Deadline Nears For "Export Market Acreage" Application

Louie Kitchens, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee, said today that producers who want to participate in the export market acreage part of the 1966 upland cotton program may apply for a share of the export market acreage reserve any time through January 3, 1966. A national reserve of 250,000 acres was established for 1966-crop upland cotton. A farmer is eligible to apply for a share of the reserve if he is operating the same farm in 1966 as in 1965 and if his farm had a 1965 cotton allotment.

By requesting and receiving a share of the export market acreage reserve, a producer may plant more than his allotment without being subject to marketing quota penalties. All of the farm's cotton production, however, is required to be exported and no price support will be available for cotton produced on that farm or on any other farm in which the operator with export market reserve acreage has a substantial or controlling interest, as determined by the Secretary.

The chairman explains that, if applications for export acreage exceed the 250,000-acre export market reserve for 1966, the acreage will be prorated on a national basis to the growers who have applied. After export acreage has been allotted to growers, they may reject the acreage within a 15-day period by reporting their decision to the ASCS county office.

Growers who apply for and receive a part of the national cotton export market acreage reserve will have a total cotton acreage for their farm consisting of the farm's effective farm allotment plus the export market acreage. Exceeding the farm's total cotton acreage would make the producer subject to a marketing quota on the cotton produced on the acreage in excess of the effective farm allotment. Payment of the penalty would not remove the grower's obligation to export the farm's total cotton production.

When a grower gets approval for export cotton acreage, he will post a bond to guarantee that all his cotton production will be moved into export. Failure to export the cotton would make the producer subject to liquidated damages at the rate of 50 percent of the parity price for the amount of cotton not exported.

Services Conducted For Mrs. Cogdell

Mrs. Johnnie Cogdell, 73, of Snyder, widow of a well-known West Texas philanthropist, died at 3:00 a.m. Saturday in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene from injuries received in a traffic accident near Baird late Friday night.

Club Enjoys Helpful Hints For Christmas

The home of Mrs. Gene Morris, decorated in Christmas motif, was the scene for the Century of Progress Study Club meeting on December 8. The devotional was given by Mrs. Tim Martinez and was in keeping with the Christmas theme.

The observance of the following special days was encouraged by Mrs. Jack Strange: December 5-12, Universal Bible Week; December 7, Pearl Harbor Day; December 10, Human Rights Day; December 10-17, Human Rights Week and December 15, Bill of Rights Day.

Final plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party to be held December 13 at 7:00 p.m. It was decided that gifts would not be exchanged, and the money that would have been spent on gifts would be placed on a money tree. Dinner guests were to be husbands of club members.

The program of the day was presented by Mrs. Flute Hutsell. Beautiful and clever decorations and ideas were presented. Gift-wrapped packages in most unique designs were on display. Inexpensive and easy-to-make gifts were also shown. Decorations ranged from a Christmas Angel done in papier mache' to elegantly decorated balls and tree ornaments. Ideas for trimming trees were discussed and ways to keep them fresh.

Woven into the program was the poem, "December is upon us Christmas time is near. Post your Yuletide greetings Fill them full of cheer.

Fix a wreath upon your door And hang the mistletoe. Brighten every package With a ribbon and a bow. Hang up all the stockings And make a Christmas dish. Prepare to trim the tree Then make a Christmas wish.

In closing, Mrs. Hutsell read a description of a service man's Christmas in a foreign land, and asked that everyone remember boys in Vietnam with cards or

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

The King, the Queen and the executioner were present. Alice and the prisoners, too, of course, but these were all. No jury, no public, no publicity.

No newspaper reporters.

In Alice's Wonderland even applause was "immediately suppressed by the officers of the court."

Not so in America.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right of a public trial, says Article the Sixth of the Bill of Rights of the Constitution of the United States.

So people may know, newspapers must report these trials.

This is not freedom of the press. This is responsibility of the press.

Newspapers have no extraordinary rights.

People do.

Men have the right to a public trial and the right to know what happens in courtrooms. These are rights written into the Constitution and affirmed by the Supreme Court in 1829 when Mr. Justice Bagley wrote: "It is one of the essential qualities of a court of justice that its proceedings should be public."

If people are to know the truth the newspaper must report the news.

Contest Winners Are Announced

The first prize of $6 for the best decorated door in the high school building will go to the Sophomore class for decorating the door at the north end of the hall.

The second prize of $4 will go to the Freshman class for decorating the auditorium door.

The Juniors and Seniors tied for third place, but no prize will be given.

Although all of the doors were attractive and well arranged, the judges felt that more originality and creativity went into the decorations of the first two winners. All parts of these decorations were cut out and assembled by the students. No bought decorations were used except the felt, paper, tape, etc. needed.

Prizes will be presented by the Student Council at the high school Christmas Party tomorrow afternoon.

Origins Of Christmas Customs and Legends

by Paula Turner

Each year we practice many customs at Christmas time. Many of these have very interesting origins.

The name Christmas comes from Christ's messe. Christes messe, meaning Christ's mass, was an English festival celebrating the birth of Christ. Christmas is often written "Xmas" because "X" is the Greek equivalent of "Ch" and "Ch" represents "Christ."

The custom of building a nativity scene started when the Pope gave St. Francis of Assisi permission to build a full-size stable next to his church in a village near Assisi, in Italy. Living people and animals created the Nativity scene. The idea spread all over Europe and has been used since then.

Authorities are not certain from what origin our custom of giving gifts was derived. It could have been the gifts brought to Christ by the Wise Men or it might have been started to demonstrate the unselfishness of Christ. It could have also been a carryover from the pagans. The Romans gave presents during some of their celebrations.

The legend of Santa Claus originated in St. Nicholas, a person who actually lived. He was born in Patras, a city in Asia Minor.

When his parents died, he did not wish to keep the wealth he inherited from them, and he decided to secretly dispose of it. On three occasions, Nicholas dropped a bag of gold in the chimney or window of a man who had three daughters that he was considering selling into slavery because he had no dowry for them.

Later, Nicholas became Archbishop of Myra. He was known for his gracious personality and kind acts. Because of his fame as a gift-giver, it became the custom to give gifts on his Saint day—December 6th. Aided by Clement Moore, who wrote "Twas the Night Before Christmas," Washington Irving, and Thomas Nast, a cartoonist, St. Nicholas developed into the present day Santa Claus.

One of the legends of the Christmas Tree states that on the night Christ was born, all the forest trees, even those with ice and snow bloomed and bore fruit. This story caught the people's fancy and may have inspired the custom of decorating a Christmas Tree.

Today the tree has become a symbol of Christ as the Tree of Life, offering His beneficences of Light, Life and Wisdom.

Silverton Tourney Is Well Attended

Silverton hosted a well-attended tournament last weekend, and several close, fast-moving ballgames were played.

In the first game, the Owls and Owlets both lost to Matador. In close games with Turkey, the Silverton Owls and Owlets both won. Saturday afternoon, both local teams lost their bids for consolation trophies.

Silverton players receiving all-tournament awards were Ruth Ann Minyard, Connie Dudley and John Montague.

Winners in the girls division were Estelline, first; Matador, second; Quitaque, third; Lockney, consolation.

In the boys division, Quitaque, first; Matador, second; Claude, third, and Lockney, consolation. Appreciation has been expressed to Mrs. Carman Rhode for keeping the tournament books; to Paul Ledbetter for keeping the time clock; to Mrs. Jack Davis for being in charge of the concession stand, and to the referees for helping to maintain good sportsmanship during the games.

If a man stands with his right foot on a hot stove and his left foot in a freezer, some statisticians would assert that, on the average, he's comfortable.

Assembly News

The film, "Who? Me?" sponsored by the American Cancer Society was presented in assembly recently. The film gave many interesting facts about cancer caused by smoking. Some of these facts were that the deaths caused by cancer have increased 10 times since the 1930's. The number of cigarettes smoked has increased only about three times since the 1930's.

In a comparison of the non-smoker, light smoker and heavy smoker, the chances of the non-smoker dying of lung cancer was cut seven times as compared with the light smoker. As compared with the heavy smoker, the non-smoker's chances of dying were cut 30 times.

The hobo stopped at the farmhouse and asked the lady for an odd job for a meal.

"If I thought I could trust your honesty," she said, "I'd send you to the henhouse to gather the eggs."

"Listen, lady," he replied, "I was janitor in a men's club show room for 15 years and I never took a bath."

BOOK REVIEW

THE WOODROW WILSON STORY

An Idealist in Politics

by Catherine Owens Peare

Here is an usual portrait of a much misunderstood man. Woodrow Wilson is generally considered to have been cold and unimpassioned. This was not true, and Catherine Owens Peare gives here a complete picture of Wilson. He was a man who loved life, and whose enthusiasm for people and events and ideas spilled over and was contagious to those around him.

Wilson was an intellectual, and his early academic path led him to the presidency of Princeton University. His record there was extraordinary both for its accomplishments and its controversies. This was a hallmark of Woodrow Wilson's life; always he accomplished much, always his dedication to high ideals left him open to misunderstanding.

As he grew, from boyhood in Atlanta to his years as an undergraduate at Princeton, he became steadily more disciplined, more knowledgeable, and more naturally a leader of men. He learned to think and speak precisely and clearly and developed a "positive sense of right and wrong." One of "Tommy" Wilson's first memories was of the horror of the Civil War, and the avoidance of war became one of the goals of his life. He put all his hopes and energies into the League of Nations, and its failure literally broke his spirit.

This is a portrait of the man for whom freedom for all men was so strong a goal. Noted for his firm-chinned, quiet courage, he was hailed in Europe as "Wilson the Just." He was that unique man, an intellectual who, as a "student of society," could not avoid trying to make his vision come true for all humanity. A great man indeed, and as in all great men, there is much beneath the surface that the public cannot see. With Wilson it was a surprising warmth and capacity to love. Catherine Owens Peare succeeds in showing us the man beneath the surface.

GOD'S GIFTS

G. C. Gilmore
 I think that we shall always see God's gifts upon our Christmas Tree.

You cannot touch them with your hand, Yet they are there at your command.

There's a joy and faith and hope renewed, There's laughter for a happy mood

There's gratitude for each new day A time to think, a time to pray.

The Christ idea with holy light Shines clear to make your pathway bright

These things are yours if you can see God's gifts upon your Christmas Tree.
