

Wm Weaver Home Destroyed by Fire Here

Lem Weaver home was destroyed by fire about midnight last night. The family was able to save a few possessions due to the intensity of the fire.

Weaver had been watching television, and went out about 11 p.m. to check his irrigation system. When he returned, he discovered the fire and summoned the fire department.

Weaver was in Amarillo at the time of the fire with their son, Max, who had undergone surgery the previous Saturday.

The Weaver home was damaged by both the tornadoes which hit Silverton. Repair of the damage inflicted by the second tornado was completed less than a week ago.

Weaver and Max are still in Amarillo, and Mr. Weaver is staying with his sister, Mrs. Erma Lehman.

Two fire calls were answered Friday morning. The first was at the Doyle Stephens home, where an electric motor had burned out in the central heating system and filled the house with smoke. No damage was reported.

The second call was to the home of Mrs. Hugh Nance, where a pan of grease on the stove had burst into flame and burned the wall behind the range, the cabinets and cabinet top where they adjoin the built-in range. The metal hood above the range probably prevented this fire from becoming a major one.

The Silverton Volunteer Firemen have asked that their thanks be publicly expressed to Glen Lindsey, who bought breakfast for the men Friday morning after they had been fighting the fire at Weavers most of the night.

Dust Storms May Get Worse, Warns SCS Official

Temple, Texas — Dust storms that have ravaged Texas in recent weeks may get worse before they get better, warns the head of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Clyde W. Graham, SCS state conservationist, says Texas dust storms have reached alarming intensity. "Acres damaged by wind erosion this blow season are already higher than any year since '65," Graham reports. "If we don't get widespread rains soon, wind erosion damages may reach 1950 levels."

Graham said the record-breaking drought is a major cause of the problem. Many areas report winter rainfall to be the lowest since records were started.

"Dry weather last fall kept many farmers from planting cover crops," Graham continued. "The drought has also reduced the effectiveness of emergency tillage which some farmers rely on to prevent wind erosion. And high wind velocities in the December to May blow season always seem to accompany a severe drought."

He said the combination of drought, high winds and lack of cover was causing serious land damage across a wide section of the state. The storms are also creating health problems for people with respiratory ailments.

Reports from SCS offices tell of roads and streets blocked with sand and six-foot drifts against houses. And it's not just a farm problem. Sandy land being stripped bare for urban developments is blowing, too.

About two million acres of land in Texas has been damaged by wind erosion this year which is about the same as 1965. This compares to only 126,000 damaged last year. The most wind erosion in the past 20 years occurred during the 1956 blow season when 2.7 million acres were damaged.

Graham expressed concern that the two million figure for 1971 may double unless it rains soon.

He pointed out, however, that conservation programs pushed by his agency and by local soil and water conservation districts have been extremely valuable in curtailing wind damages this year. While the two million acre figure is high, it isn't close to the 15 million acres damaged during Dust Bowl days of the 1930's.

"It's remarkable how land covered with a good surface mulch of crop residue is being protected from wind erosion," Graham said. "Farms and ranches covered with conservation measures installed under the Great Plains Conservation Program are weathering the wind storms especially well."

Graham said that in the last 15 years some 500,000 acres of cropland subject to wind damage in Northwest Texas have been planted to protective grasses. Nearly a million acres of depleted rangeland have also been seeded. Better grassland management is holding down wind erosion on range and pasture land.

"But two million acres of land being damaged by wind this year is simply intolerable," Graham said, "especially when you realize it could have been prevented. It's easy to blame it all on the drought but that's only part of the cause. We've been urging people for years to do a better job of leaving crop residues on the soil surfaces. Many listen but some do not."

Graham said that when you have good moisture, as we have had in recent years, wind velocity drops. And emergency tillage works as a good stand-by measure. As a result, people get by without wind damage during good rainfall years in spite of the fact that their land may be bare. This lulls many farmers into complacency and they ignore sound conservation farming principles.

ENTRIES BEING SOUGHT FOR OUTSIDERS VOLLEYBALL TOURNAMENT IN APRIL

The L. O. A. Junior Study Club has a problem—money. It hasn't had a money-making project for its treasury this year, having voted last year to have a volleyball tournament as its only money-raising project. In the discussion which ensued concerning the amount to be charged for using the gym for practicing for and playing tournament games, many of those who have had teams in previous years said they would not enter this year because of the $10 per night fee to be charged.

The fee for using the gym is $5.00 per night—and if teams would like to practice for volleyball tournaments, 20 players could chip in 25c each and manage this expense. Some of the women have been doing this on Monday nights, and have been having a lot of fun; however, if anyone wants to practice they will have to book another day with Coach Wright because Monday night is already spoken for and the practices aren't necessarily open to the public due to the fee being charged.

To try to place the L. O. A. Outsiders Volleyball Tournament on a level to provide the most fun and entertainment possible, the members have decided not to open it to out-of-town teams this year except as a last resort. If the brackets can be filled with local teams, then no out-of-town teams will be admitted, even though several have already asked to enter.

Local teams are asked please to make their entries in the tournament as soon as possible, so that the sponsoring club will be able to plan the tournament. Invitations will be sent to out-of-town teams on April 3 if the brackets have not been filled by that date. (Eight teams in each division will be considered a full bracket.)

Entry fee for the L. O. A. tournament is $6.00 per team, and the club members have decided to hold the tournament again this year if as many as six teams will enter the mens division, with six in the women's division also. There must be at least this many teams entered for the club to be able to pay its own $5.00 per

MOOD OF THE HOUSE

As the 62nd Session travels in- to its second half it must be pointed out that the ethics question pertaining to state elected officials is still waiting at the station. The mood of the House was noticeably militant on adjournment Thursday when the prospect of voting on an ethics type resolution by Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur vanished when Parker withdrew his resolution.

Speculation is running high as to why Parker pulled down the resolution. The most reasonable explanation in my opinion is the fact that it lacked substance to satisfy many members of the House. To avoid the embarrassment and harassment of many amendments being offered from the floor, he chose to postpone this resolution until Monday, March 29.

Had the leadership had the votes to beat down amendments which would have put teeth into the measure, I feel it would have been brought to a quick vote. It will be interesting to see what transpires over the weekend in the way of strengthening or diluting this resolution.

MUTSCHER TO DISCLOSE FINANCES

Speaker of the House Gus Mutschler said he is preparing a financial disclosure statement. Mutschler also added that he does not think the House General Investigating Committee should look into his and other members' contro- versial stock and loan transactions until the close of the Legislature.

"I don't think the committee would want to be functioning to the disruption of the session." (From the March 26 Austin American)

Comment: It could be said that the lack of such an investigation has been the major hurdle to the functioning of the 62nd Session of the Legislature.

Because of this glaring omission, this "disruption" has been with us every day since the day of Inaugural Ceremonies when the SEC investigation of this scandal first made the headlines.

S. B. BY CONNALLY

This bill will provide for 100% state funding for the state's educational system.

Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville is basing this bill on the theory that the local school board does not have control over the legislation which governs public education. Therefore, state funding should rest with the Legislature which does have this power.

This would mean removal of the dependence of local school districts upon the ad valorem tax which is considered to be inequitable by most taxpayers.

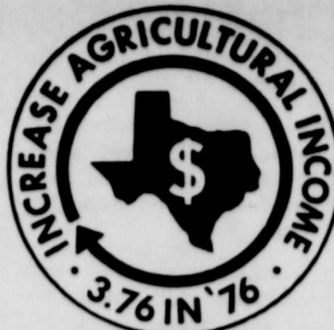

Currently, funding of public education is on a ratio of 80% state - 20% local financing.

Judgment on the merits of this bill are premature at this time. There are many valid points raised in the bill. Debate on this measure will be followed with great interest.

I would appreciate hearing from the taxpayers as discussion of this bill progresses.

'Achievement' Is What 4-H Is All About

"A journey of a thousand miles begins with the first step—that's an old Chinese proverb. President John F. Kennedy quoted it in his inaugural address just a decade ago.

The young President was talking about beginning new programs in America but he could just as well have been talking about the 4-H achievement program. That's what it's all about, taking the first step.

There are over two million young people between the ages of 9 and 19 enrolled in the 4-H achievement program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. Starting with their own special interests they develop their skills. But they don't stop there. Before you know it they are helping the younger, newer members to "learn by doing."

As they gain confidence and added skills they find themselves working as junior leaders and spearheading activities in their schools and communities. And they seem to have more fun in 4-H than ever before.

Georgia Mae Schwabe, 18, of Pueblo, Colo., is an outstanding example of what can be accomplished in 4-H. She was named one of the 12 national winners in the 4-H achievement program in 1970 and received a $600 scholarship provided by Ford Motor Company Fund, program sponsor. She also was selected as one of six presidential award winners, the highest 4-H honor in the nation.

Ford Motor Company Fund, Dearborn, Mich., has sponsored the 4-H achievement program for the last 20 years. The fund provides incentives to 4-H members at various levels including four gold medals for outstanding young people in each county, an expense-paid trip to the 50th National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28-Dec. 2, for the boy or girl selected to represent the state. Twelve Henry Ford II educational scholarships of $600 each are awarded to those named national 4-H achievement winners during the annual 4-H event.

The 4-H achievement program is arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee with winners selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Happy Home Environment WHAT'S THE IDEAL?

■ Most people would agree that the ideal happy home environment must take into consideration the environmental aspects as well as the spiritual and human relationships.

■ In the present state of technology, electricity does its job well when it comes to environmental aspects of conditioning the air in your home.

■ The ideal system, now available, not only does its job of comfort heating in winter and comfort cooling in summer but also refines the air itself. Electric humidifiers control the amount of moisture in the air and electrostatic air cleaners remove undesirable dust particles.

■ So then, 4 things to give you a happier home environment... electric heating, electric cooling, electric humidification and electric air cleaning... and all of it automatically. Ask your Public Service manager for complete information.

Money:
Webster's American Dictionary defines money as gold, silver, or other metals coined and issued by a government as a medium of exchange.

Question:
Exchange for what? Working or not working, producing or not producing. Some way, somehow, this wealth must be created by the people so the government can coin the medium of exchange.

The AMERICAN way to create is founded on one word—

Look:
Take a good hard look at this tree. What is its real meaning to us as Americans who like to look to the future?
All trees obtain growth from their roots in the earth, but look and think; this tree's roots have spread all over America into the pockets of every hard-working American. TAXES are the fertilizer.
Only PEOPLE can stop its growth. SUPPORT AMERICA!

Our priceless heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is as alive today as it was when written for the ages in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. It stands for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton, we, too, have a privilege, a right, and a duty. While we may disagree as to the methods, we should not disagree as to the goal—that of preserving the greatest democratic society the world has ever known.

Our flag is a symbol, not of sentiment, but of history, the history of men and women willing to live and die for it. Surely this willingness is with us still, because daily we experience more of the blessings that are ours—ours because we are Americans.

PARANOID IS...

walking at night and seeing a red glow in a church.
 looking up and seeing someone staring in your window.
 almost having a wreck.
 having a cop following you.
 telling true scary stories.
 being late going home.

seeing someone walking in the graveyard and your car won't start.
 someone scratching on your windows.
 being called and not knowing who it is.
 having to face your parents when you're late.

having a dog chase you when you can't run. (huh, MJ?)
 walking in the alley at night to empty trash and having a cat jump out at you.
 Claudia screaming BOOM when you're in the car backing up.
 being by yourself and hearing spooky noises.
 watching "The Head That Wouldn't Die."
 dreaming something and then having it happen.
 seeing something that's not really there.

seeing a car parked cross-ways in the highway and it being two reflectors.
 receiving a letter from someone saying, "You're gonna die."
 hearing a baby cry in your front yard only to find out it was a cat.
 being stopped by a cop.
 being told you're going to be put in jail.
 having a blow-out going 120 mph.

not remembering what you did 30 minutes ago.
 being on an operating table.
 being sent to the office.
 being late for school.
 being stared at.
 hearing someone screaming and then noticing it was you.
 a star following you everywhere you go.

trying to say something when nothing will come out.
 being in a car with all girls and a man reaches out for the door handle and the car won't go.

Teachers Association Elects New Officers

The Briscoe County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association, District XVI, met in Quitaque on Monday, March 22, at 7:30 p.m. The dinner meeting was followed by an address by O. R. Stark, jr., and a business meeting.

Officers elected to serve the local unit during the 1971-72 school year are Sherman Conner, Quitaque Superintendent, president; Bob Wheelchel, Silverton Principal, vice-president; Mrs. Smith, Quitaque classroom teacher, treasurer; Mrs. Betty Naa Tiffin, Quitaque classroom teacher, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Conner of Quitaque were elected to serve as delegates to the 1972 District and State TSTA Conventions.

Twenty-three teachers and administrators were present for the meeting. Attending from Silverton were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Rampley, Richard Souter, Mrs. Pauline Turner, Mrs. Pearl Holt, Mrs. Del Kleman, Mrs. Nina Martin, Mrs. Jessie Bomar, Mrs. Dorothy Crabb and Mrs. Ruby Steele.

MY LOVED ONE:

I long for the hour that I can feel the softness of your lips again. To hold your lovely body in my arms is an everlasting dream. To look in your beautiful blue eyes reminds me of the first night we met, and how your warm, tender hand comforted me for the first time. And as I looked at you for the first time, your hair seemed as it was silk falling from heaven over your soft-loving shoulders. When I hold you in my arms, time seems to stand still for our love.

When I am with you, the wind seems to blow the hours from us. But our love burns still as an everlasting flame from our hearts. The days that we're apart seem like years without end. The words can't describe the way I feel when I think of the love I have for you. And always the radiant glow of your smile spreads happiness throughout my heart. Even my dreams seem to remind me of my happy moments with you. And from this day on my heart is yours to do anything you so desire. I ask just one thing. Please return my key chain.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was found on the stairs of the Silverton High School Friday afternoon. We think this letter is a great piece of art and shows talent. If the author reads this letter, we would like very much for him or her to come forward and make himself known.

I Wonder Why...

Mr. Alexander doesn't like John Burson's laugh?
 Rusty ran out of History and said he would explain later?
 Claudia is such a good speller? the girl's hair is beginning to turn blond again?
 Rhonda is such a good actress? Mr. Clark doesn't major in P.E.? there aren't to be Cokes in the dressing room?
 Mr. LaGrone thinks everyone is chewing gum when they're only talking?
 Mrs. Putman made Frances sit down when she was already sitting?
 some people get mad over nothing?
 it is so hard to get a timed writing?
 the One-Act Play was so good?

Sitting In This School

by Mary Stodghill
 Letting my mind wander
 Off the subject in the class
 Hoping I can find someone Who will help me pass.

Sitting in a schoolroom
 In shades of blue and green
 Wishing that the teachers
 Didn't have to be so mean.

Wondering all the hour
 What it's like outside
 I'll find out, though, in PE class Running races that are always tied.

I guess it's really better
 To sit here in this school
 Than to live in some other country
 Where they have a different rule.

Gene Davis, Thomas Self and Rex Clayton were at the funeral of a dear friend, and when it came time to pass before the deceased, the custom was to place an offering in the casket.

Rex, being very kind and wanting to do well, took out his wallet and placed a ten dollar bill in the coffin. Thomas, also a good friend, pulled out his wallet and placed a ten dollar bill in the casket. Gene, being of a very generous heart and not wanting to be out-done, pulled out his checkbook and wrote a check for thirty dollars. After placing this in the casket, he pulled out twenty dollars change.

YOUNG BAKERS CREATE TASTY SNACKS IN 4-H BREAD PROGRAM

What do teenagers enjoy most for in-between-meal snacks? Today's popular teen snacks include pizza, tasty buns, rolls and coffee cakes.

The nearly 600,000 4-H'ers enrolled in the bread program have a variety of recipes available to them. And with a little creativity, they provide their families and friends with exciting taste sensations.

Standard Brands Incorporated, sponsor of the 4-H bread program for 20 years, has developed a variety of recipes for pizza, breads and bread products. The recipes enable 4-H'ers to get personal enjoyment from baking, entertaining their friends and often results in added recognition.

According to Miss Lois Howard, National 4-H Service Committee home economist, "The young people experience the tactile pleasures of working with yeast doughs and batters."

"Added to the sensory pleasures, the 4-H bakers also receive hidden benefits. One of the four basic food groups, bread is overflowing with nutrients that go into basic bread stuff—enriched flour, milk, eggs, margarine or oil and added bonus variations such as raisins, whole grain flours, wheat germ and cheese," the home economist says.

She also points out that the program, supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, is equally popular with boys and girls.

This year Standard Brands is providing added incentives and recognition for members enrolled in the program. The company also presents six scholarships of $700 each to national winners selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

A maximum of four gold-plated medals of honor are offered in each participating county and an expense-paid trip to the 50th National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28-Dec. 2, to one winner from each state.

The 4-H awards program is arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee. Locally, the information on the 4-H bread program is available from the county extension office.

LET GEORGE DO IT

Americans:

A large percentage face up to their problems and obligations with heads held high and proud to be AMERICANS.

Problems:

Are not caused by some boogie-man from outside this land. Who then can this villain be, this scoundrel who causes inflation, out-of-sight taxes, crime, and all the other problems that cause us sleepless nights?

Who indeed is the villain? It is John and Jane Doe, the Mr. and Mrs. average AMERICAN. You know him; he is your neighbor, the guy or gal who says—"OH, LET GEORGE DO IT."

Scandals:

Americans abhor scandals, whether on a National level or closer to home on the City, County, or State level. People react by saying, "Who is to blame; who is responsible?". It is you and the fellow down the street, who says,

"LET GEORGE DO IT".

Set a child free this Easter.

Our therapists teach kids to walk when they can't learn by themselves. And when their parents can't teach them. We teach kids to talk. We teach kids to hear. To control arms, and fingers. To move legs. Toes. We take little kids that are imprisoned inside themselves and help set them free. It takes money. Give to Easter Seals.
