Summer Science Program Explained

By Lester L. Grabbe Many of you have heard that had the opportunity to take part in a biology program this summer at the University of Texas. Perhaps your curiosity was aroused.

Therefore, I will try to describe it

briefly

The program was a six-weeks The program was a six-weeks affair, with an optional additional der, Mrs. Bryant Eddleman, Mrs. Mrs. W. M. Archer and Earl Stevand Larry of Petersburg visited three weeks. It was sponsored by the National Science Foundation, and 35 students participated.

12:00 there was a class which in ey, Mrs. Kay Skelton and Lisa, ris of Houston cluded lectures by the director of the program, Dr. Irwin Spear, into various aspects of modern biology; lectures by guest scientists on their particular fields of research; films, slides, etc.

noon each student participated in actual going research in cooperation with, and under the direction scientists who were doing research in that field. Each student most interested to do research.

The program also included field trips, reports on the progress of the student research, outside reading, and, of course, the inevitable tests over the classwork.

During the last three weeks (for which most of the students stayed) there was no calss and the students participated in research both morning and afternoon.

The program was profitable in many ways. Not only did the students learn what modern biology is like, but they also learned what the work of a research scientist is like, what college is like, and, far from least, about people, how they think and how they live. I, gram
