

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

I know that many of the opinions which I express in this column are not shared by the general public, but I think on this one thing we can all agree: The Silvertown area is most fortunate to have had the service of two good young doctors available for the past few months.

I don't have to stretch my memory very far to remember how inconvenient it was when we had no doctor here. Doctors weren't available for house calls or for office calls, and going to see a doctor meant the loss of an entire day.

It isn't difficult to remember how swamped with calls Dr. Muckleroy was when he moved here. Many nights he was out all night long attending the sick and injured. I really think that the only thing that kept him going day and night seven days a week was the hope that his friend, Dr. Wurgler, would soon be here to relieve some of the burden.

With two doctors on the job, it has been possible for them both to have a little time to spend with their families—time to visit out-of-town relatives, and time for some much needed recreation. It isn't good for anyone to "keep his nose to the grindstone" seven days a week without rest.

We have been so fortunate to have had these two young doctors who were willing to drive more than a thousand miles a week to hospital facilities in Tullia at their own personal expense.

Do you know what response the people have made? The patients have responded by suddenly refusing to pay their doctor bills! This is really gratitude for their service to the community.

Dr. Wurgler is planning to leave Silvertown soon. He can't afford to stay here and deprive his family of the things they deserve—especially at a time when doctors are needed so badly almost everywhere. Neither is it practical for a doctor who has specialized in surgery to remain in a town in which there is no hospital.

How long do you think Dr. Muckleroy will stay? The next time you leave the doctor's office without paying take a look back and recall how it will be when the door is locked and the doctors are gone.

Fisherman have made a startling new discovery within the past few years.

Although often the fastest fishing is to be had up near the surface, anglers have learned that frequently the biggest fish are to be found deep, right near the bottom. This is true of all our scaled species, from white bass to black bass, and occasionally the only place you can find any action is within proximity of the bottom.

One of the best baits for this kind of fishing is the ordinary

DEAR EDITOR:

This is my first time to write a letter to the editor, but I feel so deeply about this matter that I cannot keep my mouth shut. There are rumors circulating silver spoon. Conventionally, an angler casts out a spoon and starts the wobbling chunk of convex metal back the moment it touches the surface. This makes it travel in a level plane a few inches under the surface.

The new twist is to allow the spoon to plummet to the bottom on a limp line, then take up the slack and sort of jig it along the bottom, raising the lowering it. This serves a two-fold purpose. It puts the spoon in a strata of water where there is apt to be more fish; and it simulates the crippled action of a minnow.

It makes good sense to change your retrieve periodically, to give your lure more lifelike action. A minnow swimming naturally through the water won't draw as much attention from a hungry fish as will one that is obviously wounded, struggling up and down. It stands to reason, then, that a lure with this crippled action will entice the most strikes.

Sometimes this bottom bumping a spoon pays off in the most unlikely situations.

Take schooling white bass, for instance. It would seem that a lure pulled through a school of feeding fish, right near the surface, would bring the most strikes. Perhaps it will. But often bigger fish are to be had by going deep, right to the bottom.

What happens is the larger whites hover below the younger, more eager whites which have trapped shad near the surface. The older fish wait patiently until the young whites kill shad and they feed leisurely on the dead bait fish which sink to the bottom.

Bottom bumping also is quite effective on whites in early spring, when the fish are congregated in the deep holes prior to their annual migration upstream to spawn. And it isn't unusual for black bass to be associating with the whites, to feed on shad that the whites have crippled and missed.

It frequently happens that the unsuspecting angler is jigging a spoon for whites when he ties into a real trophy black bass. That happened to my old buddy Russell Tinsley, outdoors editor of the Austin American-Statesman, last spring. He was jigging a spoon for whites along a deep sandbar where the Pedernales River enters Lake Travis when he had a wallop strike. His catch turned out to be a six-pound black bass.

Bob Hill, another Austin fisherman, had an unusual experience, also on Lake Travis, when he was spoon jigging for whites and instead tied into an 18-pound catfish.

that we might lose our doctors. If what I hear is correct I certainly cannot blame them at all for leaving. It is said that they have $24,000 on their books that they cannot collect. Now Briscoe County lost a fine doctor (Dr. Powers) for that reason long ago. I thought that this group of fine people had learned their lesson.

I believe we are extremely lucky to have two wonderful men that have so dedicated themselves to our health, and they'll have no trouble at all finding a place to make a decent living. But where will we be?

I think everybody had better rake and scrape or we'll be sorry. Wake up citizens!

If you print this I would prefer my name not be printed.

FOLLOW THAT PRESCRIPTION!

People often spend time and money going to the doctor, additional time and money getting a prescription filled—and then proceed to "improve upon" the doctor's directions or to ignore them completely.

How you take the medicine is important. Too little—too much—too soon—too late: these are some of the things that can cause a prescribed medicine to be ineffective or sometimes even harmful.

Your doctor knows what he wants you to have. His instructions are precise. Your pharmacist spells them out precisely. They are your doctor's instructions to you. Follow them faithfully.

Easter symbolizes the promise of Peace made by Him. This Peace is found not in treaties or proclamations by nations, but in the hearts of individual men. Just as the power of the Roman sword faded into antiquity so will the troubles of this age recede as the Promise of Peace finds root in the hearts of men everywhere. Our thoughts and prayers are directed to this as we come once again to Easter. We greet all of you with a sincere wish for an Easter of Peace.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Grassed Waterways

by Cletus Grady

Waterways are natural or man made water courses that are protected from washing by a grass cover. They are used as safe outlets for diversions and terraces and to carry outside water through farms.

The best location for a waterway is a natural drain. Usually these are the flattest slopes and the soil moisture conditions are favorable for good grass growth.

If a waterway can not be located in a natural drain, it is best to put it along a field boundary. This is usually more expensive because of the cost of shaping.

A waterway should be wide enough to carry the runoff from the largest rain expected once every ten years. It should be shaped to spread water out and prevent it from running too deep at any one place.

A waterway should be worked into a good seedbed to control weeds and prepare the soil for grass planting. A dead litter crop should be sown to provide temporary protection from erosion and to protect grass seedlings.

If the dead litter crop begins to mature seed, it should be mowed at a height of 6 to 10 inches. Hay could be harvested. It is best not to graze a cover crop.

When a waterway is shaped too late to plant a dead litter crop, cotton burs or other mulch material can be used. At least three tons of burs per acre should be applied. Two and 1/2 tons of fine stem hay would provide adequate cover. Barnyard manure mixed with hay or straw could also be used. Mulch material should be applied just before planting.

It is best to use native grasses when seeding a waterway. Weeds should be shredded or sprayed to protect young grasses. Native grasses are usually seeded at this time of the year.

Abuse and neglect are the most common causes of failures in establishing waterways. It takes little care to keep a waterway functioning properly. Waterways pay by preventing erosion.

Why Do We Celebrate Easter The Way We Do!

By Mary Monroe

As you know, Easter is the spring time Christian festival which honors the resurrection, or rising from the dead of Jesus. But have you ever wondered why we wear new clothes to church on that Sunday and how the Easter Bunny came into being?

Many of the Easter customs are quaint and other are full of meaning. People often wear new clothes on Easter because this is the time of year that the earth is becoming dressed in a new "cloak of greenery". The idea of Easter eggs came to us from ancient Egypt and Persia. They thought the eggs were a sign of new life. An ancient legend has it that they were laid by the Easter rabbit on Easter eve. Churches are often decorated with white lilies, because lilies are a symbol of purity and light. The Cross reminds worshippers of the religious meaning of Easter. An Easter custom practiced in several countries is Easter Egg Rolling. The most famous egg roll is on the White House lawn in Washington, D.C. President Hayes started the White House egg roll in 1878 and this custom has been observed ever since.

This Sunday when you go to worship at your church remember the real and true meaning of Easter. When Christ arose from the dead many many years and centuries ago, this was and still is one of the most, if not the most, remarkable incident that ever happened since the world began.

Volleyball Tourney Scheduled Here

Some important changes have been made in our volleyball tournament. We will have three divisions of play—men's teams, women's teams, and mixed teams. You may sponsor one, two, or three teams in the tournament. The same person may play on two teams. There is no entry fee for a team. An admission fee will be charged for everyone—player, spectator, student, etc.

The student council asked Mr. Rampley and Mr. Whelchel to take entries and manage the tournament. So get your team together; arrange a practice period if you wish.

Let's make this a time of fun and fellowship. The Student Council will run the concession stand and sell sandwiches and drinks.

The money will be used to finance our AFS program. We need your help and cooperation. A trophy will be given the winning team in each division. Tentative time is set for April 14, 16 and 17. Admission fee will be 25c and 50c.

Eighth Grade Presents Program

In the Tuesday, March 17, assembly, the eighth grade entertained the high school with a skit and a play.

The program began with an exclusive of the "Beatles" on the Ed Sullivan Show. The "Beatles" group was composed of Mary Whitfill, Nancy Nance, Roy Ann Bomar, and Nancy Long. They pantomimed (along with a record player) "I Saw Her Standing There" and "I Want to Hold Your Hand."

Then the class put on the play, "Great Smokies!" a hillbilly one-act comedy. The play was about a hillbilly "paw" and his three "youngin's." It seems Paw, who is a widower, has found himself a gal, the Wider Snodgrass. Because he thinks the Wider won't like his kids because they are so old, he has them dress up as if they were five years younger.

But Hiram, Ducky Belle, and Emmy Sue don't take too kindly to this, perhaps because Hiram has a girl friend and Ducky Belle and Emmy Sue can't find anyone to court them.

However, everything is resolved when it turns out the Wider has also tried to make her children much younger, too, and Ducky Belle and Emmy Sue each finds herself a "feller."

The characters were Clifford Rowell as Paw Schlepper; Vanita Teeple as Ducky Belle Schlepper; Rickie Bingham as Emmy Sue Schlepper; Randy Cantrell as Hiram Schlepper; Pat Grabbe as the Wider Daisy Snodgrass; Sharon Ellis as Dottie Lou Snodgrass; Terry Grimland as Willie Snodgrass; Joyce Brooks as Lizzie Cook, Hiram's girl friend; and Richard McCutchen as Zeke Cook, Lizzie's brother.

Brother Branam Speaks At Assembly

Mr. Lonnie Branam, minister of the First Church of Christ, spoke to the assembled student body on Wednesday, March 18. Mr. Branam used "Success" as the subject of his talk.

Life is like a football game—you don't know how many fumbles you will make, what will go wrong or what plays you will make, but you know you will go by certain rules, said Mr. Branam.

There are no definite or set rules that will absolutely guarantee you success, continued Mr. Branam. But there are certain rules which, if they are followed, will give you a better chance at success — rules that successful men have followed.

Mr. Branam said he had a book in his library entitled, "From Father to Son." This book, said Mr. Branam, tells of a man who, wanting to insure of his son, interviewed many businessmen to find why they had been successful or why they had failed.

After about a year and a half's study, he reduced his finds to seven rules. Here are these rules, with some of Mr. Branam's comments on them:

1. Select an occupation while you are young. By the time you are 40, you should already have learned a certain skill. After 40 it is too late.

2. Be patient. Success takes time.

3. Be thrifty. Don't go after the get rich quick schemes. The only sure way to save is to live on a little less than you make and put the rest back as savings. A person saving $1 per day, and putting it in a savings account, and starting the saving at age 25, will have $21,000 saved by the time he is 55.

4. Seek advice only from those qualified to give it. You will need advice, and you should get it. But if you want advice about bricks, go to a bricklayer and not to a doctor; go to the right person.

5. Be careful in your selection of a wife. The successful men had selected their wives on how much common sense they had, regardless of beauty or physical attraction.

6. Make friends. The Bible says a good friend is better than wealth.

7. Develop good character. This is really the most important rule. The ultimate source of good character is Jesus Christ.

If Darkness Comes

by Marsey Moors

The Muleheaded Marsian There has always been talk about the sun running out of energy. No, not all at once but gradually. If this should happen while we are yet living, what would we do?

You girls around here might consider it a blessing. Think of the advantages. You wouldn't have to worry about how you looked because no one could see you. The real blessing or dream which they might wish to come true would be the end of the Track Meets and Fat Stock Shows on the week-ends. But would it be any better? At least when they are on a School sponsored trip you know where they are.

In a way it might be for the best if it came during our time. For then just think, it would be impossible for the "all seeing eye of SHS" to watch over you during the week-ends. Your private life would be yours!

I've been told not to worry about it because it was not going to happen during our time. Then, I was promised that even if the darkness comes there will be light. You see it is confirmed fact that the Blonds of SHS glow in the dark . . . Even if their blessing grow off we still have the naturals like G. T.!!!

Senior Girls Enter Volleyball Tourney

Six senior girls, Susie Hill, Jeal-eta Eddleman, Gloria Wallace, Masako Nakabe, Raye Garrison and Sheryl May made up the team called the Silverton Seniors on Tuesday night in a volleyball tournament at Turkey. They defeated the Turkey T's two straight games with scores of 15-4 and 15-1 consecutively.

Thursday night, March 19, the Silverton Seniors again traveled to Turkey, this time the team being Sharon Weaver, Mary Monroe, Raye Garrison, Susie Hill, Sheryl May, and Jeal-eta Eddleman. The Seniors played the Quitaque outsiders with the outsiders winning 2 out of 3 games. In the first game the Seniors lost by a score of 15-11. The second game they won with a score of 15-6. In the last and deciding game the Seniors were defeated by the outsiders with a 15-10 score.

Saturday night, March 21, the Seniors were to play for third place but were unable to due to a shortage of players.

THE OWL'S ROOST

by Mary Monroe

The little owl overheard Monty telling someone that blonds really do have more fun. Is that right Emmett, Ike and Howard?

Dennis must not agree with Monty though, because he changed his hair back to its natural color.

The home ec. III senior girls didn't walk around Thursday, they shuffled (or anything to keep from jolting themselves.) It seems that they all ate a big dinner and then cooked a meal in home ec. which is 5th period.

Jack Mayfield started a fad with the boys around S.H.S. when he came to school with his mustache. There have been several boys growing mustaches of their own. Jack must not have been able to stand it because he shaved his off.

It seems that there is a certain senior girl who is sporting around a new senior ring. The odd thing about it is the ring is from Quitaque.

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER

The other day as a man spoke in assembly, I looked around to see how many people were really listening to his talk. I will bet that only about 10 people could have told you, after the talk was over, what it was about. Yet the talk was on one of the most important subjects you could pick: success.

This made me wonder how many such opportunities, right under a person's nose, are never even noticed. Everyday we have opportunities which, if we took advantage of them, could really improve and enrich our lives. Yet we carelessly pass them by.

Speeches and talks are not the only opportunities we miss. For example (I've mentioned this before) in our library are volumes never even touched by human hands (probably the most sanitary objects you will find). Yet these are books that some men would have given their right arms to get to read.

Everyday we get to go to school. Here is an opportunity to learn, to enrich our experience, to build for the future—an opportunity literally millions of other people would love to have. Yet most of us do no more than is required, or often not even what is required.

This is mentioning just a few opportunities we have. There are many individual opportunities we have everyday—opportunities we just barge over without a second glance. The man who sits around waiting for opportunities is blind

Coach Ben Lesley Resigns As Coach

Coach Ben Lesley, basketball coach of boys' and girls' teams at Silverton High School, recently submitted his letter of resignation to the local school board. No future plans were given other than he intended to stay in the coaching profession.

In two years of coaching basketball at Silverton, Lesley's teams composed a 72 win-39 loss record. The girls' team was quite successful with a 22-5 first year and 21-8 second record. The team finished 2nd in District 4-A both years. The boys' team had a 15-12 and 14-14 holding. The boys entered district competition with a 13-6 mark this year only to have it lowered by district in three tournaments. The boys' record included wins over two opponents who conquered district 4-A champ, Petersburg. Bula was defeated 54-49 and Crosbyton 67-41. Both teams added defeats to Petersburg's record, the class A regional favorite.

In a year's previous coaching experience the aggressive, 25 year old coach attained high success at Milford, a class B school near Waxahachie in central Texas. His record there stood at 45-20, with the Milford boys at a 23-10 record, four losses to large classification AAAA schools, and the girls at 22-10 and a trip to the regional tournament at Sherman.

Lesley's three year record comes to 117 wins and 59 losses giving him almost twice as many wins as losses.

His high school playing experience came at Borger High school as a playmaking guard on a team that finished tied for the district lead with eventual state champion, Pampa, two years in a row, 1956 and 1957. He was voted that school's Citizen of the Year Award in 1957. A scholarship to Clarendon Jr. College then followed where ex-Silverton mentor Buddy Travis was coach. Clarendon was the scourge of the junior college circuit, winning two championships in three years over larger schools, Amarillo, Borger, Odessa, Big Spring, Levelland and Lubbock. Lesley's last year at Clarendon, the team finished first in the Zone 5 conference with an 11-1 record, 3rd in the State tournament at Amarillo. They were ranked fourth in the nation among low defensive teams. His graduate studies came at North Texas State University at Denton.

Ben was followed to Clarendon Junior College by younger brother Bob who set Clarendon scoring records and was named to the Junior College All American list. Bob played in the national All-Star game at Lawton, Oklahoma. He tied for high point honors in the game with 15. Fifteen major college scholarship offers followed, including Baylor and Rice of the Southwest Conference.

Bob attended Texas Western to play for his old Hedley High School coach, Don Haskins. Bob was the second leading scorer on the team that played Texas in the N. C. A. A. regional tournament at Lubbock last year. Current college All American Jim "Bad News" Barnes was the leading scorer.

To complete the sporting family of three brothers was the youngest, Don Lesley. Having had to fight for recognition it came natural that boxing gloves fashioned his trade. He won 116 golden gloves bouts while losing 10. Thirty-six tournament trophies were garnered, including three high school regional title trophies. The Furr Food Hamilton trophy for the outstanding boxer of the Amarillo regional was won when he was a sophomore in high school. He lost his chance for the state tournament the only year he fought in the open division by a bad cut over his eye. Ronnie Morgan won the fight and finished second in the 135 pound division at the State Golden Gloves Tournament. Don decided him in the regional finals the year before. He signed a professional fighter's contract at Levelland with T. J. Watt, a successful fight manager. His career never developed as a pro as he had his nose broken and the cartilage displaced in a practice bout with a heavier pro aspirant. Sporting events and competition

LET US ALL ATTEND THE CHURCH OF OUR CHOICE EASTER MORN

EASTER GREETINGS

Truly the beautiful whiteness and fragrance of the Easter lily are symbolic. It reminds us of the prayer of thanksgiving that should be in our hearts for the life and sacrifice of Him, the purest of all. So, on this Easter observance, we take this means of expressing our gratitude, not only for the manifold blessings of life, but for the friendships and loyalty of those we serve. May this be a glorious Easter for you and yours.

Chevrolet will go to any length to make you happy

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be.

So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevelle—17½ feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size makes it a luxury car. But not the price.

Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15¼-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space.

This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over).

Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it. And finally, Corvette—still 14½ feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to.

The long and short of it is, you don't have to go to any length to find exactly the kind of car you want. Just see the five different lines of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's.

AMERICA DEPENDS ON AMERICANS

"I'm strong for Savings Bonds. The interest is guaranteed, and the money's always there when I need it. But more important, Savings Bonds also help keep America secure. I figure there's not much point in saving for the future if we're not going to have the freedom to enjoy it. And you know, I feel 'good' when I buy Bonds... because I'm doing the right thing for myself and my family—and my country."

Star-spangled savings plan

Most of us think about the future in terms of paying off the mortgage, educating the children, providing a retirement income. But with the world the way it is today, it's almost impossible to make plans for your own future without considering the future of your country, too.

When you buy U. S. Savings Bonds, your money takes on both jobs. It grows to build your financial strength. At the same time, it helps Uncle Sam watch over our peace and security.

Why not give your savings dollars this double assignment? You'll be joining millions of American families who are investing in their country's future — and you'll probably feel pretty good about it.

It's easy to buy Savings Bonds on the Payroll Plan where you work. A $50 Bond costs $37.50, a $25 Bond $18.75, and you can buy them in installments for only a few dollars a pay day. Or buy them outright at any bank. No charge for the service.

Buy Series E Bonds for growth, Series H for current income.

- Some nice things about Series E Bonds
- You get 3 1/2% more money when they mature
- You can defer the tax on accumulated interest until the Bonds are cashed
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS
