Weevil Control Program Depends On Permit Signing

"The permits are a must for the Boll Weevil Control Program to get moving early in September." That's what County Extension Agents, members of the Area-wide Boll Weevil Committee, Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and other active workers in the fight say about obtaining the permits to spray from each individual cotton farmer in seven counties. These permits are simply permission from the farmer for spraying of his cotton to suppress boll weevils this fall.

This week, meetings are being held in four counties. The meetings are taking place for the principal purpose of getting farmers together for signing of the permits. Also, officials of the Texas Department of Agriculture, the Area-wide County Chairman, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be on hand to answer any questions about the program. Meetings will be held in Crosby, Dickens, Kent and Motley counties starting August 4. Meetings in Floyd, Garza and Briscoe counties begin August 7.

'64 Wheat Payments Being Made

Briscoe County's first certificate and diversion payment in the voluntary 1964 Wheat Program was made last week to Merle McMurry of the Vigo Park community, one of thousands of wheat producers cooperating in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Program.

Louie Kitchens, County ASC chairman, stated the 1964 legislation was designed to help maintain wheat grower income while avoiding any increase in Government costs in the program. Besides diversion payments, domestic and export marketing certificates are also issued with a domestic certificate having a value of 70 cents a bushel, and export a value of 25 cents.

The cash value of certificates is in addition to the market price or local loan value. Market prices in Briscoe County have been ranging from $1.48 to $1.35. Loan values vary because of premiums and discounts for quality with the basic loan value for Briscoe County being $1.29.

It is expected that payments totaling $370,080.00 will be made to wheat producers in Briscoe County.

Any grower who stays within his 1964 wheat allotment is eligible for price support loan or purchase of the wheat from his individual farm.

All participants in the program signed up on a voluntary basis and diverted acres from wheat production.

Diverted acres are used for a variety of conservation practices applicable to individual counties. Payments are now being made to those producers who signed up in the wheat program, but not

ASC Committee Nomination Being Accepted

Farmers are being reminded that slates of nominees for membership on ASC community committees soon will be established at the ASCS County Office. And a special effort is being made to secure the greatest possible participation of eligible voters in the election.

Louie Kitchens, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Briscoe County Committee, said today that farmers who are eligible to vote in the committee elections also have the right to nominate as candidates for committee membership any farmer who is eligible and willing to serve. Such petitions, signed by six or more eligible voters may be filled at the County Office.

Additional nominations may be made by the incumbent ASC community and county committees, if these are required or determined desirable.

"We want the best men available to serve on our ASC committees," Chairman Louie Kitchens declared, "because the committee system is the backbone of farm programs—those dealing with conservation of soil and water, as well as the price support activities in various commodities. In the last couple of years, the farmer-elected committee system unique in the history of agriculture, has come under considerable scrutiny. As a result of intensive study by official groups, the system is not only being retained, but has been greatly strengthened."

Here in Briscoe County, Mr. Kitchens points out, the impact of ASC committee-administered programs on the welfare of individual farmers, and collectively on the life of the county, is considerable. For instance, last year 171,509 acres of farmland were improved under the Agricultural Conservation Program cost-sharing arrangement. This cost $122,530, with about half coming from participating farmer, the balance from ACP.

Continuing, he listed price-support in the Feed Grain Program. The payments on wheat and feed grain farms will be made after completion of measuring of feed grain and diverted acres.

The Wise County reunion of the High Plains will meet August 16 in Mackenzie Park in Lubbock. You are invited to come and bring a basket lunch, and enjoy a day of fellowship with your former neighbors and friends.

port payments in the county last year totaling $392,772.00 and $1,646,328.18 in price-support loans. Included in the price-support program in this county are such major commodity programs as grain sorghums, wheat, barley and others.

"So you can see that ASC committees in Briscoe County are in effect board members of a big 'business,' the chairman continued. "This points up the urgency of getting out the greatest possible percentage of farmers in community elections so that the committees they select will more nearly represent the thinking of a majority of farmers."

A 'farmer eligible to vote in the committee elections,' according to the chairman, is generally a farmer who is taking part or is eligible to take part in one or more of the national farm programs which the ASC committee helps to administer. A person eligible to hold office as a committeeman—among other qualifications—is a local resident who is eligible to vote in the election. Further information on these and other qualifications may be obtained from the ASCS county office.

The election of ASC community committees throughout Briscoe County will be held by mail. Ballots will be mailed August 26, along with instructions on voting.

Each community election will choose three community committeemen and two alternates. The chairman, and regular member of the elected ASC community com-

Summer weather often brings eye problems to cattle—problems which may mean the difference between a profit and a loss under today's narrow margins.

One of the most serious eye problems is pinkeye, a disease which may sweep through half a herd in a short time. When it does, the result may be heavy dollar losses, from a drop in milk production of as much as 25 per cent, or a shrink in weight.

Although all breeds and ages of cattle may be affected and pink-eye may occur at other times of the year, the disease most often comes during the summer and white-faced cattle seem to be most susceptible.

Once pinkeye appears in a herd, it may spread rapidly by such means as direct head contact, tail switching or by flies, especially face flies.

Frequently pinkeye is confused with allergy, eye injury, a foreign object in the eye, faulty nutrition or the early stages of some infectious disease such as pasteurellosis, malignant catarrhal fever and infectious bovine rhinotracheitis.

Tail switching is a common method of transmitting pink-eye from animal to animal.

This emphasizes the importance of calling a veterinarian to make a diagnosis whenever eye symptoms are first noticed. Promptness in this is also important because the sooner treatment is started, the better the chances for keeping losses at a minimum.

Pinkeye occurs in two forms, acute and chronic. The acute form is the most common and it is characterized by sudden appearance, watering of the eyes and a white or gray spot on the cornea.

If the stricken animals are not given prompt and proper treatment, the chronic form may develop that can mean extensive eye damage, blindness or even death.

Alertness for signs of pinkeye, and immediate action if the disease gains a foothold in a herd, will pay big dividends for farmers this summer.

MRS. SAM B. BROWN

Spinosa - Brown Vows Exchanged In Mississippi

In a double ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Tutwiler, Mississippi, Saturday evening, July 18, Miss Mary Catherine Spinosa became the bride of Mr. Samuel Bomar Brown of Silvertown.

Miss Spinosa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Spinosa of Tutwiler, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Brown of Silvertown.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a wedding gown of ivory peau de soie and rose-point Chantilly lace. The moulded basque bodice was fashioned with a high ring necklace and elbow-length sleeves. Tiny covered buttons fastened the back of the gown marked at the waistline by a narrow fold of the peau de soie accented by a small shaper bow. The controlled bell shaper skirt veiled in Chantilly lace traced with seed pearls was floor length.

Her veil of imported ivory silk illusion fell in tiers below her waist from a crown of matching Chantilly lace, and she carried a bridal bouquet of white gardenias.

Mrs. Thornton Honored

A coffee and miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Kenneth Thornton was given in the home of Mrs. Hugh Nance on Saturday.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Eva Spinosa of Tutwiler, who wore a floor length dress of yellow crepe fashioned along empire lines. She carried a bouquet of daisies and wore a daisy headpiece.

Robert William Hughes of Silvertown served as best man, and ushers were Johnny Spinosa of Leland, Mississippi, Donnie Kirk of Webb, Mississippi, Vince Foti and Jackie Downs, both of Sumner, Mississippi.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Spinosa chose a green lace sheath with matching floral hat and a gardenia corsage. Mrs. Brown, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of pink lace accented by a pink headpiece and gardenia corsage.

Decorating the church for the occasion was a large central arrangement of white gladioli and crysanthemums flanked by candles and fern balls.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Ira Ousley of Tutwiler, vocalist; Mrs. L. B. Garvin, jr., of Silvertown, organist; and Mrs. Rolfe Dorsey of Sumner, violinist.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the church where the bride's table, centered with a wedding cake, was covered with a white cutwork cloth and was adorned with silver candelabra and an arrangement of yellow daisies and white carnations. Yellow and white floral arrangements also accented the punch table which was covered with a white cutwork cloth.

Mrs. Barbara Lee of Philipp, Mississippi, Miss Patricia Pearson, Miss Linda Steele and Mrs. Bill Bruister, all of Tutwiler, served refreshments. Others assisting were Mrs. J. W. Kellum, Mrs. Hayward Callicut, Mrs. F. L. Mitchell, and Mrs. Tom Jennings, all of Tutwiler.

When the couple left for a trip to Biloxi, Mississippi, the bride wore a pink linen dress with pink accessories. They are now at home in Silvertown.

GLORIA WALLACE

Miss Gloria Maye Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dock Wallace, is the bride-elect of Benny Raye Bingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bingham of Kress. The couple will be married August 15.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Georgia Thornton, Mrs. Kenneth Thornton, the honoree, and Mrs. Jim Clemmer.

Miss Juannah Nance registered the guests, and Mrs. Grace Cox, Mrs. Lyndon Dunn and Mrs. Carman Rhode ushered the guests to the bedroom where a large and beautiful array of gifts was displayed.

The colors of blue and white were used throughout the home in decorations.

The serving table was laid with a white linen tablecloth and centered an arrangement of white daisies and fern. Miss Nancy Nance served coffee from a silver service and Mrs. Berton Hughes served Cokes from a crystal bowl filled with ice. Small cinnamon rolls, nuts and mints also complimented the arrangement and were served to the guests. Assisting at the refreshment table were Mrs. Edwin May and Mrs. C. O. Allard.

Other hostesses were Mrs. Ben Whitfill, Mrs. Luke Thompson and Mrs. Alvin Redin.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Thompson and Derron had as their guests on Tuesday of last week his aunt, Mrs. John Baldree, and her daughter, Mrs. Marshall Glenn of Lubbock.

wide Boll Weevil Committee, and Community Chairmen in each of these counties is planning and has responsibility for the meetings. Why meetings to get farmers out for permit signing? Couldn't a farm-to-farm canvass do the job? Bill Gunter, Area Extension Agronomist who is serving as Extension coordinator for the boll weevil program, has a ready explanation. "It will be impossible for the Texas Department of Agriculture—the agency which is responsible for permit signing—to schedule a personal visit to each and every cotton farm and farmer in these seven counties. There are hundreds of farmers in each of these counties, and only a few weeks are left before the spray program will get underway.

Also, Don Anderson, Chairman of the Boll Weevil Control Program Executive Committee, emphasizes the importance of each farmer in the county signing the permit to spray. "With 100% cooperation in these seven counties, we can get the control program operating as planned in early September. Getting the control program started on schedule is a necessity if the cotton-destroying boll weevil is to be suppressed." Participation by all farmers is a must. With such a massive, expensive control program as will be undertaken, producers can't afford not to back it to the hilt. Farmers in these seven counties will be doing part of their share by making sure that no "non-permit" areas are left. Such an area—or areas—could easily provide a hot-spot for weevil buildups. Farms not sprayer—but weevil infested—could provide pre-infestation spots for weevils next spring and summer. Without 100% cooperation, the cotton farmer could be robbed of maximum benefits.

Another question being asked is "Why is it necessary to get permits to spray signed for every cotton farm in these counties?" Don Rummel, Area Extension Entomologist, points out that, at the present time, the weevil infestation line is shifting almost daily. By early September when the spray program is expected to start, officials want to be doubly sure permits are signed for all cotton farms in the control zone—and potential control zone. Between now and September, this line could fluctuate forward—or backward. With permits to spray signed for all cotton farms in these counties, Plant Pest Control officials wouldn't have to shut down the spray program while another group of farmers are being hunted down for permit signing.

Plant Pest Control Division of USDA will be the agency supervising the spray program. Their officials emphasize they must have a permit signed for all cotton farms sprayed under the control program.

Meeting dates and locations are listed below. Be sure to turn out for the meeting to be held nearest you and sign a permit for spraying your cotton and bring your neighbor. Your cotton profits of next year—and years to come—may be dependent on your signature and participation in this gigantic boll weevil control program.

SIX FLAGS CAMPUS REVUE "DAZZLING" SUCCESS

Six Flags Campus Revue cast shows audience collegiate style of Can Can dancing during one of the hit show's big numbers. This year's musical variety production features 27 talented youngsters from 15 colleges and universities in Texas and the Southwest.

"One of the most dazzling amateur productions in local theatre history", wrote noted Dallas night club columnist and critic Tony Zoppi, of the DALLAS MORNING NEWS, of the 1964 Six Flags Campus Revue, "The Singing Flags."

The show, which opened at the Six Flags Amphitheatre recently, features 27 talented youngsters from 15 colleges and universities in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Colorado and Illinois.

Produced and directed for the third successive year by Charles R. Meeker, Jr., the lavish production concerns a musical junket through Six Flags celebrated theme park.

Mr. Zoppi continued his rave review with "the jet propelled show was professional from overture to finale, and credit a swinging 17-piece collegiate orchestra with a share of the show's success."

Jack Douglas, reviewing "The Singing Flags"

for the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, wrote "a standing ovation plus four curtain calls let the college singers and dancers know they had a hit on their hands. Fast paced and surprisingly smooth, the show gives a real meaning to an over-used word rollicking."

The popular Campus Revue productions presented by Six Flags each season have attracted over half a million theatregoers since they were inaugurated in 1962. Performances of "The Singing Flags" are staged three times a night for the remainder of the summer until the show closes on September 7.

During the Fall and early Spring months, Six Flags talent scouts commence an annual tour of more than 100 colleges encompassing Texas and the Southwest auditioning talented undergrads for the Campus Revue.

In 1964 some 800 hopefuls auditioned with 27 copping the final honors.

Boating "Do's" & "Dont's"

After studying "do's" and "dont's" of safe boating, safety experts of Sentry Insurance announce 10 most important precautions for skippers. With surveys showing more than half of all accidents are fault of operator, boaters can avoid dampened spirits by exercising caution. Check up before shoving off. Familiarize yourself with waters in which you plan to operate; never venture into restricted areas. Have lifesaving device for each person. Do not sit on kapok-filled preservers—this compresses filler, reduces buoyancy. Never overload. Follow capacity limits set by manufacturer. Carry emergency equipment. First aid kit, flashlight, oars, shear pins, spark plugs, tools. Instruct co-pilot. Know your boat and its safe operation. Instruct another person on board in fundamentals of handling boat should you be disabled. Keep boat under control. Don't be a "hot-rudder." Power boat according to recommendations of boat manufacturer. Keep a lookout for swimmers, stumps. Keep right. Pass on left. Boats are subject to traffic laws, too! Steer clear of sailboats—they have right of way. Stay away from beaches. Swimmers are difficult to see in choppy waters or sun reflections warns Sentry insurance safety experts. Use caution when refueling. Stop all engines, fans, devices liable to produce sparks. Do not smoke. Wipe up spilled fuel. Carry a fully charged fire extinguisher. Finally, understand rescue methods. Be able to prevent a drowning by knowing how to use mouth-to-mouth breathing technique. Move damaged boats out of traffic lanes. Report accident to proper authorities.

Sid Bogan Retiring After 34 Years in P.O.

Friday, July 31, marks the date of the retirement of Sid Bogan as postmaster at Quitaque after more than 34 years of service.

Jarrel Rice has been appointed as the new Quitaque postmaster, and assumes his new duties on August 1. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rice, Jarrel is the grandson of Mrs. Lillie Lacy of Turkey.

Bogan took office as postmaster at Quitaque March 10, 1930.

At that time the post office was located in the building that has housed the Highway Engineer's Office until recently. The post office was moved to its present location in 1930.

Bogan has seen quite a number of changes during his 34 years as postmaster, such as the recent advancement of the post office to second class rating; postal rates on letters have increased from two cents to the present five cents.

In looking back, Mr. Bogan says that the most memorable years are those of World War II, when many of Quitaque's young men and women were in the service, including two of his own sons. Handling the mail between the young people and their loved ones at home was a tremendous experience for him, he remembers.

When questioned as to his plans following his retirement, Mr. Bogan said that he has no plans at the present other than taking off for a vacation, probably in the mountains of New Mexico, and to see how it feels not to have to say, "I must get back to the post office."

Mr. Bogan recently received a citation from the Post Office Department for his years of service. The citation reads: "Honorary Recognition is accorded to Sidney T. Bogan for devotion to duty in the course of an honorable career in the United States Postal Service. This citation is tendered upon the occasion of retirement from active duty, and conveys official commendation and an expression of esteem from co-workers." The citation carries the gold seal of the Post Office Department and is signed by John A. Gronouski, Postmaster General.

After studying "do's" and "don't's" of safe driving, safety experts of Sentry Insurance announce the 10 most important precautions for motorists. Surveys show vast majority of drivers think of themselves as "better than average drivers." Yet, most traffic accidents are a result of violation of the law or common-sense rule of safe driving.

Slow down and enjoy your trip. "Speed too fast" is number one killer. Adjust speed to road conditions. In heavy rain, front wheels actually leave road at 50 m.p.h. and skid on rain film.

Stay on your side. Allow plenty of time and distance for passing. Don't pass on an intersection, curve, bridge, railroad tracks.

Yield right of way. An intersection is a danger zone, proceed with caution.

If you're driving, don't drink. Two drinks can blunt reflexes. Avoid driving under influence of drugs.

Effects of "pep pills," tranquilizers, other medicines, can be dangerous behind the wheel. Ask your doctor about effects of remedies prescribed.

Keep your distance. Allow at least one car length between you and car ahead for each 10 m.p.h.

Make exit gracefully. Get in right lane early when leaving a super-highway. Turn into "speed change" exit lane without slackening speed, then decelerate rapidly.

Use directional signals. Failure to do so may bring a traffic ticket. Obey traffic signals.

Passing of STOP signs is a common accident cause according to Sentry Insurance findings.

Finally, check up before starting up. Lights, signals, brakes, tires, steering, exhaust system, wipers, horn and rear-view mirrors should be in top condition.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCracken and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McCutchen and Richard were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Weatherly and Kevin in Amarillo. Richard remained for a longer visit with his sister and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Davis and Lanis and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Steele, Becky and Philip Stephens and Lynette Martin were at the Church of Christ Camp Blue Haven over the weekend, and all attended Sunday morning services there. The children remained at the camp this week.

A 'SECRET' MESSAGE

Upon receiving a prescription from your physician, what is the first thing you do? Of course, you try to read it. Most often you don't understand all of the words. Why the secrecy in a prescription?

There is none, really. What you are looking at is simply language of medicine—the expression of your physician's decision on what drug you require, how much you need, and how it should be taken. Your prescription is a brief, accurate note of all of this priceless information.

This prescription, this "secret" message and your pharmacist then become the final links between medical research, the physician's diagnosis, and your continued good health.
