BLEED - IN
Next Wednesday, November 12, is the date that has been set aside by the Coffee Memorial Blood Bank to come to Silverton to take blood donations from those who are interested in the Blood Plan insurance plan explained in this space recently.

If you are interested in giving blood, please contact Mrs. Dee McWilliams today. If there isn't enough interest in this, the blood mobile will not be sent here.

Present plans are to draw blood at the Silverton clinic from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. Wednesday, with personnel on duty during the lunch hour.

The man of the house can donate a pint of blood to insure his family's blood needs during the year ahead, and the lady of the house can give blood to insure a family who is not able to give for themselves, if they want to.

If you are interested in giving a pint of blood today to insure your family's (or someone else's) blood needs, please contact Bess. She can give you further information on this if you need it, and she has also promised to remind those who sign up on the day of the "bleed-in."

2. If you are interested in assisting a regular teacher one morning per week as a volunteer aide, please contact Mrs. Carman Rhode, 3231.

It is only through your expressions of interest in the Satellite School that there is any chance for Silverton to obtain such a facility.

Eastern Star to Host Masonic Night Here

Silverton Chapter No. 900, Order of the Eastern Star, will host Masonic Night for all members of Silverton Lodge No. 754 AF&AM and their families and the families of Eastern Star members at the Masonic Lodge Monday, November 10, with supper being served beginning at 6:00 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Kenneth Wyatt of Tullia, one of the most sought-after men in the Southwest for the role of after-dinner speaker, master of ceremonies, convention speaker and youth lecturer. Wyatt has that "one in a million" God-given talent for saying something worthwhile in a way worth saying it.

Known by many as the "man with every talent," Wyatt is listed in America's Methodist Who's Who, is a speaker for Knife and Fork Clubs of America on national circuit, and is an eight-state youth consultant and staff member for the Methodist Church.

A naval veteran, he attended Stephenville public schools, is a graduate of Tarleton College and of McMurry College, and has done graduate work at Baylor University and the University of Denver. He has also done advanced study at Iliff School of Theology.

As an artist, Wyatt has already made his mark with his concept and style in western art. He has also entered the field of children's portrait painting.

An evangelist for the United Methodist Church, Wyatt is noted as an outstanding humorist and speaker on Christian principles. A good description of Wyatt is "about 80% Buddy Hackett, 20% Norman Vincent Peale, with a sound effect or two straight from Jonathan Winters."

Worthy Matron Margie Moreland and Worthy Patron M. G. Moreland have urged that everyone attend the supper on Monday night.

Redin To Serve On Olympics Committee

Harley Redin, coach of the Hutchinson Flying Queens of Wayland Baptist College, is one of ten outstanding coaches among 26 Texans to be named to serve on the U. S. Olympic games or sports committees directing efforts for the 1971 Pan - American Games and the 1972 Olympic Games.

Announcement of the appointment was made by Olympic Committee President Franklin L. Orth of Washington, D. C., who said that Texas ranked sixth among the states with representatives on the 37 individual games or sports committees.

Redin will serve on the women's basketball committee.

In 14 years as coach of the Flying Queens, Redin has directed the team to 325 wins against only 46 losses and has coached several U. S. teams in world competition.

He has served on rules committees for the AAU and was instrumental in getting the unlimited dribble rule approved for women's play.

A 1942 graduate of North Texas State University, he served in the Air Force during World War II before going to Wayland in 1946. He coached the men's team for 11 years before taking over the Flying Queens in 1956.

Redin and his wife, Nonie, have two sons, Kenny, a sophomore at WTSU, and Van, a junior at Plainview High School.

Owls Travel To McLean Friday

by Mary Ann Sarchet

The Owls will travel to McLean Friday night to beat the Tigers, who were humiliated by Claude Claude 14-0 last week. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Claude's Mustangs battled up the cellar steps to a 1-2 district record, while handing McLean an identical 1-2 conference mark.

McLean will be trying to get back in the winning column, but so will the Owls who also stand 1-2 in the district.

The Owls could top the district record of 1-4 posted by last year's team by defeating McLean tomorrow night. Should the Owls win the two remaining games and finish the season with a 3-2 conference record, it will have been the most successful year the team has had in quite some time.

I think the Owls will do it, and I think the game will be well worth driving to McLean to see. Let's all back the Owls!

Clarendon and Wheeler are on top with 3-0 records, with the Bronchos rated highest. So far, the Happy Cowboys are winless in District 2-A, and will provide the Owls with a tough game on which to end the season here next week.

LAST WEEK'S RATINGS

The District 2-A championship will be on the line when Wheeler travels to Clarendon Friday night. Claude will be at Happy; Springlake at Vega; Kress at Sudan; Farwell at Bovina; and Crosbyton at Petersburg.

This will be the last game of the season for Petersburg, rated 41st in the state, one of the few teams who still have perfect conference records. Picked by the District 4-A coaches to win the championship in the pre-season poll, it looks like the Buffs almost have it made.

The BIG game in District 3-A will be played next week when Farwell (24th) hosts Sudan (26th). Last week's ratings of these area Class A teams as computed by the Harris System:

Team	Dist.	Last	Prev.
	Stand'g.	Week	Week
Clarendon	3-0	22	24
Farwell	3-0	24	28
Sudan	3-0	26	27
Springlake	1-2	32	40
Kress	1-2	34	35
Petersburg	3-0	41	42
Vega	1-2	75	77
Wheeler	3-0	96	95

Bovina	0-3	97	86
McLean	1-2	113	116
Silverton	1-2	139	141
Happy	0-3	141	140
Claude	1-2	178	172

Kress, rated 13.6 points better, downed Bovina 33-6; Wheeler, rated 10.3 points stronger than Happy, beat the Cowboys 55-18; Clarendon, rated 28.1 points better than Silverton, won 55-14; Sudan, rated two points better, beat Springlake 17-13; Farwell came from behind to top Vega 27-14; Claude whipped McLean 14-0, and Petersburg downed Lorenzo 42-14.

OUT OF THE CRYSTAL BALL

I've made my guesses on the area's upcoming bi-district games and the regional match. This is just from "female stubbornness," I guess—I didn't spit on a stick and play heads 'n' tails or anything scientific to arrive at this guess.

I predict that Clarendon will represent District 2-A in a rematch with White Deer of District 1-A. The Bronchos should have little trouble beating the Bucks on a neutral field because they have already beaten them once this season at White Deer.

I think the other area bi-district game will be between Sudan of 3-A and Petersburg of 4-A on Lowrey Field in Lubbock.

For the regional match, I see See OWLS TRAVEL—

Farmers Union Meets Here Tuesday Night

The regular meeting of Farmers Union will be at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, November 11, in the P. C. A. community room.

A Farmers Union Rally has been scheduled for 12:00 noon that same day at the Holiday Inn in Plainview.

SPECIAL WEEK DESIGNATED

Governor Preston Smith has proclaimed the week of November 10-15 as "Farmers Union Membership Week." In announcing the proclamation, the Governor acknowledged a prosperous agriculture is vital to the economic well-being of Texas. He pointed out that Farmers Union is the oldest farm organization in Texas, having been founded in Texas in 1902, and he recognized the growth of the state organization.

Texas Farmers Union is the fastest growing organization among the affiliates in the National Farmers Union and is considered the fastest growing general farm or-

BULL RIDING SPURS BEING SOUGHT HERE

Ronald Lee Graves of Belen, New Mexico, was a participant in the kids break-away roping at the rodeo here last August, and while here the boy lost a pair of spurs.

Jack Ratjen thought the spurs were found during the rodeo and turned in, but they have not been returned to the youth.

If anyone knows anything about the whereabouts of these spurs, it will be appreciated if you will contact John D. Baird or Odella Gilmore. The Graves boy is their nephew, and they are trying to help him find the spurs.

M. F. Breedlove has been listed as a patient in the Plainview Hospital this week.

gation in Texas.

During the week of November 10-15, Texas Farmers Union will join the other states in the National Farmers Union in launching a nationwide membership campaign, the objective of which will be to enroll thousands of farmers and ranchers as new members.

A plane-load of Nebraska and Kansas farmers will arrive in Amarillo on the Farmers Union Convair November 10 to participate in an areawide membership effort. They will be involved in a two-day membership campaign that will be climaxed by a victory barbecue at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, November 13, at the Junior Livestock Barn in Canyon, sponsored by the Randall County Farmers Union.

City Joins Gas Rate Fight

BOB JACOBS

Swine Short Course Planned Nov. 10-13

A swine short course for adult farmers will be held November 10-13 under the sponsorship of the Silverton High School Vocational Agriculture Department, according to a joint announcement by Superintendent J. H. Hinds and Art Sommerfeld.

The short course will begin on November 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the Silverton City Council has joined 24 other area cities led by the City of Lubbock in making plans to go to court to protest the proposed natural gas rate increase requested by Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

The council has adopted a resolution to file an official protest of the rate hike with the Texas Railroad Commission.

The rate increase is from 28c to 34c per cubic foot of gas, almost a 25% increase.

The rate is classified as a "gate rate" which is the cost of transporting natural gas to the city limits.

Pioneer Natural Gas Company serves 66 towns and communities in this area.

It is probable that more than 24 of the 66 will join the protest. Towns that do not join the protest will, of course, be subject to the increase. Towns who join the protest effort and share in the $35,000 to $50,000 costs will of course not suffer the increase if they win the hearing.

Costs for the engineer, accountant and legal specialists will be prorated to each city according to the number of meters in each city.

Silverton's share of this could amount to three or four hundred dollars, but it could be much less than this if more area cities join the protest.

Mayor H. B. Simpson, Councilmen Troy Jones, David Tipton and Charles Sarchet and City Secretary Jerry Patton attended a meeting of cities planning to protest the gas rate hike in Lubbock recently. After hearing reasons for the protest presented, the local council deemed it best to join in protesting the rate increase.

At the request of the 25 cities, Pioneer Natural Gas Company has asked the Railroad Commission of Texas to hold a hearing on Pioneer's gas rate adjustment on Monday, November 24. K. B. Watson, senior vice president and general counsel for the company has said that the gas rate will apply to cities on Pioneer's West Texas System only, and will have no immediate effect on the current gas rate to consumers.

"Several communities wish to be represented at the hearing called by the Railroad Commission and felt that the November 4 hearing date would not afford them the necessary time," Watson said.

Reports from various towns on the Pioneer West Texas Distribution System indicate that, in electing to participate, a number of the cities have also expressed confidence and satisfaction with Pioneer Natural Gas Company and its service, but did desire to keep the citizenry informed by being represented at the Railroad Commission hearing.

school cafeteria here. During the short course the instructor will be available to assist students with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Mr. Sommerfeld.

Bob Jacobs, swine specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Husbandry at Texas A&M University, will instruct the course. Mr. Jacobs is headquartered at Texas A&M University.

Mr. Jacobs holds a B.S. degree in agricultural education from East Texas State University, and has done graduate work toward his M.S. degree at Texas A&M. He has been a Duroc and Yorkshire breeder and commercial feeder for Paradise Swine Company in Vernon. He was a teacher of Vocational Agriculture for 13½ years and assistant and associate county agent for three years.

Arrangements for the adult education short course in swine husbandry and in other fields are made through Walter Labay, area supervisor.

Farmers interested in attending the short course are asked to contact the superintendent of schools or Mr. Sommerfeld. An entry fee of $2.00 will be charged. Swine Production Short Course Certificates are to be presented to each student who attends all the training sessions.

Mr. Jacobs has stated that the short course will be adjusted to the wishes and interests of those enrolled, but that he expects to cover such subjects as selecting and breeding, feeding and feeding requirements, management, disease and parasites, housing and equipment, and marketing.

"This cooperative program," states Bob Jaska, associate professor, Department of Agricultural Education at Texas A&M University, "is designed to make the services of specialists available to conduct short courses under the supervision of public schools. Such a program enables teachers of vocational agriculture to provide improved educational services to farm people."

Monty Smith is in Mercy Hospital in San Diego, California, awaiting surgery. He entered the hospital Sunday and is to undergo surgery because of a back injury.

He is in Room 916 at Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Shelby Haynes returned home Tuesday after having been a patient in Swisher Memorial Hospital. Mrs. James Patton went to Tullia and brought her mother home.

Claude Hay of Stockton, California, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Seany.

DICK BOMAR

Rites Are Pending For Dick Bomar

Funeral services are pending at the Silverton Funeral Home today for Dick Bomar, 74, a long-time Silverton resident.

Mr. Bomar was pronounced dead on arrival at Swisher Memorial Hospital Wednesday afternoon after suffering an apparent heart attack.

Born August 11, 1894, at the family home which was located where the Silverton Park is now, Mr. Bomar was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bomar. He was one of a family of six sons and a daughter, none of whom survive.

Mr. Bomar went to work for the Matador Ranch in 1910 and also worked at Swenson's Ranch. It was at the Swenson's that he met Miss Ruth Murry, and the couple was married at the Baptist parsonage in Lockney on July 20, 1919, following his discharge after serving two years in World War I. The next Sunday, Mr. Bomar joined his wife as a member of the Baptist Church, and was baptized in a tank at the Hardcastle place, which now belongs to Carl Bomar.

Mr. and Mrs. Bomar lived at the headquarters on the Matador Ranch following their marriage. The ranch life was deeply entwined in both their lives, and one of the fondest memories that both have expressed so many times is of the meals they have eaten at ranch chuck wagons.

Mr. Bomar worked for the JA Ranch, and they lived at the Camel Creek Ranch just inside the northern Briscoe County line, before he retired and they moved to Silverton.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth; two daughters, Mrs. Jackie Tate of Silverton and Mrs. Gaylia Long of McLean; and three grandchildren, Jackie Carol Tate, a student at Frank Phillips College in Borger, and Kit and Mike Long of McLean.

Food For Thought

From the "NFO News" Submitted by G. W. Lee

President, Briscoe County NFO
In 1946 President Eisenhower appointed a committee of 200 of the top executives from industry to study the economic problems within the nation and instructed them to make recommendations concerning these problems.

The committee was composed of executives from all phases of industry including Ford Motor Company, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Swift and Company, Parina Mills, etc. There was a noticeable absence of any farm leaders or farm people. The only man closely associated with agriculture was Robert Kieberg, Jr., owner of the King Ranch.

The committee studied the problems which exist in agriculture and came up with some amazing deductions and equally amazing recommendations.

According to their finding the problems in agriculture are due to:

1. Too many people involved in producing agriculture commodities.
2. Too many acres being farmed.
3. Too much inefficiency in production, unit-wise.

If you think the new farm plan being pushed by the administration is a new thought, then you should read the report by the C.E.D. Whether you call it the Findley Bill, "The Farm Bureau Plan," or simply "Hardin's Answer to Agriculture," you will find it is actually the Adaptive Approach to Agriculture as formulated by the C.E.D.

Here is basically what the C.E.D. proposes:

1. Remove excessive resources from agriculture (mainly people).
2. Massive long-term land retirement.
3. Phase-out present program over 5-year period.
4. Re-educate farm personnel for industry type jobs.

Let us examine each of these points separately and see how the C.E.D. proposes to carry out its plans.

1. Remove excessive resources from agriculture—How do you go about removing people from their homes? First of all, they say, is to make farming undesirable and unattractive, not only for the present generation who are farming but for the young who have grown up with farm backgrounds. The best way to make it undesirable is to remove any profit that might exist by keeping prices low, cutting out government payments, and removing available financing capital from agriculture lenders. They admit that this will probably cause some hardships during the transition period but say that the long-range results will overshadow any of the transition hardships.

2. Massive long term land retirement—How do you go about removing millions of acres from production at the lowest possible cost to the government? First of all, they say, there should be approximately 500,000 farmers a year taken out of agriculture. Some of these 500,000 will be forced out each year during the 5-year phase-out because of lack of financing capital. Others will be removed because of inefficiency, and still others will want out because they can't stand the hardships. The lands which these people are farming can then be "leased" for long periods by the government and taken out of production.

3. Phase out present programs over 5-year period—By removing 20% of the present farm program each year, the C.E.D. thinks that 20% of the acres needed for retirement will be available, and at the end of the five-year plan 60 to 70 million acres will be placed in retirement and production will get on an even keel with demand, and prices should stabilize. But listen to this! They say at this point in the program, even though supply and demand are in relative balance, we must expect prices to remain lower than most present day prices because we will be able to produce more economically per man hour due to the fact that there will be only about 30% as many people producing the agriculture needs of our nation.

4. Re-education of farm personnel for industry type jobs—The C.E.D. report states that approximately 500,000 agriculture producers will need to be trained for jobs which will exist (hopefully) in industry each year. They even go so far as to say the government will need to make cash allowances to help these people move from the farms to their new jobs. They also state that there might be some problems of unemployment during this transitional period.

There have been some projections made that in the final analysis, after all of the phase-out in the present programs, removal of land and personnel from agriculture, and re-education of the displaced persons, that it will be possible for agriculture to be taken over and run by 24 giant corporations.

This should be considered seriously. This is not something that someone has dreamed up to scare you. This is a reality. This is the program which is being planned for you. Will you be one of those 7 out of 10 who will be forced from the farm or will you be one of those fortunate few who will remain in agriculture producing food for a price less than what you are receiving today?

If you doubt these statements, copies of the government pamphlet, "An Adaptive Program for Agriculture" by the C.E.D. may be obtained by writing the Librarian of Congress, Washington, D. C. and requesting this publication. Cost is $1.00 per copy.

The only way that we, as agriculture producers, will be able to combat a program such as this, is by organizing in strength and bargaining for fair prices. If we can force buyers of our commodities to pay a fair price for our production, then we will be able to return enough profit to producers that they will not be forced from their farms. We in NFO believe that the strength of our nation lies in the agriculture communities and we need more people, not less, on the farms. Let's all join together in a strong organization that will help to keep people on the farms.

Home Notes

Briscoe County

Consumers, confronted with more than 30 choices of margarines in a supermarket, are wrestling with the question: are higher-priced margarines better than those selling for half their price?

There is no simple answer, says Gwendolyn Ciyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

The more than 30 kinds of margarine fall into six types: regular, whipped, soft, premium, unsalted and low-calorie.

Each contains 80 percent fat blended with milk or cream. Each is fortified with vitamin A and some with vitamin D. Other ingredients, such as salt, may be added to improve the product.

The most common type is regular margarine. Generally it is made from soybean and cottonseed oil and costs less than the other types. Prices range from 30 cents a pound for national brands to 18 cents a pound for the store's private label brand. Regular margarines are all-purpose—may be used in cooking, baking, frying and as a seasoning and for table-spread.

Inert gas is injected into whipped margarine to increase its volume. Six sticks are packed in the one-pound package. Pound for pound, whipped margarine has the same number of calories as nonwhipped margarine. On a volume basis—say stick for stick—whipped margarine has about 1/3 less calories.

Soft margarine's consistency is due to its high liquid oil content. Because of its softness, it is packaged in 1/2-pound tubs. Higher liquid oil content of soft margarine alters the fat composition, giving it a higher proportion of polyunsaturated fat than regular margarine.

OWLS TRAVEL— CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE

Clarendon pitted against Sudan—but of course, several games have to be won before this situation could actually exist.

OWLS GOT TRICKS, NO TREATS

The Owls got the tricks and no treats here Halloween night, losing the services of Co-captain Bill Strange for the remainder of the season while suffering a 55-14 defeat at the hands of the Clarendon Bronchos.

Doctors diagnosed the injury as a "hairline fracture" and placed a walking cast on Strange's right leg.

Silverton did have the pleasure of scoring twice on the Bronchos, who had given up only about 60 points in previous games. The Owls also surprised many of their fans by moving the ball against the Bronchos, picking up 14 first downs during the game and gaining 300 yards.

The Owls moved forward on 159 yards in penalties against the Bronchos. Silverton was penalized 15 yards in the first period; 5 in the second; 6 in the third (including one half-the-distance penalty) and 50 in the fourth. Clarendon got flags for 29 yards in penalties in the first quarter; 80 in the third, and 50 in the fourth.

The Bronchos gained 480 yards against the Owls, making 28 first downs.

On the first play of the game, Max Hamilton intercepted a Clarendon pass but couldn't hang on to it. Continuing to capitalize on this good fortune, however, Gary Martin recovered the fumble for the Owls.

Silverton picked up a clipping penalty on this series of plays, and was forced to punt. The Bronchos lived up to their tough reputation and scored from their own 30 on their third play of the game on a run by Senior Quarterback Jim Moore. Jim Lindley, a Sophomore kicking specialist for the Bronchos, added the extra point.

Broncho defenses proved tough, and the Owls were unable to move the ball very far on the next drive, and Marvin Self punted to the Clarendon 18. The Bronchos drew a penalty of half the distance to the goal, and on the next down, Moore ran all over the field and went all the way for a touchdown that was called back by a holding infraction.

No gifts in sight, the Bronchos settled down in a passing and running attack that netted six first downs before Charles Louis, another Senior, carried the score from 20 yards out, and Lindley booted the extra point.

Louis came back with another score for Clarendon early in the second period, and Lindley's kick gave the Bronchos a 21-0 lead.

Shortly hereafter, Bill Strange received his leg injury and was removed from the game. While his leg was being splinted on the sideline, the ball went over on downs, and Clarendon's Louis sprinted 30 yards into the end zone and Lindley's kick gave the Bronchos a 28-0 lead.

The Bronchos kicked off to Silverton, the Owls ran three plays and punted, and Moore carried another score for Clarendon. The kick was blocked.

As Captain Strange was being loaded into a car for the trip to the hospital, Cousin Ronnie Strange, who will be rounding out the backfield for the remainder of the season, ran 49 yards to put the Owls on the scoreboard. Marvin Self kicked the extra point, and the halftime score was 34-7.

Clarendon scored two quick third-quarter touchdowns on a one-yard plunge by Bennie Reese and a 40-yard pass play from Moore to Louis. Lindley kicked both conversions, and the Bronchos held a 48-7 lead.

The Owls took the after-touchdown kick on the 37, and opened a march for points which was highlighted by a long run by Dana Martin. Quarterback Trent Brown capped the drive by going in to score from the one-yard line, and Marvin Self added the extra point.

Danny Hill made the final score for the Bronchos on a 7-yard run and Lindley added the extra point to extend Clarendon's lead to 55-14.

The Owls had dedicated the game to Tackle Max Weaver, who was in the hospital recovering from surgery, and it seemed evident to fans that the team renewed this dedication when Bill Strange was felled by the leg injury. The Owls seemed to be trying very hard the whole game through, and turned in a good performance in spite of the lopsided score.

The Dope Peddler: All He Cares About Is Money

(Third in a series of articles by Dr. Max Rafferty, California Superintendent of Public Instruction.)

Oh, but he's a slimy one, this septic, psychedelic enemy of your children.

He's got more masks than a Halloween party—he's your friendly neighborhood dope pusher.

There's the mask of sophistication, with its gently lifted, painted eyebrows and the small yawn of polite boredom. "Smoke pot," the mask - mouth murmurs, "It's the 'in' thing."

Through its brazen mouthpiece, the false face of excitement belows at the kids: "Tune in with bennies! Turn on with LSD! The only real way to get your kicks!"

And then there's the domino of rebellion, bitterly sneering: "Get even with your parents. Tear down society. Destroy yourself; that'll teach 'em all a lesson!"

But when the many masks have been stripped away, there's just one ugly, cynical face underneath: the dollar sign.

The dope pusher doesn't care whether marijuana is "in" with the Jet Set. What he does care about is the prevailing price of a stick and how many he can sell per day at Harrison High.

He's not concerned with the effects of the poison he peddles. If the buyer has a good trip on his brand of acid, OK. If he ends up flying out an upper-story window because the stuff has convinced him that he's a swallow going back to Capistrano, that's tough. All things being equal, of course, the pusher prefers his suckers alive; they can buy more dope from him that way. But if you really think he cares tyo boots in heroin whether you get kicks or a coffin from his hell powder, forget it.

And as far as rebellion against the Establishment is concerned, his only interest is enough chaos and devilry afoot to keep the police off his back so he can make his daily profit, service his old customers and infect new clients. Our pusher is a pragmatist. Or maybe it's more accurate to compare him with the Renaissance condottiere, the old-time mercenary soldier who didn't care whom he killed as long as he got paid regularly. The drug peddler does not make war on your children because he hates them, but because it's profitable. He's the pimp who introduces kids to Death, for money.

How does he fight his war? Like this:

Your son is out dragging with the gang in the MG you bought him for his birthday. Somebody starts passing around the pot. The scene has been real groovy. Everybody's turned on. Nobody wants to cop out, least of all your boy. So he grabs the grass and lights up. He gets happier and smilier and groovier as the stick burns down to the butt. He floats. He soars. And if he doesn't pile up the MG, he's hooked. Oh, he can kick the habit later on. Lots of people do. But right now he thinks pot's the greatest thing since the Beatles.

NOTE: The anonymous character who started the stuff going around the car is a pusher, even if he looks like Pat Boone.

Your daughter's at a slumber party with a few of her high school girlfriends. They're giggling and playing Tom Jones records and sharing the thousand secrets known only to adolescent girls. Suddenly one of them looks mysterious, lights up something that smells like alfalfa. She rolls her eyes in ecstasy. All the rock singers smoke it, she explains. It makes them relate. Their horizons expand, too. Everybody's invited to take a blast. Everybody does. Including your own pride and joy, who only yesterday was bugging you for lollipops while you were taking her home from getting her braces tightened.

NOTE: The eye-rolling little brunette lighter-upper who started the pot-puffing is a pusher. And I don't care if she's a minister's daughter and looks like Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm.

This is what makes the dope peddler so damnably dangerous. He uses the young to make war on their kind. The kids don't only fill his pockets; they're his front men. If someone gets busted by the feds, it won't be lovable old Uncle Chuckles, the supplier. It will be one of the kids who pays him half of every dirty dollar he makes shoving the stuff. He'll have the felony conviction on his record. Uncle Chuckles will leave town until the heat's off.

In other words, this is surrogate warfare. The real Enemy lies back in the weeds and hires kids to spread the plague and to take the chances. His coolest counterpart in the War Against the Children is the leftist college professor who urges the bird-brained student activists on to perform deeds of dastardly derring-do which he's too lily-livered to tackle himself. It's a classic example of the unpalatable maneuvered by the unspeakable.

Why don't the local courts protect your children from this enemy? For the same reason they don't protect them from the pornographer. Like Hamlet, the judges are all sickled o'er with the pale cast of thought. After all, the pusher has his constitutional rights, too, one must remember. He didn't really start out to be bad. Society is as much to blame as he is. And don't forget his parents, who probably didn't understand him and who somewhere in his childhood failed to give him everything he wanted exactly when he wanted it.

So goes the driving refrain. And the pusher gets scolded or fined, and turned loose, in a few days he's managed to seduce enough children with his devil drugs to pay off the fine and then some.

Tell me, judge, have you ever seen a kid trying to kick the heroin habit, cold turkey? Have you heard him scream like a stuck pig? Have you watched him bend double and vomit until you think he'll never stop? Have you seen him twitch and jerk like a chicken with its head cut off? Have you watched his eyeballs roll back in his head until all you can see are the whites? Have you ever seen him after he's tried to kill himself?

Well, I have. And believe me, Your Honor, if you'd spend a little more time listening to our law enforcement people and a little less time listening to the limbered bleeding hearts, there would be fewer pushers vending their venom to adolescents because you'd be throwing the book at them whenever they came before you. Which is darned well what you should have been doing all along.

All right, Mom and Pop. How do you recognize the battle wounds of this sector of the War Against Your Children? Here's what to look for.

- 1. Bloodshot eyes and/or dilated pupils. The problem here is getting Susie to look you in the eye once she's on the stuff.
- 2. A sudden liking for long sleeves. They hide needle marks so well.
- 3. The "dead fish" syndrome. Apathy sets in like rigor mortis.
- 4. Odd hours. Inability to sleep regularly is one of the curses which accompanies certain kinds of addiction.

5. Sudden personality changes. If Junior is on LSD, the changes may not be merely sudden. They may be positively Jekyll-and-Hydeish.

Enough to start with? Oh, there are lots of other possible symptoms, such as a drastic drop in school grades and increasing absenteeism from the family bed and board. But these will be enough to clue you in when the enemy's barrage starts to roll in on your children.

How do you fight back? First, cut the Enemy's ammunition. If it's necessary to eliminate all trade with the countries which produce the raw opium from which heroin is derived, eliminate it. Completely. If we have to close the Mexican border and seal it hermetically in order to stop the flood of marijuana, close it. And keep it closed. Our kids are more important than all the "Good Neighbor" policies in the universe.

Then talk your legislators into mandating 10 years at hard labor for the adult pusher's first offense, and death for the second. Equate the laws covering dope peddling with those which cover poisoning. And why not? After all cyanide and strychnine kill only the body. Dope destroys body and soul alike.

Stop worrying about educating kids about its effects. They already know, just as they know all about the evils of alcoholism, chain-smoking and drag-racing on the county highway at midnight. The schools have seen to that. What the schools have never been able to do is to make the young people want to do the things they know they ought to do and avoid the things they know they ought to avoid.

Tough advice? You bet. When I'm in a war with an enemy who is trying to destroy in the most bestial and loathsome way the persons dearest to me in all the world, you'd better believe I can get tough. Frankly, I'd rather see every dope peddler dead in his pad than see one more innocent kid rotted and gutted by this tox-

Century of Progress Study Club Hosts Federation Day Tea Here

The three Silvertown federated women's clubs met at the P.C.A. community room Monday afternoon, October 27, 1969, for a federation day tea given in honor of Mrs. Henry F. Shaper, sr. of San Antonio, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Other special guests included Mrs. Lane Decker of Floydada, Caprock District president; Mrs. LeRoy Johnson of Morton, district first vice president, and Mrs. O. C. Rampley of Silvertown, district second vice president.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Wayne McMurtry, president of the Century of Progress Study Club.

The devotional was given by Mrs. L. D. Griffin. Mrs. Wayne Vaughan introduced the special guests and recognized the presidents of the three local clubs. Mrs. Rampley introduced the guest of honor who was the speaker for the meeting.

Mrs. Shaper began by telling the women how much her club work had meant to her through the years and especially since the loss of her husband. She brought some fun in the form of a take-off of the television commercials.

"I would now like to read you a Communist Manifesto," Mrs. Shaper announced. "This list of Communist Rules for Revolution was obtained by the Armed Forces in Dusseldorf in May 1919—almost exactly 50 years ago. I think you will be surprised at how well the American people are helping to carry out Communist plans for the downfall of this nation."

"A. Corrupt the young, get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial, destroy their ruggedness."

"B. Get control of all means of withdrawal from Vietnam can be an honorable one so that those who have died and those who have suffered crippling injuries shall not have done so in vain.

Home baked gifts for the servicemen in Vietnam were brought and are being mailed overseas this week. Members were reminded to bring their contributions to "Toys For Tots" to the next meeting.

CAKE DECORATING TIPS TO BE HEARD NOVEMBER 17
Mrs. Carver Monroe will be a guest of the club on Monday, November 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Dean Rowell. She will demonstrate secrets of cake decorating.

Roll call will be answered with "Cake Decorating: I Need Help When It Comes to..." The devotional will be "A Kitchen Prayer," given by Mrs. Rowell.

CAPROCK - PLAINS BAPTIST ANNUAL MEETING PLANNED

The annual meeting of the Caprock - Plains Baptist Area will be held November 18 at 7:30 p.m. in Herral Memorial Auditorium on the Wayland Baptist College campus in Plainview.

Dr. J. D. Grey, pastor of First Baptist Church in New Orleans, will be the speaker. A past president of the Southern Baptist Convention, Dr. Grey has been pastor of his present church almost 20 years. His keen humor and deep dedication make him one of the most interesting speakers of this day.

A special period on the program has been reserved to pay tribute to Dr. and Mrs. Franklin Swinner. He is retiring December 31, after having served as area missionary the past 22 years.

A special program will depict the history of these 22 years. Appropriate gifts will be presented during the evening by a committee composed of Rev. R. B. Hall, Rev. C. H. Murphy, jr., and Rev. Frank Pollard, who have led the area churches and individuals to participate in these expressions of appreciation.

Floyd C. Bradley, chairman of the area committee, will be in charge of the program. Music will be under the direction of Pete Forderhase, who will direct a 200-voice choir.

Visitors from the entire West Texas area and from over the state are expected to fill the 1600 seat auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sarchet and John of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Sarchet of Tulia visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sarchet and Ken Sunday afternoon.

"4. Always preach true democracy but seize power as fast and as ruthlessly as possible.

"5. By encouraging government extravagance, destroy its credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent.

"6. Foment unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorders and foster a lenient and soft attitude on the part of government toward such disorders.

"7. By specious argument cause the breakdown of the old moral virtues: honesty, sobriety, continence, faith in the pledged word, ruggedness.

"C. Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext, with the view of confiscation of them and leaving the population helpless."

Mrs. Shaper went on to comment on the responsibility of women in the fight against pornography and obscenity. She complimented the local pharmacy for not placing pornographic literature on its newsstand, saying that she had been into the store before the meeting and had surveyed the magazines on sale here.

Mrs. Shaper went on to emphasize how much women's clubs can accomplish through federation. Tea, coffee and pastries were served by Mrs. John Gill and Mrs. Carol Davis.

Representing the three local clubs were Miss Anna Lee Anderson, Mrs. Lula Bellinger, Mrs.

GUEST EDITORIAL

The Anti-Iconoclast

by James Alexander
THE OBLIGATION OF RESPONSIBILITY

This is America, the land of the free and the home of the responsible. I contend that this is a true statement because freedom carries with it the burden of obligation and responsibility. If we do not honor our responsibilities, we in some small way lost a portion of our freedom. We see this in practice when we are young and an act of irresponsibility brings with it a revocation of privileges. This almost becomes a law of human nature which is Fulfillment of Obligation equals Greater Responsibilities. The converse of this law would be Dereliction of Duties equals Loss of Freedom. There is no field where this law is more applicable than in the field of domestic politics. Nations large or small are often brought to the brink of political and/or social precifics because of irresponsible acts of unthinking people. These people have not been fulfilling their responsibilities. In November we must demand that they do so. If they refuse, we must replace them with qualified men who carry out the moral obligation that freedom brings. We cannot wait any longer; we have shirked our responsibilities as citizens and taxpayers much too long.

If you are displeased with the actions of some duly elected official, whether he is locally, state-wide or nationally elected, it is your duty to let that person know your feelings. Exert your responsibility and write or call that official today.

SENIORS TAKE MILITARY SERVICE APTITUDE TESTS

The Seniors received the results of their Military Service Aptitude tests last Friday. The tests stressed areas of code speeding, administrative, mechanics, shop information, electronics, arithmetic knowledge, word knowledge, tool knowledge, space, clerical, and a general test grade. Many of the students achieved high grades on these tests, which can be used by the student to determine what areas are strong and which need extra attention.

Just For Today

Radio KMUL Muleshoe, Texas
JUST FOR TODAY I will try to live through this day only, and not tackle my whole life problem at once. I can do something for twelve hours that would appall me if I felt that I had to keep it up for a lifetime.

JUST FOR TODAY I will be happy. This assumes to be true what Abraham Lincoln said that "Most folks are as happy as they make up their minds to be."

JUST FOR TODAY I will adjust myself to what is, and not try to adjust everything to my own desires. I will take my "luck" as it comes, and fit myself to it.

JUST FOR TODAY I will try to strengthen my mind. I will study. I will learn something useful. I will not be a mental loafer. I will read something that requires effort, thought and concentration.

JUST FOR TODAY I will exercise my soul in three ways: I will do somebody a good turn, and not get found out; if anybody knows of it, it will not count. I will do at least two things I don't want to do—just for exercise. I will not show anyone that my feelings are hurt; they may be hurt, but today I will not show it.

JUST FOR TODAY I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, dress becomingly, talk low, act courteously, criticize not one bit, not find fault with anything and not try to improve or regulate anybody except myself.

JUST FOR TODAY I will have a program. I may not follow it exactly, but I will have it. I will save myself from two pests: hurry and indecision.

JUST FOR TODAY I will have a quiet half hour all by myself, and relax. During this half hour, sometime, I will try to get a better perspective of my life.

JUST FOR TODAY I will be unafraid. Especially I will not be afraid to enjoy what is beautiful, and to believe that as I give to the world, so the world will give to me.

Team Honors Max Weaver

The Silverton Owls and their coaches dedicated last Friday night's game to Max Weaver, who was a patient in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Max was recovering from surgery necessitated by recent injuries.

In order to show their appreciation to Max, the team and coaches autographed the football used in the Claude vs. Silverton game on October 24 and presented it to him. They wanted Max to have it as a special memento of the last game that he was able to play for SHS.

DEAR MAX,

We all miss you very much and hope the Candy Strippers at Northwest Texas Hospital have given you lots of attention. We hear they have some very pretty nurses!

SHS is having a hard time getting along without you. You won't have to worry about missing Trig because you have an advantage in having a brother-in-law for the teacher. He'll give you lots of extra attention.

Thurman's not getting jealous this week because of your talking to Cynthia during Government. Aren't you glad of that?

In English, Coach Wright presumes your grades will be about the same as Rodney's, so he's recording them in his grade book as usual.

Wade is taking good care of your pigs. They sure are growing, and Gail is making a blanket for them so they won't get cold.

The football team really misses you, Max, but they are playing every game for you and putting out all their effort.

We're looking forward to seeing you back in the halls of SHS soon.

We miss you,

The students and faculty of Silverton High School
