When we go to our post office box and find envelopes which contain contributions of news for the coming week's edition from our readers it causes a warm feeling of appreciation to rise in us. Try as we may it is impossible to contact everyone who may have news every week, and without these contributions your local newspaper cannot fulfill its role in the community.

You will probably never hear of the owner of a small weekly newspaper (any small weekly) getting rich. Some of them do very well, but many have income from other sources on which to rely. We feel that our greatest reward in this business is a mother's pride in her daughter's wedding write-up; a couple's joy in seeing their anniversary picture in print; a parent's elation when he reads of his child's accomplishments. Their appreciation and a love of the work keeps us going.

By the same token, we are aware that our efforts often fall short. We are not able to cover all events properly, and often we slip up and fail to give coverage to important events. When this happens it is a blow to us personally, and even though we may not be personally involved in that particular event, still we would never intentionally slight a news item.

Remember that your local newspaper wants and needs your news, your advertising and your printing jobs—they are our lifeblood, our sustenance.

We are genuinely interested in the welfare of our neighbors and friends—and there is not another medium that can truthfully make that statement about the people here! Other media are interested in the monetary gain only.

We would like to request your cooperation in improving your hometown newspaper. We are endeavoring to give more complete news from the churches, and as you will notice a listing of the schedules of services at the various Silverton churches is now being carried without special sponsorship. We would like to have news from all the churches, especially advance meeting notices of the church groups.

We request that you contribute letters to the editor whenever you may be moved to do so. They will be printed regardless of the subject if your names are signed to them. And if you sign your name to the letter it can be withheld if it is so requested. Letters to the editor can be an interesting part of the local newspaper, and can point up local situations which need to be brought to the attention of the public.

Your contributions also make our work more interesting. All of us tend to get in a comfortable old rut and stay there. Your news contributions, whether mailed or phoned in, are a refreshing change for us, too.

Austin, Tex.—County tax assessor-collectors are moving here to try to untangle the poll tax puzzle.

It seems that the Legislature created a snarl which will hit the county tax assessor-collectors about October 1. That's the date when people begin paying poll taxes and getting exemption certificates.

In a special election on November 9, voters will decide whether or not they want to repeal the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

If they repeal it, a new law will go into effect, setting up a 25c registration fee.

To make matters more complicated, the November 9 vote really would not repeal the poll tax. In theory, it still would be due and payable. But not many are expected to pay the tax if the voting privilege is removed from it.

If the tax assessor-collectors solve their problem this fall by waiting until after November 9 to fill out and mail poll tax receipts, they may face another crisis in the spring. This because 36 states already have passed a proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for voting for president, vice president, U. S. senators and congressmen.

In January, Arizona and South Dakota legislatures will meet and if they pass the amendment, it could be carried to law. In that event, a provision by the Texas Legislature would set up a system by which voters would apply to their harassed county tax assessor-collectors for special registration certificates—at no charge—to vote on races involving only federal offices.

Pool Halls Get New Status
Townpeople who have had trying to set curfews on pool halls, because the pool parlors were illegal, can look to one bright side of a law that will become effective on August 23.

City governments then will be able to set curfews because on that date the pool halls will become legal operations in Texas.

Citizens Committees Come To End
A legislative "rider" in the 1964-65 state budget bill prohibits payment of travel expenses to members of the citizens' advisory committee which meets with the State Board of Education.

This has caused the board to bid goodbye to the system which Herbert O. Willborn of Amarillo calls "one of the strengths of this administration."

Rider approved expenses of advisory committees on textbooks and teacher examiners, but cut all others.

Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar remarked that the practice of using "grassroots" committees of citizens interested in education "has been the lifeblood of this agency." But he discouraged suggestions that volunteer help be used if committeemen were willing to pay their own travel expenses. He said such a practice would go against the Legislature's intent and cause committees to be dominated by special-interest groups.

Riders on appropriations bills are written at the bottom of budgets for individual state agencies. It is not unusual for such riders to go unnoticed by the lawmakers especially when voting on bulky budget bills.

Another Junior College?

Board of Education has authorized a Travis County junior college election.

But it turned down an application for a Scurry-Fisher County junior college. Turndown came after a committee said the oil-rich area could afford a college, but could not dig up enough students to meet state board requirements.

In its refusal report the committee, headed by former State Senator Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, implied that the board may change its criteria for establishing junior colleges after the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School makes its recommendations in August of 1964.

Currently, the board requires proof that taxpayers in the district can support a public junior college. But it also requires a minimum of 500 students.

Redistricting Suit Set
Talk of a special legislative session perked up as a federal court in Harris County set a September 23 hearing of a Republican-sponsored congressional redistricting lawsuit.

Texas' 58th Legislature tried to set a formula for congressional redistricting. But a token bill died in the final minutes of the session. Some who opposed it said they would rather let the federal courts settle the matter. Others said they would rather meet in a special session than leave it to federal judges.

State Democratic Chairman Eugene Locke of Austin has asked the court to dismiss the G.O.P. Suit.

Veterans Land Brings $555
Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said the sale of 82 tracts of forfeited veterans land (totaling 2,223 acres) was "gratifying", since it brought more than the state's original investment plus taxes paid since forfeiture.

The block of tracts in Zavala, Maverick and Hidalgo counties brought $211,753.84. This included $155,001 for an 886-acre unit in Zavala County, which Grady Claude Hogue of Cisco won after

THE SUPREME COURT -- DEFENDER OF RELIGION

by H. M. Baggarly
From The Tullia Herald

The highly emotional subject of prayers in public schools is again with us. Let us say that we are all for every attempt to advance the Christian faith, to encourage Christian living. We would say that these things should occupy first place in our lives.

Yet we are sick unto death of the absurd inconsistency which we see on every hand in those who are most critical of the Supreme Court ruling.

In the first place, our government was not set up to propagate Christianity. It was merely set up to provide a climate where Christianity, or any other religion, could flourish without interference by government. The function of government is to give religious institutions freedom to practice and propagate their faith. This freedom is all religious groups have to expect from government—a hands off policy.

We must remember that Jews and followers of other non-Christian religions also are citizens of this country. How would we Protestants like it if the Jews or even Catholics attempted to practice their distinctive practices in the public schools, if a teacher read from the Douay version of the Bible or scattered about a few "hail Mary's"? We would be quick to demand that all this be kept out of the public schools.

The question boils down to this—do we really believe in separation of church and state or do we just want those views different from ours thrown out.

In the second place, we wonder how many of those most vocal in protesting the Supreme Court ruling have prayer and Bible reading in the privacy of their own homes.

As we review our own education, we cannot recall one instance some spirited bidding.

Tight Little Island

State Highway Department has discovered an island of Mexico in the heart of El Paso.

Highway department claims that there is a quarter-mile section on U. S. Highway 80 in El Paso where you can drive through Texas and see Old Mexico with one eye and New Mexico with the other eye.

Department says Cordova Island became a Mexican oasis in the Texas city of El Paso under the Guadalupe Hidalgo Treaty of 1848. Treaty provided that artificial changes in the Rio Grande's course would not affect Cordova Island's boundary. Now that the meandering river has changed its course the Island is surrounded by American soil.

Migrant School Experiment

Five school districts will be able to take part in a pilot program of six-month school sessions for the children of migrant workers during the 1963-64 school year. That is if the Texas Education Agency can find five districts that can handle the program.

San Benito and Edinburg school districts are ready to participate.

McAllen and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo districts are readying proposals to submit to the State Board of Education.

Pilot program would be an experiment. Hope is to solve the problem of educating children of migrant laborers who are on the move so much that their youngsters miss almost as much school as they attend.

Farm Road Mileage Extended

State Highway Commission has approved construction of more than 1,000 new miles of farm-to-market roads in 172 counties at a cost of some $24,000,000.

Completion of the 1963 F-M road program would bring the state's F-M system to more than 37,000 miles. That's just 13,000 miles short of the commission's ultimate goal of 50,000 miles. Most of the farm roads have been built since 1949.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer linked development of the system to burgeoning city growth in the state. "Farms and cities will always be inter-dependent," he said. "... getting goods to market is as fundamental to commerce as is the transaction between merchant and customer.

More Workers Working

Texas Employment Commission reports that 3,567,700 out of the state's estimated 10,317,000 population were employed by someone other than themselves during the month of May.

Number of employed was way up from April's 3,542,200.

So too was the estimated population of the state. Population in April was figured as 10,297,000.

Thirty day gain in population was 20,000 persons. Employment increased by 25,500 persons.

when we ever heard the Bible read or prayer offered in a classroom. Yet we don't feel that we have particularly been deprived of a Christian environment because of this. We've heard the Bible read perhaps more than any other book in existence. We don't feel that the failure of the public schools to read the Bible to us has in any way influenced us adversely.

If each home had a daily devotional in which the Bible was read and prayer was offered, if the parents made sure their children were in Sunday School and church each Sunday, if the children took part in Christian activities available such as Hi-Y, reading of the Bible in the public schools would not only be unnecessary but perhaps might be overdoing it! It would be almost like going to Sunday School twice on Sunday morning.

The simple fact is—the place to promote Christianity is, first, in the home, and, second, in the Christian assembly. Even Bible reading without comment in public schools by a non-believer or by a highly sectarian teacher can defeat a holy purpose if passages are read out of context, if the reader concentrates on some passages that tend to support one viewpoint of a highly controversial doctrine, while ignoring other passages which cast additional light on the subject. A teacher could conceivably read only Calvinistic passages or perhaps only Arminian passages. Or she could read only those passages which seem to contradict or perhaps to be "unscientific" for the purpose of promoting doubt in the Scriptures. Or she could quote a passage authored by Satan without naming the author, leaving the impression that the statement was a teaching of the Bible.

As it has been practiced through the years in some schools, Bible reading has no doubt been beneficial—yet how do we know that the time will not come when even a good thing could be abused. When the Supreme Court makes a ruling, it is not thinking of the effect of a particular incident... rather it is thinking of the precedent set, the principle established. For instance, it might well prefer to deny freedom of speech to some fanatical religious cult which advocates snake handling or perhaps extreme pacifism. But the principle established would effect all religious groups. So it is better to let the fanatics rage in order to preserve freedom of speech.

As much as we believe in Bible reading and prayer, we do not feel that the Supreme Court ruling adversely affects the parents who want to raise their children to become Christians and in the atmosphere of Bible readings. They still have much better avenues open to them than the public schoolroom... the home, the church, Sunday school, prayer meetings. With church prayer meetings so poorly attended, we hardly think it behooves Americans to make an issue out of the Supreme Court ruling curbing state composed prayers and Bible reading. And when we read where Governor Wallace of Alabama says that they will have Bible reading in the Alabama schools regardless of the Supreme Court ruling, we are even prone to question the motives of those advocating Bible reading in the schools.

Is their purpose to love God or to hate the Supreme Court?

The Silverton Cyclone

Editor's Note: The following song was submitted by Mrs. H. P. Howard of Silverton. It is an adaptation of the song, "The Sherman Cyclone." The Sherman storm occurred on May 15, the same day that a similar storm ripped through Silverton in 1957 killing 20 and injuring 80 others. Another tornado hit Amarillo on May 15 in 1949 killed 6 and injured 83. Though the Sherman tornado preceded the one at Silverton by a good many years, the reaction of the people involved was understandably quite similar to that of our own.

Kind friends, if you will listen,
A story I will tell.
It's of a great Tornado,
You all remember well.
It reached the town of Silverton
On the fifteenth day of May
And a portion of our City
Was completely swept away.

The people, gay and happy,
In their cozy settled homes -
They little thought so shortly
They'd be forced to meet their doom.
But at last their days were ended
Their lives were snatched away.
Now beneath the sod they are sleeping
Until the final judgment day.

We saw the storm approaching,
The clouds looked dreadful black,
And through our little city
It made its dreadful track.
We saw the lightning flashing
And heard the thunder roll.
And in the fewest moments
The story soon was told.

We heard the crash of timber
And buildings tumbling down.
The distressing screams of victims
Oh! what a dreadful sound -
It would melt the hardest hearted
To hear them loudly cry
"Oh! God have mercy on me
Is this the time to die?"

Some fought for homes and refuge
Their lives to rescue there,
While some were dashed asunder,
And many in despair.
The rain fell in great torrents,
The storm was quickly o'er,
And in the fewest moments
The story soon was told.

The loss of lives and ruin
Was hard to estimate.
The happiest of families
They had to separate,
God help the broken hearted
The cyclone left behind
To make their preparations
For soon may be their time.

OPERATION "BIG" PROGRAM HAS FULL SUPPORT OF F.H.A.

"The Operation BIG Program has the full support of the Farmers Home Administration," was the statement made by L. J. Cappleman, State Director of the F.H.A. at a recent meeting. He said, "The Farmers Home Administration has out over $50,000,000 in loans to farmers in the 51 counties that make up the Operation BIG area. During fiscal 1963 the F.H.A. has made over 3,000 loans to farmers in this area for a total of over $15,000,000.

"For instance," Mr. Cappleman said, "about 950 farmers who use F.H.A. credit are growing about 100,000 acres of cotton. About 82,000 acres will be fertilized and 99,500 acres will be protected by the insect control program advocated by F.H.A. They have borrowed $487,000 for fertilizer and $610,000 for insecticides. About 630 of these farmers are growing 32,000 acres of grain sorghum, needing $161,000 for fertilizer. In order to 440 fames to grow 14,000 acres of wheat, F.H.A. loaned them $67,000 for fertilizer. Over 900 farmers wanted to improve 26,000 acres of old pasture and plant es, church dues, and spend it with the businessman, merchants, etc. in this area. Reputable authorities have said that a dollar such as this would turn over on an average of five to seven times before leaving a community.

This means a 75 to 150 million dollar impact on the economy in this area.

"Beef cattle is a growing farm enterprise in the Operatiin BIG area and 1,254 farmers with herds of 10 head or over already have 35,000 head. F.H.A. has loaned some 540 farmers $1,552,000 to buy 9,500 head of cows and 326 improved beef bulls."

Mr. Cappleman, in commenting on dairying in the 51 counties, said, "F.H.A. is helping 371 dairymen with an average herd of 50 cows. The 1962 average production of these herds was 8,086 pounds of milk per cow." The 1962 estimated Texas state average milk production was 5,610 pounds per cow and this was the highest annual Texas state average of record.

The F.H.A. makes several different types of loans such as Farm Ownership, Rural Housing, etc., where the payments are distributed over a period of years; and Mr. Cappleman said, "The balance owed F.H.A. on loans in the BIG area as of December, 1962, was about $35,000,000. In addition to the above, the F.H.A. has loaned in 1963 $1,740,000 to 107 farmers to either buy a family farm or enlarge their present small farm. Also 290 persons borrowed $2,812,000 to build rural homes under the Rural Housing Program.

"Water distribution Loans are making it possible for over 3,200 users to have good water," he said, "as there are 34 of these associations operating in this area and the F.H.A. has loaned them $3,649,000 so they could get this water. The associations have to meet the standards of the Texas Public Health Department."

This amount of money released in this area has helped the overall economy of each community, town or county as these farmers use this money to pay school tax-

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner.

And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no anti-freeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

The State Jury will consist of three competent members. The scholarship award will be presented by Governor John B. Connally in the name of the Democratic Women of Texas and will consist of a $500.00 scholarship to be used for advanced study in any of the visual arts.
