

Floyd County Fair Set September 21-22-23

The 14th Annual Floyd County Fair is scheduled September 21-23, according to an announcement by Boyce (Pete) Moseley, president of the fair association, who left some of the fair catalogs at the News Office last week for anyone who wants one.

"Get your entries ready, and plan to enjoy our exhibits, the queen contest, talent show, flower show, art department, crafts, gospel singing, midway, tractor driving and all of the livestock," Moseley urged Briscoe County residents.

"Bring your friends and neighbors," he added. "You will be glad you came. There is a treat waiting for you."

Moseley reminded Briscoe County clubs and civic groups of their responsibility to enter candidates in the queen contest. "The girls would like to compete for the title of Miss Floyd County Fair, but they can't unless you contact them and offer to sponsor them in the queen contest," Moseley said.

Trudy Jarrett of Lockney, whose picture is on the cover of the fair catalog, is the present queen, and last year's runners-up were from Floydada, Matador and Lockney.

tough" for the Owls and their former coach as they attempt to even their season record. The Turks, coached by U. F. Coker, jr., have twelve lettermen returning this year, with nine returning starters. The Turks run off the wing-T with Russell Barnhill as their quarterback. In the game at Happy last Friday night, Barnhill's favorite target was David Fuston, 6'3", 180-pound end. The Owl starting lineup will be about the same as last week, with Lannie Arnold calling signals and Bill Strange, Grady, jr., and Johnnie Roy Weaver making up the rest of the backfield. Weaver will take the place of Tim Mattheus, who was injured in the Hart game. On defense, Donald Dee West is expected to replace Mattheus.

Randy Cantwell is shown gaining yards for the Owls in their game against Hart last Friday night. Dale Sissney is the Owl pursuing the play.

Zip-A-List Kits On The Way

The Silverton Post Office today started delivery of 650 ZIP-A-LIST kits to every patron in the area.

Postmaster Fred Strange urged all residents to use the postal cards contained in the kits to obtain the ZIP Codes needed for addresses in their personal mailing lists.

Each household will receive eight cards with spaces for the addresses to be "zipped" by the Post Office and for the return address.

No postage is needed, the Postmaster said. The project is part of Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien's program to make ZIP Codes more accessible to the mailing public and thereby increase the use of the codes in mailing addresses.

In addition to the kit, which is folded like a closed accordion, a separate card is being delivered to remind residents of the local ZIP Code number.

"ZIP Code is necessary all year round to increase the efficiency of the postal service," Postmaster Strange said, "but it is more important than ever at the holiday season. This year, the Post Office Department expects to handle well over nine billion pieces of mail during the Christmas rush. ZIP Code will be a great help in delivering that mail accurately and on time."

The postal official reminded ZIP-A-LIST users to print clearly and to include their return address so that the Post Office will

Silverton Okays Gas Rate Hike

Silverton city councilmen Monday night rescinded an earlier motion to table the gas rate hike request of Pioneer Natural Gas Company and approved the 11.5 per cent increase requested by the gas company.

Silverton's approval of the gas rate increase has brought the total of cities in the company's West Texas distribution area to approve the increase to 38. According to James Cathey of Quitaque, manager of Pioneer Natural Gas Company for Silverton, Turkey and Quitaque, only 13 other cities are at various steps of discussion on the increase proposal.

C. I. (Stoney) Wall of Amarillo, president of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, and Cathey met with the councilmen.

Housing for the new fire truck was discussed, and it was noted that the new truck will not fit in the space presently provided.

Breedlove Presented Award For Distinguished Service

Norvell G. Breedlove, manager of the Swisher County A.S.C.S. office, received the Texas Award for Distinguished Service to A.S.C.S. at the Seventh Annual Convention of T.A.C.O.E. (Texas Association of A.S.C.S. County Of-rice Employees) held August 25-26 at the Ramada Inn at College Station.

This is the top award in A.S.C.S. and Breedlove received the award because of his service to farmers and other accomplishments since he went to Tullia as office manager from Midland County in 1962. He has trained two area men as office managers under the A.S.C.S. Training Program: Bob Weatherly of Happy, now office manager in Reeves County, and Charles Wayne Mayfield, who is now office manager in Hartley County.

Swisher County has been selected as the outstanding county in the district for the past two years.

Six hundred members representing all 20 districts registered for the convention at their own expense. T.A.S.C.O.E. is an association which seeks employment benefits for the 1500 County A.S.C.S. employees of Texas who handle the Feed Grain and Wheat Programs, Price Support, Agricultural Conservation Program, Wool and Mohair Program and any other project assigned by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Breedlove is chairman of the District 2 T.A.S.C.O.E. Association, President of the Board of Directors of the Plains Federal Credit Union, Assistant Clubmaster and assistant manager of the Little League baseball team which won first in both leagues in Tullia.

Breedlove is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Breedlove of Silverton. He is married to the former Betty Fitzgerald, and they are parents of three sons, Chris, Craig and Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Breedlove and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wayne Mayfield attended the convention.

Select Candidate For Floyd Fair Queen

The Silverton Lions Club has announced its decision to sponsor the candidacy of Miss Nancy Nance in the Miss Floyd County Fair contest to be held on Saturday night, September 23.

Daughter of Lion and Mrs. Hugh Nance, Nancy is a senior in Silverton High School. She was chosen by the Directors of the Silverton Lions without a formal contest due to the fact that the deadline for entering falls before the next meeting of the Lions. Only daughters of Lions were considered.

Miss Nance will be asked to display in a maximum of two minutes a talent presentation and will also appear in formal attire.

The contest will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the entertainment building on the fairgrounds.

Permanent Water Rights Granted Mackenzie Group

Mayor Jimmie House called the Briscoe County News just after noon Wednesday to report that permanent water rights had been granted to the Mackenzie Water Authority, with no opposition to the application for water rights presented at the hearing.

Members of the board of directors and representatives of the cities in Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority left Floydada airport Tuesday afternoon to attend a hearing in Austin for the purpose of acquiring permanent water rights on the Tule Creek Watershed.

According to Mayor House, the group appeared at a hearing before the Texas Water Rights Commission at 9:00 a.m. Wednesday for authority to contain approximately 46,500 acre feet of water on the Tule Creek watershed for municipal water purposes.

Representatives of the water authority attending the Austin meeting included Mackenzie Board President Lon Davis of Floydada; Don Bookout of Tullia, the water authority's attorney; Mayor Jimmie House of Silverton; R. C. Hill, member of Tullia city council; and Pat Frizzell, of the Lockney city council.

Each team averaged about 35 yards on punts, of which there were quite a few. On several occasions, the 'Horns passed on fourth down instead of kicking, and were successful on at least two of these because of penalties called on the Owls.

The game was largely a defensive one, with Silverton relying heavily on the talents of Grady, Arnold, Strange, Cantwell and Mattheus in the backfield on offense. Dale Sissney and Van May were in on a lot of outstanding defensive plays, and the Owls appeared to be able to throw the Longhorns for large losses whenever they elected. The score might have read in Hart's favor, however, had that team's passer been connecting with any of his receivers, who were in the clear on almost every pass pattern.

Eliminate "Spearing," Authorities Caution

CHICAGO—Football "spearing" should be eliminated, warn sports and medical authorities.

Spearing is the tactic in which a blocker or tackler uses his head as a battering ram. It's dangerous, both for himself and for the person he hits.

A group of coaches, physicians, and sports officials have joined the American Medical Association in calling for coaches to emphasize correct, head-up blocking and tackling, and for strict enforcement by officials of the rules against spearing.

Said Notre Dame football coach Ara Parseghian: "I can't begin to tell of the number of clinics where I have lectured on the (spearing) problem. We don't teach this at Notre Dame; and over the years, I have done everything within my power to influence others to coach against it."

The AMA's Committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports asked for sports authorities' comments when recent studies showed that head and neck injuries continue to constitute a very high percentage of serious injuries in football.

In the correct, head-up tackle, the player uses his shoulders, arms, and chest to stop the ball carrier. In a "spear" or "butt" tackle, he drives into his opponent with his head. By spearing, the tackler may prevent the ball carrier from advancing a few extra inches—if he tackles him. With his head down, however, he risks serious injury to his head and spinal cord, and he is more likely to miss the tackle because he has a harder time seeing where he's going.

Studies of fatalities indicate that football has a good safety record, considering that virtually a million players are involved each fall. It could be even better, however, if head and neck injuries could be reduced. In 1966, head and neck injuries were responsible for 23 of the 24 fatalities directly attributed to injuries in college and high school football.

Said Murray Warmath, football coach at the University of Minnesota: "Spearing will never disappear from the game until we quit coaching it and until we absolutely disallow its use on the part of our players."

"It isn't the first man who makes the tackle," Warmath said. "It's that second tackler. He puts his head down, closes his eyes, and piles into the man who's down with one intent, and that's to maim and cripple."

Joining the coaches in condemning spearing and in calling for correct, head-up blocking and tackling were Richard C. Schneider, M.D., an Ann Arbor, Mich., neurosurgeon and member of the AMA Committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports; Donald B. Slovic, M.D., chairman of the AMA committee and orthopedic consultant to the University of Oregon football team; William E. Newell, executive secretary of the National Athletic Trainers Association and head athletic trainer at Purdue University; O. B. Murphy, M.D., University of Kentucky team physician and AMA representative to the NCAA Rules Committee; Carl Blythe, Ph.D., Chapel Hill, N.C., chairman of the NCAA committee on football safety and president of the American College of Sports Medicine; L. W. Combs, M.D., director of the Purdue University student health center and a leader in the Athletic Medicine Section of the American College Health Association; and Clifford B. Fagan, executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations.

Clancy, a rookie cop, caught a thief breaking into a jewelry store one dark night.

"Ha," Clancy said. "Caught in the act. You'll do plenty time for this, me boy!"

"Look," said the thief. "I know my rights. I want to call my lawyer. Let me go into that cigar store and call him and have him meet me at the station house!"

So Clancy let the thief go into the cigar store and the thief kept right on going out the back window. Clancy didn't see him until six months later when he met the little crook coming out of a jewelry store with his hands full of rings and bracelets. Clancy grabbed the loot and the looter.

"Ha," Clancy exulted. "I've got you with the goods this time. Come along with me."

"I got to call my lawyer," the crook protested as they passed a cigar store. "You won't feel me this time," said Clancy. "Here. Hold these rings and bracelets and give me your lawyer's phone number. I'll call him!"

Vicky's

VIEWPOINT

Rivals are a part of every person's existence. They are as much a part of life as breathing, eating and sleeping.

It starts even before a child reaches school age. If there is more than one child in a family, there is competition. Of course, it is silly for rivalry to exist between brothers and sisters, but so many rivalries are just as silly, if not more so.

But then there are rivalries which make a lot of sense and can actually be quite enjoyable. If life didn't have all its little rivalries, what would there be to look forward to? Everyone would be the exact same and there would be no chance for advancement. And as the hippies say,—"Dullsville."

Perhaps, at least in my way of thinking, the most thrilling rivalry of all is that between two schools. When someone speaks of school rivalries one just naturally thinks of harmless pranks (HARMLESS) and always (ALWAYS) the traditional ballgame. This is one game when every boy out on that field plays his hardest and every girl in the bleachers yells her loudest. If your team doesn't win another game all season, it just HAS to win this one.

Ahead of us we face our Game of the Year. But there's only one way that we can win this game. By fair play.

You can win a game or a contest point-wise and still lose, if you don't leave that game with a clear conscience. When you win a game by playing fair, then you KNOW that the only reason you won that game was because you were part of a better team, and it makes that game so much more of a victory that you won't soon forget it. Whereas, otherwise, you may WANT to forget it.

Ahead of us is the most important game of the season: the annual Silverton - Turkey game.

This time Saturday, won't it be great if we can say, "Yea, we won that game - fair and square?"

Want To Be A Drop - Out?

There are two million 16-21 year olds in the labor force today who jeopardized their futures with one rash decision—they chose to drop out of school without a diploma. If the current dropout rate continues, there will be 32 million adults in the labor force without high school educations by 1975.

A young person today, dissatisfied with school and anxious to get out and work for the money he wants, is heading down a dead-end street if he pursues his dreams without a high school diploma.

He finds out too late that the job he longed for will be at best a dull, dirty one with little opportunity for advancement.

The money he needs to buy the car, the clothes, or the stereo he wanted so badly just isn't there. He will make less money than those who graduated when he does find a job and his future in any job is limited.

The harsh fact is that there is little room left in a booming America for the school dropout. He faces a lifetime of dull, low-paying jobs—or no jobs at all. Drop-outs have an unemployment rate of 13 percent—more than three times the rate for the whole labor force. In terms of dollars and cents the picture isn't any brighter. When a teenager leaves school before graduating, he can expect to earn $1,000 less in a single year than the person who stays and gets a diploma.

If this country is to continue its rapid technological growth and maintain its position as world leader, we desperately need qualified—and that means EDUCATED—people who can take on the new skilled jobs being created every day.

To help assure that we have those skilled workers, the President's Council on Youth Opportunity has launched the 1967 Stay-in-School Campaign to convince all young people of the importance of a good education in their own lives and for the future of their country.

Each of us has a responsibility to join in this campaign. If you are in school, stay there and get at least a high school diploma. If you are no longer a student, help those who are by urging them and

First Pep Rally Held Here Friday

The first Pep Rally of the 1967 football season was held in the school gym Friday, September 8, at 10:35 a.m.

Coach Herb Stephens recognized the boys who are playing football. Dale Sissney and Lannie Arnold gave speeches. The cheerleaders led a few more yells before closing with the singing of the S. H. S. Fight Song.

The flags for the Pep Squad girls were passed out before the Pep Rally began.

Stanley Party Planned Saturday

An open house and Stanley Party will be held in the Home Economics Department, September 16, from 2:30 until 5:30. Mrs. Allie Martin of Flomot will demonstrate Stanley products.

As a major money-making project for the coming year, the F. H. A. girls will be selling Stanley products. The goal for this party has been set at $125.00. With this amount, the department will receive a beautiful silver tea service, which will be of great value to the girls.

The F. H. A. hopes you will attend Saturday, and aid them in reaching this goal.

Following each demonstration, refreshments will be served, and there will be F. H. A. members who would like to show you through the department to acquaint you with the local chapter of Future Homemakers of America.

Should There Be Sex Education In The Schools

by Barbara Davis

Some people say "If you teach a subject like that people will just go out and do it." Others are convinced that sexual guidelines are more essential today than ever before. How do you feel?

Sex education must be clearly defined. Most people think sex education is the reproductive education—instructions on how the body functions, and so on. There is much more to it. A quote from an article "Sex Education in Our Schools," where Mrs. Southard, an expert, and the author and psychologist on the staff of the National Young Women's Christian Association, explains sex education in four categories:

"First, there is the 'basic' concept of maleness and femaleness—knowing who you are, why or if you differ in your emotions, how to relate to them.

"Next are your relations with other people—not just now, when you're grown, but your relations with your parents and others when you are young.

"Third is education itself, which is broken down into two parts—atomy and feelings. Feelings is the hardest part to teach. But it's also the part that causes the most curiosity and anxiety. Discussion, openness, and desire to question are most wanted by teenagers."

The fourth part of Mrs. Southard's program is values and moral standards—which means, she says, "taking responsibility for yourself and others."

Sex today is coming more into the open. Young people need to know about these things and to know them correctly. If you don't understand something, how can you use it? If you misunderstand something, you may use it incorrectly. President Kennedy once said, "Our judgement is no better than our information." Your judgement of human sexuality and human sexual behavior can't be very good if you don't have the information. To gain this information you must read, study, inquire and discuss.

Many parents feel sex education should be taught in the home. But what if the parent doesn't? Maybe it's because he doesn't have the courage or the freedom and words to explain about "the birds and the bees." Maybe he just won't. But maybe the parent doesn't know all the facts. How can sex education be taught in the home if the parent does not know the facts? You may say, surely the parents know "the facts of life," but the Child Study of America—a 75-year-old nationwide voluntary organization, held a conference on the topic: Sexual Behavior and Social Ethics: Their Meaning for Families Today. Translation: What should we do about children and sex? More than 2,500 parents and professional people crowded to it. Surely they should have known about it, but they don't know all the facts and don't know how to communicate it to their children. In a school, you would have a trained and skilled teacher who knows the facts, and can get them across to the student.

Sophomores To Have Hamburger Supper

The Sophomore Class met during Activity Period Thursday morning, and voted to sponsor a Hamburger Supper for the public on the night of the crowning of the Football Queen.

A committee composed of Benie Rodriguez, Bill Brooks, Gary Martin, Rhonda Drewry, Roy Garrison and Cecilia Garcia was appointed to make posters.

Dr. Bernard Katz, psychologist and counselor at New York University said, "I'm in favor of sex education because I'm in favor of all knowledge—so long as it is communicated correctly." Most parents would agree, that they DON'T know all the facts, and that they do need to know them before they can communicate them to their children.

Everyday a young person can get up, get ready, and go to school to get more knowledge. English, math, history, home economics, chemistry, and many other subjects are offered in the school. But sex education is not offered. Now educators, school officials, psychologists, and sociologists are discussing and debating the question of sex education in schools. How do you feel, as the young person? A poll was taken among the junior and senior high school students, and it revealed that about 95 percent are in favor of sex education in schools. So that means that most young people want to know and are willing to learn.

Now, most parents agree that they don't know all about sex and the education of it, and the young people feel it should be offered in the schools. Don't you think that there needs to be sex education in schools?

Ignorance about this vital part of our lives is dangerous—honest knowledge is our safeguard.

The Meaning Of Our School Song

by Kathi Perkins

Have you ever really thought about what our school song, The Alma Mater, really means? Try listening closely to the words the next time you sing it or hear it sung. It isn't just a bunch of words thrown together without having a meaning. This song really has a very special meaning.

Sure, you may know the words and sing it very well, but do you know the meaning of the words you sing so often at football games and pep rallies?

This song is our school song and should be sung with pride and plenty of respect. It isn't just a song that we HAVE to sing to have a school song, but rather a song we should WANT to sing. It is a proud song made for a proud school.

The next time you sing our Alma Mater, sing it loud and clear with lots of pride and respect.

Owls Capture First Win Of Season

by Coach Fox

The Hart Longhorns fell to the Silverton Owls Friday night by an 8-0 score. On their second series of plays the Owls scored from 30 yards out on a power-sweep. The touchdown was set up by a pass from Quarterback Lannie Arnold to Tim Mattheus, who followed the blocking of Tackle Harvey Masey, Halfback Cletus Grady, jr. and Arnold.

Coach Stephens expressed satisfaction with the victory, but also pointed out the many mistakes that were made by the offense. The bright spot for the Owls was their strong defensive team. On several occasions, Tackle Dale Sissney and Linebackers Harvey Masey and Van May shot gaps to set the Longhorns for losses.

Soybean Field Demonstration Being Conducted Here

A soybean variety field demonstration is being managed at Silverton by Leo Comer, in cooperation with the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway.

Three varieties have been planted on two separate dates for comparison in yielding ability and maturity dates. Protein and oil content will also be checked on each variety. On one test, the Hinn, Hill and an experimental variety, PA8-963 were planted as full-season crops. In the second test, the Patterson, Clark 63 and the experimental variety have been planted in an early-maturing study.

This demonstration will be shown to the public and an explanation of soybean research will be given by Dr. Douglas Owen, Head of the Research Foundation's oilseed staff, on September 22, 1967, at 9:00 a.m. in Silverton. Take a minute to think about Vietnam. Think about brave men. A rifleman in a rice paddy. The gunner's mate who postponed college. The 'copter pilot and his wounded marine passenger. Those men are Americans. Those men are there. Those men are fighting for freedom —and supporting it with their dollars, too, through the Payroll Savings Plan. They deserve your support.
