by Mary Ann Sarchet

Claude Loudermilk was in our shop earlier this week, and said that he has had numerous inquiries as to the reason for another nightwatchman and city marshal having been hired. A word of explanation is in order.

The City Council recently set an age limit of between 25 and 50 years for the man holding the position of nightwatchman and city marshal. After this action, the Council requested Claude's resignation due to his being over the age of 60.

The snow looked so pretty to me when I looked out my window Wednesday morning. I really hate to say this, in view of the number of people who hate the cold, slushy stuff, but I LOVE IT.

Not so long ago, I told my father that I was hoping for lots of snow this winter. His reply was that if I got my wish he hoped he would be on south Padre Island when it came true. Sure enough—there's our beautifully beneficial snow, and the post card we got today from the sunny south said he was heading for Port Mansfield and Zapata. Hope fishing is good!

Thomas A. Edison spoke pleasantly of his deafness. It had proved to be of great benefit to him, he said. Had he not been deaf he would not have invented the phonograph. His deafness shut out most of the world's noise and especially human conversation, most of which was not worth hearing anyway. His deafness forced him to put everything in writing when making any kind of a business deal. This saved him much money. And not the least benefit lay in the fact that while courting his wife, she was forced to sit very near him and keep her face close to his ear in order for him to hear what she had to say. This was not at all unpleasant. Not at all.

HOME NOTES

by Becky Hall

County Home Demonstration Agent

As a newcomer to this county it has been very rewarding to meet with several groups this past week and get acquainted with some very fine folks. The Creek Community Club that met with Mrs. Carroll Garrison last week was doing some outstanding crafts. Their project that was piecing a patch-quilt design of various colored corduroy pieces to reupholster Mrs. Garrison's occasional chairs. Some ladies brought other crafts such as wet grape clusters and three dimensional wall hangings. Our visit to the Quitaque Community and especially our informal little chat with Mr. O. R.

Stark, jr., left a warm feeling that there was a real desire for some programing in homemaking subjects and that later the organization of a home demonstration club may be desired. Whatever the needs or wishes may be that you feel the Extension personnel could be of assistance with, be sure to let us know. Our real reason for being here is to serve the entire county as an educational agency.

Did you know you can learn a lot about selecting clothes wisely and caring for them properly in a 4-H club clothing project group? If you are not interested in actual garment construction, you can still learn many valuable lessons in being a wise consumer and a fastidious dresser under the able direction of our outstanding adult clothing leaders.

We have reached that time of the year, like it or not, when we must face up to and reckon with our past record of spending and saving of our financial endowments. As we take a backward look we need to determine if we are satisfied with what we were able to accomplish with our assets in the year behind us. If we feel there is room for improvement, a budget or spending plan is a tool to help us spend money wisely and reach our family goals. To be workable, a budget should be adapted to the family's needs and income. Dr. Sylvanius M. Duvall, Professor and Marriage Counselor at the University of Chicago, defines it like this: "A good budget should be tailor-made, not only to your income, but to your preferences. Like a good girdle, it should have plenty of 'give.' Its purpose is to provide support to keep things from spreading out too far, and to do so without pinching and binding."

The first step in making a spending plan is to set our goals. What does our family really need and want? We must decide which goals are most important, giving priority to those that will benefit the whole family.

The next step in making a budget is estimating the family's income. After we have figured how much our income will be for the planning period, it is time to estimate our expenses. Now is the time to look at our spending critically. If we are not happy with what we got for our money last year or last month, we need to be realistic in revising our allowances for expenses. And resolve to cut out shopping sprees, bargains we don't need and overuse of credit.

If you can use a good cranberry bread recipe, I would like to share one with you that was given to me by Jewel Robinson, County Home Demonstration Agent in Hockley County. There is also a variation by Mrs. Aubrey Russell, District Agent in Lubbock.

Cranberry Banana Bread
 1/3 cup shortening
 2/3 cup sugar
 1 3/4 cups sifted flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon soda
 1/2 cup of nut meats
 1 cup ripe banana (mashed)
 1 cup drained fresh-cooked cranberries

Cream shortening with sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift dry ingredients together. Add nuts. Add flour mixture alternately with bananas to creamed mixture, fold in cranberry sauce. (Mrs. Russell's variation—Fold in raw cranberries cut in half) Bake in loaf pan in moderate oven, 350 degrees for 60 to 65 minutes. Cool and wrap before slicing. Excellent for freezing. Serves 10.

The 4-H colors, green and white, were carried out in tea table arrangements.

Most of the girls had selected a demonstration topic before leaving the meeting. The clothing leaders are prepared with resource material, ingenuity, and a desire to help the girls develop their potential to the greatest degree.

If your family has not been contacted and asked to fill out the census report, please contact the school office before January 31, 1966.

Children (all races and nationalities) starting to school in September 1966 are invited to come to school Friday, January 28, for a "Round-up Day." This year's first grade will not come to school on January 28.

All parents that have birth certificates for next year's beginners should bring them along when you come to get the children at 12:30; if you do not have the certificate you should begin now in order that it may be presented when the child enters next September.

A child must be 6 years of age before September 1966 in order to enter school for the 1966-67 term.

EDITORIAL

Have you ever thought about how your happiness and success depend upon your ability to talk well? Everyday conversation is such a commonplace experience, few realize it is the most important act of social contact.

What do we know about conversation? Perhaps only one man or woman in a thousand knows the secret of conversation. That's the reason why the interesting talker stands out in any group today and is so welcome wherever he goes. The good conversationalist is quickly at ease with people he has never met before. Years ago, it was thought that a good conversationalist was born, not made. But today anyone can learn to be a good conversationalist.

One of the first steps is to learn a few "sure-fire" topics that will fit into any social situation; learn the sources of lively, interesting ideas that stimulate conversation with anyone; and learn how to develop your sense of humor.

When one learns to be a good conversationalist, one improves his whole personality.

Students Elected To Who's Who

Also chosen were Ruth Ann Minyard and Darrell Long, Personalities; Linda Fisch and Orlin Grabbe, Most Likely to Succeed; Elaine Boyles and Darrell Long, Most Dependable.

These students will have their pictures in a special section in the 1965-66 OWLET.

BOOK REVIEW

THE FIRST WOMAN DOCTOR

The Story of Elizabeth Blackwell, M. D. by Rachael Baker

Women pulled away their skirts when she passed! Crowds gathered in the streets to stare at her, whistled, jeered, insulted her.

Small boys hung by their finger tips from the window sills to catch a glimpse of this amazing creature—a woman who dared to study medicine in a classroom crowded with men, in the year 1847.

This woman was Elizabeth Blackwell, pioneer not only of medicine as a career for women, but innovator as well of some of the outstanding medical reforms of her day. Her admission to the small New York medical school which finally accepted her was the result of a joke, an exuberant prank, played on the faculty by a mischievous student body.

Of course, no one actually believed she would come. When she did, the newspapers were agog. Reporters flocked to the classroom. Visitors crowded the lectures. Her conduct, her appearance, the impression she made on those around her were reported with all the interest given to some notorious figure at a great murder trial. Even her phrenology—the shape and bumps of her head—was studied.

In New York, indignant landlords would not rent her an office. Anonymous letters of insults crowded her mail and twice mobs threatened her life and that of her patients!

This small, well-bred woman with her shy manner and Quaker-like bonnets, was not only the first woman to graduate from a medical college, the first woman to enter an American hospital as an interne, the first woman to be enrolled on the Medical Register of Great Britain, she was also the founder of a great woman's hospital, staffed by women, operated by women, for women and children alone. She founded the first school of nursing in America. She helped to establish the battlefield nursing services of the Civil War. She founded a medical school for women, introducing new subjects and a longer, more thorough, course than that offered at any American college.

She taught health education, hygiene, preventative medicine, in a day when these words were strange, new, and even the medical giants had not recognized them. She introduced new and humane ideas in the care of the sick: the "home visitor," precursor of the modern visiting nurse; the "visiting physician," antedating by far the modern concept of "out-patient care" as given by great hospitals.

She wrote books on health, social hygiene, and disease prevention which were renounced at first, then accepted as textbooks on the subjects. She founded the National Health Society in England in 1871.

-SCHOOL DAZE-

Friendliness and personalities really stand out around S.H.S. around election time.

Larry Comer, did you decide that you liked being a bachelor better than having a steady?

It seems that Shirley B. is going with a boy from Kress now. Is it true that Coach Nutt's father-in-law sits in front of the oven watching things cook?

The Silvertown boys say the Turkey boys are "On the Eve Destruction."

People say Lexie doesn't really like being so popular.

Why is Jimmy Burson the luckiest boy in Algebra II?

Why was Mary Lynn so embarrassed Monday night at play practice? It seems she said one of her lines wrong.

The junior boys chemistry seems more like college than high school.

Melody, what's this we hear about your being a roving reporter?

From The Principal's Office

Orlin Grabbe took the National Honor Scholarship Aptitude Test last October and the school has been notified that he is a semifinalist. He has a National Percentile Rank of 98 on Verbal and 99 on Math.

Each school having semifinalists will be notified of the outcome in the competition in early March.

A shipwrecked sailor who had spent three years on a desert island was overjoyed one day to see a ship drop anchor in the bay. A small boat came ashore and an officer handed the sailor some newspapers.

Officer: "The captain suggests that you read what's going on in the world and then let us know if you want to be rescued."

Florence Nightengale was her dearest friend. Charles Kingsley called her "a hero" Rossetti, George Eliot and Lady Byron admired her. And she lived to see her portrait hung in honor in the college that had admitted her as the result of a student prank!

Neighbors help us to live longer and enjoy it more

Most of the comforts and conveniences that we enjoy today are accessible to us more or less in proportion to the number of people who live near us.

Schools, churches, doctors, electric power, stocks of foods, medicines, and clothing, trained technicians to service our needs, customers for the products of our own labor . . . all of these are ours to enjoy . . . as long as there are enough PEOPLE in the community to support them.

Every dollar that leaves this community helps to move somebody out. Every dollar that is spent here, helps to bring more people in.
