DO WE APPRECIATE OUR FREEDOM?

An article in "Parade" magazine last weekend was worth repeating, I thought. It was by Daniel F. Foley, National Commander of the American Legion.

Said he, this Fourth of July weekend, as we commemorate the 188th anniversary of the founding of our cherished freedoms, we should take heed of the dangers that threaten us today, so similar to those that destroyed great nations of the past.

Arnold Toynbee, British historian, has said that of 21 notable civilizations, 19 perished not from conquest from without, but from decay from within.

We must correct those flaws in our society that imperil the very structure of American freedom. Here are some of the attitudes that, unless checked, could lead us into a disaster of our own making.

VOTING APATHY

1964 is a national election year. In the last national election (1960) only 64 per cent — or 69,000,000 — of the 103,000,000 who could vote, did. Thus, 34,000,000 qualified voters did not exercise their privileged franchise of voting for the Chief Executive of the United States. This fact is a national shame.

CYNICISM OF TRADITION

Patriotic traditions, so important a part of our historic past, are no longer cherished by many of our citizens. Pledging allegiance to the United States, singing the "Star Spangled Banner," standing and saluting as the flag goes by, proper observance of national holidays, are no longer observed in true reverence by many of our countrymen. Forced "patriotism," as practiced under dictatorship, is meaningless; the only true patriotism must come from the heart and the spirit. This true patriotism is a product of the ideas that have made America great. Education in both the school and the home holds the key to a deep, meaningful appreciation of democracy.

INTOLERANCE

There has been an increase throughout the United States of intolerance and bigotry by majority and minority groups, directed at the basic rights of the individual.

CIVIC IRRESPONSIBILITY

Active participation in government has given way to apathy and indifference. Our country is comprised of a family of states, and these, in turn, consist of a family of communities. Each American has a duty to participate at community level in the affairs of his government. We have ample organizations throughout the country in which every American can discharge his responsibility to our society. The more of us who do so, the stronger our nation will become. Participation is the very heart of democracy. In fact, the word "democracy" means the rule of the people.

He ended his article by saying that in all these vital areas we citizens are not, today, living up to the hopes and dreams of our founding fathers. We must.

In Silvertown and Briscoe County the citizens are not as guilty of voting apathy as they are in other parts of the country. In fact, we have had tremendous turnouts by the voters in the past few elections. This is wonderful, for only in this way can the will of the majority be seen.

In the problem of upholding tradition, however, I feel that our community has some way to go before approaching the standards that we should strive for. For instance, our children aren't being taught respect for the flag, national anthem, etc. as is displayed at football games or other public gatherings. I have noticed on occasions that those students who should be the leaders and who should be setting the example for their classmates to follow, often neglect the simple courtesy of remaining still and quiet while the national anthem is being played or during a flag-raising ceremony. This is quite disappointing.

We are not accustomed to seeing flags draped from every home and business on legal and patriotic holidays and observances. A visitor to our city would likely overlook the fact that a holiday was being observed. This can easily be corrected.

Everyone—and I mean everyone — is guilty of civic irrespon-

Ten Silvertown Scouts boarded a bus in Lubbock Tuesday morning for a trip to the National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. During the 20 days the Scouts are traveling they will have an opportunity to take a first hand look at their American Heritage, contained in such documents as the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence, national shrines, the national capital and historic Valley Forge, among others.

The trip is part of Scouting's "Strengthen America's Heritage" program which is receiving special emphasis this year. In addition to visiting battlegrounds and national historical points en route to Washington, the Scouts expect to "wear their legs right off to their knees" during the full day they are in the capitol. A visit with President Lyndon B. Johnson is on the agenda.

Scouts making the trip from here are Rick Martin, Donald West, John Montague, Buddy and Larry Comer, Gary Whitfill, Paul Ray McWilliams, Darrell and Roy Len Long and Yater Muckleroy.

Tuesday night they were in Dodge City, Kansas, and slept at the junior high school gym. Last night they were in Moberly, Missouri, and stayed at the National Guard Armory. Tonight they are in Gary, Indiana, at Dunes State Park.

The boys each packed four uniforms of clothing, three with short pants and one with long trousers. The uniforms are gaily decorated with Valley Forge National Jamboree patches and their identification as Scouts from Silvertown, Texas. The boys will be away for 20 days, and each will be responsible for the care of his own clothing.

Tomorrow night they will be in Ann Arbor, Michigan, where they will stay at the University of Michigan. Saturday night they will be in Hamilton, Ontario, and Sunday night they will be staying at the National Guard Armory in Cortland, New York.

July 13 they will be at the Shelton Towers in New York City. July 14 they will be at the New York World's Fair and July 15 through July 23 they will be at Valley Forge for the Sixth National Jamboree.

They are scheduled to travel to Washington, D. C. on July 16 for tours and sightseeing. They will have lunch on the capitol grounds, and will return in the evening to Valley Forge.

July 24 the group will spend the night in Roanoke, Virginia; July 25 they will stay at Sewart Air Force Base in Nashville, Tennessee, and July 26 they will sleep at the Red River Army Depot in Texarkana. They are to arrive in Lubbock July 27 at about 6:30 p.m.

Babe Ruth League Game Rained Out

Due to the holiday weekend, the two Silvertown Babe Ruth League teams participated in only one game during the past week. The Deeres hosted the Tornados in a regular league game last Thursday.

The Deeres were taking a real shellacking when rain stopped the play at 4½ innings. The Tornados were leading the Deeres 8 to 2. Eddie Shackelford started for the Deeres and Buddy Comer for the Tornados.

The game didn't go long enough to be recorded as an official game, and no player records were recorded. The game will be rescheduled at a later date.

ALL-STAR GAME

An All-Star team from the Mackenzie League will play a team from the Kress, Floydada, Lockney District Thursday night at 7:30 in Silvertown. The Mackenzie All-Stars will also play an All-Star team from the Nazareth-Dimmitt District July 18 at 3:00 p.m. in Tullia.

LEAGUE GAMES

Saturday, July 11, the Tornados will play the Tullia Dodgers at 2:30 p.m. and the Deeres will meet the Tullia Giants at 5:30 p.m. Both games will be played in Tullia.

Beerwinkle To Speak On Sheep Production

The public is invited to hear Donald Beerwinkle, an instructor at West Texas State University, speak on the subject of sheep production in this area, at a meeting of the Silvertown Young Farmers tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the Silvertown Ag Building.

Beerwinkle, 24 years old, was graduated from Belton High School in 1958, and received his degree in animal husbandry in 1962. He received his masters degree in ranch sheep and wool production at New Mexico State University in 1964.

All interested persons are extended a cordial invitation to hear Mr. Beerwinkle.

sibility. Those who are elected to the city council usually are those who present the fewest number of good reasons why they should not be elected. And often those who are elected to the school board are those who serve half-heartedly because they would rather be doing something else. The pay is poor for these jobs, I'll admit, but it is a civic obligation to serve when you are requested to do so.

Another thing that I strongly believe is that each person is obligated to take an active part in the political party of his choice. I don't believe in this hogwash about being in the middle of the road about politics, and I don't see how anyone could be neutral on the subject—unless he just never gives the subject a thought. You have to agree with some things and disagree with others. And saying you are just a little bit of this and a little bit of that just can't be true! In your heart you have to be something, and if you are, then why not step up and support the things in which you believe?

The visitors were Rev. and Mrs. Kenji Otani and Deacon Hakashi Fukuhura of the Oi Baptist Church in Tokyo. The three are in the United States visiting Baptist churches and educational facilities.

The visitors were given a guided tour of the Baptist Church buildings and facilities by Rev. Clyde Cain, pastor. Deacon Fukuhura acted as interpreter for the Otanis, neither of whom speak English. The three were very im-

New Mail Handling Plan Due Soon

Once the zip code is fully implemented, the sorting of mail as it is known now will be eliminated. Texas postmasters have learned.

Cloy L. Allen, Wingate Postmaster, cited the number system as the first major improvement in mail handling and distribution since Colonial days. He was a conference leader for a series of meetings with postmasters on the use of the code recently.

He spoke last week before more than 150 of the state's postmasters in convention in Houston.

"Already the zip coded mail is handled faster than unmarked letters," Allen said.

The postmasters association delegates also were told pornography is being eliminated from the mails.

L. H. Stephens, Fort Worth postal inspector, said that arrests of pornographers have doubled the last three years. "Most of the arrests in Texas and Louisiana are of deviates," Stephens said. "About 75 per cent are in this category."

Mrs. Carrie Mae Gaydosik of San Felipe was installed as new president of the association. New vice presidents selected were Grady E. Martin of Silvertown; Charles Sebesta, Snook; W. W. Mueller, Flatonia; Mrs. Dixie Shaw, Port Bolivar; and Jack Easton, Lovelady.

Maxwell Holder, Nolan, was installed as secretary-treasurer.

toured the Wayland Baptist College facilities in Plainview. At Petersburg the Deputy Sheriff rode his horse to the church, and the Japanese visitors had great fun taking turns posing for pictures with the Sheriff's hat and horse.

While in this vicinity the guests

Portable Diving Board

Weights 42 lbs; Can be used from Dock, Pool or Boat

A portable diving board that has springing action equivalent to a 14-foot conventional board! Yet it weighs only 42 lbs. and is 42 inches long!

The new Bostrom T-Board based on the unique principle of springs.

Now being featured at the Underland of Water Show at the New York World's Fair, the Bostrom T-Board retails for $69.95 in a painted board; $89.95 for a stainless steel T-Board.

Because of its dimensions and light weight, the Bostrom T-Board can be transported in the trunk of a car to any recreational location. It may be used from docks, rafts, pontoon boats and pool sides without anchoring or fastening.

Pool owners will like the T-Board because it can be moved easily and stored elsewhere during entertaining. Also, the T-Board can be used where pool decks do not allow sufficient room for conventional boards—or where pools are too small for the overhang of conventional boards.

Since it does not protrude over the water, the T-Board offers no hazard to water skiers or boat docking. In addition, its light weight permits use from boat docks that structurally could not support a conventional board.

blossom-end of green tomatoes. The first symptom is a slightly sunken, water-soaked spot.

Although nothing can be done for affected tomatoes, an application of calcium chloride will usually stop the problem in later-developing fruit, the county agent said.

Home gardeners growing tomatoes on sandy soil can stop blossom-end-rot by applying one heaping tablespoon of calcium chloride in a two-foot diameter area around each plant and then by wetting this with about one gallon of water to leach the material into the root zone.

To curb the problem on heavy soils, the calcium chloride can be put in a slight trench around the plant. Pour a pail or more of water into the trench and cover it with soil.

Blossom-end-rot usually occurs on plants that are about one-third to one-half grown, the county agent said. The problem often shows up after periods of dry weather or prolonged dry winds, or after excessive rainfall, and following a heavy sidedressing of nitrogen. However, lack of calcium that is usable to the plant is the cause of the trouble.

Commercial tomato producers who are plagued with blossom-end-rot because of an inadequate supply of calcium, should sidedress 30c to 40c pounds of calcium nitrate per acre. This should only be used when all of the nitrogen

REMEMBER THOSE YOU LOVED WITH A MEMORIAL GIFT TO THE

Sandra Shaw was a high school student at New London, Texas when she died of Leukemia. Babe Didrikson Zaharias was at the height of her career in sports when she died of cancer just as Sam Rayburn was one of the foremost leaders in the United States government when cancer proved fatal to him.

These three are among the 25,312 Texans who have been remembered by their friends through The American Cancer Society's Memorial Program in Texas in the past four years, bringing contributions that have totaled $457,567.71.

Like all money received by the American Cancer Society, the money from memorials is spent in three major areas: research, education and service to patients; for these three areas offer the quickest surest hope to the control and eradication of cancer, America's number two killer disease.

The fact remains that 12,900 of the 25,312 people who have been memorialized might have been saved by earlier and better treatment of their cancer. Informing and reforming the public of Cancer's Seven Danger Signals and urging yearly visits to a physician for a checkup takes one-fourth of all the money raised by the Cancer Society each year. Until a cure is found for cancer, "communication" and education are the only effective preventatives and safeguards against the disease.

Research remains the vanguard of the Society's attack on the disease. Thirty-eight percent of all money is spent in this area. $173,875 in memorial contributions is part of the money being used in five general research areas: The cause of the disease, the course of the disease, research grants to selected universities and institutions such as The University of Texas and its medical branches, therapy to improve the treatment of cancer, and personnel grants which train and support the research of gifted and promising investigators who are interested in cancer and its control.

In 1937 there was almost no research being done in the field of Chemotherapy. Today there are 20 useful drugs in the assault on cancer and leukemia. With new techniques and treatments appearing more and more frequently, the physicians, dentists and nurses need more and more professional journals and educational meetings, monographs, films and exhibits. The memorial program makes a substantial contribution to this area.

It now takes two books to hold the names of persons who have been memorialized through the American Cancer Society Memorial Program in Texas. Some of the names have made headlines all over the world. Many are the names of mothers because cancer is the leading cause of death a-

Most of the factors that determine whether you produce quality cotton are in your hands. These include: variety, planting time, insect control, water, fertilization, defoliation and harvesting. Weather is the factor over which you as a farmer have little control, says County Agent Leon Grosdidier.

Variety is the first step in quality cotton program. Choose a variety that has inherent good "mike-ability." Also, one with built-in earliness. In this area, earliness is all important. Some early varieties are Paymaster 101-A, Gregg and Ricot 90, according to information from Levan Ray, Agronomist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock. These varieties are recommended for late plantings (after June 10) on the South Plains, says Ray. In the northern part of the Plains, these are "the" varieties to plant because of the short season, according to the agronomist.

If cotton is planted after June 10, look for the mike values to start falling off. With cool weather and early frost, mike can fall even further.

Varieties with heritability of producing high mike cotton are several. Among these Ray lists Lankart 57, followed by Paymaster 101-A, Gregg, Lockett 88-Rex, Austin and Blightmaster. Varieties with lower mike heritability under irrigation include: Northern Star 511, Northern Star 5, and Western Stormproof. Under dryland conditions, these varieties have good mike.

The agronomist says in some years—when growing conditions are "just right"—Lankart 57 will fall into the discount bracket at the high end of the micronaire table. Ray also points out mike readings tend to run higher on dryland cotton than irrigated cotton.

Water—and its proper use—is an important factor. Research data from Shelby Newman, also an agronomist at the Center, shows the more total water put on cotton, the lower the mike. His research shows once 26 or 27 inches water is received, mike value shows a marked decline with more water. A 6-inch preplant irrigation, two 4-inch summer waterings, plus the "normal" 13-inches rainfall brings the total water applied to 27 inches. More water than this might bring the mike reading down, Newman emphasizes.

Newman also reports cotton at the Center watered every-other-row has "miked" better than cotton watered the conventional every-row method.

Later this season, you'll be thinking of getting the crop harvested and defoliation will probably be considered. Newman maintains defoliation is only a tool—a tool to use only at optimum times under optimum conditions. It's not something you'll want to use each and every year. The agronomist says if defoliation is used, it should be done ONLY when 50-60% of the bolls are fully open.

When tied-in with defoliation and proper harvesting methods, these practices will work together to insure a profitable crop of quality cotton.

Ant Control Measures Defined by Agent

Ants are becoming a nuisance in homes and lawns in many sections of the county. These pests can be effectively controlled when recommended insecticides are used, advises County Agent Leon Grosdidier.

Among the more popular and effective insecticides for ant control are chlordane and dieldrin. These may be applied along window and door sills, foundation cracks, baseboards and other possible runways for the ants. Some nesting places for ants are behind walls, in closets, in furniture and other dark undisturbed places. When a nesting place is found, one of the following practices may be used to destroy the nest.

Effective control, in most instances, depends upon locating and destroying nests and thoroughly treating the area with proper in-secticides. When ants are found in the house they may be controlled by applying 2-3 percent chlordane or 0.5 percent dieldrin household sprays. These materials may also be applied with a small brush. Repeat the application as needed to maintain control of the pests.

Outside the home, apply a band of insecticidal dust or spray around the foundation wall and treat all nests found in the yards. For outside control, 10 percent chlordane, 2 percent dieldrin or 5 percent heptachlor dusts are effective. Granular formulations and sprays of these materials are also available and are convenient to use.

When using these or any other poisons for control of pests around the farm and home, always be sure to read and follow directions printed on the label of the container, says Grosdidier.

A. J. Rowell was in Amarillo Tuesday to meet Mrs. Rowell and Kim who were returning after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Keeler, in Huntington, West Virginia.

How to save for a rainy day—and help your country now

Someday, sometime, you may have an emergency which will affect the future of your family. It will be comforting to you to know that you have a fund standing by to help you meet that emergency.

In a sense, such an emergency exists now that your country has to meet. It comes up every day—here and all over the world. The emergency of keeping peace and standing up for freedom.

You can help meet both these needs with U.S. Savings Bonds. Your money in Bonds grows steadily to help you provide for college, a new home, an unexpected illness. And as the money grows, your country uses it to help protect our freedom.

Americans are holding $47 billion in Savings Bonds—for rainy days, and sunny days, too. Why not join them? Start buying Bonds now, and see if you don't feel pretty good about the whole thing.

It's easy to buy Savings Bonds on the Payroll Plan where you work. A $50 Bond costs $37.50, a $25 Bond $18.75, and you can buy them in installments for a few dollars a week. Or buy them outright at any bank. No charge for the service.

- Some nice things about Series E Bonds: You get 3 1/2% more money when they mature; Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen; You can get your money when you need it; You pay no state or local tax and can defer the federal tax until the Bonds are cashed.

Control Measures Must Used To Grow Beautiful Trees

The home owner who expects to grow beautiful trees, shrubs and flowers must carry out a preventative program against the diseases which commonly attack such plants in his area. It's really a case of "a stitch in time saves nine," says County Agent Leon Grosdidier.

For example, he adds, black spot and powdery mildew are common diseases of roses and occur annually in most rose gardens. If the gardener waits until these diseases have become severe, little can be done to eliminate the problem without causing the infected plants to suffer a loss in vigor and beauty, the county agent said.

On the other hand, if a recommended fungicide spray or dust is used regularly, the diseases can be prevented.

It is important that gardeners be able to recognize common disease conditions early in their development or still better, anticipate their occurrence. Control measures taken when the disease first appears will serve to insure the health and vigor of the plants.

In addition to protective foliar fungicides, the use of soil sterilants prior to planting can prevent infection of plants by soil-borne diseases. Such chemicals as Vapam, VPM, or Mylone are commonly used soil sterilants, but they must be used well in advance of planting.

The home gardener can prevent many diseases by keeping his plants in a healthy, vigorous state of growth. The use of adequate amounts of water and fertilizer will help produce healthy plants. When irrigating or watering, care should be taken to keep the water off the foliage, because fungi and bacteria are more likely to attack plant parts which remain damp, the county agent explained.

Control measures are known for most diseases which attack ornamentals, and publications on the subject are available at the County Extension office.

Heavy Fishing Of Farm Ponds Recommended

Although your farm pond is well-managed, properly stocked and fertilized, you may still be catching only a few fish—small ones at that. If so, you're probably not fishing your pond heavily enough, says Wallace G. Klusmann, wildlife conservation specialist, Texas A&M University.

If a pond is not fished heavily, the fish population will rapidly deplete the food supply, resulting in stunted fish. Research has shown that a surface acre of pond water that is well-managed needs from 300 to 500 man hours of fishing each year to keep fish production at a maximum. Klusmann points out.

Fertilized water is like fertilized soil, says the specialist. Fertile water will produce a larger crop of fish just as fertile land will produce more cotton or corn. Therefore, the harvest of fish from fertile water can and should be greater than from non-fertile water. Fishing should begin about a year after a pond has been stocked. This will allow each species to reach sexual maturity and spawn. Klusmann says it is advisable to fish the pond heavily after this.

Sunfish have a tendency to over-populate farm ponds so as many as possible should be caught. For every bass or catfish removed, at least 10 to 12 sunfish should be taken out. Small sunfish that are caught should not be returned to the water, adds the specialist.

Alternating periods of good and poor fishing are to be expected and even the best fishermen will not always catch fish. Water temperature, availability of natural food, and seasonal activities of fish will influence fishing success.

Fishing conditions will usually improve if your pond is fished heavily enough. If your family cannot fish the pond as heavily as it should be, invite your friends to fish, suggests the specialist. They will enjoy the occasion and later benefits should result.

Crossbred Steers Show Weight-gain Advantage In Tests

BEEVILLE, June 25—Recent purchase of a group of 72 crossbred and straightbred steers by Texas Agricultural Experiment Substation No. 1, located here, gives an indication of the advantages of crossbreeding beef cattle.

The local rancher who raised the cattle told Edward M. Neal, substation superintendent, that all the steers were managed identically. Yet when the substation made the purchase, the crossbreds weighed 110 pounds more than their straightbred cousins.

In this case the crossbreds were  $\frac{3}{4}$  Hereford- $\frac{1}{4}$  Brahman. The straightbreds were good, commercial steers of a popular English breed.

Clifton Stodghill spent Saturday night with his father, Hugh Stodghill, fishing at Lake Texhoma with friends from Gainesville.

The crossbreds weighed 461 pounds and cost the substation $21.70 per cwt. The 351-pound straightbreds cost $24.00 per cwt. Even though the crossbreds

FRENCHMAN FIRST TO PILOT CONCORDE

Captain Philippe Bulté, age 39, a senior pilot for Air France, has started training to become the first airline pilot to fly the Concorde supersonic jet. He will be at the controls when the 1,450 m.p.h. Concorde begins transatlantic crossings in two and a half hours flying time.

A special supersonic jet training program began in March for Captain Bulté at the Flight Test Center located at the Istres Military Supersonic Airport near Marseille. In April, Captain Bulté underwent flight simulator training for the Mirage III, a delta-wing supersonic interceptor jet built in France. Very shortly, Captain Bulté will begin the third phase of his training on the Mirage III-B, an advanced supersonic jet.

Captain Bulté is one of Air France's veteran pilots, and has logged more than 15,500 hours of flight. He joined Air France brought less per pound, their greater weight made them worth about $16.00 more per head than the straightbreds.

"Not only did the rancher benefit because he pocketed an extra $16.00," Neal said, "but we benefited because we got an extra 110 pounds of steer for the small extra cost."

Crossbreeding has long been recognized by Texas A&M University livestock specialists as one way to increase efficiency of beef cattle production. At the Livestock and Forage Research Center at McGregor, crossbred steers (nicknamed "Hurry Ups") have weighed more than 1,000 pounds when only 12 months old.

The steers bought by the Beeville substation are to be used in feeding experiments to find out how summer climatic conditions in different parts of Texas affect cattle on feed.

Soon the steers are to be divided into similar groups and shipped to experiment substations around the state. The climatic environment

Prior to his new Concorde supersonic jet assignment, Captain Bulté was Assistant to the Deputy Vice President in charge of Air France's flight personnel. Earlier in his career, he was a Flight Instructor for many years. Captain Bulté is married and the father of four children.

A similar test, conducted between the cooler months of October and March of 1962-63 indicated that steers develop and fatten almost identically in all parts of Texas.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

I would like to take this time to say thanks to everyone who has been so kind and good to me and my family. Thanks for the lovely flowers, gifts, cards, phone calls, prayers. I knew friends were great, but let me tell you, friends are the grandest things in the world. The food you brought to my family while I was in the hospital and since I have been home was wonderful. I couldn't live without each and everyone of you.

I would like to say thanks to Jean for having my house cleaned and to Ruby who was so nice to lend me her things while I was in the hospital. Thanks to our pastor Bro. Cain, who was so good and kind while I was at the hospital to come and pray for me. We all want to stand up for our new pastor and his family—it's wonderful to have them in our community.

Many thanks to the Eastern Star for the lovely gift.

You have heard the song, "Deep In The Heart of Texas." Well, this is the heart of Texas right here, for the best people in the whole world live here.

Thanks to the greatest people ever—I love you all.
