The District 4-H Foods Show has been planned for April 1 in Lubbock.

Our 4-H Adult Foods Project Leaders met this week for training in using new unit guides. As soon as they get the names of 4-H members enrolled in Foods Projects from the Organization Leaders, they will be ready to get Foods Projects planned and underway. The County 4-H Food Show will be held before April 1. The date will be announced later.

The District 4-H Council meeting has been tentatively planned for February 18. The County Gold Star Girl, Kathy Self, and Gold Star Boy, John Montague, will be delegates to the District Council.

The Senior 4-H Club will have its organization meeting Monday, January 30. The members of this club are in the seventh and eighth grades. Mr. and Mrs. James Davis are the Adult Organization Leaders for the group.

Mrs. Don Garrison, Organizational Leader for the County-Wide 4-H Club is checking with members for the best meeting time for them. Announcement of time and place will be made later.

Today five Home Demonstration Council members, Mrs. Raymond Teeple, council chairman; Mrs. Roy Mack Walker, council treasurer; and reporters, Mrs. Walter Bean and Mrs. M. E. Loving, and the County THDA Chairman, Mrs. Allen Kellum, are attending a training meeting at the Garden and Arts Center in Lubbock.

Be alert for belt backings which cannot be washed or dry-cleaned, warn clothing specialists. Some backings are of plastic, but they are used with fabrics which must be dry cleaned. Plastic backings cannot be cleaned by this process. Belts with paper interlinings will usually dry-clean, but cannot be washed. Belt backing, which indicates that the backing may be washed or dry-cleaned, is usually acceptable. Some will merely state

"wash" or "clean" as the garment requires.

Both beef and pork are reasonably priced in many local grocery stores this week, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Texas A&M Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Boneless and bone-in-chuck roast, stew meat, ground beef and liver are among the thriftier buys. Pork values include shoulder roasts and chops, fresh picnics, and some brands of bacon. Mrs. Clyatt noted that less expensive cuts are just as nutritious as the more expensive ones.

Fryer prices may be a bit higher this week, but they remain an excellent value. Cut-up, pieces and whole birds are all featured at some markets. To save a few pennies, buy the whole fryers.

In shopping for fryers, don't overlook the inspection and grade marks, Mrs. Clyatt advises. These marks may be on the wrapper, wing tag, giblet wrap or insert in the package. The round inspection mark reading "inspected for wholesomeness by the U. S. Department of Agriculture" is a symbol of safety. It means that the chicken was examined by a federal inspector to determine that it is wholesome, processed under sanitary conditions, unadulterated and truthfully labeled.

The shield-shaped grade mark is a symbol of quality. It shows that the chicken was graded and certified by federal-state graders. Poultry marked "USDA Grade A" is of the highest quality. Other U. S. Grades are B and C. The grades for poultry are based on the meatiness and its freedom from defects.

Egg supplies are adequate, with the grade A large size being the best buy.

Citrus selections are tops at fruit counters. Temple, Navel and juice oranges are in good supply with the best buy, price-wise, being by-the-bag. Red grapefruit, mostly from the Rio Grande Valley, is of excellent quality and is selling at attractive price levels. Loose turnips, rutabagas, carrots, sweet potatoes, hard shell squash and cooking greens are good wintertime selections. White potatoes and dry onions are some higher, but still reasonable. Hot house tomatoes, salad pack or tube tomatoes, and cherry tomatoes by the basket are all available at varying prices.

A freezer stocked with several ready-to-heat and serve dishes can make easy-going living a reality for a cook. How easy it is to say, "Stay for supper," if spaghetti sauce and meat balls are frozen to await just such an occasion.

Freezer Spaghetti Sauce
 2 large onions, chopped
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 3 tbsp. oil
 2 1-lb. 12-oz. cans tomatoes
 6 oz. can tomato paste
 6 oz. can dry red wine, bouillon or water
 1 bay leaf
 1/2 tsp. oregano
 2 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. salt

Cook onions and garlic in oil until onion is tender but not browned. Add tomatoes, tomato paste, wine, bayleaf, oregano, salt and pepper. Simmer uncovered 30 minutes, stirring now and then and breaking up tomato with spoon. Remove bay leaf. Cool quickly and pour into ice cube tray with divider and freeze. Remove from tray and wrap desired number of cubes for a meal in transparent plastic film or store in freezer bags. To serve, place 1/4 to 1/2 cup water or bouillon in saucepan. Bring to a boil and turn heat low. Add desired number of sauce cubes and, if wished, frozen meat balls. Cover and heat thoroughly. Recipe will make 12 to 14 ample servings of sauce.

Frozen Meat Balls
 Use a favorite meat ball or meat loaf recipe and shape into balls 1 to 1 1/2 in. in diameter.

THE OPEN DOOR

"Behold, I have set before thee an open door . . ." Rev. 3:8

by Rev. Clyde Cain

From the "International Journal of Religious Education," November 1966, came an interesting observation.

As church members too many of us are like a group of south sea islanders who are said to have visited New England many years ago.

They were curious about how foreigners in this part of the world lived. On returning home, the travelers were surrounded by islanders who wanted to know what they had discovered. At one point the questions turned to religion. One islander asked, "Do these New Englanders have any religion?" "Oh, yes," was the reply. "They have a powerful religion and a great God. They worship Him in a big house on a day they call Sunday. We were allowed to go and see. The God is kept at the front of the house. When he growls, they all stand up and shout until he is quiet. This happens several times until they cannot keep him quiet any longer. He thunders. And they all get up and run out of the house."

Just as these islanders believed that the religion of New Englanders was tied up with a God who dwelt in a church building, many Christians today tend to confuse religion with a particular local church building or with one denomination. They speak of "our" church, "our" creed, "our" worship, "our" code of conduct as if Christianity were something they possess instead of something through which Christ possesses them.

Christianity is a way of life, not just a religion. The Lord God dwells with the individual in every day life as the individual accepts Him and responds to Him.
