short staple cottons are susceptible to the wilt.

Plants affected by the disease show the following characteristics:

1. Young plants are stunted and the leaves turn yellow between veins.
2. Older plants wilt and shed leaves.
3. Under severe attack plants are killed.
4. Regrowth occurs at the base of the main stalk on plants that remain alive.
5. Stem and roots when cut show darkening of woody portion. For positive identification of any plant trouble, the plant can be sent to the Plant Disease Lab at College Station. If you have any plants that you would like to send notify me and I will send them in for you. There is no charge for this service.

Fields having a Verticillium Wilt problem can be handled in the following manner to decrease the infection of the disease:

1. Rotate cotton with grain sorghum, small grains or grass.
2. Use balanced fertilizer program. It can be accompanied by having the soil tested and using the recommended rates.
3. Avoid excessive use of nitrogen
4. Avoid excessive use of irrigation water.
5. Plant on high cantaloupe-type beds.
6. Leave thickly spaced plants of about 4 to 6 per foot of row.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

A large acreage of rangeland in the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District was treated for brush control this past spring and summer. Of course, several methods of control were used.

E. A. Birdwell controlled a large acreage by dozing. He apparently got very good control and his grass has made a fine recovery after resting through the summer. Birdwell's pasture where brush was controlled can be seen just Glen Cleveland, whose ranch is northeast of Silverton, north of the Memphis road, controlled a heavy infestation of mesquite by aerial spraying. Cleveland apparently got a very good "top" kill. It appears that all the trees are dead at this time. Of course, we will have to wait until next spring to see actually how much was killed.

An area of brush control on the Bill Cushing Ranch has drawn a great deal of interest. Cushing had a heavy infestation of cedar on parts of his ranch. The decision was made therefore to try chipping on the heavy cedar growth. A chain was pulled two ways, and apparently did a very good job. An excellent kill on the trees was achieved and the grass has made a fine recovery. In fact, the results have looked so good that Cushing plans to chain every acre on his ranch that will possibly qualify for brush control.

Those interested in brush control can get a good idea of results from different methods of control on the ranches mentioned above. All of this work was done under the Great Plains Program.

Mrs. T. M. Marshall returned home Saturday after having been with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Smith of Plainview, during eye surgery and recuperation. Mrs. Smith, who formerly lived here, is thought to be doing satisfactorily. The eye operation was done in Lubbock three weeks ago. She has been at her home in Plainview for several days.

A well-known newspaper stated that the speaker at a veteran's dinner was battle-scarred. Hastening to correct the error, the editor said in the next day's issue: "We sincerely regret that we have referred to the speaker as battle-scarred. This should obviously have been bottle-scarred."

THE OWL'S HOOT

Official publication of the students of Silvertown High School, compiled and edited by members of the Future Business Leaders of America.

A BRAND NEW SCHOOL YEAR!

Hustle, bustle all through the halls. Giggles of excitement thrill the air. It's a brand new year!

The Freshmen are perhaps experiencing a feeling different than they've ever felt before. It's a mixed feeling of growing-up, sharing with more people, and getting along with these people. They feel that finally, after eight long, dreary years of grade school, they now have a special privilege.

Then come to the Sophomores. They are generally still excited over their Freshman year. So they don't really mind the new year. They just see it as a year full of brand new ideas and fun for all.

Fellowship Enjoyed After Ballgame

A large number of high school students and faculty members enjoyed a fellowship held by the First Baptist Church last Friday night after the ballgame with Clarendon.

Food and fun were the themes of the fellowship with everyone enjoying the games and recreation along with the hamburgers and trimmings which were served.

Three Receive Certificates

Mr. Rampley reports that three students at Silvertown High School have received certificates for their outstanding performances on the National Educational Development Tests.

The Certificates of Educational Development were awarded by Science Research Associates, a Chicago-based firm serving education, industry, and government through applied behavioral sciences.

In March, 1961, exams were administered to more than 366,000 students in 9th and 10th grade classes across the nation.

The test provided scores in English, social studies, mathematics, natural sciences and word usage. The evaluation of educational strengths and weaknesses is particularly important at this stage of a student's scholastic career.

A special aim of the program is to enable parents and educators to provide realistic guidance and motivation for high school youngsters.

An Alaskan, on arriving in Texas, approached a bystander and asked, "Where may I find a doctor?" "Are you ill?" inquired the Texan.

"No," grinned the Alaskan, "I'm suffering from claustrophobia."

being felt by others. You know, don't you Sophomores?

Next we'll find a slumping, sad-faced Junior. He hasn't a lot to look forward to except a lot of new subjects which all seem terribly hard to him. The newness of high school has faded almost away and they try to find something a little different about the year.

Alas! the Seniors! They have finally reached their one, most important goal. They think about how much like heaven it's going to seem being through with all this. But will it really be good to leave the "Old Alma Mater"?

To The 1960-61 Annual Staff

Annual Staff:

I want to write you to thank you for the "Dedication of the 1960-61 Owllet." You will never know how honored, proud, and unworthy I feel all at the same time.

When I received "The Owllet" I was so anxious, couldn't wait to get the package opened. I started turning the pages - Doris' Editorial introduction, pictures of the building. I wondered, "Who did they dedicate this book to? Oh, no, we forgot it, number one mistake." Little did I know that the next page held the "secret."

The book is full of many happy memories of Silvertown High School, which I shall always cherish. I am very proud to have had the pleasure of being associated with the Silvertown High School Faculty and best of all, the Students of Silvertown High School.

Sincerely yours, Mrs. Buster Miller 835 Brevard Hereford, Texas

FROM THE SPONSOR

The beginning of school is always a busy time with so much to be done in getting organized for the coming year. The complete staff for the OWL'S HOOT had not been selected at the time this issue went to the printer.

In order that we might bring you a paper this week, the Typing II Class assumed the responsibility of gathering and typing the news. Shelia Jarnagin, Sue Latham, Sue McJimsey, Jimmie Nell Reynolds, Marcalyn Lee, Martin and Virginia Shelton have had very little previous training in the newspaper field, but they have worked hard and hope that this issue will start the school year off with a fairly complete coverage of the school events. Jerry Williamson and Robert Hughes assisted the girls by interviewing the new teachers.

Remember students, if you want a good school paper, you should help by seeing to it that your class and club reporters stay on their toes and turn in really good articles to the staff.

Teachers are asked to help by contributing articles pertaining to their department and submitting outstanding papers from the students in their classes. We believe that "The labourer is worthy of his hire," as stated by Jesus in Luke 10:7, and that students should receive recognition for outstanding scholastic work.

Eighth Grade

By Orlin Grabbe

We had a class meeting this week to elect class officers Cliff Walker was elected president, Lynn Schott—vice-president, Dayna Holt—secretary, Dayna Holt—treasurer, Monty Smith—reporter, and Orlin Grabbe—editor.

Red River. Debby Bomar drew a picture of people skating on roller skates in New Mexico. Janell McDaniel crossed the Mississippi River on her trip to Tennessee. Richard Stephens also went to Arkansas. Tony Valarreal told of seeing a harbor when he went to Santiago. Thomas Self made a map of a fishing resort at Altus, Oklahoma.

Children who told of vacations within the state were Becky Stephens who went to Texas City, Houston, and Galveston. Tommy Burson and Terry Burson saw the zoo at San Antonio. Thresa Tate had a wonderful time at her grandmother's country home near Lockney. Others took short trips but time ran out on this Language lesson before they explained their drawings.

Others enrolled in this section of the third grade are: Barbara May, Monty Teeple, Lanis Davis, Phyllis Crow, Ricky Hester, Patsy Davis, Roger Cowan, James Edwards, Dora Parras, Elinla Parras, Elvira Cameos, and Jesse Parras.

Third Grade

Mrs. Hinds

We are so proud to be in the third grade. We have many new things to learn and to do, so school is fun.

We have 26 in our section—13 girls and 13 boys. Our goals for this year are:

- 1. Start jobs you know you can finish.
2. Try a harder job each time.
3. Evaluate your work.
4. Always do your best work.

This will make us better school citizens.

In English we have been telling about our summer fun. Some drew pretty pictures and we have them up in our room.

In reading we are spending the first two or three weeks in "Phonetic Keys To Reading." This gives us opportunities for emphasis on functions of words, phrases and sentences in the reading process and will help us to know how meaningful reading is. Along with our Phonics we are reading stories we like. We really want to be good readers.

First Grade

Mrs. Trout

There are twenty-four pupils enrolled in our room. We are working in our "Getting Ready" books. These books contain many things that will help us to learn to read. We are also starting work in our number and writing books. Jimmie Chappell and Criss Gill were absent Wednesday on account of illness.

We want to come to school every day because we like to work and make good grades.

Just think of it! Before long we will be reading, writing, working problems, and even learning many things about science and nature. O yes! We will also learn to spell many words before this term of school is ended. Of course this will require lots of work but, as we said, we like to work because work makes us happy.

First Grade

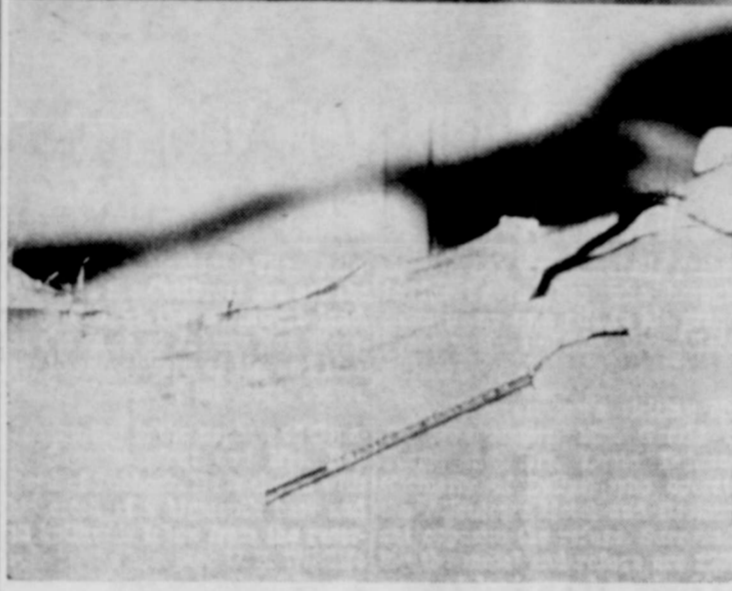

Mrs. Elms

We are beginning this school term with 26 pupils as our enrollment. We are an eager group of boys and girls and seem to be interested in books.

We have some new school supplies and new library books which we appreciate very much.

We have selected the Economy Reading Series to use as a supplement to the present phonetic program.

Miss Thompson is a 1961 graduate of Silverton High School and is attending Jessie Lee's Beauty School in Lubbock. Riney is a graduate of Olton High School, attended Draughon's Business College in Lubbock, and is presently employed by Simplex Time Co., in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Bamar transacted business in Amarillo last Friday.

Jack Fleming and daughters, Pam and Kay, have recently spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Chick Hughes at Ringgold. Mrs. Fleming joined them for a weekend visit with her parents, the Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Shellie Tomlin spent the weekend in San Angelo. The Alexanders were guests of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Alexander, Marcia and Shane. The Tomlins visited his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Tomlin and family, and friends. They were luncheon guests of the Conrad Alexander family on Saturday.

Mrs. Hilburn Casey of Lockney, spent Tuesday here with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bean and sons.

Mrs. Carl Crow and Jim returned early this week after a visit of several days with relatives and friends down state. They spent some time with Mr. and Mrs. John H. Crow, Carl and Don in Dallas. On September 3, they attended a family reunion of Mrs. Crow's brothers and sisters along with the brothers and sisters of two other large families, all of whom had grown up as near neighbors and close friends in the community of Cross Roads near Alvarado. The affair was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Crow who have continued living there through the years. The day was spent under the huge native pecan trees with a bountiful picnic dinner at the noon hour.

Pictures were made of each family group. Many of those attending had not met in many years and reminiscing was the topic of most conversations. Several states were represented but most were Texans.

The Crows saw "Six Flags Over Texas" and enjoyed a visit to the Denison Dam and Texhoma Lake while away.

THE CREED OF SELFISHNESS

I believe in the Dollar Almighty, maker of nearly everything I like on earth.

I believe in 7% profit — and a much more as I can safely get.

I believe in getting ahead. If someone happens to get hurt as I go to the top—well, I'm sorry for him, but it just can't be helped. They'll have to learn to get out of my way.

I believe in religion, but not TOO MUCH of it. I don't want to be a FANATIC! I don't know what that is, but it is BAD, and I can't afford to have something bad like that happen to me.

I believe also that business is business. Ethics and religion are fine, in their place, but BUSINESS IS BUSINESS.

I believe in doing good in this world, but not to the extent of placing myself in an unfavorable position, or causing myself an inconvenience. I want to do good when I GET READY to do good. I don't believe in "giving until it hurts." That's a good way to go broke.

I believe that my sins, which are NOT many, ought to be forgiven by a just and merciful God—or better yet—OVERLOOKED! But if anyone sins against me, he had better look out!

I believe that most people are not worth considering, but a few of them are undoubtedly worthwhile. I'm a pretty good fellow, myself.

I believe that all this talk we hear nowadays about a coming brotherhood of mankind is sheer nonsense. Too many low-class people in the world.

I believe first, last, and always, in having a good time. I sincerely hope that my good time will not hurt someone else, or rob them of having a good time; but if it does—well, once again, I'm sorry, but it just can't be helped.

I believe that when I die, I'll go to heaven. I hardly see how God could keep such a meek, humble, generous, good, kindhearted, unselfish, and consecrated man as myself away from His presence throughout an eternity, much less condemn him to a place of eternal torture.
