All Around the Town
by Mary Ann Sarchet

It is a compliment when grown men—considered the big, tough men in the rough-and-tumble sport of football—get all choked up and say they feel like they have lost a father when a man like Coach Vince Lombardi dies. They feel that they owe a lot to Lombardi because he helped to shape their ideals and make them into what they are today. Some now speculate that illness may have been one reason that prompted Lombardi to leave the Green Bay Packers. It could have been; Green Bay is the smallest town that has a professional football franchise, and he may have needed to be nearer medical treatment facilities.

I think one reason that the memory of Vince Lombardi will be revered by those who knew him is that his players considered him a fair man. They say he would never have asked anyone else to do anything that he would not do himself. He had kept himself in good physical condition, and tried to set a good example for his players by working along with them.

He adhered to a "work hard, play tough, and play to win" philosophy. The desire to win dominated his life. "He fought a good fight; he ran a good race." He made a place for himself in the hearts of his fellowmen, and thus will live forever. Can anything nicer be said of a person than that he played fair and he played to win?

I've always believed that there are many lessons to be learned from competition in athletics, but these lessons are available only to those who desire to find them. There are lessons to be learned from life around us every day, but if we don't choose to read and heed these lessons, we can ignore them very efficiently.

Boosters To Have Meet After Game

The Quarterback Club will have a coffee and after-the-game visit in the P. C. A. community room Friday night following the Silverton vs. Turkey season opener.

Officers were recently elected by the club, with Datis Martin re-elected to serve as president; Loyd May, vice-president, and Mrs. Eva Lou Younger, secretary.

A membership campaign is underway by the Silverton Quarterback Club. The membership fee is $5.00 per year per person, and the money is used to pay for the film for making movies of the games. The game films are shown every Monday night at the regular Quarterback Club meetings in the school cafeteria.

Owls Open Season Here With Turkey Turks

OWL TRI-CAPTAINS—Alvin May, Terry Bomar and Bill Strange will be leading the way as Silverton High School meets the Turkey Turks in the first game of the season here at 8:00 p.m. Friday night.

Silverton's varsity footballers have given their fans reason to hope that this might be "the year of the Owls" in two pre-season scrimmages, and are all set to open the season with the Turkey Turks here tomorrow night. Kick-off time is 8:00 p.m. The Junior class will sponsor a hamburger supper in the school cafeteria from 5:30 until 7:30 p.m. The squad is made up of eight seniors, three juniors and six sophomores, and with the addition of nine freshmen, has 26 players this season.

"We would like to thank fans for the donation of 90 towels, 161 bars of soap and $29.50 cash at last week's soap and towel night," Coach Bill Stovall said early this week. "I just don't know what we'd do without our fans."

Hoping to improve on their 2-8 season record of last year, the Owls are coached by Bill Stovall, Tom Wright and Pete Hubbard. Tri-captains for the Owls are Bill Strange, Terry Bomar and Alvin May, seniors.

"We feel like we have good leadership and adequate size and experience," Stovall has said of the team. "Our speed is alright, but we don't have any speedsters by any means. I think we'll be stronger and better balanced than last year, but the district will also be stronger this year."

By speaking of balance, Coach Stovall refers to his backfield, where duties will be shared by Thomas Self, David Holt, Bill Strange, David McCoy, Craig Culwell, Dana Martin, Tim Hubbard & Co. When the ball is handed off this year, Silverton's opponents won't be able to gamble on an 85% probability that "Strange has the ball." If they do, then Self, Holt, McCoy, Culwell or one of the others will be into the end zone before they recover from the mental mistake.

The offensive starting backfield probably will be Strange, Holt and Thomas Self at running back slots, with Dana Martin at quarterback. Strange opens at either tailback or linebacker. The only defensive substitute might be David Kellum, a junior, who is playing his first year of football at middle guard.

Thomas Self was a District Honorable Mention last year.

Roger Younger and Terry Culwell will likely open at ends, with Marvin Self and Lane Garvin at tackles. Guards are Mark Hutsell and Terry Bomar, with Alvin May at center.

Younger received a District Honorable Mention last season. Strange, an awesome runner, probably "does his thing" best as linebacker, roaming from sideline to sideline punishing enemy ball-carriers. Hoping Texas Tech will notice him, Strange was named to the All District 2-A defensive unit and got an honorable mention on the offensive team last season in a district full of good backfield men even though he got a broken leg and missed the last two ball-games.

May, a big mobile lineman, also rates a second look. He has good lateral speed and a proverbial "nose for the ball." He, like Strange, enjoys contact and possesses outstanding leadership qualities. Bomar, the other senior Tri-Captain, is outstanding at his guard position. He was named to the All District 2-A team last season. At tackle, May and Marvin Self are among the best in the district. Self, who earned a District Honorable Mention last year, is probably the fastest lineman in the district, and is outstanding with both the shot and discs when Mrs. R. N. McDaniel was in Lubbock Monday afternoon to visit her brother, Jack Fore, who suffered a heart attack and is a patient in West Texas Hospital. She also visited relatives in Plainview Sunday night and spent Monday with her father, John Fore, who resides at the Heritage Home.

Caprock TOPS Club Celebrates Anniversary Tuesday

Caprock TOPS Club celebrated its third anniversary Tuesday evening with a cookout at Sky-High Roadside Park on the edge of the Caprock northeast of Silverton. The low calorie meal consisted of broiled hamburger patties, pickles and garden-fresh tomatoes, cantaloupes, bell peppers, carrot sticks, celery, onions, lettuce, iced tea and campfire coffee.

A highlight of the evening was the announcement of the club's outstanding member for the month of August. The contest chairman announced that each one present would be asked to "say something nice" about one of their fellow members, and the consensus was that Mrs. Nena Loudermilk: has been an inspiration to the other members, has attained KOPS status by her weight loss, that she is faithful in attendance and always willing to serve, that she is a friend who always has a smile for all, and deserves to be not only clubwoman of the month but clubwoman of the year as well.

A great-grandmother several times over, Mrs. Loudermilk has proven her physical fitness to the younger members of the club on numerous occasions. A death in her family prevented Mrs. Loudermilk from being officially graduated from TOPS to KOPS status at the last Area Rally Day.

Runner-up in the contest was another KOPS, Mrs. Sylvia Foger-son.

A TOPS charm is awarded to the winner of this contest each month, and at the conclusion of four award periods, the winners have been Mrs. Kay Jackson, Mrs. Polly Montague, Mrs. Mary Ann Sarchet and Mrs. Loudermilk. The award is earned through a point system in which members are credited for attendance at weekly meetings, participation in fund-raising, attendance at workshops and rally days, program presentation, serving on special committees and weight loss. It is to be noted that KOPS (Keep Off

At the end of each month, the members cast their vote for the member who has inspired and helped them most during the past month, and points are awarded for each vote a member receives.

W. Chappell and family.

NEW DUMAS P. E. TEACHER WENT THERE FROM VIETNAM

Johnny Jowell, son of Mrs. J. E. Jowell of Silverton, was featured in an article in the Dumas newspaper recently. Quoting from the article: "John Jowell, one of eight beginning teachers this year in the Dumas Independent School System, came more than 2,000 miles to take the first assignment of his teaching career at Green Acres Elementary School.

"An elementary physical education teacher, the West Texas State University graduate and Silverton native came here from Vietnam. There were three weeks between the time of his U. S. Army discharge and the start of the 1970 fall semester for school teachers on August 17.

"Several things influenced Jowell in making a decision to apply here for a teaching assignment and his application came from his duty station in Vietnam.

"My wife, Belva Jo, is teaching here and is now in her third year at Sunset School," he explains. "And I have always heard that the Dumas school system was one of the best."

The couple was married last April when Jowell was on leave from Vietnam and Mrs. Jowell was on a leave of absence from her teaching duties in Dumas. The couple married in Honolulu, Hawaii.

"Jowell continues pointing out that he is 'impressed by the facilities here for elementary physical education,' which he says will be put to good use. "The children are full of pep and I enjoy working with every one of them," their new physical education teacher adds.

"A graduate of Silverton High School, Jowell played football, some baseball and ran track. An interest in sports and a desire to work with young people led him into physical education and teaching as a major course of study at WTSU.

However, he had a military obligation to fulfill after graduation before beginning his career.

"Jowell entered the U. S. Army for a 2-year hitch in August 1968. Following basic training, he went to Non-Commissioned Officers school where he earned a quick promotion to staff sergeant as the honor graduate.

"Assigned to Vietnam for an 11-month tour, Jowell first went to the 82nd Airborne division, serving with them two months before the division came home. He was reassigned to the 2nd Squadron of the First Armored Cavalry Regiment at Song Mao.

"He saw action as a platoon sergeant, a squad leader, a track commander in tanks and armored personnel carriers, and as the leader of a section of scouts."

LABOR DAY

Once each year our Nation sets aside a day in honor of its working people. And rightly so! Our land is rich in natural resources, but it is the skill of our people in converting these materials into usable goods, that truly makes us rich. And it is the willingness of our people to labor that has enabled us to become the strongest and most powerful nation in all of history.

The fact that our citizens have the freedom to choose the type of work each feels best suited for, increases the willingness to work. The right and privilege to change type or place of labor for personal gain is another in the long list of advantages our citizens may claim.

This Labor Day, let us all reflect that it is the WILLINGNESS TO WORK on the part of our people that has brought our nation to its present stature and has provided all the goods and services we enjoy. And while we rest a while from our labors, let us resolve to continue a willingness to work so that our nation will ever remain strong.

Our priceless heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is as alive today as it was when written for the ages in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. It stands for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton, we, too, have a privilege, a right, and a duty. While we may disagree as to the methods, we should not disagree as to the goal—that of preserving the greatest democratic society the world has ever known.

Our flag is a symbol, not of sentiment, but of history, the history of men and women willing to live and die for it. Surely this willingness is with us still, because daily we experience more of the blessings that are ours—ours because we are Americans.

Well, What Do You Know? fun, games and knowledge

Here is a baffling magic trick you can do to mystify any audience. The magician's wrists are tied with a length of cord. He then takes a solid ring, which his audience has been allowed to examine, and turns his back for a few minutes. He then causes the ring to appear on the cord.

The secret is that, unknown to the audience, two rings are used.

They may be plastic bracelets, alike in size and color, obtainable at any store where novelty jewelry is sold, such as a five-and-ten.

Beforehand, slip one of the rings over your arm as far up as it will go, as shown in the illustration. It will be hidden by your sleeve. The pressure of your arm will hold it in place.

Give someone in the audience a piece of cord, and ask him to tie each end fairly tight around your wrists, as shown. There should be about a foot of cord between the wrists. Hold your hands up while they are being tied, to prevent the ring on your arm from slipping down.

Next, hand out the duplicate ring for examination. When it is returned, turn your back and quickly put it into your shirt pocket or inside coat pocket, at the same time allowing the ring on your arm to slip down over the cord. Turn around and show the ring now hanging from the cord to your puzzled audience.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

THESE TIMES

The world to day is filled with alarmists and with realists. Sometimes, it is difficult to tell them apart. Publicly and in print, Chicken Little of fairy tale fame is being paraphrased with the warning the "the world is falling apart."

On one hand, we are told that the individuals of the world are rapidly losing a sense of moral values and that Christianity is fighting for its very existence.

And then we are told that there is nothing really new in the world, that people are no better, no worse than they have been since Adam tasted the forbidden apple, and that Christianity, far from dying, is rising to do battle with the crying needs of the times.

All things are relative, of course. Perhaps our world is little different in the good-versus-bad category than it was a generation or so ago. Certainly our communications technology today is such that small events and happenings in the remotest sections of the world can be quickly made available to news media around the globe.

In summary, we are more aware of the world in which we live. We are better informed about the problems that exist within the community, within the state, in the nation, and around the world.

The simple truth is that, being more aware, we should find it easier to meet our individual responsibilities, to accept the challenges that we know are present, to promote some manner of good in that part of the world in which we live.

One little candle in a very dark corner can bring new light that may be sorely needed.

"FOR ALL YOUR PRINTING NEEDS"

For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountains majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee."

How aptly these first few lines of the beautifully prayerful song describe much of our land.

In some areas, just before the harvest, amber waves of grain stretch as far as the eye can see and, with a brisk breeze blowing, the scene looks like a vast golden ocean. In other areas, one can travel mile after mile with fields of tall green corn along both sides of the road. And in yet other areas one finds mile after mile of orchards. Here the beautifully colored burden of fruits bend tree limbs to the ground. What breath-taking sights to behold!

America, America! What a wonderful and productive land in which to live!

"God shed His grace on thee" should be the continuing prayer of us all, lest through our laxity, carelessness and apathy we spoil this wondrous land beyond reclamation.

Our priceless heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is as alive today as it was when written for the ages in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. It stands for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton, we, too, have a privilege, a right, and a duty. We call it Vega.
 We also call it "the little car that does everything well."
 Because it does.

Everything? Everything.
 Vega moves well, stops well, steers well, rides well, handles well, responds well, passes well, travels well, parks well, wears well, and is priced well under what you'd expect to pay for such a talented little car.

In our highway tests, Vega has been getting gas mileage in the neighborhood of the little imports, which isn't a bad neighborhood.

Yet unlike your average little car, ours steps right out when you step on the gas.

The engine is a specially designed overhead cam four with a lightweight aluminum alloy block. It turns slowly and quietly at turnpike speeds, with power to spare.

Disc brakes are standard in the front. So are bucket seats, except on the truck.

How we doing so far?

Numbers speak louder than words.
 The wheelbase is 97 inches.
 Total length is just under 170 inches, or nearly four feet shorter than a full-size Chevrolet.

Height of the coupe is just 50 inches, nine inches lower than the leading import.

Width: a nice stable 5 1/2 feet.
 Weight: 2,190 lbs. for the sedan.
 Engine displacement: 140 cubic inches.

Fuel economy: about 25 mpg, with the standard engine and transmission, in our highway tests.
 Horsepower: 90. You can order 110. (80 and 93 hp, SAE Net.)
 Seating capacity: 4 adults.

Three cars and a truck.
 Vega turned out so well that we couldn't turn out just one.

So we're turning out four: the sporty little hatchback coupe shown open and closed in the foreground below; the sedan, on the right; the Kammback wagon, on the left; and the little panel truck, in the rear.

Oh, and a special GT version of the coupe and wagon which we'll show you later on.

September 10th is Opening Day.
 All 6,300 Chevrolet dealers are handling Vega, so you shouldn't have to go very far to see and drive one.

Chevy's new little car is open for business. Look into it.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

SHOW AND TELL

If it is true that one picture is worth a thousand words, it is also reasonable that one good example can be more effective than a bushel of advice and counsel.

Where children are concerned, parents have the responsibility to show as well as to tell. A set of values, orally given, are difficult for a child to evaluate and to accept if he observes that his parents talk one way and act another. Many parents have a patent excuse for the things they do which set a bad example for their children: "It's something only adults do." This explanation does not fool children; parents know they are kidding themselves, as well.

Because children observe, and because they are influenced by the attitudes and the actions of their parents, example becomes equally as important as instruction.

Parents who do not practice moderation, who do not accept the principles of brotherhood, who do not live according to God's will, have little reason to expect that their children will do otherwise.

When you're not like yourself, Lydia Pinkham understands

All of a sudden you might feel you're changing—not a good feeling. You're tired, edgy, out of sorts and that's not you. Lydia Pinkham understands.

A long time ago, when ladies couldn't be as frank as we can today, Lydia Pinkham recognized the problem and set about finding a remedy. She knew it was not natural for women to have to suffer with what was obviously a natural process.

So she turned to nature for a remedy. She developed a marvelous compound of medicinal roots and herbs that turned the trick for the women she knew. Because it is a natural answer to your natural problems, it can turn the trick for you, too.

Try Lydia Pinkham's root and herb remedy to help you feel better, more like yourself.

Dorothy Do-Write

The word "spirit" is hard to define or explain. I know that all of the students of SHS have heard so much about spirit that I'm sure they must be tired of it. The real problem is that the people don't realize just how essential spirit is.

Spirit is an essential part of our school. We must have spirit in order for our school athletic program to survive. I know that most people are very good about saying: "I sure hope the boys win tonight." Well these boys may do the physical part of winning and the thinking, but we, the students of SHS and the residents of this town, have an important part in the game also. It is up to each of us to back those boys and show them that we care how they play and whether or not they win. I believe if the boys are willing to go out on that field and play to the best of their ability for their school and for their hometown, it shouldn't be too much to ask of the students and residents of Silverton that they do their part also.

Everyone likes a winning team. I'm sure there isn't anyone who doesn't like to see our football team win. But, people, we must help them by showing them we are behind them. Those boys on the field are representing our school and our town.

Let's see if we can't have more pride in our school and let's show a lot more spirit this year! We can make this the best year ever—at least we can try.

Don't forget to come out and watch the Owls every Friday night as they work their way up to District!

The Owls have looked well in practice this year. They have been hitting with more enthusiasm than I have seen in a long time. The team spirit is up, and it really shows in workouts and scrimmages. Ask anyone who has seen an Owl workout or scrimmage and I'm sure they will agree.

Tomorrow night, Friday, September 11, the Owls will have their first football game with the Turkey Turks. The team always looks forward to the Turkey games, so I'm expecting a real tough game on the part of the Owls. ## Esta Es La Clase De Espanol

by Mrs. John Herring

Hola! Como se blama usted? Esta es la clase de espanol. Me blamo Senora Herring. "No, Monty, you are not in the wrong class! Yes, Terry, (Buck) you will be able to say ALL of those words." These are reactions from students enrolled in Spanish I. The language seems awkward at first, and the sounds are strange (especially when a Texas drawl sneaks into the pronunciation). After a few practice words, however, the students get used to the sounds and they begin to sound like native speakers.

The first day of class, each student chose a Spanish name that he wanted to use this year in class. It is fun to use these names and answer roll call (if you don't forget who you are!) And then, there are students like Senor Eduardo (Eddie Baker) who suddenly realize that they cannot say their Spanish names. But Eduardo solved his problem; he could say El Dorado, and what difference does it make that it isn't in the book!

The Spanish class really wasn't tearing down the building last Tuesday. We were playing "Ritmo" (rhythm). This is a good way to learn numbers in a foreign language. It works nicely if you can count quickly. There are some drawbacks, however. Senor Guillermo, (Bill Strange) for example, makes up his own rules as the game proceeds. He must have learned his number (ocho, eight) well, because he kept repeating "ocho-ocho, ocho-ocho," and no one else could play. It's better that way. After all, how else could he play the entire game by himself?

A foreign language class is fun, but it has a serious side, too. This year the students will not only learn conversational Spanish, but will also learn about the customs, life, dress, and people of Spain, Latin America and South America. They will be seeing films depicting life in Mexico and Spain. Records will be available so that students may hear native speakers use the language. Later, they will do skits, learn songs, and work crossword puzzles (all in Espanol, of course). By the end of the year, each person can converse with other members in the class, and each one should be able to speak confidently to a native Spanish-speaking person.

This is the first time since 1966 Spanish has been offered for a complete year. I hope that it will become a permanent part of the curriculum. I am very pleased with the interest of the students this year, and this will add to the success of our studies.

Hasta la vista!

Help Wanted

by Terry Jones

Don't you enjoy picking up your paper on Thursdays and reading about what is going on in SHS? I think many people do. It is both informative and funny.

I believe in such a small community, the school is one of the main centers of interest. People don't want to know just who is having a bake sale; they want to know what is going on in the everyday lives of the students. That is the objective of the school page in the Briscoe County News. I hope this year our page will be one of the best yet. Everyone can help by contributing news to the co-editors of the paper, Dorothy Yancey and myself. The paper is for everyone and if we don't know about something that is going on, how can we write about it?

We would like very much to have guest editorials from the teachers. Anything that would be of interest to all the readers of the paper would be appreciated.
