

All Around the Town
by Mary Ann Sarchet

Even though our chosen candidate for Governor of the State, Marshall Formby, did not make it to the runoff to be held next Saturday, I still think he would be a good man for the job, and I am happy that so many others in the area also gave him their support in the first primary. I believe that Mr. Formby will see to it that he will seek the office again. I am now pledging my support to John Connally.

I want to vote for a man who is interested in "putting Texas on top." Texans are often proud of bragging so much, with all the wealth and resources in the state, why should we not be proud? It is a shame to disgrace that Texas has slipped from her once-proud position of leadership.

I agree with Mr. Connally, who says, "I want to see Texas Number One in educational opportunities for all our people. I want to see Texas Number One in industrial production. I want to see Texas offer educational opportunities second to none in this nation and I want to see this act in a responsive manner to the needs, the desires, the hopes and dreams of all our people." These are things which I hope our next governor will do toward.

Connally proposes first, a constitutional amendment limiting the term in office of a governor of the state to two consecutive two-year terms beginning with his first term.

He proposes to place a greater emphasis on education by beginning with the kindergarten level in the first grade and continuing through grammar school and high school into the universities, colleges and post-graduate schools. It is his hope to convince the school board that they should offer and start teaching a foreign language to every first grader. In this way, a contribution would be made toward understanding, especially between our country and our Latin American neighbor to the South.

He proposes development and building of industry in this state to create more industry creates more jobs, means higher wages and better living conditions. It means better homes, better schools, better hospitals, less unemployment, fewer numbers on welfare rolls and provides a financial base on which to build the future.

In the field of agriculture we are over-producing and are required to pay to store the things we do not need. Surely there is something that we can do something about this problem, and Mr. Connally suggests that if the cattle people can do it, the other agricultural leaders of the state can do consumer research and market surveys in Central and South America and in Mexico to see if our own we can't do something to solve our surplus commodity problem. He thinks it can be done through work, not through waiting for someone else to point the way.

He is for releasing the people of Texas from the burden imposed by the Insurance Commission through its automobile insurance program.

He is for separating the state's activities into a separate commission from the Labor Department, releasing the Labor Department to the job it was created to do. This would include improvement of highway safety, soil and water conservation, law enforcement, industrial safety, game and fish conservation, parks, and the tourist trade. In addition, he proposes to take some of the funds which were appropriated into the governor's emergency fund, to restore the San Antonio Monument, using a few million dollars to do the job, and disregarding plans for the new million and a half dollar parking garage proposed by Price Daniel.

Unlike his opponent in the June primary, Mr. Connally does not advocate doing away with the state sales tax, while at the same time proposing to spend more and more money, as has his opponent, Mr. Formby. Connally does agree that there are inequities in the state sales tax law which needs revision, and he proposes to do so. He does not propose to "scare away" business and industry as has been the policy of the State of Texas in the past few years, by overburdening them with taxes.

Yearbook Dedicated To Harley J. Redin

HARLEY J. REDIN

Coach Harley J. Redin, coach of the famous Wayland Baptist College Hutchinson Flying Queens and Athletic Director at the Plainview college, was recently announced as the faculty member to whom the 1962 edition of the Traveler is dedicated.

Redin, a 1936 graduate of Silvertown High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Redin. He joined the Wayland staff in 1946 and served as head basketball coach and Athletic Director 11 years before taking over the coaching of the Queens to lead them to six National AAU championships. He was also chosen to coach the United States All-Star team which toured Russia in 1961.

He earned his MS in physical education at North Texas State University, Denton.

Drama Campaign Is Underway in Area

The Symphonic Drama Campaign drive is now underway throughout the Panhandle. Campaign chairman for most area towns have been named. In Silvertown, Jack Strange is heading up the local campaign.

The campaign, sponsored by the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, seeks to build an amphitheater in the Palo Duro Canyon for the production of a gigantic historical pageant based on the history of the Texas Panhandle.

The drama will be written by Paul Green, noted playwright and novelist, who inaugurated Symphonic Drama. The name "Symphonic Drama" is used by Green to describe these productions because of the all-encompassing characteristics... music, pageantry, humor and action. Though there will be music, the play will be much more than a musical production.

When symphonic drama is launched in the Palo Duro Canyon it will be the first to be staged west of the Mississippi. The theater, to be located within the contour of a 600-foot bluff in the Canyon, will seat 1,000. Last year 150,000 visited the Palo Duro Canyon. The attraction of Symphonic Drama is expected to lure thousands of tourists who stop overnight in the Panhandle during the height of the tourist season. In Amarillo alone, some 5,000 stop overnight in motels and hotels during the vacation season.

Construction is expected to begin immediately after the campaign goal of $350,000 has been reached.

More than 380,000 people live within fifty miles of the canyon, and twice this number within a hundred mile radius. It will take twelve years before all of them can see the great show in the canyon, not including a single tourist.

Postmaster Explains New Regulation

After January 1, 1963, envelopes less than three inches in width (height) or 4 1/4 inches in length will be non-mailable, according to Postmaster Grady Martin.

Envelopes having shapes other than rectangular are also non-mailable, he added.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer May, now of Route 3, Dalhart, spent Friday and Saturday of last week here with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fleming and Beverly, other relatives and friends. They came to take Mike to their new home. He had remained here to finish the school term.

Board's Action Is Challenged

The First National Bank of Tulia has filed suit against the State Banking Board of Texas charging that the board's action in approving a state bank for Tulia was "arbitrary, capricious and illegal for the reason that no public necessity exists for an additional banking facility in or around Tulia, and that the Board's finding to the contrary, if such finding was made, is not supported by substantial evidence."

The plaintiff asks that the action of the defendants in approving a charter for the state bank be declared null and void, and that a new hearing before a jury be set.

Circuit Assembly To Be At Hobbs, N.M.

Jehovah's Witnesses of this area have received information from the Watchtower Society that their next circuit assembly will be in Hobbs, New Mexico, June 15-17.

V. D. Tiffin, presiding minister of the Quitaque Congregation, said, "The activity of the assembly will be built around the theme, 'Faithfully Increasing Our Praise to Jehovah.'"

"For each semi-annual circuit assembly," Tiffin said, "We have a goal of five percent increase over the previous assembly in the number of ministers that are doing house to house service, making back calls on interested persons and conducting Bible studies in their homes."

Approximately 700 active ministers, from the 17 congregation circuit, will have their local meetings cancelled for the three-day assembly in Hobbs, Tiffin said. "This is to afford everyone the opportunity to take advantage of the assembly program which is designed to help us increase our time and proficiency in the ministry."

BRISCOE COUNTY ASCS NEWS

'Grazing' Deadline Is Past
Farmers were reminded today that acreage under either the 1962 wheat or feed grain program may no longer be pastured.

Milton G. Martin, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Briscoe County Committee, said today that May 1 was the deadline for pasturing such acreage. Acreage to be diverted under the program is so designed by the program participant at the time a check is made of compliance.

Under the wheat and feed grain programs, farmers are seeking to bring production into line with needs through diverting to a conserving use acreage formerly planted to either wheat or corn, grain sorghums, or barley. Program payments are made under the programs to offset the loss of income which otherwise might have been returned from such crop production.

Farmers in Briscoe County have signed up 371 farms for participation in the wheat stabilization program, and 372 farms under the feed grain program. Acreage signed up for diversion under the programs included 14,869 acres from wheat production, 19,365 acres from corn-grain sorghum production, and 1,627 acres from barley production.

Marketing Quota Penalty Set
The U. S. Department of Agriculture on May 8 announced a marketing quota penalty rate of $1.59 per bushel on 1962-crop "excess" wheat production. This compares to a 1961-crop penalty rate of $1.08 per bushel.

When wheat marketing quotas are in effect as they are for 1962-crop wheat, the law requires penalties on excess wheat production at the rate of 65 per cent of parity as of May 1 of the crop year. The rate announced May 8 reflects 65 per cent of the May wheat parity price of $2.44 per bushel.

The Agricultural Act of 1961 increased the rate of penalty to 65 per cent of parity. Previously, the penalty rate had been set at 45 per cent of parity by law.

This rate times a farm's wheat excess, expressed in bushels, determines the actual amount of penalty.

Growers approved marketing quotas for the 1962 wheat crop, as announced October 16, 1961.

USDA officials point out that some farms with 15 acres or less of wheat may be subject to quota penalty on their production as a result of changes made in the law for 1962. Previously, producers on farms harvesting less than 15 acres of wheat were not subject to penalties.

For 1962, small farms (13.5 acres or less of wheat) on which the 1962 wheat acreage is higher than the highest acreage in any of the three years, 1959, 1960 and 1961, will be subject to penalty in 1962 in most cases.

The wheat marketing excess in bushels is determined by multiplying the acreage in acreage times the yield figure. This bushel figure times the penalty rate announced May 8 determines the farm's quota penalty in dollars. This may be paid in cash or the payment may be avoided by storing the excess wheat under bond or by delivering it to the Secretary of Agriculture in accordance with special instructions. When the penalty is satisfied, the remaining wheat may be marketed penalty free. However, if the penalty is not satisfied, any wheat marketed has an automatic lien against it.

Farmers who signed to participate in and comply with the 1962 wheat stabilization program will be eligible for price support on their 1962 production. Support will be at a national average rate of $2.00 per bushel.

Wheat farmers can obtain specific information from county ASCS offices as to how these new marketing quota provisions may apply to their farms.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By Virgil Henson

Caprock Soil Conservation Service

The recent high winds and dry weather remind us again that drought is normal in this area of the high and rolling plains. Most of the District has had very little moisture this spring. Some good rains have fallen in the vicinity of Quitaque and north of that area in the range country. However, the remainder of the District is very dry. Dryland wheat yields are much below what they have been for the past three years. The drop in cattle prices is a good reminder of the dry conditions of rangelands.

This is a good time to consider the proper use and care of rangeland. Earlier this year we worked with ranchers in the Great Plains Program making plans for drought. Two of the major things which these people planned were the use of sudan, sudex, etc. and small irrigated pastures for supplemental grazing. Of course, dryland sudan will be limited during this drought but it certainly will help some. The use of irrigated pastures such as bermuda grass, switch grass, etc. should not be overlooked. Dud Watters is considering seeding about fifteen acres of switchgrass for a small three-inch well. The above size irrigated pasture can furnish more grazing during the summer than a whole section of dry rangeland during drought.

Not only will supplemental grazing furnish forage for a cow herd, it will allow the native grass to rest and retain its vigor. Overgrazing rangeland during drought can be very harmful and can kill out the better grasses.

Marie Bishop arrived home on Tuesday of last week from Fontana, California. Marie and her sister, Katie Hill, went to Slaton for their mother, Mrs. J. N. Cantwell Friday afternoon, and returned her home to Silvertown. Katie is feeling a lot better after her bout with the flu.

Screwworm Program Results Noted

"Though we are just getting started, I believe we are now on the road toward eradication of the screwworm in the Southwest." This statement by R. L. Murphree, De Witt county, expresses the feeling of officials of the Animal Disease Eradication Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Texas Animal Health Commission and Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation.

"I have had only one screwworm case up to mid-year," Murphree continued. "Normally I would have had 15 to 20 cases. Though part of this may be due to the winter freeze, I have found several blows or egg masses which have not hatched. They have just dried up and indicate the release of sterile flies in the area is helping now."

Gillespie County ranchman Clint Hardin, Willow Springs, described how he found a baby calf with its navel covered with screwworm eggs. It was not doctored but the eggs did not hatch. This section has been a hot spot for screwworms in the county, according to County Agent C. A. Stone.

USDA officials explain the apparent leveling off of screwworm cases in many counties during the past week is just a preview of results that will be obtained once the new 75-million-per-week sterile fly production plant at Mission goes into operation. Production has been increased to almost 30 million flies per week at the operation. Production has been increased to almost 30 million flies per week at the temporary facilities at Kerrville, but this has not been sufficient to do the job.

Progress of construction at the Mission plant is another reason for the favorable outlook, the officials explained. Work is ahead of schedule, and the plant should be completed by mid-June. Fly production will be underway by July 1.

Eventual eradication of this costly livestock pest will come from a combination of the release of sterile flies and work by livestock owners. Stockmen should adhere closely to good screwworm management practices to protect their herds and help reduce screwworm populations in order that maximum results can be obtained from the sterile fly releases.

"We hope that no one had the idea that there would be no screwworms in Texas this first year," commented Claude McCan, Victoria county ranchman and a member of the board of trustees of the SWAHRF. "Although we have had fewer cases than in the past in many areas, it is a question of each individual stockman staying with the fight."

McCan added that they had just dehorned and castrated the third round and have had only two screwworm cases. Normally, at this time of the year, they expect 100 to 150 cases. "Since Victoria county is in real screwworm country," he said, "you could normally expect almost 100 percent infestation when working or dropping calves at this time of the year."

Every case of screwworms put out of commission now prevents thousands of cases three to five weeks later. In turn, this helps make more effective use of the limited supply of available flies and will speed up eradication, explained the officials.

Officials stressed that stockmen should now follow a regular preventative spray program using

Co-Ral or Korlan, following the instructions on the label. These sprays give protection for two to three weeks.

Cattlemen in Texas are praising the support already given but officials of the cooperative agencies stressed that no one should let up in his responsibilities to the program now, the officials said.

These responsibilities include the regular spray program, and frequent observation of animals, pre-treatment of wounds before they become infested with screwworms, early intensive treatment of screwworm-infested animals and frequent treatment. Also the collection of 10 worms from each wound for positive identification. The worms should be delivered to the local county agent or livestock inspector.

Mrs. Billy McWilliams of Quanah and Mrs. Frank Hunt of Dalhart were in town Wednesday of last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Arnold Celebrate Wedding Anniversary With Open House

Rev. and Mrs. Porter Arnold

Rev. and Mrs. Porter Arnold celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary with open house on Sunday, May 13, at their home in Bellview, New Mexico.

Rev. and Mrs. Arnold were married on May 14, 1922, near Quail, Texas, at her home. Fifteen guests who were present at the wedding attended the celebration. Among these were Doug Arnold, Gerald Arnold and Mrs. Carroll Garrison.

Receiving the guests were the children of Rev. and Mrs. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Arnold of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mack Walker and children of Silverton. One daughter, Mrs. Joe Marcus of LaFayette, Indiana, was unable to attend.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth centered with an arrangement of American Beauty roses. The wedding cake was topped with large white sugar wedding bells and ruby roses. The traditional ruby color was used throughout the house, as the couple observed their Ruby Anniversary.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Elmer White of Grady, New Mexico, and Mrs. Doyle Hall of Clovis, New Mexico, great nieces of Rev. Arnold. Also assisting with the hospitalities of the home were several of the ladies from the Bellview Baptist Church of which Rev. Arnold is pastor.

Among Rev. Arnold's pastorates are the Lubbock, Vernon and Spur areas in Texas, and San Jon, Elida and Bellview in New Mexico.

Approximately 140 guests called, including these from Silverton: Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Garrison and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Arnold, Susie, Doug and Lydia, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mack Walker, Cliff, Jimmy and Cynthia.

David Odom of Wellman, has been spending a visit with his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Turner.

We've got GAS air conditioning at our house!

Boy, it's the MOST! It does more than just COOL, too. It circulates, ventilates, dehumidifies and cleans the air. Oh, and it HEATS in winter... I almost forgot! Mom says it's a lot easier to keep house, now, because there ain't... I mean "isn't"... as much dust around. And you should hear Dad go on about how his hay fever's let up since we bought the Arkla-Serve. An' you know what? It runs so much cheaper than our old job that the folks increased my allowance from the savings! All I know is that when I get a house, I'm gonna have an Arkla-Serve Sun Valley, too. Say, ain't I mean "isn't," that a funny name for an air conditioner!
