

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

The day may be coming—and coming soon—when man will have greater control over the weather. He already has achieved some control, although he doesn't use it very often.

The National Academy of Sciences and the National Science Foundation recently urged a far greater expenditure of federal money for weather research. They said this might make it possible:

—To modify or steer hurricanes away from populated regions.

—To suppress hurricanes before they develop.

—To change the course and violence of cyclones.

—To break up or prevent tornadoes.

—To abolish persistent regional smogs.

Man already can control the weather to some extent. He can increase rainfall from certain kinds of clouds by at least 10 percent. He can suppress crop-damaging hailstorms to a certain degree. And he can reduce the number and danger of lightning bolts in thunderstorms.

Cloud seeding is the most common method of weather control in use today, according to World Book Encyclopedia.

An airplane may drop dry ice, salt particles, water spray or other substances into a cloud in order to "seed" it, or silver iodide seeds may be released from the ground and carried into the cloud by wind.

If the conditions are favorable, tiny droplets of water from the cloud collect around each "seed" and fall to the earth as rain or snow.

Cloud seeding methods have also been used to get rid of fog and to prevent fruit trees and other crops from being damaged by wind and hail. By seeding the clouds before they reach an area with valuable crops, experts can sometimes reduce the strength of a storm and save crops from harm.

Although the seeding process has been known for more than a decade, it is not often used. For instance, no seeding was attempted during New York's critical water shortage last summer. Scientists hope to see greater use of the weather-control techniques we already have. They also hope that more money spent on research will lead to other and more effective ways of controlling weather.

Mark Twain said, "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it." Modern science already is doing something about it—and hopes to do more.

Inspector. Cattle moving within the state of Texas will not have to be inspected. There is still free movement of cattle within the state, other than the cattle scabies infected and exposed herds, which were put under quarantine by a representative of the TAHC.

The Federal Quarantine pertains only to out of state movement of livestock. The County Agents of the six counties have been notified by Walker and Dr. John Wilbur, jr., veterinarian in charge, Animal Disease Eradication Division, Austin, explaining the situation to them, so there will not be confusion pertaining to legal movement of livestock within the state.

Teen-Age Smoking Emphasis Explained

"Why is so much emphasis placed on teen-agers in combating the problem of cigarette smoking and health?"

Rev. Clyde Cain, president of the Briscoe County Unit of the American Cancer Society answered the question by emphasizing that the longer people put off starting to smoke the better their chances for a long life. He cited vital facts and expressed the hope that teenagers, or even those younger, could put an end to the problem of cigarette smoking and health. He explained that in 1960 the American Cancer Society began what is now a national teen-age smoking program. It was a well coordinated program of working with schools, teachers, other health agencies, youth groups, counselors, etc. The Society started this program because a pioneering ACS study in 1958 revealed that the rate with which youngsters took up cigarette smoking could probably be cut in half by an effective education program. It learned that youngsters whose parents, mentors, idols, peers smoke are more likely to acquire the smoking habit than others.

Studies of the death rates and physical complaints among smokers and ex-smokers demonstrate that the longer one stays away from cigarettes, the more closely life-span and general health approach that of those who have never smoked cigarettes. In men 40-60 years of age, a recent study showed that for those who started smoking under the age of 15, the death rate was 1,850 per 100,000 population. It was 1,741 for those who started smoking between the ages of 15 and 19; 1,347 for those who started smoking between the ages of 20 and 24, and 1,130 per 100,000 for those who started after age 25.

"The Gilbert Youth Research, Inc., a nationwide research organization, made a survey in 1958, which showed that 33 per cent of American high school students smoked cigarettes. A second survey made by the same group in 1963, showed that the percentage of teen-agers who said they smoked had dropped significantly—to 29 per cent. Another survey in 1964 indicated a further drop to 17 per cent.

"Apparently most of the decline was due to youngsters putting off starting to smoke. It seems, those who once start to smoke, continue to smoke; but beginning to smoke is far less fashionable."

Bro. Cain did some speculating. "The reduction and eventual elimination of cigarette smoking among youngsters could greatly change the whole picture of the nation's health and eliminate many unnecessary, premature deaths. This goal would markedly reduce the carnage caused by heart disease emphysema, lung cancer and other sites of cancer in years to come.

Perhaps one of the most promising events in the program against smoking among young people as well as adults was the formation last year of the National Inter-agency Council on Smoking and Health, which is coordinating the education activities of 19 voluntary and governmental agencies involved in the smoking problem.

The Society has developed many tools for its "Teen-Age Smoking Program" and for even younger smokers. The distribution of "Answering the Most-Often-Asked Questions About Cancer" to secondary school teachers and students was followed by a student leaflet, "Shall I Smoke?" It has produced for junior and elementary high schools a film on "Is Smoking Worth It?", film strips on "I'll Choose the High Road" and "To Smoke or Not to Smoke?" Another film, "The Huffless, Puffless Dragon," is geared especially for 5th or 6th graders. Still another film, especially designed for adult audiences, "Who, Me?" deals with the influence parents have on their youngsters' smoking habits. The Society has also used "Athletes Against Cancer" to offset the effect of cigarette advertising which uses hero athletes to lure youth to the smoking habit.

Leaflets, films, filmstrips and other tools in the teen-age smoking program are available from the local unit of the American Cancer Society. If you need a film for a program, contact Mrs. Fred Strange, Education Chairman of the Briscoe County Unit.

So far, more than half of the nation's elementary schools are involved, in one way or another, in the Society's Teen-Age Smoking Program. The Society says: "If you don't smoke, don't start. If you do smoke, stop!" The Society's promise is, if one never starts smoking, one will not miss it, according to Bro. Cain. The longer you smoke the harder it is to give it up.

the food exhibited and their records. Two different score cards are used and this year two sets of judges have been asked to judge. The records are scored in three main areas: 4-H projects and activities, 4-H leadership and personal development. The exhibit is scored with the main emphasis on the exhibitor's knowledge of foods and nutrition. This area of knowledge counts 40% of their score at the show. The food, the selection of appropriate service, color scheme, correct table setting, the exhibitor's poise, the recipe, day's menu and what to serve with the food exhibited, are the other factors involved in scoring the participants.

The 4-H Foods Project Adult Leaders are just as busy as the boys and girls are this week coaching their groups in nutrition, helping them with last-minute decisions about their selection of food for preparation and going through items that should be included in their records.

Mrs. Obra Watson has the senior group that has finished four units of foods work and are now working on initiative projects. They have each chosen to work on some phase of study in which they desire more information—such as consumer buying, contrast buying of frozen, canned and prepared foods, family meal planning and preparation, and some preservation. Several of these girls are Junior Leaders working with Adult Leaders in training younger 4-H'ers. The girls in this group are LaQuita Bomar, Joni Self, Kathy Self and Barbara Lynn Davis.

Mrs. Nuke May has a group of six girls that like to refer to themselves as "The 4-H'ers Six". LaQuita Bomaris working as a Junior Leader with this foods subject matter group and they are studying Unit 2. The girls in Mrs. May's group are Barbara May, Sharon Jarrett, Becky Stephens, Lanis Davis, Elaine Branam and Debbie Bomar.

Mrs. Jack Sutton and Mrs. Alva Jasper are 4-H Adult Foods Leaders for two groups, both training cooperatively with each group.

The older group is repeating Unit 3. The girls in this group are Rhonda Dickerson, Cynthia Sutton and Vici Jasper. The younger boys and girls are Stanley Martin, Micki Jasper, Debra Cantwell, and Rhonda Sutton. They are studying Foods Unit 2.

Mrs. James Davis as the Adult Leader, and her daughter, Barbara Lynn, as her Junior Leader, are coaching Pat Jarrett, Roy Garrison and Kay Fleming in Units 1 and 2.

There are two groups starting in Unit 1. Mrs. J. L. Self is the Adult Leader and her daughters, Joni and Kathy, are her Junior Leaders. Terry Jones, LaQuita Croft, Louise Croft, and Janet McWilliams are the girls they are teaching and training.

The other beginning group is under the guidance of Mrs. Dona Gauntt, as their Adult Leader. The 4-H'ers in this group are LaNell Stephens, Norlene Offield, Ann Offield and Micky Gauntt.

Our 4-H Adult Clothing Leaders have been invited to attend a clothing meeting presented by Miss Elinor Echo, of the Simplicity Pattern Company. The meeting starts at 10:00 a.m. in the Willie Room of the Swisher Electric Co-Op and will be over at 3:30 p.m.

We have been invited to have one or two of our 4-H girls to model in the afternoon. Mrs. Gordon Lowrey was chairman of the selection committee.

The program that day is on Selection of Patterns; Wardrobe Planning; Fashion Show After Lunch, and Planning Dress Reviews.

Some have asked about the 4-H Talent Club and Tour Award. The requirements—nominees must: 1. Have passed 15th birthday and not the 19th birthday before January

1 of the current year; 2. Be enrolled and actively participating in 4-H Club and conducting a 4-H project during the year; 3. Be completed at least three years of 4-H Club work.

Previous Talent Club Tour winners are not eligible. One boy and one girl may be nominated from each Texas county. The nominations in Briscoe County will be made on records that have been submitted prior to the judging deadline. The deadline for records to be in the Extension Office is 5:00 p.m. Monday, April 25.

Nominees must submit a general record, including all the requirements listed under "Items to be Submitted for All 4-H Award Programs."

Use Aerosol Sprays With Care

Aerosol sprays are more convenient to use than other sprays or other methods of application. However, they should be handled with special care, says Mrs. Elsie P. Short, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Always observe safety precautions when using aerosol sprays. Mrs. Short suggests the following safety tips:

1. Never spray directly in someone's face.
 2. Never smoke while spraying.
 3. Never spray near a flame or open flame.
 4. Never store where temperature may exceed 120 degrees; high temperatures may cause pressurized containers to burst.
 5. Never throw a pressurized can in the fire or keep one on the stove or on a radiator.
 6. Never leave an aerosol can in a closed car in hot weather.
 7. Never puncture the can; this could also cause it to burst.
- Remember to hold an aerosol can upright for efficient operation whenever possible. This keeps the dip tube in the liquid. If the container is partly emptied and you tip it on its side in use, the dip tube may be out of the liquid.
- If this is the case, you will release only pressure when you press the button. If the can runs out of pressure before the contents are used, it will be impossible to empty the can.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Offield of Breckenridge visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Offield Thursday, and Friday the group went to Plainview to visit Mr. and Mrs. Royce Carleton.

Soil Testing Aids Top Farm Production

Today's high fixed farming costs make efficient production a must. High costs necessitate high yields for maximum profits and soil testing is needed, says County Agent Leon Grosdidier in order to keep soil producing at top levels and to get the most from liming and fertilizing.

A recommendation from the soil testing lab takes into account the plant nutrients already available in the soil and adds those necessary to balance the nutrients for most efficient production. If the recommendations are changed by the producer, the nutrient balance is not maintained, explains the agent. In some cases this change may not be serious, but in others, it can be disastrous.

On acid and low lime soil, the phosphates, potash and some of the nitrogen are lost to growing plants. The addition of agricultural limestones to such soils keep these fertilizers in good working condition with a resulting increase in crop yields. Lime, emphasizes the county agent, should be used when recommended by the soil testing lab. Its use, he adds, in many instances has increased yields by 30 to 100 percent.

Several things happen when agricultural limestone is added to acid or low lime soils. Calcium is provided for plant food. Toxic substances are neutralized. Soil phosphates become more readily available to the plants and added phosphates more freely available. Other fertilizer nutrients are similarly affected.

Also, soil bacteria are stimulated and molds and fungi are repressed. Legume bacteria form more nitrogen-fixing nodules. The tilth of the soil is improved. Forage plants from limed soils are more nutritious and livestock grazing or consuming the forage do better, says the county agent.

There is still time to get soil tested before spring planting but samples must be taken very soon and mailed to a testing lab. The county agent, vocational agriculture teacher or Soil Conservation Service personnel can provide information on how to take good soil samples.

Let (Mr.) George Do It

Do-it-yourself home permanents aren't all they're cracked up to be. Naturally they look scrumptious in the magazines or on television. But for every successful job on the home front there are the unspoken failures—the messy spillage, eyes tearing, overcooked, underdone frizzle-wizzle that makes you sorry you started the whole thing.

Since your hair is so important to your looks, there are times when it's best to trust your looks to a professional beautician. Want a permanent? Let Mr. George do it. Or Miss Phyllis. Or Mr. Erik.

Things in the permanent field have come a long way since 1906 when Charles Nessler invented the hairwaving machine. What price beauty? Eighteen women were brave enough to sit for eight hours under the crimping machine and come out curled within an inch of their lives. And their poor husbands who shelled out the $1,000 fee were fleeced within an inch of theirs.

The 1940's saw a revolution when the cold wave was invented. Now women sat with effective—but odorous—chemical solutions on their hair. The real breakthrough came recently with the discovery of the body wave, the ultimate in permanent wave setting.

Today, permanents can be tailored for different types of hair and hairdos. John H. Breck, Inc., supplies beauticians with several formulas that seem created just for you. The beautician has been carefully trained in the use of Breck Professional Permanent Waves and can recommend the one best suited for your shining glory.

Next time you're almost tearing out your hair in desperation at the way it just hangs around your face, don't trust yourself. Wheelie Father out of a beauty parlor fee or dip into your piggy bank. A professional permanent wave is an investment in beauty that will pay off in compliments to you.

SKILLET COOKERY FOR LENTEN LUNCHES

Lenten lunches will take on new interest when you combine the ease of skillet cookery with canned, fresh or frozen fish. Keep several cans of tuna, shrimp and salmon on your pantry shelf for emergency meals. Put your skillet to quick use with favorite recipes or use prepared cream soups with canned fish and mixed vegetables to serve in patty shells. This recipe from General Electric Housewares test kitchens takes only twenty minutes.

- 6 English muffins
- 2 cans tuna or salmon (2 cups), drained
- 1/4 can cream-of-mushroom soup, undiluted
- 1/4 cup grated process American cheese

Preheat skillet to 300°F. Hollow out English muffins almost to bottom. Leave sides about 1/4 inch thick. Fill hollows with tuna or salmon. Spoon soup over top. Sprinkle with cheese. Add a cooked shrimp on top. Place in skillet. Bake, covered with vents open, for 20 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Serve a HOT TOMATO & CLAM JUICE COCKTAIL, another good-tasting and tested recipe:

- 1 can tomato juice
- 1 can clam juice
- lemon

Heat tomato juice and clam juice. Garnish with twist of lemon. Serve hot in demi-tasse cups.

Toss a variety of fresh greens with a favorite salad dressing. You'll enjoy the contrast in flavor and texture if you add spinach or endive.

Add a decorator touch by cutting a tablecloth from spring-green felt you can buy by the yard. Sew a fringe or felt flower appliques in a border design on the cloth edge. Use white plates and napkins for color contrast. Carry out the spring theme by combining red and yellow straw flowers in a basket.

"Infocade 66" Heard On Tech Campus

West Texas Chamber of Commerce presented "INFOCADE 66" in the Student Union Building on the campus of Texas Tech College Wednesday, March 16, for the leadership of West Texas.

Principal speakers were Moderator, Ben Barnes, Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives; Keynoter, Beeman Fisher, President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and President of the Texas Electric Service Company of Fort Worth; Frank Ikard, President of the American Petroleum Institute of New York and former Congressman from the 13th District of Texas.

Attending the meeting from Silverton were Mrs. C. O. Allard, County Historical Survey Chairman, Mrs. Carroll Garrison, Mrs. C. L. McWilliams, and Mrs. Berton Hughes.

It was a pleasant surprise for Mrs. Hughes to note that Frank Ikard was one of the speakers of the day, as they had both attended and been graduated from Henrietta High School.

There were four panels of questions and answers, one being a panel of seven college and high school students on "The Future Leaders' View Point."

Of great interest to the Silverton group was "The Woman's Viewpoint Panel," on which Mrs. L. E. Dudley was the main speaker. Mrs. Dudley is vice president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, vice president of the Texas Safety Association and a past president of the Federated Women's Clubs in Abilene. Mrs. Dudley stated that "Too long in West Texas the woman's role has been visualized as the decoration of the banquet hall for the annual Chamber of Commerce meeting and to participate in the campaign to beautify our communities."

She added, "If this is all you are expecting from the women in your home town, you are failing to take advantage of one of the greatest reservoirs of available talent. Women will be able to help you in every phase of your community life and work as partners in your home town not only to make it a better place in which to live, but to make it more attractive to industry and the traveler." She went on to say, "To all the 'fairer sex' in West Texas, I say again and again—first of all remember you are a lady." She said that each community should have a "Participation Team" — female and male. Women carry their part of the responsibilities on this team. Be sure that local people understand and appreciate local tourist attractions, our ability to draw the traveler to them and to give some positive reason why they should be visited. They should know, talk about and write about all the beautiful parks, lakes, as well as all the scenic, recreational and historic attractions. They can get the story across on the local level and we all know that word of mouth advertising is important to the tourist development field. I know you all have heard the old gag "telegaph, telephone, tell-a-woman," she added.

After the meeting, slides on "Project Sparkle" were shown. These pictures enforced the idea of how a town and community, with just a little cleaning and painting, moving rubbish and planting flowers and trees in 'eyesore' places, could improve a town.

Friendship Night Held Tuesday

Silverton Chapter No. 900, Order of the Eastern Star, entertained the other chapters in District 2, Section 3, at Friendship Night at the Masonic Hall Tuesday night. A dinner was served by Lola Mae Stephens, Dorothy Bomar and Norma Birdwell before the chapter was opened for its regular monthly meeting.

Mae Bomar, Roberta Griffin, Marcella Brown and Ruby Hester were on the registration committee, and gave name badges which resembled miniature open Bibles and miniature books of scripture to each one who registered.

Lillian and Glen Lindsey, Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron, Eva Lee McWilliams and Charles Sarchet, Associate Matron and Associate Patron greeted the guests, and Merlene Stephens and Eva Lee McWilliams were in charge of the program which was presented.

Elaine Forbes, Mary Ann Sarchet and Glen Lindsey were on the decoration committee. Lillian Lindsey presided over the meeting.

FORT RICHARDSON

... a long time between paydays!

Across the western face of Texas, the brooding ruins of forts ... here and there a restored barracks or hospital bring back a bloody page in history. A history that tells of marauding redskins thundering southward from Indian Territory, killing in their wake, pushing on to the Mexican border. A history that tells too of the hard and lonely life of the U.S. Army troopers who manned these strategic forts.

Fort Richardson, near Jacksboro, was one of the more important of these outposts. Here Kiowa Chieftains Satanta and Big Tree were incarcerated before their trial for a bloody massacre. But life in all frontier posts was much the same ... best expressed by the soldiers themselves, "a long time between paydays."

BUT IT ISN'T SO FAR BETWEEN PAYDAYS NOW
... with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Today, there can also be a long time between paydays for those who have not established the thrift habit. But through the U.S. Savings Bonds program you can take care of this situation quickly and effectively.

For example, with as little as 63¢ a day you can buy an $18.75 Savings Bond every month. Keep this up for 40 months and you'll own a stack of Bonds worth $1,000, at maturity, which cost you only $750 in easy installments.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds every payday automatically through the payroll savings plan.

Students Approve Vietnam Effort

High School Principal O. C. Ramplsey recently received a letter from S.A.V.E. (Students Approve Vietnam Effort) of Wolcott High School, Wolcott, Connecticut. A part of it is reprinted below:

"It has always been a part of our great American heritage to speak up for causes we believe in. The Vietnam War is such a cause. It is so tragic in intensity and so overwhelming in importance that we, the senior class of Wolcott High School, have decided to organize our nation's schools to take a position in support of our American policy there.

"Our Campaign for signatures offers students all over America an opportunity to be heard and to rally to a cause which has as its sole purpose the guaranteed independence of South Vietnam. We don't want our government to settle for anything less. If the United States gives up on Vietnam, free Asia will give up on the United States and all Asia will be swallowed up by the communist menace.

Student demonstrators against our policy in Vietnam are in the minority. Many of them are not aware of the issues involved there. We need the help of your students to help ameliorate this false impression given Peking and Hanoi. Your cooperation in this campaign for signatures will not be forgotten by us here at Wolcott . . ."

The letter was accompanied by a petition which read:

"We, the undersigned, wish to express our support of the United States policy in Vietnam. As we understand this policy we are in Vietnam at the request of the South Vietnamese government to help them stop communist intervention. We are not there to impose our system because every nation should have the right to choose the system of government that best fits its needs. We are in Vietnam to protect this right; the communists are there to destroy it. We are not there to oppose communist colonialism.

"We are seriously disturbed by the small minority of students demonstrating against our policy in Vietnam and even advocating the tearing up of draft cards. Their tactics have led to highly exaggerated estimates of their numbers. Because these tactics may lead Peking and Hanoi to seriously underestimate American commitment we, the students of America, have decided to speak up."

The petition was circulated in the Silverton High School and all students were allowed to read it and sign it if they so desired. Out of the 145 high school students who read the petition, 141 chose to sign their names to it.

From The Reading Station

Last year (the school year 1964-65) we had 55 children enter school in the first grade. How many of them will graduate in 1971, twelve years later? In the Freshman class, there were 45. How many of them will graduate in 1968? Certainly, we hope they all will!

In the 1953-54 school year, there were 47 first graders; twelve years later (1964-65), counting our student from Norway, we had 36 graduates. In the several years just preceding 1965, the numbers who entered first grade and the number graduating twelve years later (1964 to 1966) were as follows: 41-27, 33-23, 45-21, 38-21, 40-25, 40-26, 30-27.

These figures were taken from the school yearbooks and are not authentic, but probably are fairly accurate.

An article in THE TEXAS OUTLOOK for February stated: "When more than half of the public school children entering first grade in Texas do not graduate from high school, there must be something wrong."

While the above facts show that our drop-out rate is considerably less than 50 per cent, it is still too high. Keeping children in school is certainly an important program for the homes, schools, communities, states and the entire nation.

EDITORIAL

by Linda Fisch

Several weeks ago, high school students from all over the United States were encouraged to "talk back" to their teachers. Some of this criticism was often uncomplimentary and some was mixed with praise and appreciation.

Teachers, like our parents, are interested in each of us and usually do everything they can to see that their students have the best. As long as a student studies and tries to do his best, the teacher will do all he can to help him. If a student doesn't apply himself and has a "don't care" attitude about his class work, naturally the teacher is going to get discouraged.

A teacher's work is never done. They are always looking for new ideas and information to present to their students. This information will help them, not only at the present, but also in the student's later life. The teacher doesn't "give" the good grade or the poor one; the student makes it.

Let's be proud of our teachers and show them the respect and courtesy they deserve.

"Listen, I can speak again"

says stage and screen star William Gargan

When the show closed, my wife, Mary, insisted that I see a doctor. After an examination and tests, he said I had cancer of the larynx, and recommended an operation, to save my life. Thirty-six hours later, the surgeon operated on my throat; I was speechless—literally. I had lost my voice.

I was discouraged and depressed. How could an actor act—without a voice? But, through the American Cancer Society I learned a new way to talk called esophageal speech. It seemed a miracle. Since then, I have traveled over 100,000 miles for the Society, showing other voiceless victims that they too can speak again.

A.Q.E. Test Results Are Announced

The entire senior class of Silverton High School was recently given the "Airman Qualifying Examination" furnished by the United States Air Force to schools all over the country.

The highest possible score is 85, indicating the 3 percent achieving the highest test scores. There are four divisions of the test: (1) Mechanical, (2) Administrative, (3) General and (4) Electronic.

Certificates were received and presented in an assembly program last week to the two top-ranking boys and the top-ranking girl in Silverton.

Wayne Ramplsey was not only the top-ranking student in his class, but also achieved perfect scores in all four areas of testing. Orlin Grabbe was second with very good scores of 90, 85, 85, 85.

Paula Turner was high-ranking girl with scores of 85, 85, 90, 85.

The Mechanical Aptitude Index represents performance on tests stressing speeded response to verbal and quantitative materials, as well as knowledge of the meaning of words. Scores indicate success or failure in clerical activities requiring attention to detail and fairly rapid work.

The General Aptitude Index is

REMOVE WARTS!

Amazing Compound Dissolves Common Warts Away Without Cutting or Burning. Doctors warn picking or scratching at warts may cause bleeding, spreading. Now amazing Compound W penetrates into warts, destroys their cells, actually melts warts away without cutting or burning. Painless, colorless Compound W, used as directed, removes common warts safely, effectively, leaves no ugly scars.

ITCHING LIKE MAD?

Get this doctor's formula! Zeno speedily stops torment of externally caused itching . . . of eczema, minor skin irritations, non-poisonous insect bites. Desensitizes nerve endings. Kills millions of surface germs. "De-itch" skin with Zeno—Liquid or Ointment.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that surgery made astonishing statements like "This hemorrhoid is a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation FR. At all drug counters.

BRAIN TEASER

Man in the Well

Suppose a man were stuck in the bottom of a well and tried to climb out. Every day he climbs three feet, but at night he slips back two feet. If the well is 25 feet deep, how long would it take for the man to get out? In figuring out this one, don't take anything for granted.

Answer to Last Week's Pie Problem

See placed her knife exactly in the middle of the pie and cut a figure eight. Believe it or not! That was four equal pieces and if you don't believe it, have Mr. Gooddollar explain it to you.

Attend State S.C. Conference In Hurst

O. C. Ramplsey, Student Council sponsor, and four officers of the Silverton High School Student Council, Margaret Minyard, secretary; Ginger Martin, treasurer; John Montague, vice president; and Joe Self, president, left this morning for the 39th Annual T.A.S.C. Conference which is being held at the Lawrence D. Bell School in Hurst.

The Silverton group will be staying at the Admiral Motor Hotel in Arlington. If you find it necessary to get in touch with a member of this group, you may do so by calling Hurst, Texas BU 2-2551 or through Mrs. Joyce Brown at Western Hills Inn, BU 2-1531 at any time during the conference.

They plan to return to Silverton Saturday, March 26.

properly used for assignment of men to fields which depend on balanced ability rather than high specialization.

The Electronic Aptitude Index is the most technical of the four in content, and is actually a measure of engineering aptitude. A person who scores high on this test has an understanding of the fundamentals of mechanics and electricity, as well as other physical principles. He also shows facility in solving mathematical problems.
