All Around the Town
by Mary Ann Sarchet

Last week we had a letter from Tillie May, who has been visiting in Westerville, Ohio. Her letter was so interesting that I would like to share part of it with you.

"This is a very nice country here, and people don't want for rain. It rains for days at a time and we have had three or four snows so far. The foliage was beautiful this fall. I really enjoyed Indian summer. It lasted almost 10 days. I wonder when the farmers gather their corn—it's their main crop here. It says wet so much of the time. The trees are very huge, lots of them, and they look as if they have been here since the beginning of time. Lots of trees and flowers are like we have here, but I believe they have us beat with dandelions. They look so big and prosperous and some yards are bedded down with them.

The people here are very different from Texas people. They think I'm from the deep, deep South. When I answer the telephone, I think I scare them and they say "I'm sorry, but I believe I have the wrong number."

We have been on a 13-day trip, Bill's (my brother-in-law) vacation. They took me on the trip for a Christmas present. We went to Canada, spent one night and part of two days. Toured Niagara Falls. My its very beautiful, you can hardly believe your eyes. It snowed the night we were there and the mist from the Falls froze as it hit the ground and everything was iced—the trees and ground, and everything was just beautiful.

Then we went to New York City, and were there on Christmas Eve. It poured down snow all that day and we were snowed in until Monday. We went to the Radio City Music Hall to see a Christmas floor show, then two other movies and Bill took us to see "Hello Dolly" with Ginger Rogers. If you haven't been to see it, go if you have a chance.

Went to the Statue of Liberty, Empire State Building, but the United Nations Building was closed for Christmas. We went to the Wax Museum and several other places. My New York City is really a beautiful city. To look down Broadway is really something and I won't forget it. There are theaters everywhere and open door eating places and fruit and vegetable stands on the streets. People go down the streets eating. We went to Central Park. It had 10 inches of snow on it.

We went on to Washington D. C. and to see the Capitol, White House, Arlington Cemetery. We saw the changing of guards at Kennedy's grave, the Unknown Soldier's Grave. The cemetery is very huge. They were having a Navy funeral while we were out there. It poured down snow all that day, too.

Next day we went to Mount Vernon and went through George Washington's home. It's very old and beautiful. Then we went on down to Williamsburg and while there went through a restored mansion on a plantation.

We were going to Florida, but ran out of time. Out of the 13 days we saw the sun four days. The rest of the time it was snowing or we were traveling in snow. My! they have big snows there.

I've always heard that New York people weren't friendly, but we found them very friendly and nice. Maybe they felt sorry for us because we looked so lost. But we enjoyed it very much all the places we went.

Oh yes, I was about to forget. We rode the subways—they really travel fast. We went out to Coney Island and several other places."

Fat Stock Show Saturday

Billy Graham Film To Be Shown Here

Evangelist Billy Graham's feature-length dramatic film, "Shadow of the Boomerang," will have its Silvertown showing Saturday, January 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

Starring vivacious Georgia Lee and television's Buffalo Bill, Jr., Dick Jones, "Shadow of the Boomerang" is an outdoor action picture with all of the excitement and breathtaking scope of the land, "Down Under." Setting for the screen drama is Australia's "Outback," the continent's vast interior region where some of the world's largest cattle stations are located.

The two young Americans head an All-Australian supporting cast, playing brother and sister roles in a turbulent story of homestead life. Their arrival in Australia to manage newly acquired family holdings, plunges the couple into strange surroundings and situations with which they find it difficult to cope. The brother is immature and impetuous, slow to accept Australian ways. His sister is much more democratic, readily accepted by her new friends with whom she joins in an attempt to instill understanding and tolerance in her brother.

Filmed against the backdrop of the Billy Graham Australian Crusades, "Shadow of the Boomerang" seeks to underline the Godly reaction to human crises and conflicts. Spokesman for the Christian position is Billy Graham, seen in dramatic Crusade footage photographed at the site of the Evangelist's record-breaking crowds in Melbourne and Sydney. An authentic headline relay meeting which shared the big city Crusades with the stockmen of the "Outback," is used as an effective dramatic device in the story climax.

Anyone needing transportation to the First Baptist Church to view this film is asked to call 3981 and transportation will be provided. Please call before 7:00 p.m.

Essay Contest Deadline is Near

Would you like $200 to spend for a vacation? Of for your college fund?

That's the first prize that will go to the winner in the 22nd annual Save the Soil and Save Texas conservation awards program sponsored by the Fort Worth Press for Texas boys and girls.

In addition, the champ will get a beautiful trophy. It will be presented at the annual State Conservation Awards Banquet in Fort Worth in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Texas on May 6, 1967.

There will be other winners, too. Fifty boys and girls will get trophies and medals. They will be honored at five regional dinners in Texas.

Here's what you need to do to enter the contest:

Learn all you can about conservation. Then write an essay, 300 words or less, on: "Preserve Our Natural Resources."

Do not write a technical paper on how to conserve the soil and water. Be original . . . use your imagination. Tell how conservation of soil and water will provide for the future needs of Texas and its citizens.

This is an open contest . . . open to boys and girls in Texas, 19 years old or younger, in or out of school but not a high school graduate.

Entries may be sent by individuals or in school or club groups. Please include the following information on your entry:

1. Name and address.
2. Name of School.
3. Caprock Soil Conservation District

Mail or take your entries to the Agricultural Extension Office in the basement of the Courthouse by February 1. A panel of judges will be selected by the Caprock Soil Conservation District to score these essays. Local awards will be given to the high point winners.

Following the local contest, district judging entries will be mailed to the Conservation Director in Fort Worth. The State and Regional winners will be selected and notified after February 15, 1967.

4-H Alumni Honored For Community Service

Four former 4-H'ers have been named 1966 state 4-H Alumni award winners by the Cooperative Extension Service. Each has received a handsome inscribed plaque from the alumni program sponsor, Olin Mathliessen Chemical Corporation.

Mrs. LaVerna McMenamy, a housewife and substitute teacher in Shallowater, was a four-year 4-H member in Oklahoma. She has retained her interest in 4-H, serving as a club leader for four years and as 4-H committee chairman of the home demonstration council. She is also co-superintendent of the Southern Plains Fair.

Chairman of her church's commission on education and president and a district officer of the church women's organization, Mrs. McMenamy still finds time to serve as a Brownie troop leader.

Fay Mowery, Houston farmer and rancher, won a trip to National 4-H Club Congress as a five-year 4-H member. In 1958 his family received the master farm family award from "Progressive Farmer" magazine.

He is director and vice president of the Gulf Coast Cattle Improvement association and has been chairman of the Harris County program building committee, and state farm bureau director.

He serves on the board of directors of the Ozark Boys Camp, American Bank and Trust and Buffalo Savings and Loan Association. Mrs. Dortha Maxine Ayres of San Antonio has been a 4-H leader for 10 years. She organized a club and solicited a record number of active leaders. The club received the coveted purple seal for four years and has produced three gold star winners. Mrs. Ayres was herself a three-year 4-H member. She has served as chairman of the first county adult leaders camp and as senior vice-president of the district Veterans of Foreign Wars.

As a 10-year 4-H'er Carlos Barton Griffin of Kilgore was the Thomas E. Wilson livestock champion. He attributes his choice of a career as an agronomist to his early 4-H experiences. At Texas A & M University, Griffin was a member of the crop judging team that placed first in national competition. He was high individual in international seed judging competition.

Now foreman and assistant for Texas Eastman Chemical Company Griffin maintains his interest in 4-H by serving as a club leader, president of the Gregg County 4-H adult leaders organization and chairman of the county building committee.

Home Wiring Checkup Is Advisable

The fact that your house is relatively new does not necessarily mean that its wiring system is up-to-date, points out William S. Allen, agricultural engineer with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

For example, the builder of the house may not have known the extent of your own special electrical needs. Or, the house may have been built to meet a price which did not allow for anything but just "good enough" wiring. Or, perhaps after moving in you immediately began adding a lot of extra appliances you hadn't thought about before.

You do not have to be an expert to tell whether or not your house is suffering from "weakness of the wiring." There are many little symptoms that show up every day you live in an inadequately wired home. Here are some of them:

1. Lights flicker and dim when appliances are turned on.
2. Appliances such as irons, room heaters, or toasters operate slowly or not as well as they should.
3. Fuses blow or circuit breakers trip too frequently.
4. The TV picture shrinks in size or "winces" when other appliances go into action.
5. The radio fades or sounds scratchy when an appliance is turned on.
6. Too few outlets and switches where you need them.
7. Multiple "octopus" connections are used for several appliances and lamps at once.
8. Long cords are strung around rooms in order to connect lamps and appliances.

If you recognize these symptoms in your home you are not realizing the fullest benefits of the electricity you pay for. An electrician or power supplier representative can help plan for correction of the symptoms of improper wiring.

Mrs. K. N. Tiffin was in Oklahoma City early this week for an appointment at the Allergy Clinic. She went and returned via Amarillo to visit her son, Doyle Ray Tiffin of Canyon, who has been undergoing tests and examination since Friday at Northwest Texas Hospital. Mrs. Doyle Ray Tiffin is at the hospital with her husband, and Mrs. Shellie Tomlin was there Friday and Tuesday to visit Doyle Ray and also Howard Tomlin, who is a patient at the hospital.

Mrs. J. D. McGavock fell on an icy walk at her home Monday evening and was taken to Swisher Memorial Hospital and treated for a broken arm. She returned from the hospital Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Campsey, Keri and Alice Ann left for Elko, Nevada, on Monday. He will be associated with the S.C.S. in Elko. Mr. and Mrs. Campsey were honored guests at a Bridge and "42" party Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Self. Attending were Messrs. and Mmes. F. E. Hutsell, Jim Mercer, Ray Teeple, Harold Storie, O. C. Rampley, Bob Rauch, Cletus Grady, sr., Bill Wristen and Don Burson, Silvertown; and Charlie Rogers, Tullia.

Joe Lynn Allard of Memphis, who was injured in a truck wreck New Years Eve, was taken to Northwest Texas Hospital early Tuesday morning after suffering a stroke at his home. His wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Allard, and Mr. and Mrs. Wood Hardcastle are at the hospital with him. He had been moved from the intensive care ward into Room 254 late Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Thompson attended the funeral of J. B. Riney, 54, in Slaton Monday afternoon. Mr. Riney, of Star Route, Hale Center, near Olton, was killed in a train-car accident near Shallowater Thursday evening. He was the father-in-law of Mrs. Joe Riney, nee LaGuan Thompson, of Brownfield.

THE OPEN DOOR

"Behold, I have set before thee an open door . . ." Rev. 3:8

by Rev. Clyde Cain

A professor of social work at the University of Texas believes children learn what they live, for he wrote: if a child lives with criticism, he learns to condemn. If a child lives with hostility, he learns to fight. If a child lives with pity, he learns to be sorry for himself. If a child lives with encouragement, he learns to be confident. If a child lives with tolerance, he learns to be patient. If a child lives with praise, he learns to be appreciative. If a child lives with acceptance, he learns to have a goal. If a child lives with fairness, he learns what justice is. If a child lives with honesty, he learns what truth is. If a child lives with security, he learns to have faith in himself. If a child lives with friendliness, he learns that the world is a nice place in which to live.

Million Mothers Fight Birth Defects In Traditional March of Dimes Drive

Famed actresses Jane Wyatt, Angela Lansbury and Gigi Perreau share a secret—they have learned there can be a great deal more to life than the glamour and glitter of stage and screen stardom.

Behind the scenes these stars are among the more than one million American women who have become March of Dimes volunteers so that countless millions of infants, yet unborn, may have the chance to lead normal and useful lives.

For the fourth consecutive year, Miss Wyatt is national chairman of the March of Dimes Mothers' March on birth defects. Miss Lansbury is chairman in New York City, and Miss Perreau is chairman in Los Angeles, Calif.

As the world of stars helps the 1967 March of Dimes, so does the world of space. The Mothers' March chairman in Houston, Tex., is Mrs. L. Gordon Cooper Jr., wife of the famous astronaut, while the mother of astronaut Wally Schirra, Mrs. Walter Schirra Sr., heads the Mothers' March in San Diego, Calif.

These well-known women and the many other equally dedicated Mothers' March volunteers across the nation seek their neighbors' support and contributions for the 1967 March of Dimes because the need is so vital and immediate.

Each year more than 250,000 American babies are born with birth defects, many of which can disfigure, disable or kill. That's about 700 infants born each day with a physical or mental defect. Birth defects each year destroy an estimated 500,000 infants before they are born.

"On their Mothers' March from door to door, volunteers will have two main goals," Miss Wyatt explains.

"These women want to educate parents and parents-to-be about birth defects and what is known about how to prevent them. They will also try to raise funds to support the fight on birth defects."

The educational leaflet, "Happy Birth Day," will be distributed during the Mothers' March. It explains what to do if you are about to be married, if you are expecting a baby, if a birth defect occurs in your family or if you have friends with a defective child who needs assistance.

Contributions to the 1967 March of Dimes will help the fight on birth defects by supporting:

- The growing nationwide network of 77 Birth Defects Centers for diagnosis and treatment.
 - A scientific research program aimed at finding the causes and methods of preventing birth defects.
 - A Professional Education Program for scientists and medical personnel.
 - A nationwide Public Education Program to distribute authoritative information about prenatal care and birth defects treatment and research.
- The million mothers who march this month will share the certain knowledge that they will indeed be marching to help generations of babies yet unborn.

January Is Good Time To Submit Soil Samples

January is a good month for collecting and submitting soil samples for testing, reminds County Agent Leon Grosdidier.

At the present time, samples are processed as soon as they arrive at the laboratory and test reports are mailed within ten days. This schedule should benefit you since prompt service is an important requirement for an effective soil testing service.

Sampling well in advance of planting offers the advantage of allowing time to obtain the fertilizers needed. In many instances wet soil may be encountered during the winter and cause a delay in sampling, therefore, sampling now is advisable.

Shipping weights can be reduced by allowing the sample to dry a day or two at air temperature. Samples should not be heated since high temperatures cause potassium to be fixed in some soils in such a way that it cannot be removed by chemical procedures.

If reliable information is to be obtained from a soil test, it is necessary for the sample to be as nearly representative of the field on which information is desired as possible. To obtain a representative sample, a composite is made by obtaining a core or slice of soil from 10 - 15 spots in fields from 20 to 40 acres in size, Grosdidier says.

Pint boxes, mailing cartons, history sheets, and instructions are available from your county agent's office. Instructions for sampling should be studied and followed as closely as possible.

It is a good idea to go over these instructions with your county agent, especially if this is your first experience in collecting samples.

Words of Wisdom

Taken from "Seventeen" by Dennis Dunn

"I'm a rock and roll buff, but recently I let my girl friend drag me off to a Bach and Mozart concert. As she predicted, it was an unforgettable experience.

From the beginning I felt intimidated and out of place. On our arrival at the concert hall we were intercepted by a glum-looking usher who directed us to our seats in a whisper. Actually, everyone seemed to be whispering. My girl and I settled down to wait, she enthusiastic, I apprehensive. I soon became conscious of another sound, the peculiar and rather unpleasant noise made by many people coughing. So much has been written about exuberant screaming at rock and roll concerts. Why, I wonder, has so little attention been given to sickly coughing, the audience accompaniment at classical concerts?

As my girl and I watched amid the whispering and the coughing, the musicians took their places onstage, the lights dimmed and the music began. In the interest of fair play, I made an honest attempt to enjoy it. Within twenty minutes I was concentrating on trying to keep my boredom from showing. I sat there, arms folded, teeth gritting.

At long last the intermission arrived and brought temporary release from torture. I was stretching gratefully pondering whether to take a sardonic or martyred approach with my girl when I heard the woman sitting on my right demand of her husband, "With good music like this around, how can those silly kids have anything to do with rock and roll?" Her husband shrugged. I almost choked.

As I see and hear it, classical music is an attempt (unsuccessfully) to do exactly what rock and roll succeeds in doing: arousing emotion. The evidence is clear. Even the greatest devotee of classical music is seldom stirred to do more than feebly wave his hand in time to music. By contrast, rock and roll usually evokes a wild response. Of course, my girl argues the point, claiming that classical music lovers feel great emotion but are restrained about exhibiting it in public. So much the worse for them! Everyone knows how unhealthy it is to bottle up your feelings.

Dancing as a response to rock and roll music has come in for severe criticism. "Ridiculous" and "ugly" are some of the milder epithets tossed at it. Well, let's take a look at rock and roll's classical counterpart: ballet. People who enjoy it are certainly entitled to their opinion, but an objective observer might well feel that there is something a bit ridiculous about people cavorting about on their toes, men dressed in tights flitting about a stage, women imitating swans, adults pretending to be princesses and nutcrackers and other fairy-story characters. The significant difference between the forms is that rock and roll dancers usually create their own steps, dance purely for the joy of it. Ballet dancers are performers, who do routines someone else has dreamed up.

At this point my girl friend changes the subject, pointing out that classical music has an edge because by definition, it is music that has withstood the test of time, while rock and roll is raw, new, probably a passing fad. She's right again. Experts tell us that

JOHN MONTAGUE

Student Nominated To West Point

John Montague, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Montague, has recently been nominated as a candidate to West Point. John is a Senior in Silvertown High School where he holds many honors. He was a captain of the football team and is on the basketball and track teams. John is a class representative to the Student Council. He is a Briscoe County 4-H Gold Star winner and is an Eagle Scout.

Candidates for West Point must be appointed by a Congressman. Each Senator and Representative appoints five candidates.

When making appointments, the Congressman refers to academic record, leadership record (extent to which he has participated in school and community affairs) and character letters. After consideration of application, a civil service examination is required. This examination was taken in October. After nomination the candidate takes academic (S.A.T. - English, Composition and Math) medical and physical aptitude examinations required by the military academy.

Contrary to popular opinion, cadets do not spend all their time parading, attending classes and studying. There are many opportunities for social and recreational activities. The summer months may be spent swimming, canoeing, fishing, skeet shooting, water skiing and sailing. During winter, cadets may ice skate or go skiing on the Post Ski Slope.

The student body at West Point is called the United States Corps of Cadets. There are approximately 3,100 cadets there.

The military reservation at West Point consists of 16,011 acres.

Exercise kills germs, but we can't figure out how to make the blamed things exercise.

You can get quite a lot out of vegetable gardens if you carefully cultivate the owners.

Married men may not be the best informed people, but they certainly are the most.

If you are beginning to encounter some hard bumps, be glad. At least you are out of the rut.

variations of rock and roll existed in Africa centuries before our so-called classical music appeared in Europe.

"But those rock and roll lyrics," counters my persistent girl friend. "How can you defend them?" I grant that some words are incomprehensible and others are considerably less than poetry. But rock and roll words don't stack up badly when put beside the lyrics in those gaudy, melodramatic musicals known as opera. No wonder they're usually sung in the original Italian, German or French. Translating them would allow everyone to catch on that what the baritone is really singing so dramatically over and over again is "Hark, who comes?" and that the words are quite as banal as any produced by rock and roll lyricists.

Rock and roll composers are automatically labeled either "crassly commercial" or "strictly beatnik." Well, in their own time, most classical composers were seated well below the salt. And I don't know of a rock and roll composer who can come near to matching the terrible temper of a Beethoven or the scandalous behavior of a Wagner.

It all adds up, doesn't it? But not quite. My girl gave me a Chopin concerto for my birthday and I've been listening to it. The worst of it is, I'm beginning to like it."

New Years Resolutions

Some of the students gave us their New Year Resolutions. Here is a collection of the printable resolutions they gave us.

I resolve to get my hair cut once a month whether I need it or not. I'm a root'n and too'n to tell you my New Year Resolution, for interesting it may be. It may be funny and maybe not, but here it may be. I am going to be a good boy this year and I may even quit pulling the little girls' hair. But the hardest thing to overcome is to quit spying on Clifford and his gals when they are parked in a man's corral.

I resolve not to sleep in history class more than an hour a day from now on.

I resolve never to make any more New Year Resolutions; they are too dangerous.

I resolve not to stay out later than midnight for more than one night a week.

Mike Long resolves to spend every free minute of his time with Miss Self because he knows how much she loves him.

Another student resolves never to say or write bad things about Turkey again.

Math Test Given

Thursday, January 5, a math test was given to the top 10 high school students, who were nominated by the math and science teachers. The test was sponsored by the Texas Education Agency. The same test was given last year to the top eight students in math and science. The scores are sent to colleges and universities sponsoring summer math and science programs for high school students. Participants for these summer programs are chosen, at least partially, from these scores.

Those taking the test were John Cole, Randy Hughes, Debbie Dickerson, Terry Grimland, Judy Wilkerson, Joe Mercer, Crockett Grabbe, Paul Ray McWilliams, Johnny Weaver, and Gary Martin.

DEAR MEDUSA,

This is my problem: two days ago I came home to find my husband with another woman. I was shocked because he had always been such a devoted husband and father. The next day, I was in town eating lunch when my husband walked in with the same woman. They did not speak to me. That night I found a blonde hair on his shoulder. Today he told me he was leaving me and the children because he loved someone else. Do you think something could be going on between him and the strange woman?

Yours truly,

Just Wondering

DEAR WONDERING,

I see that there might be room for reasonable doubt. But sometimes the human imagination plays tricks. Perhaps this is your case. Remain loyal to him.

DEAR MEDUSA,

I'm a young blonde who has been going with a married man for some time. Today he told me that he has asked his wife for a divorce. He said she distrusted him. She actually caught us together several times. Now I feel I owe her something. Each day I get worse, and I feel I will kill myself. What do you suggest?

Signed,

Hurt

DEAR HURT,

I suggest you use Hemophilia. This is an ancient poison which is used in tribal rites. They say it is painless.

THANK YOU!

The students wish to thank the following people for sponsoring the dance on New Year's Eve: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Montague, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Strange, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Strange, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nance, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Self, Mr. and Mrs. George Long, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Montague, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitfill, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bomar

Mother of March of Dimes Patient Teaches Child Braille as Precaution

"When the doctors told me my daughter was probably going blind, I determined to learn Braille and be her teacher. I wanted to cushion the shock of knowing she might lose her sight, and to try to share the experience with her."

Speaking is Mrs. Mary A. Fennell of Archer, Fla., mother of five-year-old Lucille, who has congenital glaucoma (hardening of the eyeballs). The attractive blonde and blue-eyed child is also the victim of another birth defect which consists of malformations of the lymph vessels throughout her body.

"I've been warned," Lucille's mother explains, "that if I make a mistake in her diet—such as using the wrong kind of flour in my pies—Lucille won't be with us very long."

Mrs. Fennell told of her efforts to learn Braille, and why, at the Birth Defects Center at the University of Florida School of Medicine at Gainesville. The Center is one of 77 supported by the March of Dimes across the nation.

At the suggestion of the Florida State Council for the Blind, Mrs. Fennell wrote to the Library of Congress for a book of Braille and teaching instructions. (Available at no cost for anyone declared legally blind.)

"I thought that was all there was to it," Mrs. Fennell says. "I figured I'd just do a little studying and soon I'd be teaching Lucille how to spell by 'feeling' the raised dots. How mistaken I was!"

A person who has normal sight encounters far more difficulty learning Braille than the non-sighted. The reason is that the sighted individual relies on the faculty of sight rather than that of touch.

anywhere near as much of a Braille problem as does her mother. The child's print vision is limited to letters one inch high, so that she will never read book and newspaper type and be confused by memories and associations of the printed letter or word.

Mrs. Fennell is helping Lucille memorize the "feel" of a few letters of the alphabet in raised-dot language, and to recognize how the "feel" sounds when spoken. Mother and child make a game of it. School authorities were so impressed with the child's progress that they permitted Lucille to enter regular kindergarten.

When she enters first grade and moves into a textbook-oriented world, such classic readers as "Dick and Jane" will be unintelligible to her in conventional type. But her mother will translate such books onto sheets of "raised pinpricks," using a special Braille typewriter.

At the March of Dimes-supported Birth Defects Center, to which Lucille is taken for check-ups every few months, the specialists avoid an unqualified prediction. But if pressure against her optic nerves increases, total blindness is almost certain to result.

Understandably, this is the kind of tragedy that many fathers and mothers find intolerable to face. But Mary Fennell is facing it, the doctors say, courageously and with intelligent compassion. They wish more parents, in similar unhappy circumstances, could summon the same fortitude and sense of realism.

Lone Star State 4-H's Named for Awards

Achievements as monumental as the state of Texas have won state recognition for four Lone Star State 4-H's.

Two 18-year-olds who speak with ease before the public won state honors in the 4-H Public Speaking program sponsored by The Pure Oil Company. They are Rodney Williams of Texarkana and Ethel Mabry of Petersburg. His award was a wrist watch, and hers, a chest of silverware.

"Public speaking has encouraged me to major in political science when I enrolled in college," said Williams, who won state honors in public speaking for four years.

The inspiration for his speech, "Our Generation's Future," came when he was a delegate to the Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll D. Williams, the eight-year 4-H'er has served as boys' vice-chairman of district five and Bowie County 4-H Councils.

Miss Mabry plans to minor in speech at Texas Technological College where she is a freshman. During her 10-year 4-H career she gave 149 speeches to some 25,000 people. Her winning speech was on "Americanism and Patriotism."

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Mabry, spoke at the Attorney General's Youth Conference, Texas Electric Cooperatives and the National A.I.C. conventions.

She has served as Hale County 4-H Council chairman and co-recreational leader, emcee of many county events and junior leader in speech activities.

When David Berend, 16, of Windthorst, was nine years old he started his poultry project with 52 broilers. For the last three years he has had 6,438 layers under his supervision and in four years he has raised 7,290 pullets.

He started his turkey project in 1965 with 15 turkeys and has had 25 this year.

Berend believes his 4-H experience prepared him for his family's large poultry operation. He plans to major in poultry science when he attends Texas A & M University. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Berend.

Berend has won top district and state honors in poultry judging. His award from Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc., 4-H Poultry sponsor, was a wrist watch.

Jimmie Ruth Wittenburg, 18, Rocksprings, won her wrist watch award in the 4-H Sheep program sponsored by Wilson & Co., Inc. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wittenburg, who operate an 11,700-acre ranch, she says that her interest in ranching and the sheep and goat industry dates back to several generations.

The nine-year 4-H member has raised almost 3,000 sheep, and has several boxes full of ribbons which she has won with sheep, wool fleeces and goats. There are 519 registered Rambouillet in her sheep flock and 163 registered Angora goats.

For three years she was second premier exhibitor with her Rambouillet sheep at the San Angelo Fat Stock Show and now has permanent possession of the Leonard Richardson trophy.

Miss Wittenburg is a member of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association and American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association.

The four state winners were selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

March of Dimes Teen Age Program Sets Pace in Birth Defects Battle

Paul Petersen, the 21-year-old television, motion picture and recording star, plans to some day "get married and have at least nine kids."

"I also want to adopt all the orphans I can from around the world and bring them all together each year during the holiday season," says the young man who once played the role of Jeff on the Donna Reed TV show.

Like thousands of members of his generation, Paul perhaps best demonstrates his love for children through his efforts to fight birth defects. He is national chairman of the March of Dimes Teen Age Program (TAP) for the second consecutive year.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes is conducting an all-out war against birth defects which strike 250,000 infants born in the United States each year. As national TAP chairman, Paul is working to stimulate interest in this vital problem among young people—the nation's future parents.

Thousands of TAP members across the nation are taking an active part in the fight against birth defects through year-round programs of education, service and fund raising. A good portion of the contributions raised by TAP members has helped the March of Dimes finance its rapidly growing nationwide network of 77 birth defects centers for diagnosis and treatment of infants born less than perfect.

To carry on this fight, teenagers have raised money for the March of Dimes by holding dances, basketball games, car washes, skating parties, and by selling everything from balloons to spaghetti dinners.

Who are these teens? And how have they channeled their energies into the TAP movement?

Paul Petersen, a native of Glendale, Calif., is one teenage idol who is serious about education. In high school he maintained a straight A average, and in college he is now an honor student in night school and university extension courses.

For two years Paul was TAP chairman in Los Angeles. Then, in 1965, he was named national co-chairman along with Luci Baines Johnson, the younger daughter of the President.

TEENAGE IDOL PAUL PETERSEN signs his autograph in a big hand for the little lady, Donna Dill. Both have signed up for the fight against birth defects—Paul as national Teen Age Program chairman and Donna as March of Dimes 1967 National Poster Child.

The National Foundation offers the Luci Baines Johnson Service Award to young adults who best exemplify the significant contribution of youth to the fight against birth defects.

The TAP co-chairman of Baltimore, Md., 18-year-old David Green, is the 1966 national winner of this award. Among his accomplishments was the organization of educational, service and fund-raising programs involving more than 75 youth groups. This year he is president of his high school student council.

A 17-year-old Denver, Colo., resident is the western area winner. Carolyn Beck, state TAP chairman and a high school honor student, raised $1,400 for The Salk Institute for Biological Studies in 1965 with the help of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Thomas M. Johnston, 18, Warsaw, Ind., the midwest area winner, organized a series of dances to raise funds for the March of Dimes and built his chapter TAP membership to more than 400. A former high school honor student and president of his student council, he is now studying at Indiana University.

Southern area winner John Thomason, 17, Corpus Christi, Tex., was able to organize 800 teenagers in a successful shopping center sale to raise money to fight birth defects. He is now a student at Baylor University.

Many March of Dimes TAP volunteers are honor students, leaders in school and members of many youth service groups. All TAP's share the common interest of helping to bring about the day when every child has the chance to grow up healthy.

Mrs. W. H. Brooks spent Thursday of last week in Amarillo with her daughters and families, Mrs. D. R. Wiley and family and Mrs. Brent Rhodes and family.

John Martin of Aiken, who was injured in a truck wreck near Huntsville December 20, and had been here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McWilliams since December 31, was taken to Plainview Hospital last Thursday for further treatment. Mrs. McWilliams and Shane saw him a few minutes Sunday afternoon, but they would not allow his small son to stay in the room.

Ben Whitfill and his sons, Gene, Rusty and Jim, attended the New Year football games in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Paige spent last week in Fort Worth with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Paige and Jeffrey, who returned their home and spent the weekend here.

Mmes. Bud House and Fred Brannon were in Plainview Monday.

R. R. Steele and his sister, Mrs. Bettie Brewster, have recently moved from the Alton Steele farm where they have lived for the past 15 years, and are making their home at 1204 Lincoln in Amarillo. Mrs. Brewster is now bedfast and is being treated in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Don Brown.

A3C Emmett Tomlin of Mountain Home A.F.B. in Idaho, called his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Tomlin and sons, Sunday evening. He has been in the service since December 1965.

Howard Tomlin has been a patient in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo since Friday. He is in traction for a slipped disc in his spine. His mother, Mrs. Glynn Tomlin, and Mrs. Shellie Tomlin took him to Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. Tomlin and Stanley also visited him Sunday afternoon.

We've consistently s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d your electric service dollar to give you more!

Today, you pay less for an average kilowatt hour of electricity than you did in 1952. That's because you're using more, enabling us to use larger and more efficient generators. Through use of this more efficient equipment, we're able to offset the inflationary pressures that cause rising prices.

And, to continue to keep electricity costs low, without sacrificing dependability, we'll invest more than $20 million in 1967, in new construction.

Electricity is still the biggest bargain in your family budget.
