over 110,000 arthritics in West Texas. We would like an opportunity to dispel the popular 'myths' abroad today—that 'nothing can be done for arthritis,' that 'a little aspirin' is all that is necessary and that 'arthritis is an old folks' disease'—none of which is true. Rheumatoid arthritis, the most painful, crippling and prevalent form, is actually a young people's disease.

As part of the program, a film on arthritis will be shown.

Plan to attend this informative program.

A HAIRY STORY

What is one of the quickest ways for a woman to change her looks to suit her mood? Try switch- ing to a wig or hairpiece. Many women have a wardrobe of wigs, and men, too, are begin- ning to be less shy about buying and wearing hairpieces. In fact, the Federal Trade Commission es- timated that approximately $700 million was spent on wigs and hairpieces in 1970, and that three- fourths of all women own one.

Because of this sizeable sum, the FTC has proposed guides and regulations to help the consumer get his money's worth.

The FTC guides require that hairpieces should not be labeled, advertised or represented in any way which might mislead consum- ers. The labels must spell out ex- actly what the hairpiece is made of. If the hair used comes from a foreign country, the country of origin must be listed. Also, only a wig containing unbleached, undyed hair may be labeled as contain- ing virgin hair.

Other regulations by the FTC deal with quality, durability, con- struction, weight, length, size, color, fit, style, required care, ser- vice guarantee, original price and special features of the wig or hair- piece.

Wigs and hairpieces may be made of human hair, animal hair or synthetic hair. Human hair for wigs comes from European coun- tries or the Orient. European hair is usually more natural looking; it can be styled more easily than Oriental hair.

Synthetic wigs and hairpieces are made from Dynel, Kanekalon or Elura. Wigs of synthetic fibers are less expensive than wigs of real hair, plus the curl in the fi- bers is permanently baked in. But the curl can usually be modified and the style and lines changed somewhat with minimal brushing and combing. A synthetic wig is ready to wear as soon as it is tak- en from the box.

Synthetic wigs can be stretch or non-stretch. Stretch wigs form to all head shapes and sizes, re- quiring no alteration. Non-stretch wigs, on the other hand, come in standard sizes, and should be fit- ted by a professional.

Whether a wig is made of hu- man hair or synthetic fibers, its construction is very important. A well-constructed wig will be light- weight and comfortable, yet dur- able enough to last through count-

We would like to thank you for the cards, flowers, gifts, phone calls, food, visits, and every ex- pression of friendship toward our family while we have been at the hospital and at home. So many nice things have been done for us that we can't begin to name them, and we appreciate them all. Dorothea, Lynn and Walter Welch

I wish to thank everyone for the cards, flowers, calls and vis- its during my stay in the hospital. May the Lord bless each of you. Thanks again, Bud Couch less washings without losing its elasticity, shape and strength.

One of the major problems of owning a human hairpiece is that it requires regular maintenance. Such wigs should be cleaned and styled by professionals. Synthetic wigs, however, can be washed in a special wig shampoo or in a mild cold water wool cleaner. Simply wash the synthetic wigs in cold or tepid water, then rinse thoroughly. Apply a conditioner to keep them soft and pliable. After the wig has dried, comb and brush in the style you prefer. Use a special wig spray to help hold the set.

To give your hair goods the best of care, follow the recommen- dations of the manufacturer and dealer.
