

I would like to take this opportunity to ask that you support our local federated women's clubs projects which are now underway.

The Century of Progress Study Club has for its chief money-raising project its Christmas Bazaar which will be held Saturday in the showroom of House Chevrolet beginning at 9:00 a.m.

The Century of Progress Study Club uses the proceeds of the Bazaar to support their many worthwhile projects, many of which are for the purpose of helping the youth of the community or inspiring the youth of the town to greater heights in the field of scholastic achievement.

The L. O. A. Junior Study Club, manager in service than Century of Progress Study Club but no less dedicated to community improvement, is seeking to purchase $505 worth of equipment for the public library. The project will cover the purchase of a controlled reader ($250.00) and its material ($255.00) to be used for reading improvement in all students, not necessarily the poor readers. Only by improving reading skills can the students hope to become proficient in other subjects. The junior club wants to help the teachers mold better citizens for tomorrow.

The club is asking that local residents support this project by sending Christmas cards locally, and donating the money that would have been spent on Christmas cards and postage to this fund. The club will sponsor a Christmas Greeting page in the Briscoe County News, and all those who have made donations to the fund for the controlled reader will have their names listed along with the explanation that they are supporting the project and take that means of wishing a Merry Christmas to one and all.

The March of Time Study Club is taking orders for fruitcakes, and the proceeds of this project benefit the public library. The club has been the sponsor of the public library for a good many years now, and can be very proud of the improvements which have been made there. It is probably through their dedication to this project that we have a public library at all. Express your appreciation to this club by buying one or more of their delicious fruitcakes.

Mrs. Fred Mercer is president of the March of Time Study Club; Mrs. Edwin Dickerson is president of Century of Progress Study Club, and Mrs. Randall Eddleman is the president of L. O. A. Junior Study Club.

Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, described the need for the Cotton Research and Promotion Program in his speech at the recent convention of Texas Farmers Union in Mineral Wells.

Congressman Poage said that "of all major crops, cotton is in the deepest trouble." He pointed out that the surplus is at an all time high and that synthetics, although higher priced, have moved into the cotton markets. Today, according to the Waco congressman, cotton supplies only a little more than one-half of our textiles because of the inroads of synthetics. "If all textiles were made of cotton, we would have no surplus at all."

While the synthetic industry finances its research and promotion at a level of $200 million annually, cotton producers are only spending $4 or $5 million.

Poage went on to say, "I think it is perfectly clear that unless we, as cotton producers, are willing to make some substantial effort to promote our own product, that we are going to continue to lose more and more markets to synthetic fibers—and I greatly fear that if farmers should show, by rejecting the referendum, that they are unwilling to finance any serious effort in behalf of their own product, that we may well lose the government help which we are getting in connection with our cotton prices."

"I am afraid that too many of our farmers overlook the fact that the average cotton producer is getting almost half of his returns in the form of government payments of one kind or another. I am afraid that if cotton farmers were to reject this referendum, that a great majority of the Members of Congress, who come from cities, not rural areas, will throw up their hands and say that cotton isn't worth saving. On the other hand, if farmers agree in the referendum to put up the dollar a bale, they will show by their votes that they are trying to help themselves, and I believe that the Congress will continue to provide substantial assistance over a reasonable period of time. With this much involved, I feel that sound business requires that we approve the referendum on cotton research and promotion by an overwhelming vote."

Cotton Referendum To Be Discussed At Tulia Meeting

The public is invited to hear Earl Younts, representative of the National Cotton Council, Thursday, December 1, at 7:00 p.m. in the Willie Room of Swisher Electric Cooperative in Tulia.

He will discuss the upcoming cotton referendum. The meeting will be sponsored by the Swisher County Farmers Union.

All cotton farmers and interested persons are urged to attend this important meeting.

December 8, at the Community Building in Memphis, for the three hour discussion on P.E.P.

Other sessions have been held this week in Borger, Dalhart and Canyon.

Anyone interested in the future of the Panhandle is urged to attend one of the sessions. A crowd of 100 to 200 people is expected at each event.

Jim Murphrey, Extension Area Farm Management Specialist and Coordinator of P.E.P., says the 26-county Panhandle Economic Program is aimed primarily at improving income from our agricultural industry through improved use of area resources.

During the meetings, he will report findings of an 18-month study of the Panhandle's economic influences.

Others slated to make short presentations at the sessions are representatives from S.C.S., F.H.A., A.S.C.S., Texas A&M, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, and Texas Education Agency.

"The project first started when a small group of leaders requested a study of the Panhandle's water situation," Murphrey said.

Texas A&M University's Dean of Agriculture, Dr. R. E. Patterson, offered the school's resources to make the study and named Murphrey its coordinator.

The A&M Dean decided they would have to study all of the region's resources—land, weather, people, mineral and petroleum—to put the proper perspective on the water situation.

Numerous public and private agencies and firms contribute resource data and suggestions or guidelines for improved use of the resources, according to Patterson.

This information has been published in the book which will be presented to those attending the P.E.P. meetings this week.

The P.E.P. study indicates improved resource use could double the economic activity of the Panhandle.

This study shows, for example, that $25-million could be realized annually from timely and accurate application of irrigation water, $20-million can be saved annually by effective estate planning, and $25-million can be saved annually through improved home management practices.

Management guidelines for achieving production, marketing and conservation goals are included in the report.

Murphrey says this program is "of, for, and by" the Panhandle and the series of meetings are designed to bring it closer to the action stage.

Mr. and Mrs. George Long spent Friday night in Amarillo.

Mrs. Shelby Haynes and Mrs. C. O. Allard visited with Charlie Garrison in Plainview Saturday.

Danny Thompson was a patient in Swisher Memorial Hospital recently.

HILL-REID VOWS EXCHANGED IN PRETTY CHURCH CEREMONY HERE

The First Methodist Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Glenna Sue Hill and Richard Warren Reid at 5:00 p.m. Saturday. The Rev. Carl Nunn of Amarillo directed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hill, and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reid, jr., all of Silverton.

A large basket of bronze mums and gold pom poms accented by gold satin leaves stood behind the kneeling bench where the vows were exchanged. Gold candles in arrangements of bronze mums and gold satin leaves decorated the aisle. Candelabra trees holding gold tapers entwined with greenery flanked the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length formal gown of white peau de soie with long sleeves tapering to petal points over her hands. Her veil was a mantilla of white silk illusion bordered with lace. She carried a white lace-covered Bible topped with a white orchid.

Carrying out the bridal tradition, she carried her Great-grandmother Spurgeon's handkerchief and wore a blue garter.

Miss Sue Lusk of Lubbock attended her college roommate as maid of honor. Miss Nancy Reid, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore A-line dresses of gold satin with hats which were circles of gold net gathered with small flowers. Each carried a bouquet of gold pom poms and crysanthemums.

Little Miss Rebecca Reid, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Her hat and dress were similar to those worn by the other attendants, and she had a wrist corsage of gold flowers which carried out the bride's chosen colors of gold and white.

Candles were lighted by Julia Dickerson and Bill Reid, brother of the bridegroom.

Master Greg Hill, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. James W. Reid, III, brother of the bridegroom, Robert Haley Hill, brother of the bride, Van Breedlove and Dennis Tomlin seated the guests. Howard Tomlin was best man.

Mrs. Hill chose a suit of light beige with brown accessories and a cymbidium corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Reid was attired in a light green ensemble with darker green and brown accessories and a cymbidium corsage.

Mrs. Marvin Montague, organist, played traditional wedding selections. Mrs. Shafe Weaver sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Wedding Prayer."

A reception was held in fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with white lace over taffeta and the attendants placed their bouquets on the table. The three-tier white cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and was served with golden punch. Miss Rita Brown presided at the guest book, and several friends and relatives assisted with the serving.

The bride chose a green wool suit with black accessories for traveling, and lifted the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple is at home in Lubbock, where he is a student at Texas Technological College. The bride has attended Texas Technological College and is employed by Motors Insurance Company. Both are graduates of Silverton High School.

REHEARSAL

The wedding rehearsal was held Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reid, jr., hosted a dinner at their home for members of the wedding party immediately following the rehearsal.

LONG'S PHILOSOPHY

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Everybody is familiar with these words. We say them before every assembly program and usually before ballgames. We say these few little words and then we think that we are true loyal Americans. We always place our right hands over our hearts to show that we are speaking from our hearts, not from our mouths.

At the last home football game, the field had a new flag pole. I was one of the lucky ones who got to raise the flag for the first time on the new pole. Like everything I do, I goofed it up. When the band finished playing the National Anthem, I had the flag only half way up the pole. That was only a minor mistake that happened at the ceremony. When everybody was supposed to be saying the Pledge, I noticed that people were talking, kids were running around making loud noises, and only a few people were saying the Pledge.

Well, I think we're a fine bunch. Here we are in the greatest country in the world and we don't even take 10 seconds to salute our flag. When people do take the time to say the Pledge, I wonder how many mean what they say. I think that some people say the Pledge just because other people are saying it and they don't want to be the only one not saying it.

A lot of other people in this world would die for the chance to say the Pledge and we won't even say it for free!

Guest Editorial

ATTENTION BOYS AND GIRLS!

by Glen Grosdier

Have you ever heard the saying "Clothes make a person?" I suppose that it means that one should be able to determine the type of person someone is by observing their clothes and the manner in which they wear them. If this reasoning is true, I would like to pose this question: "What type of person do my clothes and the manner in which I wear them tell that I am?"

Some answers might be:

My shirt-tail (on a boy) hanging out says that I'm an untidy person.
My unbuttoned shirt (intentionally unbuttoned at the top) says that I'm inconsiderate of the ladies and girls.
My too-tight pants or skirt (on a girl) says I'm a tease.
My too-short dress or skirt says that either I'm a tease or uninformed about how indecent I look.
My purple shoes, green socks, yellow and pink dress, and red and orange scarf say I'm color-blind.

I would hope the answers to the question would be:

What I have to wear I wear neatly, signifying my tidiness.
My manner of wearing my clothes does not show disrespect to the ladies and girls.
My clothes decently cover my body showing that I'm not a tease.
As a final word concerning this matter, let me hastily add that I realize that what one wears and how one wears it may not be any of my business; however, if a girl or woman wears clothes that leave nothing to the imagination, then she has no complaint if she is stared at or insulted.
Do your clothes and the manner in which you wear them tell what kind of person you are?

Students Answers Often Amusing

The teachers in Silverton High School often get some pretty wild answers on test papers.

For instance, Judy Kay says that one of the parts of a business letter is the "solution."

Kathy Perkins says one of the figures that may be typed on the typewriter is the "cantastrophe" while Jackie Carol Tate says it is the "abstrobastrophe."

Miss Self has gotten some hysterical answers on her history tests, some horrible examples of which appear below:

Teddy Roosevelt's Party? Bull Mouse (Bull Moose)

French peasant girl burned as a witch? Cletus Grady* (Joan of Arc)

King during the American Revolution? Elizabeth I (George III)

Line dividing Spanish and Portuguese possessions? Declaration (Demarcation line)

Who discovered Hudson Bay? Desota (Hudson)

The "dumb ox"? Cletus Grady* (acquinias)

Define forge. Place of a battle as in Valley Forge. (blacksmith's equipment)

Ruling family of France? Whiskey (Bourbon)

Creator of Mickey Mouse? Mother Mouse (Walt Disney)

*Cletus refuses to leave blanks

Home Notes

by Becky Hall
Home Demonstration Agent
Mrs. Garland (Ima Nell) Francis served a very delicious Orange Slice Cake at the Southwestern Home Demonstration Club meeting in her home last week. Everyone wanted the recipe so we decided others would enjoy this cake, too, and the recipe follows:

ORANGE SLICE CAKE

2 cups pecans
2 cups angel coconut
1 pk. dates
1 lb. orange slice candy, cut very small
Mix together: 2 cups sugar
1 cup oleo
4 eggs
½ t. soda
Add: 3½ cups flour
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
1 cup buttermilk

Mix dough as in any other cake. Add first flour ingredients. Cook in loaf pan for approximately 2½ hours at 275 degrees. When cake has cooled in pan, run knife around to loosen. Leave in pan.
Mix 1 cup orange juice, ½ cup sugar, bring to boil, pour over cake and let it soak into cake.
If cake begins to get too brown, reduce heat to 250 degrees.

The Home Demonstration Council meets this Thursday at 9:30 a.m. in the P.C.A. room. Mrs. Raymond Teeple, the chairman, has several committees meeting before Council meets in order to coordinate the work for 1967. A standing rules committee will meet and have a slate of rules to recommend to Council. Mrs. Teeple plans to announce her committee chairman appointments that day.

There are many decisions that you, as a grocery shopper, have to make each time you go to market, says Miss Louise Mason, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University. You can pay more or less and yet provide good nutrition for your family. It all depends on what you buy. There are four groups of food that should be in every shopper's market basket—milk, meat, vegetables, fruits, breads and cereals.

Milk, fruit and vegetables are often lacking in sufficient amounts in many family diets. Are you buying fresh milk at 60c per half-gallon or nonfat dry milk at 18c per half-gallon? The food value of both kinds of milk is the same except the fat is removed from the nonfat dry milk. Fat is adequate in most diets without including whole milk. Have you tried mixing half fresh and half nonfat dry milk? The cost per gallon is about 39c.

Another decision facing the shopper today is at the meat counter. The more tender cuts of meat generally are more expensive, while the less tender cuts are less expensive. The food value is the same when the lean portion of the meat is compared—all of high quality protein. It requires more time to prepare the less tender cuts. Do you have more time than money? It's your decision to make.

Read the labels on packaged and canned goods. Some labels are more informative than others. Determine the cost per serving if in doubt. When you are looking for a place to reduce family expenses, think twice before you decide it will be the food bill. The health and well being of your family depends to a large extent on the food they eat every day.

The 4-H Gold Star District 2 Banquet will be held in Lubbock Monday, December 5, at 7:00 p.m. in Memorial Hall of First Methodist Church. Our Gold Star representatives from Briscoe County are John Montague, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Montague, and Kathy Self, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Self.

Holiday food shoppers can look for especially good supplies of broiler-size chickens this December, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Reports from the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate broiler supplies will run about a tenth greater than this time last year. There'll also be big supplies of pears, grapes and raisins. In addition, you'll see lots of pork and canned salmon at local food markets.

This year's big Bartlett pear crop is overlapping into the winter season. So you'll find unusually large stocks of these pears, along with the winter varieties of Anjou, Comice and Bosc.

VOTE YES ON COTTON RESEARCH AND PROMOTION DEC. 5-9

Because:

- Higher-priced synthetics are taking our markets — over 2 million bales in the last 2 years.
- New synthetic fiber plants are scheduled; additional manufacturing capacity equal to another 3.5 million bales of cotton by end of 1967.
- Carryover is at all-time high; acreage lowest since 1872.
- 1966 acreage cut averaged 30%; further cuts will come unless carryover is reduced.
- Research odds (5 to 1) and promotion odds (16 to 1) must be reduced if cotton is to survive.
- Farmers originated research and promotion proposal; farmers will run it.
- Plan is voluntary; any farmer not wishing to participate can get a refund.
- 42 cotton producer organizations have endorsed this approach —officially.
- All projects must be initiated and administered by producer trustees elected by cotton producer organizations.
- If we want to keep on growing cotton, we must sell more cotton.
- Most farmers put nearly $100 or more into growing, harvesting, and ginning a bale; can you afford not to spend $1 to sell a bale?
