

All Around the Town
by Mary Ann Sarchet

I recently received some traffic safety statistics from Mrs. J. L. Ginnings, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and since we are approaching the Labor Day holiday weekend, it seems especially timely to discuss traffic safety.

The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs recognizes the fact that traffic safety legislation needs the public support which it has not had effectively in past sessions of the Legislature. I'd like to join Mrs. Ginnings in urging you to remember that public opinion is all-powerful—if it speaks out!

Your action can save hundreds of lives in Texas in future years if you will write your lawmakers and talk to your friends and neighbors about doing it.

The four laws which will come before the 1965 Legislature are:
1. Modern Driver License Law
The Texas driver license law has not been revised substantially since 1941. By all standards, many of its provisions have become obsolete, and time has proved that it is inadequate to do the job for which it is intended—to protect the average driver from the small percentage of dangerous drivers who repeatedly refuse to operate motor vehicles in a safe and legal manner.

The proposed revision of the Texas Driver License Law is designed to plug numerous loopholes through which wanton violators of the laws of safety who have long records of lawlessness can presently retain a valid driver's license and continue to endanger the life and property of others. The new law would include authority to give special attention to the improvement of sub-standard drivers; and authority to remove totally unqualified, dangerous and lawless drivers from the streets and highways through denial or revocation of license quickly and surely.

2. More Highway Patrolmen
The National Safety Council has repeatedly affirmed that the Texas Department of Public Safety and its Highway Patrol are among the nation's best in performing their duties.

But the Texas Highway Patrol is operating with less than half the men needed to cover our vast highway system based on national standards, and is finding it increasingly more difficult to fill the ranks because of inadequate salaries to compete with industry. By way of comparison, California has 11,110 miles of paved state highways on which the travel amounts to 18.20 billions of miles with 2,707 highway patrolmen. Illinois had 10,36 billion miles traveled on 12,610 miles of paved state highways in 1962 and employs 1,304 highway patrolmen. The state of Pennsylvania employed 2,180 patrolmen in 1962 to patrol 20,730 miles of paved state highways on which there was 23.70 billion miles of travel.

Texas has 33,440 miles of paved state highways on which there was 20.25 billion miles of travel in 1962, and has 791 highway patrolmen!

The Texas figures do not include over 20,000 miles of paved farm-to-market roads and their traffic volumes. The figures mentioned were compiled by the National Safety Council.

A considerable percentage of all Texas traffic crashes are not investigated by the Highway Patrol because there are too few patrolmen, although they average 54 hours a week, longer in emergencies and without overtime pay. Texas needs higher pay for its career patrolmen, at least 100 more men each year until its present strength is doubled, to about 1,800 to 2,000 men.

3. Driver Education for all Teenagers
Texas is pouring some 150,000 new teenage drivers into its vast traffic streams every year. Less than half receive any training in the arts and skills of driving an automobile, yet most of them drive.

For years now, about one-fourth of the Texas traffic death toll is composed of young Texans from 15 to 24 years of age, and they are involved in 31% of the rural traffic crashes while holding 20% of the driver's licenses.

In many states, reliable studies indicate this crash involvement can be reduced 50% among trained drivers.

Mid-Plains Attempting To Expand Telephone Service In This Area

Mid-Plains Rural Telephone Co-operative, Inc., has been issued a construction permit by the Federal Communications Commission for the construction of a radio-telephone system in the Bean-Silverton area.

Before actual construction of the station may begin, a sign-up of an adequate number of subscribers in the area must be completed and a loan application filed with the Rural Electrification Administration. The application to REA must contain evidence of a need for the service, which can only be done through signed applications. Applications may be obtained from the Mid-Plains office in Tulsa. Representatives of the Cooperative will be at the County Courtroom here on Wednesday, August 19 at 1:30 p.m. to answer questions and accept applications.

Radio-telephone service literally puts a telephone on wheels. Any ordinary telephone in the Bean or Silverton area may be called by dialing the number, and calls may be received by the mobile telephone by dialing its listed number. Range of the system is approximately 20 to 30 miles, depending on terrain. Toll calls may be made or received through the regular long distance operators. Fixed radio-telephone service will be an important aspect of the new system. Ranches and farms too far away to be reached feasibly by regular telephone lines may have a radio-telephone, giving them adequate service similar to, and sometimes better, than an ordinary telephone line.

At least ten firm applications for service which includes both mobile and fixed station will be necessary in order to make the system feasible.

Men Reminded To Register For Draft

Lagging registration under the draft law in Collingsworth, Cottle, Hall, Briscoe and Childress counties this week prompted W. I. Hughes, board chairman of the five-county area to warn every 18-year-old male that the law requires him to register within five days after his 18th birthday.

Failure to register, like failure to comply with other provisions of the law, may subject men to prosecution, or induction into the Army out of turn and ahead of other men, Mr. Hughes said.

Maximum penalty for failure to comply with any provision of the law, under prosecution and conviction, is five years in prison, fine of $10,000, or both.

This Brooklyn cowboy's approach to the art of rodeoing brought a lot of good-natured kidding from some of the youngsters at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, but on September 6th and 7th, the boys will be riding with the best, and don't be too surprised if he wins a pair of new spurs. The 20th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo is the biggest Labor Day event in the Texas Panhandle, and the high point of the year for the 325 boys now making their home at the Ranch.

Boys Ranch Rodeo Set For Labor Day Weekend

The 325 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch began practice this week for the biggest Labor Day event in the Texas Panhandle—the annual Boys Ranch Rodeo that will be held Sunday, September 6, and Monday, September 7, at 2:30 in the afternoons. This will be the 20th year for the famed rodeo that began in 1944 with only 65 boys who were being cared for at that time. More than 7000 people are expected to be at the Ranch this year to watch a record number of contestants, and if they wish, enjoy a barbecue lunch before the performances. Indications are the 1964 rodeo will be the most competitive, fastest, and thrilling the boys have ever put on. Almost 100 boys will be riding Brahma bulls, bucking broncos, and other professional rodeo animals under R. C. A. rules. The two performances do not permit all of the boys to ride who would like to, but everyone, including the Ranch's adult staff, will participate.

Boys who do not ride the bucking stock will appear in special feature acts, work the chutes, operate concessions, usher and work at the many activities necessary for a successful rodeo production.

An added feature of the rodeo will be the sale of king-size barbecue sandwiches with the trimmings that will be sold by the boys. The Ranch picnic area will provide a good lunch site for those wishing to enjoy a picnic near the rodeo arena.

Proceeds from the rodeo will be used for the expansion of the Ranch.

While a high school education is estimated to cost about $15,000, Driver Education courses are being taught in various Texas high schools at $40 to $110 per student. This is a tremendous educational bargain.

But Driver Education still costs more than some schools and some students can afford, so it is proposed that all Texas students shall have the opportunity to learn how to stay alive in Texas traffic through proper high school training. To make this possible, it is proposed that state aid be provided for driver education through the Gilmer-Aikin Minimum Foundation Program, long and successfully used in our state to provide all school districts and students with minimum-level high school education.

4. Traffic Courts of Record
Texas traffic cases are tried by Corporation Courts in the cities, by Justice of the Peace courts in rural areas.

No written record is kept in these courts, so that any case which is appealed to a higher court is tried all over again.

In many counties, county courts receiving these appeals are overloaded, since they handle many other types of cases, too. Delays in trials may stretch into months or years; witnesses may move away; facts grow stale; a new judge may "clear the docket" and may dismiss hundreds of cases in which all defendants are cleared without trial.

Mrs. Raymond Cantwell spent the weekend in Fort Worth with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Gray and children. She went with Mr. and Mrs. Grady Martin and family.

A frequent violator may not only find ways of delaying his trial; he may eventually "wear out" the case and have all charges dismissed.

Traffic Courts of Record, operating under standards established by the Association of Chief Justices of State Supreme Courts and the American Bar Association, can provide immediate, fair and impartial trials. Thus, traffic defendants may be found innocent or proven guilty, but in either event, these courts can administer justice efficiently and fairly. It is sincerely felt that enactment of these proposals will save many lives and avoid much suffering and enormous economic loss in our state. Every citizen of Texas is urged to support these measures.

Lebanese Official Finds Texas Panhandle Friendly

couldn't understand a word said, but Antoine Khalil Bakhos could tell by their actions that people of the Texas Panhandle are friendly, accomodating and gracious.

Bakhos' official title is minister of the interior for Lebanon, and he has been in the department for 36 years. His job is to make recommendations—almost always accepted—regarding appropriations for all of the municipalities in Lebanon. He is directly responsible only to the Director General of Lebanon, Cheik Chafic Khazen, who is the most powerful single figure in the government, with a job equivalent to that of the President of the United States.

Arriving in New York July 16, Bakhos was met by the Salem's sister, Mrs. J. M. Haddad of Tyler. Mrs. Haddad, an artist who is often in New York, accompanied the Lebanese official to the World's Fair, United Nations headquarters, and other attractions.

After his New York visit, Bakhos was met in Dallas by the Salems, and the group visited Dr. Robert J. Salem in Lubbock before visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Salem in Sudan.

Fanning himself with a handkerchief as he spoke, Bakhos said the temperature in Beirut, where he wor'is is about the same, but pointed out that in 30 minutes from Beirut, a city of 800,000, a person may be high in the mountains where it is cool.

He remarked that newspapers in Beirut almost always are limited to eight or sixteen pages a day. And, he added, Beirut itself has "a minimum of 35 different news-

This was Tom Salem's first opportunity to meet any of his mother's relatives. Joe Salem had some difficulty conversing with his cousin, and stated "I can't vouch for the absolute accuracy of my interpretations." It was reported, however, that Mr. Bakhos enjoyed a visit by phone from Turkey to Canadian with his relative, Malouf Abraham, with whom he carried on a spirited conversation.
