SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Irrigated pastures have shown to be very productive for summer grazing. They also fit well into a rotation grazing plan with winter wheat, says the Cap Rock Soil Conservation Service.

Debbie Henderson reports that on a four-acre irrigated pasture of midland bermuda on Mrs. Odie Pearl Lovvorn's farm, he grazed 21 dry cows from the first of May until the 20th of September. This irrigated bermuda was sprigged on May 15, 1960, and was grazed from August 15 until after frost after sprigging. The second summer, he grazed the pasture periodically as he was trading cattle.

This past summer he kept the pasture divided with an electric fence to rotate the grazing while he was irrigating. The pasture was watered and fertilized four times during the growing season. The 21 dry cows grazed these four acres from May 1 until October 20 with no supplemental feed, except when the pasture was too wet for grazing.

Henderson believes that some supplemental feeding of meal and hulls would improve the production of the pasture. He also believes that an irrigated pasture of midland bermuda grass would fit very well into a rotation of grazing wheat in the winter and irri-

FIVE - YEAR CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM ANNOUNCED BY PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

A 5 year construction program which anticipates the investment of an additional $130,000,000 in new facilities to meet the electric needs of this area, has been announced by A. R. Watson, President and General Manager of the Southwestern Public Service Co.

"In all sections of our 45,000 square mile service area, the indications are that the fast growth which has marked recent years will continue. We have a two-fold obligation to have facilities available for our customers before their need, and to keep their rates low and service efficient. Our construction program is designed to fulfill that obligation", Watson said.

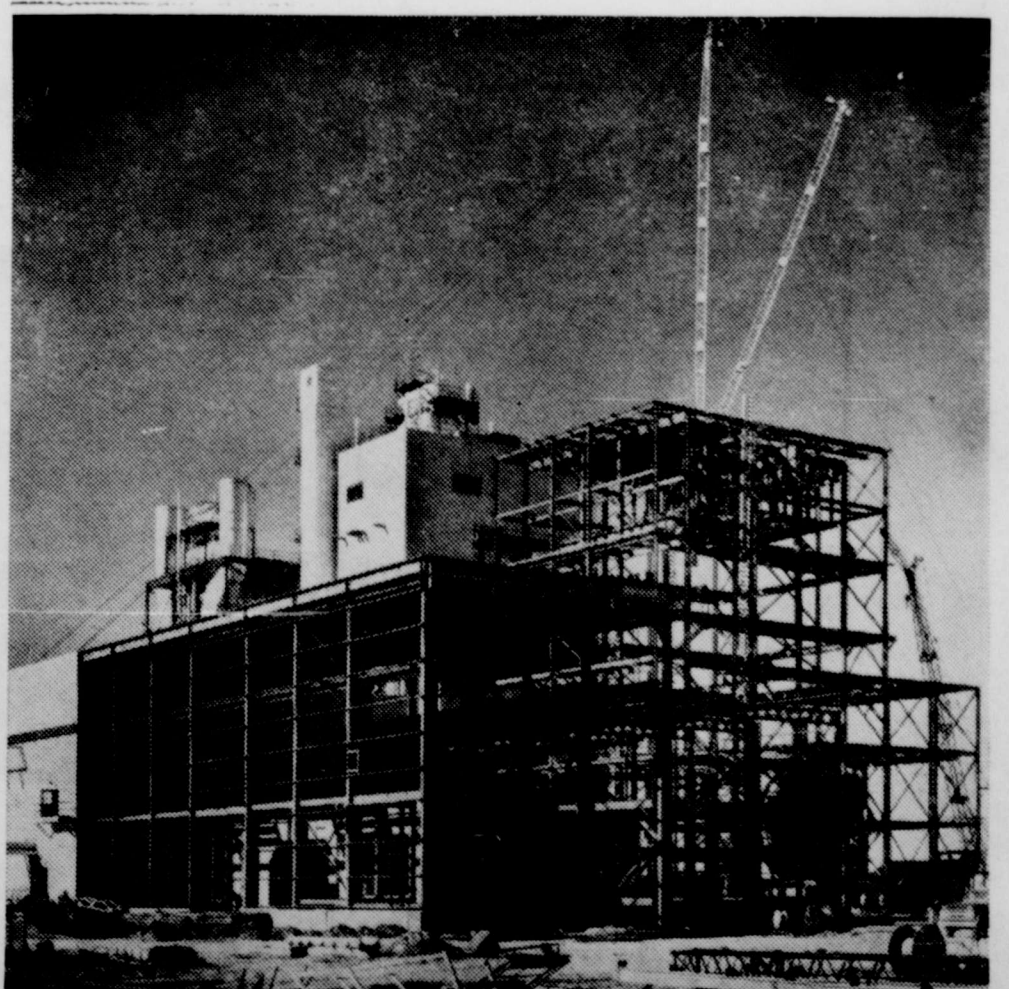

The 1963 portion of the 5 year program calls for an investment of nearly $25,000,000, with new generating and transmission facilities accounting for the bulk of the figure.

A 210,000 kilowatt generator, largest single unit ever installed by Southwestern Public Service Co., is now under construction at Plant X, near Earth, Texas. Scheduled to be in service in June, 1964 the new unit will bring capability of Plant X to nearly 500,000 kilowatts and make it one of the largest generating stations in the Southwest.

1964 the new unit will bring capability of Plant X to nearly 500,000 kilowatts and make it one of the largest generating stations in the Southwest.

"A first" for the Southwestern system in 1963, will be the installation of a 10,000 kilowatt gas turbine unit at Roswell. This "package-power plant" will be used as stand-by equipment and at peak periods. It is designed to start automatically, with the turbine being driven by gas and compressed air rather than the steam drive used in the larger units on the system.

"I'm not sure that our customers are aware of the vital part that new equipment plays in keeping their rates down. Our fuel rates, for example, are up almost 100% in the last ten years. Yet, by constantly investing in new and efficient equipment, plus the fact that our customers are using more and more electric service, we have managed to keep our rates at the same level that existed 11 years ago", Watson said.

Construction of a fourth generating unit, with a capability of 210,000 kilowatts, is underway at Southwestern Public Service Company's Plant X, near Earth, Texas. The electric light and power company will invest more than $24,000,000 in new facilities in 1963, and a total of an additional $130,000,000 in the next five years. The Plant X unit under construction is the largest generator ever installed by the company.
