All Around the Town
by Mary Ann Sarchet

You may have seen this item in Wes Lizard's column this week, but it's worth a second chuckle: "I had the most wonderful dream," says Amarillo's Ray C. Johnson. "I dreamed that all the letter-carriers and air controllers went back to work and that a total and complete strike had engulfed the Internal Revenue Service!"

You know how I would HATE to start gossip on anyone, but I got just enough of a story this week about Winston Hamilton and Slow Eddleman to make me curious.

Winston first mentioned it to me himself. It was something about Slow and him going to New Mexico in a truck and getting snow-bound. But he really didn't tell me about it—he wanted us to call Slow for his version of the story.

Charles called Slow, and he couldn't seem to remember much about what happened. He couldn't remember when they left or if his wife went along! He thought they got home Sunday, because he recalled seeing Clifford Rowell on Edd Sullivan's Show that night.

Slow did recall doing some trading with some Indians. He brought home some sort of stove—don't know what it's good for, but he said it was a REAL bargain. Oh well, there probably wasn't much of a story here, anyway. Not if it wasn't exciting enough for Slow to recall what happened!

This story about Clifford Rowell is SUPPOSED to be a true one. I didn't see the program, but the Edd Sullivan Show was broadcast Sunday evening from the army hospital in San Antonio where Clifford and lots of other veterans of Vietnam are receiving treatment. Buck Owens was singing, and when he held the microphone over to Clifford, the soldier sang right along.

And singing on nationwide television is quite a thing for the old kid from Silvertown, Texas U. S. A. who has been accused of being AWOL twice, whose been taking college courses from his hospital bed, and who recently married his nurse.

The first time Clifford was reported AWOL, everyone got pretty excited. I didn't because I knew Clifford wouldn't do that. When I asked him about it later, he told me that he had been right where he was supposed to be all the time—that his papers were what was misplaced.

When he was most recently reported AWOL, he may have been on his honeymoon. Anyway, he really did have permission to be wherever he was.

He's probably the most misunderstood soldier in the Army.

I'd apologize for this weather we've been having if we didn't need the moisture so much.

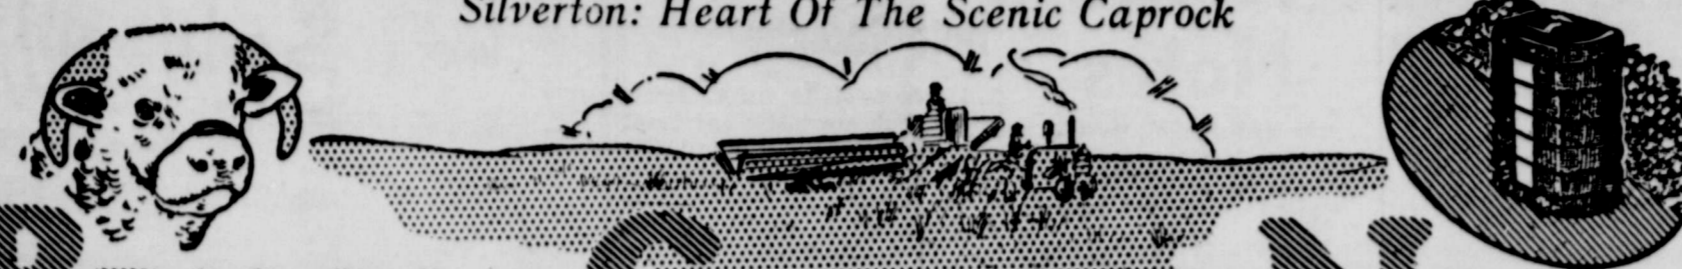

You see, I feel partially responsible for it. I went around all last week hoping for wind, dust, rain, snow, hail and sleet—the works! I wanted our West Texas weather to live up to its reputation to convince the Hippies that the Plains of Texas is not habitable. It did. And now that it's started, it can't stop. (Someone else besides me must have been doing rain dances.)

Honestly, have you ever seen such a thunder-and-lightning-and-snowstorm as we had last week? Rainfall and snowfall in March totaled 1.35 inches, and on the first day of April another .30 was recorded.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Nance hosted a family dinner last Saturday. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Huffman of Lockney; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wood, Jan, John and Tracy and Annette Hill of Dell City; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Boedeker, Mike, Nanda, Stephen and Rob of Plainview; Mrs. F. E. Hutsell, Scott and Coleen, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Self and Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Frizzell and the Nances.

Easter Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Perkins, Becky, Patti and Amy were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith and Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Terry West and Brad, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. O. Riddell and Tobe, Silvertown; Mrs. Odell Johnston and David of Quitaque; and Sammy Johnston of Wellman.

Trading Stamps Being Sold To Help Defray Expenses

Trading stamps, donated to the campaign to provide a kidney machine for former Wayland Baptist College student Larry Parks, are being offered for sale in Plainview to raise cash to help Parks with medical expenses.

Texas Day Program Held Recently

Members of L. O. A. Junior Study Club saw slides and heard a program on the Alibates Flint Quarry, located on the shore of Lake Meredith, at their regular meeting Monday evening, March 23, in the P. C. A. community room.

Mrs. John Schott and Mrs. Wayne Stephens directed the picture-lecture which brought out details regarding the historical significance of the state monument, the current interest in preservation of the site, and future plans for construction of a historical museum.

Mrs. Robert H. Hill was hostess for the meeting, and led members in repeating A Collect for Clubwomen and the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

During the business meeting, it was announced that Mrs. Champ McGavock had asked to withdraw as the club's president-elect. In the balloting that followed, Mrs. Fred Edwards was elected as the club's next president. This left a vacancy in the office of recording secretary for 1970-71, and members voted to combine the offices of corresponding and recording secretary, which will be filled by Mrs. Bob Sewell.

Plans for the club's volleyball tournament were discussed. It was decided that the April 6 meeting would not be held on that day due to its being the night before the opening of the tournament. The program which had been scheduled for that day is being changed to another meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hill to Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Jerry Miller, Mrs. Dean Rowell, Mrs. Charles Sarchet, Mrs. Schott, Mrs. Sewell and Mrs. Stephens.

Body and Spirit

"For as the body away from the spirit is dead, so faith apart from works is dead."
 — James 2:26

Attending church each Sunday is a small profession of faith. An hour, maybe two, is a small slice of the week's life; no more than a small outward sign.

It is important to attend church; it is equally important to live a life of full and constant faith. If we have faith in God and faith in our fellow man, there is always a place for good works in the conduct of everyday affairs.

There is also a sense of motivation and a presence of mind, heart and soul.

IT TAKES MORE THAN ONE

to learn... grow ...achieve

In Russia there are no 4-H Clubs to teach boys and girls a better way of life and work; no agricultural extension service to show better methods for raising crops and livestock; no specialists to help improve homemaking skills; no business men to support this "massive, informal, educational program" which includes 4-H.

However, Premier Khrushchev did learn something about the Cooperative Extension Service during his visit to the U.S. In a Pravda article, Khrushchev revealed a "secret" to the Russian people. He admitted that certain extension practices were "borrowed" when the Soviet agricultural system was overhauled recently.

Explains Service
"I have in mind," he said, the introduction of scientific achievements. In the United States of America a farmer's service exists under the universities and colleges. The agents meet with the farmers and persuade them to introduce this or that method, help them in organization of production and furnish them with plans."

He got most of the extension picture, but apparently missed the role of extension for the last 50 years in developing the 4-H Club program.

In the early days of 4-H, the trained extension agents worked with the children of farm families. The plan provided the wedge that opened the door for the agents to reach the farmers and their wives.

No Free Enterprise
It has been suggested that Khrushchev might further improve farming under communism if he also had initiated a program for youth patterned after the 4-H Clubs. Seventy other foreign countries have. But Russia lacks the incentive and backing provided by private enterprise.

U.S. industry has backed 4-H work right from the beginning. It provides technical know-how, financial aid and recognition. More than 55 leading business firms cooperate with the extension service and the National 4-H Service Committee in sponsoring individual projects.

Today there are at least three dozen areas of 4-H Club work.

Some of the newer programs and their sponsors are: Photography, Eastman Kodak; Conservation, John Deere; Foods-Nutrition, General Foods; Alumni Recognition, Olin Mathieson; Dog Care and Training, Ralston-Purina.

Fifty years ago there were only a few projects: growing tomatoes and canning them; growing corn and raising pigs to eat the corn.

Long-Time Support
Sponsors that have supported 4-H for 20 or more years are: Armour and Company; Santa Fe Railway; Burlington Railroad; Milwaukee Railroad; Chicago & North Western Railway; Coats & Clark; Conrad Hilton Hotel; Cudahy Packing Company; Firestone; Illinois Central Railroad; International Harvester; Kerr Glass; Livestock Conservation Incorporated; Montgomery Ward; Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Westinghouse Educational Foundation; Wilson & Co.; Standard Oil (Ohio); General Motors; American Oil Foundation.

Collectively they make the National 4-H Club Congress possible. One of the most coveted awards for a 4-H'er is the congress trip given to one boy or girl per state in a specific program. Altogether about 1,600 young people from 50 states travel to Chicago each fall to participate in this educational event.

Yarborough Calls For Expanded Research Into Soil Conservation

Senator Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Texas, has called for expanded research at the Big Spring Field Station at Big Spring, Texas, to find ways of preventing erosion in the Southern Plains, erosion which last year damaged 583,495 acres of sandy soil in five states.

Senator Yarborough said the Big Spring Field Station of the Department of Agriculture must have more funds to expand its work and facilities. Senator Yarborough noted that a study by the Department of Agriculture has shown that the expansion is both scientifically and economically feasible.

He also said that erosion damaged 583,495 acres of sandy soil in the Southern Plains states of Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas and New Mexico, but Texas was the hardest hit. In Texas 487,190 acres were damaged in the 1968-1969 wind erosion season, a substantial increase over the previous season when 311,290 acres were damaged in Texas.

Senator Yarborough, a member of the Senate Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee, made the request for more funds for the Big Spring Field Station in a letter addressed to the Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee Chairman, Senator Spessard Holland.

They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Randy Hughes.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

BE STRONG

It may not be necessarily true that the world is darkest just before the dawn. But, who can argue against the old expression "things are not so bad they can't get worse."

So, what is the answer when it seems the world is against you and fate persists in handing you a joker with every deal? Give up? Roll over and play dead? Go to sleep and wait for tomorrow to bring better times?

Of course not. Look to faith, Look to God for strength, the strength to do something now, to do as much as you can about the situation or the problem at this very moment.

Strength for now is what you need... and it's available. Just don't ask for too much. Don't expect a sign from heaven, nor an instant rainbow. Don't expect problems to be wiped away with a single gust of wind.

But look within yourself for inner courage, for an awareness of what needs to be done, for the sense to know what can be done, and for the urge to begin to do it.

If you would be strong, look to God for guidance, then make a proper move to help yourself.

Would you like to learn how to tie knots?

Ever since early man first made an ax by tying a stone to a stick, knots have been used to join things together. Knots have also been thought to possess magical powers. In Rome, in the 1st century A.D., it was believed that a wound would heal faster if the bandages were tied in a "Hercules knot," now known as a reef knot. Before man knew how to write, he tied knots in ropes as a way of keeping records. The word "knot" also stands for the sailor's measurement of ship speed. The family of knots is broken down into groups of knots that are used for similar jobs. These include stoppers, bends, and hitches as well as binding knots and loop knots. There are also ornamental knots, which are not grouped by function. Here are some knots you can tie that are both useful and ornamental.

The OVERHAND KNOT, used alone, is a stopper. It is simple to tie and is used in tying many other knots.

The BOWLINE is the most widely used loop knot. It can be pulled tight around a load to be lifted. It will not slip or jam and is easy to untie.

The SQUARE, OR REEF, KNOT is used by people in many different occupations, from sailors to steeplejacks. It can usually be easily untied, but may jam under a great deal of stress. (The granny knot is the result of a mistake in tying a square knot. It is unreliable for any practical use.)

The FIGURE EIGHT is the stopper most often used by sailors, since it is the most effective stopper in a tackle or pulley.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

A PROPHET

There was a prophet named Zephaniah, a contemporary of Jeremiah, who warned that manifold sins were bringing Judah to the brink of national disaster. But Zephaniah preached more than impending doom; he held forth a promise of hope. He told the people that God was ever-present and would not desert those who called out for help.

We can see that God has remained forever with the people, leading the chosen ones out of exile to their homeland. Indeed, we can see God's way in the history of the world since Christ.

God's presence is a real thing in this modern world of today. Those who are blessed with faith live not in fear of some impending doom; but rather in the hope that wars may cease and men can give themselves to the arts of peace.

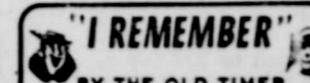

SHANNA RAMPLEY

After graduation from high school in June, Shanna plans to continue in the secretarial field and further her studies at Eastern New Mexico University.

Perry Thomas is a patient in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

From Grace W. Smith, Newton Square, Pa.: I remember the ferries (fare: five cents) from Philadelphia's Dock Street, puffing across the Delaware to the Camden side, their horns tooting a toot which I'm sure the Diesel locomotive must have stolen from them, so alike they sound. The captain never headed straight for the mooring. He would plow down the middle of the river as though he had no intention of crossing. Just as I was doubtful that he would ever turn, he did. The ferry made for the shore, each time came the bumps, gentle against the padded piling, which bent over as though that resistance would be its last. First one side and the other, the intervals shortening until the scarred, round bow of the ferryboat bumped the "destination-reached" bump and the adhesion was made, seemingly through easy efforts of two men who clanged home the metal lock.

The ferry deckhand shoved open the gate and the passengers swarmed over, crossing the water-to-land boundary with never a doubt that it would hold, however brief the time allowed for joining. There were usually one or two men who, too impatient to wait, jumped the gap. I admired them, even though it was obvious the officials disapproved, judging from the signs warning against leaving the ferry before the signal.

The insistent ringing of a loud bell from the wheelhouse not only signalled that one should get off the ferry, but also, if one were on shore in the waiting room that a ferry was unloading and would leave shortly for the return trip.

A Helping Hand for Feathered Friends
If you decided to feed the birds in your backyard this winter, I hope you haven't gone back on your decision . . . not unless you're sure they have an alternative supply source.

There's a cause-and-effect relationship here that the most committed bird lovers frequently overlook. Namely, that once your feathered friends recognize you as a friend — or at least a chef in residence — they come to rely on you.

Whether you hang a suet bag on the backyard elm tree or scatter seed on a window shelf, you tempt them to expect a meal each time they return. If the expectation is fulfilled often enough, they may give up searching for food elsewhere in the district.

So, a sudden end to the free-loading can leave them worse off than if you had never fed them at all.

Much of this thinking depends, obviously, on where you live. The birds of the Southland may be pretty well off when their cousins of the Great Plains are struggling to find sustenance in the storms of March and even April. The moral is, tailor your handouts to the environment . . . also to the species you're dealing with.

The cardinal, to my mind the most beautiful bird in my area, sticks around all through winter. Yet, it appears to have special problems in finding food when the thermometer plunges downward.

I can always count on cardinals turning up at my feeder at such times. And they're usually ravenous for the grubstake I have waiting for them. In fact, they plainly consider the feeder their private property, so readily do they settle down for a meal the moment I'm out of their way.

But don't get the idea that this is any big operation. My weekly bill for birdseed and other eatables doesn't run very high. After all, there are other bird lovers in the neighborhood.

I acknowledge an obligation to keep the provisions coming. But "obligation" is hardly the Southland may be pretty well off when their cousins of the Great Plains are struggling to

JUDO NEWS

A Junior program for Judo began March 27. The members of this program will be associated with the United States Judo Association, and instruction and promotion will be guided by the Association.

The recent purchase of new mats has made it possible to begin a program for the Junior members. The present program is based on guidelines set up by the United States Judo Association, the best program available anywhere. This is a free course, and is open to all boys who are willing to buy a Judogi and participate in the workouts.

Practice will be after school on Mondays and Thursdays for two hours in the gym.

During the Easter holiday, some members of the Silverton Judo Club are taking part in a Judo Tournament in Bossier City, Louisiana.

The school is fortunate to have such a Judo program. Interest and participation is growing. James Alexander is the instructor, and is doing a good job with the boys.

THE ART OF JUDO

Judo is both an art and a sport, a means of defense, and equally, a means of offense. Like jujitsu, its forerunner, judo is a method of turning an opponent's strength against himself, thus defeating him in the most efficient manner. Jujitsu was practiced seriously for many years in olden days as a means of killing or seriously injuring one's opponent, but with the advent of modern warfare the need for hand-to-hand combat diminished, until the sport almost died out.

In 1882, Jigoro Kano, a student of jujitsu, founded the Kodokan Judo Institute in Tokyo. There he formulated a new system of bare-handed fighting which he named "judo." Judo means "the gentle way," and utilizes the very best of the jujitsu techniques, eliminating the harmful ones, and modifying others so that they can be practiced safely.

Judo is beneficial to both young and old, and age is no disqualification for becoming skillful. It exercises a benign effect on all the faculties of the student; and in emergencies can be used for self-defense, which of course constitutes one of the chief reasons why judo is so popular with police forces and the like.

Peeping Owl of S. H. S.

Someone told the Peepin' Owl that Coach Wood likes the gossip in the paper that really makes him think and wonder. Here is a challenge—can you figure this one out, B.W.?

P. D. went on a date with J. W., but while they were at the show, J. W. went to the concession stand and was gone a whole hour. M. G. came to P. D.'s car and they left and went to Quitaque. J. W. came back and the car was gone. Boy, was she mad! Just at that moment, M. W. came by with L. B. and C. J. J. W. got in the car and they picked up M. S. and S. D. Oh well, you probably know the rest of the story. Good luck in figuring it out, B. W.

It's Sing-A-Long Time in SHS during lunch. The favorite song last week was "Let The Sun Shine In." Of course, Marsha and Lanis forget the words, but they make a lot of noise anyway.

Friday was Cowboy and Indian Day in Silverton. There really was a warpath. The English IV boys tied Gail to the desk and wouldn't let her go.

Remember to keep your eyes and ears open, and believe half of what you see and nothing that you hear.

Remember, Seniors?

Several Seniors were asked to recall the most exciting or vivid experience of their school years, and following are some of their recollections from the past:

Roy—I remember when I was in the Third Grade, and Stanley Tomlin had just moved here. He was being his usual self, and I took Mrs. Amerson's board and busted it in half on him.

Bill—When Wade went with Cathy when she first moved here.

Jerry Bean—When Jimmy Rex threw a water balloon at Clinton Dale and broke a window out at Gary's house.

Cynthia—I remember when I was chasing Paula and I tore her skirt off, and Mrs. Bomar stapled it back together.

Marilyn—The most exciting thing that happened to me was when I was in the Sixth Grade and was chosen to be a cheerleader.

Ernest—I remember when Mr. Wilson's gas-filled balloon, to prove the tightness of gas, turned out to be a big explosion.

Katy—I remember when Paula chased and beat us in the Third and Fourth grades.

Max H.—When Cathy and Max and another couple went into Gail's garage during one of her parties and spent all their time trying to get the dog back into the garage.

Gail—I remember in the Second Grade when Miss Anna Lee Anderson turned me over her knee and spanked me for talking in Assembly.

Jerdlene—I remember when we were playing basketball one night and Cecilia ripped her shorts and ran off the court while we were playing without telling anyone.

Steve—I remember the time Steve, Cathy, Bob and Roy Dale sold kisses at Jay's party.

Paula—When I ripped my pants climbing the stairs.

Jim McWilliams—When Max Hamilton ran into the rail at the Plainview Skating Rink and broke his tooth.

These are just a few of the many experiences the Seniors have encountered during their school years. These memories will travel with them for the rest of their lives.

Most accurate clock in the world is in the Copenhagen Town Hall, Denmark, and its celestial pole motion will take 25,700 years to complete a full circle.

Wheeler defeated Happy in the first set, beat Silverton 2-0 and won the district title.

CONFESSIONS OF A COLUMNIST

by Vant Neff

Lesson in Kremlinology; Communists support and subsidize expressions of "freedom" in other countries but consider it a punishable offense in their own land. This duplicity of opinion was displayed when a young Scandinavian law student was sentenced to a one-year term in a forced labor camp as punishment for his one-man demonstration in the streets of Leningrad demanding freedom of expression for Soviet intellectuals. Plainly, this well-meaning young man forgot what befell the intellectuals who dared to proffer their own views on that forbidden topic!

What price patriotism? Americans appear to be boycotting a certain foreign airline whose country harbors some of our military deserters and whose premier favors our enemy. It's another indication that people are registering their indignation and disgust at such situations by refusing to patronize people or places that are anti-American. Wouldn't we be fools to continue proffering money and friendship (in typical altruistic American fashion!) to those who aid the very forces committed to our eventual downfall?

Japanese workers recently made substantial financial contributions to striking electrical workers in the United States. Their motive was not sympathy, kindness nor sheer generosity. Not at all. They are far too practical for anything like that. It was their primary intention to keep their American counterparts idle longer, by increasing their wages, to increase the price of the products they produce — so that foreigners would have a better opportunity of selling their own competitive goods on the world market, securing for themselves the former customers of the Americans, and in the long run, contributing to their economic destruction. It's a shame, in my viewpoint, that the American strikers didn't see through this money-coated ruse at once.

Time, I am glad to note, seems to have matured and enlightened the attitudes and judgment of Dean Acheson, former Secretary of State who was regarded by many as a "parlor pink". Ironically, he has recently become one of President Nixon's staunchest supporters in securing approval for our country's ABM defense system. It is always satisfying to see any individual awakened to the very real threat that the Communists pose to our nation, but in the case of an influential public personage like Mr. Acheson, it is doubly rewarding. Incidentally, the Russians have an anti-ballistic missile system. If they can afford it, can we afford to be without one?

If we are to pay more than lip service to honoring the role of our President of the United States, we must make the most concentrated effort to assure his safety and well-being, in view of past murderous events. When the appointment of a railroad engineer who had not been accorded top Secret Service clearance to run the Presidential train was challenged and his replacement secured, a certain union official was so morally outraged that he wrote a searing letter to the people responsible for the switch, declaring that "the unions will not tolerate this sort of thing". Submission to this union demand could gravely affect our national security, and although we are fully aware that many union officials are deft behind-the-scenes maneuverers in many affairs, it most assuredly should not be within their domain to meddle in this one.

Perhaps we ought not underestimate the strength of the left wing. The left wing doesn't want us to have the Anti-Ballistic Missile (ABM) system. Russia has one, though. The left wing would rather that we discard our Minuteman long-range missile project. But Russia keeps hers. Also, the left wing feels that we should discontinue the ROTC on American campuses, while Russian student officers are still expertly and thoroughly trained. The left wing debates adamantly against the use and stockpiling of chemical and germ weapons, defoliants, toxins, major arms and radically effective bombs. But aren't all these defense preparations cherished objectives of the Communists themselves? Must we continue paying attention to the dupes of the Communists at the risk of our national security?

It remains a mystery to me why so many militant blacks are appropriating Arab dress, adhering to Arab religious beliefs and even assuming Arab names. Centuries of Black African history have recorded the sordid tales of Arab slave dealers raiding native villages, murdering the weak and placing the strong in bondage. Is it a desire on the part of some black leaders to become latter-day slave masters or is it simply one more instance of the psychological blindness of the self-designated "Muhammed Alis" and others who are only leading their own people hopelessly astray?

Some cynical observers claim that the new 3R's in American education are Radicalism, Rampaging, and Rioting. Is the student then awarded a D.R. (Doctor of Revolution) degree?

If a plumber can now earn $9 an hour and a bricklayer $10, I think that a school teacher who spends many years acquiring extra education should be compensated in like manner. It is a matter of public record that union bigwigs are in such stratospherically high wage brackets that some earn almost $100,000 a year, reflecting pay boosts of as much as $15,000, and $20,000, in some cases. Isn't this a little incongruous? I am sure that the teachers find it a matter of grave concern. My point is not to encourage more and more fantastic salary increases all across the board, but to put things in proper perspective and pay people in relation to the value of the work they do.

Permissiveness breeds promiscuity. Laxity foments lawlessness. And while I do not wish to be my neighbor's keeper, I cannot condone contempt for law and order. While I cannot offer an exact remedy to correct disorder and violence in courtrooms, to ignore impropriety on a minor scale could lead to behavior like that of those notorious, wild-eyed California hippies who seem to think they can get away with anything in the name of "freedom", even, if it is alleged, wholesale murder. The minute we forgive drastic action by excusing culprits on the basis of their "underprivileged beginnings", we openly invite the disasters that are manifested by our drug-ridden, mayhem-maddened mobs.

CARDS OF THANKS

We would like to say many thanks for the prayers, flowers, cards, phone calls, the lovely gifts I received while I was in the hospital.

Our appreciation for the delicious food that was brought to my home while I was away. Thanks to the people of Lubbock and to the Quitaque G. A. girls for the gifts they brought. The old saying is that at the end of the rainbow is a pot of gifts. We think that the pot of gifts is right here in our little town. You may travel far and wide, but the most wonderful people are here. We could not travel on if it were not for all of you.

We love each and every one of you.
Mrs. Dorothy Crosslin and Teressa Crosslin

We wish to express our appreciation to our friends and loved ones for the pretty flowers, cards, food, prayers, phone calls and visits while we were at the hospital and since we came home.

We would like to thank our friends and relatives for the cards, flowers and telephone calls while we were at the hospital and since we have been home. All expressions of your friendship and concern are appreciated.
Clyde and Jo Ann Mercer

FOR THE BIRD... Biologist H.C. Cecil feeds a slightly changed form of commercial DDT to a Japanese quail at the Agricultural Research Laboratory, Beltsville, Md. Scientists believe that DDT may be the cause of hatching problems in wild birds. However, a new DDT may solve these problems without impairing its effectiveness to insects.

FOR THE FAMILY MANAGER

ITEM: A faint nutlike aroma and a taste somewhat like almonds is characteristic of sesame seed and may explain why it goes so well with baked goods and candy.

ITEM: The average home-made spends only about $26 a year on soaps and detergents for bathing, laundering, dish-washing and other personal and housekeeping cleanliness purposes.

ITEM: Before you repaint a greasy spattered wall, be sure to clean the wall thoroughly. Then use a coating to help the paint stick and to keep the grease from coming through. Aluminum paint is a good covering. Repaint with oil base gloss or semigloss paint. Either one will resist grease stains and wipe off easily.

ITEM: Charges for the use of revolving credit may be figured by the dealer or lender by any one of six different methods; the true interest rate varies accordingly.

ITEM: Labels and hangtags give information about fibers and sometimes the care they need. Whenever you buy new apparel, save the labels for future reference.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS

BY LINDA NORRIS

A most unique LP is Cannonball Adderley's latest waxing, 'Accent on Africa' with native songs that are restless as autumn leaves and just as colorful. Included are such African numbers as Ndo Lima, Hamba Nami, Khutsana, Up and At It, Gumba Gumba, Marabi, Gunjah and Lehadima. If you're intrigued with this one and want more of the same, try 'Free Soul' by Letta Mbulu. Numbers include Kukuchi, West Wind, Namani, Ade, Olu Ayo, Welele, What More Could Be Right and Only When You're Mine Again.

Soul music is the big news these days and the Roy Meriwether Trio joins the parade of soul creators with their new LP, 'Soul Knight'. There is quite a repertoire featuring this new beat, including Think, Mrs. Robinson, If You Gotta Make a Fool of Somebody, Walk With Me, Mission Impossible, Soul Serenade, Mean Greens, Chain of Fools, Satisfy My Soul, Norwegian Wood, Cow Cow Boogaloo and For Your Precious Love.

Buck Owens and His Buckaroos come up with Guitar Player, a new and bright LP that should wend its way easily to the top of the charts... Mexican and polka beats are the specialty of the Owens menage in this album and those who enjoy good guitar will find this especially intriguing. Included in the repertoire are Guitar Fandango, Raz-Ma-Taz Polka, The Gaucho Came Riding, Mexican Polka, Turkish Holiday, Tokyo Polka, Buck's Polka, Country Polka, Mexican Jumping Bean and Jolly Christmas Polka.

SWISS PETALS... Freshly-cut flowers line the walks at an open-air flower market in historic Lucerne, Switzerland.
